Proposed Addition — Reg. 1104(2)"eligible non-residential building"

"eligible non-residential building" means a taxpayer's building (other than a building that was used, or acquired for use, by any person or partnership before March 19, 2007) that is located in Canada, that is included in Class 1 in Schedule II and that is acquired by the taxpayer on or after March 19, 2007 to be used by the taxpayer, or a lessee of the taxpayer, for a non-residential use;

Application: The February 26, 2008 draft regulations (2007 Budget amendments — capital cost allowance), subsec. 4(1), will add the definition "eligible non-residential building" to subsec. 1104(2), deemed to have come into force on March 19, 2007.

Technical Notes: Subsection 1104(2) sets out definitions that apply for the purposes of Part XI and in Schedule II to the Regulations. The subsection is amended to add the definition of an "eligible non-residential building." This definition is relevant for the purpose of applying the additional allowances that may apply to such buildings under subsection 1100(1).

An "eligible non-residential building" means a taxpayer's building

- that is located in Canada;
- that is included in Class 1 in Schedule II of the Regulations;
- that has not been used, or acquired for use, by any person (including a partnership) before March 19, 2007; and
- that has been acquired by the taxpayer on or after March 19, 2007 to be used by the taxpayer, or a lessee of the taxpayer, for a non-residential use.

This amendment applies after March 18, 2007.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1100(1)(a.1), (a.2) — Additional allowance for building; Reg. 1101(5b.1) — Separate class for each non-residential building; Reg. 1102(23), (24) — Addition or alteration to building; Reg. 1102(25) — Building under construction on March 19, 2007.

"gas or oil well equipment" includes

(a) equipment, structures and pipelines, other than a well casing, acquired to be used in a gas or oil field in the production therefrom of natural gas or crude oil, and

(b) a pipeline acquired to be used solely for transmitting gas to a natural gas processing plant,

but does not include

(c) equipment or structures acquired for the refining of oil or the processing of natural gas including the separation therefrom of liquid hydrocarbons, sulphur or other joint products or by-products, or

(d) a pipeline for removal or for collection for immediate removal of natural gas or crude oil from a gas or oil field except a pipeline referred to in paragraph (b);

Interpretation Bulletins: IT-476R: CCA — Equipment used in petroleum and natural gas activities.

"general-purpose electronic data processing equipment" means electronic equipment that, in its operation, requires an internally stored computer program that

(a) is executed by the equipment,

(b) can be altered by the user of the equipment,

(c) instructs the equipment to read and select, alter or store data from an external medium such as a card, disk or tape, and

(d) depends upon the characteristics of the data being processed to determine the sequence of its execution;

Related Provisions: Reg. 1100(20.1), (20.2) — Limitation on CCA claim for computer tax shelter property; Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 50 — CCA rate 55%.

"ore" includes ore from a mineral resource that has been processed to any stage that is prior to the prime metal stage or its equivalent;

"railway system" includes a railway owned or operated by a common carrier, together with all buildings, rolling stock, equipment and other properties pertaining thereto, but does not include a tramway;

"specified temporary access road" means

(a) a temporary access road to an oil or gas well in Canada, and

(b) a temporary access road the cost of which would, if the definition "Canadian exploration expense" in subsection 66.1(6) of the Act were read without reference to paragraph (l) of that definition, be a Canadian exploration expense because of paragraph (f) or (g) of that definition;

Related Provisions: Reg. 1102(14.3)(a) — Exclusion from prescribed property; Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 8(i)(vi), 17(c) — Specified temporary access road excluded from other classes.

History: The definition "specified temporary access road" added to subsec. 1104(2) by P.C. 1999-629, subsec. 3(1), April 15, 1999, Canada Gazette, Part II, April 28, 1999, applicable after March 6, 1996.

Interpretation Bulletins: IT-476R: CCA — Equipment used in petroleum and natural gas activities.

"systems software" means a combination of computer programs and associated procedures, related technical documentation and data that

(a) performs compilation, assembly, mapping, management or processing of other programs,

(b) facilitates the functioning of a computer system by other programs,

(c) provides service or utility functions such as media conversion, sorting, merging, system accounting, performance measurement, system diagnostics or programming aids,

(d) provides general support functions such as data management, report generation or security control, or

(e) provides general capability to meet wide-spread categories of problem solving or processing requirements where the specific attributes of the work to be performed are introduced mainly in the form of parameters, constants or descriptors rather than in program logic, and includes a right or licence to use such a combination of computer programs and associated procedures, related technical documentation and data;

History: All that portion of the definition "systems software" in subsec. 1104(2) following para. (d) substituted by P.C. 1983-3411, subsec. 1(2), November 3, 1983, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 23, 1983, effective May 26, 1976.

"tramway or trolley bus system" includes the buildings, structures, rolling stock, general plant and equipment pertaining thereto and where buses other than trolley buses are operated in connection therewith includes the properties pertaining to those bus operations.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (6), in this Part and Schedules II and V,

"industrial mineral mine" includes a peat bog or deposit of peat but does not include a mineral resource;

"mineral" includes peat;

"mining" includes the harvesting of peat.

(4) [Revoked]

History: Subsec. 1104(4) revoked by P.C. 1979-2483, s. 3, September 13, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, September 26, 1979, applicable to 1978 et seq.

(5) Mining — For the purposes of paragraphs 1100(1)(w) to (ya), subsections 1101(4a) to (4d) and Classes 10, 28 and 41 of Schedule II, a taxpayer's "income from a mine", or any expression referring to a taxpayer's income from a mine, includes income reasonably attributable to

(a) the processing by the taxpayer of

(i) ore (other than iron ore or tar sands ore) all or substantially all of which is from a mineral resource owned by the taxpayer to any stage that is not beyond the prime metal stage or its equivalent,

(ii) iron ore all or substantially all of which is from a mineral resource owned by the taxpayer to any stage that is not beyond the pellet stage or its equivalent,

(iii) tar sands ore all or substantially all of which is from a mineral resource owned by the taxpayer to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent, or

(iv) material extracted by a well, all or substantially all of which is from a deposit of bituminous sands or oil shales owned by the taxpayer, to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent;

(b) the production by the taxpayer of material from a deposit of bituminous sands or oil shales; and

(c) the transportation by the taxpayer of

(i) output, other than iron ore or tar sands ore, from a mineral resource owned by the taxpayer that has been processed by him to any stage that is not beyond the prime metal stage or its equivalent,

(ii) iron ore from a mineral resource owned by the taxpayer that has been processed by him to any stage that is not beyond the pellet stage or its equivalent, or

(iii) tar sands ore from a mineral resource owned by the taxpayer that has been processed by him to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent, to the extent that such transportation is effected through the use of property of the taxpayer that is included in Class 10 in Schedule II because of paragraph (m) thereof or that would be so included if that paragraph were read without reference to subparagraph (v) thereof and if Class 41 in Schedule II were read without the reference therein to that paragraph.

Subsec. 1104(6.1) added by P.C. 1996-1488, s. 1, September 24, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, October 16, 1996, applicable to taxation years that begin after March 6, 1996.

(7) ["Mine"] — For the purposes of paragraphs 1100(1)(w) to (ya), subsections 1101(4a) to (4d) and 1102(8) and (9), section 1107 and Classes 12, 28 and 41 of Schedule II,

(a) "mine" includes

(i) a well for the extraction of material from a deposit of bituminous sands or oil shales or from a deposit of calcium chloride, halite or sylvite, and

(ii) a pit for the extraction of kaolin or tar sands ore,

but does not include

(iii) an oil or gas well, or

(iv) a sand pit, gravel pit, clay pit, shale pit, peat bog, deposit of peat or a stone quarry (other than a kaolin pit or a deposit of bituminous sands or oil shales);

(b) all wells of a taxpayer for the extraction of material from one or more deposits of calcium chloride, halite or sylvite, the material produced from which is sent to the same plant for processing, are deemed to be one mine of the taxpayer; and

(c) all wells of a taxpayer for the extraction of material from a deposit of bituminous sands or oil shales that the Minister, in consultation with the Minister of Natural Resources, determines constitute one project, are deemed to be one mine of the taxpayer.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1104(8) — "Stone quarry".

History: Subsec. 1104(7) amended by P.C. 1998-49, subsec. 2(6), January 26, 1998, Canada Gazette, Part II, February 4, 1998, applicable after March 6, 1996.

Paras. 1104(7)(a) and (b) amended by P.C. 1996-494, subsec. 1(2), April 16, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 1, 1996, applicable to property acquired in taxation years that begin after 1984 except that para. 1104(7)(a) shall be read without reference to the expression "or a kaolin pit" in respect of taxation years that end before 1988.

That portion of subsec. 1104(7) preceding para. (a) substituted by P.C. 1994-230, subsec. 2(4), February 10, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, February 23, 1994, applicable to 1988 et seq.

Para. 1104(7)(a) substituted by P.C. 1990-2780, subsec. 1(2), December 20, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, January 16, 1991, applicable to 1988 et seq.

That portion of subsec. 1104(7) preceding para. (a) substituted by P.C. 1989-2464, subsec. 5(3), December 14, 1989, Canada Gazette, Part II, January 3, 1990, applicable to 1988 et seq.

Paras. 1104(7)(a), (b) substituted by P.C. 1980-1483, subsec. 1(3), June 5, 1980, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 25, 1980, effective April 11, 1978.

Interpretation Bulletins: IT-476R: CCA — Equipment used in petroleum and natural gas activities.

(8) ["Stone quarry"] — For the purposes of subsection (7), "stone quarry" includes a mine producing dimension stone or crushed rock for use as aggregates or for other construction purposes.

(8.1) ["Production"] — For greater certainty, for the purposes of paragraphs (c) and (e) of Class 28 and paragraph (a) of Class 41 in Schedule II, production means production in reasonable commercial quantities.

History: Subsec. 1104(8.1) added by P.C. 2007-114, s. 2, February 1, 2007, Canada Gazette, Part II, February 21, 2007, applicable to property acquired after 1987.

(9) Manufacturing or processing — For the purposes of subsection 1100(26) and Class 29 in Schedule II, "manufacturing or processing" does not include

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 1104(9) opening words

Application: The February 26, 2008 draft regulations (2007 Budget amendments — capital cost allowance), subsec. 4(2), will amend the opening words of subsec. 1104(9) to substitute "paragraph 1100(1)(a.1), subsection 1100(26)" for "subsection 1100(26)", deemed to have come into force on March 19, 2007.

Technical Notes: Subsection 1104(9) lists various exclusions from the meaning of the phrase "manufacturing or processing" for the purposes of the specified energy property rules in subsection 1100(26) and for the purposes of manufacturing and processing property described in Class 29 in Schedule II to the Regulations.

Subsection 1104(9) is amended to also apply for the purpose of the new paragraph 1100(1)(a.1). New paragraph 1100(1)(a.1) provides a six per cent additional allowance in respect of an eligible non-residential building at least 90 per cent of the floor area of which building is used at the end of a taxation year for the purpose of manufacturing or processing in Canada goods for sale or lease.

This amendment applies after March 18, 2007.

(a) farming or fishing;

(b) logging;

(c) construction;

(d) operating an oil or gas well or extracting petroleum or natural gas from a natural accumulation thereof;

(e) extracting minerals from a mineral resource;

(f) processing of

(i) ore, other than iron ore or tar sands ore, from a mineral resource to any stage that is not beyond the prime metal stage or its equivalent,

(ii) iron ore from a mineral resource to any stage that is not beyond the pellet stage or its equivalent, or

(iii) tar sands ore from a mineral resource to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent;

(g) producing industrial minerals;

(h) producing or processing electrical energy or steam, for sale;

(i) processing natural gas as part of the business of selling or distributing gas in the course of operating a public utility;

(j) processing heavy crude oil recovered from a natural reservoir in Canada to a stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent; or

(k) Canadian field processing.

Related Provisions: ITA 125.1(2)(a) — Credit for generating electrical energy for sale; ITA 125.1(3) — Definition of "manufacturing or processing" for M&P credit purposes.

History: Paras. 1104(9)(g), (i) and (j) amended and para. (k) added by P.C. 1999-629, subsecs. 3(3) and (4), April 15, 1999, Canada Gazette, Part II, April 28, 1999, applicable to taxation years that begin after 1996.

The opening words of subsec. 1104(9) amended by P.C. 1997-1033, subsec. 4(1), July 25, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 20, 1997, applicable to taxation years ending after March 6, 1996.

That portion of subsec. 1104(9) preceding para. (a) substituted by P.C. 1994-230, subsec. 2(5), February 10, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, February 23, 1994, applicable to property acquired after February 25, 1992.

Para. 1104(9)(d) substituted by P.C. 1990-2780, subsec. 1(3), December 20, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, January 16, 1991, applicable to taxation years ending after March 1985.

That portion of subsec. 1104(9) preceding para. (a) substituted by P.C. 1989-2464, subsec. 5(4), December 14, 1989, Canada Gazette, Part II, January 3, 1990, applicable to 1988 et seq.

Para. 1104(9)(f) substituted by P.C. 1985-465, February 14, 1985, subsec. 2(5), Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable to taxation years commencing after November 12, 1981, except that for the purpose of that part of para. 1100(1)(w) preceding subpara. (i) thereof and that part of para. 1100(1)(x) preceding subpara. (i) thereof and for the purposes of determining the prescribed class in which depreciable property is to be included, para. 1104(9)(f) is not applicable with respect to depreciable property acquired in taxation years commencing before November 13, 1981.

Para. 1104(9)(j) added by P.C. 1981-3329, s. 1, November 26, 1981, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 9, 1981, applicable in respect of 1981 et seq.

Para. 1104(9)(g) substituted by P.C. 1978-1849, s. 2, June 8, 1978, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 28, 1978, applicable after March 31, 1977 with respect to property acquired by a taxpayer after that date or property completed by a taxpayer after that date, where the property was manufactured by the taxpayer.

Interpretation Bulletins: IT-147R3: CCA — Accelerated write-off of manufacturing and processing machinery and equipment; IT-411R: Meaning of "construction".

(10) Certified films and video tapes — For the purposes of subsection 1100(21) and the definitions "certified feature film" and "certified production" in subsection (2),

(a) "Canadian" means an individual who was, at all relevant times,

(i) a Canadian citizen as defined in the Citizenship Act, or

(ii) a permanent resident within the meaning of the Immigration Act, 1976;

(b) a motion picture film or video tape that has been certified by

(i) the Secretary of State, or

(ii) the Minister of Communications

as a certified feature film or certified production, as the case may be, may have its certification revoked by the Minister of Communications where an incorrect statement was made in the furnishing of information for the purpose of obtaining that certification and a certification that has been so revoked is void from the time of its issue;

(c) "remuneration" does not include an amount determined by reference to the amount of income from a motion picture film or video tape;

(c.1) "revenue guarantee" means a contract or other arrangement under the terms of which a taxpayer has a right to receive a minimum rental revenue or other fixed revenue in respect of a right to the use, in any manner whatever, of a certified feature film or certified production;

(c.2) a screenwriter shall be deemed to be an individual who is a Canadian where

(i) each individual involved in the preparation of the screenplay is a Canadian, or

(ii) the principal screenwriter is an individual who is a Canadian and

(A) the screenplay for the motion picture film or video tape is based upon a work authored by a Canadian,

(B) copyright in the work subsists in Canada, and

(C) the work is published in Canada;

(d) "unit of production" means a measure used by the Minister of Communications in determining the weight to be given for each individual Canadian referred to in subparagraph (b)(ii) of the definition "certified production" in subsection (2) who provides services in respect of a motion picture film or video tape; and

(e) where each individual who performed a service in respect of a motion picture film or video tape as the

(i) director,

(ii) screenwriter,

(iii) actor or actress in respect of whose services for the film or tape the highest remuneration was paid or payable,

(iv) actor or actress in respect of whose services for the film or tape the second highest remuneration was paid or payable,

(v) art director,

(vi) director of photography,

(vii) music composer, or

was a Canadian, the Minister of Communications shall be deemed to have allotted six units of production in respect of the film or tape for the purposes of the definition "certified production" in subsection (2).

History: Subpara. 1104(10)(a)(ii) substituted by P.C. 1986-477, subsec. 2(6), February 27, 1986, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 19, 1986, applicable to 1982 et seq.

Subsec. 1104(10) amended by P.C. 1986-477, subsec. 2(5), February 27, 1986, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 19, 1986, to substitute "certified production" for "certified feature production" and to delete "certified short production", with such grammatical modifications as the circumstances required, applicable in respect of a motion picture film or video tape, the principal photography or taping of which commenced after 1985.

Paras. 1104(10)(a) substituted, (c.2), (e) added by P.C. 1981-3478, December 10, 1981, Canada Gazette, December 23, 1981, applicable in respect of a motion picture film or video tape, the principal photography or taping of which commenced after 1981.

Paras. 1104(10)(b) and (d) substituted by P.C. 1980-3374, s. 2, December 11, 1980, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 24, 1980.

That portion of subsec. 1104(10) preceding para. (a) substituted, para. (c.1) added by P.C. 1978-3731, s. 3, December 14, 1978, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 27, 1978, applicable in respect of property acquired after 1978.

Minister of Communications: S. 46 of 1995, c. 11, in force July 12, 1996, provides as follows:

46. Other references — Every reference made to the Minister of Communications, the Minister of Multiculturalism and Citizenship and the Secretary of State of Canada in relation to any matter to which the powers, duties and functions of the Minister of Canadian Heritage extend by virtue of this Act, in any other Act of Parliament or in any order, regulation or other instrument made under any Act of Parliament shall, unless the context otherwise requires, be read as a reference to the Minister of Canadian Heritage.

(11) Certified Class 34 properties — For the purposes of paragraph (h) of Class 34 in Schedule II, a certificate issued under

(a) subparagraph (d)(i) of that class may be revoked by the Minister of Industry, Trade and Commerce, or

(b) subparagraph (d)(ii) or paragraph (g) of that class, as the case may be, may be revoked by the Minister of Energy, Mines and Resources

where

(c) an incorrect statement was made in the furnishing of information for the purpose of obtaining the certificate, or

(d) the taxpayer does not conform to the plan described in subparagraph (d)(i) or (d)(ii) of that class, as the case may be,

and a certificate that has been so revoked shall be void from the time of its issue.

History: Subsec. 1104(11) substituted by P.C. 1980-3323, s. 1, December 9, 1980, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 24, 1980, effective December 11, 1979.

(12) Amusement parks — For the purposes of Class 37 in Schedule II, "amusement park" means a park open to the public where amusements, rides and audio-visual attractions are permanently situated.

History: Subsec. 1104(12) added by P.C. 1982-599, s. 4, February 25, 1982, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 10, 1982.

(13) Classes 43.1 and 43.2 — energy conservation property — The definitions in this subsection apply for the purposes of this subsection, subsections (14) to (16) and Classes 43.1 and 43.2 in Schedule II.

"basic oxygen furnace gas" means the gas that is produced intermittently in a basic oxygen furnace of a steel mill by the chemical reaction of carbon in molten steel and pure oxygen.

History: "Basic oxygen furnace gas" added to subsec. 1104(13) by P.C. 2005-2287, subsec. 1(2), December 6, 2005, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 28, 2005, applicable in respect of property acquired after 2000.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 1104(13)"biogas" [temporary]

"biogas" means the gas produced by the anaerobic digestion of organic waste that is manure, food waste, plant residue or wood waste.

Application: The February 26, 2008 draft regulations (2007 Budget amendments — capital cost allowance), subsec. 4(4), will add the definition "biogas" to subsec. 1104(13), applicable to property acquired on or after March 19, 2007.

Technical Notes: Subsection 1104(13) sets out various definitions that apply for the purpose of determining whether property is depreciable property to which Class 43.1 or 43.2 applies.

Consequential to the extension of Classes 43.1 and 43.2 to certain property as announced in the 2007 Budget, subsection 1104(13) is amended in two respects.

First, the existing definition of plant residue is amended to add a reference to biogas, consequential to the introduction of the new definition of biogas in subsection 1104(13).

Second the following four new definitions are added:

1. "Biogas" means the gas produced by the anaerobic digestion of organic waste that is manure, food waste, plant residue or wood waste.
2. "Eligible waste fuel" means bio-oil, digester gas, landfill gas, municipal waste, pulp and paper waste, and wood waste.
3. "Food waste" means organic waste that is
   - generated during the preparation or processing of food for human or animal consumption; or
   - food that is no longer fit for human or animal consumption.
4. "Pulp and paper waste" means,
   - tall oil soaps, crude tall oil and turpentine that are produced as by-products of the processing of wood into pulp or paper; and
   - the by-product of a pulp or paper plant's effluent treatment, or its de-inking processes, if that by-product has a solid content of at least 40 per cent before combustion.

Federal Budget, Supplementary Information, March 18, 2007: See under Proposed Amendment to Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 43.1(d)(i).

Related Provisions: Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 43.1(d)(xiii) — Biogas used to produce electricity.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 1104(13)"biogas"

"biogas" means the gas produced by the anaerobic digestion of organic waste that is sludge from an eligible sewage treatment facility, food and animal waste, manure, plant residue, or wood waste.

Application: The February 26, 2008 draft regulations (2008 Budget amendments — capital cost allowance), subsec. 5(2), will amend the definition "biogas" in subsec. 1104(13), applicable to property acquired after February 25, 2008.

Technical Notes: Subsection 1104(13) sets out various definitions that apply for the purpose of determining whether property is depreciable property to which Class 43.1 or 43.2 applies.

Consequential to the extension of Classes 43.1 and 43.2 to certain property as announced in the 2008 Budget, subsection 1104(13) is amended in four respects.

First, the definition "food waste" is repealed. Second, the definition "food and animal waste" is added. Third, the definition "biogas" is amended to replace the reference to "food waste" with "food and animal waste" and to add a reference to "sludge from an eligible sewage treatment facility". Fourth, the definition "eligible waste fuel" is amended to add a reference to "biogas".

These amendments apply to property acquired after February 25, 2008.

Federal Budget, Supplementary Information, Feb. 26, 2008: See under Proposed Amendment to Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 43.1(d)(i).

Related Provisions: Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 43.1(d)(xiii) — Biogas used to produce electricity.

"bio-oil" means liquid fuel that is created from wood waste or plant residues using a thermo-chemical conversion process that takes place in the absence of oxygen.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1104(13)"eligible waste fuel" — Inclusion of bio-oil.

History: "Bio-oil" added to subsec. 1104(13) by P.C. 2005-2287, subsec. 1(2), December 6, 2005, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 28, 2005, applicable in respect of property acquired after February 18, 2003.

"blast furnace gas" means the gas produced in a blast furnace of a steel mill, by the chemical reaction of carbon (in the form of coke, coal or natural gas), the oxygen in air and iron ore.

History: "Blast furnace gas" added to subsec. 1104(13) by P.C. 2005-2287, subsec. 1(2), December 6, 2005, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 28, 2005, applicable in respect of property acquired after 2000.

"digester gas" means a mixture of gases that are produced from the decomposition of organic waste in a digester and that are extracted from an eligible sewage treatment facility for that organic waste.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1104(13)"eligible waste fuel" — Inclusion of digester gas.

"distribution equipment" means equipment (other than transmission equipment) used to distribute electrical energy generated by electrical generating equipment.

"district energy equipment" means property that is part of a district energy system and that consists of pipes or pumps used to collect and distribute an energy transfer medium, meters, control equipment, chillers and heat exchangers that are attached to the main distribution line of a district energy system, but does not include

(a) property used to distribute water that is for consumption, disposal or treatment; or

(b) property that is part of the internal heating or cooling system of a building.

History: "District energy equipment" added to subsec. 1104(13) by P.C. 2006-439, subsec. 4(3), June 1, 2006, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 14, 2006, deemed in force on February 23, 2005.

"district energy system" means a system that is used primarily to provide heating or cooling by continuously circulating, from a central generation unit to one or more buildings through a system of interconnected pipes, an energy transfer medium that is heated or cooled using thermal energy that is primarily produced by electrical cogeneration equipment that meets the requirements of paragraphs

(a) to (c) of Class 43.1, or paragraph (a) of Class 43.2, in Schedule II.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1104(16) — Conditions for Class 43.1/43.2 treatment.

History: "District energy system" added to subsec. 1104(13) by P.C. 2006-439, subsec. 4(3), June 1, 2006, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 14, 2006, deemed in force on February 23, 2005.

"eligible landfill site" means a landfill site that is situated in Canada, or a former landfill site that is situated in Canada, and, if a permit or license in respect of the site is or was required under any law of Canada or of a province, for which the permit or license has been issued.

"eligible sewage treatment facility" means a sewage treatment facility that is situated in Canada and for which a permit or license is issued under any law of Canada or of a province.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 1104(13)"eligible waste fuel" [temporary]

"eligible waste fuel" means bio-oil, digester gas, landfill gas, municipal waste, pulp and paper waste, and wood waste.

Application: The February 26, 2008 draft regulations (2007 Budget amendments — capital cost allowance), subsec. 4(4), will add the definition "eligible waste fuel" to subsec. 1104(13), applicable to property acquired after March 18, 2007.

Technical Notes: See under Reg. 1104(13)"biogas".

Federal Budget, Supplementary Information, March 18, 2007: See under Proposed Amendment to Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 43.1(d)(i).

Related Provisions: Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 43.1(c)(a)(i)(A) — Eligible waste fuel used in energy generation system.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 1104(13)"eligible waste fuel"

"eligible waste fuel" means biogas, bio-oil, digester gas, landfill gas, municipal waste, pulp and paper waste and wood waste.

Application: The February 26, 2008 draft regulations (2008 Budget amendments — capital cost allowance), subsec. 5(2), will amend the definition "eligible waste fuel" in subsec. 1104(13), applicable to property acquired after February 25, 2008.

Technical Notes: See under the proposed amendment to Reg. 1104(13)"biogas".

Federal Budget, Supplementary Information, Feb. 26, 2008: See under Proposed Amendment to Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 43.1(d)(i).

Related Provisions: Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 43.1(c)(a)(i)(A) — Eligible waste fuel used in energy generation system.

"eligible waste management facility" means a waste management facility that is situated in Canada and for which a permit or license is issued under any law of Canada or of a province.

"enhanced combined cycle system" means an electrical generating system in which thermal waste from one or more natural gas compressor systems is recovered and used to contribute at least 20 per cent of the energy input of a combined cycle process in order to enhance the generation of electricity, but does not include the natural gas compressor systems.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 1104(13)"food and animal waste"

"food and animal waste" means organic waste that is disposed of in accordance with the applicable laws of Canada or a province and that is

(a) generated during the preparation or processing of food for human or animal consumption;

(b) food that is no longer fit for human or animal consumption; or

(c) animal remains.

Application: The February 26, 2008 draft regulations (2008 Budget amendments — capital cost allowance), subsec. 5(3), will add the definition "food and animal waste" to subsec. 1104(13), applicable to property acquired after February 25, 2008.

Technical Notes: See under the proposed amendment to Reg. 1104(13)"biogas".

Federal Budget, Supplementary Information, Feb. 26, 2008: See under Proposed Amendment to Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 43.1(d)(i).

Proposed Addition — Reg. 1104(13)"food waste" [temporary]

"food waste" means organic waste that is

(a) generated during the preparation or processing of food for human [or] animal consumption; or

(b) food that is no longer fit for human or animal consumption.

Application: The February 26, 2008 draft regulations (2007 Budget amendments — capital cost allowance), subsec. 4(4), will add the definition "food waste" to subsec. 1104(13), applicable to property acquired after March 18, 2007.

Technical Notes: See under Reg. 1104(13)"biogas".

Federal Budget, Supplementary Information, March 18, 2007: See under Proposed Amendment to Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 43.1(d)(i).

Proposed Repeal — Reg. 1104(13)"food waste"

Application: The February 26, 2008 draft regulations (2008 Budget amendments — capital cost allowance), subsec. 5(1), will repeal the definition "food waste" in subsec. 1104(13) (replaced by"food and animal waste" — see above), applicable to property acquired after February 25, 2008.

Technical Notes: See under the proposed amendment to Reg. 1104(13)"biogas".

Federal Budget, Supplementary Information, March 18, 2007: See under Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 43.1(d)(i).

"fossil fuel" means a fuel that is petroleum, natural gas or related hydrocarbons, basic oxygen furnace gas, blast furnace gas, coal, coal gas, coke, coke oven gas, lignite or peat.

History: "Fossil fuel" in subsec. 1104(13) amended by P.C. 2005-2287, subsec. 1(1), December 6, 2005, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 28, 2005, applicable in respect of property acquired after 2000.

"landfill gas" means a mixture of gases that are produced from the decomposition of organic waste and that are extracted from an eligible landfill site.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1104(13)"eligible waste fuel" — Inclusion of landfill gas.

"municipal waste" means the combustible portion of waste material (other than waste material that is considered to be toxic or hazardous waste pursuant to any law of Canada or of a province) that is generated in Canada and that is accepted at an eligible landfill site or an eligible waste management facility and that, when burned to generate energy, emits only those fluids or other emissions that are in compliance with the law of Canada or of a province.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1104(13)"eligible waste fuel" — Inclusion of municipal waste.

"plant residue" means the residue of plants that would, but for its use in a system to convert biomass into bio-oil, be waste material, but does not include wood waste or waste that no longer has the chemical properties of the plants of which it is a residue.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 1104(13)"plant residue"

Application: The February 26, 2008 draft regulations (2007 Budget amendments — capital cost allowance), subsec. 4(3), will amend the definition "plant residue" in subsec. 1104(13) to substitute "that converts biomass into bio-oil or biogas" for "to convert biomass into bio-oil", applicable to property acquired after March 18, 2007.

Technical Notes: See under Reg. 1104(13)"biogas".

Federal Budget, Supplementary Information, March 18, 2007 and Feb. 26, 2008: See under Proposed Amendments to Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 43.1(d)(i).

History: "Plant residue" added to subsec. 1104(13) by P.C. 2005-2287, subsec. 1(2), December 6, 2005, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 28, 2005, applicable in respect of property acquired after February 18, 2003.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 1104(13)"pulp and paper waste"

"pulp and paper waste" means

(a) tall oil soaps, crude tall oil and turpentine that are produced as by-products of the processing of wood into pulp or paper; and

(b) the by-product of a pulp or paper plant's effluent treatment, or its de-inking processes, if that by-product has a solid content of at least 40 per cent before combustion.

Application: The February 26, 2008 draft regulations (2007 Budget amendments — capital cost allowance), subsec. 4(4), will add the definition "pulp and paper waste" to subsec. 1104(13), applicable to property acquired after March 18, 2007.

Technical Notes: See under Reg. 1104(13)"biogas".

Federal Budget, Supplementary Information, March 18, 2007: See under Proposed Amendment to Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 43.1(d)(i).

Related Provisions: Reg. 1104(13)"eligible waste fuel" — Inclusion of pulp and paper waste.

"solution gas" means a fossil fuel that is gas that would otherwise be flared and has been extracted from a solution of gas and produced oil.

History: "Solution gas" added by P.C. 2000-1331, s. 2, August 23, 2000, Canada Gazette, Part II, September 13, 2000, applicable after February 16, 1999.

"spent pulping liquor" means the by-product of a chemical process of transforming wood into pulp, consisting of wood residue and pulping agents.

History: "Spent pulping liquor" added by P.C. 2006-1103, subsec. 1(2), October 19, 2006, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 1, 2006, deemed in force on November 14, 2005.

"thermal waste" means heat energy extracted from a distinct point of rejection in an industrial process.

"transmission equipment" means equipment used to transmit more than 75 per cent of the annual electrical energy generated by electrical generating equipment, but does not include a building.

"wood waste" includes scrap wood, sawdust, wood chips, bark, limbs, saw-ends and hog fuel, but does not include spent pulping liquor and any waste that no longer has the physical or chemical properties of wood.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1104(13)"eligible waste fuel" — Inclusion of wood waste.

History: "Wood waste" amended by P.C. 2006-1103, subsec. 1(1), October 19, 2006, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 1, 2006, deemed in force on November 14, 2005.

Subsec. 1104(13) added by P.C. 1997-1033, subsec. 4(2), July 25, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 20, 1997, applicable after February 21, 1994.

(14) [Class 43.1(c)/43.2(a) compliance] — Where property of a taxpayer is not operating in the manner required by paragraph (c) of Class 43.1, or paragraph (a) of Class 43.2, in Schedule II solely because of a deficiency, failing or shutdown that is beyond the control of the taxpayer of the system of which it is a part and that previously operated in the manner required by that paragraph, as the case may be, that property is deemed, for the purpose of that paragraph, to be operating in the manner required under that paragraph during the period of the deficiency, failing or shutdown, if the taxpayer makes all reasonable efforts to rectify the circumstances within a reasonable time.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1104(13) — Definitions; Reg. 1104(15) — Interpretation of "system"; Reg. 1104(16) — District energy system.

History: Subsec. 1104(14) amended by P.C. 2006-439, subsec. 4(4), June 1, 2006, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 14, 2006, deemed in force on February 23, 2005.

Subsec. 1104(14) added by P.C. 1997-1033, subsec. 4(2), July 25, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 20, 1997, applicable after February 21, 1994.

(15) [Interpretation of "system" for subsec. (14)] — For the purpose of subsection (14), a taxpayer's system referred to in that subsection that has at any particular time operated in the manner required by paragraph (c) of Class 43.1, or paragraph (a) of Class 43.2, in Schedule II includes at any time after the particular time a property of another person or partnership if

(a) the property would reasonably be considered to be part of the taxpayer's system were the property owned by the taxpayer;

(b) the property utilizes steam obtained from the taxpayer's system primarily in an industrial process (other than the generation of electrical energy);

(c) the operation of the property is necessary for the taxpayer's system to operate in the manner required by paragraph (c) of Class 43.1, or paragraph (a) of Class 43.2, in Schedule II, as the case may be; and

(d) at the time that the taxpayer's system first became operational, the deficiency, failing or shutdown in the operation of the property could not reasonably have been anticipated by the taxpayer to occur within five years after that time.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1104(13) — Definitions.

History: The opening words of subsec. 1104(15) amended by P.C. 2006-439, subsec. 4(5), June 1, 2006, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 14, 2006, deemed in force on February 23, 2005.

Para. 1104(15)(c) amended by the said P.C. 2006-439, subsec. 4(6), deemed in force on February 23, 2005.

DIVISION VI — CLASSES PRESCRIBED

1105. The classes of property provided in this Part and in Schedule II are hereby prescribed for the purposes of the Act.

History: S. 1105 amended by P.C. 1996-571, s. 1, April 23, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 1, 1996, applicable to taxation years that end after February 21, 1994.

S. 1105 substituted by P.C. 1982-599, s. 5, February 25, 1982, Canada Gazette, Part II, applicable to taxation years ending after December 11, 1979.

Definitions [Reg. 1105]: "class" — Reg. 1101(6), 1102(1)–(3), (14), (14.1); "prescribed", "property" — ITA 248(1).

DIVISION VII — CERTIFICATES ISSUED BY THE MINISTER OF CANADIAN HERITAGE

1106. (1) Interpretation — The following definitions apply in this Division and in paragraph (x) of Class 10 in Schedule II.

"application for a certificate of completion", in respect of a film or video production, means an application by a prescribed taxable Canadian corporation in respect of the production, filed with the Minister of Canadian Heritage before the day (in this Division referred to as "the production's application deadline") that is the later of

(a) the day that is 24 months after the end of the corporation's taxation year in which the production's principal photography began, or

(b) the day that is 18 months after the day referred to in paragraph (a), if the corporation has filed, with the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency, and provided to the Minister of Canadian Heritage a copy of, a waiver described in subparagraph 152(4)(a)(ii) of the Act, within the normal reassessment period for the corporation in respect of the first and second taxation years ending after the production's principal photography began.

"Canadian" means a person that is

(a) an individual who is

(i) a citizen, as defined in subsection 2(1) of the Citizenship Act, of Canada, or

(ii) a permanent resident, as defined in subsection 2(1) of the Immigration and Refugee Protection Act, or

(b) a corporation that is a Canadian-controlled entity, as determined under sections 26 to 28 of the Investment Canada Act.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1106(8)(c) — Principal screenwriter deemed not Canadian.

"Canadian government film agency" means a federal or provincial government agency whose mandate is related to the provision of assistance to film productions in Canada.

Related Provisions: ITA 241(4)(d)(xv) — Disclosure of information to government agency providing assistance.

"certificate of completion", in respect of a film or video production of a corporation, means a certificate certifying that the production has been completed, issued by the Minister of Canadian Heritage before the day (in this Division referred to as "the production's certification deadline") that is six months after the production's application deadline.

"excluded production" means a film or video production, of a particular corporation that is a prescribed taxable Canadian corporation,

(a) in respect of which

(i) the particular corporation has not filed an application for a certificate of completion before the production's application deadline,

(ii) a certificate of completion has not been issued before the production's certification deadline,

(iii) where the production is not a treaty co-production, neither the particular corporation nor another prescribed taxable Canadian corporation related to the particular corporation

(A) is, except to the extent of an interest in the production held by a prescribed taxable Canadian corporation as a co-producer of the production or by a prescribed person, the exclusive worldwide copyright owner in the production for all commercial exploitation purposes for the 25-year period that begins at the earliest time after the production was completed that it is commercially exploitable, and

(B) controls the initial licensing of commercial exploitation,

(iv) there is not an agreement in writing, for consideration at fair market value, to have the production shown in Canada within the 2-year period that begins at the earliest time after the production was completed that it is commercially exploitable,

(A) with a corporation that is a Canadian and is a distributor of film or video productions, or

(B) with a corporation that holds a broadcasting license issued by the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission for television markets, or

(v) distribution is made in Canada within the 2-year period that begins at the earliest time after the production was completed that it is commercially exploitable by a person that is not a Canadian, or

(b) that is

(i) news, current events or public affairs programming, or a programme that includes weather or market reports,

(ii) a talk show,

(iii) a production in respect of a game, questionnaire or contest (other than a production directed primarily at minors),

(iv) a sports event or activity,

(v) a gala presentation or an awards show,

(vi) a production that solicits funds,

(vii) reality television,

(viii) pornography,

(ix) advertising,

(x) a production produced primarily for industrial, corporate or institutional purposes, or

(xi) a production, other than a documentary, all or substantially all of which consists of stock footage.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1106(2) — Prescribed taxable Canadian corporation; Reg. 1106(10) — Prescribed person.

"producer" means a producer of a film or video production, except that it does not include a person unless the person is the individual who

(a) controls and is the central decision maker in respect of the production;

(b) is directly responsible for the acquisition of the production story or screenplay and the development, creative and financial control and exploitation of the production; and

(c) is identified in the production as being the producer of the production.

"remuneration" means remuneration other than an amount determined by reference to profits or revenues.

"twinning arrangement" means the pairing of two distinct film or video productions, one of which is a Canadian film or video production and the other of which is a foreign film or video production.

(2) Prescribed taxable Canadian corporation — For the purposes of section 125.4 of the Act and this Division, "prescribed taxable Canadian corporation" means a taxable Canadian corporation that is a Canadian, other than a corporation that is

(a) controlled directly or indirectly in any manner whatever by one or more persons all or part of whose taxable income is exempt from tax under Part I of the Act; or

(b) a prescribed labour-sponsored venture capital corporation, as defined in section 6701.

Related Provisions: ITA 256(5.1), (6.2) — Meaning of "controlled directly or indirectly"; Reg. 6701 — Prescribed labour-sponsored venture capital corporation.

(3) Treaty co-production — For the purpose of this Division, "treaty co-production" means a film or video production whose production is contemplated under any of the following instruments, and to which the instrument applies:

(a) a co-production treaty entered into between Canada and another State;

(b) the Memorandum of Understanding between the Government of Canada and the Government of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China on Film and Television Co-Production;

(c) the Common Statement of Policy on Film, Television and Video Co-Productions between Japan and Canada;

(d) the Memorandum of Understanding between the Government of Canada and the Government of the Republic of Korea on Television Co-Production; and

(e) the Memorandum of Understanding between the Government of Canada and the Government of the Republic of Malta on Audio-Visual Relations.

(4) Canadian film or video production — Subject to subsections (6) to (9), for the purposes of section 125.4 of the Act, this Part and Schedule II, "Canadian film or video production" means a film or video production, other than an excluded production, of a prescribed taxable Canadian corporation in respect of which the Minister of Canadian Heritage has issued a certificate (other than a certificate that has been revoked under subsection 125.4(6) of the Act) and that is

(a) a treaty co-production; or

(b) a film or video production

(i) whose producer is a Canadian at all times during its production,

(ii) in respect of which the Minister of Canadian Heritage has allotted not less than six points in accordance with subsection (5),

(iii) in respect of which not less than 75% of the total of all costs for services provided in respect of producing the production (other than excluded costs) was payable in respect of services provided to or by individuals who are Canadians, and for the purpose of this subparagraph, excluded costs are

(A) costs determined by reference to the amount of income from the production,

(B) remuneration payable to, or in respect of, the producer or individuals described in any of subparagraphs (5)(a)(i) to (viii) and (b)(i) to (vi) and paragraph (5)(c) (including any individuals that would be described in paragraph (5)(c) if they were Canadians),

(C) amounts payable in respect of insurance, financing, brokerage, legal and accounting fees, and similar amounts, and

(D) costs described in subparagraph (iv), and

(iv) in respect of which not less than 75% of the total of all costs incurred for the post-production of the production, including laboratory work, sound re-recording, sound editing and picture editing, (other than costs that are determined by reference to the amount of income from the production and remuneration that is payable to, or in respect of, the producer or individuals described in any of subparagraphs (5)(a)(i) to (viii) and (b)(i) to (vi) and paragraph (5)(c), including any individuals that would be described in paragraph (5)(c) if they were Canadians) was incurred in respect of services provided in Canada.

Related Provisions: ITA 241(3.3) — Disclosure to public of information on production certificate; Reg. 1101(5k.1) — Separate class for certain property under Class 10(x); Reg. 1106(1) — Definitions; Reg. 1106(5) — Points for creative services; Reg. Sch. II:Cl. 10(x) — CCA class for Canadian film or video production.

(5) [Creative services] — For the purposes of this Division, the Minister of Canadian Heritage shall allot, in respect of a film or video production

(a) that is not an animation production, in respect of each of the following persons if that person is an individual who is a Canadian,

(i) for the director, two points,

(ii) for the screenwriter, two points,

(iii) for the lead performer for whose services the highest remuneration was payable, one point,

(iv) for the lead performer for whose services the second highest remuneration was payable, one point,

(v) for the art director, one point,

(vi) for the director of photography, one point,

(vii) for the music composer, one point, and

(b) that is an animation production, in respect of each of the following persons if that person is an individual who is a Canadian,

(i) for the director, one point,

(ii) for the lead voice for which the highest or second highest remuneration was payable, one point,

(iii) for the design supervisor, one point,

(iv) for the camera operator where the camera operation is done in Canada, one point,

(v) for the music composer, one point, and

(vi) for the picture editor, one point;

(c) that is an animation production, one point if both the principal screenwriter and the storyboard supervisor are individuals who are Canadians; and

(d) that is an animation production, in respect of each of the following places if that place is in Canada,

(i) for the place where the layout and background work is done, one point,

(ii) for the place where the key animation is done, one point, and

(iii) for the place where the assistant animation and inbetweening is done, one point.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1106(1) — Definitions; Reg. 1106(7) — Special rule for animation production; Reg. 1106(8) — Lead performer/screenwriter; Reg. 1106(9) — Special rule for documentary production.

(6) [Specific points required] — A production (other than a production that is an animation production or a treaty co-production) is a Canadian film or video production only if there is allotted in respect of the production two points under subparagraph (5)(a)(i) or (ii) and one point under subparagraph (5)(a)(iii) or (iv).

(7) [Specific points required] — An animation production (other than a production that is a treaty co-production) is a Canadian film or video production only if there is allotted, in respect of the production,

(a) one point under subparagraph (5)(b)(i) or paragraph (5)(c);

(b) one point under subparagraph (5)(b)(ii); and

(c) one point under subparagraph (5)(d)(ii).

(8) Lead performer/screenwriter — For the purposes of this Division,

(a) a lead performer in respect of a production is an actor or actress who has a leading role in the production having regard to the performer's remuneration, billing and time on screen;

(b) a lead voice in respect of an animation production is the voice of the individual who has a leading role in the production having regard to the length of time that the individual's voice is heard in the production and the individual's remuneration; and

(c) where a person who is not a Canadian participates in the writing and preparation of the screenplay for a production, the screenwriter is not a Canadian unless the principal screenwriter is an individual who is otherwise a Canadian, the screenplay for the production is based upon a work authored by a Canadian, and the work is published in Canada.

(9) Documentary production — A documentary production that is not an excluded production, and that is allotted less than six points because one or more of the positions referred to in paragraph (5)(a) is unoccupied, is a Canadian film or video production if all of the positions described in that paragraph that are occupied in respect of the production are occupied by individuals who are Canadians.

(10) Prescribed person — For the purpose of section 125.4 of the Act and this Division, "prescribed person" means any of the following:

(a) a corporation that holds a television, speciality or pay-television broadcasting licence issued by the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission;

(b) a corporation that holds a broadcast undertaking licence and that provides production funding as a result of a "significant benefits" commitment given to the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission;

(c) a person to which paragraph 149(1)(l) of the Act applies and that has a fund that is used to finance Canadian film or video productions;

(d) a Canadian government film agency;

(e) in respect of a film or video production, a non-resident person that does not carry on a business in Canada through a permanent establishment in Canada where the person's interest in the production is acquired to comply with the certification requirements of a treaty co-production twinning arrangement; and

(f) a person

(i) to which paragraph 149(1)(f) of the Act applies,

(ii) that has a fund that is used to finance Canadian film or video productions, all or substantially all of which financing is provided by way of a direct ownership interest in those productions, and

(iii) that, after 1996, has received donations only from persons described in paragraphs (a) to (e).

Related Provisions: ITA 253 — Extended meaning of "carry on business in Canada".

Regulations: No provision defining "permanent establishment" as yet (though Reg. 8201 would be the logical choice).

(11) Prescribed amount — For the purpose of the definition "assistance" in subsection 125.4(1) of the Act, "prescribed amount" means an amount paid or payable to a taxpayer under the License Fee Program of the Canada Television and Cable Production Fund or the Canada Television Fund/Fonds canadien de télévision.

History [Reg. 1106]: S. 1106 (Div. VII) added by P.C. 2005-698, s. 3, May 3, 2005, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 18, 2005, applicable to 1995 et seq. except that,

(a) in the case of a film or video production for which a Canadian film or video production certificate (within the meaning assigned by ITA 125.4(1) is obtained before 1997, cl. (a)(iii)(A) of the definition "excluded production" in subsec. 1106(1) is to be read as follows:

(A) is, except to the extent of an interest in the production held by a prescribed taxable Canadian corporation as a co-producer of the production or by a prescribed person, the exclusive worldwide copyright owner in the production for all commercial exploitation purposes for the 5-year period that begins at the earliest time after the production was completed that it is commercially exploitable, and

(b) in the case of a film or video production for which a Canadian film or video production certificate (within the meaning assigned by ITA 125.4(1) is obtained before November 2001, subpara. (a)(ii) of the definition "Canadian" in subsec. 1106(1) is to be read as follows:

(ii) a permanent resident within the meaning assigned by the Immigration Act, or

(c) in the case of a film or video production of a corporation for which the first taxation year, which ended after principal photography of the production began, ended before 2000,

(i) subsec. 1106(1) is to be read without reference to the definition "application for a certificate of completion",

(ii) the definition "excluded production" in subsec. 1106(1) is to be read without reference to subpara. (a)(i), and

(iii) the definition "certificate of completion" in subsec. 1106(1) is to be read as follows:

"certificate of completion", in respect of a film or video production of a corporation, means a certificate issued by the Minister of Canadian Heritage before the day that is 30 months after the end of the corporation's taxation year in which the production's principal photography began, certifying that the production has been completed within two years after the end of that taxation year.; and

(d) in the case of a film or video production of a corporation for which the first taxation year, which ended after principal photography of the production began, ended after 1999 and before 2004,

(i) subsec. 1106(1) is to be read without reference to the definition "application for a certificate of completion",

(ii) the definition "excluded production" in subsec. 1106(1) is to be read without reference to subpara. (a)(i), and

(iii) the definition "certificate of completion" in subsec. 1106(1) is to be read as follows:

"certificate of completion", in respect of a film or video production of a corporation, means a certificate certifying that the production has been completed, issued by the Minister of Canadian Heritage before the day (in this Division referred to as "the production's certification deadline") that is the later of

(a) the day that is 30 months after the end of the corporation's taxation year in which the production's principal photography began, or

(b) the day that is 18 months after the day referred to in paragraph (a), if the corporation has filed, with the Canada Customs and Revenue Agency, a waiver described in subparagraph 152(4)(a)(ii) of the Act, within the normal reassessment period for the corporation in respect of the first and second taxation years ending after the production's principal photography began.

Former Division VII (s. 1106) repealed by P.C. 1995-775, s. 3, May 16, 1995, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 31, 1995, applicable to property acquired on or after May 31, 1995.

DIVISION VIII — DETERMINATION OF VISCOSITY AND DENSITY

1107. (1) For the purpose of the definition "bituminous sands" in section 248(1) of the Act, viscosity or density of hydrocarbons shall be determined using a number of individual samples (constituting a representative sampling of that deposit or those deposits, as the case may be, from which the taxpayer is committed to produce by means of one mine) tested

(a) at atmospheric pressure;

(b) at a temperature of 15.6 degrees Celsius; and

(c) free of solution gas.

History: S. 1107 added by P.C. 1998-49, s. 3, January 26, 1998, Canada Gazette, Part II, February 4, 1998, applicable after March 6, 1996.

PART XII — RESOURCE AND PROCESSING ALLOWANCES

History: Part XII amended by P.C. 1985-2277, s. 2, July 24, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, to substitute "predecessor" wherever "predecessor corporation" appeared, applicable to taxation years ending after April 19, 1983.

Part XII was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

1200. For the purposes of section 65 of the Act, there may be deducted in computing the income of a taxpayer for a taxation year such of the amounts determined in accordance with sections 1201 to 1209 and 1212 as are applicable.

History: S. 1200 substituted by P.C. 1979-649, s. 1, March 8, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 28, 1979, effective for taxation years ending after April 10, 1978.

Definitions [Reg. 1200]: "amount" — ITA 248(1); "taxation year" — ITA 249; "taxpayer" — ITA 248(1).

1201. Earned depletion allowances — In computing a taxpayer's income for a taxation year there may be deducted such amount as he may claim not exceeding the lesser of

(a) the aggregate of

(i) 25 per cent of the amount, if any, by which the taxpayer's resource profits for the year exceed four times the total of amounts, if any, deducted under subsection 1202(2) in computing the taxpayer's income for the year, and

(ii) the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of amounts included in computing the taxpayer's income for the year under paragraphs 59(3.3)(a) and (b) of the Act exceeds the aggregate of amounts, if any, that may reasonably be considered to have been deducted under subsection 1202(2) by reason of subparagraph (b)(ii) thereof in computing the taxpayer's income for the year; and

(b) the aggregate of

(i) the taxpayer's earned depletion base as of the end of the year, and

(ii) the amount, if any, by which

(A) the aggregate determined under paragraph 1202(4)(a) in respect of the taxpayer for the year

exceeds

(B) the amount, if any, by which

(I) the aggregate of all amounts that would be determined under paragraphs 1205(1)(e) to (k)

exceeds

(II) 33 1/3 per cent of the aggregate of all amounts that would be determined under paragraphs 1205(1)(a) to (d.2) in computing the taxpayer's earned depletion base as of the end of the year.

History: Subpara. 1201(a)(i) amended by P.C. 1999-629, s. 4, April 15, 1999, Canada Gazette, Part II, April 28, 1999, applicable to 1999 et seq.

Paras. 1201(a), (b) substituted by P.C. 1990-2780, s. 2, December 20, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, January 16, 1991, applicable to taxation years ending after February 17, 1987.

Para. 1201(a) substituted by P.C. 1981-3329, s. 2, November 26, 1981, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 9, 1981, applicable in respect of taxation years ending after December 11, 1979.

All that portion of s. 1201 preceding para. (b) substituted by P.C. 1978-1849, s. 3, June 8, 1978, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 28, 1978, applicable to taxation years ending after May 6, 1974.

Definitions [Reg. 1201]: "amount" — ITA 248(1); "earned depletion base" — Reg. 1202(1), 1205(1); "resource profits" — Reg. 1204(1.1); "successor" — Reg. 1202(7); "taxation year" — ITA 249; "taxpayer" — ITA 248(1).

1202. (1) For the purposes of computing the earned depletion base of a corporation, control of which has been acquired under circumstances described in subsection 66(11) of the Act, the amount by which the earned depletion base of the corporation at the time referred to in that subsection exceeds the aggregate of amounts otherwise deducted under section 1201 in computing its income for taxation years ending after that time and before control was so acquired shall be deemed to have been deducted under section 1201 by the corporation in computing its income for taxation years ending before such acquisition of control.

(2) Subject to subsections (5) and (6), where after November 7, 1969 a corporation (in this subsection referred to as the "successor") acquired a particular property (whether by way of a purchase, amalgamation, merger, winding-up or otherwise), there may be deducted by the successor in computing its income for a taxation year an amount not exceeding the aggregate of all amounts each of which is an amount determined in respect of an original owner of the particular property that is the lesser of

(a) the earned depletion base of the original owner immediately after the original owner disposed of the particular property (determined as if, in the case of a disposition after April 28, 1978 as a result of an amalgamation described in section 87 of the Act, the original owner existed after the time of disposition and no property was acquired or disposed of in the course of the amalgamation) to the extent of the amount thereof that was not

(i) deducted by the original owner or any predecessor owner of the particular property in computing income for any taxation year,

(ii) deducted by the successor in computing income for a preceding taxation year, or

(iii) otherwise deducted by the successor in computing income for the taxation year, and

(b) 25 per cent of the amount, if any, by which

(i) the part of the successor's income for the year that can reasonably be regarded as attributable to

(A) the part of any amount included under paragraph 59(3.2)(c) of the Act in computing its income for the year that can reasonably be regarded as attributable to the disposition by it in the year or a preceding taxation year of any interest in or right to the particular property, to the extent that the proceeds of the disposition have not been included in determining an amount under this clause, paragraph (7)(g), clause 29(25)(d)(i)(A) of the Income Tax Application Rules or clause 66.7(1)(b)(i)(A) or (3)(b)(i)(A) or paragraph 66.7(10)(g) of the Act for a preceding taxation year,

(B) its reserve amount for the year in respect of the original owner and each predecessor owner, if any, of the particular property,

(C) production from the particular property, or

(D) processing described in subparagraph 1204(1)(b)(iii), (iv) or (v) with the particular property computed as if no deduction were allowed under section 29 of the Income Tax Application Rules or under any of sections 65 to 66.7 of the Act and as if that income did not include any amount designated under clause 66.7(2)(b)(ii)(A) of the Act,

exceeds

(ii) the total of

(A) four times the total of all other amounts deducted under this subsection for the year that can reasonably be regarded as attributable to the part of the successor's income for the year described in subparagraph (i), and

(B) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount deducted under subsection 66.7(1), (3), (4) or (5) of the Act or subsection 29(25) of the Income Tax Application

Rules for the year that can reasonably be regarded as attributable to the part of the successor's income for the year described in subparagraph (i).

(3) Where in a taxation year ending after February 17, 1987 an original owner of a property disposes of the property in circumstances in which subsection (2) applies,

(a) the amount of the earned depletion base of the original owner determined immediately after the time of that disposition shall be deducted in determining the earned depletion base of the original owner at any time after the time that is immediately after the disposition;

(b) for the purposes of paragraph (2)(a), the earned depletion base of the original owner determined immediately after the original owner disposed of the property that was deducted in computing the original owner's income for the year shall be deemed to be equal to the lesser of

(i) the amount deducted in respect of the disposition under paragraph (a), and

(ii) the amount, if any, by which

(A) the specified amount determined under subsection (4) in respect of the original owner for the year

exceeds

(B) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is an amount determined under this paragraph in respect of any disposition made by the original owner before the disposition and in the year; and

(c) for greater certainty, any amount (other than the amount determined under paragraph (b)) that was deducted under section 1201 by the original owner for the year or a subsequent taxation year shall, for the purposes of paragraph (2)(a), be deemed not to be in respect of the earned depletion base of the original owner determined immediately after the original owner disposed of the particular property.

(4) Where in a taxation year ending after February 17, 1987 an original owner of a property disposes of the property in circumstances in which subsection (2) applies, the lesser of

(a) the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, if any, by which

(i) an amount deducted under paragraph (3)(a) in respect of such a disposition in the year by the original owner

exceeds

(ii) the amount, if any, designated by the original owner in a prescribed form filed with the Minister within six months after the end of the year in respect of the amount determined under subparagraph (i), and

(b) the amount, if any, deducted under section 1201 in computing the income of the original owner for the taxation year is the specified amount in respect of the original owner for the year for the purposes of paragraphs (3)(b) and 1205(1)(d.2).

Advance Tax Rulings: ATR-19: Earned depletion base and cumulative Canadian development expense.

(5) Subsections (2), 1203(3), 1207(7) and 1212(4) do not apply

(a) in respect of a property acquired by way of an amalgamation or winding-up to which section 1214 applies;

(b) to permit, in respect of the acquisition by a corporation before February 18, 1987 of a property, a deduction by the corporation of an amount that the corporation would not have been entitled to deduct under this Part, if this Part, as it read in its application to taxation years ending before February 18, 1987, applied to taxation years ending after February 17, 1987; or

(c) in respect of a property acquired by purchase, amalgamation, merger, winding-up or otherwise, from a person who is exempt from tax under Part I of the Act on that person's taxable income.

(6) Subsections (2), 1203(3), 1207(7) and 1212(4) apply only to a corporation that has acquired a particular property

(a) where it acquired the particular property in a taxation year commencing before 1985 and, at the time it acquired the particular property, the corporation acquired the specified property of the person from whom it acquired the particular property;

(b) where it acquired the particular property from a person in a taxation year commencing after 1984 and, at the time it acquired the particular property, the corporation acquired

(i) all or substantially all of the Canadian resource properties of that person, or

(ii) where subparagraph (i) does not apply, the specified property of the person;

(c) where it acquired (other than in circumstances in which subparagraph (b)(ii) applies) the particular property after November 16, 1978 and in a taxation year ending before February 18, 1987 by any means other than by way of an amalgamation or winding-up and it and the person from whom it acquired the particular property have filed with the Minister a joint election under and in accordance with any of subsections 66(6), 66.1(4), 66.1(5), 66.2(3), 66.2(4), 66.4(3), and 66.4(4) of the Act as those subsections read in their application to that year;

(d) where it acquired the particular property after June 5, 1987 by way of an amalgamation or winding-up (other than in circumstances in which subparagraph (b)(ii) applies) and it has filed an election in the form prescribed for the purposes of paragraph 66.7(7)(c) of the Act with the Minister on or before the day on or before which the corporation is required to file a return of income pursuant to section 150 of the Act for its taxation year in which it acquired the particular property;

(e) where it acquired the particular property (other than by means of an amalgamation or winding-up or in circumstances in which subparagraph (b)(ii) applies) in a taxation year ending after February 17, 1987 and it and the person from whom it acquired the particular property have filed a joint election in the form prescribed for the purposes of paragraph 66.7(7)(e) of the Act with the Minister on or before the earlier of the days on or before which either of them is required to file a return of income pursuant to section 150 of the Act in respect of their respective taxation years that include the time of acquisition of the particular property; and

(f) where it acquired (other than by way of an amalgamation or winding-up) the particular property in circumstances in which subparagraph (b)(ii) applies and it and the person from whom it acquired the particular property agree to have subsection (2), 1203(3), 1207(7) or 1212(4), as the case may be, apply to them and notify the Minister in writing of the agreement in their returns of income under Part I of the Act for their respective taxation years that include the time of acquisition of the particular property.

(7) Where at any time after November 12, 1981

(a) control of a corporation is considered for the purposes of subsection 66.7(10) of the Act to have been acquired by a person or group of persons, or

(b) a corporation ceases to be exempt from tax under Part I of the Act on its taxable income, for the purposes of section 1201, this section and section 1205,

(c) the corporation shall be deemed after that time to be a successor (within the meaning assigned by subsection (2)) that had, at that time, acquired all the properties owned by the corporation immediately before that time from an original owner thereof;

(d) a joint election shall be deemed to have been filed in accordance with subsection (6) in respect of the acquisition;

(e) the earned depletion base of the corporation immediately before that time shall be deemed not to be the earned depletion base of the corporation immediately after that time but to be the earned depletion base of the original owner immediately after that time;

(f) [Revoked]

(g) where the corporation (in this paragraph referred to as the "transferee") was, immediately before and at that time,

(i) a parent corporation (within the meaning assigned by subsection 87(1.4) of the Act), or

(ii) a subsidiary wholly-owned corporation (within the meaning assigned by subsection 87(1.4) of the Act) of a particular corporation (in this paragraph referred to as the "transferor"), if both corporations agree to have this paragraph apply to them in respect of a taxation year of the transferor ending after that time and notify the Minister in writing of the agreement in the return of income under Part I of the Act of the transferor for that year, the transferor may, if throughout that year the transferee was such a parent corporation or subsidiary wholly-owned corporation of the transferor, designate in favour of the transferee, in respect of that year, for the purpose of making a deduction under subsection (2) in respect of expenditures incurred by the transferee before that time and when it was such a parent corporation or subsidiary wholly-owned corporation of the transferor, an amount not exceeding such portion of the amount that would be its income for the year, if no deductions were allowed under any of section 29 of the Income Tax Application Rules and sections 65 to 66.7 of the Act, [as] may reasonably be regarded as being attributable to

(iii) the production from Canadian resource properties owned by the transferor immediately before that time,

(iv) the disposition in the year of any Canadian resource properties owned by the transferor immediately before that time, and

(v) such processing as is described in subparagraph 1204(1)(b)(iii), (iv), or (v) with property owned by the transferor immediately before that time to the extent that such portion of the amount so designated is not designated under this paragraph in favour of any other taxpayer or under paragraph 66.7(10)(g) of the Act in favour of any taxpayer, and the amount so designated shall be deemed, for the purposes of determining the amount under subsection (2),

(vi) to be income from the sources described in subparagraph (iii), (iv) or (v), as the case may be, of the transferee for its taxation year in which that taxation year of the transferor ends, and

(vii) not to be income from the sources described in subparagraph (iii), (iv) or (v), as the case may be, of the transferor for that year;

(h) where, immediately before and at that time, the corporation (in this paragraph referred to as the "transferee") and another corporation (in this paragraph referred to as the "transferor") were both subsidiary wholly-owned corporations (within the meaning assigned by subsection 87(1.4) of the Act) of a particular parent corporation (within the meaning assigned by subsection 87(1.4) of the Act), if the transferee and the transferor agree to have this paragraph apply to them in respect of a taxation year of the transferor ending after that time and notify the Minister in writing of the agreement in the return of income under Part I of the Act of the transferor for that year, paragraph (g) shall apply for that year to the transferee and transferor as though one were the parent corporation (within the meaning assigned by subsection 87(1.4) of the Act) of the other; and

(i) where that time is after January 15, 1987 and at that time the corporation was a member of a partnership that owned a property at that time,

(i) for the purposes of paragraph (c), the corporation shall be deemed to have owned immediately before that time that portion of the property owned by the partnership at that time that is equal to its percentage share of the aggregate of amounts that would be paid to all members of the partnership if it were wound up at that time, and

(ii) for the purposes of clauses (2)(b)(i)(C) and (D) for a taxation year ending after that time, the lesser of

(A) its share of the part of the income of the partnership for the fiscal period of the partnership ending in the year that may reasonably be regarded as being attributable to the production from the property or to such processing as is described in subparagraph 1204(1)(b)(iii), (iv) or (v) with the property, and

(B) an amount that would be determined under clause (A) for the year if its share of the income of the partnership for the fiscal year of the partnership were determined on the basis of the percentage share referred to in subparagraph (i) shall be deemed to be income of the corporation for the year that may reasonably be attributable to production from the property or to such processing as is described in subparagraph 1204(1)(b)(iii), (iv) or (v) with the property.

(8) For the purposes of subsections (1) and (7), where a corporation acquired control of another corporation after November 12, 1981 and before 1983 by reason of the acquisition of shares of the other corporation pursuant to an agreement in writing concluded on or before November 12, 1981, the corporation shall be deemed to have acquired such control on or before November 12, 1981.

(9) Where, at any time,

(a) control of a taxpayer that is a corporation has been acquired by a person or group of persons,

(b) a taxpayer has disposed of all or substantially all of the taxpayer's Canadian resource properties, or

(c) a taxpayer has disposed of the specified property of the taxpayer, and, before that time, the taxpayer or a partnership of which the taxpayer was a member acquired a property and it may reasonably be considered that one of the main purposes of the acquisition was to avoid any limitation provided in subsection (2) on the deduction in respect of the earned depletion base of the taxpayer or of a corporation referred to as a transferee in paragraph (7)(g) or (h), the taxpayer or the partnership, as the case may be, shall be deemed, for the purposes of applying subsection (2) to or in respect of the taxpayer, not to have acquired the property.

Related Provisions: ITA 256(6)–(9) — Whether control acquired.

(10) Where in a particular taxation year a predecessor owner of a property disposes of it to a corporation in circumstances in which subsection (2) applies, for the purposes of applying subsection (2) to the predecessor owner for a taxation year ending after February 17, 1987 in respect of its acquisition of the property, the predecessor owner shall be deemed, after the disposition, never to have acquired the property except for the purposes of making a deduction under subsection (2) for the particular year.

(11) Where at any time a property is acquired by a person in circumstances in which subsection (2) does not apply, every person who was an original owner or predecessor owner of the property by reason of having disposed of the property before that time shall, for the purposes of applying this Part to or in respect of the person or any other person who after that time acquires the property, be deemed after that time not to be an original owner or predecessor owner of the property by reason of having disposed of the property before that time.

History: Para. 1202(5)(c) amended by P.C. 2001-954, s. 1, May 31, 2001, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 20, 2001, applicable to acquisitions that take place after April 26, 1995, other than an acquisition that takes place before 1996 and that was required by an agreement in writing entered into before April 26, 1995.

Para. 1202(2)(b) amended by P.C. 1999-629, s. 5, April 15, 1999, Canada Gazette, Part II, April 28, 1999, applicable to 1999 et seq.

Cl. 1202(2)(b)(i)(A) amended by P.C. 1994-1817, s. 48, November 1, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 30, 1994.

That portion of subpara. 1202(2)(b)(i) following cl. (D) substituted, and para. 1202(7)(f) revoked, by P.C. 1993-415, subsecs. 1(1) and (3) March 9, 1993, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 24, 1993, applicable to taxation years ending after February 17, 1987.

Para. 1202(4)(a) substituted by subsec. 1(2) of the said P.C. 1993-415, applicable with respect to dispositions occurring in taxation years commencing after March 23, 1993; and with respect to a disposition of a property made by a taxpayer in a taxation year commencing before March 24, 1993 and ending after February 17, 1987 where

(a) the taxpayer, and

(b) each corporation that, before the end of the taxpayer's taxation year that includes the date of publication, acquired the property or any other property that was disposed of by the taxpayer in a taxation year ending after February 17, 1987 as part of a transaction or an event as a consequence of which that corporation was or, but for that subsection, would be entitled to deduct an amount under subsec. 1202(2) in respect of an expenditure of the taxpayer, so elect by notice in writing filed with the Minister of National Revenue on or before the day that is 180 days after the end of the taxpayer's taxation year that included March 24, 1993, and file waivers in the form and within the time referred to in subpara. 152(4)(a)(ii) of the Act in respect of taxation years commencing before March 24, 1993 with respect to the consequences of the election. And where a taxpayer has so elected in respect of a disposition, a form containing a designation under subpara. 1202(4)(a)(ii) shall be deemed to have been filed within the time required in that subparagraph if it is filed with the Minister of National Revenue on or before the day that is 180 days after the end of the taxpayer's taxation year that includes March 24, 1993.

Subsecs. 1202(2) to (11) substituted for subsecs. (2) to (6) by P.C. 1990-2780, s. 3, December 20, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, January 16, 1991, applicable (except for cl. (2)(b)(i)(C) and subsec. (9)) to taxation years ending after February 17, 1987 except that the Minister of National Revenue shall be deemed to have been notified in circumstances satisfying the condition in para. 1202(7)(g)or (h) if the Minister is notified in writing of the agreement referred to therein before July 16, 1991.

Cl. 1202(2)(b)(i)(C) and subsec. 1202(9) are applicable to taxation years ending after February 17, 1987 except that with respect to property acquired before January 15, 1987, or acquired before 1988, where the person acquiring the property is considered for the purposes of section 66.7 of the Act to have been obliged on that date to acquire the property pursuant to the terms of an agreement in writing entered into on or before that date,

(a) cl. (2)(b)(i)(C) shall be read as follows:

"(C) where the particular property was an interest in or a right to take or remove petroleum or natural gas or a right to take or remove minerals from a property, the production from that property,"; and

(b) subsec. (9) is not applicable.

That portion of subsec. 1202(2) preceding para. (a) substituted by P.C. 1990-2256, subsec. 1(1), October 18, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 7, 1990, applicable in respect of taxation years commencing after 1984.

Subsec. 1202(2.1) added by the said P.C. 1990-2256, subsec. 1(2), applicable in respect of taxation years commencing after 1984 except that the Minister of National Revenue shall be deemed to have been notified in circumstances satisfying the condition set out in para. (c) if the Minister is notified in writing of the agreement referred to therein before May 7, 1991.

That portion of subsec. 1202(3) preceding para. (a) substituted by the said P.C. 1990-2256, subsec. 1(3), applicable in respect of taxation years commencing after 1984.

Subsec. 1202(3.1) added by the said P.C. 1990-2256, subsec. 1(4), applicable in respect of taxation years commencing after 1984 except that the Minister of National Revenue shall be deemed to have been notified in circumstances satisfying the condition set out in para. (c) if the Minister is notified in writing of the agreement referred to therein before May 7, 1991.

Subsec. 1202(3.2) added by P.C. 1990-2256, subsec. 1(4), applicable to taxation years ending after July 19, 1985.

Para. 1202(4)(e.1) added by the said P.C. 1990-2256, subsec. 1(5), applicable to 1985 et seq. except that where the Minister of National Revenue is notified in writing of the agreement referred to in the para. before May 7, 1991 the requirement in the para. with regard to notifying the Minister shall be deemed to have been satisfied.

That portion of subsec. 1202(2) preceding para. 1203. Mining exploration depletion — (1) In computing a taxpayer's income for a taxation year there may be deducted such amount as he may claim not exceeding the lesser of

(a) the amount if any, by which

(i) the aggregate of

(A) 25 per cent of his income for the year, computed in accordance with Part I of the Act without reference to paragraph 59(3.3)(f) thereof and on the assumption that no deduction were allowed under section 65 thereof, and

(B) the amount, if any, included in computing his income for the year by virtue of paragraph 59(3.3)(f) of the Act

exceeds

(ii) the aggregate of amounts deducted under sections 1201, 1202, 1207 and 1212 in computing his income for the year; and

(b) his mining exploration depletion base as of the end of the year (before making any deduction under this subsection for the year).

(2) For the purposes of this section, "mining exploration depletion base" of a taxpayer as of a particular time means the amount by which the aggregate of

(a) 33⅓ per cent of the amount by which

(i) the aggregate of all amounts each of which was the stated percentage of an expenditure that is, or but for paragraph 66(12.61)(b) of the Act would be, incurred by the taxpayer after April 19, 1983 and before the particular time and each of which was a Canadian exploration expense

(A) described in subparagraph 66.1(6)(a) (iii) of the Act, or

(B) that would have been described in subparagraph 66.1(6)(a)(iv) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(h)] or (v) [subpara. (i)] of the Act if the references in those subparagraphs to "any of subparagraphs (i) to (iii.1)" were read as "subparagraph (iii)", other than an expense described in clause (A) or (B) that was

(C) an expense renounced by the taxpayer under subsection 66(10.1) or (12.6) of the Act,

(D) an amount that was a Canadian exploration and development overhead expense of the taxpayer,

(E) an amount that was in respect of financing, including any cost incurred prior to the commencement of carrying on a business, or

(F) an eligible expense within the meaning of the Canadian Exploration Incentive Program Act in respect of which the taxpayer, a partnership of which the taxpayer was a member or a principal-business corporation of which the taxpayer was a shareholder, has received, is deemed to have received, is entitled to receive or may reasonably be expected to receive at any time an incentive under that Act,

exceeds

(ii) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the stated percentage of an amount of assistance (within the meaning assigned by paragraph 66(15)(a.1) [66(15)"assistance"] of the Act) that any person has received, is entitled to receive or, at any time, becomes entitled to receive in respect of an expense that would be described in subparagraph (i) if that subparagraph were read without reference to clause (C) thereof, other than such an amount in respect of an expense renounced under subsection 66(10.1) or (12.6) of the Act

(A) by a corporation in favour of the taxpayer, where the amount of that assistance is excluded from the aggregate in respect of which the expense is so renounced, or

(B) by the taxpayer, where the amount of that assistance is not excluded from the aggregate in respect of which the expense is so renounced, and

(b) where the taxpayer is a successor corporation, any amount required by paragraph (3)(a) to be added before the particular time in computing the taxpayer's mining exploration depletion base

exceeds the aggregate of

(c) all amounts each of which is an amount deducted by the taxpayer under subsection (1) in computing his income for a taxation year ending before the particular time; and

(d) where the taxpayer is a predecessor, all amounts required by paragraph (3)(b) to be deducted before the particular time in computing the taxpayer's mining exploration depletion base.

(3) Subject to subsections 1202(5) and (6), where a corporation (in this section referred to as the "successor corporation") has at any time (in this subsection referred to as the "time of acquisition") after April 19, 1983 and in a taxation year (in this subsection referred to as the "transaction year") acquired a property from another person (in this subsection referred to as the "predecessor") the following rules apply:

(a) for the purpose of computing the mining exploration depletion base of the successor corporation as of any time after the time of acquisition, there shall be added an amount equal to the amount required by paragraph (b) to be deducted in computing the mining exploration depletion base of the predecessor; and

(b) for the purpose of computing the mining exploration depletion base of the predecessor as of any time after the transaction year of the predecessor, there shall be deducted the amount, if any, by which

(i) the mining exploration depletion base of the predecessor immediately after the time of acquisition (assuming for this purpose that, in the case of an acquisition as a result of an amalgamation described in section 87 of the Act, the predecessor existed after the time of acquisition and no property was acquired or disposed of in the course of the amalgamation)

exceeds

(ii) the amount, if any, deducted under subsection (1) in computing the income of the predecessor for the transaction year of the predecessor.

(4) For greater certainty, where an expense incurred before a particular time is included in the aggregate calculated under subparagraph (2)(a)(i) in respect of a taxpayer and subsequent to the particular time any person becomes entitled to receive an amount of assistance (within the meaning assigned by paragraph 66(15)(a.1) [66(15)"assistance"] of the Act) that is included in the aggregate calculated under subparagraph (2)(a)(ii), the stated percentage of the amount of assistance shall be included in the amounts referred to in subparagraph (2)(a)(ii) in respect of the taxpayer at the time the expense was incurred.

History: That portion of subparas. 1203(2)(a)(i) and (ii) preceding cl. (A), and subsec. (4) substituted, cl. (2)(a)(i)(F) added, by P.C. 1990-2780, subsecs. 4(1), (2), (3), (6), December 20, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, January 16, 1991, applicable to 1988 et seq.

That portion of subsec. 1203(3) preceding para. (a) substituted, (3.1) revoked, by subsecs. 4(4), (5) of the said P.C. 1990-2780, applicable to taxation years ending after February 17, 1987.

That portion of subpara. 1203(2)(a)(i) preceding cl. (A), cl. (2)(a)(i)(C), subpara. (2)(a)(ii) and subsec. 1204. Resource profits — (1) ["Gross resource profits"] — For the purposes of this Part, "gross resource profits" of a taxpayer for a taxation year means the amount, if any, by which the total of

(a) the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of

(i) the aggregate of amounts, if any, that would be included in computing the taxpayer's income for the year by virtue of subsection 59(2) and paragraphs 59(3.2)(b) and 59.1(b) of the Act if subsection 59(2) were read without reference to subsection 64(1) therein, and

(i.1) the amount, if any, by which the amount included in computing his income for the year by virtue of paragraph 59(3.2)(c) of the Act exceeds the proceeds of disposition of property described in clause 66(15)(c)(ii)(A) [66(15)"Canadian resource property"(b)(i)] of the Act that became receivable in the year or a preceding taxation year and after December 31, 1982 to the extent that such proceeds have not been deducted in determining the amount under this subparagraph for a preceding taxation year

(ii) the aggregate of amounts, if any, deducted in computing his income for the year by virtue of paragraph 59.1(a) and subsections 64(1.1) and (1.2) of the Act,

(b) the amount, if any, of the aggregate of his incomes for the year from

(i) the production of petroleum, natural gas, related hydrocarbons or sulphur from

(A) oil or gas wells in Canada operated by the taxpayer, or

(B) natural accumulations (other than mineral resources) of petroleum or natural gas in Canada operated by the taxpayer,

(ii) the production and processing in Canada of

(A) ore, other than iron ore or tar sands ore, from mineral resources in Canada operated by him to any stage that is not beyond the prime metal stage or its equivalent,

(B) iron ore from mineral resources in Canada operated by him to any stage that is not beyond the pellet stage or its equivalent, and

(C) tar sands ore from mineral resources in Canada operated by him to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent,

(iii) the processing in Canada of

(A) ore, other than iron ore or tar sands ore, from mineral resources in Canada not operated by him to any stage that is not beyond the prime metal stage or its equivalent,

(B) iron ore from mineral resources in Canada not operated by him to any stage that is not beyond the pellet stage or its equivalent, and

(C) tar sands ore from mineral resources in Canada not operated by him to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent,

(iv) the processing in Canada of

(A) ore, other than iron ore or tar sands ore, from mineral resources outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the prime metal stage or its equivalent,

(B) iron ore from mineral resources outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the pellet stage or its equivalent, and

(C) tar sands ore from mineral resources outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent,

(v) the processing in Canada of heavy crude oil recovered from an oil or gas well in Canada to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent, and

(vi) Canadian field processing,

(b.1) the total of all amounts (other than an amount included because of paragraph (b) in computing the taxpayer's gross resource profits for the year) each of which is an amount included in computing the taxpayer's income for the year as a rental or royalty computed by reference to the amount or value of production from a natural accumulation of petroleum or natural gas in Canada, an oil or gas well in Canada or a mineral resource in Canada, and

(c) if the taxpayer owns all the issued and outstanding shares of the capital stock of a railway company throughout the year, the amount that may reasonably be considered to be the railway company's income for its taxation year ending in the year from the transportation of such of the taxpayer's ore as is described in clause (b)(ii)(A), (B) or (C), exceeds the aggregate of the taxpayer's losses for the year from the sources described in paragraph (b), where the taxpayer's incomes and losses are computed in accordance with the Act on the assumption that the taxpayer had during the year no incomes or losses except from those sources and was allowed no deductions in computing the taxpayer's income for the year other than

(d) amounts deductible under section 66 of the Act (other than amounts in respect of foreign exploration and development expenses) or subsection 17(2) or (6) or section 29 of the Income Tax Application Rules, for the year;

(e) the amounts deductible or deducted, as the case may be, under section 66.1, 66.2 (other than an amount that is in respect of a property described in clause 66(15)(c)(ii)(A) [66(15)"Canadian resource property"(b)(i)] of the Act), 66.4, 66.5 or 66.7 (other than subsection (2) thereof) of the Act for the year; and

(f) any other deductions for the year that can reasonably be regarded as applicable to the sources of income described in paragraph (b) or (b.1), other than a deduction under paragraph 20(1)(ss) or (tt) of the Act or section 1201 or subsection 1202(2), 1203(1), 1207(1) or 1212(1).

(1.1) ["Resource profits"] — For the purposes of this Part, "resource profits" of a taxpayer for a taxation year means the amount, if any, by which the taxpayer's gross resource profits for the year exceeds the total of

(a) all amounts deducted in computing the taxpayer's income for the year other than

(i) an amount deducted in computing the taxpayer's gross resource profits for the year,

(ii) an amount deducted under any of section 8, paragraphs 20(1)(ss) and (tt), sections 60 to 64 and subsections 66(4), 66.7(2) and 104(6) and (12) of the Act and section 1201 and subsections 1202(2), 1203(1), 1207(1) and 1212(1) in computing the taxpayer's income for the year,

(iii) an amount deducted under section 66.2 of the Act in computing the taxpayer's income for the year, to the extent that it is attributable to any right, licence or privilege to store underground petroleum, natural gas or related hydrocarbons in Canada,

(iv) an amount deducted in computing the taxpayer's income for the year from a business, or other source, that does not include any resource activity of the taxpayer, and

(v) an amount deducted in computing the taxpayer's income for the year, to the extent that the amount

(A) relates to an activity

(I) that is not a resource activity of the taxpayer, and

(II) that is

1. the production, processing, manufacturing, distribution, marketing, transportation or sale of any property,

2. carried out for the purpose of earning income from property, or

3. the rendering of a service by the taxpayer to another person for the purpose of earning income of the taxpayer, and

(B) does not relate to a resource activity of the taxpayer,

(b) all amounts each of which is the amount, if any, by which

(i) the amount that would have been charged to the taxpayer by a person or partnership with whom the taxpayer was not dealing at arm's length if the taxpayer and that person or partnership had been dealing at arm's length

(A) for the use after March 6, 1996 and in the year of a property (other than money) owned by that person or partnership, or

(B) for the provision after March 6, 1996 and in the year by that person or partnership of a service to the taxpayer

exceeds the total of

(ii) the amount charged to the taxpayer for the use of that property or the provision of that service in that period, and

(iii) the portion of the amount described in subparagraph (i) that, if it had been charged, would not have been deductible in computing the taxpayer's resource profits, and

(c) where the year ends after February 21, 1994, all amounts added under subsection 80(13) of the Act in computing the taxpayer's gross resource profits for the year.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1204(1.2) — Interpretation.

History: Subsec. 1204(1.1) added by P.C. 1996-1488, subsec. 2(5), September 24, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, October 16, 1996, applicable to taxation years that begin after December 20, 1991 except that, for each taxation year that began before July 24, 1992, the amount determined under para. 1204(1.1)(a) is deemed to be equal to the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the total that would otherwise be determined under that paragraph;

B is the number of days in the year that are after July 23, 1992; and

C is the number of days in the year.

(1.2) [Interpretation for (1.1)] — For the purposes of paragraph (1.1)(b) and this subsection,

(a) a taxpayer is considered not to deal at arm's length with a partnership where the taxpayer does not deal at arm's length with any member of the partnership;

(b) a partnership is considered not to deal at arm's length with another partnership where any member of the first partnership does not deal at arm's length with any member of the second partnership;

(c) where a taxpayer is a member, or is deemed by this paragraph to be a member, of a partnership that is a member of another partnership, the taxpayer is deemed to be a member of the other partnership; and

(d) the provision of a service to a taxpayer does not include the provision of a service by an individual in the individual's capacity as an employee of the taxpayer.

History: Subsec. 1204(1.2) added by P.C. 1996-1488, subsec. 2(5), September 24, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, October 16, 1996, applicable to taxation years that end after March 6, 1996.

(2) [Income of a trust] — For greater certainty, for the purposes of this section, in computing the income or loss of a trust for a taxation year from the sources described in paragraphs (1)(b) and (b.1), no deduction shall be made in respect of amounts deductible by the trust pursuant to subsection 104(6) or (12) of the Act.

History: Subsec. 1204(2) substituted by P.C. 1985-465, subsec. 5(6), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985.

(3) [Exclusions] — A taxpayer's income or loss from a source described in paragraph (1)(b) does not include

(a) any income or loss derived from transporting, transmitting or processing (other than processing described in clause (1)(b)(ii)(C), (iii)(C) or (iv)(C) or subparagraph (1)(b)(v) or (vi)) petroleum, natural gas or related hydrocarbons or sulphur from a natural accumulation of petroleum or natural gas;

(b) any income or loss arising because of the application of paragraph 12(1)(z.1) or (z.2) or section 107.3 of the Act; and

(c) any income or loss that can reasonably be attributable to a service rendered by the taxpayer (other than processing described in subparagraph (1)(b)(iii), (iv), (v) or (vi) or activities carried out by the taxpayer as a coal mine operator).

1205. Earned depletion base — (1) For the purposes of this Part "earned depletion base" of a taxpayer as of a particular time means the amount by which 33⅓ per cent of the aggregate of

(a) all amounts, in respect of expenditures (other than expenditures to acquire property under circumstances that entitled the taxpayer to a deduction under section 1202 or would so entitle the taxpayer if the amounts referred to in paragraphs 1202(2)(a) and (b) were sufficient for the purpose) incurred by the taxpayer after November 7, 1969 and before the particular time, each of which was

(i) a Canadian exploration and development expense or would have been such an expense if it had been incurred after 1971 and was actually incurred before May 7, 1974, other than

(A) a cost of borrowing capital, including any cost incurred prior to the commencement of carrying on a business, that was a Canadian exploration expense or an exploration, prospecting and development expense, as the case may be, of the taxpayer,

(B) the cost to the taxpayer of any Canadian resource property acquired by the taxpayer,

(C) a Canadian exploration and development expense that was incurred after a mine had come into production in reasonable commercial quantities and may reasonably be considered to be related to the mine or to a potential or actual extension thereof,

(D) an expense that would have been described in clause (C) if it had been incurred after 1971,

(E) an expense renounced by the taxpayer under subsection 66(10) of the Act or subsection 29(7) of the Income Tax Application Rules,

(F) an amount that, by virtue of subparagraph 66(15)(b)(iv) [66(15)"Canadian exploration and development expenses"(d)] of the Act, was a Canadian exploration and development expense or would have been such an expense if it had been incurred after 1971, if such amount was a cost or expense referred to in clause (A), (B), (C), (D) or (E) that was incurred by an association, partnership or syndicate referred to in that subparagraph, or

(G) an amount that, by virtue of subparagraph 66(15)(b)(v) [66(15)"Canadian exploration and development expenses"(e)] of the Act, was a Canadian exploration and development expense or would have been such an expense if it had been incurred after 1971, if such amount was a cost or expense referred to in clause (A), (B), (C), (D) or (E) that the taxpayer incurred pursuant to an agreement referred to in that subparagraph,

(ii) the stated percentage of a Canadian exploration expense other than

(A) a cost of borrowing capital, including any cost incurred prior to the commencement of carrying on a business, that was a Canadian exploration expense of the taxpayer,

(B) an expense renounced by the taxpayer under subsection 66(10.1) of the Act,

(C) an amount that, by virtue of subparagraph 66.1(6)(a)(iv) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(h)] of the Act, was a Canadian exploration expense, if such amount was an expense referred to in clause (A), (B), (E), (F), (G) or (H) that was incurred by a partnership referred to in that subparagraph,

(D) an amount that, by virtue of subparagraph 66.1(6)(a)(v) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(i)] of the Act, was a Canadian exploration expense, if such amount was an expense referred to in clause (A), (B), (E),

(F), (G) or (H) that the taxpayer incurred pursuant to an agreement referred to in that subparagraph,

(E) an amount described in clause 66.1(6)(a)(ii)(B) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(c)(ii)] or (ii.1)(B) [subpara. (d)(ii)] of the Act,

(F) an amount that was a Canadian exploration and development overhead expense of the taxpayer,

(G) an amount that was a Canadian oil and gas exploration expense of the taxpayer, or

(H) an expense described in subparagraph 66.1(6)(a)(iii) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(f)] of the Act incurred after April 19, 1983,

(iii) a Canadian development expense incurred before 1981 other than

(A) a cost of borrowing capital, including any cost incurred prior to the commencement of carrying on a business, that was a Canadian development expense of the taxpayer,

(B) an expense renounced by the taxpayer under subsection 66(10.2) of the Act,

(C) an amount referred to in subparagraph 66.2(5)(a)(iii) [66.2(5)"Canadian development expense"(e)] of the Act,

(D) an amount that, by virtue of subparagraph 66.2(5)(a)(iv) [66.2(5)"Canadian development expense"(f)] of the Act, was a Canadian development expense, if such amount was an expense referred to in clause (A), (B) or (C) that was incurred by a partnership referred to in that subparagraph, or

(E) an amount that, by virtue of subparagraph 66.2(5)(a)(v) [66.2(5)"Canadian development expense"(g)] of the Act, was a Canadian development expense, if such amount was an expense referred to in clause (A), (B) or (C) that the taxpayer incurred pursuant to an agreement referred to in that subparagraph,

(iv) the stated percentage of the capital cost to the taxpayer of any processing property acquired by the taxpayer principally for the purpose of

(A) processing in Canada

(I) ore, other than iron ore or tar sands ore, from a qualified resource to any stage that is not beyond the prime metal stage or its equivalent,

(II) iron ore from a qualified resource to any stage that is not beyond the pellet stage or its equivalent, or

(III) tar sands ore from a qualified resource to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent, or

(B) processing in Canada

(I) ore, other than iron ore or tar sands ore, from an exporting resource beyond the furthest stage to which such ore or similar ore from that resource was ordinarily processed in Canada before such acquisition but not beyond the prime metal stage or its equivalent,

(II) iron ore from an exporting resource beyond the furthest stage to which such ore or similar ore from that resource was ordinarily processed in Canada before such acquisition but not beyond the pellet stage or its equivalent, or

(III) tar sands ore from an exporting resource beyond the furthest stage to which such ore or similar ore from that resource was ordinarily processed in Canada before such acquisition but not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent,

(v) where the taxpayer is a corporation that incurred a Canadian oil and gas exploration expense in respect of conventional lands in a calendar year after 1980 and before 1984, the specified percentage for that year of such expense to the extent that it is not an amount or expense referred to in clause (ii)(A), (B) or (F) or an expense that would be referred to in clause (ii)(C) or (D) if the references in those clauses to "clause (A), (B), (E), (F), (G) or (H)" were read as "clause (A), (B) or (F)", or

(vi) where the taxpayer is a corporation,

(A) the specified percentage in respect of a Canadian oil and gas exploration expense in respect of non-conventional lands incurred in a calendar year after 1980 and before 1985 to the extent that it is not an amount or expense referred to in clause (ii)(A), (B) or (F) or an expense that would be referred to in clause (ii)(C) or (E) if the references in those clauses to "clause (A), (B), (E), (F), (G) or (H)" were read as "clause (A), (B) or (F)",

(B) the stated percentage of a Canadian development expense incurred after 1980 in respect of a qualified tertiary oil recovery project of the taxpayer to the extent that such expense is not

(I) an amount or expense described in any of clauses (iii)(A) to (E),

(II) an amount that was a Canadian exploration and development overhead expense of the taxpayer, or

(III) an eligible expense within the meaning of the Canadian Exploration and Development Incentive Program Act in respect of which the taxpayer, a partnership of which the taxpayer was a member, a principal-business corporation of which the taxpayer was a shareholder or a joint exploration corporation of which the taxpayer was a shareholder corporation has received, is entitled to receive or may reasonably be expected to receive at any time an incentive under that Act,

(B.1) the stated percentage of a Canadian exploration expense incurred after 1981 in respect of a qualified tertiary oil recovery project of the taxpayer that

(I) would be referred to in subparagraph 66.1(6)(a)(ii) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(c)] or (ii.1) [para. (d)] of the Act if subparagraph 66.1(6)(a)(ii) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(c)] were read without reference to clause (B) [subpara. (ii)] thereof, or

(II) would be referred to in subparagraph 66.1(6)(a)(iv) or (v) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(h) or (i)] of the Act if the Act were read without reference to clause 66.1(6)(a)(ii)(B) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(c)(ii)] and subparagraphs 66.1(6)(a)(i), (i.1), (ii.2), (iii) and (iii.1) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(a), (b), (e), (f) and (g)], other than the portion of such expense referred to in subclause (I) or (II) that is

(III) described in any of clauses (ii)(A) to (D) and (F),

(IV) included in the amount determined under subparagraph (v) or clause (vi)(A),

(V) described in subclause (B)(III), or

(VI) an eligible expense within the meaning of the Canadian Exploration Incentive Program Act in respect of which the taxpayer, a partnership of which the taxpayer was a member or a principal-business corporation of which the taxpayer was a shareholder corporation, has received, is entitled to receive or may reasonably be expected to receive at any time an incentive under that Act,

(C) the stated percentage of the capital cost to it of property that is tertiary recovery equipment, and

(D) the stated percentage of the capital cost to it of property that is, or but for Class 41 of Schedule II would be, included in Class 10 in Schedule II by virtue of paragraph (u) of the description of that Class, other than the capital cost to it of property that had, before the property was acquired by it, been used for any purpose whatever by any person with whom it was not dealing at arm's length,

1206. Interpretation — (1) In this Part,

"bituminous sands equipment" means property of a taxpayer that

(a) is included in Class 28 or in paragraph (a) of Class 41 in Schedule II, other than property so included

(i) by virtue of the first reference in Class 28 to paragraph (l) of Class 10 in Schedule II, where the property was acquired by the taxpayer before November 17, 1978, or

(ii) by virtue of the reference in Class 28 to paragraph (m) of Class 10 in Schedule II, and

(b) was acquired by the taxpayer after April 10, 1978 principally for the purpose of gaining or producing income from one or more mines, each of which is a location in a bituminous sands deposit, oil sands deposit or oil shale deposit from which material is extracted;

History: Para. (a) of "bituminous sands equipment" in subsec. 1206(1) substituted by P.C. 1990-2780, subsec. 7(1), December 20, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, January 16, 1991, applicable to 1988 et seq.

Definition of "bituminous sands equipment" added to subsec. 1206(1) by P.C. 1979-649, s. 5, March 8, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 28, 1979, effective for the period commencing April 11, 1978.

"Canadian exploration and development overhead expense" of a taxpayer means a Canadian exploration expense or a Canadian development expense of the taxpayer made or incurred after 1980 that is not a Canadian renewable and conservation expense (in this definition having the meaning assigned by subsection 66.1(6) of the Act) nor a taxpayer's share of a Canadian renewable and conservation expense incurred by a partnership and

(a) that was in respect of the administration, management or financing of the taxpayer,

(b) that was in respect of the salary, wages or other remuneration or related benefits paid in respect of a person employed by the taxpayer whose duties were not all or substantially all directed towards exploration or development activities,

(c) that was in respect of the upkeep or maintenance of, taxes or insurance in respect of, or rental or leasing of, property other than property all or substantially all of the use of which by the taxpayer was for the purposes of exploration or development activities, or

(d) that may reasonably be regarded as having been in respect of

(i) the use of or the right to use any property in which any person who was connected with the taxpayer had an interest,

(ii) compensation for the performance of a service for the benefit of the taxpayer by any person who was connected with the taxpayer, or

(iii) the acquisition of any materials, parts or supplies from any person who was connected with the taxpayer to the extent that the expense exceeds the least of amounts, each of which was the aggregate of the costs incurred by a person who was connected with the taxpayer

(iv) in respect of the property,

(v) in respect of the performance of the service, or

(vi) in respect of the materials, parts or supplies;

Related Provisions: Reg. 1206(4.2) — Prescribed CEDOE; Reg. 1206(5) — Meaning of "connected" and "costs incurred by a person".

"qualified resource" means, in relation to a particular processing property of a taxpayer, a resource that, within a reasonable time after the property was acquired by him,

(a) came into production in reasonable commercial quantities, or

(b) was the subject of a major expansion whereby the greatest designed capacity, measured in weight of input of ore, of the mill that processed ore from the resource was not less than 25% greater in the year immediately following the expansion than it was in the year immediately preceding the expansion;

History: The definition "qualified resource" amended to substitute "weight" for "tons", by P.C. 2000-1331, subsec. 3(2), August 23, 2000, Canada Gazette, Part II, September 13, 2000, applicable to expansions commencing after September 13, 2000.

"qualified tertiary oil recovery project" in respect of an expense incurred in a taxation year means a project that uses a method (including a method that uses carbon dioxide miscible, hydrocarbon miscible, thermal or chemical processes but not including a secondary recovery method) that is designed to recover oil from an oil well in Canada that is incremental to oil that would be recovered therefrom by primary recovery and a secondary recovery method, if

(a) a specified royalty provision applies in the year or in the immediately following taxation year in respect of the production, if any, or any portion thereof from the project or in respect of the ownership of property to which such production relates,

(b) the project is on a reserve within the meaning of the Indian Act, or

(c) the project is located in the Province of Ontario;

Related Provisions: Reg. 1206(8) — Specified royalty provision; Reg. 1206(8.1) — Timing for para. (a).

History: "Qualified tertiary oil recovery project" was added by P.C. 1985-465, s. 7, February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985. The definition "qualified tertiary oil recovery project" (corrected by Canada Gazette, Part II, June 26, 1985, p. 2797) is applicable with respect to expenses incurred after 1980, except that for expenses incurred before 1982 the definition shall be read as follows:

> "qualified tertiary oil recovery project" in respect of an expense incurred in a taxation year means a project that uses a method (including a method that uses carbon dioxide miscible, hydrocarbon miscible, thermal or chemical processes but not including a secondary recovery method) that is designed to recover oil from an oil well in Canada that is incremental to oil that would be recovered therefrom by primary recovery and a secondary recovery method;

"resource" means any mineral resource in Canada;

"resource activity" of a taxpayer means

(a) the production by the taxpayer of petroleum, natural gas or related hydrocarbons or sulphur from

(i) an oil or gas well in Canada, or

(ii) a natural accumulation (other than a mineral resource) of petroleum or natural gas in Canada,

(b) the production and processing in Canada by the taxpayer or the processing in Canada by the taxpayer of

(i) ore (other than iron ore or tar sands ore) from a mineral resource in Canada to any stage that is not beyond the prime metal stage or its equivalent,

(ii) iron ore from a mineral resource in Canada to any stage that is not beyond the pellet stage or its equivalent, and

(iii) tar sands ore from a mineral resource in Canada to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent,

(c) the processing in Canada by the taxpayer of heavy crude oil recovered from an oil or gas well in Canada to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent,

(c.1) Canadian field processing carried on by the taxpayer,

(d) the processing in Canada by the taxpayer of

(i) ore (other than iron ore or tar sands ore) from a mineral resource outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the prime metal stage or its equivalent,

(ii) iron ore from a mineral resource outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the pellet stage or its equivalent, and

(iii) tar sands ore from a mineral resource outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent, or

(e) the ownership by the taxpayer of a right to a rental or royalty computed by reference to the amount or value of production from a natural accumulation of petroleum or natural gas in Canada, an oil or gas well in Canada or a mineral resource in Canada, and, for the purposes of this definition,

(f) the production of a substance by a taxpayer includes exploration and development activities of the taxpayer with respect to the substance, whether or not extraction of the substance has begun or will ever begin,

(g) the production or the processing, or the production and processing, of a substance by a taxpayer includes activities performed by the taxpayer that are ancillary to, or in support of, the production or the processing, or the production and processing, of that substance by the taxpayer,

(h) the production or processing of a substance by a taxpayer includes an activity (including the ownership of property) that is undertaken before the extraction of the substance and that is undertaken for the purpose of extracting or processing the substance,

(i) the production or the processing, or the production and processing, of a substance by a taxpayer includes activities that the taxpayer undertakes as a consequence of the production or the processing, or the production and processing, of that substance, whether or not the production, the processing or the production and processing of the substance has ceased, and

(j) notwithstanding paragraphs (a) to (i), the production, the processing or the production and processing of a substance does not include any activity of a taxpayer that is part of a source described in paragraph 1204(1)(b), where

(i) the activity

(A) is the transporting, transmitting or processing (other than processing described in subparagraph 1206(1)"resource activity"(b) (iii), paragraph 1206(1)"resource activity"(c) or (c.1) or subparagraph 1206(1)"resource activity"(d) (iii)) of petroleum, natural gas or related hydrocarbons or of sulphur, or

(B) can reasonably be attributed to a service rendered by the taxpayer, and

(ii) revenues derived from the activity are not taken into account in computing the taxpayer's gross resource profits;

History: The opening words of para. (a) and cl. (j)(i)(A) amended, and para. (c.1) added to the definition "resource activity" in subsec. 1206(1) by P.C. 1999-629, subsecs. 7(1) to (3), April 15, 1999, Canada Gazette, Part II, April 28, 1999, applicable to taxation years that begin after 1996.

(3.1) For the purposes of sections 1201 to 1203, 1205, 1217 and 1218, where a taxpayer was a member of a partnership at the end of a fiscal period of the partnership, the taxpayer shall be deemed to receive or to become entitled to receive any amount of assistance or benefit, whether such amount is by way of a grant, subsidy, rebate, forgivable loan, deduction from royalty or tax, rebate of royalty or tax, investment allowance or any other form of assistance or benefit, that the partnership at any time receives or becomes entitled to receive in respect of expenses incurred in that fiscal period of the partnership, to the extent of,

(a) where the partnership in the fiscal period receives or becomes entitled to receive the amount, the taxpayer's share thereof, or

(b) where the partnership after the fiscal period becomes entitled to receive the amount, what would have been the taxpayer's share thereof if the partnership had in the fiscal period received or become entitled to receive the amount, and the time at which the taxpayer is deemed to receive or become entitled to receive such share of the amount shall be the time that the partnership receives or becomes entitled to receive the amount.

History: That portion of subsec. 1206(3.1) preceding para. (a) substituted by P.C. 1988-1608, subsec. 1(1), August 11, 1988, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 31, 1988, applicable to 1985 et seq.

Subsec. 1206(3.1) added by P.C. 1985-465, subsec. 7(14), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable to fiscal periods ending after March 6, 1985.

(4) Where an expense incurred after November 7, 1969 that was a Canadian exploration and development expense or that would have been such an expense if it had been incurred after 1971 (other than an amount included therein that is in respect of financing or the cost of any Canadian resource property acquired by a joint exploration corporation or any property acquired by a joint exploration corporation that would have been a Canadian resource property if it had been acquired after 1971), a Canadian exploration expense (other than an amount included therein that is in respect of financing) or a Canadian development expense (other than an amount included therein that is in respect of financing or an amount referred to in subparagraph 66.2(5)(a)(iii) [66.2(5)"Canadian development expense"(e)] of the Act) has been renounced in favour of a taxpayer and was deemed to be an expense of the taxpayer for the purposes of subsection 66(10), (10.1) or (10.2) of the Act or subsection 29(7) of the Income Tax Application Rules, the expense shall,

(a) for the purposes of sections 1203 and 1205, be deemed to have been such an expense incurred by the taxpayer at the time the expense was incurred by the joint exploration corporation; and

(b) for the purposes of sections 1204 and 1210 and paragraphs 1217(2)(e) and 1218(2)(e), be deemed to have been such an expense incurred by the taxpayer at the time it was deemed to have been incurred by the taxpayer for the purposes of subsection 66(10), (10.1) or (10.2) of the Act or subsection 29(7) of the Income Tax Application Rules, as the case may be.

Para. 1206(4)(b) substituted by P.C. 1988-1608, subsec. 1(2), August 11, 1988, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 31, 1988, applicable to 1985 et seq.

Subsec. 1206(4) substituted by P.C. 1985-465, subsec. 7(15), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable with respect to expenses renounced after 1981.

(4.1) An expense that is a Canadian exploration and development overhead expense of the joint exploration corporation referred to in subsection (4), or would be such an expense if the references to "connected with the taxpayer" in paragraph (d) of the definition "Canadian exploration and development overhead expense" in subsection (1) were read as "connected with the shareholder corporation in favour of whom the expense was renounced for the purposes of subsection 66(10.1) or (10.2) of the Act", that may reasonably be considered to be included in a Canadian exploration expense or Canadian development expense that is deemed by subsection (4) to be a Canadian exploration expense or Canadian development expense of the shareholder corporation, shall be deemed to be a Canadian exploration and development overhead expense of the shareholder corporation incurred by it at the time the expense was deemed by subsection (4) to have been incurred by it and shall be deemed at and after that time not to be a Canadian exploration and development overhead expense incurred by the joint exploration corporation.

History: Subsec. 1206(4.1) added by P.C. 1985-465, subsec. 7(16), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable to expenses renounced after March 6, 1985.

(4.2) For the purposes of paragraphs 66(12.6)(b), (12.601)(d) and (12.62)(b) of the Act, a prescribed Canadian exploration and development overhead expense of a corporation is

(a) a Canadian exploration and development overhead expense of the corporation;

(b) an expense that would be a Canadian exploration and development overhead expense of the corporation if the references to "connected with the taxpayer" in paragraph (d) of the definition "Canadian exploration and development overhead expense" in subsection (1) were read as "connected with the person to whom the expense is renounced under subsection 66(12.6), (12.601) or (12.62) of the Act"; and

(c) an expense that would be a Canadian exploration and development overhead expense of the corporation if the references to "person who was connected with the taxpayer" in paragraph (d) of the definition "Canadian exploration and development overhead expense" in subsection (1) were read as "person to whom the expense is renounced under subsection 66(12.6), (12.601) or (12.62) of the Act".

History: Subsec. 1206(4.2) amended by P.C. 1996-494, s. 2, April 16, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 1, 1996, applicable in respect of expenses incurred after December 2, 1992.

Subsecs. 1206(4.2) added by P.C. 1990-2256, subsec. 4(3), October 18, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 7, 1990, applicable in respect of expenditures or expenses incurred after February 1986.

(4.3) For the purposes of subsections (4.2) and (5), a partnership shall be deemed to be a person and its taxation year shall be deemed to be its fiscal period.

History: Subsecs. 1206(4.3) added by P.C. 1990-2256, subsec. 4(3), October 18, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 7, 1990, applicable in respect of expenditures or expenses incurred after February 1986.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (6) and the definition "Canadian exploration and development overhead expense" in subsection (1),

(a) a person and a particular corporation are connected with each other if

(i) the person and the particular corporation are not dealing at arm's length,

(ii) the person has an equity percentage in the particular corporation that is not less than 10 per cent, or

(iii) the person is a corporation in which another person has an equity percentage that is not less than 10 per cent and the other person has an equity percentage in the particular corporation that is not less than 10 per cent;

(a.1) a person and another person that is not a corporation are connected with each other if they are not dealing at arm's length; and

(b) "costs incurred by a person" shall not include

(i) an outlay or expense described in any of paragraphs (a) to (c) of that definition made or incurred by the person if the references in those paragraphs to "taxpayer" were read as references to "person",

(ii) an outlay or expense made or incurred by the person to the extent that it is not reasonably attributable to the use of a property by, the performance of a service for, or any materials, parts, or supplies acquired by, the taxpayer referred to in that definition, and

(iii) an amount in respect of the capital cost to the person of a property, other than, where the property is a depreciable property of the person, that proportion of the capital allowance of the person for his taxation year in respect of the property that may reasonably be considered attributable to the use of the property by, or in the performance of a service for, the taxpayer referred to in that definition.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1206(7) — Equity percentage.

History: Para. 1206(5)(a.1) added by P.C. 1990-2256, subsec. 4(4), October 18, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 7, 1990, applicable in respect of expenditures or expenses incurred after February 1986.

Subpara. 1206(5)(b)(iii) substituted by P.C. 1985-465, subsec. 7(17), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, effective commencing January 1, 1981.

Subsec. 1206(5) added by P.C. 1981-3329, subsec. 7(7), November 26, 1981, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 9, 1981, effective commencing January 1, 1981.

(6) For the purpose of subparagraph (5)(b)(iii), the "capital allowance" of a person (in this subsection referred to as the "owner") for his taxation year in respect of a property owned by him means that proportion of an amount not exceeding 20 per cent of the amount that is

(a) in the case of a property owned by the owner on December 31, 1980, the lesser of

(i) the capital cost of the property to the owner computed as if no amount had been included therein that is a cost of borrowing capital, including any cost incurred prior to the commencement of carrying on a business, and

(ii) the fair market value of the property on December 31, 1980,

(b) in the case of a property acquired by the owner after December 31, 1980 that was previously owned by a person connected with the owner, the lesser of

(i) the capital cost of the property, computed as if no amount had been included therein that is a cost of borrowing capital, including any cost incurred prior to the commencement of carrying on a business, to the person, who was connected with the owner, who was the first person to acquire the property from a person with whom the owner was not connected, and

(ii) the fair market value of the property at the time it was acquired by the owner, and

(c) in any other case, the capital cost of the property to the owner computed as if no amount had been included therein that is a cost of borrowing capital, including any cost incurred prior to the commencement of carrying on a business, that the number of days in the taxation year during which the property was owned by the owner is of 365.

(7) For the purposes of paragraph (5)(a), "equity percentage" has the meaning assigned by paragraph 95(4)(b) [95(4)"equity percentage"] of the Act.

History: Subsecs. 1206(6), (7) added by P.C. 1981-3329, subsec. 7(7), November 26, 1981, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 9, 1981, effective commencing January 1, 1981.

(8) For the purposes of the definition "qualified tertiary oil recovery project" in subsection (1), a "specified royalty provision" means:

(a) the Experimental Project Petroleum Royalty Regulation of Alberta (Alta. Reg. 36/79);

1207. Frontier exploration allowances — (1) [Deduction allowed] — A taxpayer may deduct in computing his income for a taxation year such amount as he may claim not exceeding the lesser of

(a) his income for the year, computed in accordance with Part I of the Act, if no deduction were allowed under this subsection; and

(b) his frontier exploration base as of the end of the year (before making any deduction under this subsection for the year).

(2) ["Frontier exploration base"] — For the purposes of this section, the "frontier exploration base" of a taxpayer as of a particular time means the amount by which the aggregate of

(a) the aggregate of all amounts, each of which is an amount in respect of a particular oil or gas well in Canada equal to 66⅔ per cent of the amount by which

(i) expenses incurred after March, 1977 and before April, 1980 and before the particular time in respect of the well (other than expenses that may reasonably be regarded as having been incurred as consideration for services rendered to the taxpayer after March, 1980) if those expenses would be included in the Canadian exploration expense of the taxpayer within the meaning of paragraph 66.1(6)(a) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"] of the Act (if that paragraph were read without reference to subparagraphs (iii) and (iii.1) [paras. (f) and (g)] thereof and without reference to the words "within six months after the end of the year, the drilling of the well is completed and" in subparagraph (ii) [para. (c)] thereof, and if the reference in subparagraphs (iv) and (v) [paras. (h) and (i)] thereof to "any of subparagraphs (i) to (iii.1) [paras. (a) to (g)]" were read as a reference to "subparagraph (i) or (ii) [para. (a) or (c)]") other than

(A) a cost of borrowing capital, including any cost incurred prior to the commencement of carrying on a business, that was a Canadian exploration expense of the taxpayer,

(B) an expense renounced by the taxpayer under subsection 66(10.1) of the Act,

(C) an amount that, by virtue of subparagraph 66.1(6)(a)(iv) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(h)] of the Act, was a Canadian exploration expense, if such amount was an expense referred to in clause (A) or (B) that was incurred by a partnership referred to in that subparagraph, or

(D) an amount that, by virtue of subparagraph 66.1(6)(a)(v) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(i)] of the Act, was a Canadian exploration expense, if such amount was an expense referred to in clause (A) or (B) that the taxpayer incurred pursuant to an agreement referred to in that subparagraph,

exceeds

(ii) the taxpayer's threshold amount in respect of the well, minus the amount that would be determined under subparagraph (i) in respect of the taxpayer for the well if the reference therein to "after March, 1977 and before April, 1980" were read as "after June, 1976 and before April, 1977", and

(a.1) where the taxpayer is a successor corporation, any amount required by paragraph (7)(a) to be added before the particular time in computing the taxpayer's frontier exploration base,

(b) all amounts deducted by the taxpayer under subsection (1) in computing his income for taxation years ending before the particular time,

(c) 66⅔ per cent of the aggregate of all amounts, each of which is an amount that became receivable by the taxpayer after March 28, 1979 and before the earlier of December 12, 1979 and the particular time, and in respect of which the consideration given by the taxpayer therefor was a property (other than a share, or a property that would have been a Canadian resource property if it had been acquired by the taxpayer at the time the consideration was given) or services the cost of which may reasonably be regarded as having been primarily an expenditure in respect of an oil or gas well for which an amount was added in computing the taxpayer's frontier exploration base by virtue of paragraph (a) or in computing the frontier exploration base of a predecessor by virtue of paragraph (a) as it applied to the predecessor where the taxpayer is a successor corporation to the predecessor, as the case may be; and

(d) where the taxpayer is a predecessor, any amount required by paragraph (7)(b) to be deducted before the particular time in computing the taxpayer's frontier exploration base.

History: Cl. 1207(2)(a)(i)(A), para. 1207(2)(c) substituted by P.C. 1981-3329, s. 8, November 26, 1981, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 9, 1981, para. 1207(2)(c) effective commencing December 12, 1979.

All that portion of subpara. 1207(2)(a)(i) preceding cl. (A), and cl. 1207(2)(a)(i)(C) substituted by P.C. 1980-1483, subsec. 5(1), June 5, 1980, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 25, 1980, effective December 6, 1979.

That portion of subsec. 1207(2) preceding para. (a) and that portion following para. (a) substituted by subsecs. 6(1), (2) of P.C. 1979-649, March 8, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 28, 1979.

(3) ["Threshold amount"] — For the purposes of subparagraph (2)(a)(ii), a taxpayer's "threshold amount" in respect of an oil or gas well means

(a) where the taxpayer and one or more other persons have filed an agreement with the Minister in prescribed form in respect of the well and

(i) the amount allocated to each such person in the agreement does not exceed the amount that would be determined, at the time the agreement is filed, under subparagraph (2)(a)(i) in respect of that person for the well, if the reference in that subparagraph to "March, 1977" were read as "June, 1976", and

(ii) the aggregate of the amounts allocated by the agreement is $5 million,

the amount allocated to the taxpayer in the agreement, but if no amount is allocated to the taxpayer in the agreement, nil;

(b) where such an agreement has been filed in respect of the well by one or more persons other than the taxpayer, nil; or

(c) where no such agreement has been filed in respect of the well, $5 million.

(4) [Substitute well] — Where as a result of mechanical or geological difficulties the drilling of a particular oil or gas well does not achieve its stated geological objectives under the drilling authority issued by the relevant government body and a further well, including a relief well, is drilled on the same geological formation and may reasonably be regarded as a continuation of or a substitution for the particular oil or gas well, the expenses in respect of the drilling of the further well shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be expenses in respect of the drilling of the particular oil or gas well.

(5) [Look-through rules] — For the purposes of this section,

(a) when a shareholder corporation is deemed to have incurred a Canadian exploration expense by virtue of an election made by a joint exploration corporation pursuant to subsection 66(10.1) of the Act, that expense shall be deemed to have been incurred by the shareholder corporation at the time when it was incurred by the joint exploration corporation; and

(b) when a member of a partnership is deemed to have incurred a Canadian exploration expense by virtue of subparagraph 66.1(6)(a)(iv) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(h)] of the Act, that expense shall be deemed to have been incurred by the member at the time when it was incurred by the partnership.

(7) [Successor rules] — Subject to subsections 1202(5) and (6), where a corporation (in this section referred to as the "successor corporation") has at any time (in this subsection referred to as the "time of acquisition") after April 19, 1983 and in a taxation year (in this subsection referred to as the "transaction year") acquired a property from another person (in this subsection referred to as the "predecessor"), the following rules apply:

(a) for the purpose of computing the frontier exploration base of the successor corporation as of any time after the time of acquisition, there shall be added an amount equal to the amount required by paragraph (b) to be deducted in computing the frontier exploration base of the predecessor; and

(b) for the purpose of computing the frontier exploration base of the predecessor as of any time after the transaction year of the predecessor, there shall be deducted the amount, if any, by which

(i) the frontier exploration base of the predecessor immediately before the time of acquisition (assuming for this purpose that, in the case of an acquisition as a result of an amalgamation described in section 87 of the Act, the predecessor existed after the time of acquisition and no property was acquired or disposed of in the course of the amalgamation)

exceeds

(ii) the amount, if any, deducted under subsection (1) in computing the income of the predecessor for the transaction year of the predecessor.

1208. Additional allowances in respect of certain oil or gas wells — (1) Subject to subsections (3) and (4) where a taxpayer has income for a taxation year from an oil or gas well that is outside Canada, or where an individual has income for a taxation year from an oil or gas well in Canada, in computing his income for the year he may deduct the lesser of

(a) the aggregate of drilling costs incurred by him in that year and previous taxation years in respect of the well (not including the cost of land, leases or other rights and not including indirect expenses such as general exploration, geological and geophysical expenses) minus the aggregate of all amounts deductible in respect thereof in computing his income for previous years; and

(b) that part of his income for the year that may reasonably be regarded as income from the well.

(2) Where a taxpayer has more than one oil or gas well to which subsection (1) applies, the allowance in respect of the drilling costs of each well shall be computed separately.

(3) Where an individual has income for a taxation year from an oil or gas well in Canada, no deduction may be made under this section in computing such income in respect of drilling costs of that well incurred after April 10, 1962.

(4) Where a taxpayer has income for a taxation year from an oil or gas well that is outside Canada, no deduction may be made under this section in computing such income in respect of drilling costs of that well incurred after 1971.

1209. Additional allowances in respect of certain mines — (1) Subject to subsection (3), where a taxpayer operates in Canada a mine for the production of materials from a resource he may deduct, in computing his income for a taxation year, such amount as he may claim not exceeding 25 per cent of the amount computed under subsection (2).

(2) The amount referred to in subsection (1) is the aggregate of all expenditures made or incurred by the taxpayer before 1972 that are reasonably attributable to the prospecting and exploration for and the development of the mine prior to the coming into production of the mine in reasonable commercial quantities, except to the extent that the expenditures were

(a) expenditures in respect of which a deduction from, or in computing, a taxpayer's income tax or excess profits tax was provided by section 8 of the Income War Tax Act;

(b) expenditures in respect of which an amount was deducted in computing a taxpayer's income under section 16 of chapter 63, S.C., 1947 or section 16 of chapter 53, S.C., 1947-48 or, if the expenditure was incurred prior to 1953, under section 53 of chapter 25, S.C., 1949 (Second Session);

(c) expenditures incurred after 1952 in respect of which a deduction was or is provided by section 53 of chapter 25, S.C., 1949, (Second Session), section 83A of the Act as it read in its application to the 1971 taxation year or section 29 of the Income Tax Application Rules;

(d) expenditures deducted in computing the income of the taxpayer in the year they were incurred;

(e) the cost to the taxpayer of property in respect of which an allowance is provided under paragraph 20(1)(a) of the Act; or

(f) the cost to the taxpayer of a leasehold interest.

(3) The amount deductible under subsection (1) shall not exceed the amount computed under subsection (2) minus the aggregate of

(a) amounts deducted under subsection (1) in computing the income of the taxpayer for previous taxation years; and

(b) similar amounts deducted in computing the income of the taxpayer for the purposes of the Income War Tax Act and The 1948 Income Tax Act (as defined in paragraph 12(d) of the Income Tax Application Rules).

1212. Supplementary depletion allowances — (1) In computing a taxpayer's income for a taxation year there may be deducted

(a) where the taxpayer is a corporation, such amount as it may claim not exceeding the lesser of

(i) the aggregate of

(A) 50 per cent of its income for the year, computed in accordance with Part I of the Act without reference to paragraphs 59(3.3)(c) and (d) thereof, if no deduction were allowed under this subsection or subsection 1207(1), and

(B) the amount, if any, included in its income for the year by virtue of paragraphs 59(3.3)(c) and (d) of the Act, and

(ii) its supplementary depletion base as of the end of the year (before making any deduction under this subsection for the year); and

(b) where the taxpayer is not a corporation, such amount as he may claim not exceeding the lesser of

(i) the aggregate of

(A) 25 per cent of the amount, if any, by which his resource profits for the year exceed four times the amount, if any, deducted by virtue of subparagraph 1201(a)(i) in computing his income for the year, and

(B) the amount, if any, included in his income for the year by virtue of paragraphs 59(3.3)(c) and (d) of the Act, and

(ii) his supplementary depletion base as of the end of the year (before making any deduction under this subsection for the year).

History: Subparas. 1212(1)(a)(i), (b)(i) substituted by P.C. 1981-3329, subsecs. 11(1), (2), November 26, 1981, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 9, 1981.

(2) For the purpose of computing the supplementary depletion base of a corporation, where, after the corporation last ceased to carry on active business, control of the corporation is considered, for the purposes of subsection 66(11) of the Act, to have been acquired by a person or persons who did not control the corporation at the time when it so ceased to carry on active business, the amount by which the supplementary depletion base of the corporation at the time it last ceased to carry on active business exceeds the aggregate of amounts otherwise deducted under subsection (1) in computing its income for taxation years ending after that time and before control was so acquired, shall be deemed to have been deducted under subsection (1) by the corporation in computing its income for taxation years ending before control was so acquired.

(3) For the purposes of this section, "supplementary depletion base" of a taxpayer as of a particular time means the amount by which the aggregate of

(a) 50 per cent of the aggregate of all expenditures each of which was incurred by him before the particular time and each of which was the capital cost to him of property that is enhanced recovery equipment,

(b) 33⅓ per cent of the aggregate of all expenditures each of which was incurred by him before the particular time and each of which was the capital cost to him of property (other than property that had, before it was acquired by him, been used for any purpose whatever by any person with whom he was not dealing at arm's length) that is bituminous sands equipment acquired by him before 1981, and

(c) where the taxpayer is a successor corporation, any amount required by paragraph (4)(a) to be added before the particular time in computing the taxpayer's supplementary depletion base,

exceeds the aggregate of

(d) all amounts deducted by the taxpayer under subsection (1) in computing his income for taxation years ending before the particular time;

(e) 50 per cent of the aggregate of all amounts, each of which is a cost of borrowing capital, including any cost incurred prior to the commencement of carrying on a business, included in the capital cost to him of depreciable property described in paragraph (a);

(f) 33⅓ per cent of the aggregate of all amounts, each of which is a cost of borrowing capital, including any cost incurred prior to the commencement of carrying on a business, included in the capital cost to him of depreciable property described in paragraph (b);

(g) 50 per cent of the aggregate of all amounts, each of which is an amount in respect of a disposition of property (other than a disposition of property, that had been used by the taxpayer, to any person with whom the taxpayer was not dealing at arm's length) of the taxpayer before the earlier of December 12, 1979 and the particular time, the capital cost of which was added in computing the taxpayer's supplementary depletion base by virtue of paragraph (a) or in computing the supplementary depletion base of a predecessor by virtue of paragraph (a) as it applied to the predecessor where the taxpayer is a successor corporation to the predecessor, as the case may be, and each of which is the amount that is equal to the lesser of

(i) the proceeds of disposition of the property, and

(ii) the capital cost of the property to the taxpayer or the predecessor, as the case may be, computed as if no amount had been included therein that is a cost of borrowing capital, including a cost incurred prior to the commencement of carrying on a business;

(h) 33⅓ per cent of the aggregate of all amounts, each of which is an amount in respect of a disposition of property (other than a disposition of property, that had been used by the taxpayer, to any person with whom the taxpayer was not dealing at arm's length) of the taxpayer before the earlier of December 12, 1979 and the particular time, the capital cost of which was added in computing the taxpayer's supplementary depletion base by virtue of paragraph (b) or in computing the supplementary depletion base of a predecessor by virtue of paragraph (b) as it applied to the predecessor where the taxpayer is a successor corporation to the predecessor, as the case may be, and each of which is the amount that is equal to the lesser of

(i) the proceeds of disposition of the property, and

(ii) the capital cost of the property to the taxpayer or the predecessor, as the case may be, computed as if no amount had been included therein that is a cost of borrowing capital, including any cost incurred prior to the commencement of carrying on a business; and

(i) where the taxpayer is a predecessor, any amount required by paragraph (4)(b) to be deducted before the particular time in computing the taxpayer's supplementary depletion base.

History: Para. 1212(3)(b) substituted by P.C. 1985-465, s. 11, February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable to 1984 et seq.

Paras. 1212(3)(b), (e)–(h) substituted by P.C. 1981-3329, subsecs. 11(3), (4), November 26, 1981, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 9, 1981, effective, as to para. 1212(3)(b), commencing January 1, 1981, and, as to those portions of paras. 1212(3)(g) and (h) preceding subparas. (i) thereof, commencing December 12, 1979.

Paras. 1212(3)(a), (b), (g), (h) substituted by P.C. 1980-1483, s. 6, June 5, 1980, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 25, 1980.

(4) Subject to subsections 1202(5) and (6), where a corporation (in this section referred to as the "successor corporation") has at any time (in this subsection referred to as the "time of acquisition") after April 19, 1983 and in a taxation year (in this subsection referred to as the "transaction year") acquired a property from another person (in this subsection referred to as the "predecessor"), the following rules apply:

(a) for the purpose of computing the supplementary depletion base of the successor corporation as of any time after the time of acquisition, there shall be added an amount equal to the amount required by paragraph (b) to be deducted in computing the supplementary depletion base of the predecessor; and

(b) for the purpose of computing the supplementary depletion base of the predecessor as of any time after the transaction year of the predecessor, there shall be deducted the amount, if any, by which

(i) the supplementary depletion base of the predecessor immediately after the time of acquisition (assuming for this purpose that, in the case of an acquisition as a result of an amalgamation described in section 87 of the Act, the predecessor existed after the time of acquisition and no property was acquired or disposed of in the course of the amalgamation)

exceeds

(ii) the amount, if any, deducted under subsection (1) in computing the income of the predecessor for the transaction year of the predecessor.

1217. Prescribed Canadian exploration expense — (1) For the purposes of subsection 66(14.1) of the Act, the prescribed Canadian exploration expense of a corporation for a taxation year is the amount, if any, by which its total specified exploration expenses for the year exceed its total exploration assistance for the year.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), the total specified exploration expenses of a particular corporation for a particular taxation year are the aggregate of

(a) all expenses (other than expenses referred to in paragraph (b) or (c)) that are described in any of subparagraphs 66.1(6)(a)(i) to (ii) of the Act and that were incurred by the particular corporation in the particular year and after March 1985 and before October 1986,

(b) where the particular corporation is a shareholder corporation of a joint exploration corporation, all expenses described in any of subparagraphs 66.1(6)(a)(i) to (ii) of the Act that were incurred by the joint exploration corporation after March 1985 and before October 1986 and in the taxation year of the joint exploration corporation ending in the particular year and that were deemed under paragraph 66(10.1)(c) of the Act to be Canadian exploration expenses incurred by the particular corporation in the particular year, and

(c) all expenses that would be described in subparagraph 66.1(6)(a)(iv) or (v) of the Act if the references in those subparagraphs to "any of subparagraphs (i) to (iii.1) incurred" were read as "any of subparagraphs (i) to (ii) incurred after March 1985 and before October 1986" and that were incurred by the particular corporation in the particular year or by a partnership in a fiscal period of the partnership that ended in the particular year if, at the end of that fiscal period, the particular corporation was a member of the partnership

other than

(e) Canadian exploration and development overhead expenses of the corporation or of a partnership of which the corporation was a member, or

(3) For the purposes of subsection (1), the total exploration assistance of a corporation for a taxation year is the aggregate of all amounts each of which is an amount of assistance or benefit that the corporation has received or is entitled to receive in the year from a government, municipality or other public authority in respect of an expense that is included in its total specified exploration expenses for the year by virtue of paragraph (2)(a) or (c), whether such amount is by way of a grant, subsidy, rebate, forgivable loan, deduction from royalty or tax, rebate of royalty or tax, investment allowance or any other form of assistance or benefit.

1218. Prescribed Canadian development expense — (1) For the purposes of subsection 66(14.2) of the Act, prescribed Canadian development expense of a corporation for a taxation year is the amount, if any, by which its total specified development expenses for the year exceed its total development assistance for the year.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), the total specified development expenses of a particular corporation for a particular taxation year is the aggregate of

(a) all expenses (other than expenses referred to in paragraph (b) or (c)) that are described in subparagraph 66.2(5)(a)(i) or (i.1) [66.2(5)"Canadian development expense"(a) or (b)] of the Act and that were incurred by the corporation in the particular year and after March 1985 and before October 1986,

(b) where the particular corporation is a shareholder corporation of a joint exploration corporation, all expenses that are described in subparagraph 66.2(5)(a)(i) or (i.1) [66.2(5)"Canadian development expense"(a) or (b)] of the Act, that were incurred by the joint exploration corporation after March 1985 and before October 1986 and in the taxation year of the joint exploration corporation ending in the particular year and that were deemed under paragraph 66(10.2)(c) of the Act to be Canadian development expenses incurred by the particular corporation in the particular year, and

(c) all expenses that would be described in subparagraph 66.2(5)(a)(iv) or (v) [66.2(5)"Canadian development expense"(f) or (g)] of the Act if the references in those subparagraphs to "any of subparagraphs (i) to (iii) incurred" were read as "subparagraph (i) or (i.1) incurred after March 1985 and before October 1986" and that were incurred by the particular corporation in the particular year or by a partnership in a fiscal period of the partnership that ended in the particular year if, at the end of that fiscal period, the particular corporation was a member of the partnership,

(d) expenses renounced by the corporation at any time under subsection 66(10.2), (12.601) or (12.62) of the Act,

(e) Canadian exploration and development overhead expenses of the corporation or of a partnership of which the corporation was a member, or

(3) For the purposes of subsection (1), the total development assistance of a corporation for a taxation year is the aggregate of all amounts each of which is an amount of assistance or benefit that the corporation has received or is entitled to receive in the year from a government, municipality or other public authority in respect of an expense that is included in its total specified development expenses for the year by virtue of paragraph (2)(a) or (c), whether such amount is by way of a grant, subsidy, rebate, forgivable loan, deduction from royalty or tax, rebate of royalty or tax, investment allowance or any other form of assistance or benefit.

1219. Canadian renewable and conservation expense — (1) [Definition] — Subject to subsections (2) to (4), for the purpose of subsection 66.1(6) of the Act, "Canadian renewable and conservation expense" means an expense incurred by a taxpayer, and payable to a person or partnership with whom the taxpayer is dealing at arm's length, in respect of the development of a project for which it is reasonable to expect that at least 50% of the capital cost of the depreciable property to be used in the project would be the capital cost of any property that is included in Class 43.1 or 43.2 in Schedule II, or that would be so included if this Part were read without reference to this section, and includes such an expense incurred by the taxpayer

(a) for the purpose of making a service connection to the project for the transmission of electricity to a purchaser of the electricity, to the extent that the expense so incurred was not incurred to acquire property of the taxpayer;

(b) for the construction of a temporary access road to the project site;

(c) for a right of access to the project site before the earliest time at which a property described in Class 43.1 or 43.2 in Schedule II is used in the project for the purpose of earning income;

(d) for clearing land to the extent necessary to complete the project;

(e) for process engineering for the project, including

(i) collection and analysis of site data,

(ii) calculation of energy, mass, water, or air balances,

(iii) simulation and analysis of the performance and cost of process design options, and

(iv) selection of the optimum process design;

(f) for the drilling or completion of a well for the project; or

(g) for a test wind turbine that is part of a wind farm project of the taxpayer.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1219(4) — Whether CRCE for wind energy conversion system.

(2) [Exclusions] — A Canadian renewable and conservation expense does not include any expense that

(a) is described in paragraphs 20(1)(c), (d), (e) or (e.1) of the Act; or

(b) is incurred by a taxpayer directly or indirectly and is

(i) for the acquisition of, or the use of or the right to use, land, except as provided by paragraph (1)(b), (c) or (d),

(ii) for grading or levelling land or for landscaping, except as provided by paragraph (1)(b),

(iii) payable to a non-resident person or a partnership other than a Canadian partnership (other than an expense described in paragraph (1)(g)),

(iv) included in the capital cost of property that, but for this section, would be depreciable property, except as provided by paragraph (1)(b), (d), (e), (f) or (g),

(v) an expenditure that, but for this section, would be an eligible capital expenditure, except as provided by any of paragraphs (1)(a) to (e),

(vi) included in the cost of inventory of the taxpayer,

(vii) an expenditure on or in respect of scientific research and experimental development,

(viii) a Canadian development expense or a Canadian oil and gas property expense,

(ix) incurred, for a project, in respect of any time at or after the earliest time at which a property described in Class 43.1 or 43.2 in Schedule II was used in the project for the purpose of earning income,

(x) incurred in respect of the administration or management of a business of the taxpayer, or

(xi) a cost attributable to the period of the construction, renovation or alteration of depreciable property, other than property described in Class 43.1 or 43.2 in Schedule II, that relates to

(A) the construction, renovation or alteration of the property, except as provided by paragraph (1)(b), (f), or (g), or

(B) the ownership of land during the period, except as provided by paragraph (1)(b), (c) or (d).

(3) ["Test wind turbine"] — For the purpose of paragraph (1)(g), "test wind turbine" means a fixed location device that is a wind energy conversion system that would, if this Part were read without reference to this section, be property included in Class 43.1 in Schedule II because of subparagraph (d)(v) of that Class, or in Class 43.2 in Schedule II because of paragraph (b) of that Class, in respect of which the Minister, in consultation with the Minister of Natural Resources, determines that

(a) the device is installed as part of a wind farm project of the taxpayer at which the electrical energy produced from wind by the device, and by all other test wind turbines that are part of the project, does not exceed

(i) one third of the project's planned nameplate capacity if

(A) the Minister of Natural Resources determines that the project's planned nameplate capacity is limited from an engineering or scientific perspective, and

(B) the project's planned nameplate capacity does not exceed six megawatts, or

(ii) 20% of the project's planned nameplate capacity, in any other case;

(b) the project does not share with any other project a point of interconnection to an electrical energy transmission or distribution system;

(c) if the project does not have a point of interconnection to an electrical energy transmission or distribution system, the project has a point of interconnection to an electrical system

(i) of the taxpayer

(A) which system is more than 10 kilometres from any transmission system and from any distribution system, and

(B) from which system at least 90% of the electrical energy produced by the project is used in a business carried on by the taxpayer, or

(ii) of another person or partnership that deals at arm's length with the taxpayer

(A) which system is more than 10 kilometres from any transmission system and from any distribution system, and

(B) from which system at least 90% of the electrical energy produced by the project is used in a business carried on by the other person or partnership;

(d) the primary purpose for installing the device is to test the level of electrical energy produced by the device from wind at the place of installation;

(e) no other test wind turbine is installed within 1500 metres of the device; and

(f) no other wind energy conversion system is installed within 1500 metres of the device until the level of electrical energy produced from wind by the device has been tested for at least 120 calendar days.

(4) [Wind energy conversion system] — For greater certainty, a Canadian Renewable and Conservation Expense includes an expense incurred by a taxpayer to acquire a fixed location device that is a wind energy conversion system only if the device is described in paragraph (1)(g).

Related Provisions [Reg. 1219]: Reg. 1102(1)(a.1) — CRCE ineligible for capital cost allowance.

PART XIV — INSURANCE BUSINESS POLICY RESERVES

DIVISION 1 — POLICY RESERVES

History: The heading to Part XIV amended by P.C. 1999-1154, subsec. 2(1), June 23, 1999, Canada Gazette, Part II, July 7, 1999, applicable to 1996 et seq.

Part XIV was substituted by P.C. 1979-1486, May 17, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 13, 1979, applicable, as to ss. 1400–1404 to 1978 et seq.

1400. Non-life insurance business — (1) [Policy reserve] — For the purpose of paragraph 20(7)(c) of the Act, the amount prescribed in respect of an insurer for a taxation year is

(a) the amount determined under subsection (3) in respect of the insurer for the year, where that amount is greater than nil, and

(b) nil, in any other case.

(2) [Negative reserves] — For the purpose of paragraph 12(1)(e.1) of the Act, the amount prescribed in respect of an insurer for a taxation year is

(a) the absolute value of the amount determined under subsection (3) in respect of the insurer for the year, where that amount is less than nil, and

(b) nil, in any other case.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1402.1 — Negative amounts.

(3) [Amount of reserve] — For the purposes of paragraphs (1)(a) and (2)(a), the amount determined under this subsection in respect of an insurer for a taxation year is the amount, which may be positive or negative, determined by the formula

$$A + B + C + D + E + F + G + H + I + J + K + L$$

where

A is the total of all amounts each of which is the unearned portion at the end of the year of the premium paid by the policyholder for a policy, (other than a policy that insures a risk in respect of

(a) a financial loss of a lender on a loan made on the security of real property,

(b) a home warranty,

(c) a lease guarantee, or

(d) an extended motor vehicle warranty), which is determined by apportioning the premium equally over the period to which that premium relates;

B is the total of all amounts each of which is an amount determined in respect of a policy referred to in paragraph (a), (b), (c) or (d) of the description of A equal to the lesser of

(a) the amount of the reported reserve of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of the unearned portion at the end of the year of the premium paid by the policyholder for the policy, and

(b) a reasonable amount as a reserve determined as at the end of the year in respect of the unearned portion at the end of the year of the premium paid by the policyholder for the policy;

C is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount in respect of a policy, where all or a portion of a risk under the policy was reinsured, equal to the unearned portion at the end of the year of a reinsurance commission in respect of the policy determined by apportioning the reinsurance commission equally over the period to which it relates;

D is the amount, in respect of policies (other than policies in respect of which an amount can be determined under the description of E) under which

(a) a claim that was incurred before the end of the year has been reported to the insurer before the end of the year and in respect of which the insurer is, or may be, required to make a payment or incur an expense after the year, or

(b) there may be a claim incurred before the end of the year that has not been reported to the insurer before the end of the year,

equal to 95% of the lesser of

(c) the total of the reported reserves of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of such claims or possible claims, and

(d) the total of the claim liabilities of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of such claims or possible claims;

E is the amount, in respect of policies under which

(a) a claim that was incurred before the end of the year has been reported to the insurer before the end of the year,

(b) the claim is in respect of damages for personal injury or death, and

(c) the insurer has agreed to a structured settlement of the claim, equal to the lesser of

(d) the total of the reported reserves of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of such claims, and

(e) the total of the claim liabilities of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of such claims;

F is an additional amount, in respect of policies that insure a fidelity risk, a surety risk, a nuclear risk, or a risk related to a financial loss of a lender on a loan made on the security of real property, equal to the lesser of

(a) the total of the reported reserves of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of such risks (other than an amount included in determining the value of A, B, C, D, E, G, H, I, J, K or L), and

(b) a reasonable amount as a reserve determined as at the end of the year in respect of such risks (other than an amount included in determining the value of A, B, C, D, E, G, H, I, J, K or L);

G is the amount of a guarantee fund at the end of the year provided for under an agreement in writing between the insurer and Her Majesty in right of Canada under which Her Majesty has agreed to guarantee the obligations of the insurer under a policy that insures a risk related to a financial loss of a lender on a loan made on the security of real property;

H is the amount in respect of risks under pre-1996 non-cancellable or guaranteed renewable accident and sickness policies equal to

(a) where the amounts determined under subparagraphs (i) and (ii) are greater than nil, the lesser of

(i) the total of the reported reserves of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of such risks (other than an amount included in determining the value of A, B, C, D, E, F, G, I, J, K or L), and

(ii) a reasonable amount as a reserve determined as at the end of the year in respect of such risks (other than an amount included in determining the value of A, B, C, D, E, F, G, I, J, K or L), and

(b) nil, in any other case;

I is the amount in respect of risks under post-1995 non-cancellable or guaranteed renewable accident and sickness policies equal to the lesser of

(a) the total of the reported reserves of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of such risks (other than an amount included in determining the value of A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, J, K or L), and

(b) the total of the policy liabilities of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of such risks (other than an amount included in determining the value of A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, J, K or L);

J is the total of all amounts (other than an amount deductible under subsection 140(1) of the Act) each of which is the amount, which is the least of P, Q and R, in respect of a dividend, refund of premiums or refund of premium deposits provided for under the terms of a group accident and sickness insurance policy that will be

(a) used by the insurer to reduce or eliminate a future adverse claims experience under the policy,

(b) paid or unconditionally credited to the policyholder by the insurer, or

(c) applied in discharge, in whole or in part, of a liability of the policyholder to pay premiums to the insurer under the policy,

where

P is a reasonable amount as a reserve determined as at the end of the year in respect of the dividend, refund of premiums or refund of premium deposits,

Q is 25% of the amount of the premium payable under the terms of the policy for the 12-month period ending

(i) if the policy is terminated in the year, on the day the policy is terminated, and

(ii) in any other case, at the end of the year, and

R is the reported reserve of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of the dividend, refund of premiums or refund of premium deposits; and

K is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, in respect of a policy under which a portion of the particular amount paid or payable by the policyholder for the policy before the end of the year is deducted under paragraph 1408(4)(b), equal to the portion of that particular amount that the insurer has determined will, after the end of the year, be returned to, or credited to the account of the policyholder on the termination of the policy; and

L is an amount in respect of policies that insure earthquake risks in Canada equal to the lesser of

(a) the portion of the reported reserve of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of those risks that is attributable to accumulations from premiums in respect of those risks (other than an amount included in determining the value of A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, or K), and

(b) a reasonable amount as a reserve determined as at the end of the year in respect of those risks (other than an amount included in determining the value of A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, or K).

DIVISION 2 — POLICY RESERVES FOR PRE-1996 POLICIES

Proposed Amendment — Heading before Reg. 1401

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), s. 98, will amend the heading before s. 1401 to read "Amounts Determined", applicable to taxation years that begin after September 2006.

1401. Life insurance businesses — (1) [Policy reserves] — For the purpose of subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act, in computing a life insurer's income for a taxation year from carrying on its life insurance business in Canada, there may be deducted in respect of

(a) deposit administration fund policies, such amount as the insurer may claim that is a reasonable amount in respect of the aggregate of the insurer's liabilities under the policies as at the end of the year and does not exceed the aggregate of the insurer's liabilities under those policies calculated in the manner required for the purposes of the insurer's annual report to the relevant authority for the year or, where the insurer was throughout the year subject to the supervision of the relevant authority but was not required to file an annual report with the relevant authority for the year, in its financial statements for the year;

(b) a group term life insurance policy that provides coverage for a period not exceeding 12 months, such amount as the insurer may claim not exceeding the unearned portion of the premium paid by the policyholder for the policy at the end of the year determined by apportioning the premium paid by the policyholder equally over the period to which that premium pertains;

(c) a life insurance policy, other than a policy referred to in paragraph (a) or (b), such amount as the insurer may claim not exceeding the greater of

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 1401(1) before (c)(i)

(1) For the purposes of section 307 of the Regulations and subsection 211.1(3) of the Act, the amounts determined under this subsection are,

(a) in respect of deposit administration fund policies, the aggregate of the insurer's liabilities under those policies calculated in the manner required for the purposes of the insurer's annual report to the relevant authority for the year or, where the insurer was throughout the year subject to the supervision of the relevant authority but was not required to file an annual report with the relevant authority for the year, in its financial statements for the year;

(b) in respect of a group term life insurance policy that provides coverage for a period not exceeding 12 months, the unearned portion of the premium paid by the policyholder for the policy at the end of the year determined by apportioning the premium paid by the policyholder equally over the period to which that premium pertains;

(c) in respect of a life insurance policy, other than a policy referred to in paragraph (a) or (b), the greater of

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 99(1), will amend the portion of subsec. 1401(1) before subpara. (c)(i) to read as above, applicable to taxation years that begin after September 2006.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): Section 1401 establishes the amount that a life insurer is permitted to deduct as a policy reserve under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) in respect of its pre-1996 life insurance policies.

The preamble of section 1401 is amended by deleting the references to subsection 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act. For the purposes of calculating a life insurer's pre-1996 life insurance policy reserves, policies that were previously considered to be "pre-1996 life insurance policies" will now be subject to the same policy reserve rules as "post-1995 life insurance policies" (as described in section 1404). Accordingly, paragraphs 1401(1)(d.1), (d.2), (e), and subsections 1401(1.1), (3), and (4) are no longer be [sic] needed and are being repealed.

The remaining portions of subsection 1401(1) will apply for the purposes of calculating the Part XII.3 tax on investment income accruing to fund insurance liabilities of a life insurance corporation and the calculation of a policy's accumulating fund in section 307. Therefore, the preamble to subsection 1401(1), and paragraphs 1401(1)(a) to (d), will continue to apply and have been modified to give effect to this restricted application.

Dept. of Finance news release 2006-091, Dec. 28, 2006: Backgrounder.

Policy Reserves for Life Insurance Policies Issued Before 1996

Policy reserves deductible by life insurance corporations under paragraph 138(3)(a) of the Act and prescribed by section 1404 of the Income Tax Regulations (Regulations) in respect of life insurance policies issued after 1995 are based on the policy reserves reported on the financial statements of the life insurance corporation. For life insurance policies issued prior to 1996, the policy reserves for tax purposes under paragraph 138(3)(a) are based on the rules set out in section 1401 of the Regulations.

It is proposed that, for life insurance policies issued prior to 1996, the policy reserves be based on the reserves reported on the financial statements. The increases or decreases in reserves resulting from this change will not be included or deducted from income for tax purposes in the year in which these changes are first implemented. Instead, the increases or decreases will be spread evenly over a five-year period starting in the year in which these changes are first implemented. These changes will be effective for taxation years that begin after October 1, 2006.

(i) the amount, if any, by which

(A) the present value, at the end of the year, of the payments to be made in respect of the claim made under the policy or such estimate of such payments to be made in respect of the claim as is reasonable in the circumstances

(B) the maximum amounts that may be claimed by the insurer for the year in respect of the policy under paragraph (c) or (d), and

(ii) 95 per cent of the amount of the reserve in respect of the claim reported by the insurer in its annual report to the relevant authority for the year or, where the insurer was throughout the year subject to the supervision of the relevant authority but was not required to file an annual report with the relevant authority for the year, in its financial statements for the year; and

(e) a qualified annuity, such amount as the insurer may claim not exceeding the amount, if any, by which

(i) the amount that would have been determined pursuant to paragraph (c) for the year if the rate of interest used (or deemed by section 1403 to have been used) by the insurer in determining the premium for the annuity were reduced by one-half of one percentage point,

exceeds

(ii) the maximum amount that may be claimed by the insurer in respect of the annuity under paragraph (c).

Proposed Repeal — Reg. 1401(1)(d.1)–(e)

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 99(5), will repeal paras. 1401(1)(d.1) to (e), applicable to taxation years that begin after September 2006.

(1.1) [Pre-1996 policies only] — An amount may be deducted under subsection (1) only in respect of a life insurance policy in Canada that is a pre-1996 life insurance policy.

Proposed Repeal — Reg. 1401(1.1)

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 99(6), will repeal subsec. 1401(1.1), applicable to taxation years that begin after September 2006.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1404 — Policy reserves for post-1995 policies.

(2) [Segregated funds] — For the purposes of subsection (1), (except in respect of subparagraph (d)(vii) thereof), any amount claimed by an insurer for the year shall not include an amount in respect of a liability of a segregated fund (within the meaning assigned "segregated fund" by section 138.1 of the Act).

(3) [Group life insurance policies] — In computing the amount that a life insurer may deduct under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act in computing its taxable income for a taxation year, there shall be deducted from the aggregate of the amounts determined under subsection (1), the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the lesser of the following amounts determined in respect of a life insurance policy referred to in paragraph (1)(c):

(a) the amount, if any, by which

(i) the amount that would be determined under subclause (1)(c)(i)(B) in respect of the policy

exceeds

(ii) the amount that would be determined under subclause (1)(c)(i)(A) in respect of the policy, and

(b) the amount, if any, by which

(i) the aggregate of the amounts that would be determined under subclauses (1)(c)(ii)(B) and (C) in respect of the policy

exceeds

(ii) the amount that would be determined under subclause (1)(c)(ii)(A) in respect of the policy.

(4) [Unpaid claims reserve] — For the purpose of subparagraph 138(3)(a)(ii) of the Act, there may be deducted, in computing a life insurer's income for a taxation year, the amount it claims as a reserve in respect of unpaid claims received by it before the end of the year under life insurance policies in Canada that are pre-1996 life insurance policies, not exceeding the present value at the end of the year, computed using a rate of interest that is reasonable in the circumstances, of a reasonable amount in respect of those unpaid claims.

Proposed Repeal — Reg. 1401(3), (4)

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 99(7), will repeal subsec. 1401(3) and (4), applicable to taxation years that begin after September 2006.

Definitions [Reg. 1402.1]: "amount" — ITA 248(1).

1403. (1) For the purposes of paragraph 1401(1)(c) and subject to subsections (2) and (3), a modified net premium and an amount claimed by an insurer for a taxation year shall be computed

(a) in the case of a lapse-supported policy effected after 1990, based on rates of interest, mortality and policy lapse only, and

(b) in any other case, based on rates of interest and mortality only,

using

(c) in respect of the modified net premiums and benefits (other than a benefit described in paragraph (d)) of a participating life insurance policy (other than an annuity contract) under the terms of which the policyholder is entitled to receive a specified amount in respect of the policy's cash surrender value, the rates used by the insurer when the policy was issued in computing the cash surrender values of the policy;

(d) in respect of any benefit provided

(i) in lieu of a cash settlement on the termination or maturity of a policy, or

(ii) in satisfaction of a dividend on a policy, the rates used by the insurer in determining the amount of such benefit; and

(e) in respect of all or part of any other policy, the rates used by the insurer in determining the premiums for the policy.

History: That portion of subsec. 1403(1) before para. (c) replaced by P.C. 1994-940, s. 6, June 2, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 15, 1994, applicable

(a) to taxation years beginning after 1990; and

(b) where an insurer so elected by notifying the Minister of National Revenue in writing before July, 1991, to the insurer's taxation years beginning after 1987, 1988 or 1989 (as specified in the election) and before 1991, and where such an election has been made

(i) if the insurer so indicated in the election, para. 1403(1)(a) shall be read without reference to the words "effected after 1990", and

(ii) in any other case, the reference in para. 1403(1)(a) to "1990" shall be read as a reference to the calendar year immediately preceding the first taxation year to which the election relates.

Para. 1403(1)(b) substituted by P.C. 1980-2089, s. 4, July 31, 1980, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 13, 1980, effective in respect of 1978 et seq.

Paras. 1403(1)(c), (d) substituted, (e) added, by P.C. 1980-1484, subsec. 2(1), June 5, 1980, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 25, 1980, effective for 1978 et seq.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), where a rate of mortality or other probability used by an insurer in determining the premium for a policy is not reasonable in the circumstances, the Minister on the advice of the Superintendent of Insurance for Canada may make such revision to the rate as is reasonable in the circumstances and the revised rate shall be deemed to have been used by the insurer in determining the premium.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (1), where the present value of the premiums for a policy as at the date of issue of the policy is less than the aggregate of

(a) the present value, at that date, of the benefits provided for by the policy, and

(b) the present value, at that date, of all outlays and expenses made or incurred by the insurer or outlays and expenses that the insurer reasonably estimates it will make or incur in respect of the policy (except outlays and expenses to maintain the policy after all premiums under the policy have been paid and for which explicit provision has not been made in calculating the premiums) and such part of any other outlays and expenses made or incurred by the insurer that may reasonably be regarded as applicable thereto, an increased rate of interest shall be determined by multiplying the rate of interest used in determining the premiums by a constant factor so that when the increased rate of interest is used,

(c) the present value of the premiums at the date of issue of the policy shall equal

(d) the aggregate of the present values of the benefits, outlays and expenses referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b), and the increased rate of interest shall be deemed to have been used by the insurer in determining the premiums for the policy.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1403(4) — Computation of present value.

(4) For the purposes of subsection (3), a "present value" referred to in that subsection shall be computed by using the rates of mortality and other probabilities used by the insurer in determining its premiums, after making any revision required by subsection (2).

(5) For the purposes of subsection (1), where a record of the rate of interest or mortality used by an insurer in determining the premiums for a policy is not available,

(a) the insurer may, if the policy was issued before 1978, make a reasonable estimate of the rate; and

(b) the Minister, on the advice of the Superintendent of Insurance for Canada, may

(i) if the policy was issued before 1978 and the insurer has not made the estimate referred to in paragraph (a), or

(ii) if the policy was issued after 1977,

make a reasonable estimate of the rate.

(6) Notwithstanding paragraph 1401(1)(c), a life insurer in computing its income for a taxation year may, in respect of any class of life insurance policies issued before its 1988 taxation year, other than policies referred to in paragraph 1401(1)(a) or (b), use a method of approximation to convert the reserve in respect of such policies reported by the insurer in its annual report to the relevant authority for the year to an amount that is a reasonable estimate of the amount that would otherwise be determined for such policies under paragraph 1401(1)(c), provided that that method of approximation is acceptable to the Minister on the advice of the relevant authority.

(7) For the purposes of subsection (1) and notwithstanding any other provision of this section, where

(a) an individual annuity contract was issued prior to 1969 by a life insurer, or

(b) a benefit was purchased prior to 1969 under a group annuity contract issued by a life insurer, and the contract

(c) is a policy in respect of which the provisions of paragraph 1401(1)(c) as it read in its application to the insurer's 1977 taxation year applied, the rates of interest and mortality used by the insurer in computing its reserve for the policy under that paragraph for its 1977 taxation year shall be used by the insurer in respect of that policy.

(8) For the purposes of subsection (1), where

(a) in a taxation year of an insurer, there has been a disposition to the insurer by another person with whom the insurer was dealing at arm's length in respect of which subsection 138(11.92) of the Act applied,

(b) as a result of the disposition, the insurer assumed obligations under life insurance policies (in this subsection referred to as the "transferred policies") in respect of which an amount may be claimed by the insurer as a reserve under paragraph 1401(1)(c) for the taxation year,

(c) the amount, if any, by which

(i) the aggregate of all amounts received or receivable by the insurer from the other person in respect of the transferred policies referred to in paragraph (b)

exceeds

(ii) the aggregate of all amounts paid or payable by the insurer to the other person in respect of commissions in respect of the amounts referred to in subparagraph (i)

exceeds the total of the maximum amounts that may be claimed by the insurer as a reserve under paragraph 1401(1)(c) (determined without reference to this subsection) in respect of the transferred policies for the taxation year, and

(d) the amount determined under paragraph (c) (in this subsection referred to as "reserve deficiency") can reasonably be attributed to the fact that the rates of interest or mortality used by the issuer of the transferred policies in determining the cash surrender values or premiums under such policies are no longer reasonable in the circumstances, the Minister, on the request of the insurer and with the advice of the relevant authority, may make such revision to the rates of interest or mortality to eliminate all or any part of that reserve deficiency, and those revised rates shall be deemed to have been used by the issuer of the transferred policies in determining the cash surrender value or premiums under the policies.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 1403(8)

Letter from Dept. of Finance, Dec. 1, 1999:

Dear [xxx]

This is in reply to your letter of November 8, 1999 requesting that amendments be made to the draft income tax legislation released on December 23, 1998 regarding trusts and to the Income Tax Regulations regarding the determination of tax reserves for life insurance policies. . . .

Regulations on Reserves

You are of the view that subsection 1403(8) of the Income Tax Regulations should be amended to allow an insurer that has acquired an insurance business, or a line of an insurance business, from another insurer to revise the lapse rates used by the other insurer for reserve purposes if those rates are no longer reasonable to eliminate all or part of what is referred to in subsection 1403(8) as a reserve deficiency (the "Reserve Deficiency"). From a policy perspective, we agree. Consequently, we are prepared to recommend to the Minister of Finance that subsection 1403(8) be amended to allow for revisions to lapse rates to eliminate all or part of a Reserve Deficiency if the deficiency is attributable to the fact that the lapse rates used by the issuer of the transferred policies are no longer reasonable in the circumstances.

Your second concern in regard to subsection 1403(8) of the Income Tax Regulations is that it provides the Minister of National Revenue with too much discretion in determining whether, and to what extent, rates can be changed to eliminate all or part of a Reserve Deficiency. We agree that subsection 1403(8) may be too broad in this regard. Consequently, we are prepared to recommend to the Minister of Finance that subsection 1403(8) be amended to better ensure that the Ministerial discretion be limited to the approval of adjusted rates provided the adjustments are reasonable.

We would also recommend that the amendments to subsection 1403(8) of the Income Tax Regulations be effective for dispositions occurring after November 1999. If the recommendation is acted upon, it is anticipated that the amendments would be included in a future technical bill.

I appreciate you taking the time to bring your concerns to my attention.

Yours sincerely,
Brian Ernewein, Director, Tax Legislation Division, Tax Policy Branch

Division 4 — Policy Reserves for Post-1995 Policies

1404. Life insurance business — (1) For the purpose of subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act, there may be deducted, in computing a life insurer's income from carrying on its life insurance business in Canada for a taxation year in respect of its life insurance policies in Canada that are post-1995 life insurance policies, the amount the insurer claims, not exceeding

(a) the amount determined under subsection (3) in respect of the insurer for the year, where that amount is greater than nil, and

(b) nil, in any other case.

(2) For the purpose of paragraph 138(4)(b) of the Act, the amount prescribed in respect of an insurer for a taxation year, in respect of its life insurance policies in Canada that are post-1995 life insurance policies, is

(a) the absolute value of the amount determined under subsection (3) in respect of the insurer for the year, where that amount is less than nil, and

(b) nil, in any other case.

(3) For the purposes of paragraphs (1)(a) and (2)(a), the amount determined under this subsection in respect of an insurer for a taxation year, in respect of its life insurance policies in Canada that are post-1995 life insurance policies, is the amount, which may be positive or negative, determined by the formula

$$A + B + C + D - M$$

where

A is the amount (except to the extent the amount is determined in respect of a claim, premium, dividend or refund in respect of which an amount is included in determining the value of B, C or D), in respect of the insurer's life insurance policies in Canada that are post-1995 life insurance policies, equal to the lesser of

(a) the total of the reported reserves of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of those policies, and

(b) the total of the policy liabilities of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of those policies;

B is the amount, in respect of the insurer's life insurance policies in Canada that are post-1995 life insurance policies under which there may be claims incurred before the end of the year that have not been reported to the insurer before the end of the year, equal to 95% of the lesser of

(a) the total of the reported reserves of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of the possibility that there are such claims, and

(b) the total of the policy liabilities of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of the possibility that there are such claims;

C is the total of all amounts each of which is the unearned portion at the end of the year of the premium paid by the policyholder for the policy where the policy is a group term life insurance policy that

(a) provides coverage for a period that does not exceed 12 months,

(b) is a life insurance policy in Canada, and

(c) is a post-1995 life insurance policy, determined by apportioning the premium paid by the policyholder equally over the period to which that premium relates;

D is the total of all amounts (other than an amount deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(v) of the Act) each of which is the amount, which is the least of P, Q and R, in respect of a dividend, refund of premiums or refund of premium deposits provided for under the terms of a group life insurance policy that is a life insurance policy in Canada that is a post-1995 life insurance policy that will be

(a) used by the insurer to reduce or eliminate a future adverse claims experience under the policy,

(b) paid or unconditionally credited to the policyholder by the insurer, or

(c) applied in discharge, in whole or in part, of a liability of the policyholder to pay premiums to the insurer under the policy,

where

P is a reasonable amount as a reserve eetermined as at the end of the year in respect of the dividend, refund of premiums or refund of premium deposits provided for under the terms of the policy,

Q is 25% of the amount of the premium under the terms of the policy for the 12-month period ending

(i) on the day the policy is terminated, if the policy is terminated in the year, and

(ii) at the end of the year, in any other case, and

R is the amount of the reported reserve of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of the dividend, refund of premiums or refund of premium deposits provided for under the terms of the policy; and

M is the total of all amounts determined in respect of a life insurance policy in Canada that is a post-1995 life insurance policy each of which is

(a) an amount payable in respect of a policy loan under the policy, or

(b) interest that has accrued to the insurer to the end of the year in respect of a policy loan under the policy.

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas; Reg. 1406 — All amounts to be net of reinsurance ceded and ignoring seg funds; Reg. 1407 — Amounts in Reg. 1404 may be less than zero.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 1404

1404. (1) For the purpose of subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act, there may be deducted, in computing a life insurer's income from carrying on its life insurance business in Canada for a taxation year in respect of its life insurance policies in Canada, the amount the insurer claims, not exceeding

(a) the amount determined under subsection (3) in respect of the insurer for the year, where that amount is greater than nil; and

(b) nil, in any other case.

(2) For the purpose of paragraph 138(4)(b) of the Act, the amount prescribed in respect of an insurer for a taxation year, in respect of its life insurance policies in Canada, is

(a) the absolute value of the amount determined under subsection (3) in respect of the insurer for the year, where that amount is less than nil; and

(b) nil, in any other case.

(3) For the purposes of paragraphs (1)(a) and (2)(a), the amount determined under this subsection in respect of an insurer for a taxation year, in respect of its life insurance policies in Canada, is the amount, which may be positive or negative, determined by the formula

$$A + B + C + D - M$$

where

A is the amount (except to the extent the amount is determined in respect of a claim, premium, dividend or refund in respect of which an amount is included in determining the value of B, C or D), in respect of the insurer's life insurance policies in Canada, equal to the lesser of

(a) the total of the reported reserves of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of those policies, and

(b) the total of the policy liabilities of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of those policies;

B is the amount, in respect of the insurer's life insurance policies in Canada under which there may be claims incurred before the end of the year that have not been reported to the insurer before the end of the year, equal to 95% of the lesser of

(a) the total of the reported reserves of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of the possibility that there are such claims, and

(b) the total of the policy liabilities of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of the possibility that there are such claims;

C is the total of all amounts each of which is the unearned portion at the end of the year of the premium paid by the policyholder for the policy, determined by apportioning the premium paid by the policyholder equally over the period to which that premium relates, where the policy is a group term life insurance policy that

(a) provides coverage for a period that does not exceed 12 months, and

(b) is a life insurance policy in Canada;

D is the total of all amounts (other than an amount deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(v) of the Act) each of which is the amount, which is the least of P, Q and R, in respect of a dividend, refund of premiums or refund of premium deposits provided for under the terms of a group life insurance policy that is a life insurance policy in Canada that will be

(a) used by the insurer to reduce or eliminate a future adverse claims experience under the policy,

(b) paid or unconditionally credited to the policyholder by the insurer, or

(c) applied in discharge, in whole or in part, of a liability of the policyholder to pay premiums to the insurer under the policy,

where

P is a reasonable amount as a reserve determined as at the end of the year in respect of the dividend, refund of premiums or refund of premium deposits provided for under the terms of the policy,

Q is 25% of the amount of the premium under the terms of the policy for the 12-month period ending

(a) on the day the policy is terminated, if the policy is terminated in the year, and

(b) at the end of the year, in any other case, and

R is the amount of the reported reserve of the insurer at the end of the year in respect of the dividend, refund of premiums or refund of premium deposits provided for under the terms of the policy; and

M is the total of all amounts determined in respect of a life insurance policy in Canada each of which is

(a) an amount payable in respect of a policy loan under the policy, or

(b) interest that has accrued to the insurer to the end of the year in respect of a policy loan under the policy.

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), s. 100, will amend s. 1404 to read as above, and amend the heading to Division 4 to read "Life Insurance Policy Reserves", applicable to taxation years that begin after September 2006.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): Section 1404 establishes the basis for determining the amount an insurer may deduct under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act as a policy reserve in respect of its life insurance policies that are post-1995 life insurance policies.

Section 1404 is amended to remove the reference to "post-1995 life insurance policies", consequential to amendments to section 1401. Section 1404 will apply in respect of all life insurance policies of an insurer as a consequence of the amendments.

For further details, readers may refer to the commentary to proposed amendments to section 1401.

History [Reg. 1404]: The description of C in subsec. 1404(3) amended to replace "net premium" with "premium paid by the policyholder", by P.C. 2002-346, para. 3(c), March 14, 2002, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 27, 2002, applicable to taxation years that begin after 1999 except that, where the taxpayer elects under ITA 18(9)(a)(ii) and 18(9.02) pursuant to S.C. 2001, c. 17 on or before the taxpayer's filing-due date for the taxation year that includes June 14, 2001, the amendment applies to taxation years that end after 1997.

Subsec. 1404(4) repealed by the said P.C. 2002-346, para. 4(b), applicable to taxation years that end after 2000.

Definitions [Reg. 1407]: "amount" — ITA 248(1).

Division 5 — Interpretation

1408. Insurance businesses — (1) The definitions in this subsection apply in this Part.

"acquisition costs" — [Repealed]

"amount payable", in respect of a policy loan at a particular time, means the amount of the policy loan and the interest that is outstanding on the policy loan at that time.

"benefit", in respect of a policy, includes

(a) a policy dividend (other than a policy dividend in respect of a policy described in paragraph 1403(1)(c)) in respect of the policy to the extent that the dividend was specifically treated as a benefit by the insurer in determining a premium for the policy, and

(b) an expense of maintaining the policy after all premiums in respect of the policy have been paid to the extent that the expense was specifically provided for by the insurer in determining a premium for the policy,

but does not include

(c) a policy loan,

(d) interest on funds left on deposit with the insurer under the terms of the policy, and

(e) any other amount under the policy that was not specifically provided for by the insurer in determining a premium for the policy.

"capital tax" means a tax imposed under Part I.3 or VI of the Act or a similar tax imposed under an Act of the legislature of a province.

"cash surrender value" has the meaning assigned by subsection 148(9) of the Act.

"claim liability" of an insurer at the end of a taxation year means

(a) in respect of a claim reported to the insurer before that time under an insurance policy, the amount, if any, by which

(i) the present value at that time, computed using a rate of interest that is reasonable in the circumstances, of a reasonable estimate, determined in accordance with accepted actuarial practice, of the insurer's future payments and claim adjustment expenses in respect of the claim

(ii) the present value at that time, computed using a rate of interest that is reasonable in the circumstances, of a reasonable estimate, determined in accordance with accepted actuarial practice, of the amounts that the insurer will recover after that time in respect of the claim because of salvage, subrogation or any other reason; and

(b) in respect of the possibility that there are claims under an insurance policy incurred before that time that have not been reported to the insurer before that time, the amount, if any, by which

(i) the present value at that time, computed using a rate of interest that is reasonable in the circumstances, of a reasonable estimate, determined in accordance with accepted actuarial practice, of the insurer's payments and claim adjustment expenses in respect of those claims

(ii) the present value at that time, computed using a rate of interest that is reasonable in the circumstances, of a reasonable estimate, determined in accordance with accepted actuarial practice, of the amounts that the insurer will recover in respect of those claims because of salvage, subrogation or any other reason.

"extended motor vehicle warranty" means an agreement under which a person agrees to provide goods or render services in respect of the repair or maintenance of a motor vehicle manufactured by the person or a corporation related to the person where

(a) the agreement is in addition to a basic or limited warranty in respect of the vehicle;

(b) the basic or limited warranty has a term of 3 or more years, although it may expire before the end of such term on the vehicle's odometer registering a specified number of kilometres or miles;

(c) more than 50% of the expenses to be incurred under the agreement are reasonably expected to be incurred after the expiry of the basic or limited warranty; and

(d) the person's risk under the agreement is insured by an insurer that is subject to the supervision of a relevant authority.

Related Provisions: ITA 95(2)(j.2)(ii) — Operator deemed to be under supervision of regulatory authority.

"general amending provision", of an insurance policy, means a provision of the policy that allows it to be amended with the consent of the policyholder.

"interest", in relation to a policy loan, has the meaning assigned by subsection 138(12) of the Act.

"lapse-supported policy" means a life insurance policy that would require materially higher premiums if premiums were determined using policy lapse rates that are zero after the fifth policy year.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 1408(1)"life insurance policy"

"life insurance policy" has the same meaning as defined in subsection 138(12) of the Act.

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 101(2), will add the definition "life insurance policy" to subsec. 1408(1), applicable to taxation years that begin after November 7, 2007.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): Section 1408 provides a number of definitions and interpretative rules that apply for purposes of the rules in Part XIV dealing with the determination of an insurer's policy reserves.

The definitions "life insurance policy in Canada" and "life insurance policy" in subsection 1408(1) are amended to state that each of these terms has, for the purposes of Part XIV, the same meaning as for the purposes of section 138 of the Act.

"life insurance policy in Canada" means a life insurance policy issued or effected by an insurer on the life of a person resident in Canada at the time the policy was issued or effected.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 1408(1)"life insurance policy in Canada"

"life insurance policy in Canada" has the same meaning as defined in subsection 138(12) of the Act.

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 101(1), will amend the definition "life insurance policy in Canada" in subsec. 1408(1) to read as above, applicable to taxation years that begin after November 7, 2007.

"modified net premium", in respect of a premium under a policy (other than a prepaid premium under a policy that cannot be refunded except on termination of the policy), means

(a) where all benefits (other than policy dividends) and premiums (other than the frequency of payment of premiums) in respect of the policy are determined at the date of issue of the policy, the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the amount of the premium,

B is the present value, at the date of the issue of the policy, of the benefits to be provided under the terms of the policy after the day that is one year after the date of the issue of the policy,

C is the present value, at the date of the issue of the policy, of the benefits to be provided under the terms of the policy after the day that is two years after the date of the issue of the policy,

D is the present value, at the date of the issue of the policy, of the premiums payable under the terms of the policy on or after the day that is one year after the date of the issue of the policy, and

E is the present value, at the date of the issue of the policy, of the premiums payable under the terms of the policy on or after the day that is two years after the date of the issue of the policy, except that the amount determined by the formula in respect of the premium for the second year of a policy is deemed to be the amount that is 50% of the total of

(i) the amount that would otherwise be determined under the formula, and

(ii) the amount of a one-year term insurance premium (determined without regard to the frequency of payment of the premium) that would be payable under the policy; and

(b) in any other case, the amount that would be determined under paragraph (a) if that paragraph applied and the amount were adjusted in a manner that is reasonable in the circumstances.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1408(3) — Interpretation.

"net premium for the policy" — [Repealed]

"non-cancellable or guaranteed renewable accident and sickness policy" includes a non-cancellable or guaranteed renewable accident and sickness benefit under a group policy.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1408(6) — Riders.

"participating life insurance policy" has the meaning assigned by subsection 138(12) of the Act.

"policy liability" of an insurer at the end of the taxation year in respect of an insurance policy or a claim, possible claim or risk under an insurance policy means the positive or negative amount of the insurer's reserve in respect of its potential liability in respect of the policy, claim, possible claim or risk at the end of the year determined in accordance with accepted actuarial practice, but without reference to projected income and capital taxes (other than the tax payable under Part XII.3 of the Act).

"policy loan" has the meaning assigned by subsection 138(12) of the Act.

"post-1995 life insurance policy" means a life insurance policy that is not a pre-1996 life insurance policy.

"post-1995 non-cancellable or guaranteed renewable accident and sickness policy" means a non-cancellable or guaranteed renewable accident and sickness policy that is not a pre-1996 non-cancellable or guaranteed renewable accident and sickness policy.

"pre-1996 life insurance policy", at any time, means a life insurance policy where

(a) the policy was issued before 1996; and

(b) before that time and after 1995 there has been no change, except in accordance with the provisions (other than a general amending provision) of the policy as they existed on December 31, 1995, to

(i) the amount of any benefit under the policy,

(ii) the amount of any premium or other amount payable under the policy, or

(iii) the number of premium or other payments under the policy.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1408(7) — Interpretation.

"pre-1996 non-cancellable or guaranteed renewable accident and sickness policy", at any time, means a non-cancellable or guaranteed renewable accident and sickness policy where

(a) the policy was issued before 1996; and

(b) before that time and after 1995 there has been no change, except in accordance with the provisions (other than a general amending provision) of the policy as they existed on December 31, 1995, to

(i) the amount of any benefit under the policy,

(ii) the amount of any premium or other amount payable under the policy, or

(iii) the number of premium or other payments under the policy.

Related Provisions: Reg. 1408(7) — Interpretation.

"qualified annuity" means an annuity contract issued before 1982, other than a deposit administration fund policy or a policy referred to in paragraph 1403(7)(c),

(a) in respect of which regular periodic annuity payments have commenced;

(b) in respect of which a contract or certificate has been issued that provides for regular periodic annuity payments to commence within one year after the date of issue of the contract or certificate;

(c) that is not issued as or under a registered retirement savings plan, registered pension plan or deferred profit sharing plan and that

(i) does not provide for a guaranteed cash surrender value at any time, and

(ii) provides for regular periodic annuity payments to commence not later than the attainment of age 71 by the annuitant; or

(d) that is issued as or under a registered retirement savings plan, registered pension plan or deferred profit sharing plan, if the interest rate is guaranteed for at least 10 years and the plan does not provide for any participation in profits, directly or indirectly.

"reinsurance commission", in respect of a policy, means

(a) where the risk under the policy is fully reinsured, the amount, if any, by which

(i) the premium paid by the policyholder for the policy

exceeds

(ii) the consideration payable by the insurer in respect of the reinsurance of the risk; and

(b) where the risk under the policy is not fully reinsured, the amount, if any, by which

(i) the portion of the premium paid by the policyholder for the policy that may reasonably be considered to be in respect of the portion of the risk that is reinsured with a particular reinsurer

exceeds

(ii) the consideration payable by the insurer to the particular reinsurer in respect of the risk assumed by the reinsurer.

"relevant authority" of an insurer means

(a) the Superintendent of Financial Institutions, if the insurer is required by law to report to the Superintendent of Financial Institutions; and

(b) in any other case, the Superintendent of Insurance or other similar officer or authority of the province under whose laws the insurer is incorporated.

Related Provisions: ITA 95(2)(j.2)(ii) — Operator deemed to be required by law to report to regulatory authority.

"reported reserve" of an insurer at the end of a taxation year in respect of an insurance policy or a claim, possible claim, risk, dividend, refund of premiums or refund of premium deposits under an insurance policy means the amount equal to

(a) where the insurer is required to file an annual report with its relevant authority for a period ending coincidentally with the year, the positive or negative amount of the reserve that would be reported in that report in respect of the insurer's potential liability under the policy if the reserve were determined without reference to projected income and capital taxes (other than the tax payable under Part XII.3 of the Act);

(b) where the insurer is, throughout the year, subject to the supervision of its relevant authority and paragraph (a) does not apply, the positive or negative amount of the reserve that would be reported in its financial statements for the year in respect of the insurer's potential liability under the policy if

(i) those statements were prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and

(ii) the reserve were determined without reference to projected income and capital taxes (other than the tax payable under Part XII.3 of the Act);

(c) where the insurer is the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation or a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada, the positive or negative amount of the reserve that would be reported in its financial statements for the year in respect of the insurer's potential liability under the policy if

(i) those statements were prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 1408(1)"reported reserve"(c)

Technical Notes to ITA 94.3(1)"income allocation"(d), July 18, 2005: The non-resident entity is assumed to have deducted the greatest amounts permissible, for its taxation year preceding the fresh-start year, under sections 20, 138 and 140. These amounts are added in computing the non-resident entity's income for the fresh-start year, but appropriate deductions under these sections can be claimed for the fresh-start year and subsequent taxation years. In the context of the reserve for life insurers under subsection 138(3), it is intended that paragraph (c) of the definition "reported reserve" in subsection 1408(1) be amended so that the non-resident entity can have a "reported reserve".

(d) in any other case, nil.

Related Provisions: ITA 95(2)(j.2)(ii) — Operator deemed to be under supervision of regulatory authority.

"segregated fund" has the meaning assigned by subsection 138.1(1).

"segregated fund policy" has the meaning assigned by subsection 138.1(1).

(2) ["Group term life insurance policy"] — The definition "group term life insurance policy" in subsection 248(1) of the Act does not apply to this Part.

(3) [Interpretation — modified net premium] — For the purpose of the formula referred to in the definition "modified net premium" in subsection (1), it may be assumed that premiums are payable annually in advance.

(4) ["Premium paid by the policyholder"] — For the purposes of this Part,

(a) a reference to a "premium paid by the policyholder" shall, depending on the method regularly followed by the insurer in computing its income, be read as a reference to a "premium paid or payable by the policyholder"; and

(b) in determining the premium paid by a policyholder for a policy, there may be deducted by the insurer the portion, if any, of the premium that

(i) can reasonably be considered, at the time the policy is issued, to be a deposit that, pursuant to the terms of the policy or the by-laws of the insurer, will be returned to the policyholder, or credited to the account of the policyholder, by the insurer on the termination of the policy, and

(ii) was not otherwise deducted under section 140 of the Act.

(5) [Riders] — For the purposes of this Part, any rider that is attached to a life insurance policy and that provides for additional life insurance or for an annuity is a separate life insurance policy.

(6) [Riders] — For the purposes of this Part, any rider that is attached to a policy and that provides for additional non-cancellable or guaranteed renewable accident and sickness insurance, as the case may be, is a separate non-cancellable or guaranteed renewable accident and sickness policy.

(7) [No change in amount] — For the purposes of the definitions "pre-1996 life insurance policy" and "pre-1996 non-cancellable or guaranteed renewable accident and sickness policy" in subsection (1), a change in the amount of any benefit or in the amount or number of any premiums or other amounts payable under a policy is deemed not to have occurred where the change results from

(a) a change in underwriting class;

(b) a change in frequency of premium payments within a year that does not alter the present value, at the beginning of the year, of the total premiums to be paid under the policy in the year;

(c) the deletion of a rider;

(d) the correction of erroneous information;

(e) the reinstatement of the policy after its lapse, if the reinstatement occurs not later than 60 days after the end of the calendar year in which the lapse occurred;

(f) the redating of the policy for policy loan indebtedness; or

(g) a change in the amount of a benefit under the policy that is granted by the insurer on a class basis, where

(i) no consideration was payable by the policyholder or any other person for the change, and

(ii) the change was not made because of the terms or conditions of the policy or any other policy or contract to which the insurer is a party.

History: The definitions "acquisition costs" and "net premium for the policy" in subsec. 1408(1) repealed, by P.C. 2002-346, s. 2, March 14, 2002, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 27, 2002, applicable to taxation years that begin after 1999 except that, where the taxpayer elects under ITA 18(9)(a)(ii) and 18(9.02) pursuant to S.C. 2001, c. 17 on or before the taxpayer's filing-due date for the taxation year that includes June 14, 2001, the amendment applies to taxation years that end after 1997.

PART XV — PROFIT SHARING PLANS

History: Part XV was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

DIVISION I — EMPLOYEES PROFIT SHARING PLANS

1500. (1) An election under subsection 144(4.1) of the Act by the trustee of a trust governed by an employees profit sharing plan shall be made by filing with the Minister the prescribed form in duplicate.

(2) An election under subsection 144(4.2) of the Act by the trustee of a trust governed by an employees profit sharing plan shall be made by filing with the Minister the prescribed form in duplicate on or before the last day of a taxation year of the trust in respect of any capital property deemed to have been disposed of in that taxation year by virtue of the election.

(3) An election under subsection 144(10) of the Act shall be made by sending the following documents by registered mail to the Commissioner of Revenue at Ottawa:

(a) a letter from the employer stating that he elects to have the arrangement qualify as an employees profit sharing plan;

(b) if the employer is a corporation,

(i) where the directors of the corporation are legally entitled to administer the affairs of the corporation, a certified copy of their resolution authorizing the election to be made, and

(ii) where the directors of the corporation are not legally entitled to administer the affairs of the corporation, a certified copy of the authorization of the making of the election by the person or persons legally entitled to administer the affairs of the corporation; and

(c) a copy of the agreement and any supplementary agreement setting out the plan.

History: Part XVII was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

Interpretation Bulletins [Part XVII]: IT-268R4: Inter vivos transfer of farm property to child; IT-349R3: Intergenerational transfers of farm property on death.

Division I — Deductions Allowed

1700. (1) Rates — For the purposes of paragraph 20(1)(a) of the Act, there is hereby allowed to a taxpayer, in computing his income from farming or fishing, as the case may be, a deduction for each taxation year in respect of each property that was used for the purpose of gaining or producing income from farming or fishing equal to such amount as he may claim, not exceeding in the case of

(a) a building or other structure, not described elsewhere in this subsection, including component parts such as electric wiring, plumbing, sprinkler systems, air-conditioning equipment, heating equipment, lighting fixtures, elevators and escalators, 2½%

(b) a building or other structure of

(i) frame,

(ii) log,

(iii) stucco on frame,

(iv) galvanized iron, or

(v) corrugated iron construction, including component parts such as electric wiring, plumbing, sprinkler systems, air-conditioning equipment, heating equipment, lighting fixtures, elevators and escalators, 5%

(c) a fence, 5%

(d) a scow or a vessel, including furniture, fittings or equipment attached thereto, but not including radio communication equipment, 7½%

(e) nonautomotive equipment and machinery, 10%

(f) automotive equipment, a sleigh or a wagon, 15%

(g) radiocommunication equipment, 15%

(h) tile drainage acquired before the 1965 taxation year, 10%

(i) a water storage tank, 5%

(j) a gas well that is part of the equipment of a farm and from which the gas produced is not sold, 10%

(k) a tool costing less than $100, 100%

of the depreciable cost to the taxpayer of the property.

(2) Taxation years less than 12 months — Where the taxation year is less than 12 months, the amount allowed as a deduction under subsection (1) shall not exceed that proportion of the maximum amount otherwise allowable that the number of days in the taxation year is of 365.

(3) Property disposed of during year — Where a taxpayer has disposed of a property before the end of a taxation year, the amount allowed as a deduction under subsection (1) in respect of that property for the year shall not exceed that proportion of the maximum amount otherwise allowable that the number of months in the taxation year during which the property was owned by the taxpayer is of 12.

(4) Leasehold interests — Where a taxpayer has property that was used for the purpose of gaining or producing income from farming or fishing and that would be included in Class 13 in Schedule II if he had claimed an allowance under Part XI, he may deduct, in computing his income from farming or fishing for a taxation year, an amount not exceeding the amount he could have deducted in respect of that property for the year under paragraph 1100(1)(b).

History: Subsecs. 1700(3), (4) and (5) and headings substituted by subsecs. (3) and (4) of P.C. 1978-1315, s. 11, April 12, 1978, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 10, 1978.

Definitions [Reg. 1700]: "amount" — ITA 248(1); "depreciable cost" — Reg. 1703(2)–(8); "disposed" — ITA 248(1)"disposition"; "end of a taxation year" — Reg. 1703(1)(b); "farming", "fishing" — ITA 248(1); "month" — Interpretation Act 35(1); "property" — ITA 248(1); "radio" — Interpretation Act 35(1); "taxation year" — Reg. 1703(1)(a); "taxpayer" — ITA 248(1).

Division II — Maximum Deductions

1701. (1) The amount allowed as a deduction under section 1700 in respect of a property shall not exceed the amount by which the capital cost of the property to the taxpayer exceeds the aggregate of the deductions from income allowed under this Part in respect of the property for previous taxation years.

(2) In respect of the 1972 and subsequent taxation years, where subsection 20(5) of the Income Tax Application Rules applies to a particular property, notwithstanding subsection (1), the amount allowed as a deduction under section 1700 in respect of the property shall not exceed the amount by which

(a) the amount determined to be the undepreciated capital cost of the property, under paragraph 20(5)(b) of the Income Tax Application Rules

exceeds

(b) the aggregate of the deductions from income allowed under this Part in respect of the property for previous taxation years ending after 1971.

History: The opening words of subsec. 1701(2) amended by P.C. 1994-1817, s. 48, November 1, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 30, 1994.

Definitions [Reg. 1701]: "amount", "property" — ITA 248(1); "taxation year" — ITA 249; "taxation years" — Reg. 1703(1)(a); "taxpayer" — ITA 248(1); "undepreciated capital cost" — ITA 13(21), 248(1).

Division III — Property Not Included

1702. (1) Nothing in this Part shall be construed as allowing a deduction in respect of a property

(a) the cost of which is deductible in computing the taxpayer's income;

(b) that is described in the taxpayer's inventory;

(c) that was acquired by an expenditure in respect of which the taxpayer is allowed a deduction from income under section 37 of the Act;

(d) that has been constituted a prescribed class by subsection 24(2) of chapter 91, S.C. 1966-67;

(e) that is included in a separate prescribed class established under subsection 13(14) of the Act;

(f) that was not used in the business during the year;

(g) that is

(i) an animal, or

(ii) a tree, shrub, herb or similar growing thing;

(h) that was not acquired by the taxpayer for the purpose of gaining or producing income from farming or fishing;

(i) that has been included at any time by the taxpayer in a class prescribed under Part XI;

(j) that is a passenger automobile acquired after June 13, 1963, and before January 1, 1966, the cost to the taxpayer of which, minus the initial transportation charges and retail sales tax in respect thereof, exceeded $5,000, unless the automobile was acquired by a person before June 14, 1963 and has, by one or more transactions between persons not dealing at arm's length, become vested in the taxpayer; or

(k) that was acquired by the taxpayer after 1971.

(2) Where a taxpayer is a member of a partnership, the properties referred to in this Part shall be deemed not to include any property that is an interest of the taxpayer in depreciable property that is partnership property of the partnership.

(3) The properties referred to in section 1700 shall be deemed not to include the land upon which a property described therein was constructed or is situated.

(4) Where the taxpayer is a non-resident person, the properties referred to in section 1700 shall be deemed not to include property that is situated outside Canada.

(5) The provisions of subsections 1102(11), (12) and (13) are applicable mutatis mutandis to paragraph (1)(j).

Definitions [Reg. 1702]: "arm's length" — ITA 251(1); "automobile", "business" — ITA 248(1); "Canada" — ITA 255, Interpretation Act 35(1); "depreciable property" — ITA 13(21), 248(1); "farming", "fishing", "inventory", "non-resident" — ITA 248(1); "person", "prescribed", "property", "taxpayer" — ITA 248(1).

Division IV — Interpretation

1703. (1) Taxation years for individuals in business — Where a taxpayer is an individual and his income for the taxation year includes income from a business the fiscal period of which does not coincide with the calendar year, in respect of depreciable properties acquired for the purpose of gaining or producing income from the business, a reference in this Part to

(a) "the taxation year" shall be deemed to be a reference to the fiscal period of the business; and

(b) "the end of the taxation year" shall be deemed to be a reference to the end of the fiscal period of the business.

(2) Depreciable cost — In this Part, "depreciable cost" to a taxpayer of property means, except as otherwise provided, the actual cost of the property to the taxpayer or the amount at which he is deemed under subsection 13(7) of the Act to have acquired the property, as the case may be.

(3) Notwithstanding the other provisions of this section, in the case of property the cost of which to a partnership has been determined under paragraph 20(5)(a) of the Income Tax Application Rules, the depreciable cost to the taxpayer of the property for the purposes of this Part shall be deemed to be an amount equal to the cost to the partnership of the particular property as determined under that paragraph.

(4) Personal use of property — Where a taxpayer has, in a taxation year, regularly used a property in part for the purpose of gaining or producing income from farming or fishing and in part for a purpose other than gaining or producing income, the depreciable cost to the taxpayer of the property for the purposes of this Part is the proportion of the amount that would otherwise be the depreciable cost that the use regularly made of the property for the purpose of gaining or producing income from farming or fishing is of the whole use regularly made of the property.

(5) Grants, subsidies or other government assistance — Where a taxpayer has received or is entitled to receive a grant, subsidy or other assistance from a government, municipality or other public authority in respect of or for the acquisition of property, the depreciable cost to the taxpayer of the property for the purposes of this Part is the amount that would otherwise be the depreciable cost minus the amount of the grant, subsidy or other assistance.

(6) Transactions not at arm's length — Where property did belong to a person (in this subsection referred to as the "original owner") and has, by one or more transactions between persons not dealing at arm's length, become vested in a taxpayer, the depreciable cost to the taxpayer of the property for the purposes of this Part is the lesser of

(a) the actual capital cost of the property to the taxpayer; and

(b) the amount by which the actual capital cost of the property to the original owner exceeds the aggregate of

(i) the total amount of depreciation for the property that, since the commencement of 1917, has been or should have been taken into account in accordance with the practice of the Department of National Revenue [Canada Revenue Agency] in ascertaining the income of the original owner and all intervening owners for the purposes of the Income War Tax Act or in ascertaining a loss for a year where there was no income under that Act,

(ii) any accumulated depreciation reserves that the original owner or an intervening owner had for the property at the commencement of 1917 and that were recognized by the Minister for the purposes of the Income War Tax Act, and

(iii) the aggregate of the deductions, if any, allowed under this Part in respect of the property to the original owner and all intervening owners.

(7) Property acquired from a parent — Notwithstanding subsection (6), where depreciable property has been acquired by a taxpayer under such circumstances that the provisions of section 85H of the Act as it read in its application to the 1971 and prior taxation years are applicable for the determination of the capital cost of the property, the depreciable cost to the taxpayer of the property for the purposes of this Part is the capital cost as determined under that section.

(8) Property acquired by gift — Subsection (6) does not apply in respect of property which a taxpayer has acquired by gift.

History: Subsec. 1703(3) amended by P.C. 1994-1817, s. 48, November 1, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 30, 1994.

Definitions [Reg. 1703]: "amount" — ITA 248(1); "arm's length" — ITA 251(1); "business" — ITA 248(1); "calendar year" — Interpretation Act 37(1)(a); "commencement" — Interpretation Act 35(1); "depreciable cost" — Reg. 1703(2)–(8); "depreciable property" — ITA 13(21), 248(1); "farming" — ITA 248(1); "fiscal period" — ITA 249.1; "fishing", "individual", "Minister" — ITA 248(1); "original owner" — Reg. 1703(6); "person", "property" — ITA 248(1); "taxation year" — Reg. 1703(1)(a); "taxpayer" — ITA 248(1).

Division V — Application of this Part

1704. This Part shall apply only to a taxpayer who, in computing his income, has never claimed an allowance under Part XI in respect of a property at a time when an allowance could have been claimed under this Part in respect of that property, other than an allowance claimed by the taxpayer under Part XI that may be claimed in respect of a property described in

(a) paragraph 1100(1)(r) as enacted by Order in Council P.C. 1965-1118 of June 18, 1965 and as amended by Order in Council P.C. 1965-2320 of December 29, 1965;

(b) paragraph 1100(1)(sa) as enacted by Order in Council P.C. 1968-2261 of December 10, 1968;

(c) paragraph 1100(1)(v); or

(d) Class 20 in Schedule II.

History: S. 1704 substituted by P.C. 1978-1315, s. 12, April 20, 1978, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 10, 1978.

Definitions [Reg. 1704]: "property", "taxpayer" — ITA 248(1).

Interpretation Bulletins: See at beginning of Part XVII.

Part XVIII — Inventories

History: Part XVIII was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

1800. Manner of keeping inventories — For the purposes of section 230 of the Act, an inventory shall show quantities and nature of the properties that should be included therein in such a manner and in sufficient detail that the property may be valued in accordance with this Part or section 10 of the Act.

Definitions [Reg. 1800]: "inventory", "property" — ITA 248(1).

1801. Valuation — Except as provided by section 1802, for the purpose of computing the income of a taxpayer from a business, all the property described in all the inventories of the business may be valued at its fair market value.

Related Provisions: ITA 10(1), (1.01) — Rules for valuing inventory.

History: S. 1801 substituted by P.C. 1989-1589, August 24, 1989, Canada Gazette, Part II, September 13, 1989, applicable after January 15, 1987.

Definitions [Reg. 1801]: "business" — ITA 248(1); "inventory", "property", "taxpayer" — ITA 248(1).

Interpretation Bulletins: IT-98R2: Investment corporations (archived); IT-473R: Inventory valuation; IT-504R2: Visual artists and writers.

1802. Valuation of animals — (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), a taxpayer who is carrying on a business that includes the breeding and raising of animals may elect in prescribed form for a taxation year and subsequent taxation years to value each animal of a particular species (except a registered animal, an animal purchased for feedlot or similar operations, or an animal purchased by a drover or like person for resale) included in his inventory in respect of the business at a unit price determined in accordance with this section.

Forms: T2034: Election to establish inventory unit prices for animals.

(2) An election made in accordance with subsection (1) may be revoked in writing by the taxpayer, but where a taxpayer has made a revocation in accordance with this subsection a further election may not be made under subsection (1) except with the concurrence of the Minister.

(3) The unit price with respect to an animal of a particular class of animal shall be determined in accordance with the following rules:

(a) where animals of a particular class of animal were included in the inventory of a taxpayer at the end of the taxation year immediately preceding the first year in respect of which the taxpayer elected under subsection (1), the unit price of an animal of that class shall be computed by dividing the total value of all animals of the class in the inventory of the preceding year by the number of animals of the class described in that inventory, and

(b) in any other case, the unit price of an animal of a class shall be determined by the Minister, having regard, among other things, to the unit prices of animals of a comparable class of animal used in valuing the inventories of other taxpayers in the district.

(4) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where the aggregate value of the animals of a particular class determined in accordance with that subsection exceeds the market value of those animals, the animals of that class may be valued at fair market value.

(5) In this section

"class of animal" means a group of animals of a particular species segregated on the basis of age, breed or other recognized division, as determined by the taxpayer at the time of election under this section;

"district" means the territory served by a Tax Centre of the Canada Revenue Agency;

"registered animal" means an animal for which a certificate of registration has been issued by the registrar of the breed to which the animal belongs or by the registrar of the Canadian National Livestock Records;

a reference to "taxation year" shall be deemed to be a reference to the fiscal period of a business.

History: The definition "district" in s. 1802 amended by P.C. 2007-849, s. 6, May 31, 2007, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 13, 2007, in force June 13, 2007.

Definitions [Reg. 1802]: "business" — ITA 248(1); "class of animal", "district" — Reg. 1802(5); "fiscal period" — ITA 249.1; "inventory", "Minister", "person", "prescribed" — ITA 248(1); "registered animal", "taxation year" — Reg. 1802(5); "taxpayer" — ITA 248(1); "territory" — Interpretation Act 35(1); "unit price" — Reg. 1802(3); "writing" — Interpretation Act 35(1).

PART XIX — INVESTMENT INCOME TAX

History: Part XIX (s. 1900) enacted by P.C. 1994-619, April 21, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 4, 1994, applicable to taxation years commencing after June 17, 1987 and before 1990 that end after 1987.

History [former Part XIX]: Former Part XIX revoked by P.C. 1988-390, s. 10, March 3, 1988, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 16, 1988, effective October 29, 1985.

Former Part XIX was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

1900. (1) Interpretation — In this Part,

"benefit" under a policy includes a policy dividend, an experience rating refund, a refund of premiums and any amount deemed by paragraph 138.1(1)(g) of the Act for the purposes of Part I of the Act to be a payment under the terms and conditions of the policy, but does not include a policy loan or interest on funds left on deposit with the insurer under the terms of the policy;

"excluded arrangement" of an insurer at any time means

(a) a life insurance policy in Canada issued by the insurer (or in respect of which the insurer has assumed the obligations of the issuer of the policy to the policyholder), which is at that time a registered life insurance policy, an annuity contract (including a settlement annuity), a group term life insurance policy or an existing guaranteed life insurance policy,

(b) a registered pension fund or plan in respect of which the insurer is at that time a plan sponsor, or a retirement compensation arrangement in respect of which the insurer is the custodian,

(c) a life insurance policy (other than a life insurance policy in Canada) issued by the insurer before that time (or in respect of which the insurer has before that time assumed the obligations of the issuer of the policy to the policyholder), and

(d) a reinsurance arrangement under which the insurer has before that time assumed, directly or indirectly, risks under life insurance policies (other than policies issued by the insurer or in respect of which the insurer has assumed the obligations of the issuer of the policy to the policyholder), to the extent that the arrangement relates to those risks;

"existing guaranteed life insurance policy" at any time means a non-participating life insurance policy in Canada in respect of which the amount of every premium that became payable before that time and after March 2, 1988 was fixed and determined on or before March 2, 1988, adjusted for any specified transaction or event that occurs after March 2, 1988 in respect of the policy;

"group term life insurance policy" is a group life insurance policy under which

(a) no amount (other than a policy dividend, an experience rating refund or a refund of premiums) may become payable to any person, except in the event of the death or disability of a person whose life was insured under the policy, and

(b) no amount may become payable to a person (other than the group policyholder) in respect of a policy dividend, an experience rating refund or a refund of premiums that has been funded by contributions made to or under the policy by another person;

"guaranteed interest" in respect of a life insurance policy for a taxation year means

(a) in respect of a life insurance policy (other than a pre-funded group life insurance policy), the total of all amounts each of which is the amount in respect of a guaranteed benefit in respect of which an amount is determined under paragraph 1401(1)(a), (c) or (d) for the year, where that benefit is provided under the terms and conditions of the policy as they existed on March 2, 1988, determined by multiplying the greater of

(i) the rate of interest used by the issuer of the policy in respect of the year in determining the amount of the benefit, and

(ii) 4%

by ½ of the total of

(iii) the maximum amount that would be deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act pursuant to paragraph 1401(1)(a), (c) or (d), as the case may be, in respect of the benefit in computing the insurer's income for the year, if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan or reinsurance arrangement, and

(iv) the maximum amount that would have been deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act pursuant to paragraph 1401(1)(a), (c) or (d), as the case may be, in respect of the benefit in computing the insurer's income for the immediately preceding taxation year, if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan or reinsurance arrangement, and

(b) in respect of a pre-funded group life insurance policy, 80 per cent of the amount that would be determined under paragraph (a) in respect of the policy for the year, if that paragraph were read without reference to the words "(other than a pre-funded group life insurance policy)";

"life insurance policy" does not include

(a) that part of a policy in respect of which the policyholder is deemed by paragraph 138.1(1)(e) of the Act to have an interest in a segregated fund trust, or

(b) a reinsurance arrangement;

"life insurance policy in Canada" does not include

(a) that part of a policy in respect of which the policyholder is deemed by paragraph 138.1(1)(e) of the Act to have an interest in a segregated fund trust, or

(b) a reinsurance arrangement;

"maximum tax actuarial reserve" has the meaning assigned by subsection 138(12) of the Act;

"mortality experience" of an insurer for a taxation year means the positive or negative amount, as the case may be, determined by the formula

$$1.2 (A - B - C)$$

where

A is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount that became payable in the year by the insurer under a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer as a consequence of the receipt of a claim in respect of the death of a person whose life was insured under the policy, determined without reference to any policy loan,

B is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount of a reserve that would be determined in accordance with paragraph 1401(1)(a), (c) or (d), if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan or reinsurance arrangement, in respect of a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer that would have been released in the year as a consequence of the receipt of a claim in respect of the death of a person whose life was insured under the policy, and

C is 90 per cent of the total of all amounts, each of which is the net cost of pure insurance determined in accordance with section 308 for the year in respect of an interest in a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer;

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

"mortality loss adjustment account" of an insurer at the end of a taxation year is the positive amount, if any, determined by the formula

$$A + B - C$$

where

A is the mortality loss adjustment account of the insurer for the immediately preceding taxation year,

B is

(a) where the mortality experience of the insurer for the year is a negative amount, the amount of the mortality experience of the insurer for the year, and

(b) in any other case, the amount, if any, by which the amount claimed by the insurer under the description of F in computing the amount determined under subsection (6) for the year exceeds the amount of the mortality loss adjustment account of the insurer for the immediately preceding taxation year, and

C is 1.2 times the amount, if any, by which

(a) the net cost of insurance of the insurer for the year

exceeds

(b) the total of all amounts each of which is the net cost of pure insurance determined in accordance with section 308 for the year in respect of an interest in a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer;

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

"net cost of insurance" of an insurer for a taxation year means the amount, if any, by which

(a) the amount determined in the description of A in the definition "mortality experience" in respect of the insurer for the year

exceeds

(b) the amount determined in the description of B in the definition "mortality experience" in respect of the insurer for the year;

"net level premium" in respect of a particular premium under a policy (other than a prepaid premium that cannot be refunded except on termination or cancellation of the policy) means

(a) where benefits (other than policy dividends) and premiums (other than the frequency of payment thereof) in respect of the policy have been determined at the date of issue of the policy, the amount determined by the formula

$$A \times \frac{B}{C}$$

where

A is the amount of the particular premium,

B is the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of the amount of the benefits (other than policy dividends) to be provided under the terms of the policy after the issue of the policy, and

C is the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of the amount of the premiums payable under the terms of the policy on or after the issue of the policy, and

(b) where the amounts of the benefits or premiums in respect of the policy are not determined at the date of issue of the policy, the amount that would be determined under paragraph (a) in respect of the particular premium if the amount were adjusted in a manner that is reasonable in the circumstances and consistent with the manner of the adjustment referred to in the definition "modified net premium" in subsection 1404(2) in respect of the particular premium;

"net level premium reserve" in respect of a life insurance policy for a taxation year means the maximum amount that would be deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act pursuant to paragraph 1401(1)(c) in respect of the policy in computing the insurer's income for the year, if any reference to "modified net premium" in sections 1401, 1403 and 1404 were a reference to "net level premium";

"non-participating life insurance policy" means a life insurance policy other than a participating life insurance policy within the meaning assigned by subsection 138(12) of the Act;

"policy loan" has the meaning assigned by subsection 138(12) of the Act;

"pre-funded group life insurance policy" means a group term life insurance policy, other than a policy under which each premium payable is in respect of coverage for a period, including the day on which the premium becomes payable, that does not exceed twelve months;

"premium" includes

(a) consideration received for settlement annuities,

(b) amounts received by an insurer in respect of employee contributions under registered pension funds or plans in respect of which the insurer is a plan sponsor or a retirement compensation arrangement in respect of which the insurer is the custodian, and

(c) any amount deemed by paragraph 138.1(1)(h) of the Act for the purposes of Part I of the Act to be a premium received by an insurer, but does not include amounts received in respect of the repayment of a policy loan or in respect of interest on a policy loan and, for greater certainty, the amount of a premium is not reduced by the amount of a refund of premiums;

"registered life insurance policy" has the meaning assigned by section 211 of the Act;

"reinsurance arrangement" does not include an arrangement under which an insurer has assumed the obligations of the issuer of a life insurance policy to the policyholder;

"segregated fund" has the meaning assigned by subsection 138(12) of the Act;

"specified transaction or event" in respect of a life insurance policy means

(a) a change in underwriting class,

(b) a change in premium due to a change in frequency of premium payments within a year that does not alter the present value, at the beginning of the year, of the total premiums to be paid under the policy in the year,

(c) an addition under the terms of the policy as they existed on March 2, 1988, of accidental death, dismemberment, disability or guaranteed purchase option benefits,

(d) a deletion of a rider,

(e) redating lapsed policies within 60 days after the end of the calendar year in which the lapse occurred, or redating for policy loan indebtedness,

(f) a change in premium due to a correction of erroneous information,

(g) the payment of a premium after its due date, or no more than 30 days before its due date, as established on or before March 2, 1988, or

(h) the payment of an amount of interest described in subparagraph 148(9)(e.1)(i) of the Act; [and]

"taxable life insurance policy" of an insurer at any time means a life insurance policy in Canada issued by the insurer (or in respect of which the insurer has assumed the obligations of the issuer of the policy to the policyholder), other than a policy that is at that time an excluded arrangement.

(2) For the purposes of this Part,

(a) any rider added, at any time after March 2, 1988, to a life insurance policy shall be deemed to be a separate life insurance policy issued at that time; and

(b) in respect of an insurer's first taxation year that commences after June 17, 1987 and ends after 1987, the maximum amount that would have been deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i), (ii) or (iv) of the Act, as the case may be, in computing the insurer's income for the immediately preceding year shall be determined as though the provisions that apply in determining that maximum amount for that first taxation year were applicable in respect of that immediately preceding year.

(3) Prescribed provisions — For the purposes of paragraph (b) of the description of C in subsection 211.1(3) of the Act, as it read in its application to taxation years beginning before 1990, the provisions of the Act that are prescribed are paragraphs 12(1)(i), (i.1), (n), (n.1), (n.2), (n.3), (o), (t), and (v), and subsections 13(1), 59(3.2) and (3.3), 138(4.4) and 140(2).

(4) Prescribed arrangements — For the purposes of the description of D in subsection 211.1(3) of the Act, as it read in its application to taxation years beginning before 1990, prescribed arrangements in respect of an insurer are

(a) life insurance policies in Canada issued by the insurer (or in respect of which the insurer has assumed the obligations of the issuer of the policy to the policyholder) that are group term life insurance policies or existing guaranteed life insurance policies;

(b) life insurance policies (other than life insurance policies in Canada) issued by the insurer (or in respect of which the insurer has assumed the obligations of the issuer of the policy to the policyholder);

(c) retirement compensation arrangements in respect of which the insurer is the custodian; and

(d) reinsurance arrangements under which the insurer has assumed or ceded risks insured under life insurance policies (other than policies issued by the insurer or in respect of which the insurer has assumed the obligations of the issuer of the policy to the policyholder).

(5) Prescribed rules for determining amounts — The amount in the description of D in subsection 211.1(3) of the Act, as it read in its application to taxation years beginning before 1990, in respect of a life insurer for a taxation year is determined by the formula

where

A is the total of all amounts each of which is the maximum amount that would be deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i), (ii) or (iv) of the Act in respect of an excluded arrangement of the insurer in computing the insurer's income for the year, if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan;

B is the total of all amounts each of which is the maximum amount that would have been deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i), (ii) or (iv) of the Act in respect of an excluded arrangement of the insurer in computing the insurer's income for the immediately preceding year, if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan;

C is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount of a benefit, determined on a net of reinsurance ceded basis, that has become payable by the insurer in the year in respect of an excluded arrangement of the insurer, to the extent that the benefit is deducted in computing the insurer's income for the year under Part I of the Act from carrying on a life insurance business in Canada;

D is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount of a premium, determined on a net of reinsurance ceded basis, that has become receivable by the insurer in the year in respect of an excluded arrangement of the insurer, to the extent that the premium is included in computing the insurer's income for the year under Part I of the Act from carrying on a life insurance business in Canada;

E is the positive or negative amount, as the case may be, in respect of the insurer for the year determined by the formula

$$(G - H) - (I - J) + (K - L) - (M - N)$$

where

G is the total of all amounts each of which is the maximum amount that would be deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i), (ii) or (iv) of the Act in respect of a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer in computing the insurer's income for the year, if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan or reinsurance arrangement,

H is the total of all amounts each of which is the maximum amount that would be deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i), (ii) or (iv) of the Act in respect of a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer in computing the insurer's income for the year, if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan,

I is the total of all amounts each of which is the maximum amount that would have been deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i), (ii) or (iv) of the Act in respect of a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer in computing the insurer's income for the immediately preceding taxation year, if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan or reinsurance arrangement,

J is the total of all amounts each of which is the maximum amount that would have been deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i), (ii) or (iv) of the Act in respect of a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer in computing the insurer's income for the immediately preceding taxation year, if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan,

K is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount of a benefit that has become payable in the year by the insurer under a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer,

L is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount of a benefit, determined on a net of reinsurance ceded basis, that has become payable by the insurer under a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer, to the extent that it is deducted in computing the insurer's income from carrying on a life insurance business in Canada for the year,

M is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount of a premium that has become receivable by the insurer in the year under a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer, and

N is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount of a premium determined on [a] net of reinsurance ceded basis, that has become receivable by the insurer in the year under a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer, to the extent that the premium is included in computing the insurer's income from carrying on a life insurance business in Canada for the year; and

F is the positive or negative amount, as the case may be, determined by the formula

where

O is the total of all amounts each of which is an amount in respect of a group term life insurance policy equal to the lesser of

(a) the amount of interest credited by the insurer in the year on account of the policy (other than interest payable in respect of the period ending on its first anniversary date after March 2, 1988), and

(b) the amount, if any, by which the maximum amount that would be deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act pursuant to paragraph 1401(1)(c.1) in respect of the policy in computing the insurer's income for the year, if that amount were determined without reference to any reinsurance arrangement, exceeds the maximum amount that would have been so deductible in computing the insurer's income for the immediately preceding year,

P is 80 per cent of the total of all amounts each of which is the amount in respect of a liability of the insurer, a benefit, a risk or a guarantee, in respect of which an amount is determined under paragraph 1401(1)(a), (c) or (d) for the year, in respect of a pre-funded group life insurance policy of the insurer, determined by multiplying

(a) the rate of interest used in determining the amount under paragraph 1401(1)(a), (c) or (d), as the case may be, for the year in respect of the liability, benefit, risk or guarantee, as the case may be,

by ½ of the total of

(b) the maximum amount that would be deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act pursuant to paragraph 1401(1)(a), (c) or (d), as the case may be, in respect of the liability, benefit, risk or guarantee, as the case may be, in computing the insurer's income for the year if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan or reinsurance arrangement, and

(c) the maximum amount that would have been deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act pursuant to paragraph 1401(1)(a), (c) or (d), as the case may be, in respect of the liability, benefit, risk or guarantee, as the case may be, in computing the insurer's income for the immediately preceding taxation year if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan or reinsurance arrangement,

Q is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount determined for the year in respect of a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer by multiplying

(a) the rate of interest used in determining the maximum amount deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act pursuant to paragraph 1401(1)(c) in respect of the policy in computing the insurer's income for the year,

by ½ of the total of

(b) the maximum amount that would be deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(ii) of the Act in respect of the policy in computing the insurer's income for the year, if that amount were determined without reference to any reinsurance arrangement, and

(c) the maximum amount that would have been deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(ii) of the Act in respect of the policy in computing the insurer's income for the immediately preceding taxation year, if that amount were determined without reference to any reinsurance arrangement, and

R is the total of all amounts each of which is an amount in respect of a group term life insurance policy equal to the amount, if any, by which

(a) the total of all amounts determined in respect of the insurer under the description of O in respect of the policy for taxation years ending before the year

exceeds the total of

(b) the total of all amounts determined in respect of the insurer under the description of R in respect of the policy for taxation years ending before the year, and

(c) the maximum amount that would be deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act pursuant to paragraph 1401(1)(c.1) in respect of the policy in computing the insurer's income for the year, if that amount were determined without reference to any reinsurance arrangement.

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

(6) The amount of the term insurance component in the description of E in subsection 211.1(3) of the Act, as it read in its application to taxation years beginning before 1990, in respect of a life insurer for a taxation year is determined by the formula

$$A + B + C - D + E - F + G + H$$

where

A is the amount determined by multiplying 0.0035 by the total of all amounts each of which is the amount of new insurance effected in the year (other than amounts rescinded in the year) under a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer;

B is the amount determined by multiplying 0.0002 by ½ of the total of

(a) all amounts of insurance in force at the end of the year under taxable life insurance policies of the insurer (other than paid-up policies), and

(b) all amounts of insurance in force at the end of the immediately preceding taxation year under taxable life insurance policies of the insurer (other than paid-up policies);

C is the amount determined by multiplying 0.20 by the net cost of insurance in respect of the insurer for the year;

D is the greater of

(a) the lesser of $2,500,000 and the amount, if any, by which

(i) the total of the amounts determined under the descriptions of A, B, C and E in respect of the insurer for the year

exceeds

(ii) 50 per cent of the amount that would be determined under the description of N in subsection (5) in respect of the insurer for the year, if that amount were determined without reference to any reinsurance arrangement, and

(b) the amount, if any, by which

(i) the total of the amounts determined under the descriptions of A, B, C and E in respect of the insurer for the year

exceeds

(ii) 75 per cent of the amount that would be determined under the description of N in subsection (5) in respect of the insurer for the year, if that amount were determined without reference to any reinsurance arrangement;

E is the amount determined under the description of D in respect of the insurer for the immediately preceding taxation year;

F is such amount as the insurer may claim, not exceeding the positive amount, if any, determined by adding

(a) the mortality experience of the insurer for the year, and

(b) the amount determined under the description of G in respect of the insurer for the year;

G is the mortality loss adjustment account of the insurer for the immediately preceding year; and

H is 1 per cent of the total of all amounts each of which is the amount of a premium that has become receivable by the insurer in the year under a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer in respect of which a positive amount of guaranteed interest is determined for the year under subsection (8).

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

(7) The amount of the amortization adjustment amount in the description of E in subsection 211.1(3) of the Act, as it read in its application to taxation years beginning before 1990, in respect of a life insurer for a taxation year is determined by the formula

$$(A - B) - (C - D)$$

where

A is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount that would be the net level premium reserve for the year in respect of a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer (other than a policy in respect of which a positive amount of guaranteed interest is determined for the year under subsection (8)), if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan or reinsurance agreement;

B is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount that would be the net level premium reserve for the immediately preceding taxation year in respect of a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer (other than a policy in respect of which a positive amount of guaranteed interest is determined for the year under subsection (8)), if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan or reinsurance arrangement;

C is the total of all amounts each of which is the maximum amount that would be deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act pursuant to paragraph 1401(1)(c) in computing the insurer's income for the year, in respect of a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer (other than a policy in respect of which a positive amount of guaranteed interest is determined for the year under subsection (8)), if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan or reinsurance arrangement; and

D is the total of all amounts each of which is the maximum amount that would have been deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act pursuant to paragraph 1401(1)(c) in computing the insurer's income for the immediately preceding taxation year, in respect of a taxable life insurance policy of the insurer (other than a policy in respect of which a positive amount of guaranteed interest is determined for the year under subsection (8)), if that amount were determined without reference to any policy loan or reinsurance arrangement.

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

(8) The amount of guaranteed interest in the description of F in subsection 211.1(3) of the Act, as it read in its application to taxation years beginning before 1990, in respect of a life insurer for a taxation year is the total of all amounts each of which is the guaranteed interest for the year in respect of

(a) a life insurance policy in Canada (other than a policy that was at any time an excluded arrangement), or

(b) a pre-funded group life insurance policy,

where the policy was issued by the insurer (or in respect of which the insurer has assumed the obligations of the issuer of the policy to the policyholder) and the terms and conditions of the policy relating to premiums and benefits were determined on or before March 2, 1988, except that where, at any time after March 2, 1988, the terms and conditions of the policy relating to premiums and benefits have been changed (other than to give effect to terms and conditions which were determined prior to March 3, 1988 or pursuant to a specified transaction or event), the amount of guaranteed interest in respect of the policy for the year in which the change is made and any subsequent taxation year is deemed to be nil.

(9) Prescribed portion — The prescribed portion of an amount referred to in the description of G in subsection 211.1(3) of the Act, as it read in its application to taxation years beginning before 1990, for a taxation year is

(a) where the amount is in respect of a life insurance policy (other than a policy in respect of which a positive amount of guaranteed interest is determined for the year under subsection (8)), 100 per cent of the amount; and

(b) in any other case, nil.

(10) Prescribed arrangements — For the purposes of the description of G in subsection 211.1(3) of the Act, as it read in its application to taxation years beginning before 1990, prescribed arrangements of an insurer are life insurance policies in Canada issued by the insurer (or in respect of which the insurer has assumed the obligations of the issuer of the policy to the policyholder) that are group term life insurance policies or policies that, at any time, were existing guaranteed life insurance policies.

PART XX — POLITICAL CONTRIBUTIONS

History: Part XX was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

2000. Contents of receipts — (1) Every official receipt issued by a registered agent of a registered party shall contain a statement that it is an official receipt for income tax purposes and shall, in a manner that cannot readily be altered, show clearly

(a) the full name of the registered party;

(b) the serial number of the receipt;

(c) the name of the registered agent as recorded in the registry maintained by the Chief Electoral Officer pursuant to subsection 13.1(1) of the Canada Elections Act;

(d) the day on which the receipt was issued;

(e) where the person making the contribution is

(i) a person other than an individual, the day on which the contribution was received where that day differs from the day referred to in paragraph (d), or

(ii) an individual, the calendar year during which the contribution was received;

(f) the place or locality where the receipt was issued;

(g) the name and address of the person making the contribution including, in the case of an individual, his first name or initial;

(h) the amount of the contribution; and

(i) the signature of the registered agent.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 2000(1)

Technical Notes to ITA 127(3), July 18, 2005: It is proposed that subsections 2000(1) and (6) be amended to provide that every official receipt issued by a registered party in respect of a contribution contain, in addition to the information already prescribed, the eligible amount and the amount of the advantage, if any, in respect of the contribution.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), every official receipt issued by an official agent of an officially nominated candidate shall contain a statement that it is an official receipt for income tax purposes and shall, in a manner that cannot readily be altered, show clearly

(a) the name of the officially nominated candidate;

(b) the serial number of the receipt;

(c) the name of the official agent as recorded with the Minister;

(d) the day on which the receipt was issued;

(e) the day on which the contribution was received where that day differs from the day referred to in paragraph (d);

(f) the polling day;

(g) the name and address of the person making the contribution including, in the case of an individual, his first name or initial;

(h) the amount of the contribution; and

(i) the signature of the official agent.

(3) The information required by paragraph (2)(f) may be shown by use of a code on an official receipt form issued by the Chief Electoral Officer, provided that the Minister is advised of the meaning of the code used.

(4) For the purposes of subsections (1) and (2), an official receipt issued to replace an official receipt previously issued shall show clearly that it replaces the original receipt and, in addition to its own serial number, shall show the serial number of the receipt originally issued.

(5) A spoiled official receipt form shall be marked "cancelled" and such form, together with the duplicate thereof, shall be filed by the registered agent or the official agent, as the case may be, together with the duplicates of receipts required to be filed with the Minister pursuant to subsection 230.1(2) of the Act.

(6) Every official receipt form on which

(a) the day on which the contribution was received,

(b) the year during which the contribution was received, or

(c) the amount of the contribution was incorrectly or illegibly entered shall be regarded as spoiled.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 2000(6)

Technical Notes to ITA 127(3), July 18, 2005: See under Reg. 2000(1).

Definitions [Reg. 2000]: "amount" — ITA 248(1); "calendar year" — Interpretation Act 37(1)(a); "Canada" — ITA 255, Interpretation Act 35(1); "contribution" — ITA 127(4.1), Reg. 2002(1); "individual", "Minister" — ITA 248(1); "official receipt" — Reg. 2000(4), 2002; "official receipt form" — Reg. 2002(1); "officially nominated candidate" — Reg. 2002(2); "person" — ITA 248(1); "polling day" — Reg. 2002(2); "registered agent", "registered party" — Reg. 2002(1).

2001. Information returns — The return of information referred to in subsection 230.1(2) of the Act shall be filed by a registered agent on or before the last day of March in each year and shall be in respect of the preceding calendar year.

Definitions [Reg. 2001]: "calendar year" — Interpretation Act 37(1)(a); "registered agent" — Reg. 2002(1).

Forms: T2092: Contributions to a registered party or to a registered association — information return; T2093: Contributions to a candidate at an election — information return.

2002. Interpretation — (1) In this Part,

"contribution" means an amount contributed within the meaning assigned by subsection 127(4.1) of the Act;

"official receipt" means a receipt for the purposes of subsection 127(3) of the Act containing information as provided in subsection 2000(1) or (2), as the case may be;

"official receipt form" means any printed form that a registered agent or an official agent, as the case may be, has that is capable of being completed, or that originally was intended to be completed, as an official receipt of the registered agent or official agent, as the case may be.

(2) In this Part, "official agent", "polling day", "registered agent" and "registered party" have the meanings assigned to them by section 2 of the Canada Elections Act and "officially nominated candidate" means a person in respect of whom a nomination paper and deposit have been filed as referred to in the definition "official nomination" in that section of that Act.

PART XXI — ELECTIONS IN RESPECT OF SURPLUSES

History: Part XXI was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

2100. Reduction of tax-paid undistributed surplus on hand or 1971 capital surplus on hand — Any election under subsection 83(1) of the Act in respect of a dividend payable before 1979 by a Canadian corporation shall be made by filing with the Minister the following documents:

(a) the form prescribed by the Minister;

(b) where the directors of the corporation are legally entitled to administer the affairs of the corporation, a certified copy of their resolution authorizing the election to be made;

(c) where the directors of the corporation are not legally entitled to administer the affairs of the corporation, a certified copy of the authorization of the making of the election by the person or persons legally entitled to administer the affairs of the corporation;

PART XXII — SECURITY INTERESTS

History: The heading before s. 2200 amended by P.C. 1999-1341, s. 1, July 28, 1999, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 18, 1999, deemed to have come into force on June 15, 1994.

Part XXII was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

2200. [Discharge of security] — Where under subsection 220(4) of the Act the Minister has accepted, as security for payment of taxes, a mortgage or other security or guarantee, he may, by a document in writing, discharge such mortgage or other security or guarantee.

History: S. 2200 amended by P.C. 1994-1817, para. 62(c), November 1, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 30, 1994.

Definitions [Reg. 2200]: "Minister" — ITA 248(1); "security", "writing" — Interpretation Act 35(1).

2201. (1) For the purpose of subsection 227(4.2) of the Act, "prescribed security interest", in relation to an amount deemed by subsection 227(4) of the Act to be held in trust by a person, means that part of a mortgage securing the performance of an obligation of the person, that encumbers land or a building, where the mortgage is registered pursuant to the appropriate land registration system before the time the amount is deemed to be held in trust by the person.

(2) For the purpose of subsection (1), where, at any time after 1999, the person referred to in subsection (1) fails to pay an amount deemed by subsection 227(4) of the Act to be held in trust by the person, as required under the Act, the amount of the prescribed security interest referred to in subsection (1) is deemed not to exceed the amount by which the amount, at that time, of the obligation outstanding secured by the mortgage exceeds the total of

(a) all amounts each of which is the value determined at the time of the failure, having regard to all the circumstances including the existence of any deemed trust for the benefit of Her Majesty pursuant to subsection 227(4) of the Act, of all the rights of the secured creditor securing the obligation, whether granted by the person or not, including guarantees or rights of set-off but not including the mortgage referred to in subsection (1), and

(b) all amounts applied after the time of the failure on account of the obligation, so long as any amount deemed under any enactment administered by the Minister, other than the Excise Tax Act, to be held in trust by the person, remains unpaid.

(3) For greater certainty, a prescribed security interest includes the amount of insurance or expropriation proceeds relating to land or a building that is the subject of a registered mortgage interest, adjusted after 1999 in accordance with subsection (2), but does not include a lien, a priority or any other security interest created by statute, an assignment or hypothec of rents or leases, or a mortgage interest in any equipment or fixtures that a mortgagee or any other person has the right absolutely or conditionally to remove or dispose of separately from the land or building.

PART XXIV — INSURERS

History: Part XXIV (ss. 2400–2409) was substituted by P.C. 1979-2483, September 13, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, September 26, 1979.

2400. (1) Definitions — The definitions in this subsection apply in this Part.

"attributed surplus" of a non-resident insurer for a taxation year is the total of

(a) the insurer's property and casualty surplus for the year, and

(b) either,

(i) if the insurer elects for the year in prescribed form and manner, 50% of the total of

(A) the amount that would have been determined at the end of the year in respect of the insurer under subparagraph (a)(ii) of the definition "Canadian investment fund", and

(B) the amount that would have been determined at the end of the preceding taxation year in respect of the insurer under subparagraph (a)(ii) of the definition "Canadian investment fund", each amount being calculated as if throughout the year and the preceding taxation year the insurer had been a life insurer resident in Canada and had not carried on any insurance business other than a life insurance business or an accident and sickness insurance business, or

(ii) if the insurer does not elect under subparagraph (i) for the year, 120% of the total of all amounts each of which is 50% of the amount determined in accordance with regulations or guidelines made under Part XIII of the Insurance Companies Act to be the margin of assets in Canada over liabilities in Canada required to be maintained by the insurer as at the end of the year or as at the end of the preceding taxation year in respect of an insurance business carried on in Canada (other than a property and casualty insurance business).

"Canadian business property" of an insurer for a taxation year in respect of an insurance business means

(a) if the insurer was resident in Canada throughout the year and did not carry on an insurance business outside Canada in the year, property used or held by it in the year in the course of carrying on the business in Canada; and

(b) in any other case, designated insurance property of the insurer for the year in respect of the business.

"Canadian equity property" of a person or partnership (in this definition referred to as the "taxpayer") at any time means property of the taxpayer that is

(a) a share of the capital stock of, or an income bond, income debenture, small business development bond or small business bond issued by, a person (other than a corporation affiliated with the taxpayer) resident in Canada or a Canadian partnership; or

(b) that proportion of property that is shares of the capital stock of an entity that is a corporation affiliated with the taxpayer or an interest in an entity that is a partnership or trust that

(i) the total value for the taxation year or fiscal period of the entity that includes that time of Canadian equity property of the entity,

is of

(ii) the total value for the year or period of all property of the entity.

Related Provisions: Reg. 2400(7) — No double counting.

"Canadian investment fund" of an insurer at the end of a taxation year means

(a) in the case of a life insurer resident in Canada, the total of

(i) the amount determined by the formula

$$A - B$$

where

A is the amount of the insurer's Canadian reserve liabilities as at the end of the year (to the extent that the amount exceeds the amount of surplus appropriations included in that amount), and

B is the amount of the insurer's Canadian outstanding premiums and policy loans as at the end of the year (to the extent that the amount of the premiums and loans are in respect of policies referred to in paragraphs (a) to (c) of the definition "Canadian reserve liabilities" and were not otherwise deducted in computing the amount of the insurer's Canadian reserve liabilities as at the end of the year), and

(ii) the greater of

(A) the amount determined by the formula

$$C + ((D - E + F) \times (G/H))$$

where

C is 8% of the amount determined under subparagraph (i),

D is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount of a deferred realized net gain or an amount expressed as a negative number of a deferred realized net loss of the insurer as at the end of the year,

E is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount of an item reported as an asset that is owned by the insurer at the end of the year and is a share of the capital stock of, or a debt owing to the insurer by, a financial institution affiliated with the insurer,

F is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount as at the end of the year of a debt assumed or incurred by the insurer in respect of the acquisition of an asset described in E (or another property for which an asset described in E is a substituted property),

G is the amount of the insurer's weighted Canadian liabilities as at the end of the year, and

H is the amount of the insurer's weighted total liabilities as at the end of the year, and

(B) the amount determined by the formula

$$(I - J + K + L) \times (M/N)$$

where

I is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount of an item reported as an asset of the insurer as at the end of the year (other than an item that at no time in the year was used or held by the insurer in the course of carrying on an insurance business),

J is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount of an item reported as a liability of the insurer (other than a liability that was at any time in the year connected with an asset that was not used or held by the insurer in the course of carrying on an insurance business at any time in the year) as at the end of the year in respect of an insurance business carried on by the insurer in the year,

K is the total of all amounts each of which is an amount of an item reported by the insurer as at the end of the year as a general provision or allowance for impairment in respect of investment property of the insurer for the year,

L is the total of all amounts each of which is an amount of a deferred realized net gain or an amount expressed as a negative number of a deferred realized net loss of the insurer as at the end of the year,

M is the amount of the insurer's weighted Canadian liabilities as at the end of the year, and

N is the amount of the insurer's weighted total liabilities as at the end of the year; and

(b) in the case of a non-resident insurer, the total of

(i) the amount, if any, by which the amount of the insurer's Canadian reserve liabilities as at the end of the year exceeds the total of

(A) the amount of the insurer's Canadian outstanding premiums, policy loans and reinsurance recoverables as at the end of the year (to the extent that the amount of the premiums, loans or recoverables are in respect of policies referred to in paragraphs (a) to (c) of the definition "Canadian reserve liabilities" and were not otherwise deducted in computing the amount of the insurer's Canadian reserve liabilities as at the end of the year), and

(B) the amount of the insurer's deferred acquisition expenses as at the end of the year in respect of its property and casualty insurance business carried on in Canada, and

(ii) the greatest of

(A) the total of

(I) 8% of the amount determined under subparagraph (i), and

(II) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount of a deferred realized net gain or an amount expressed as a negative number of a deferred realized net loss of the insurer as at the end of the year in respect of an insurance business carried on by the insurer in Canada,

(B) the amount, if any, by which the total of

(I) the amount of the insurer's surplus funds derived from operations as at the end of its preceding taxation year,

(II) the total determined under subclause (A)(II) to the extent not included in subclause (I), and

(III) the total of all amounts in respect of which the insurer made an election under subsection 219(4) or (5.2) of the Act, each of which is an amount included in the total determined in respect of the insurer under subparagraph 219(4)(a)(i.1) of the Act as at the end of its preceding taxation year

exceeds

(IV) the total of amounts determined in respect of the insurer under subparagraphs 219(4)(a)(ii), (iii), (iv) and (v) of the Act, as at the end of the year, and

(C) the total of

(I) the amount of the insurer's attributed surplus for the year, and

(II) if the amount under subclause (I) was determined without the taxpayer electing under subparagraph (b)(i) of the definition "attributed surplus", the amount determined under subclause (A)(II).

Related Provisions: Reg. 2400(6) — Interpretation for cl. (a)(ii)(B).

"Canadian investment property" of an insurer for a taxation year means an investment property of the insurer for the year (other than, if the insurer is non-resident, property established by the insurer as not being effectively connected with its insurance businesses carried on in Canada in the year) that is, at any time in the year

(a) real property situated in Canada;

(b) depreciable property situated in Canada or leased to a person resident in Canada for use inside and outside of Canada;

is of

(ii) the insurer's weighted total liabilities as at the end of the year;

(b) in respect of a non-resident insurer (other than a life insurer), 25% of the total of

(i) the amount, if any, by which the insurer's mean Canadian reserve liabilities for the year exceeds the total of

(A) 50% of the total of its premiums receivable and deferred acquisition expenses as at the end of the year and its premiums receivable and deferred acquisition expenses as at the end of its preceding taxation year to the extent that those amounts were included in the insurer's Canadian reserve liabilities for the year or the preceding taxation year, as the case may be, in respect of the insurer's business in Canada, and

(B) 50% of the total of its reinsurance recoverables as at the end of the year and its reinsurance recoverables as at the end of the preceding taxation year that are in respect of policies referred to in paragraphs (b) and (c) of the definition "Canadian reserve liabilities", and

(ii) the insurer's property and casualty surplus for the year; and

(c) in respect of a non-resident life insurer, the total of

(i) either,

(A) if the insurer makes an election referred to in subparagraph (b)(i) of the definition "attributed surplus" for the year, the greater of

(I) that proportion of the total of all amounts each of which is the value for the year of an equity property of the insurer that

1. the insurer's weighted Canadian liabilities as at the end of the year

is of

2. the insurer's weighted total liabilities as at the end of year, and

(II) 8% of the insurer's mean Canadian investment fund for the year, or

(B) if the insurer does not make this election for the year, 8% of the insurer's mean Canadian investment fund for the year,

(ii) 25% of the amount, if any, by which

(A) the insurer's mean Canadian reserve liabilities for the year (determined on the assumption that the insurer's property and casualty insurance business carried on in Canada during the year was its only insurance business carried on in Canada that year)

exceeds

(B) 50% of the total of its premiums receivable and deferred acquisition expenses as at the end of the year and its premiums receivable and deferred acquisition expenses as at the end of its preceding taxation year, to the extent that those amounts were included in the insurer's Canadian reserve liabilities as at the end of the year or the preceding taxation year, as the case may be, (determined on the assumption that the insurer's property and casualty insurance business carried on in Canada during the year was its only insurance business carried on in Canada that year), and

(iii) 25% of the insurer's property and casualty surplus for the year.

"equity property" of a person or partnership (in this definition referred to as the "taxpayer") at any time means property of the taxpayer that is

exceeds

(ii) the total of the insurer's policy loans (other than policy loans in respect of annuities) as at the end of the year, and

(b) the amount, if any, by which

(i) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount in respect of an insurance business carried on by the insurer in Canada that is reported as a liability of the insurer as at the end of the year, except to the extent that the amount is

(A) in respect of an insurance policy (other than an annuity) described in subparagraph (a)(i),

(B) a liability in respect of an amount payable out of a segregated fund, or

(C) a debt incurred or assumed by the insurer to acquire a property of the insurer,

exceeds

(ii) the total of the insurer's policy loans in respect of annuities as at the end of the year.

"weighted total liabilities" of an insurer as at the end of a taxation year means the total of

(a) 300% of the amount, if any, by which

(i) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount that is in respect of an insurance business carried on by the insurer and that is reported as a liability (other than a liability in respect of an amount payable out of a segregated fund) of the insurer in respect of a life insurance policy (other than an annuity) or an accident and sickness insurance policy

exceeds

(ii) the total of the insurer's policy loans and foreign policy loans (other than policy loans and foreign policy loans in respect of annuities) as at the end of the year, and

(b) the amount, if any, by which

(i) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount that is in respect of an insurance business carried on by the insurer and that is reported as a liability of the insurer as at the end of the year, except to the extent that the amount is

(A) in respect of an insurance policy (other than an annuity) described in subparagraph (a)(i),

(B) a liability in respect of an amount payable out of a segregated fund, or

(C) a debt incurred or assumed by the insurer to acquire a property of the insurer,

exceeds

(ii) the total of the insurer's policy loans and foreign policy loans in respect of annuities as at the end of the year.

(2) Carrying value — For the purposes of this Part, the carrying value of a taxpayer's property for a taxation year, except as otherwise provided in this Part, means

(a) if the taxpayer is an insurer, the amounts reflected in the taxpayer's non-consolidated balance sheet as at the end of the taxation year accepted (or, if that non-consolidated balance sheet was not prepared, the taxpayer's non-consolidated balance sheet as at the end of the year that would have been accepted) by the Superintendent of Financial Institutions, in the case of an insurer that is required under the Insurance Companies Act to report to that Superintendent, or by the superintendent of insurance or other similar officer or authority of the province under the laws of which the insurer is incorporated or otherwise formed, in the case of an insurer that is required by law to report to that officer or authority; and

(b) in any other case, the amounts that would be reflected in the taxpayer's non-consolidated balance sheet as at the end of the taxation year if that balance sheet were prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

(3) Amount or item reported — A reference in this Part to an amount or item reported as an asset or a liability of a taxpayer as at the end of a taxation year means an amount or item that is reported as an asset or a liability in the taxpayer's non-consolidated balance sheet as at the end of the year accepted (or, if that non-consolidated balance sheet was not prepared, the taxpayer's non-consolidated balance sheet as at the end of the year that would have been accepted) by the Superintendent of Financial Institutions, in the case of an insurer that is required under the Insurance Companies Act to report to that Superintendent, or by the superintendent of insurance or other similar officer or authority of the province under the laws of which the insurer is incorporated or otherwise formed, in the case of an insurer that is required by law to report to that officer or authority.

(4) Application of certain definitions — For the purposes

(a) of subsection 138(14) of the Act, the expressions "Canadian investment fund for a taxation year", "specified Canadian assets" and "value for the taxation year" have the meanings prescribed for them by subsection 2404(1) as it read in its application to the 1977 taxation year; and

(b) of subsection 219(7) of the Act, the expressions "attributed surplus" and "Canadian investment fund" have the meaning prescribed for them by subsection (1).

(5) Deeming rules for certain assets — For the purposes of this Part, other than subsection 2401(6), an asset of an insurer is deemed not to have been used or held by the insurer in a taxation year in the course of carrying on an insurance business if the asset

(a) is owned by the insurer at the end of the year; and

(b) is a share of the capital stock of, or a debt owing to the insurer by, a financial institution affiliated with the insurer during each of the days in the year during which the insurer owned the asset.

(6) [Idem] — For the purposes of clause (a)(ii)(B) of the definition "Canadian investment fund" in subsection (1), an asset of an insurer is deemed not to have been used or held by the insurer in a taxation year in the course of carrying on an insurance business if the asset

(a) is owned by the insurer at the end of the year; and

(b) is

(i) goodwill which arose as a result of an amalgamation, a winding-up of an affiliated financial institution, or the assumption by the insurer of any obligation of another insurer with which the insurer deals at arm's length if a reserve in respect of the obligation

(A) may be claimed by the insurer under paragraph 20(7)(c) or subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) or (ii) of the Act, or

(B) could be claimed by the insurer under paragraph 20(7)(c) or subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) or (ii) of the Act if the obligations were insurance policies in Canada, or

(ii) real property (or the portion of real property) owned by the insurer and occupied by the insurer for the purposes of carrying on an insurance business.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 2400(6)

Letter from Dept. of Finance, June 30, 2006:

Dear [xxx]:

I am writing in response to your letters concerning your request for a modification to subsection 2400(6) of the Income Tax Regulations ("Regulations").

Under existing subsection 2400(6), certain assets of an insurer are, for the purpose of clause (a)(ii)(b) of the definition "Canadian investment fund" in subsection 2400(1), deemed not to have been used or held by the insurer in the taxation year in the course of carrying on an insurance business. Such assets include goodwill that arose as a result of an amalgamation or a winding-up of an affiliated financial institution or on the assumption by the insurer of certain obligations of another insurer with which the insurer deals at arm's length.

You have recommended that subsection 2400(6) be amended to include a reference to goodwill that arose as a result of an acquisition or disposition of an affiliated financial institution. You are requesting the modification to subsection 2400(6) because the structure of the [xxx] is being reorganized and, as part of that reorganization, [xxx] has transferred certain foreign insurance and non-insurance subsidiaries to a newly-incorporated Canadian subsidiary of [xxx]. As a result of this reorganization, a portion of the goodwill that arose on the arm's length acquisition of a foreign financial institution and that was not, before the reorganization, required by generally accepted accounting principles to be reported on the non-consolidated balance sheet of [xxx] is, after the reorganization, required by generally accepted accounting principles to be reported on its balance sheet. In your view, such purchased goodwill arising under the reorganization should, under subsection 2400(6), receive the same treatment as the goodwill arising in the other circumstances set out in that subsection.

We have reviewed your submission and have concluded that the purchased goodwill arising under the reorganization should, under subsection 2400(6), receive the same treatment as the goodwill arising in the other circumstances set out in that subsection. Consequently, we are prepared to recommend to the Minister of Finance a modification to subsection 2400(6) that would achieve that result, effective for the 2005 and subsequent taxation years. We cannot, however, offer any assurances that either the Minister of Finance or Parliament will agree with our recommendation that we intend to make in this regard. Nonetheless, we trust that this statement of our position is helpful.

Yours sincerely,

Brian Ernewein, Director, Tax Legislation Division, Tax Policy Branch

(7) No double counting — For greater certainty, a particular property or a particular proportion of a property shall not, directly or indirectly, be used or included more than once in determining, for a particular taxation year, the Canadian equity property or the equity property of a person or partnership.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 2400(8)

(8) Transition year — A computation that is required to be made under this Part in respect of an insurer's taxation year that included September 30, 2006 and that is relevant to a computation (in this subsection referred to as the "transition year computation") that is required to be made under this Part in respect of the insurer's first taxation year that begins after that date shall, for the purposes only of the transition year computation, be made using the same definitions, rules and methodologies that are used in the transition year computation.

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), s. 102, will add subsec. 2400(8), applicable to taxation years that begin after September 2006.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): Certain of the accounting rules that insurance corporations must follow are being changed effective for fiscal years beginning after September 2006. These changes impact the tax rules that apply to insurance corporations for taxation years commencing after September 2006.

In order to ensure that no inconsistencies arise under Part XXIV in respect of the tax treatment of insurance corporations as a result of these changes, new subsection 2400(8) provides a special rule for computations that are required to be made under Part XXIV in respect of an insurer's taxation year that included September 30, 2006 and that is relevant to a computation (the "transition year computation") that is required to be made under Part XXIV in respect of the insurer's first taxation year that begins after September 2006. The rule specifies that such computations are, for the purposes only of the transition year computation, to be made using the same definitions, rules and methodologies that are used in the transition year computation. These would include accounting rules required to be complied with by the insurer in its transition year.

History [Reg. 2400]: S. 2400 substituted by P.C. 2000-1714, November 30, 2000, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 20, 2000, subsec. 2(2), applicable to 1999 et seq.

History [former Reg. 2400]: Para. 2400(3)(a) amended to add reference to s. 51.1 of the Act, by P.C. 2000-1714, November 30, 2000, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 20, 2000, subsec. 2(1), applicable to transactions occurring after October 1994.

Subpara. 2400(6)(b)(ii) amended by P.C. 1994-1817, para. 62(d), November 1, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 30, 1994.

Subsecs. 2400(1) to (3) substituted and subsecs. 2400(4) to (7) substituted for (4) and (5) by P.C. 1990-2002, s. 6, September 20, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, October 10, 1990, applicable in respect of taxation years beginning after June 17, 1987 and ending after 1987 except that in applying subsecs. (5) and (6) to a taxpayer's first taxation year that begins after June 17, 1987 and that ends after 1987, they shall, where the taxpayer elects in the taxpayer's return of income under Part I of the Act for that year, be read as follows:

(5) Where a property was owned by the insurer throughout any period in a taxation year and throughout that period the property was used by the insurer in, or held by the insurer in the course of, carrying on an insurance business outside Canada, the property may not be designated by the insurer under subsection (1) for the period in respect of an insurance business in Canada of the insurer.

(6) For the purposes of subsection (1), investment property of the insurer shall, subject to subsection (5), be designated by the insurer in respect of a taxation year in respect of its insurance businesses in Canada in the following order, to the extent thereof and to the extent required:

(a) investment property owned by the insurer at any time in the year that was designated in respect of an insurance business in Canada of the insurer in the immediately preceding taxation year;

(b) investment property (other than an investment property referred to in paragraph (a)) owned by the insurer at any time in the year that was Canadian investment property, except that that investment property shall be designated in the following order, namely,

(i) land and depreciable property situated in Canada,

(ii) mortgages, hypothecs, agreements of sale and other forms of indebtedness in respect of property referred to in subparagraph (i), and

(iii) other property; and

(c) other investment property owned by the insurer at any time in the year.

2401. (1) Designated insurance property — For the purposes of the definition "designated insurance property" in subsection 138(12) of the Act, "designated insurance property" of an insurer for a taxation year means property that is designated in accordance with subsections (2) to (7) for the year

(a) by the insurer in its return of income under Part I of the Act for the year; or

(b) if the Minister determines that the insurer has not made a designation that is in accordance with the prescribed rules found in this section, by the Minister.

(2) Designation rules — For the purposes of subsection (1), an insurer, or the Minister if paragraph (1)(b) applies,

(a) shall designate for a taxation year investment property of the insurer for the year with a total value for the year equal to the amount, if any, by which the insurer's mean Canadian reserve liabilities for the year in respect of its life insurance business in Canada exceeds the total of the insurer's mean Canadian outstanding premiums and mean policy loans for the year in respect of that business (to the extent that the amount of the mean policy loans was not otherwise deducted in computing the insurer's mean Canadian reserve liabilities for the year);

(b) shall designate for a taxation year investment property of the insurer for the year with a total value for the year equal to the amount, if any, by which the insurer's mean Canadian reserve liabilities for the year in respect of its accident and sickness insurance business in Canada exceeds the total of

(i) the insurer's mean Canadian outstanding premiums for the year in respect of that business, and

(ii) 50% of the total of all amounts, each of which is its total reinsurance recoverables, as at the end of the year or as at the end of the preceding taxation year, that are in respect of that business;

(c) shall designate for a taxation year in respect of the insurer's insurance business in Canada (other than a life insurance business or an accident and sickness insurance business) investment property of the insurer for the year with a total value for the year equal to the amount, if any, by which the insurer's mean Canadian reserve liabilities for the year in respect of that business exceeds the total of

(i) 50% of the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, as at the end of the year or as at the end of its preceding taxation year, of a premium receivable or a deferred acquisition expense (to the extent that it is included in the insurer's Canadian reserve liabilities as at the end of the year or preceding taxation year, as the case may be) of the insurer in respect of that business, and

(ii) 50% of the total of all amounts, each of which is its total reinsurance recoverables, as at the end of the year or as at the end of the preceding taxation year, that are in respect of that business;

(d) if

(i) the insurer's mean Canadian investment fund for a taxation year

exceeds

(ii) the total value for the year of all property required to be designated under paragraph (a), (b) or (c) for the year, shall designate for the year, in respect of a particular insurance business that the insurer carries on in Canada, investment property of the insurer for the year with a total value for the year equal to that excess;

(e) for greater certainty, under each of paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d), shall designate for the taxation year investment property with a total value for the year equal to the amount, if any, determined under each of those paragraphs, and no investment property, or portion of investment property, designated for the year under any of paragraphs (a) to (d) may be designated for the year under any other paragraph; and

(f) may designate for a taxation year a portion of a particular investment property if the designation of the entire property would result in a designation of property with a total value for the year exceeding that required to be designated under paragraphs (a) to (d) for the year.

(3) Order of designation of properties — For the purpose of subsection (2), investment property of an insurer for a taxation year shall be designated for the year in respect of the insurer's insurance businesses carried on by it in Canada in the following order:

(a) Canadian investment property of the insurer for the year owned by the insurer at the beginning of the year that was designated insurance property of the insurer for its preceding taxation year, except that such property shall be designated in the following order:

(i) real and depreciable property,

(ii) mortgages, hypothecs, agreements of sale and other forms of indebtedness in respect of real property situated in Canada or depreciable property situated in Canada or depreciable property leased to a person resident in Canada for use inside and outside of Canada, and

(iii) other property;

(b) investment property (other than Canadian investment property of the insurer for the year) owned by the insurer at the beginning of the year that was designated insurance property of the insurer for its preceding taxation year;

(c) Canadian investment property of the insurer for the year (other than property included in paragraph (a)) in the order set out in subparagraphs (a)(i) to (iii); and

(d) other investment property.

(4) Equity limit for the year — Notwithstanding subsections (2) and (3),

(a) the total value for the year of Canadian equity property of an insurer that may be designated in respect of the insurer's insurance businesses for a taxation year shall not exceed the insurer's equity limit for the year; and

(b) for a taxation year a portion of a particular Canadian equity property of an insurer may be designated if the designation of the entire property would result in a designation of Canadian equity property of the insurer for the year with a total value for the year exceeding the insurer's equity limit for the year.

(5) Exchanged property — For the purposes of subsection (3), property acquired by an insurer in a particular taxation year is deemed to be designated insurance property of the insurer in respect of a particular business of the insurer for its preceding taxation year and to have been owned by the insurer at the beginning of the particular taxation year if the property was acquired

(a) by reason of

(i) a transaction to which any of sections 51, 51.1, 85.1 and 86 of the Act applies,

(ii) a transaction in respect of which an election is made under subsection 85(1) or (2) of the Act,

(iii) an amalgamation (within the meaning assigned by subsection 87(1) of the Act), or

(iv) a winding-up of a corporation to which subsection 88(1) of the Act applies, and

(b) as consideration for or in exchange for property of the insurer that was designated insurance property of the insurer in respect of the particular insurance business for its preceding taxation year.

(6) Non-investment property — Non-segregated property owned by an insurer at any time in a taxation year (other than investment property of the insurer for the year) that is used or held by the insurer in the year in the course of carrying on an insurance business in Canada is deemed to be designated insurance property of the insurer for the year in respect of the business.

(7) Policy loan excluded from designated property — Notwithstanding any other provision in this Part, a policy loan payable to an insurer is not designated insurance property of the insurer.

History: S. 2401 substituted by P.C. 2000-1714, November 30, 2000, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 20, 2000, subsec. 2(2), applicable to 1999 et seq.

2402. Income from participating life insurance businesses — For the purposes of clause 138(3)(a)(iii)(B) of the Act and subparagraph 309(1)(e)(i), in computing a life insurer's income for a taxation year from its participating life insurance business carried on in Canada,

(a) there shall be included that proportion of the insurer's gross Canadian life investment income for the year that

(i) the aggregate of the insurer's mean maximum tax actuarial reserve for the year in respect of participating life insurance policies in Canada and the mean amount on deposit with the insurer for the year in respect of those policies

(ii) the aggregate of amounts, each of which is

(A) the insurer's mean maximum tax actuarial reserve for the year in respect of a class of life insurance policies in Canada, or

(B) the mean amount on deposit with the insurer for the year in respect of a class of policies described in clause (A);

Proposed Addition — Reg. 2402(a.1)

(a.1) there shall be included the amount determined by the formula

$$(A + B) \times \frac{C}{D}$$

where

A is the amount required by subsection 142.5(5) of the Act to be included in computing the insurer's income for the year,

B is the amount deemed by subsection 142.5(7) of the Act to be a taxable capital gain of the insurer for the year from the disposition of property,

C is the amount determined under subparagraph (a)(i) for the taxation year of the insurer that includes October 31, 1994, and

D is the amount determined under subparagraph (a)(ii) for the taxation year of the insurer that includes October 31, 1994;

Application: The June 1, 1995 draft regulations (securities held by financial institutions), subsec. 2(1), will add para. 2402(a.1), applicable to taxation years that end after October 30, 1994.

Technical Notes: Section 2402 contains rules for determining a life insurer's income for a year from carrying on its participating life insurance business in Canada. This income is relevant for subparagraph 138(3)(a)(iii) of the Act, which permits an insurer to deduct policy dividends to the extent that the total amount of dividends paid after its 1968 taxation year does not exceed the total amount of its participating business income after that year. Section 2402 is amended to reflect the new rules in the Act for the tax treatment of securities held by financial institutions, and to delete provisions which are no longer applicable.

New paragraph 2402(a.1) includes in an insurer's income from its participating business for a taxation year an amount in respect of the transition adjustments for the mark-to-market requirement for shares. The amount included is equal to a proportion of the transition amount for non-capital gains included in the insurer's income for the year by subsection 142.5(5) of the Act, plus the same proportion of the insurer's deemed taxable capital gain for the year under subsection 142.5(7). The ratio used for this purpose is equal to the ratio used under paragraph 2402(a) in determining the proportion of the insurer's gross Canadian life investment income for its taxation year that includes October 31, 1994 that is included in its income from its participating business. Paragraph 2402(a.1) applies to taxation years ending after October 30, 1994.

(b) there shall be included

(i) the amount deducted by the insurer under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(iv) of the Act in computing its income for the immediately preceding taxation year,

(ii) the insurer's maximum tax actuarial reserve for the immediately preceding taxation year in respect of participating life insurance policies in Canada,

(iii) the maximum amount deductible by the insurer under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(ii) of the Act in computing its income for the immediately preceding taxation year in respect of participating life insurance policies in Canada, and

(iv) that proportion of the amount included in income by the insurer for the year under section 12.3 that

(A) the amount determined under clause (f)(iii)(A) for its first taxation year that commences after June 17, 1987 and ends after 1987

is of

(B) the amount determined under clause (f)(iii)(B) for its first taxation year that commences after June 17, 1987 and ends after 1987;

Proposed Repeal — Reg. 2402(b)(iv)

Application: The June 1, 1995 draft regulations (securities held by financial institutions), subsec. 2(2), will repeal subpara. 2402(b)(iv), applicable to taxation years that begin after 1992.

Technical Notes: Subparagraph 2402(b)(iv) relates to a transitional provision introduced in conjunction with the 1987 tax reform measures. The transitional provision, and subparagraph 2402(b)(iv), last applied to taxation years that began in 1992. The subparagraph is repealed since it is no longer applicable.

(c) there shall not be included any amount in respect of the insurer's participating life insurance policies in Canada that was deducted under subparagraphs 138(3)(a)(i) or (ii) of the Act in computing its income for the immediately preceding taxation year;

(d) except as otherwise provided in paragraph (a), there shall not be included any amount as a reserve that was deducted under paragraph 20(1)(l) of the Act in computing the insurer's income for the immediately preceding taxation year;

(e) except as otherwise provided in paragraph (a), there shall not be included

(i) any amount that was included in income for the year by the insurer pursuant to 138(4)(b) or (c) of the Act, or

(ii) any amount that was included in computing the insurer's gains or taxable capital gains for the year from the disposition of property;

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 2402(e)

(e) except as provided in paragraph (a), there shall not be included any amount that was included in determining the insurer's gross Canadian life investment income for the year;

Application: The June 1, 1995 draft regulations (securities held by financial institutions), subsec. 2(3), will amend para. 2402(e) to read as above, applicable to taxation years that end after February 22, 1994.

Technical Notes: Paragraph 2402(e) provides that certain amounts are not included in computing an insurer's income from its participating life insurance business, except as provided by paragraph 2402(a). Paragraph 2402(e) is amended so that it applies with respect to all amounts included in determining an insurer's gross Canadian life investment income. This amendment is made for purposes of clarification, and because of the introduction of the new rules for the taxation of securities held by financial institutions. In this latter regard, subparagraph 2402(e)(i) refers to paragraphs 138(4)(b) and (c) of the Act, which are being repealed.

(e.1) except as provided in paragraph (a.1), there shall not be included the amounts referred to in the descriptions of A and B in that paragraph;

(e.2) where the year includes October 31, 1994, there shall be deducted the amount determined by the formula

$$(A + B) \times \frac{C}{D}$$

where

A is the amount deducted under subsection 142.5(4) of the Act in computing the insurer's income for the year,

B is the amount deemed by subsection 142.5(6) of the Act to be an allowable capital loss of the insurer for the year from the disposition of property,

C is the amount determined under subparagraph (a)(i) for the year, and

D is the amount determined under subparagraph (a)(ii) for the year;

Application: The June 1, 1995 draft regulations (securities held by financial institutions), subsec. 2(4), will add paras. 2402(e.1) and (e.2), applicable to taxation years that end after October 30, 1994.

Technical Notes: New paragraph 2402(e.1) provides that the transition amounts associated with the introduction of the mark-to-market requirement for shares are not to be included in an insurer's income from its participating life insurance business, except as provided by new paragraph 2402(a.1).

New paragraph 2402(e.2) provides for a deduction in computing an insurer's income from its participating business in respect of the transition deductions associated with the introduction of the mark-to-market requirement for shares. This deduction applies for the insurer's taxation year that includes October 31, 1994. The deducted amount is equal to a proportion of the transition deduction for non-capital gains claimed by the insurer under subsection 142.5(4) of the Act, plus the same proportion of the allowable capital loss claimed by the insurer under subsection 142.5(6). The ratio used for this purpose is equal to the ratio used under paragraph 2402(a) in determining the proportion of the insurer's gross Canadian life investment income for its taxation year that includes October 31, 1994 that is included in its income from its participating business.

(f) there shall be deducted

(i) the insurer's maximum tax actuarial reserve for the year in respect of participating life insurance policies in Canada,

(ii) the maximum amount deductible by the insurer under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(ii) of the Act in computing its income for the year in respect of participating life insurance policies in Canada, and

(iii) that proportion of the amount deducted from income by the insurer for the year under subsection 20(26) that

(A) the amount determined in respect of the insurer for the year under subparagraph (a)(i),

is of

(B) the amount determined in respect of the insurer for the year under subparagraph (a)(ii);

Proposed Repeal — Reg. 2402(f)(iii)

Application: The June 1, 1995 draft regulations (securities held by financial institutions), subsec. 2(5), will repeal subpara. 2402(f)(iii), applicable to taxation years that begin after 1992.

Technical Notes: Subparagraph 2402(f)(iii) relates to a transitional deduction provided in conjunction with the 1987 tax reform measures. The transitional deduction, and subparagraph 2402(f)(iii), applied to an insurer's first taxation year that began after June 17, 1987 and ended after 1987. The subparagraph is repealed since it is no longer applicable.

(g) no deduction shall be made in respect of any amount deductible under subparagraph 138(3) (a)(iii) or (iv) of the Act in computing the insurer's income for the year;

(h) except as as otherwise provided in paragraph (a), no deduction shall be made in respect of

(i) any amount deductible under paragraph 138(3)(b) or (d) of the Act in computing the insurer's income for the year,

(ii) any amount deductible as a reserve under paragraph 20(1)(l) of the Act in computing the insurer's income for the year, or

(iii) any amount included in computing the insurer's losses or allowable capital losses for the year from the disposition of property;

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 2402(h)

(h) except as provided in paragraph (a), no deduction shall be made in respect of

(i) any amount taken into account in determining the insurer's gross Canadian life investment income for the year, or

(ii) any amount deductible under paragraph 20(1)(l) of the Act in computing the insurer's income for the year;

Application: The June 1, 1995 draft regulations (securities held by financial institutions), subsec. 2(6), will amend para. 2402(h) to read as above, applicable to taxation years that end after February 22, 1994.

Technical Notes: Paragraph 2402(h) provides that certain amounts are not deducted in computing an insurer's income from its participating life insurance business, except as provided by paragraph 2402(a). Paragraph 2402(h) is amended so that it applies with respect to all amounts that are included in determining an insurer's gross Canadian life investment income. This amendment is made for purposes of clarification and because of the introduction of the new rules for the taxation of securities held by financial institutions. In this latter regard, subparagraph 2402(h)(i) refers to paragraphs 138(3)(b) and (d) of the Act, which are being repealed.

(h.1) except as provided in paragraph (e.2), no deduction shall be made in respect of the amounts referred to in the descriptions of A and B in paragraph (e.2);

Application: The June 1, 1995 draft regulations (securities held by financial institutions), subsec. 2(7), will add para. 2402(h.1), applicable to taxation years that end after October 30, 1994.

Technical Notes: New paragraph 2402(h.1) provides that the transition amounts deducted by an insurer in connection with the introduction of the mark-to-market requirement for shares are not to be deducted in computing the insurer's income from its participating life insurance business, except as provided by new paragraph 2402(e.2).

(i) except as otherwise provided in paragraph (f), no deduction shall be made in respect of a reserve deductible under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) or (ii) of the Act in computing the insurer's income for the year; and

(j) except as otherwise provided in this section, the provisions of the Act relating to the computation of income from a source shall apply.

History: Subpara. 2402(b)(iii) added, and paras. (c) to (f), (h) and (i) substituted, by P.C. 1990-2002, s. 7, September 20, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, October 10, 1990, applicable in respect of taxation years beginning after June 17, 1987 and ending after 1987 except that in its application in respect of [an insurer's] first such taxation year,

(a) subpara. (b)(iii) shall be read as follows:

"(iii) the maximum amount of a reserve deductible by the insurer in computing its income for the immediately preceding taxation year in respect of unpaid claims under participating life insurance policies in Canada received by the insurer before the end of that year, and";

(b) para. (c) shall be read as follows:

"(c) there shall not be included any amount in respect of the insurer's participating life insurance policies in Canada that was deducted in computing its income for the immediately preceding taxation year under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act or as a reserve in respect of unpaid claims received before the end of that year;" and

(c) para. (d) shall read as it read for [the insurer's] last taxation year ending before 1988.

All that portion of s. 2402 preceding para. (a) substituted by P.C. 1983-3530, s. 7, November 17, 1983, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 24, 1983, applicable to taxation years commencing after 1982.

2403. Branch tax elections — (1) An election referred to in subsection 219(4) of the Act shall be made by a non-resident insurer in respect of a taxation year by filing, with its return of income required by subsection 150(1) of the Act to be filed for the year, a letter in duplicate stating

(a) the insurer elects under subsection 219(4) of the Act; and

(b) the amount the insurer elects to deduct under subsection 219(4) of the Act.

(2) Where a joint election referred to in subsection 219(5.2) of the Act is made by a non-resident insurer and a qualified related corporation (within the meaning assigned by subsection 219(8) of the Act) of the non-resident insurer in respect of a taxation year of the non-resident insurer, it shall be made by filing, with the non-resident insurer's return of income required by subsection 150(1) of the Act to be filed for the year in which the event to which the election relates occurred, a letter in duplicate signed by an authorized officer of the non-resident insurer and an authorized officer of the qualified related corporation stating

(a) whether paragraphs 219(5.2)(a) and (b) of the Act apply; and

(b) the amount elected under subsection 219(5.2) of the Act.

2404. Currency conversions [inapplicable since 1999] — For the purposes of this Part, where any amount is determined in a currency other than Canadian currency, that amount shall be converted to Canadian currency using the current rate of exchange, as required for the purposes of the relevant authority, on the date in respect of which the amount is determined.

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2404 does not apply as of 1999.

Definitions [Reg. 2404]: "amount" — ITA 248(1); "relevant authority" — Reg. 2405(3).

2405. Interpretation [inapplicable since 1999] — (1) In this Part,

(a) "total depreciation" has the meaning assigned by paragraph 13(21)(e) [13(21)"total depreciation"] of the Act;

(b) "accumulated 1968 deficit", "amount payable", "gross investment revenue", "life insurance policy", "life insurance policy in Canada", "maximum tax actuarial reserve", "non-segregated property", "participating life insurance policy", "policy loan" and "surplus funds derived from operations" have the meanings assigned by subsection 138(12) of the Act; and

(c) "segregated fund" and "segregated fund policies" have the meaning assigned by subsection 138.1(1) of the Act.

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

(2) For the purposes of subsection 138(14) of the Act, the expressions "Canadian investment fund for a taxation year", "specified Canadian assets" and "value for the taxation year" have the meanings prescribed therefor by subsection 2404(1) as it read in its application to the 1977 taxation year.

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

(3) In this Part and for the purposes of paragraph 219(7)(a) [219(7)"attributed surplus for the year"] of the Act,

"attributed surplus for the year", for a taxation year in respect of a non-resident insurer, means the aggregate of

(a) its property and casualty surplus for the year, and

(b) an amount equal to the percentage (that is the life surplus factor for the year) of the amount for the year determined under clause (a)(i)(B) of the definition "life surplus factor" in this subsection;

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 2405(3)"Canadian business property" [temporary]

"Canadian business property" of an insurer for a taxation year in respect of an insurance business means

(a) where the insurer was resident in Canada throughout the year and either did not carry on a life insurance business in the year or did not carry on an insurance business outside Canada in the year, the property used by it in the year in, or held by it in the year in the course of, carrying on the business in Canada, and

(b) in any other case, the property designated under subsection 2400(1) for the year by the insurer in respect of the business;

Application: The June 1, 1995 draft regulations (securities held by financial institutions), subsec. 3(10), will add the definition "Canadian business property" to subsec. 2405(3), applicable to taxation years that end after February 22, 1994. Reg. 2405 no longer applies as of 1999; see Reg. 2406.

Technical Notes: A definition of "Canadian business property" is added to subsection 2405(3). This expression is used in the definition of "gross Canadian life investment income", which is also in subsection 2405(3).

In the case of an insurer that is required to designate property under subsection 2400(1), the "Canadian business property" of the insurer for a taxation year in respect of an insurance business is the property designated for the year in respect of the business. (The designation rules apply to non-resident insurers, and to multinational resident life insurers.)

The "Canadian business property" of any other insurer for a taxation year in respect of an insurance business is the property that is factually determined to have been used by the insurer in the year in, or held by it in the year in the course of, carrying on the business in Canada.

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"Canadian equity property" means

(a) a share of the capital stock of, or an income bond, income debenture, small business development bond or a small business bond issued by, a person (other than a designated corporation) or partnership, as the case may be, resident in Canada, or

(b) that proportion of shares of the capital stock of a designated corporation or an interest in a partnership or trust that

(i) the aggregate value for the year of Canadian equity property owned by the designated corporation or the partnership or trust, as the case may be,

is of

(ii) the aggregate value for the year of all property owned by the designated corporation, or partnership or trust, as the case may be;

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"Canadian investment fund", as at the end of a taxation year, in respect of

(a) a life insurer resident in Canada, means the positive amount determined by the formula

where

A is the amount of the insurer's Canadian reserve liabilities as at the end of the year,

B is the amount of the insurer's total reserve liabilities as at the end of the year,

C is the total of

(i) the aggregate amount of policy loans and foreign policy loans of the insurer as at the end of the year, and

(ii) the valuation of all property of the insurer as at the end of the year each of which is

(A) an investment property,

(B) money, or

(C) a balance (other than a property included under (A) or (B)) standing to the insurer's credit as or on account of amounts deposited with a corporation authorized to accept deposits or to carry on the business of offering to the public its services as a trustee,

D is the total of

(i) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is an amount outstanding as at the end of the year in respect of a debt (other than a debt referred to in paragraph (h) of the definition "valuation" in this subsection or an amount referred to in subparagraph (ii)) owing by the insurer in respect of money borrowed by the insurer (other than money used by the insurer for the purpose of earning income from a source that is not an insurance business), and

(ii) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the amount of a cheque outstanding at the end of the year drawn on an account of the insurer maintained with a corporation authorized to accept deposits or to carry on the business of offering to the public its services as a trustee, and

E is the aggregate amount of the policy loans of the insurer as at the end of the year, and

(b) a non-resident insurer, means the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of amounts each of which is

(i) a maximum tax actuarial reserve of the insurer for the year,

(i.1) the maximum amount that the insurer is entitled to claim under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(ii) of the Act for the year,

(ii) the maximum amount that the insurer is entitled to deduct under paragraph 20(7)(c) of the Act in computing its income for the year determined on the assumption that it carried on no other than life insurance business other than an accident and sickness insurance business,

(iii) the amount of policy dividends, to the extent that such dividends were not included under subparagraph (i) or (ii), that will, according to the annual report of the insurer filed with the relevant authority for the year or, where the insurer was throughout the year subject to the supervision of the relevant authority but was not required to file an annual report with the relevant authority for the year, according to its financial statements for the year, as at the end of the year, become payable by the insurer in the immediately following year under its participating life insurance policies,

(iv) a liability (other than a debt referred to in paragraph (h) of the definition "valuation" in this subsection) or a reserve (other than the insurer's investment valuation reserve) as reported by the insurer in its annual report for the year to the relevant authority or, where the insurer was throughout the year subject to the supervision of the relevant authority but was not required to file an annual report with the relevant authority for the year, in its financial statements for the year, that was incurred or provided for in the course of carrying on the insurer's property and casualty insurance business in Canada except to the extent those amounts are already included under subparagraph (ii),

(v) a debt (other than a debt referred to in paragraph (h) of the definition "valuation" in this subsection) owing by the insurer at that time that was incurred in the course of carrying on an insurance business (other than a property and casualty insurance business) in Canada, except to the extent those amounts are already included under subparagraph (i), (i.1) or (iii), or

(vi) the amount that is the greater of

(A) the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of

(I) the insurer's surplus funds derived from operations computed as at the end of the immediately preceding taxation year, and

(II) the aggregate of amounts in respect of which the insurer has made an election under subsection 219(4) or (5.2) of the Act, each of which is an amount included in the aggregate determined in respect of the insurer under subparagraph 219(4)(a)(i.1) of the Act at the end of the immediately preceding taxation year

exceeds

(III) the aggregate of amounts determined in respect of the insurer under subparagraphs 219(4)(a)(ii), (iii), (iv) and (v) of the Act, as at the end of the taxation year, and

(B) the insurer's attributed surplus for the year,

exceeds the aggregate of

(vii) the aggregate valuation of all non-segregated property referred to in paragraph 2400(1)(e) at the end of the year in respect of all the insurer's insurance businesses carried on in Canada other than property that is

(A) money, or

(B) a balance standing to the insurer's credit as or on account of amounts deposited with a corporation authorized to accept deposits or to carry on the business of offering to the public its services as a trustee, and

(viii) the aggregate amount of the insurer's deferred acquisition expenses in respect of its property and casualty insurance business in Canada reported by the insurer in its annual report for the year to the relevant authority or, where the insurer was throughout the year subject to the supervision of the relevant authority but was not required to file an annual report with the relevant authority for the year, in its financial statements for the year;

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas; Reg. 2405(5) — Mark-to-market rule to be ignored; Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"Canadian investment property" of an insurer for a taxation year means an investment property (unless the insurer is a non-resident insurer and it is established by the insurer that the investment property is not effectively connected with its Canadian insurance businesses) that is

(a) land or depreciable property situated in Canada and, for that purpose, depreciable property of an insurer leased by a person resident in Canada for use inside and outside of Canada shall be deemed to be depreciable property situated in Canada,

(b) a Canadian equity property,

(c) a Canadian resource property,

(d) a mortgage, an agreement of sale or any other form of indebtedness in respect of property referred to in paragraph (a),

(e) an amount in Canadian currency standing to the insurer's credit as or on account of amounts deposited with a corporation resident in Canada authorized to accept deposits or to carry on the business of offering to the public its services as a trustee,

(f) a bond, debenture or other form of indebtedness (other than a property described in paragraph (d) or (e)) in Canadian currency issued by

(i) a person resident in Canada, a Canadian partnership or a partnership an interest in which is an investment property described in paragraph (g),

(ii) the Government of Canada,

(iii) the government of a province of Canada, or

(iv) any other political subdivision of Canada or of any province of Canada, or

(g) a property (to the extent it is not a property described in paragraph (b)) that is

(i) a share of a designated corporation resident in Canada,

(ii) an interest in a partnership, or

(iii) an interest in a trust resident in Canada, where not less than 75 per cent of the aggregate value for the year of all property of the corporation, partnership or trust, as the case may be, is in respect of property each of which is property described in paragraphs (a) to (f);

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"Canadian reserve liabilities" of an insurer, as at the end of a taxation year, means the aggregate amount of the insurer's liabilities and reserves (other than liabilities and reserves in respect of amounts payable out of segregated funds) in respect of its insurance policies in Canada, as determined for the purposes of the relevant authority at the end of the year or as would be determined at that time if the relevant authority required such a determination;

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"designated corporation", in respect of an insurer, at any time in a taxation year, means a corporation in respect of which the insurer or the insurer and persons or partnerships that do not deal at arm's length with the insurer held, at any time in the year, shares that represented 30 per cent or more of the common shares of the corporation outstanding at that time;

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"equity limit for the year", for a taxation year, means

(a) in respect of a life insurer resident in Canada, the greater of

(i) that proportion of the aggregate value for the year of all the insurer's equity property that

(A) the amount, if any, by which the insurer's mean Canadian reserve liabilities exceed the aggregate of the insurer's mean policy loans for the year and ½ of the aggregate of outstanding premiums of the insurer in respect of its insurance businesses in Canada as determined for the purposes of the relevant authority at the end of the year and the immediately preceding taxation year,

is of

(B) the amount, if any, by which the insurer's mean total reserve liabilities exceed the aggregate of the insurer's mean policy loans and foreign policy loans for the year and ½ of the aggregate of outstanding premiums of the insurer in respect of its insurance businesses as determined for the purposes of the relevant authority at the end of the year and the immediately preceding taxation year, and

(ii) 8 per cent of the insurer's Canadian investment fund for the year,

(b) in respect of a non-resident insurer (other than a life insurer), ¼ of the aggregate of

(i) the amount, if any, by which the insurer's mean Canadian reserve liabilities exceed ½ of the aggregate of the amounts of the insurer's deferred acquisition expenses and premiums receivable at the end of the year and the immediately preceding year to the extent that those amounts were included in the insurer's Canadian reserve liabilities for those years in respect of the insurer's business in Canada as determined for the purposes of the relevant authority, and

(ii) the insurer's property and casualty surplus for the year, and

(c) in respect of a non-resident life insurer, the aggregate of

(i) the insurer's life equity limit for the year, and

(ii) ¼ of the aggregate of

(A) the amount, if any, by which the insurer's mean Canadian reserve liabilities for the year exceed ½ of the aggregate of the amounts of the insurer's deferred acquisition expenses and premiums receivable at the end of the year and the immediately preceding year in respect of the insurer's business in Canada as determined for the purposes of the relevant authority to the extent that those amounts were included in the insurer's Canadian reserve liabilities for those years (determined on the assumption that the only insurance business carried on in Canada by the insurer was a property and casualty insurance business), and

(B) the insurer's property and casualty surplus for the year;

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"equity property" means

(i.1) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount deductible under section 142.4 of the Act in computing the insurer's income for the year in respect of a property disposed of by the insurer that was, in the taxation year of disposition, a Canadian business property of the insurer for that year in respect of the insurer's life insurance business,

(j) the total of all amounts each of which is the insurer's loss for the year from the disposition of a Canadian business property of the insurer for the year in respect of the insurer's life insurance business, other than a capital property or a property in respect of which section 142.4 of the Act applies, and

(k) the total of all amounts each of which is the insurer's allowable capital loss for the year from the disposition of a Canadian business property of the insurer for the year in respect of the insurer's life insurance business;

Application: The June 1, 1995 draft regulations (securities held by financial institutions), subsecs. 3(1) to (9), will amend paras. (a), (d), (e), (f), (i), (j) and (k) of the definition "gross Canadian life investment income" in subsec. 2405(3) to read as above, will add paras. (d.1) and (i.1), and will repeal paras. (c), (g) and (h); para. (a) applicable (see also Reg. 2406) to taxation years that end after June 1, 1995, paras. (c), (d), (g), (h) and (i) applicable to taxation years that begin after February 22, 1994, paras. (d.1) and (e) applicable to dispositions of property that occur after February 22, 1994 except that in its application to property disposed of in a taxation year that ends on or before June 1, 1995, para. (e) shall be read as follows:

(e) the amount included in computing the insurer's gains for the year from the disposition of property (other than capital property or property in respect of which section 142.4 of the Act applies), para. (f) applicable to taxation years that end after October 30, 1994 except that in its application to property disposed of in a taxation year that ends on or before June 1, 1995, para. (f) shall be read as follows:

(f) the amount included in computing the insurer's taxable capital gains for the year from the disposition of property (other than an amount included because of subsection 142.5(7)) of the Act),

paras. (i.1) and (j) applicable to dispositions of property that occur after February 22, 1994 except that in its application to property disposed of in a taxation year that ends on or before June 1, 1995, para. (j) shall be read as follows:

(j) the amount included in computing the insurer's losses for the year from the disposition of property (other than capital property or property in respect of which section 142.4 of the Act applies), para. (k) applicable to taxation years that end after October 30, 1994 except that in its application to property disposed of in a taxation year that ends on or before June 1, 1995, para. (k) shall be read as follows:

(k) the amount included in computing the insurer's allowable capital losses for the year from the disposition of property (other than an amount included because of subsection 142.5(6)) of the Act);

Technical Notes: Subsection 2405(3) defines a number of expressions used in Part XXIV.

The expression "gross Canadian life investment income" is defined for the purpose of section 2402, which contains rules for determining an insurer's income for a year from carrying on its participating life insurance business in Canada. Several amendments are made to this definition:

- Paragraph (a) is amended to use the newly-defined term "Canadian business property", which is defined in subsection 2405(3). Gross investment revenue from such property held in respect of an insurer's life insurance business is included by paragraph (a) in determining the insurer's gross Canadian life investment income. This amendment applies to taxation years that end after June 1, 1995.
- Paragraph (c) is repealed. This paragraph includes, in determining an insurer's gross Canadian life investment income, the amounts included in the insurer's income by paragraphs 138(4)(b) and (c) of the Act (profit on disposition of a Canada security, and amortization of discount on such a security). This amendment is consequential on the repeal of paragraphs 138(4)(b) and (c).
- Paragraphs (d) and (i), which deal with doubtful debt reserves, are amended as a consequence of the repeal of the definition of "Canada security" in subsection 138(12) of the Act. The amended paragraphs refer to debt obligations that are "Canadian business property" of the insurer in respect of the insurer's life insurance business.
- New paragraph (d.1) includes in an insurer's gross Canadian life investment income the amounts that are included in the insurer's income by section 142.4 of the Act in respect of property disposed of by the insurer that was "Canadian business property" of the insurer in respect of its life insurance business. New paragraph (i.1) is a corresponding rule for deductions. New section 142.4 of the Act contains rules for the measurement and the timing of recognition of gains and losses from the disposition of specified debt obligations.
- Paragraph (e), which includes certain non-capital gains in an insurer's gross Canadian life investment income, is amended to exclude from its scope property in respect of which section 142.4 of the Act applies. Gains from the disposition of this property are taken into account by new paragraph (d.1). Paragraph (e) is also amended, for dispositions of property in taxation years ending after June 1, 1995, to clarify that it applies only to the property of an insurer's Canadian life insurance business. Similar changes are made to the rule in paragraph (j) for certain non-capital losses.
- Paragraph (f), which includes an insurer's taxable capital gains in its gross Canadian life investment income, is amended so that it does not include amounts deemed by subsection 142.5(7) of the Act to be taxable capital gains of the insurer. That subsection contains a transition rule relating to the introduction of the mark-to-market requirement. Paragraph (f) is also amended, for dispositions of property in taxation years ending after June 1, 1995, to clarify that it applies only to the property of an insurer's Canadian life insurance business. Similar changes are made to the rule in paragraph (k) for allowable capital losses.
- Paragraph (g) is repealed since the provision to which it refers — paragraph 138(3)(c) of the Act (investment reserve) — was repealed in the tax reform of 1987.
- Paragraph (h) is repealed. This paragraph deducts in determining an insurer's gross Canadian life investment income the amounts deducted under paragraphs 138(3)(b) and (d) of the Act (loss on disposition of a Canada security, and amortization of premium on such a security) in computing an insurer's income. This amendment is consequential on the repeal of paragraphs 138(3)(b) and (d).

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"insurance policy in Canada", in respect of an insurer, means, in the case of

(a) a life insurance policy, a life insurance policy in Canada,

(b) a fire insurance policy, a policy issued or effected upon property situated in Canada, and

(c) any other class of insurance policy, a policy where the risks covered by the policy were ordinarily within Canada at the time the policy was issued or effected;

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"investment property" of an insurer for a taxation year means non-segregated property that is

(a) property acquired by the insurer for the purpose of earning gross investment revenue, other than property that is

(i) property, a portion of which is investment property pursuant to paragraph (b) or (c),

(ii) a share of a designated corporation,

(iii) a debt owing to the insurer by a designated corporation,

(iv) an interest in a partnership, or

(v) an interest in a trust,

(b) the portion, if any, of property of the insurer (other than property a portion of which is investment property pursuant to paragraph (c)) that is

(i) land,

(ii) depreciable property, or

(iii) property that would have been depreciable property if it had been situated in Canada and used in the year in, or held in the year in the course of, carrying on an insurance business in Canada,

that

(iv) the use made of the property in the year for the purpose of earning gross investment revenue therefrom

is of

(v) the whole use made of the property in the year,

(c) the portion, if any, of property of the insurer that is not used in the year for the purpose of earning gross investment revenue that is

(i) land,

(ii) depreciable property, or

(iii) property that would be depreciable property if it had been situated in Canada and used in the year in, or held in the year in the course of, carrying on an insurance business in Canada, to the extent that the property is held for resale or development or is expected to be used in a subsequent taxation year for the purpose of earning gross investment revenue, or

(d) property of the insurer that is

(i) a share of, or a debt owing to the insurer by a designated corporation other than a corporation that carries on a business of insurance, banking or offering its services to the public as a trustee or whose principal business is the making of loans,

(ii) an interest in a partnership, or

(iii) an interest in a trust,

(iv) the aggregate value for the year of all investment property of the corporation, partnership or trust, as the case may be, is not less than 75 per cent of the aggregate value for the year of all its property, and

(v) the gross investment revenue for the year from the investment property referred to in subparagraph (iv) (other than gross investment revenue from persons with whom the corporation, partnership or trust, as the case may be, did not deal at arm's length) is not less than 90 per cent of the gross revenue for the year of the corporation, partnership or trust, as the case may be, assuming for the purposes of subparagraphs (iv) and (v) that the definition "gross investment revenue" in paragraph 138(12)(e) [138(12)"gross investment revenue"] of the Act and this definition apply to a corporation, partnership or trust, referred to in those subparagraphs, as though the corporation, partnership or trust, as the case may be, were an insurer;

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"life equity limit" of a non-resident life insurer for a taxation year means

(a) where the insurer makes an election in respect of its life surplus factor for the year in the manner described in subsection 2401(1), the amount that would have been the insurer's equity limit for the year if the insurer had been a life insurer resident in Canada registered under the Canadian and British Insurance Companies Act to carry on an insurance business in Canada and it had carried on no other than life insurance business other than an accident and sickness insurance business,

(b) where the insurer does not make an election referred to in paragraph (a) in respect of the year, but

(i) has made such an election in respect of one of the four immediately preceding taxation years, and

(ii) the insurer's life surplus factor for the year is not determined pursuant to paragraph (c) of the definition "life surplus factor" in this subsection, the amount that would have been the insurer's equity limit for the year if the insurer had been a life insurer resident in Canada registered under the Canadian and British Insurance Companies Act to carry on an insurance business in Canada and it had carried on no other than life insurance business other than an accident and sickness insurance business, using the amount, in respect of the most recent taxation year for which such an election was made, determined under subparagraph (a)(i) of the definition, in this subsection, "equity limit for the year",

(c) in any other case, 8 per cent of the amount of the insurer's Canadian investment fund for the year;

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"life surplus factor" of a non-resident life insurer for a taxation year means

(a) subject to subsection 2401(2), where the insurer elects in respect of the year in the manner described in subsection 2401(1), the proportion (expressed as a percentage) that

(i) the amount, if any, by which

(A) the amount that would have been the insurer's Canadian investment fund for the year if the insurer had been a life insurer resident in Canada registered under the Canadian and British Insurance Companies Act to carry on an insurance business in Canada and it had carried on no other than life insurance business other than an accident and sickness insurance business

exceeds

(B) the amount, if any, by which ½ of the aggregate of

(I) the aggregate of the amounts described in subparagraphs (b)(i), (i.1), (ii), (iii) and (v) of the definition "Canadian investment fund" in this subsection in respect of a non-resident insurer, as at the end of the year, and

(II) the aggregate of those amounts as at the end of the immediately preceding taxation year, exceeds the aggregate value for the year of all the insurer's non-segregated property referred to in paragraph 2400(1)(e) in respect of all the insurer's insurance businesses (other than its property and casualty insurance business) carried on in Canada, other than property that is

(III) money, or

(IV) a balance standing to the insurer's credit as or on account of amounts deposited with a corporation authorized to accept deposits or to carry on the business of offering to the public its services as a trustee

is of

(ii) the amount determined under clause (i)(B),

(b) where the insurer does not make an election referred to in paragraph (a) in respect of the year, but

(i) has made such an election in respect of one of the four immediately preceding taxation years, and

(ii) has not, since making the most recent election referred to in subparagraph (i), selected pursuant to this paragraph the percentage referred to in paragraph (c) as its life surplus factor for a year prior to the taxation year, the percentage, as shall be selected by the insurer, that is the percentage

(iii) determined under paragraph (a) in respect of the most recent taxation year for which the insurer made an election, or

(iv) referred to in paragraph (c), and

(c) in any other case, 10 per cent;

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"property and casualty surplus" of an insurer for a taxation year means the aggregate of

(a) 15 per cent of ½ of the aggregate of

(i) the insurer's unearned premium reserve as at the end of the year, and

(ii) the insurer's unearned premium reserve as at the end of the immediately preceding taxation year, as reported to the relevant authority in respect of its property and casualty insurance business,

(b) 15 per cent of ½ of the aggregate of

(i) the insurer's provision for unpaid claims and adjustment expenses as at the end of the year, and

(ii) the insurer's provision for unpaid claims and adjustment expenses as at the end of the immediately preceding taxation year, as reported to the relevant authority in respect of its property and casualty insurance business, and

(c) ½ of the aggregate of

(i) the insurer's investment valuation reserve as at the end of the year, and

(ii) the insurer's investment valuation reserve as at the end of the immediately preceding taxation year, as reported to the relevant authority in respect of its property and casualty insurance business;

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"property of the insurer in the course of development" — [Revoked]

"relevant authority" means

(a) the Superintendent of Financial Institutions, if the insurer is required by law to report to the Superintendent of Financial Institutions, or

(b) in any other case, the Superintendent of Insurance or other similar officer or authority of the province under whose laws the insurer is incorporated;

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"total reserve liabilities" of an insurer, as at the end of a taxation year, means the aggregate amount of the insurer's liabilities and reserves (other than liabilities and reserves in respect of amounts payable out of segregated funds) in respect of all its insurance policies, as determined for the purposes of the relevant authority at the end of the year;

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"valuation", in respect of a property of an insurer, designated corporation, partnership or trust (in this definition referred to as an "owner") at a particular time, means, in the case of

(a) land, the cost thereof to the owner,

(b) depreciable property of a prescribed class (other than a property referred to in paragraph (f)), the proportion of the owner's undepreciated capital cost at that time of property of the class that

(i) the owner's capital cost of the property

is of

(ii) the owner's capital cost of all property of the class,

(c) property that would have been depreciable property of a prescribed class if it had been situated in Canada and used in the year in, or held in the year in the course of, carrying on an insurance business in Canada, the amount, if any, by which

(i) the owner's capital cost of the property

exceeds

(ii) the amount that would have been the total depreciation allowed to the owner before the particular time in respect of the property if it had been the owner's only depreciable property of the class and the owner had claimed the maximum amount allowable under paragraph 20(1)(a) of the Act in respect of property of that class for each year in which the owner owned the property,

(d) a share of a corporation (other than a designated corporation), the cost thereof to the owner,

(e) a bond, debenture, mortgage, hypothec or agreement of sale (other than a property referred to in paragraph (f)), the book value thereof in the accounts of the owner as determined for the purposes of the relevant authority or that would have been so determined if the owner had been a life insurer resident in Canada and registered under the Canadian and British Insurance Companies Act to carry on an insurance business in Canada,

(e.1) a balance standing to the owner's credit as or on account of amounts deposited with a corporation authorized to accept deposits or to carry on the business of offering to the public its services as a trustee, the amount thereof,

(f) a property acquired and disposed of in a taxation year, the cost thereof to the owner, and

(g) a property (other than a property referred to in any of paragraphs (a) to (f)), the maximum value of the property as determined for the purposes of the relevant authority or that would have been so determined if the owner had been a life insurer resident in Canada and registered under the Canadian and British Insurance Companies Act to carry on an insurance business in Canada,

(h) in respect of a particular property referred to in any of paragraphs (a) to (g), the amount of any debt that was incurred or assumed by the owner to acquire that particular property and that was owing by the owner at that time;

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

"value for the year", in respect of a property of an insurer, designated corporation, partnership or trust (in this definition referred to as an "owner") for a taxation year, means, in the case of

(a) a property that is a mortgage, a hypothec, an agreement of sale or an investment property that is a balance standing to the insurer's credit as or on account of amounts deposited with a corporation authorized to accept deposits or to carry on the business of offering to the public its services as a trustee, the amount, if any, by which

(i) the amount obtained when the gross investment revenue for the year from the property is divided by the average rate of interest earned by the owner (expressed as an annual rate) on the amortized cost of the property during the year if that rate of interest were expressed as a fraction

(ii) the amount obtained when the interest paid or payable for the year on a debt incurred for the purposes of acquiring the property is divided by the average rate of interest paid or payable by the owner (expressed as an annual rate) on the debt for the year if that rate of interest were expressed as a fraction,

(b) a property (other than a property referred to in paragraph (a)) that was not owned by the owner throughout the year, the proportion of

(i) the valuation of the property as at the end of the immediately preceding taxation year, where the property was owned by the owner at that time, and

(ii) the valuation of the property, where it was acquired by the owner during the year,

that

(iii) the number of days that the property may reasonably be considered to have been owned by the owner during the taxation year

is of

(iv) the number of days in the taxation year, and

(c) a property (other than a property referred to in paragraph (a) or (b)), ½ of the aggregate of

(i) the valuation of the property as at the end of the year, and

(ii) the valuation of the property as at the end of the immediately preceding taxation year.

(4) For the purposes of the definition in subsection (3), "Canadian investment fund" in respect of a life insurer resident in Canada, notwithstanding the definitions "Canadian reserve liabilities" and "total reserve liabilities" in that subsection, the insurer shall determine its liabilities and reserves in respect of its insurance policies outside Canada in a manner consistent with that used in determining its liabilities and reserves in respect of its insurance policies in Canada.

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 2405(5) [temporary]

(5) For the purposes of subsection (3), the cost of a property shall be determined without regard to subsection 142.5(2) of the Act.

Related Provisions: Reg. 2406 — Reg. 2405 does not apply as of 1999.

Application: The June 1, 1995 draft regulations (securities held by financial institutions), subsec. 3(11), will add subsec. 2405(5), applicable to taxation years that end after October 30, 1994. Reg. 2405 no longer applies as of 1999; see Reg. 2406.

Technical Notes: New subsection 2405(5) contains a rule for the purposes of the definitions in subsection 2405(3). It provides that the cost of property is to be determined without regard to the mark-to-market requirement in subsection 142.5(2) of the Act. Thus, the cost of mark-to-market property will not change each year for the purpose of the definitions in subsection 2405(3). This rule is relevant for determining the "valuation" of shares, and hence the "value for the year" of shares. As a consequence of this rule, the original cost of shares to an insurer will generally be used in measuring the Canadian investment fund, designating property, and determining any additional investment revenue prescribed by section 2411.

2407. 1977 excess policy dividend deduction — For the purposes of paragraph 138(3.1)(b) of the Act, a life insurer's 1977 excess policy dividend is hereby prescribed to be the amount that is the lesser of

(a) the amount, if any, by which

(i) the amount determined under clause 138(3)(a)(iii)(A) of the Act for the insurer's 1977 taxation year (determined without reference to paragraph 138(3.1)(b) of the Act),

exceeds

(ii) the amount determined under clause 138(3)(a)(iii)(B) of the Act for the insurer's 1977 taxation year; and

(b) the amount, if any, by which

(i) the insurer's maximum tax actuarial reserve for its participating life insurance policies in Canada for its 1977 taxation year,

exceeds the aggregate of

(ii) the amount that would have been the insurer's maximum tax actuarial reserve for its participating life insurance policies in Canada for its 1977 taxation year if that reserve had been determined on the basis of the rules applicable to its 1978 taxation year,

(iii) the aggregate of all amounts payable to the insurer in respect of policy loans outstanding at the end of its 1977 taxation year in respect of participating life insurance policies in Canada, and

(iv) the amount, if any, by which

(A) the insurer's maximum tax actuarial reserve for its participating life insurance policies in Canada for its 1968 taxation year,

exceeds the aggregate of

(B) the amount that would have been the insurer's maximum tax actuarial reserve for its participating life insurance policies in Canada for its 1968 taxation year if that reserve had been determined on the basis of the rules applicable to its 1978 taxation year, and

(C) the aggregate of all amounts payable to the insurer in respect of policy loans outstanding at the end of its 1968 taxation year in respect of participating life insurance policies in Canada.

Definitions [Reg. 2407]: "amount" — ITA 248(1); "Canada" — ITA 255, Interpretation Act 35(1); "dividend", "insurer", "life insurer" — ITA 248(1); "maximum tax actuarial reserve", "participating life insurance policy", "policy loan" — ITA 138(12); "prescribed" — ITA 248(1); "taxation year" — ITA 249.

2408. 1977 carryforward deduction — For the purposes of subparagraph 138(4.2)(a)(iv) of the Act, a life insurer's 1977 carryforward deduction is hereby prescribed to be the amount, if any, by which

(a) the aggregate of

(i) the aggregate of amounts, each of which is an amount determined under paragraph 13(23)(b) of the Act in respect of property of a prescribed class of the insurer,

(ii) the aggregate of amounts each of which is a non-capital loss of the insurer for a taxation year ending after 1972 and before 1978 that would have been deductible by the insurer in computing its taxable income for a taxation year ending after 1977 if the Act were read without reference to subsection 111(7.2) thereof,

(iii) the amount prescribed by section 2407 to be the insurer's 1977 excess policy dividend deduction,

(iv) the amount determined under subparagraph 138(4.2)(b)(ii) of the Act in respect of the insurer,

(v) the amount determined under subparagraph 138(4.2)(c)(ii) of the Act in respect of the insurer,

(vi) the amount, if any, by which

(A) the aggregate of the insurer's maximum tax actuarial reserves for its 1977 taxation year,

exceeds

(B) the aggregate of the amounts deducted by the insurer for its 1977 taxation year under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i) of the Act, and

(vii) the amount, if any, by which

(A) the maximum amount deductible by the insurer for its 1977 taxation year under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(ii) of the Act,

exceeds

(B) the amount deducted by the insurer for its 1977 taxation year under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(ii) of the Act,

exceeds

(b) the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of

(i) the lesser of

(A) the insurer's accumulated 1968 deficit, and

(B) the amount, if any, determined under subparagraph (vi),

(ii) the aggregate of the insurer's maximum tax actuarial reserves for its 1977 taxation year, other than reserves or any portions thereof in respect of segregated fund policies, and

(iii) the maximum amount deductible by the insurer for its 1977 taxation year under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(ii) of the Act,

exceeds the aggregate of

(iv) the aggregate of the amounts that would have been the insurer's maximum tax actuarial reserves for its 1977 taxation year if those reserves had been determined on the basis of the rules applicable to its 1978 taxation year,

(v) the aggregate of all amounts payable to the insurer in respect of policy loans outstanding at the end of its 1977 taxation year, and

(vi) the amount, if any, by which

(A) the aggregate of the insurer's maximum tax actuarial reserves for its 1968 taxation year, other than reserves or any portions thereof in respect of segregated fund policies,

exceeds the aggregate of

(B) the aggregate of the amounts that would have been the insurer's maximum tax actuarial reserves for its 1968 taxation year if those reserves had been determined on the basis of the rules applicable to its 1978 taxation year, and

(C) the aggregate of all amounts payable to the insurer in respect of policy loans outstanding at the end of its 1968 taxation year.

2409. Transitional — (1) For the purposes of this Part, except as expressly otherwise provided therein, where the expression "immediately preceding taxation year" refers to an insurer's 1977 taxation year, this Part shall be read as though the definitions therein applied to the insurer's 1977 taxation year.

(2) For the purposes of applying the provisions of paragraph 2400(1)(c) in respect of the 1978 taxation year of an insurer that was subject to the provisions of subsection 138(9) of the Act in respect of its 1977 taxation year, the following rules apply:

(a) this Part shall be read as though the definitions therein applied to the insurer's 1977 taxation year;

(b) such portion of the insurer's Canadian equity property owned by it at the end of its 1977 taxation year as is designated by the insurer in respect of a particular insurance business, in its return of income required by subsection 150(1) of the Act to be filed for the 1978 taxation year, shall be deemed to be investment property of the prior year in respect of the particular insurance business, but the aggregate valuation as at the end of the insurer's 1977 taxation year of the Canadian equity property so designated in respect of all its insurance businesses carried on in Canada shall not exceed

(i) in the case of a life insurer resident in Canada, or a non-resident life insurer that has made the election referred to in subsection 2401(1) in respect of its 1978 taxation year, that proportion of

(A) the insurer's Canadian investment fund as at the end of its 1977 taxation year (determined on the basis of the rules applicable to its 1978 taxation year),

that

(B) the aggregate valuation of the insurer's equity property as at the end of the insurer's 1977 taxation year

is of

(C) the aggregate valuation of the insurer's investment property as at the end of the insurer's 1977 taxation year,

(ii) in the case of a non-resident life insurer, other than an insurer referred to in subparagraph (i), eight per cent of its Canadian investment fund as at the end of its 1977 taxation year (determined on the basis of the rules applicable to its 1978 taxation year), and

(iii) in any other case, 25 per cent of the insurer's Canadian investment fund as at the end of its 1977 taxation year (determined on the basis of the rules applicable to its 1978 taxation year);

(c) where the insurer made an election under subsection 138(9) of the Act in respect of its 1977 taxation year, investment property (other than a Canadian equity property) owned by the insurer at the end of its 1977 taxation year that was designated in respect of a particular insurance business by the insurer in its return of income for the 1977 taxation year pursuant to paragraph 138(12)(l) of the Act as it read in its application to that year shall be deemed to be insurance property of the particular insurance business in the 1977 taxation year;

(d) where the insurer did not make the election referred to in paragraph (c) and carried on only one insurance business in Canada in its 1977 taxation year, investment property (other than a Canadian equity property) owned by the insurer at the end of its 1977 taxation year that is a specified Canadian asset of the insurer within the meaning of subsection 2405(1) as it read in its application to the 1977 taxation year shall be deemed to be insurance property of that insurance business in the 1977 taxation year; and

(e) where the insurer did not make the election referred to in paragraph (c) and carried on an other than life insurance business in Canada and a life insurance business in Canada in its 1977 taxation year, investment property (other than a Canadian equity property) owned by the insurer at the end of its 1977 taxation year each of which is a specified Canadian asset of the insurer, within the meaning of subsection 2405(1) as it read in its application to the 1977 taxation year, in respect of which the aggregate value for the year in respect of the insurer's 1978 taxation year is equal to the amount, if any, by which

(i) the insurer's mean Canadian reserve liabilities for its 1978 taxation year in respect of its other than life insurance business

exceeds

(ii) the aggregate value for the year in respect of the insurer's 1978 taxation year of its insurance property of its other than life insurance business as determined for the purposes of clause 2400(1)(c)(ii)(C), shall be deemed to be insurance property of the other than life insurance business in the 1977 taxation year and any other such investment property that is a specified Canadian asset of the insurer shall be deemed to be insurance property of the life insurance business in the 1977 taxation year.

History: Paras. 2409(2)(c) substituted, (d), (e) added, by P.C. 1980-1484, s. 5, June 5, 1980, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 25, 1980, effective for 1978.

(3) For the purposes of applying the provisions of section 2402 in respect of the 1978 taxation year of a life insurer, the following rules apply:

(a) for the purposes of subparagraphs 2402(a)(i) and (b)(ii), the insurer's maximum tax actuarial reserve for its 1977 taxation year in respect of participating life insurance policies in Canada shall be deemed to be the amount referred to in subparagraph 2407(b)(ii);

(b) for the purposes of clause 2402(a)(ii)(A), the insurer's maximum tax actuarial reserve for its 1977 taxation year in respect of a class of life insurance policies in Canada shall be deemed to have been determined on the basis of the rules applicable to its 1978 taxation year; and

(c) for the purposes of subparagraph 2402(b)(i), the amount deducted by the insurer under subparagraph 138(3)(a)(iv) of the Act in computing its income for the 1977 taxation year shall be deemed to be the amount that is the aggregate determined under paragraph 138(4.2)(b) of the Act in respect of the insurer.

(4) Except as expressly otherwise provided in this Part, where the expression "immediately preceding taxation year" occurs in a provision of this Part (other than section 2402) and refers to the insurer's 1987 taxation year, the provision shall be read as though the definitions in this Part applied to the insurer's 1987 taxation year.

2410. Prescribed amount — For the purpose of subsection 138(4.4) of the Act, the amount prescribed in respect of an insurer's cost or capital cost, as the case may be, of a property for a period in a taxation year is the amount determined by the formula

$$[(A \times B) \times C/365] - D$$

where

A is the average annual rate of interest determined by reference to rates of interest prescribed in section 4301 for the months or portion thereof in the period;

B is the amount, if any, by which, the average cost or average capital cost, as the case may be, of the property for the period exceeds the average amount of debt relating to the acquisition of the property outstanding during the period that bears a fair market interest rate and, for this purpose,

(a) the average cost or average capital cost, as the case may be, of a property is the total of

(i) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the cost or capital cost, as the case may be, if any, immediately before the beginning of the period in respect of the property, and

(ii) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the proportion of any expenditure incurred on any day in the period in respect of the cost or capital cost, as the case may be, of the property that

(A) the number of days from that day to the end of the period

is of

(B) the number of days in the period, and

(b) the average amount of debt relating to the acquisition of a property is the amount, if any, by which the total of

(i) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is an indebtedness relating to the acquisition that was outstanding at the beginning of the period, and

(ii) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the proportion of an indebtedness relating to the acquisition that was incurred on any day in the period that

(A) the number of days from that day to the end of the period

is of

(B) the number of days in the period,

exceeds

(iii) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the proportion of an amount that was paid in respect of any indebtedness referred to in subparagraph (i) or (ii) on any day in the period (other than a payment of interest in respect thereof) that

(A) the number of days from that day to the end of the period

is of

(B) the number of days in the period;

C is the number of days in the period; and

D is the income derived from the property in the period by the person or partnership that owned the property.

(4) The positive or negative amount, as the case may be, determined under this subsection in respect of an insurer for a taxation year in respect of property shall be the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the total of the following amounts determined in respect of the property for the year, or that would be determined in respect of the property for the year if the property were designated insurance property of the insurer in respect of an insurance business in Canada for each taxation year in which the property was held by the insurer:

(a) the insurer's gross investment revenue for the year (other than taxable dividends that were or would be deductible in computing the insurer's taxable income for the year under section 112 or subsection 138(6) of the Act) derived from the property,

(b) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's income for the year under paragraph 138(4)(b) and (c) of the Act in respect of the property,

(c) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's taxable capital gains for the year from the disposition of the property,

(d) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's gains for the year from the disposition of the property (other than a Canada security or capital property),

(e) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's income for the year under subsection 13(1) of the Act in respect of the property,

(f) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's income for the year under paragraph 12(1)(d), (d.1) or (i) of the Act in respect of the property,

(g) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's income for the year under subsection 59(3.2) or (3.3) of the Act in respect of the property,

(h) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's income for the year under subsection 14(1) of the Act in respect of the property, and

(i) all other amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's income for the year in respect of the property; and

B is the aggregate of the following amounts determined in respect of the property for the year or that would be determined in respect of the property for the year if it were insurance property of the insurer for the year in respect of an insurance business in Canada:

(a) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's allowable capital losses for the year from the disposition of the property,

(b) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's losses for the year from the disposition of the property (other than a Canada security or capital property),

(c) all amounts that were or would be deductible in computing the insurer's income for the year under paragraph 138(3)(b) and (d) of the Act in respect of the property,

(d) all amounts that were or would be deductible in computing the insurer's income for the year under paragraph 20(1)(a) of the Act in respect of the capital cost of the property or under paragraphs 20(1)(c) and (d) of the Act in respect of interest paid or payable on borrowed money used to acquire the property,

(e) where any such property is rental property or leasing property (within the meaning assigned by subsections 1100(14) and (17), respectively), all amounts that were or would be deductible in computing the insurer's income for the year in respect of expenses directly related to the earning of rental income derived from the property,

(f) all amounts that were or would be deductible by the insurer in computing the insurer's income for the year under paragraph 20(1)(l), (l.1) or (p) of the Act as reserve or bad debt in respect of the property,

(g) all amounts that were deducted or would be deductible in computing the insurer's income for the year under section 66, 66.1, 66.2 or 66.4 of the Act in respect of the property,

(h) all amounts that were or would be deductible in computing the insurer's income for the year under paragraph 20(1)(b) of the Act in respect of the property, and

(i) all amounts that were or would be deductible in computing the insurer's income for the year in respect of other expenses directly related to the earning of gross investment revenue derived from the property.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 2411(4)

(4) The positive or negative amount, as the case may be, determined under this subsection in respect of an insurer for a taxation year in respect of property shall be the amount determined by the formula

A – B

where

A is the total of the following amounts determined in respect of the property for the year, or that would be determined in respect of the property for the year if it were insurance property of the insurer for the year in respect of an insurance business in Canada and if it had been insurance property of the insurer in respect of an insurance business in Canada for each preceding taxation year in which it was held by the insurer:

(a) the insurer's gross investment revenue for the year (other than taxable dividends that were or would be deductible in computing the insurer's taxable income for the year under [per 2005 amendment above: section 112 or] subsection 138(6) of the Act) derived from the property,

(b) [Proposed repeal]

(c) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's taxable capital gains for the year from the disposition of the property,

(c.1) all amounts that were or would be included under paragraph 142.4(5)(e) of the Act in respect of the property in computing the insurer's income for the year,

(d) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's income for the year as gains from the disposition of such of the property as is not capital property or a specified debt obligation (as defined in subsection 142.2(1) of the Act),

(e) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's income for the year under subsection 13(1) of the Act in respect of the property,

(f) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's income for the year under paragraph 12(1)(d), (d.1) or (i) of the Act in respect of the property,

(g) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's income for the year under subsection 59(3.2) or (3.3) of the Act in respect of the property,

(h) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's income for the year under subsection 14(1) of the Act in respect of the property, and

(i) all other amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's income for the year in respect of the property otherwise than because of subsection 142.4(4) of the Act; and

B is the total of the following amounts determined in respect of the property for the year, or that would be determined in respect of the property for the year if it were insurance property of the insurer for the year in respect of an insurance business in Canada and if it had been insurance property of the insurer in respect of an insurance business in Canada for each preceding taxation year in which it was held by the insurer:

(a) all amounts that were or would be included in computing the insurer's allowable capital losses for the year from the disposition of the property,

(a.1) all amounts that were or would be deductible under paragraph 142.4(5)(f) of the Act in respect of the property in computing the insurer's income for the year,

(b) all amounts that were or would be deductible in computing the insurer's income for the year as losses from the disposition of such of the property as is not capital property or a specified debt obligation (as defined in subsection 142.2(1) of the Act),

(c) [Proposed repeal]

(d) all amounts that were or would be deductible in computing the insurer's income for the year under paragraph 20(1)(a) of the Act in respect of the capital cost of the property or under paragraphs 20(1)(c) and (d) of the Act in respect of interest paid or payable on borrowed money used to acquire the property,

(e) where any such property is rental property or leasing property (within the meaning assigned by subsections 1100(14) and (17), respectively), all amounts that were or would be deductible in computing the insurer's income for the year in respect of expenses directly related to the earning of rental income derived from the property,

(f) all amounts that were or would be deductible by the insurer in computing the insurer's income for the year under paragraph 20(1)(l), (l.1) or (p) of the Act as reserve or bad debt in respect of the property,

(g) all amounts that were deducted or would be deductible in computing the insurer's income for the year under section 66, 66.1, 66.2 or 66.4 of the Act in respect of the property,

(h) all amounts that were or would be deductible in computing the insurer's income for the year under paragraph 20(1)(b) of the Act in respect of the property, and

(i) all amounts that were or would be deductible in computing the insurer's income for the year in respect of other expenses directly related to the earning of gross investment revenue derived from the property.

Application: The June 1, 1995 draft regulations (securities held by financial institutions), subsecs. 4(7) to (13), will amend the opening words of the descriptions of A and B in subsec. 2411(4), will amend paras. (d) and (i) of the description of A and (b) of the description of B, will add paras. (c.1) to the description of A and (a.1) to the description of B, and will repeal paras. (b) of the description of A and (c) of the description of B; the opening words of the descriptions of A and B applicable to taxation years that end after June 1, 1995, paras. (b) and (i) of the description of A and para. (c) of the description of B applicable to taxation years that begin after February 22, 1994, paras. (d) and (c.1) to the description of A and paras. (a.1) and (b) to the description of B, applicable to dispositions of property that occur after February 22, 1994.

Technical Notes: Subsection 2411(4) provides that an insurer's net investment revenue from property of a particular class is determined by the formula "A – B", where A is the total of the gross investment revenue from the property, gains from the disposition of the property and other income inclusions in respect of the property, and B is losses from the property and other deductions in respect of the property. The amounts included in A and B in respect of property that has not been designated as property of an insurance business carried on by the insurer in Canada are determined as if the property had been so designated. Several changes are made to the determination of amounts A and B.

The descriptions of both A and B are amended to clarify that, in determining the amounts to be taken into account in respect of property that has not been designated, the property is to be treated as if it had been designated for each year from the time it was acquired.

The other changes to A are as follows:

- Paragraph (b) is repealed. This paragraph includes in A the amounts included in the insurer's income under paragraphs 138(4)(b) and (c) of the Act (profit on disposition of a Canada security, and amortization of discount on such a security). This amendment is consequential on the repeal of paragraphs 138(4)(b) and (c).
- New paragraph (c.1) includes in A the amounts that are included in the insurer's income by subsection 142.4(5) of the Act. That subsection includes in income the gain from the disposition of specified debt obligations after February 22, 1994 where the gain is not required to be amortized.
- Paragraph (d), which includes certain non-capital gains in A, is amended to replace the exclusion for gains from Canada securities by an exclusion for gains from specified debt obligations. Those gains are dealt with, in some cases, by new paragraph (c.1) and in other cases by new subsection 2411(4.1).
- Paragraph (i), which includes in A all amounts that are included in the insurer's income in respect of the property, but that are not specifically referred to in the preceding paragraphs, is amended so that it does not apply to amounts that are included in income by subsection 142.4(4) of the Act. New subsection 2411(4.1), in conjunction with amendments to subsections 2411(1) and (3), provides for subsection 142.4(4) amounts to be taken into account.

The changes to B, in addition to the change described [to A] above, are as follows:

- New paragraph (a.1) includes in B the amounts that are deductible under subsection 142.4(5) of the Act in computing the insurer's income. That subsection provides a deduction for the loss from the disposition of specified debt obligations after February 22, 1994 where the loss is not required to be amortized.
- Paragraph (b), which includes certain non-capital losses in B, is amended to replace the exclusion for losses from Canada securities by an exclusion for losses from specified debt obligations. Those losses are dealt with, in some cases, by new paragraph (a.1) and in other cases by new subsection 2411(4.1).
- Paragraph (c) is repealed. This paragraph includes in B the amounts that are deductible under paragraphs 138(3)(b) and (d) of the Act (loss on disposition of a Canada security, and amortization of premium on such a security). This amendment is consequential on the repeal of paragraphs 138(3)(b) and (d).

A is the total of the following amounts determined in respect of the property for the year, or that would be determined in respect of the property for the year if it were insurance property of the insurer for the year in respect of an insurance business in Canada and if it had been insurance property of the insurer in respect of an insurance business in Canada for each preceding taxation year in which it was held by the insurer:

(4.1) The positive or negative amount, as the case may be, determined under this subsection in respect of an insurer for a taxation year in respect of property disposed of by the insurer in the year or a preceding taxation year is the amount determined by the formula

A is the total of the amounts included under paragraphs 142.4(4)(a) and (c) of the Act in the insurer's income for the year in respect of the property, or that would be so included if the property were designated insurance property of the insurer in respect of an insurance business in Canada for each taxation year in which it was held by the insurer; and

B is the total of the amounts deductible under paragraphs 142.4(4)(b) and (d) of the Act in respect of the property in computing the insurer's income for the year, or that would be so deductible if the property were designated insurance property of the insurer in respect of an insurance business in Canada for each taxation year in which it was held by the insurer.

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

History: Subsec. 2411(4.1) added by P.C. 2000-1714, November 30, 2000, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 20, 2000, subsecs. 6(12), (13), the portion before the descriptions of A and B applicable to 1995 et seq., and the descriptions of A and B applicable to 1999 et seq. For the 1995 to 1998 taxation years read A and B as:

A is the total of the amounts included under paragraphs 142.4(4)(a) and (c) of the Act in the insurer's income for the year in respect of the property, or that would be so included if the property had been insurance property of the insurer in respect of an insurance business in Canada for each taxation year in which it was held by the insurer; and

B is the total of the amounts deductible under paragraphs 142.4(4)(b) and (d) of the Act in respect of the property in computing the insurer's income for the year, or that would be so deductible if the property had been insurance property of the insurer in respect of an insurance business in Canada for each taxation year in which it was held by the insurer.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (4), a property that has not been designated by the insurer for the year pursuant to subsection 2400(1) as investment property used by it in the year in, or held by it in the year in the course of, carrying on an insurance business in Canada shall be deemed to be a property used by it in the year in, or held by it in the year in the course of, carrying on that insurance business in respect of which the property has been reported by the insurer in its annual report for the year to the relevant authority or, where the insurer was throughout the year subject to the supervision of the relevant authority but was not required to file an annual report with the relevant authority for the year, that insurance business in respect of which the property would have been reported by the insurer in an annual report for the year if it had been so required by the relevant authority.

Application: The June 1, 1995 draft regulations (securities held by financial institutions), subsec. 4(15), will repeal subsec. 2411(5), applicable to taxation years that begin after February 22, 1994.

Technical Notes: Where property has not been designated as property used or held in a Canadian insurance business, subsection 2411(4) applies on the assumption that the property had been so designated. Subsection 2411(5) contains an additional rule for this purpose. It provides that the property is to be considered property of the business in respect of which it is reported in the insurer's annual report. This rule was required because of the special rules for the tax treatment of debt obligations (referred to as Canada securities) that are property of a life insurance business. Subsection 2411(5) is repealed, for taxation years beginning after February 22, 1994, as a consequence of the repeal of the special rules for Canada securities.

(6) For the purposes of subsection (1), the balance of an insurer's cumulative excess account at the end of a taxation year shall be determined as the amount, if any, by which

(a) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is a positive amount, if any, determined in respect of each of such of its seven immediately preceding taxation years that began after June 17, 1987 and ended after 1987 by the formula where A and B are the amounts determined under subsection (1) in respect of the insurer for such immediately preceding taxation year,

exceeds

(b) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is an amount claimed by the insurer under subsection (1) in respect of its cumulative excess account for a preceding taxation year that can be attributed to a positive amount determined under paragraph (a) for that year and, for the purpose of this paragraph, a positive amount determined in respect of a taxation year shall be deemed to have been claimed before a positive amount determined in respect of any subsequent taxation year.

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

(7) [Repealed]

History: Subsec. 2411(7) repealed by P.C. 2000-1714, subsec. 6(14), November 30, 2000, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 20, 2000, applicable to 1999 et seq.

(8) For the purposes of this section, "foreign investment property" of an insurer means investment property of the insurer (unless the insurer is a non-resident insurer and it is established by the insurer that the investment property is not effectively connected with its Canadian insurance businesses) that is not Canadian investment property of the insurer.

Definitions [Reg. 2411]: "allowable capital loss" — ITA 38(b), 248(1); "amount", "borrowed money", "business" — ITA 248(1); "Canada" — ITA 255, Interpretation Act 35(1); "Canadian equity property", "Canadian investment property" — Reg. 2400(1); "capital property" — ITA 54, 248(1); "designated insurance property" — ITA 138(12), 248(1); "disposition" — ITA 248(1); "gross investment revenue" — ITA 138(12); "immediately preceding taxation year" — Reg. 2409(1), (4); "insurer" — ITA 248(1); "investment property" — Reg. 2400(1); "mean Canadian investment fund" — Reg. 2412(1); "non-resident", "prescribed", "property" — ITA 248(1); "taxable capital gain" — ITA 38(a), 248(1); "taxable dividend" — ITA 89(1), 248(1); "taxable income" — ITA 248(1); "taxation year" — ITA 249; "value" — Reg. 2400(1).

2412. (1) Mean Canadian investment fund — For the purposes of this Part, the mean Canadian investment fund of an insurer for a particular taxation year is the total of

(a) 50% of the total of

(i) its Canadian investment fund at the end of the particular year, and

(ii) either,

(A) if the insurer is resident in Canada, its Canadian investment fund at the end of its preceding taxation year, or

(B) if the insurer is non-resident, its Canadian investment fund at the end of its preceding taxation year determined as if its attributed surplus for that preceding taxation year were its attributed surplus for the particular year, and

(b) the insurer's cash-flow adjustment for the particular year.

(2) Cash-flow adjustment — An insurer's cash-flow adjustment for a taxation year is the amount equal to

(a) if the year ended two months or more after it began, the positive or negative amount determined by the formula

where

A is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount determined under subsection (3) in respect of a full month in the year (or in respect of the part of the month that ends after the last full month in the year, if that part is greater than 15 days),

B is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount determined in respect of a full month in the year (or in respect of the part of the month that ends after the last full month in the year, if that part is greater than 15 days) by the formula

$$D \times (1 + 2E)$$

where

D is the amount determined under subsection (3) in respect of the month or part of the month, and

E is the number of months in the year that ended before the beginning of the month or part of the month, and

C is the number of full months in the year (plus 1, if the year ends more than 15 days after the end of the last full month in the year); and

(b) if the year ended less than two months after it began, nil.

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

(3) Amounts paid and received — The amount determined in respect of an insurer for a particular month or part of a month (in this subsection referred to as a "month") in a taxation year is the positive or negative amount determined by the formula

$$G - H$$

where

G is the total of all amounts each of which is

(a) the amount of a premium or consideration received by the insurer in the month in respect of a contract of insurance (including a settlement annuity) entered into in the course of carrying on its insurance businesses in Canada,

(b) an amount received by the insurer in the month in respect of interest on or a repayment in respect of a policy loan made under a life insurance policy in Canada, or

(c) an amount received by the insurer in the month in respect of reinsurance (other than reinsurance undertaken to effect a transfer of a business in respect of which subsection 138(11.5), (11.92) or (11.94) of the Act applies) arising in the course of carrying on its insurance businesses in Canada; and

H is the total of all amounts each of which is

(a) the amount of a claim or benefit (including a payment under an annuity or settlement annuity, a payment of a policy dividend and an amount paid on a lapsed or terminated policy), a refund of premiums, a premium or a commission paid by the insurer in the month under a contract of insurance in the course of carrying on its insurance businesses in Canada,

(b) the amount of a policy loan made by the insurer in the month under a life insurance policy in Canada, or

(c) an amount paid by the insurer in the month in respect of reinsurance (other than reinsurance undertaken to effect a transfer of a business in respect of which subsection 138(11.5), (11.92) or (11.94) of the Act applies) in the course of carrying on its insurance businesses in Canada.

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

(4) [Meaning of "month"] — A reference to a "month" in this section means

(a) if an insurer's taxation year does not begin on the first day of a calendar month and the insurer elects to have this paragraph apply for the year, the period beginning on the day in a calendar month that has the same calendar number as the particular day on which the taxation year began and ending

(i) on the day immediately before the day in the next calendar month that has the same calendar number as the particular day, or

(ii) if the next calendar month does not have a day that has the same calendar number as the particular day, the last day of that next calendar month; and

(b) in any other case, a calendar month.

PART XXV — SPECIAL T1 TAX TABLE FOR INDIVIDUALS

History: Part XXV (ss. 2500, 2501) was added by P.C. 1981-1501, June 4, 1981, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 24, 1981, applicable to 1979 et seq. except that in its application to the 1979 taxation year all that portion of subsection 2500(2) following subparagraph (b)(ii) thereof does not apply and shall be read as follows:

minus the aggregate of

(iii) where applicable, an amount that is the aggregate of

(A) the deduction calculated under subsection 120(2) of the Act, and

(B) the amount by which the amount referred to in clause (A) is increased by virtue of section 30 of the Federal-Provincial Fiscal Arrangements and Established Programs Financing Act, 1977, and

(iv) a deduction from the tax under subparagraph (i), or that tax plus the additional tax under subparagraph (ii), as the case may be, as computed under subsection 120(3.1) of the Act, calculated as if the amount taxable is equal to the average of the highest and lowest amounts taxable in the range and, where the resulting tax payable is not a multiple of one dollar, it shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of one dollar or, if it is equidistant from two such multiples, to the higher thereof.

2500. (1) For the purposes of subsection 117(6) of the Act,

(a) $55,605, adjusted for each taxation year after 1989 in the manner set out in subsection 117.1(1) of the Act, is the prescribed amount; and

(b) an "individual of a prescribed class" for a taxation year is

(i) an estate or trust,

(ii) an individual who was a non-resident person throughout the year, other than an individual

(A) whose amount taxable for the year was from

(I) the duties of an office or employment performed in one province,

(II) the carrying on of a business in one province, or

(III) any combination of sources described in subclauses (I) and (II) if all of those sources are located in one province, and

(B) who was not subject to any other provision of this subsection,

(iii) an individual who, on the last day of the year, resided in a province and had income for the year from a business with a permanent establishment, as defined in subsection 2600(2), outside the province,

(iv) an individual whose tax otherwise payable for the year under Part I of the Act is reduced by virtue of any of the following provisions of the Act:

(A) subsection 117(7),

(B) section 121,

(C) section 122.3, or

(D) section 126,

(v) an individual who makes an election in respect of the year under subsection 119(1) of the Act,

(vi) an individual eligible to pay tax at a reduced rate pursuant to subsection 40(7) of the Income Tax Application Rules on a payment made to him in the year, or

(vii) an individual who makes an election in respect of the year under subsection 110.4(2) of the Act.

(2) For the purposes of subsection 117(6) of the Act, a table of the tax payable for a taxation year shall be prepared in accordance with the following rules:

(a) the table shall be divided into ranges of amounts taxable not exceeding $10 each and shall specify the tax payable in respect of each range;

(b) the tax payable on an amount taxable within any range referred to in paragraph (a) shall be equal to the tax payable thereon for the year computed under subsection 117(2) of the Act and, where applicable, adjusted annually pursuant to section 117.1 of the Act; and

(c) the tax payable referred to in paragraph (b) shall be calculated as if the amount taxable is equal to the average of the highest and lowest amounts taxable in the range and, where the resulting tax payable is not a multiple of one dollar, it shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of one dollar or, if it is equidistant from two such multiples, to the higher thereof.

(3) For the purposes of subsection 117(6) of the Act, a table of the additional tax for income not earned in a province, the individual surtax and the refundable Quebec abatement for a taxation year shall be prepared in accordance with the following rules:

(a) the table shall be divided into ranges of tax payable not exceeding $2 each and shall specify, in respect of each range,

(i) the individual surtax payable,

(ii) where applicable, the additional tax for income not earned in a province, and

(iii) where applicable, the refundable Quebec abatement, on every amount taxable within each such range;

(b) the tax payable referred to in paragraph (a) is the tax payable determined by the table prepared pursuant to subsection (2) less the allowable non-refundable credits under sections 118 to 118.9 of the Act;

(c) the individual surtax in respect of an amount of tax payable within any range referred to in paragraph (a) shall be the amount that is equal to the surtax thereon computed under subsection 180.1(1) of the Act;

(d) the additional tax for income not earned in a province in respect of an amount of tax payable within any range referred to in paragraph (a) shall be the amount that is equal to the tax determined thereon under subsection 120(1) of the Act;

(e) the refundable Quebec abatement in respect of an amount of tax payable within any range referred to in paragraph (a) shall be the amount that is equal to the abatement determined under subsection 120(2) of the Act and in accordance with section 27 of the Federal-Provincial Fiscal Arrangements Act;

(f) the amount referred to in paragraph (c) or (d) shall be calculated as if the tax payable is equal to the average of the highest and lowest amounts in the range and, where the resulting amount is not a multiple of one dollar, it shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of one dollar or, if it is equidistant from two such multiples, to the higher thereof; and

(g) the amount referred to in paragraph (e) shall be calculated as if the tax payable is equal to the average of the highest and lowest amounts in the range and, where the resulting amount is not a multiple of one tenth of one dollar, it shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of one tenth of one dollar or, if it is equidistant from two such multiples, to the higher thereof.

Former Part XXV was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

PART XXVI — INCOME EARNED IN PROVINCE BY AN INDIVIDUAL

History: Part XXVI was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

2600. Interpretation — (1) For the purposes of paragraph 120(4)(a) [120(4)"income earned in the year in a province"] of the Act, "income earned in the year in a province" by an individual means the aggregate of his incomes earned in the taxation year in each province, as determined in accordance with this Part.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 2600(1)

(1) In applying the definition "income earned in the year in a province" in subsection 120(4) of the Act for an individual's taxation year

(a) the prescribed rules referred to in that definition are the rules in this Part; and

(b) the amount determined under those prescribed rules means the total of all amounts each of which is the individual's income earned in the taxation year in a particular province as determined under this Part.

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), s. 103, will amend subsec. 2600(1) to read as above, applicable to 2009 et seq.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): Subsection 2600(1) is amended to refer to the definition "income earned in the year in a province" in subsection 120(4) of the Act. Amended subsection 2600(1) provides that the prescribed rules in that definition are contained in Part XXVI.

This amendment, which is stylistic in nature, applies to the 2009 and subsequent taxation years.

History: Subsec. 2600(1) substituted by P.C. 1981-808, subsec. 3(1), March 26, 1981, Canada Gazette, Part II, April 8, 1981, applicable to 1980 et seq.

Subsec. 2600(1) substituted by P.C. 1978-3101, subsec. 3(1), October 12, 1978, Canada Gazette, Part II, October 25, 1978, applicable to 1978 et seq.

(2) In this Part, "permanent establishment" means a fixed place of business of the individual including an office, a branch, a mine, an oil well, a farm, a timberland, a factory, a workshop or a warehouse, and

(a) where an individual carries on business through an employee or agent, established in a particular place, who has general authority to contract for his employer or principal or who has a stock of merchandise owned by his employer or principal from which he regularly fills orders which he receives, the individual shall be deemed to have a permanent establishment in that place;

(b) where an individual uses substantial machinery or equipment in a particular place at any time in a taxation year he shall be deemed to have a permanent establishment in that place; and

(c) the fact that an individual has business dealings through a commission agent, broker, or other independent agent or maintains an office solely for the purchase of merchandise, shall not of itself be held to mean that the individual has a permanent establishment.

(3) [Revoked]

History: Subsec. 2600(3) revoked by P.C. 1981-808, subsec. 3(2), March 26, 1981, Canada Gazette, Part II, April 8, 1981, applicable to 1980 et seq.

Subsec. 2600(3) substituted by P.C. 1978-3101, subsec. 3(2), October 12, 1978, Canada Gazette, Part II, October 25, 1978, applicable to 1978 et seq.

Definitions [Reg. 2600]: "amount", "business", "employee", "employer", "individual", "office" — ITA 248(1); "permanent establishment" — Reg. 2600(2); "prescribed" — ITA 248(1); "province" — Interpretation Act 35(1); "taxation year" — ITA 249.

2601. Residents of Canada — (1) Where an individual resided in a particular province on the last day of a taxation year and had no income for the year from a business with a permanent establishment outside the province, his income earned in the taxation year in the province is his income for the year.

Related Provisions: Reg. 2607 — When person is resident in two provinces, principal place of residence applies.

(2) Where an individual resided in a particular province on the last day of a taxation year and had income for the year from a business with a permanent establishment outside the province, his income earned in the taxation year in the province is the amount, if any, by which

(a) his income for the year

(b) the aggregate of his income for the year from carrying on business earned in each other province and each country other than Canada determined as hereinafter set forth in this Part.

(3) Where an individual, who resided in Canada on the last day of a taxation year and who carried on business in a particular province at any time in the year, did not reside in the province on the last day of the year, his income earned in the taxation year in the province is his income for the year from carrying on business earned in the province, determined as hereinafter set forth in this Part.

(4) Where an individual resided in Canada on the last day of a taxation year and carried on business in another country at any time in the year, his income earned in the taxation year in that other country is his income for the year from carrying on business earned in the other country, determined as hereinafter set forth in this Part.

(5) In this section, a reference to the "last day of a taxation year" is deemed to be a reference to

(a) the "last day in the year on which the individual resided in Canada", in the case of an individual who resided in Canada at any time in the year but ceased to reside in Canada before the end of the year; and

(b) the "day in the year on which the individual would have ceased to reside in Canada, if the Act were read without reference to paragraphs 250(1)(d.1) and (f) of the Act,", in the case of a particular individual described in paragraph 250(1)(d.1) of the Act, or of another individual who is a spouse, common-law partner or child of the particular individual, who

(i) was resident in Canada at any time in the year,

(ii) would have ceased to be resident in Canada before the end of the year, if the Act were read without reference to paragraphs 250(1)(d.1) and (f) of the Act, and

(iii) is, pursuant to paragraph 250(1)(d.1) or (f) of the Act, deemed to have been resident in Canada throughout the year.

2602. Non-residents — (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), where an individual did not reside in Canada at any time in a taxation year, his income earned in the taxation year in a particular province is the aggregate of

(a) that part of the amount of his income from an office or employment, that is included in computing his taxable income earned in Canada for the year by virtue of subparagraph 115(1)(a)(i) of the Act, that is reasonably attributable to the duties performed by him in the province; and

(b) his income for the year from carrying on business earned in the province, determined as hereinafter set forth in this Part.

Remission Orders: Income Earned in Quebec Income Tax Remission Order, P.C. 1989-1204, as amended by P.C. 1991-1661 and P.C. 1992-2593 (special interpretation of Reg. 2602(1) for Quebec).

2603. Income from business — (1) Where, in a taxation year, an individual had a permanent establishment in a particular province or a country other than Canada and had no permanent establishment outside that province or country, the whole of his income from carrying on business for the year shall be deemed to have been earned therein.

(2) Where, in a taxation year, an individual had no permanent establishment in a particular province or country other than Canada, no part of his income for the year from carrying on business shall be deemed to have been earned therein.

(3) Except as otherwise provided, where, in a taxation year, an individual had a permanent establishment in a particular province or country other than Canada and a permanent establishment outside that province or country, the amount of his income for the year from carrying on business that shall be deemed to have been earned in the province or country is ½ the aggregate of

(a) that proportion of his income for the year from carrying on business that the gross revenue for the fiscal period ending in the year reasonably attributable to the permanent establishment in the province or country is of his total gross revenue for that period from the business; and

(b) that proportion of his income for the year from carrying on business that the aggregate of the salaries and wages paid in the fiscal period ending in the year to employees of the permanent establishment in the province or country is of the aggregate of all salaries and wages paid in that period to employees of the business.

(4) For the purpose of determining the gross revenue for the year reasonably attributable to the permanent establishment in a particular province or country other than Canada within the meaning of paragraph (3)(a), the following rules shall apply:

(a) where the destination of a shipment of merchandise to a customer to whom the merchandise is sold is in the particular province or country, the gross revenue derived therefrom shall be attributable to the permanent establishment in the province or country;

(b) except as provided in paragraph (c), where the destination of a shipment of merchandise to a customer to whom the merchandise is sold is in a province or country other than Canada in which the taxpayer has no permanent establishment, if the person negotiating the sale may reasonably be regarded as being attached to the permanent establishment in the particular province or country, the gross revenue derived therefrom shall be attributable to that permanent establishment;

(c) where the destination of a shipment of merchandise to a customer to whom the merchandise is sold is in a country other than Canada in which the taxpayer has no permanent establishment,

(i) if the merchandise was produced or manufactured, or produced and manufactured, entirely in the particular province by the taxpayer, the gross revenue derived therefrom shall be attributable to the permanent establishment in the province, or

(ii) if the merchandise was produced or manufactured, or produced and manufactured, partly in the particular province and partly in another place by the taxpayer, the gross revenue derived therefrom attributable to the permanent establishment in the province shall be that proportion thereof that the salaries and wages paid in the year to employees of the permanent establishment in the province where the merchandise was partly produced or manufactured (or partly produced and manufactured) is of the aggregate of the salaries and wages paid in the year to employees of the permanent establishments where the merchandise was produced or manufactured (or produced and manufactured);

(d) where a customer to whom merchandise is sold instructs that shipment be made to some other person and the customer's office with which the sale was negotiated is located in the particular province or country, the gross revenue derived therefrom shall be attributable to the permanent establishment in the province or country;

(e) except as provided in paragraph (f), where a customer to whom merchandise is sold instructs that shipment be made to some other person and the customer's office with which the sale was negotiated is located in a province or country other than Canada in which the taxpayer has no permanent establishment, if the person negotiating the sale may reasonably be regarded as being attached to the permanent establishment in the particular province or country, the gross revenue derived therefrom shall be attributable to that permanent establishment;

(f) where a customer to whom merchandise is sold instructs that shipment be made to some other person and the customer's office with which the sale was negotiated is located in a country other than Canada in which the taxpayer has no permanent establishment,

(i) if the merchandise was produced or manufactured, or produced and manufactured, entirely in the particular province by the taxpayer, the gross revenue derived therefrom shall be attributable to the permanent establishment in the province, or

(ii) if the merchandise was produced or manufactured, or produced and manufactured, partly in the particular province and partly in another place by the taxpayer, the gross revenue derived therefrom attributable to the permanent establishment in the province shall be that proportion thereof that the salaries and wages paid in the year to employees of the permanent establishment in the province where the merchandise was partly produced or manufactured (or partly produced and manufactured) is of the aggregate of the salaries and wages paid in the year to employees of the permanent establishments where the merchandise was produced or manufactured (or produced and manufactured);

(g) where gross revenue is derived from services rendered in the particular province or country, the gross revenue shall be attributable to the permanent establishment in the province or country;

(h) where gross revenue is derived from services rendered in a province or country other than Canada in which the taxpayer has no permanent establishment, if the person negotiating the contract may reasonably be regarded as being attached to the permanent establishment of the taxpayer in the particular province or country, the gross revenue shall be attributable to that permanent establishment;

(i) where standing timber or the right to cut standing timber is sold and the timber limit on which the timber is standing is in the particular province or country, the gross revenue from such sale shall be attributable to the permanent establishment of the taxpayer in the province or country; and

(j) where land is a permanent establishment of the taxpayer in the particular province, the gross revenue which arises from leasing the land shall be attributable to that permanent establishment.

(5) Where an individual pays a fee to another person under an agreement pursuant to which that other person or employees of that other person perform services for the individual that would normally be performed by employees of the individual, the fee so paid shall be deemed to be salary paid by the individual and that part of the fee that may reasonably be regarded as payment in respect of services rendered at a particular permanent establishment of the individual shall be deemed to be salary paid to an employee of that permanent establishment.

(6) For the purposes of subsection (5), a fee does not include a commission paid to a person who is not an employee of the individual.

2604. Bus and truck operators — Notwithstanding subsections 2603(3) and (4), the amount of income that shall be deemed to have been earned in a particular province or country other than Canada by an individual from carrying on the business of transportation of goods or passengers (other than by the operation of a railway, ships or an airline service) is ½ of the aggregate of

(a) that proportion of his income therefrom for the year that the number of miles travelled by his vehicles in the province or country in the fiscal period ending in the year is of the total number of miles travelled by his vehicles in that period; and

(b) that proportion of his income therefrom for the year that the aggregate of salaries and wages paid in the fiscal period ending in the year to employees of the permanent establishment in the province or country is of the aggregate of all salaries and wages paid in that period to employees of the business.

2605. More than one business — Where an individual operates more than one business, the provisions of sections 2603 and 2604 shall be applied in respect of each business and the amount of income for the year from carrying on business earned in a particular province or country in the year is the aggregate of the amounts so determined.

Definitions [Reg. 2605]: "amount" — ITA 248(1); "business" — Reg. 2606(3)(a); "income for the year from carrying on business" — Reg. 2606(1), 2606(3)(b); "individual" — ITA 248(1); "province" — Interpretation Act 35(1); "salaries and wages paid in the year" — Reg. 2606(3)(c); "total gross revenue for the year" — Reg. 2606(3)(d).

Interpretation Bulletins: IT-206R: Separate businesses.

2606. Limitations of business income — (1) Where, in the case of an individual to whom section 2601 applies, the aggregate of the amounts otherwise determined as his income for the taxation year from carrying on business earned in all provinces and countries other than Canada is greater than his income for the year, his income for the year from carrying on business earned in a particular province or country shall be deemed to be that proportion of his income for the year that

(a) his income for the year from carrying on business in the province or country as otherwise determined,

is of

(b) that aggregate.

(2) Where section 114 of the Act is applicable for the purpose of determining the taxable income of an individual for the taxation year, a reference in subsection (1) to "his income for the taxation year" shall be construed as a reference to the amount of his income as determined for the purposes of section 114 of the Act and, for the purpose of this Part, his income for the taxation year from carrying on a business in any place shall be computed by reference only to a business the income from which is included in computing his taxable income for the purposes of section 114 of the Act.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 2606(1), (2)

(1) Limitations of business income — If, in the case of an individual to whom section 2601, applies, the total of the amounts otherwise determined as the individual's income for a taxation year from carrying on business earned in all provinces and countries other than Canada is greater that the individual's income for the year, the individual's income for the year from carrying on business earned in a particular province or country is deemed to be that proportion of the individual's income for the year that

(a) the individual's income for the year from carrying on business in the province or country as otherwise determined,

is of

(b) that total.

(2) [Part-year residents] — If section 114 of the Act applies in respect of an individual for a taxation year, the reference in subsection (1) to "the individual's income for a taxation year" shall be read as a reference to the amount of the individual's taxable income for the year and, for the purpose of this Part, the individual's income for the year from carrying on a business in any place shall be computed by reference only to a business the income from which is included in computing the individual's taxable income for the year.

Application: The March 16, 2001 draft regulations (taxpayer migration), s. 2, will amend the portion of Reg. 2606 before subsec. (3) to read as above, applicable to 1998 et seq.

Technical Notes: Part XXVI sets out rules for computing an individual's income earned in a taxation year in a particular province.

Subsection 2606(1) provides for an adjustment to an individual's income earned in a particular province where the sum of the individual's incomes earned in each province and in countries other than Canada exceeds the individual's income for the year. Subsection 2606(2) provides a further adjustment for the purposes of subsection (1) where the individual is non-resident for part of a taxation year only.

Subsection 2606(2) is amended, with application to the 1998 and subsequent taxation years, to reflect amendments to section 114 of the Act (see the commentary on section 114 for further details). In addition, subsections 2606(1) and (2) are amended to update their language.

(3) For the purposes of sections 2603 to 2605, where an individual's taxable income for the taxation year is computed in accordance with section 115 of the Act

(a) a reference to a "business" shall be deemed to refer only to a business that was wholly or partly carried on in Canada;

(b) a reference to "income for the year from carrying on business" shall be deemed to refer only to income for the year from carrying on a business in Canada as determined for the purposes of section 115 of the Act;

(c) a reference to "salaries and wages paid in the year" shall be deemed to be a reference to salaries and wages paid to employees of his permanent establishments in Canada; and

(d) a reference to "total gross revenue for the year" from the business shall be deemed to be a reference to total gross revenue reasonably attributable to his permanent establishments in Canada.

2607. Dual residence — Where an individual was resident in more than one province on the last day of the taxation year, for the purposes of this Part, he shall be deemed to have resided on that day only in that province which may reasonably be regarded as his principal place of residence.

Definitions: "individual" — ITA 248(1); "province" — Interpretation Act 35(1); "resident" — ITA 250; "taxation year" — ITA 249.

Interpretation Bulletins: IT-221R3: Determination of an individual's residence status; IT-447: Residence of a trust or estate.

2608. SIFT trusts — For the purposes of this Part, if the individual is a SIFT trust, a reference to income earned in a taxation year shall be read as a reference to the amount that would, if this Part were read without reference to this section, be the amount, if any, by which its income for the taxation year exceeds its taxable SIFT trust distributions for the taxation year.

History: S. 2608 added by 2007, c. 29, s. 31, deemed to have come into force on October 31, 2006.

Definitions [Reg. 2608]: "amount", "individual" — ITA 248(1); "SIFT trust" — ITA 122.1(1), (2), 248(1); "taxable SIFT trust distributions" — ITA 122(3); "taxation year" — ITA 249; "trust" — ITA 104(1), 248(1), (3).

PART XXVII — GROUP TERM LIFE INSURANCE BENEFITS

History: Part XXVII added by P.C. 1997-1623, s. 1, November 6, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 26, 1997, s. 2700 applicable to 1994 et seq. Ss. 2701 to 2704 applicable with respect to insurance provided in respect of periods that are after June 1994 except that, in their application with respect to insurance provided in respect of periods that are in 1994 and after June 1994,

(a) the opening words of para. 2701(1)(c) shall be read as follows:

(c) the total of all sales and excise taxes payable in respect of premiums paid under the policy in 1994 and after June 1994 for insurance on the life of the taxpayer, other than

(b) the part of subpara. 2702(1)(b)(i) before the formula shall be read as follows:

(i) the total of all amounts each of which is, for a day in the year 1994 that is after June 1994 on which term insurance is in effect under the policy on the taxpayer's life, the amount determined by the formula and

(c) subpara. 2702(1)(b)(ii) shall be read as follows:

(ii) the total amount paid by the taxpayer in respect of term insurance under the policy on the taxpayer's life in respect of the period in the year 1994 that is after June 1994.

and s. 2705 applicable with respect to insurance that is provided in respect of periods that are in 1994 and before July 1994.

Former Part XXVII revoked by P.C. 1991-2540, s. 5, December 16, 1991, Canada Gazette, Part II, January 15, 1992, applicable to taxation years commencing after 1990.

The heading to former Part XXVII amended by the said P.C. 1991-2540, s. 8, applicable after 1985.

Former Part XXVII was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

2700. Interpretation — (1) Definitions — The definitions in this subsection apply in this Part.

"lump-sum premium" in relation to a group term life insurance policy means a premium for insurance under the policy on the life of an individual where all or part of the premium is for insurance that is (or would be if the individual survived) in respect of a period that ends more than 13 months after the earlier of the day on which the premium becomes payable and the day on which it is paid.

"paid-up premium" in relation to a group term life insurance policy means a premium for insurance under the policy on the life of an individual where the insurance is for the remainder of the lifetime of the individual and no further premiums will be payable for the insurance.

"premium category" in relation to term insurance provided under a group term life insurance policy means,

(a) where the premium rate applicable in respect of term insurance on the life of an individual depends on the group to which the individual belongs, any of the groups for which a premium rate is established, and

(b) in any other case, all individuals on whose lives term insurance is in effect under the policy, and, for the purpose of this definition, a single premium rate is deemed to apply for all term insurance under a policy in respect of periods in 1994, and where individuals are divided into separate groups solely on the basis of their age, sex, or both, the groups are deemed to be a single group for which a premium rate is established.

"term insurance" in relation to an individual and a group term life insurance policy means insurance under the policy on the life of the individual, other than insurance in respect of which a lump-sum premium has become payable or been paid.

(2) Accidental death insurance — For greater certainty, a premium for insurance on the life of an individual does not include an amount for accidental death insurance.

Definitions [Reg. 2700]: "amount", "group term life insurance policy", "individual" — ITA 248(1); "lump-sum premium" — Reg. 2700(1); "month" — Interpretation Act 35(1); "term insurance" — Reg. 2700(1).

2701. Prescribed benefit — (1) Subject to subsection (2), for the purpose of subsection 6(4) of the Act, the amount prescribed for a taxation year in respect of insurance under a group term life insurance policy on the life of a taxpayer is the total of

(a) the taxpayer's term insurance benefit under the policy for the calendar year in which the taxation year ends,

(b) the taxpayer's prepaid insurance benefit under the policy for that calendar year, and

(c) the total of all sales and excise taxes payable in respect of premiums paid under the policy in that calendar year for insurance on the life of the taxpayer, other than

(i) taxes paid, directly or by way of reimbursement, by the taxpayer, and

(ii) taxes in respect of premiums for term insurance that, if the taxpayer were to die, would be paid otherwise than

(A) to the taxpayer,

(B) for the benefit of the taxpayer,

(C) as a benefit that the taxpayer desired to have conferred on any person.

Related Provisions: ITA 139.1(15) — Effect of demutualization of insurance corporation.

(2) Bankrupt individual — Where a taxpayer who has become a bankrupt has two taxation years ending in a calendar year, for the purpose of subsection 6(4) of the Act, the amount prescribed for the first taxation year in respect of insurance under a group term life insurance policy on the life of the taxpayer is nil.

Definitions [Reg. 2701]: "amount", "bankrupt" — ITA 248(1); "calendar year" — Interpretation Act 37(1)(a); "group term life insurance policy", "person" — ITA 248(1); "prepaid insurance benefit" — Reg. 2703(1); "prescribed" — ITA 248(1); "taxation year" — ITA 249; "taxpayer" — ITA 248(1); "term insurance" — Reg. 2700(1); "term insurance benefit" — Reg. 2702(1).

2702. Term insurance benefit — (1) Amount of benefit — Subject to section 2704, for the purpose of paragraph 2701(1)(a), a taxpayer's term insurance benefit under a group term life insurance policy for a calendar year is

(a) where

(i) the policyholder elects to determine, under this paragraph, the term insurance benefit for the year of each individual whose life is insured under the policy,

(ii) no premium rate that applies for term insurance provided under the policy on the life of an individual in respect of the year depends on the age or sex of the individual,

(iii) no amounts are payable under the policy for term insurance on the lives of individuals in respect of the year other than premiums payable on a regular basis that are based on the amount of term insurance in force in the year for each individual, and

(iv) the year is after 1995,

the amount determined by the formula

$$A - B$$

where

A is the total of the premiums payable for term insurance provided under the policy on the taxpayer's life in respect of periods in the year, to the extent that each such premium is in respect of term insurance that, if the taxpayer died in the year, would be paid to or for the benefit of the taxpayer or as a benefit that the taxpayer desired to have conferred on any person, and

B is the total amount paid by the taxpayer in respect of term insurance under the policy on the taxpayer's life in respect of the year; and

(b) in any other case, the amount, if any, by which

(i) the total of all amounts each of which is, for a day in the year on which term insurance is in effect under the policy on the taxpayer's life, the amount determined by the formula

$$A \times B$$

where

A is the amount of term insurance in effect on that day under the policy on the taxpayer's life, except the portion, if any, of the amount that, if the taxpayer were to die on that day, would be paid otherwise than

(A) to the taxpayer,

(B) to benefit of the taxpayer, or

(C) as a benefit that the taxpayer desired to have conferred on any person, and

B is the average daily cost of insurance for the year for the premium category in which the taxpayer is included on that day

exceeds

(ii) the total amount paid by the taxpayer in respect of term insurance under the policy on the taxpayer's life in respect of the year.

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

(2) Average daily cost of insurance — The average daily cost of insurance under a group term life insurance policy for a calendar year for a premium category is

(a) subject to paragraph (b), the amount determined by the formula

$$\frac{(A + B - C)}{D}$$

where

A is the total of the premiums payable for term insurance provided under the policy on the lives of individuals in respect of periods in the year while they are in the premium category,

B is the total of the amounts paid in the year under the policy for term insurance in respect of periods in preceding years (other than amounts that have otherwise been taken into account for the purpose of subsection 6(4) of the Act), to the extent that the total can reasonably be considered to relate to term insurance provided on the lives of individuals in the premium category,

C is the total amount of policy dividends and experience rating refunds paid in the year under the policy and not distributed to individuals whose lives are insured under the policy, to the extent that the total can reasonably be considered to relate to term insurance provided on the lives of individuals in the premium category, and

D is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount of term insurance in force on a day in the year on the lives of individuals in the premium category on that day; or

(b) the amount that the policyholder determines using a reasonable method that is substantially similar to the method set out in paragraph (a).

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

(3) Survivor income benefits — For the purposes of this section, where the proceeds of term insurance on the life of an individual are payable in the form of periodic payments, and the periodic payments are not an optional form of settlement of a lump-sum amount, the amount of term insurance in effect on the individual's life on any day is the present value, on that day, of the periodic payments that would be made if the individual were to die on that day.

(4) Determination of present value — For the purpose of subsection (3), the present value on a day in a calendar year

(a) shall be determined using assumptions that are reasonable at some time in the year; and

(b) may be determined assuming that an individual on whose life the present value depends is the same age on that day as on another day in the year.

Definitions [Reg. 2702]: "amount" — ITA 248(1); "amount of term insurance" — Reg. 2702(3); "calendar year" — Interpretation Act 37(1)(a); "dividend", "group term life insurance policy", "individual", "person" — ITA 248(1); "premium category" — Reg. 2700(1); "present value" — Reg. 2702(4); "taxpayer" — ITA 248(1); "term insurance" — Reg. 2700(1).

2703. Prepaid insurance benefit — (1) Amount of benefit — Subject to section 2704, for the purpose of paragraph 2701(1)(b), a taxpayer's prepaid insurance benefit under a group term life insurance policy for a calendar year is

(a) where the taxpayer is alive at the end of the year, the total of all amounts each of which is

(i) a lump-sum premium (other than the taxpayer portion) paid in the year and after February 1994 in respect of insurance under the policy on the life of the taxpayer, other than a paid-up premium paid before 1997, or

(ii) 1/3 of a paid-up premium (other than the taxpayer portion) in respect of insurance under the policy on the life of the taxpayer that was paid

(A) after February 1994 and before 1997, and

(B) in the year or one of the two preceding years; and

(b) where the taxpayer died after June 1994 and in the year, the amount, if any, by which

(i) the total of all amounts each of which is a lump-sum premium (other than the taxpayer portion) paid under the policy after February 1994 in respect of insurance on the life of the taxpayer

exceeds

(ii) the portion of that total that was included in computing the taxpayer's prepaid insurance benefit under the policy for preceding years.

Related Provisions: ITA 18(9.01) — Matching deduction for employer.

(2) Taxpayer portion of premiums — For the purpose of subsection (1), the taxpayer portion of a premium is the portion, if any, of the premium that the taxpayer paid, either directly or by way of reimbursement.

2902. For the purposes of the definition "qualified expenditure" in subsection 127(9) of the Act, a prescribed expenditure is

(a) an expenditure of a current nature incurred by a taxpayer in respect of

(i) the general administration or management of a business, including

(A) administrative salary or wages and related benefits in respect of a person whose duties are not all or substantially all directed to the prosecution of scientific research and experimental development, except to the extent that such expenditure is described in subsection 2900(2) or (3),

(B) a legal or accounting fee,

(H) a fine or penalty, or

(ii) the maintenance and upkeep of premises, facilities or equipment to the extent that such expenditure is not attributable to the prosecution of scientific research and experimental development;

(b) an expenditure of a capital nature incurred by a taxpayer in respect of

(i) the acquisition of property, except any such expenditure that at the time it was incurred

(A) was for first term shared-use-equipment or second term shared-use-equipment, or

(B) was for the provision of premises, facilities or equipment if, at the time of the acquisition of the premises, facilities or equipment, it was intended

(I) that the premises, facilities or equipment would be used during all or substantially all of the operating time of the premises, facilities or equipment in the expected useful life of the premises, facilities or equipment for the prosecution of scientific research and experimental development in Canada, or

(II) that all or substantially all of the value of the premises, facilities or equipment would be consumed in the prosecution of scientific research and experimental development in Canada,

(ii) the acquisition of property that is qualified property within the meaning assigned by subsection 127(9) of the Act, or

(iii) the acquisition of property that has been used, or acquired for use or lease, for any purpose whatever before it was acquired by the taxpayer;

(c) an expenditure made to acquire rights in, or arising out of, scientific research and experimental development; or

(d) an expenditure on scientific research and experimental development in respect of which an amount is deductible under section 110.1 or section 118.1 of the Act; or

(e) an expenditure of a current or capital nature, to the extent that the taxpayer has received or is entitled to receive a reimbursement in respect thereof from

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 2902(e) opening words

(e) for the purpose of sections 194 and 195 of the Act, an expenditure of a current or capital nature, to the extent that the taxpayer has received or is entitled to receive a reimbursement in respect of the expenditure from

Application: The October 27, 1998 draft regulations, s. 2, will amend the opening words of para. 2902(e) to read as above, applicable to amounts that become receivable after December 20, 1991.

Technical Notes: Section 2902 defines a prescribed expenditure for the purposes of subsection 127(9) of the Income Tax Act. Prescribed expenditures are not eligible for investment tax credits.

Paragraph 2902(e) is amended consequential on the amendments to the definition "contract payment" in subsection 127(9) of the Act. Those amendments provided that a contract payment included certain payments for scientific research and experimental development that is performed for or on behalf of a person entitled to a deduction in respect of the amount because of subparagraph 37(1)(a)(i) or (i.1) of the Act. Contract payments received reduce the base upon which a taxpayer's ITC in respect of SR&ED is calculated. Those amendments were effective for amounts that became payable after December 20, 1991. In view of the amended definition of "contract payment" applicable to ITCs in respect of SR&ED, the provisions of paragraph 2902(e) became redundant for ITC purposes. However, paragraph 2902(e) is still relevant in respect of claims for refunds of Part VIII Refundable Tax on Corporations in Respect of the Scientific Research and Experimental Development Tax Credit. Regulation 2902(e) is, therefore, amended to apply only for the purposes of the Part VIII Refundable Tax.

(i) a person resident in Canada, other than

(A) Her Majesty in right of Canada or a province,

(B) an agent of Her Majesty in right of Canada or a province,

(C) a corporation, commission or association that is controlled, directly or indirectly in any manner whatever, by Her Majesty in right of Canada or a province or by an agent of Her Majesty in right of Canada or a province, or

(D) a municipality in Canada or a municipal or public body performing a function of government in Canada, or

(ii) a person not resident in Canada to the extent that the said reimbursement is deductible by the person in computing his taxable income earned in Canada for any taxation year.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 3505

3505. Conditions [for donating medicine from inventory] — (1) The following conditions are prescribed in respect of a donee for the purposes of paragraph 110.1(8)(e) of the Act:

(a) the donee has applied to the Minister for International Cooperation (or, if there is no such Minister, the Minister responsible for the Canadian International Development Agency) for a determination that the conditions described in this section have been met;

(b) medicines received by the donee for use in charitable activities outside Canada are

(i) delivered outside Canada by the donee for use in its charitable activities, or

(ii) transferred to another registered charity that would meet the conditions contained in this section if that registered charity were a donee described in subsection 110.1(8) of the Act;

(c) in the course of delivering medicines outside Canada for use in its charitable activities, the donee acts in a manner consistent with the principles and objectives of the inter-agency Guidelines for Drug Donations issued by the World Health Organization, as amended from time to time, (referred to in this section as "the WHO Guidelines");

(d) the donee has sufficient expertise in delivering medicines for use in charitable activities carried on outside Canada;

(e) the donee carries on a program that includes delivering medicines for use in charitable activities carried on outside Canada and that is

(i) an international development assistance program, or

(ii) an international humanitarian assistance program, responding to situations of international humanitarian crisis (resulting from either natural disaster or complex emergency); and

(f) the donee has sufficient expertise to design, implement and monitor each program described in subparagraph (e)(i) or (ii) that it carries on, unless the donee has declared that it will not deliver medicines in that program.

(2) Without limiting the application of the WHO Guidelines, for the purposes of paragraph (1)(c), a donee does not act in a manner consistent with the principles and objectives of those guidelines if the donee's directors, trustees, officers or like officials have not

(a) approved a policy and procedural framework, under which the donee is required to act in a manner consistent with the WHO Guidelines; and

(b) declared that the donee acts in compliance with that policy and procedural framework.

(3) A donee is considered not to have sufficient expertise for the purpose of a program to which paragraph (1)(d) or (e) applies if

(a) the program does not address the specific and differentiated needs, interests and vulnerabilities of affected women and men, girls and boys;

(b) the program does not incorporate, in the design of projects under the program, consideration for environmental effects of those projects; or

(c) the donee does not have policies and practices for the design, implementation and monitoring of the program.

(4) The Minister referred to in subsection (1) may

(a) rely on any information or evidence in making a determination under subsection (1); and

(b) require the donee to provide any other information or evidence that that Minister considers relevant and sufficient for the purpose of this section.

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), s. 104, will add s. 3505, applicable in respect of applications made at any time by donees for determinations in respect of gifts made after June 2008.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): New section 3505 sets out conditions prescribed for the purposes of paragraph 110.1(8)(e) of the Act. That paragraph generally provides that, to be an "eligible medical gift" described in subsection 110.1(8) of the Act, a gift must be made to a donee that is a registered charity that, in the opinion of the Minister for International Cooperation, meets these prescribed conditions.

New subsection 3505(1) sets out the following general conditions:

- The donee must have applied to that Minister for a determination that the prescribed conditions have been met.
- Medicines received by the donee for use outside Canada must either be delivered outside Canada by the donee for use in its charitable activities or transferred to another registered charity that meets the prescribed conditions. As such, if the original donee of a gift of medicines does not use those medicines in the course of its own charitable activities, a further donation of those medicines to another registered charity that meets the requirements of this section will not jeopardize the status of the original donee. The same applies if the medicines are further donated by that other registered charity.
- In the course of delivering medicines outside of Canada, the donee must act in a manner consistent with the principles and objectives of the inter-agency Guidelines for Drug Donations issued by the World Health Organization (the "WHO Guidelines").
- The donee must have sufficient expertise in delivering medicines for use in charitable activities carried on outside Canada.
- The donee must carry on a program that includes delivering medicines for use in charitable activities carried on outside Canada that is an international development assistance program or an international humanitarian assistance program responding to situations of international humanitarian crisis (resulting from either natural disaster or complex emergency).
- The donee must have sufficient expertise to design, implement and monitor each program described above that it carries on, unless the donee has declared that it will not deliver medicines in that program.

New subsections 3505(2) and (3) provide minimum criteria in respect of the conditions set out in subsection 3505(1).

Subsection 3505(2) requires that the donee's directors, trustees, officers or like officials approve a policy and procedural framework, under which the donee is required to act in a manner consistent with the WHO Guidelines, and that those officials declared that the donee is acting in compliance with that policy and procedural framework.

Subsection 3505(3) generally requires that the donee's programs, for the delivery of medicines, international development assistance and international humanitarian assistance,

- address the specific and differentiated needs, interests and vulnerabilities of affected women and men, girls and boys;

- incorporate, in the design of projects, consideration for environmental effects of those projects; and
- have policies and practices for the design, implementation and monitoring of the program.

New subsection 3505(4) provides that the Minister for International Cooperation may rely on any information or evidence in making a determination under subsection 3505(1), and may require the donee to provide any other information or evidence that that Minister considers relevant and sufficient for the purpose of section 3505.

PART XXXVI — RESERVES FOR SURVEYS

History: Part XXXVI was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

3600. (1) For the purpose of paragraph 20(1)(o) of the Act, the amount hereby prescribed is

(a) for the third taxation year preceding the taxation year during which a survey is scheduled to occur, the amount that is 1/4 of the estimate of the expenses of the survey;

(b) for the second taxation year preceding the taxation year during which a survey is scheduled to occur, the amount that is 1/2 of the estimate of the expenses of the survey;

(c) for the first taxation year preceding the taxation year during which a survey is scheduled to occur, the amount that is 3/4of the estimate of the expenses of the survey; and

(d) for the taxation year during which a survey is scheduled to occur, if the quadrennial or other special surveys have not, at the end of the year, been completed to the extent that the vessel is permitted to proceed on a voyage, the amount remaining after deducting from the estimate of the expenses of the survey the amount of expenses actually incurred in the year in carrying out the survey.

(2) In this section,

"classification society" means a society or association for the classification and registry of shipping approved by the Minister of Transport under the Canada Shipping Act.

"estimate of the expenses of survey" means a fair and reasonable estimate, made by a taxpayer at the time of filing his return of income for the third taxation year preceding the taxation year in which a quadrennial survey is scheduled to occur, of the costs, charges and expenses which might be expected to be necessarily incurred by him by reason of that survey and in respect of which he does not have or possess nor is he likely to have or possess any right of reimbursement, recoupment, recovery or indemnification from any other person or source;

"quadrennial survey" means a periodical survey, not being an annual survey nor a survey coinciding as to time with the construction of a vessel, in accordance with the rules of a classification society or, an extended inspection, not being an annual inspection nor an inspection coinciding as to time with the construction of a vessel, pursuant to the provisions of the Canada Shipping Act, and the regulations thereunder;

"survey" means the drydocking of a vessel, the examination and inspection of its hull, boilers, machinery, engines and equipment by an inspector or a surveyor and everything done to such vessel, its hull, boilers, machinery, engines and equipment pursuant to an order, requirement or recommendation given or made by the inspector or surveyor as the result of the examination and inspection so that a safety and inspection certificate might be issued in respect of the vessel pursuant to the provisions of the Canada Shipping Act, and the regulations thereunder or, as the case may be, so that the vessel might be entitled to retain the character assigned to it in the registry book of a classification society;

"surveyor" means a surveyor to a classification society.

Definitions [Reg. 3600]: "amount" — ITA 248(1); "Canada" — ITA 255, Interpretation Act 35(1); "classification society", "estimate of the expenses of survey", "inspector" — Reg. 3600(2); "Minister", "person", "prescribed" — ITA 248(1); "quadrennial survey", "survey" — Reg. 3600(2); "surveyor" — Reg. 3600(2); "taxation year" — ITA 249; "taxpayer" — ITA 248(1).

PART XXXVII — CHARITABLE FOUNDATIONS

History: Part XXXVII (ss. 3700–3702) added by P.C. 1987-2236, s. 1, October 29, 1987, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 11, 1987, applicable with respect to taxation years commencing after 1983.

History [former Part XXXVII]: Former Part XXXVII (Social Assistance Payments) was revoked by P.C. 1984-3789, s. 13, November 29, 1984, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 12, 1984, applicable to 1982 et seq.

Former Part XXXVII was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

3700. Interpretation — In this Part,

"charitable foundation" has the meaning assigned by paragraph 149.1(1)(a) [149.1(1)"charitable foundation"] of the Act;

"limited-dividend housing company" means a limited-dividend housing company described in paragraph 149(1)(n) of the Act;

"non-qualified investment" has the meaning assigned by paragraph 149.1(1)(e.1) [149.1(1)"non-qualified investment"] of the Act;

"prescribed stock exchange" — [Repealed]

"taxation year" has the meaning assigned by paragraph 149.1(1)(l) [149.1(1)"taxation year"] of the Act.

History: The definition "prescribed stock exchange" in s. 3700 repealed by 2007, c. 35, s. 75, in force December 14, 2007.

3701. Disbursement quota — (1) For the purposes of clause 149.1(1)(e)(iv)(A) [149.1(1)"disbursement quota"D] of the Act, the prescribed amount referred to therein for a taxation year of a charitable foundation shall be determined in accordance with the following rules:

(a) choose a number, not less than two and not more than eight, of equal and consecutive periods that total twenty-four months and that end immediately before the beginning of the year;

(b) aggregate for each period chosen under paragraph (a) all amounts, each of which is the value, determined in accordance with section 3702, of property or a portion thereof owned by the foundation, and not used directly in charitable activities or administration, on the last day of the period;

(c) aggregate all amounts, each of which is the aggregate of values determined for each period under paragraph (b); and

(d) divide the aggregate amount determined under paragraph (c) by the number of periods chosen under paragraph (a).

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1) and subject to subsection (3),

(a) the number of periods chosen by a charitable foundation under paragraph (1)(a) shall, unless otherwise authorized by the Minister, be used for the taxation year and for all subsequent taxation years; and

(b) a charitable foundation shall be deemed to have existed on the last day of each of the periods chosen by it.

(3) The number of periods chosen under paragraph (1)(a) may be changed by the foundation for its first taxation year commencing after 1986 and the new number shall, unless otherwise authorized by the Minister, be used for that taxation year and all subsequent taxation years.

Definitions [Reg. 3701]: "amount" — ITA 248(1); "charitable foundation" — ITA 149.1(1), Reg. 3700; "Minister" — ITA 248(1); "month" — Interpretation Act 35(1); "prescribed", "property" — ITA 248(1); "taxation year" — ITA 149.1(1), Reg. 3700; "value" — Reg. 3702(1).

3702. Determination of value — (1) For the purposes of subsection 3701(1), the value of property or a portion thereof owned by a charitable foundation, and not used directly in charitable activities or administration, on the last day of a period shall be determined as of that day and shall be

(a) in the case of a non-qualified investment, the greater of its fair market value on that day and its cost amount to the foundation;

(b) subject to paragraph (c), in the case of property other than a non-qualified investment that is

(i) a share of a corporation that is listed on a designated stock exchange, the closing price or the average of the bid and asked prices of that share on that day or, if there is no closing price or bid and asked prices on that day, on the last preceding day for which there was a closing price or bid and asked prices,

(ii) a share of a corporation that is not listed on a designated stock exchange, the fair market value of that share on that day,

(iii) an interest in real property, the fair market value on that day of the interest less the amount of any debt of the foundation incurred in respect of the acquisition of the interest and secured by the real property or the interest therein, where the debt bears a reasonable rate of interest,

(iv) a contribution that is the subject of a pledge, nil,

(v) an interest in property where the foundation does not have the present use or enjoyment of the interest, nil,

(vi) a life insurance policy, other than an annuity contract, that has not matured, nil, and

(vii) a property not described in any of subparagraphs (i) to (vi), the fair market value of the property on that day; and

(c) in the case of any property described in paragraph (b)

(i) that is owned in connection with the charitable activities of the foundation and is a share of a limited-dividend housing company or a loan,

(ii) that has ceased to be used for charitable purposes and is being held pending disposition or for use in charitable activities, or

(iii) that has been acquired for use in charitable activities, the lesser of the fair market value of the property on that day and an amount determined by the formula

$$\frac{A}{.045} \times \frac{12}{B}$$

where

A is the income earned on the property in the period, and

B is the number of months in the period.

Registered Charities Newsletters: 27 (debts incurred by charitable foundations).

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), a method that the Minister may accept for the determination of the fair market value of property or a portion thereof on the last day of a period is an independent appraisal made

(a) in the case of property described in subparagraph (1)(b)(ii) or (iii), not more than three years before that day; and

(b) in the case of property described in paragraph (1)(a), subparagraph (1)(b)(vii) or paragraph (1)(c), not more than one year before that day.

History: Subparas. 3702(1)(b)(i) and (ii) amended to substitute "designated stock exchange" for "prescribed stock exchange" by 2007, c. 35, s. 76, in force on December 14, 2007.

PART XXXIX — MINING TAXES

History: S. 3900 amended by P.C. 2006-999, s. 1, September 21, 2006, Canada Gazette, Part II, October 4, 2006, applicable to taxation years that end after 2002, except that, for taxation years that begin before 2007, the amount allowed for the purpose of ITA 20(1)(v) under subsec. 3900(1), in respect of an eligible tax paid or payable in respect of which no amount would be deductible but for the amendment, may not exceed the amount that provides the taxpayer with a deduction, in computing the taxpayer's income under the Act for the taxation year, that is equal to the total of

(a) 10% of the amount of the eligible tax paid or payable by the taxpayer on the taxpayer's income, for the taxation year, from mining operations multiplied by the proportion that the number of days in the taxation year that are in 2003 is of the number of days in the taxation year;

(b) 25% of the amount of the eligible tax paid or payable by the taxpayer on the taxpayer's income, for the taxation year, from mining operations multiplied by the proportion that the number of days in the taxation year that are in 2004 is of the number of days in the taxation year;

(c) 35% of the amount of the eligible tax paid or payable by the taxpayer on the taxpayer's income, for the taxation year, from mining operations multiplied by the proportion that the number of days in the taxation year that are in 2005 is of the number of days in the taxation year;

(d) 65% of the amount of the eligible tax paid or payable by the taxpayer on the taxpayer's income, for the taxation year, from mining operations multiplied by the proportion that the number of days in the taxation year that are in 2006 is of the number of days in the taxation year; and

(e) 100% of the amount of the eligible tax paid or payable by the taxpayer on the taxpayer's income, for the taxation year, from mining operations multiplied by the proportion that the number of days in the taxation year that are in 2007 is of the number of days in the taxation year.

Part XXXIX (s. 3900) added by P.C. 1978-1315, s. 13, April 20, 1978, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 10, 1978.

3900. (1) The following definitions apply in this section.

"income" of a taxpayer for a taxation year from mining operations in a province means the income, for the taxation year, that is derived from mining operations in the province as computed under the laws of the province that impose an eligible tax described in subsection (3).

Related Provisions: Reg. 3900(3) — Eligible tax.

"mine" includes any work or undertaking in which a mineral ore is extracted or produced and includes a quarry.

"mineral ore" includes an unprocessed mineral or mineral-bearing substance.

"mining operations" means

(a) the extraction or production of mineral ore from or in a mine;

(b) the transportation of mineral ore to the point of egress from the mine; and

(c) the processing of

(i) mineral ore (other than iron ore) to the prime metal stage or its equivalent, and

(ii) iron ore to a stage that is not beyond the pellet stage or its equivalent.

"non-Crown royalty" means a royalty contingent on production of a mine or computed by reference to the amount or value of production from mining operations in a province but does not include a royalty that is payable to the Crown in right of Canada or a province.

"processing" includes all forms of beneficiation, smelting and refining.

(2) For the purpose of paragraph 20(1)(v) of the Act, the amount allowed in respect of taxes on income from mining operations of a taxpayer for a taxation year is the total of all amounts each of which is an eligible tax paid or payable by the taxpayer

(a) on the income of the taxpayer for the taxation year from mining operations; or

(b) on a non-Crown royalty included in computing the income of the taxpayer for the taxation year.

(3) An eligible tax referred to in subsection (2) is

(a) a tax, on the income of a taxpayer for a taxation year from mining operations in a province, that is

(i) levied under a law of the province,

(ii) imposed only on persons engaged in mining operations in the province, and

(iii) paid or payable to

(A) the province,

(B) an agent of Her Majesty in right of the province, or

(C) a municipality in the province, in lieu of taxes on property or on any interest, or for civil law any right, in property (other than in lieu of taxes on residential property or on any interest, or for civil law any right, in residential property); and

(b) a tax, on an amount received or receivable by a person as a non-Crown royalty, that is

(i) levied under a law of a province,

(ii) imposed specifically on persons who hold a non-crown royalty on mining operations in the province, and

(iii) paid or payable to the province or to an agent of Her Majesty in right of the province.

Definitions [Reg. 4301]: "calendar year" — Interpretation Act 37(1)(a).

4301. Prescribed rate of interest — Subject to section 4302, for the purposes of

(a) every provision of the Act that requires interest at a prescribed rate to be paid to the Receiver General, the prescribed rate in effect during any particular quarter is the total of

(i) the rate that is the simple arithmetic mean, expressed as a percentage per year and rounded to the next higher whole percentage where the mean is not a whole percentage, of all amounts each of which is the average equivalent yield, expressed as a percentage per year, of Government of Canada Treasury Bills that mature approximately three months after their date of issue and that are sold at auctions of Government of Canada Treasury Bills during the first month of the quarter preceding the particular quarter, and

(ii) 4 per cent;

(b) every provision of the Act that requires interest at a prescribed rate to be paid or applied on an amount payable by the Minister to a taxpayer, the prescribed rate in effect during any particular quarter is the total of

(i) the rate determined under subparagraph (a)(i) in respect of the particular quarter, and

(ii) 2 per cent; and

(c) every other provision of the Act in which reference is made to a prescribed rate of interest or to interest at a prescribed rate, the prescribed rate in effect during any particular quarter is the rate determined under subparagraph (a)(i) in respect of the particular quarter.

History: Subpara. 4301(a)(i) amended by P.C. 1997-1819, December 9, 1997, s. 4, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 24, 1997, in force on December 31, 1997.

S. 4301 substituted by P.C. 1995-926, June 13, 1995, s. 1, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 28, 1995, applicable to interest that is calculated in respect of periods after June 1995. For periods before July 1995, s. 4301 should be read as follows:

4301. Prescribed rate of interest — For the purposes of every provision of the Act that requires interest at a prescribed rate to be paid to the Receiver General or to be paid or applied on an amount payable by the Minister to a taxpayer, the prescribed rate in effect during any particular quarter is the aggregate of

(a) the rate that is the simple arithmetic mean, expressed as a percentage per year and rounded to the next highest whole percentage where the mean is not a whole percentage, of all amounts each of which is the weekly average equivalent yield, expressed as a percentage per year, of Government of Canada Treasury Bills that mature approximately three months after their date of issue and that are sold at a weekly auction of Government of Canada Treasury Bills during the first month of the quarter immediately preceding the particular quarter, and

(b) 2 per cent,

and for the purposes of every other provision of the Act in which reference is made to a prescribed rate of interest or to interest at a prescribed rate, the prescribed rate in effect during any quarter is the rate determined under paragraph (a) in respect of that quarter.

S. 4301 substituted by P.C. 1989-1792, September 21, 1989, Canada Gazette, Part II, October 11, 1989, applicable in respect of interest that is calculated in respect of periods after September 1989.

History: S. 4607 added by P.C. 1988-390, s. 23, March 3, 1988, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 16, 1988, applicable to 1985 et seq.

Definitions [Reg. 4607]: "Canada" — ITA 255, Interpretation Act 35(1); "province" — Interpretation Act 35(1).

4608. Prescribed expenditure for qualified Canadian exploration expenditure — (1) In this section,

"joint exploration corporation" has the meaning assigned by paragraph 66(15)(g) [66(15)"joint exploration corporation"] of the Act;

"principal-business corporation" has the meaning assigned by paragraph 66(15)(h) [66(15)"principal-business corporation"] of the Act;

"shareholder corporation" has the meaning assigned by paragraph 66(15)(i) [66(15)"shareholder corporation"] of the Act;

"well" means an exploratory probe or an oil or gas well.

(2) For the purposes of the definition "qualified Canadian exploration expenditure" in subsection 127(9) of the Act, the prescribed expenditure of a taxpayer for a taxation year is the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the amount, if any, by which

(a) the specified expenses of the taxpayer for the year in respect of the well exceed

(b) the base amount of the taxpayer at the end of the year in respect of the well.

(3) For the purposes of this section, the specified expenses of a taxpayer for a taxation year in respect of a well that is an exploratory probe is the aggregate of all expenses that

(a) would be Canadian exploration expenses of the taxpayer by reason of any of subparagraphs 66.1(6)(a) (i), (iv) and (v) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(a), (h) and (i)] of the Act if the references in subparagraphs 66.1(6)(a) (iv) and (v) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(h) and (i)] of the Act (as those subparagraphs read on November 30, 1985) to "any of subparagraphs (i) to (iii.1)" were read as references to "subparagraph (i)";

(b) were incurred

(i) in the year, and

(ii) after November 1985 and before 1991;

(c) were incurred in the drilling or completing of the exploratory probe or in building a temporary access road to, or preparing the site in respect of, the probe; and

(d) are not non-qualifying expenses of the taxpayer.

(4) For the purposes of this section, the specified expenses of a taxpayer for a taxation year in respect of a well that is an oil or gas well is the aggregate of all expenses that

(a) would be Canadian exploration expenses of the taxpayer by virtue of any of subparagraphs 66.1(6)(a)(ii) to (ii.2), (iv) and (v) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(c) to (e), (h) and (i)] of the Act if the references in subparagraphs 66.1(6)(iv) and (v) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(h) and (i)] of the Act (as those subparagraphs read on November 30, 1985) to "subparagraphs (i) to (iii.1)" were read as references to "subparagraphs (ii) to (ii.2)";

(b) were incurred in respect of the well

(i) in the year, and

(ii) after November 1985 and before 1991; and

(c) are not non-qualifying expenses of the taxpayer.

(5) For the purposes of subsections (3) and (4), a non-qualifying expense of a taxpayer is an expense that

(a) may reasonably be regarded as having been incurred as consideration for services to be rendered after 1990 or for property that cannot reasonably be considered to be for use by the taxpayer before 1991;

(b) was or is to be renounced by the taxpayer at any time under subsection 66(10.1) or (12.6) of the Act;

(c) is or was a Canadian exploration and development overhead expense, within the meaning of section 1206, of the taxpayer, of a partnership of which the taxpayer was a member or of a joint exploration corporation of which the taxpayer was a shareholder corporation;

(d) is an eligible cost or expense within the meaning of the Petroleum Incentives Program Act or the Petroleum Incentives Program Act, Chapter P-4.1 of the Statutes of Alberta, 1981, in respect of which, or in respect of part of which, the taxpayer, a partnership of which the taxpayer was a member, a joint exploration corporation of which the taxpayer was a shareholder corporation or a principal-business corporation of which the taxpayer was a shareholder, has received, is deemed to have received, is entitled to receive or may reasonably be expected to receive an incentive under either of those Acts; or

(e) was included in determining the specified expenses of any other taxpayer for a taxation year.

(6) For the purposes of this section, the base amount of a taxpayer at the end of a particular taxation year in respect of a well is the amount, if any, by which the taxpayer's threshold amount in respect of the well exceeds the aggregate of

(a) all amounts that would have been the taxpayer's specified expenses for any taxation year in respect of the well if

(i) the references in subparagraphs (3)(b)(ii) and (4)(b)(ii) to "after November 1985 and before 1991" were read as "after March 1985 and before December 1985", and

(ii) subsection (5) were read without reference to paragraph (d) thereof;

(b) all amounts referred to in paragraph (5)(d) for the particular taxation year or a preceding taxation year in respect of the well that would have been included in determining the taxpayer's specified expenses for the particular taxation year or the preceding taxation year but for that paragraph; and

(c) all amounts that are the taxpayer's specified expenses for any preceding taxation year in respect of the well.

(7) For the purposes of this section, the threshold amount of a taxpayer in respect of a well is

(a) where no agreement has been filed with the Minister under subsection (8) in respect of the well, $5,000,000; and

(b) where an agreement has been filed with the Minister under subsection (8) in respect of the well, the amount, if any, allocated to the taxpayer under the agreement.

(8) For the purposes of this section, where the aggregate of all expenses in respect of a well, each of which

(a) would be included in determining the specified expenses of a taxpayer for a taxation year in respect of the well if subsection (5) were read without reference to paragraph (d) thereof, or

(b) would be included in determining the specified expenses of a taxpayer for a taxation year in respect of the well if

(i) the references in subparagraphs (3)(b)(ii) and (4)(b)(ii) to "after November 1985 and before 1991" were read as "after March 1985 and before December 1985", and

(ii) subsection (5) were read without reference to paragraph (d) thereof

exceeds $5,000,000, all taxpayers who have incurred those expenses or in whose favour or to whom any of those expenses have been renounced under subsection 66(10.1) or (12.6) of the Act may file with the Minister an agreement in writing in the prescribed form in respect of the well allocating amounts to some or all of those taxpayers if

(c) the amount allocated to each taxpayer does not exceed the total of such expenses that were incurred by the taxpayer in respect of the well, and that are not to be renounced by the taxpayer under subsection 66(10.1) or (12.6) of the Act in favour of or to any other person, and

(d) the aggregate of all amounts so allocated is not less than $5,000,000.

(9) For the purposes of this section, where

(a) the drilling of a well (in this subsection referred to as the "abandoned well") is abandoned not because of the results obtained but because of geological or mechanical difficulties and the drilling of a new well (in this subsection referred to as the "new well") is commenced, and

(b) having regard to all the circumstances, including the lapse of time between the abandonment of the abandoned well and the commencement of the new well and the proximity of the sites of the wells, it is reasonable to regard the new well as a replacement for the abandoned well, the abandoned well and the new well shall be deemed to be one well.

(10) For the purposes of this section, where an expense of a joint exploration corporation is deemed by subsection 66(10.1) or (10.2) of the Act to be an expense of a shareholder corporation of the joint exploration corporation, the shareholder corporation shall be deemed to have incurred the expense at the time it was incurred by the joint exploration corporation.

(11) For the purpose of this section, where an expense of a principal-business corporation is deemed by subsection 66(12.61) or (12.63) of the Act to be an expense of a shareholder of the corporation, the shareholder shall be deemed to have incurred the expense at the time it was incurred by the principal-business corporation.

(12) For the purposes of this section, where an expense incurred by a partnership is, under subparagraph 66.1(6)(a)(iv) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(h)] of the Act, a Canadian exploration expense of a taxpayer who was a member of the partnership, the taxpayer shall be deemed to have incurred the Canadian exploration expense at the time the expense was incurred by the partnership.

(13) For the purposes of this section, where an expense is a Canadian development expense of a taxpayer that is, under subsection 66.1(9) of the Act, deemed to be a Canadian exploration expense of the taxpayer, the taxpayer shall be deemed to have incurred the Canadian exploration expense at the time the Canadian development expense was incurred.

PART XLVIII — STATUS OF CORPORATIONS AND TRUSTS

History: Part XLVIII was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

4800. (1) [Public corporation — prescribed conditions] — For the purposes of subparagraph (b)(i) of the definition "public corporation" in subsection 89(1) of the Act, the following conditions are prescribed in respect of a corporation other than a cooperative corporation (within the meaning assigned by section 136 of the Act) or a credit union:

(a) a class of shares of the capital stock of the corporation designated by the corporation in its election or by the Minister in his notice to the corporation, as the case may be, shall be qualified for distribution to the public;

(b) there shall be no fewer than

(i) where the shares of that class are equity shares, 150, and

(ii) in any other case, 300

persons, other than insiders of the corporation, each of whom holds

(iii) not less than one block of shares of that class, and

(iv) shares of that class having an aggregate fair market value of not less than $500; and

(c) insiders of the corporation shall not hold more than 80 per cent of the issued and outstanding shares of that class.

Forms: T2073: Election to be a public corporation.

(2) [Public corporation — prescribed conditions] — For the purposes of subparagraph (c)(i) of the definition "public corporation" in subsection 89(1) of the Act, the following conditions are prescribed in respect of a corporation:

(a) insiders of the corporation shall hold more than 90 per cent of the issued and outstanding shares of each class of shares of the capital stock of the corporation that

(i) was, at any time after the corporation last became a public corporation, listed on a designated stock exchange in Canada, or

(ii) was a class, designated as described in paragraph (1)(a), by virtue of which the corporation last became a public corporation;

(b) in respect of each class of shares described in subparagraph (a)(i) or (ii), there shall be fewer than

(i) where the shares of that class are equity shares, 50, and

(ii) in any other case, 100

persons, other than insiders of the corporation, each of whom holds

(iii) not less than one block of shares of that class, and

(iv) shares of that class having an aggregate fair market value of not less than $500; and

(c) there shall be no class of shares of the capital stock of the corporation that is qualified for distribution to the public and complies with the conditions described in paragraphs (1)(b) and (c).

Forms: T2067: Election not to be a public corporation.

(3) [Public corporation — amalgamation] — Where, by virtue of an amalgamation (within the meaning assigned by section 87 of the Act) of predecessor corporations any one or more of which was, immediately before the amalgamation, a public corporation, shares of any class of the capital stock of any such public corporation that was

(a) at any time after the corporation last became a public corporation, listed on a designated stock exchange in Canada, or

(b) the class, designated as described in paragraph (1)(a), by virtue of which the corporation last became a public corporation, are converted into shares of any class (in this subsection referred to as the "new class") of the capital stock of the new corporation, the new class shall, for the purposes of subsection (2), be deemed to be a class, designated as described in paragraph (1)(a), by virtue of which the new corporation last became a public corporation.

(4) [Public corporation — election requirements] — Any election under subparagraphs (b)(i) or (c)(i) of the definition "public corporation" in subsection 89(1) of the Act shall be made by filing with the Minister the following documents:

(a) the form prescribed by the Minister;

(b) where the directors of the corporation are legally entitled to administer the affairs of the corporation, a certified copy of their resolution authorizing the election to be made;

(c) where the directors of the corporation are not legally entitled to administer the affairs of the corporation, a certified copy of the authorization of the making of the election by the person or persons legally entitled to administer the affairs of the corporation; and

(d) a statutory declaration made by a director of the corporation stating that, after reasonable inquiry for the purpose of informing himself in that regard, to the best of his knowledge the corporation complies with all the prescribed conditions that must be complied with at the time the election is made.

4800.1 [Prescribed trusts] — For the purposes of paragraph 107(1)(a) and subsections 107(1.1), (2) and (4.1) of the Act, the following are prescribed trusts;

Application: The July 18, 2005 draft regulations, s. 2, will amend the opening words of s. 4800.1 to read as above, applicable after 1999.

Technical Notes: Section 4800.1 provides a list of trusts that are prescribed for a number of identified provisions in the Act. Section 4800.1 is amended to update the list of provisions in the Act for which it applies. As a result, a reference to subsection 107(1.1) of the Act is added and a reference to paragraph 108(1)(c) of the Act is removed. The amendments to the Act that give rise to the need for these changed references have generally had effect since the start of 2000.

(a) a trust maintained primarily for the benefit of employees of a corporation or two or more corporations which do not deal at arm's length with each other, where one of the main purposes of the trust is to hold interests in shares of the capital stock of the corporation or corporations, as the case may be, or any corporation not dealing at arm's length therewith;

(b) a trust established exclusively for the benefit of one or more persons each of whom was, at the time the trust was created, either a person from whom the trust received property or a creditor of that person, where one of the main purposes of the trust is to secure the payments required to be made by or on behalf of that person to such creditor; and

(c) a trust all or substantially all of the properties of which consist of shares of the capital stock of a corporation, where the trust was established pursuant to an agreement between two or more shareholders of the corporation and one of the main purposes of the trust is to provide for the exercise of voting rights in respect of those shares pursuant to that agreement.

4801. [Mutual fund trust — prescribed conditions] — For the purposes of paragraph 132(6)(c) of the Act, the following conditions are hereby prescribed in respect of a trust:

(a) either

(i) a class of the units of the trust shall be qualified for distribution to the public, or

(ii) there has been a lawful distribution in a province to the public of units of the trust and a prospectus, registration statement or similar document was not required under the laws of the province to be filed in respect of the distribution; and

(b) in respect of any one class of units described in paragraph (a), there shall be no fewer than 150 beneficiaries of the trust, each of whom holds

(i) not less than one block of units of the class, and

(ii) units of the class having an aggregate fair market value of not less than $500.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 4801

4801. [Mutual fund trust — prescribed conditions] — In applying at any time paragraph 132(6)(c) of the Act, the following are prescribed conditions in respect of a trust:

(a) either

(i) both

(A) there has been at or before that time a lawful distribution in a province to the public of units of the trust and a prospectus, registration statement or similar document was not, under the laws of the province, required to be filed in respect of the distribution, and

(B) the trust

(I) was created after 1999 and on or before that time, or

(II) is a trust that satisfies, at that time, the conditions prescribed in section 4801.001, or

(ii) a class of the units of the trust is, at that time, qualified for distribution to the public; and

(b) in respect of a class of the trust's units that meets at that time the conditions described in paragraph (a), there are at that time no fewer than 150 beneficiaries of the trust, each of whom holds

(i) not less than one block of units of the class, and

(ii) units of the class having an aggregate fair market value of not less than $500.

Application: The July 18, 2005 draft regulations, s. 3, will amend s. 4801 to read as above, applicable to 2000 et seq.

Technical Notes: Section 4801 contains a number of prescribed conditions that apply for the purposes of paragraph 132(6)(c) of the Act. These conditions must be met in order for a trust to qualify for income tax purposes as a mutual fund trust. The expression "mutual fund trust" is defined in subsection 132(6) of the Act.

Part XLVIII is amended — by adding subclause 4801(a)(i)(B)(II) and section 4800.001 — so that a trust created before 2000 that is a widely-held unit trust may qualify as a mutual fund trust where it makes a lawful distribution in a province to the public of its units and a number of other conditions are met. This amendment — which extends to trusts created before 2000 a similar existing rule that applies only to trusts created after 1999 — applies only for the 2004 and subsequent taxation years and only to trusts that elect for section 4801.001 to apply.

Section 4801 is also amended to update the language of the provision — these changes do not represent a change in tax policy.

Technical Notes to ITA 132(6)(c), July 18, 2005: It is intended that proposed amendments to Part XLVIII of the Regulations would include the following: [Amendment to French version omitted] ... Paragraph 4801(a) of the Regulations would be amended so that subparagraph 4801(a)(ii) applies to a trust created before 2000, for its 2004 and subsequent taxation years, if the trust elects by notifying the Minister of National Revenue in writing in its return of income for the taxation year of the trust that ends in the calendar year in which the amending regulations are published in Part II of the Canada Gazette. As a result of the proposed change, if there has been a lawful distribution in a province to the public of units of a class of units of a trust created before 2000 and a prospectus, registration statement or similar document was not required under the laws of the province to be filed in respect of the distribution, the trust could rely upon subparagraph 4801(a)(ii) to meet, in its 2004 and later taxation years, the condition prescribed under paragraph 4801(a).

These amendments to the Regulations would, except as described above, be proposed to apply to the 2000 and subsequent taxation years of trusts.

Letter from Dept. of Finance, March 12, 2003:

Dear [xxx]

Thank you for your letter of November 6, 2002, concerning the application of section 4801 of the Income Tax Regulations to a trust seeking to qualify as a mutual fund trust for income tax purposes.

The meaning for income tax purposes of the expression "mutual fund trust" is found in subsection 132(6) of the Income Tax Act. Paragraph 132(6)(c) of the Act requires that a trust meet at a particular time prescribed conditions in order to qualify at that time as a mutual fund trust.

The first prescribed condition is found in paragraph 4801(a): it requires either that a class of units of a trust be qualified for distribution to the public, as defined in subsection 4803(2) of the Regulations, or for trusts established after 1999, that there be a lawful distribution in a province to the public of units off the trust where a prospectus, registration statement or similar document was not required under the laws of the province to be filed in respect of the distribution.

You are seeking an amendment to paragraph 4801(a) of the Regulations so that a trust created before 2000 would be able to elect to rely upon the condition in subparagraph 4801(a)(ii) in order to satisfy the requirements of that paragraph.

Subparagraph 4801(a)(ii) of the Regulations is generally intended to ensure that the requirements under the Act for a securities distribution are generally no more onerous than those imposed under provincial securities requirements for mutual fund trusts. From a tax policy perspective, it would not be inconsistent with this goal to permit a trust created before 2000 to be able to rely upon that subparagraph in satisfying the prescribed conditions for mutual fund trusts.

We are, therefore, prepared to recommend an amendment to the Regulations so that, for the 2004 and subsequent taxation years of trusts created before 2000, the condition prescribed under paragraph 4801(a) would be met, under subparagraph 4801(a)(ii), if there has been a lawful distribution in a province to the public of units of a class of units of the trust and a prospectus, registration statement or similar document was not required under the laws of the province to be filed in respect of the distribution. However, to prevent such a trust from being re-characterized, contrary to the intention of its trustee or investors, as a mutual fund trust under the Act, such a revised subparagraph 4801(a)(ii) would apply to trusts created before 2000 only if the trust were to so elect and only for taxation years that end after the time at which the election was made.

Of course, we cannot offer any assurance that either the Minister of Finance or Parliament will agree with the recommendation that we intend to make in this regard. Nonetheless, we trust that this statement of our position is helpful.

Thank you for writing.

Yours sincerely,
Brian Ernewein, Director, Tax Legislation Division, Tax Policy Branch

(b) a corporation incorporated before November 17, 1978 solely in connection with, or for the administration of, a registered pension plan;

(c) a trust or corporation established by or arising by virtue of an act of a province the principal activities of which are to administer, manage or invest the monies of a pension fund or plan that is established pursuant to an act of the province or an order or regulation made thereunder;

(c.1) the Canada Pension Plan Investment Board;

Proposed Addition — Reg. 4802(1)(c.2)

Letter from Dept. of Finance, Oct. 30, 2002:

Dear [xxx]

This is in reply to your fax of October 16, 2002 in which you request an amendment to the Income Tax Regulations that would permit the [xxx] and its subsidiaries to acquire shares of pension investment corporations that are exempt from tax under paragraph 149(1)(o.2) of the Income Tax Act.

We agree that the [xxx] should not be precluded from investing in such corporations. Accordingly, we will recommend to the Minister of Finance that the list of prescribed shareholders under subsection 4802(1) of the Regulations be expanded to include the [xxx] effective after October 2002.

I trust this is satisfactory.

Yours sincerely,

Brian Ernewein, Director, Tax Legislation Division, Tax Policy Branch

Letter from Dept. of Finance, Oct. 16, 2003:

Dear [xxx]

This is in reply to your letter of September 9, 2003 in which you request a change to the income tax rules that would permit the [xxx] and its wholly-owned subsidiaries to invest in corporations that are exempt from tax under paragraph 149(1)(o.2) of the Income Tax Act (the "Act"). I also wish to acknowledge discussions between Tax Legislation officials and your external tax counsel.

Based on our understanding that the [xxx] activities are limited to the investment of the assets held in connection with the registered pension plans established under the Canadian Forces Superannuation Act, the Public Service Superannuation Act, and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Act, we have no tax policy concerns with the [xxx] investing in such corporations. Accordingly, we will recommend to the Minister of Finance that the income tax rules be amended to clarify that the [xxx] and its wholly-owned subsidiaries are permissible shareholders for corporations described in paragraph 149(1)(o.2) of the Act, effective after September 2003.

I trust this is satisfactory.

Yours sincerely,

Brian Ernewein, Director, Tax Legislation Division, Tax Policy Branch

(d) a trust or corporation established by or arising by virtue of an act of a province in connection with a scheme or program for the compensation of workers injured in an accident arising out of or in the course of their employment;

(1.1) [Master trust] — For the purposes of paragraph 149(1)(o.4) of the Act, a trust is a master trust at any time if, at all times after it was created and before that time,

(a) it was resident in Canada;

(b) its only undertaking was the investing of its funds;

(c) it never borrowed money except where the borrowing was for a term not exceeding 90 days and it is established that the borrowing was not part of a series of loans or other transactions and repayments;

(d) it never accepted deposits; and

(e) each of the beneficiaries of the trust was a trust governed by a registered pension plan or a deferred profit sharing plan.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 4802(1.1)

Letter from Dept. of Finance, May 7, 2007 (sent by email):

Adam Aptowitzer
Drache LLP, Ottawa
aaptowitzer@drache.com

Mr. Aptowitzer,

This is in reply to your letter of April 24, 2007 regarding the reference in subparagraph 127.55(f)(iii) of the Income Tax Act to a trust prescribed to be a master trust and the fact that there is currently nothing prescribed for this purpose.

As indicated in the explanatory notes to section 127.55, it is intended that a trust that is prescribed to be a master trust for the purpose of paragraph 149(1)(o.4) of the Act apply for the purpose of subparagraph 127.55(f)(iii).

We can confirm that an amendment to the Regulations to give effect to this intention is still outstanding. The amendment will be brought forward at the earliest opportunity.

Thank you for bringing this matter to the Department's attention.

David Wurtele
Senior Tax Policy Officer, Tax Legislation Division, Tax Policy Branch

4803. (1) In this Part,

"block of shares" means, with respect to any class of the capital stock of a corporation,

(a) 100 shares, if the fair market value of one share of the class is less than $25,

(b) 25 shares, if the fair market value of one share of the class is $25 or more but less than $100, and

(c) 10 shares, if the fair market value of one share of the class is $100 or more;

"block of units" means, with respect to any class of units of a trust,

(a) 100 units, if the fair market value of one unit of the class is less than $25,

(b) 25 units, if the fair market value of one unit of the class is $25 or more but less than $100, and

(c) 10 units, if the fair market value of one unit of the class is $100 or more;

"equity share" has the meaning assigned by section 204 of the Act;

"insider of a corporation" has the meaning that would be assigned by section 100 of the Canada Corporations Act if the references therein to "public company" and to "equity shares" were read as references to "corporation" and "shares" respectively, except that a person who is an employee of the corporation, or of a person who does not deal at arm's length with the corporation, and whose right to sell or transfer any share of the capital stock of the corporation, or to exercise the voting rights, if any, attaching to the share, is restricted by

(a) the terms and conditions attaching to the share, or

(b) any obligation of the person, under a contract, in equity or otherwise, to the corporation or to any person with whom the corporation does not deal at arm's length, shall be deemed to hold the share as an insider of the corporation.

(2) [Meaning of "qualified for distribution to the public"] — For the purposes of this Part, a class of shares of the capital stock of a corporation or a class of units of a trust is qualified for distribution to the public only if

(a) a prospectus, registration statement or similar document has been filed with, and, where required by law, accepted for filing by, a public authority in Canada pursuant to and in accordance with the law of Canada or of any province and there has been a lawful distribution to the public of shares or units of that class in accordance with that document;

(b) the class is a class of shares, any of which were issued by the corporation at any time after 1971 while it was a public corporation in exchange for shares of any other class of the capital stock of the corporation that was, immediately before the exchange, qualified for distribution to the public;

(c) in the case of any class of shares, any of which were issued and outstanding on January 1, 1972, the class complied on that date with the conditions described in paragraphs 4800(1)(b) and (c); or

(d) in the case of any class of units, any of which were issued and outstanding on January 1, 1972, the class complied on that date with the condition described in paragraph 4801(b).

History: Subsec. 4803(2) is the former subsec. 4802(2), renumbered by P.C. 1985-2277, subsec. 14(1), July 24, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 7, 1985, applicable to taxation years commencing after 1978.

(3) [Group holdings] — For the purposes of paragraphs 4800(1)(b), 4800(2)(b) and 4801(b), where a group of persons holds

(a) not less than one block of shares of any class of shares of the capital stock of a corporation or one block of units of any class of a trust, as the case may be, and

(b) shares or units, as the case may be, of that class having an aggregate fair market value of not less than $500, that group shall, subject to subsection (4), be deemed to be one person for the purposes of determining the number of persons who hold shares or units, as the case may be, of that class.

History: Subsec. 4803(3) is the former subsec. 4802(3), renumbered by P.C. 1985-2277, subsec. 14(1), July 24, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 7, 1985, applicable to taxation years commencing after 1978.

(4) [Determination of group] — In determining under subsection (3) the persons who belong to a group for the purposes of determining the number of persons who hold shares or units, as the case may be, of a particular class, the following rules apply:

(a) no person shall be included in more than one group;

(b) no person shall be included in a group if he holds

(i) not less than one block of shares or one block of units, as the case may be, of that class, and

(ii) shares or units, as the case may be, of that class having an aggregate fair market value of not less than $500; and

(c) the membership of each group shall be determined in the manner that results in the greatest possible number of groups.

(1) [Qualified investment for RRSP, RESP, RRIF, DPSP, RDSP, TFSA] — For the purposes of paragraph (d) of the definition "qualified investment" in subsection 146(1) of the Act, paragraph (e) of the definition "qualified investment" in subsection 146.1(1) of the Act, paragraph (c) of the definition "qualified investment" in subsection 146.3(1) of the Act, paragraph (h) of the definition "qualified investment" in section 204 of the Act, paragraph (d) of the definition "qualified investment" in subsection 205(1) of the Act and paragraph (c) of the definition "qualified investment" in subsection 207.01(1) of the Act, each of the following investments is prescribed as a qualified investment for a plan trust at a particular time if at that time it is

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 105(1), will amend the opening words of subsec. 4900(1) to read as above, applicable to 2009 et seq.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): Section 4900 lists a number of types of property that are prescribed to be qualified investments for trusts governed by registered retirement savings plans (RRSPs) and other registered plans. Section 4901 contains several interpretive provisions for the purposes of these rules.

Sections 4900 and 4901 are amended, effective for the 2009 and subsequent taxation years, to apply for the purposes of the definition "qualified investment" in subsection 207.01(1) of the Act that applies for trusts governed by tax-free savings accounts (TFSAs). With the exception of property described in subsection 4900(6), the amendments provide that the types of property that are prescribed to be qualified investments for a TFSA trust correspond to those that are prescribed for an RRSP trust. (For details on new subsection 4900(14), readers may refer to the commentary on new section 5001.)

Section 4900 is also amended to introduce new paragraph 4900(1)(w) to provide that an American Depositary Receipt (ADR) is a qualified investment for a registered plan trust, provided that the underlying security that the ADR represents is listed on a designated stock exchange. This amendment is intended to ensure, in particular, that the de-listing of an ADR will not, in and of itself, result in the ADR becoming a non-qualified investment. (An ADR that is itself listed on a designated stock exchange is also covered by the general rule for listed securities in paragraph (d) of the definition "qualified investment" in section 204 of the Act.) This amendment applies in determining qualified investment status at any time after 2005.

Finally, several housekeeping amendments are being made to subsection 4900(1), effective for property acquired after the day on which this provision receives Royal Assent.

- Paragraphs 4900(1)(i.3) (asset-backed securities), (l) (debt issued by the World Bank and other supranational institutions) and (o) (investment-grade debt issued by foreign governments) are repealed. The types of property described by these paragraphs are covered by the general rule for investment grade debt in paragraph (c.1) of the definition "qualified investment" in section 204 of the Act.
- Paragraph 4900(1)(j.2) (mortgage-backed certificates) is amended to replace the reference to a bond rating agency that rates debt in the ordinary course of its business with a reference to a credit rating agency referred to in subsection 4900(2).
- Paragraphs 4900(1)(k) (pre-1981 qualified investments) and (s) (pre-2002 over-the-counter securities) are repealed since those provisions apply to property acquired in the past.

(8) [Small business investment — payment for services] — For the purposes of subsection (6), where

(a) a trust governed by a registered retirement savings plan, a registered education savings plan or a registered retirement income fund holds

(i) a share of the capital stock of an eligible corporation (within the meaning assigned by subsection 5100(1)),

(ii) an interest in a small business investment limited partnership that holds a small business security, or

(iii) an interest in a small business investment trust that holds a small business security, and

(b) a person who is an annuitant, a beneficiary or a subscriber under the plan or fund provides services to or for the issuer of the share or small business security, or to or for a person related to that issuer, and it can reasonably be considered, having regard to all the circumstances (including the terms and conditions of the share or small business security or of any related agreement, and the rate of interest or the dividend provided on the share or small business security), that any amount received in respect of the share or small business security is on account, in lieu or in satisfaction of payment for the services, the property referred to in subparagraph (a)(i), (ii) or (iii) held by the plan or fund shall, immediately before that amount is received, cease to be and shall not thereafter be a qualified investment for the trust governed by the plan or fund.

History: The opening words of para. 4900(8)(a), and para. (b), amended by P.C. 2001-1106, subsecs. 6(18), (19), June 14, 2001, Canada Gazette, Part II, July 4, 2001, applicable to property acquired after October 27, 1998.

Subsec. 4900(8) added by P.C. 1986-772, subsec. 2(2), March 26, 1986, Canada Gazette, Part II, April 16, 1986, effective after October 31, 1985.

(9) [Small business investment — conditions] — For the purposes of subsection (6), where

(a) a trust governed by a registered retirement savings plan, a registered education savings plan or a registered retirement income fund holds

(i) an interest in a small business investment limited partnership, or

(ii) an interest in a small business investment trust

that holds a small business security (referred to in this subsection as the "designated security") of a corporation, and

(b) a person who is an annuitant, a beneficiary or a subscriber under the plan or fund is a designated shareholder of the corporation, the interest shall not be a qualified investment for the trust governed by the plan or fund unless

(c) the designated security is a share of the capital stock of an eligible corporation,

(d) the partnership or trust, as the case may be, has no right to set off, assign or otherwise apply, directly or indirectly, the designated security against the interest,

(e) no person is obligated in any way, either absolutely or contingently, under any undertaking the intent or effect of which is

(i) to limit any loss that the plan or fund may sustain by virtue of the ownership, holding or disposition of the interest, or

(ii) to ensure that the plan or fund will derive earnings by virtue of the ownership, holding or disposition of the interest,

(f) in the case of the partnership, there are more than 10 limited partners and no limited partner or group of limited partners who do not deal with each other at arm's length holds more than 10 per cent of the units of the partnership, and

(g) in the case of the trust, there are more than 10 beneficiaries and no beneficiary or group of beneficiaries who do not deal with each other at arm's length holds more than 10 per cent of the units of the trust.

History: The opening words of para. 4900(9)(a), and para. (b), amended by P.C. 2001-1106, subsecs. 6(20), (21), June 14, 2001, Canada Gazette, Part II, July 4, 2001, applicable to property acquired after October 27, 1998.

(10) [Arm's length] — For the purposes of paragraphs (9)(f) and (g), a trust governed by a plan or fund shall be deemed not to deal at arm's length with a trust governed by another plan or fund if a person who is an annuitant, a beneficiary or a subscriber under the plan or fund is the same person as, or does not deal at arm's length with, the annuitant, beneficiary or subscriber under the other plan or fund.

History: Subsec. 4900(10) amended by P.C. 2001-1106, subsec. 6(22), June 14, 2001, Canada Gazette, Part II, July 4, 2001, applicable to property acquired after October 27, 1998.

Subsec. 4900(10) added by P.C. 1986-772, subsec. 2(2), March 26, 1986, Canada Gazette, Part II, April 16, 1986, effective after October 31, 1985.

(11) [Small business investment for DPSP] — For the purposes of subsection (7), where

(a) a trust governed by a deferred profit sharing plan or revoked plan holds

(i) an interest in a small business investment limited partnership, or

(ii) an interest in a small business investment trust

that holds a small business security of a corporation,

(b) payments have been made in trust to a trustee under the deferred profit sharing plan or revoked plan for the benefit of beneficiaries thereunder by the corporation or a corporation related thereto, and

(c) the small business security is not an equity share described in paragraph (e) of the definition "qualified investment" in section 204 of the Act, the interest referred to in subparagraphs (a)(i) and (ii) shall not be a qualified investment for the trust referred to in paragraph (a).

History: Para. 4900(11)(c) amended by P.C. 2001-1106, subsec. 6(23), June 14, 2001, Canada Gazette, Part II, July 4, 2001, effective after April 1, 2001.

Subsec. 4900(11) added by P.C. 1986-772, subsec. 2(2), March 26, 1986, Canada Gazette, Part II, April 16, 1986, effective after October 31, 1985.

(12) [Small business corporation] — For the purposes of paragraph (d) of the definition "qualified investment" in subsection 146(1) of the Act, paragraph (e) of the definition "qualified investment" in subsection 146.1(1) of the Act and paragraph (c) of the definition "qualified investment" in subsection 146.3(1) of the Act, a property is prescribed as a qualified investment for a trust governed by a registered retirement savings plan, a registered education savings plan or a registered retirement income fund at any time if, at the time the property was acquired by the trust,

(a) the property was a share of the capital stock of a corporation (other than a cooperative corporation) that would, at that time or at the end of the last taxation year of the corporation ending before that time, be a small business corporation if the expression "Canadian-controlled private corporation" in the definition "small business corporation" in subsection 248(1) of the Act were read as "Canadian corporation (other than a corporation controlled at that time, directly or indirectly in any manner whatever, by one or more non-resident persons)",

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 4900(12)(a)

(a) the property was a share of the capital stock of a specified small business corporation,

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 105(9), will amend para. 4900(12)(a) to read as above, applicable to 2009 et seq.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): See under Reg. 4900(1) opening words and Reg. 5001.

(b) the property was a share of the capital stock of a venture capital corporation described in any of sections 6700, 6700.1 or 6700.2, or

(c) the property was a qualifying share in respect of a specified cooperative corporation and the plan or fund and, immediately after the time the property was acquired by the trust, each person who is an annuitant, a beneficiary or a subscriber under the plan or fund at that time was not a connected shareholder of the corporation.

I.T. Technical News: 9 (qualified investments — whether shareholders deal at arm's length).

(13) Notwithstanding subsection (12), where

(a) a share that is otherwise a qualified investment for the purposes of paragraph (d) of the definition "qualified investment" in subsection 146(1) of the Act, paragraph (e) of the definition "qualified investment" in subsection 146.1(1) of the Act and paragraph (c) of the definition "qualified investment" in subsection 146.3(1) of the Act solely because of subsection (12) is held by a trust governed by a registered retirement savings plan, registered education savings plan or registered retirement income fund,

(b) an individual

(i) provides services to or for,

(ii) acquires goods from, or

(iii) is provided services by the issuer of the share or a person related to that issuer,

(c) an amount is received in respect of the share by the trust, and

(d) the amount can reasonably be considered, having regard to all the circumstances, including the terms and conditions of the share, or any agreement relating thereto and any dividend provided on the share to be

(i) on account of, or in lieu or in satisfaction of, payment for the services to or for the issuer or the person related to the issuer, or

(ii) in respect of the acquisition of the goods from, or the services provided by, the issuer or the person related to the issuer, the share shall, immediately before the amount is received, cease to be and shall not thereafter be a qualified investment for the trust.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 4900(14)

(14) For the purposes of paragraph (c) of the definition "qualified investment" in subsection 207.01(1) of the Act, a property is prescribed as a qualified investment for a trust governed by a TFSA at any time if, at the time the property was acquired by the trust, the property

(a) was

(i) a share of the capital stock of a specified small business corporation,

(ii) a share of the capital stock of a venture capital corporation described in any of sections 6700 to 6700.2, or

(iii) a qualifying share in respect of a specified cooperative corporation and the TFSA; and

(b) was not a prohibited investment for the trust.

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 105(10), will add subsec. 4900(14), applicable to 2009 et seq.

4901. Interpretation — (1) For the purposes of paragraphs 204.4(2)(b), (d) and (f) and of subsection 204.6(1) of the Act, a property is a prescribed investment for a corporation or trust, as the case may be, if it is a qualified investment for a plan or fund described in paragraphs 204.4(1)(a) to (d) of the Act in respect of which the corporation or trust is seeking registration or has been registered, as the case may be.

History: Subsec. 4901(1) amended by P.C. 2001-1106, subsec. 7(1), June 14, 2001, Canada Gazette, Part II, July 4, 2001, effective after April 1, 2001.

(1.1) [Revoked]

History: Subsec. 4901(1.1) revoked by P.C. 1994-1074, subsec. 2(1), June 23, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, July 13, 1994, applicable after October 31, 1985.

Para. 4901(1.1)(b) substituted by P.C. 1986-2590, s. 13, November 20, 1986, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1986, applicable after October 31, 1985.

Subsec. 4901(1.1) added by P.C. 1986-772, subsec. 3(1), March 26, 1986, Canada Gazette, Part II, April 16, 1986, effective after October 31, 1985.

(2) In this Part,

"allocation in proportion to patronage" has the meaning assigned by subsection 135(4) of the Act;

"connected person", in relation to a governing plan of a plan trust, means a person who is an annuitant, a beneficiary, an employer or a subscriber under, or a holder of, the governing plan and any person who does not deal at arms's [sic] length with that person;

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 4901(2)"connected person"

"connected person" under a governing plan of a plan trust means a person who is an annuitant, a beneficiary, an employer or a subscriber under, or a holder of, the governing plan and any person who does not deal at arm's length with that person;

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 106(2), will amend the definition "connected person" in subsec. 4901(2) to read as above, applicable to 2009 et seq.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): See under Reg. 4900(1) opening words.

"connected shareholder" of a corporation at any time is a person (other than an exempt person in respect of the corporation) who owns, directly or indirectly, at that time, not less than 10% of the issued shares of any class of the capital stock of the corporation or of any other corporation that is related to the corporation and, for the purposes of this definition,

(a) paragraphs (a) to (e) of the definition "specified shareholder" in subsection 248(1) of the Act apply, and

(b) an exempt person in respect of a corporation is a person who deals at arm's length with the corporation where the total of all amounts, each of which is the cost amount of any share of the capital stock of the corporation, or of any other corporation that is related to it, that the person owns or is deemed to own for the purposes of the definition "specified shareholder" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, is less than $25,000;

Related Provisions: Reg. 4901(2.1), (2.2) — Additional rules.

"consumer goods or services" has the meaning assigned by subsection 135(4) of the Act;

"designated shareholder" of a corporation at any time means a taxpayer who at that time

(a) is, or is related to, a person (other than an exempt person) who owns, directly or indirectly, not less than 10% of the issued shares of any class of the capital stock of the corporation or of any other corporation that is related to the corporation and, for the purposes of this definition,

(i) paragraphs (a) to (e) of the definition "specified shareholder" in subsection 248(1) of the Act apply, and

(ii) an exempt person in respect of a corporation is a person who deals at arm's length with the corporation where the total of all amounts, each of which is the cost amount of any share of the capital stock of the corporation, or of any other corporation that is related to it, that the person owns or is deemed to own for the purposes of the definition "specified shareholder" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, is less than $25,000;

(b) is or is related to a member of a partnership that controls the corporation,

(c) is or is related to a beneficiary under a trust that controls the corporation,

(d) is or is related to an employee of the corporation or a corporation related thereto, where any group of employees of the corporation or of the corporation related thereto, as the case may be, controls the corporation, except where the group of employees includes a person or a related group that controls the corporation, or

(e) does not deal at arm's length with the corporation;

Related Provisions: Reg. 4901(2.3) — Deemed designated shareholder.

"governing plan" means a registered retirement savings plan, a registered education savings plan, a registered retirement income fund, a registered disability savings plan, a deferred profit sharing plan or a revoked plan;

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 4901(2)"governing plan"

"governing plan" means a deferred profit sharing plan or a revoked plan, a registered disability savings plan, a registered education savings plan, a registered retirement income fund, a registered retirement savings plan or a TFSA;

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 106(1), will amend the definition "governing plan" in subsec. 4901(2) to read as above, applicable to 2009 et seq.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): See under Reg. 4900(1) opening words.

"plan trust" means a trust governed by a governing plan;

"qualifying share", in respect of a specified cooperative corporation and a registered retirement savings plan, registered education savings plan or registered retirement income fund, means a share of the capital or capital stock of the corporation where

(a) ownership of the share or a share identical to the share is not a condition of membership in the corporation, or

(b) a person who is an annuitant, a beneficiary or a subscriber under the plan or fund (or any other person related to that person)

(i) has not received a payment from the corporation after November 29, 1994 pursuant to an allocation in proportion to patronage in respect of consumer goods or services, and

(ii) can reasonably be expected not to receive a payment, after the acquisition of the share by the trust governed by the plan or fund, from the corporation pursuant to an allocation in proportion to patronage in respect of consumer goods or services;

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 4901(2)"qualifying share"

"qualifying share" in respect of a specified cooperative corporation and a governing plan, means a share of the capital or capital stock of the corporation where

(a) ownership of the share or a share identical to the share is not a condition of membership in the corporation, or

(b) a connected person under the governing plan

(i) has not received a payment from the corporation pursuant to an allocation in proportion to patronage in respect of consumer goods or services, and

(ii) can reasonably be expected not to receive a payment, after the acquisition of the share by the plan trust, from the corporation pursuant to an allocation in proportion to patronage in respect of consumer goods or services;

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 106(1), will amend the definition "qualifying share" in subsec. 4901(2) to read as above, applicable to 2009 et seq.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): See under Reg. 4900(1) opening words.

"revoked plan" has the meaning assigned by section 204 of the Act;

"small business investment limited partnership" has the meaning assigned by subsection 5102(1);

"small business investment trust" has the meaning assigned by subsection 5103(1); and

"small business security" has the meaning assigned by subsection 5100(2).

"specified cooperative corporation" means

(a) a cooperative corporation within the meaning assigned by subsection 136(2) of the Act, or

(b) a corporation that would be a cooperative corporation within the meaning assigned by subsection 136(2) of the Act if the purpose described in that subsection were the purpose of providing employment to the corporation's members or customers.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 4901(2)"specified small business corporation"

"specified small business corporation", at any time, means a corporation (other than a cooperative corporation) that would, at that time or at the end of the last taxation year of the corporation that ended before that time, be a small business corporation if the expression "Canadian-controlled private corporation" in the definition "small business corporation" in subsection 248(1) of the Act were read as "Canadian corporation (other than a corporation controlled at that time, directly or indirectly in any manner whatever, by one or more non-resident persons)".

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 106(3), will add the definition "specified small business corporation" to subsec. 4901(2), applicable to 2009 et seq.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): See under Reg. 4900(1) opening words.

History: The definition "connected person" added and the definition "governing plan" amended by 2007, c. 35, subsecs. 127(1) and (2), applicable to 2008 et seq.

The definition "governing plan" and the portion of the definition "qualifying share" before subpara. (b)(i) amended by P.C. 2001-1106, subsecs. 7(5), (7), June 14, 2001, Canada Gazette, Part II, July 4, 2001, applicable to property acquired after October 27, 1998.

The definition "revoked plan" amended by the said P.C. 2001-1106, subsec. 7(6), effective after April 1, 2001.

The definitions "allocation in proportion to patronage", "consumer goods or services", and "qualifying share" added, the definition "connected shareholder" and para. (a) of "designated shareholder" amended, by P.C. 1995-1820, subsecs. 2(3), (4), (6), October 31, 1995, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 15, 1995; "connected shareholder" amendment and "allocation in proportion to patronage", "consumer goods or services", and "qualifying share" additions applicable after December 2, 1992,

- except that where a property was acquired by a trust governed by an RRSP or RRIF before November 30, 1994 and the annuitant under the fund or plan would, if the amended definition of "connected shareholder" applied, be a connected shareholder of the corporation immediately after that time, the amended definition of "connected shareholder" would not apply in respect of that acquisition; and
- with respect to property acquired before November 30, 1994, para. (a) of "qualifying share" shall be read as follows:

  (a) the share is not required to be purchased as a condition of membership in the corporation, or;

para. (a) of "designated shareholder" applicable to property acquired after November 29, 1994.

The definitions "connected shareholder", "specified cooperative corporation" added by P.C. 1994-1074, subsec. 2(2), June 23, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, July 13, 1994, applicable after December 2, 1992.

Paras. (b) to (d) of "designated shareholder" substituted by P.C. 1990-1837, s. 1, August 28, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, September 12, 1990, applicable after 1988.

"Designated shareholder", "small business investment limited partnership", "small business investment trust" and "small business security" added by P.C. 1986-772, subsec. 3(2), March 26, 1986, Canada Gazette, Part II, April 16, 1986, effective after October 31, 1985.

(2.1) For the purposes of the definition "connected shareholder" in subsection (2) and of subsection (2.2), each share of the capital of a specified cooperative corporation and all other shares of the capital of the corporation that have attributes identical to the attributes of that share shall be deemed to be shares of a class of the capital stock of the corporation.

History: Subsec. 4901(2.1) added by P.C. 1995-1820, subsec. 2(8), October 31, 1995, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 15, 1995, applicable after December 2, 1992, except that it does not apply where a property was acquired by a trust governed by an RRSP or RRIF before November 30, 1994 and the annuitant under the fund or plan would, if Reg. 4901(2.1)–(2.3) and the amended version of 4901(2)"connected shareholder" applied, be a connected shareholder of the corporation immediately after that time.

(2.2) For the purpose of this Part, a person is deemed to be a connected shareholder of a corporation at any time where the person would be a connected shareholder of the corporation at that time if, at that time,

(a) the person had each right that the person would be deemed to own at that time for the purposes of the definition "specified shareholder" in subsection 248(1) of the Act if that right were a share of the capital stock of a corporation;

(b) the person owned each share of a class of the capital stock of a corporation that the person had a right at that time under a contract, in equity or otherwise, either immediately or in the future and either absolutely or contingently, to acquire; and

(c) the cost amount to the person of a share referred to in paragraph (b) were the cost amount to the person of the right to which the share relates.

History: Subsec. 4901(2.2) added by P.C. 1995-1820, subsec. 2(8), October 31, 1995, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 15, 1995, applicable after December 2, 1992, except that it does not apply where a property was acquired by a trust governed by an RRSP or RRIF before November 30, 1994 and the annuitant under the fund or plan would, if Reg. 4901(2.1)–(2.3) and the amended version of 4901(2)"connected shareholder" applied, be a connected shareholder of the corporation immediately after that time.

(2.3) For the purpose of this Part, a person is deemed to be a designated shareholder of a corporation at any time if the person would be a designated shareholder of the corporation at that time if, at that time, paragraphs (2.2)(a) to (c) applied in respect of that person.

History: Subsec. 4901(2.3) added by P.C. 1995-1820, subsec. 2(8), October 31, 1995, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 15, 1995, applicable to property acquired after November 29, 1994.

(3) [Repealed]

History: Subsec. 4901(3) repealed by P.C. 2005-1508, s. 7, August 31, 2005, Canada Gazette, Part II, September 21, 2005, in force September 21, 2005.

PART L — [REPEALED]

Proposed Addition — Part L [Reg. 5000, 5001]

PART L — TAX-FREE SAVINGS ACCOUNTS — PROHIBITED INVESTMENTS

5000. Investment not prohibited — For the purpose of the portion of the definition "prohibited investment" in subsection 207.01(1) of the Act before paragraph (a), property described in paragraph 4900(1)(j.1) is prescribed property.

Definitions [Reg. 5000]: "prescribed", "property" — ITA 248(1).

5001. Prohibited investment — For the purpose of paragraph (d) of the definition "prohibited investment" in subsection 207.01(1) of the Act, property that is a qualified investment for a trust governed by a TFSA solely because of subsection 4900(14) is prescribed property for the trust at any time if, at that time, it is not described in any of subparagraphs 4900(14)(a)(i) to (iii).

Definitions [Reg. 5001]: "prescribed", "property", "TFSA" — ITA 248(1); "trust" — ITA 104(1), 248(1), (3).

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), s. 107, will add Part L (ss. 5000, 5001), applicable to 2009 et seq.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): Section 207.04 of the Act imposes special taxes on the holder of a tax-free savings account (TFSA) if a trust governed by the TFSA holds a non-qualified investment or a prohibited investment (as defined in subsection 207.01(1) of the Act). The qualified investment regime sets out the basic investment framework for TFSA trusts, whereas the prohibited investment regime represents an overriding investment restriction for TFSA trusts that is intended to guard against tax planning opportunities with respect to closely-held investments. Responsibility for compliance with the qualified investment rules generally lies with TFSA issuers; responsibility for compliance with the prohibited investment rules lies with TFSA holders. This distinction recognizes the practical difficulties that TFSA issuers would have in obtaining the necessary information to ensure compliance with the prohibited investment rules on an on-going basis.

Regulations 5000 and 5001 prescribe two different types of property for the purposes of the definition "prohibited investment":

- property that is excluded from being a prohibited investment (and which is referred to in these notes as "Regulation 5000 prescribed property"), and
- property that is a prohibited investment (referred to here as "Regulation 5001 prescribed property").

Regulation 5000 describes property that is prescribed property for the purposes of the preamble to the definition "prohibited investment" in subsection 207.01(1) of the Act. Again, Regulation 5000 prescribed property is not a prohibited investment, and the Regulation now refers to prescribed property described in paragraph 4900(1)(j.1) of the Regulations. Paragraph 4900(1)(j.1) describes a debt obligation that is secured by a mortgage or hypothecary claim in respect of real or immovable property situated in Canada, insured either under the National Housing Act or by an approved private insurer. Including these debt obligations as Regulation 5000 prescribed property will allow individuals (once they have accumulated sufficient TFSA funds) to hold their own insured mortgage loan as an investment in their TFSA.

Regulation 5001 prescribed property is included in paragraph (d) of the definition "prohibited investment" in subsection 207.01(1) of the Act, and is a type of prohibited investment. New regulation 5001 is relevant where a TFSA trust holds shares of a specified small business corporation or a specified cooperative corporation (as defined in subsection 4901(2)) or a venture capital corporation described in any of sections 6700, 6700.1 or 6700.2 and those shares are a qualified investment for the trust solely because of new subsection 4900(14).

Subsection 4900(14) generally provides that a share of such a corporation is a qualified investment for a TFSA trust if the share is not a prohibited investment for the trust. As is the case with subsection 4900(12) (which is a comparable provision that applies for registered retirement savings plans, registered retirement income funds and registered education savings plans), the qualification conditions in subsection 4900(14) apply only at the time of acquisition. Consequently, shares that are a qualified investment under subsection 4900(14) retain their qualified investment status for as long as they are held by the TFSA trust, even if they cease to be shares of a specified small business corporation, a specified cooperative corporation or a venture capital corporation.

New section 5001 provides that, if a share of a corporation that is a qualified investment for a TSFA trust solely because of subsection 4900(14) ceases to be described in paragraph 4900(14)(a) after it is acquired by the TFSA trust, it is a Regulation 5001 prescribed property (and consequently, a prohibited investment) for the TFSA trust. In other words, if a corporation whose shares are held by a TFSA trust subsequently ceases to satisfy the relevant conditions to be a specified small business corporation, specified cooperative corporation or Regulation 6700, 6700.1 or 6700.2 venture capital corporation (as the case may be), the shares become a prohibited investment for the TFSA trust. Consequently, the holder of the TFSA will be liable for tax under section 207.04 of the Act.

History: Part L repealed by P.C. 2005-1508, s. 9, August 31, 2005, Canada Gazette, Part II, September 21, 2005, deemed to have come into force June 29, 2005.

I.T. Technical News: 25 (Silicon Graphics case — dispersed control is not control).

"qualifying active business", at any time, means any business carried on primarily in Canada by a corporation, but does not include

(a) a business (other than a business of leasing property other than real property) the principal purpose of which is to derive income from property (including interest, dividends, rent and royalties), or

(b) a business of deriving gains from the disposition of property (other than property in the inventory of the business), and, for the purposes of this definition, a business carried on primarily in Canada by a corporation, at any time, includes a business carried on by the corporation if, at that time,

(c) at least 50 per cent of the full time employees of the corporation and all corporations related thereto employed in respect of the business are employed in Canada, or

(d) at least 50 per cent of the salaries and wages paid to employees of the corporation and all corporations related thereto employed in respect of the business are reasonably attributable to services rendered in Canada;

"qualifying obligation", at any time, means a bond, debenture, mortgage, note or other similar obligation of a corporation described in paragraph 149(1)(o.2) or (o.3) of the Act, if

(a) the obligation was issued by the corporation after October 31, 1985,

(b) the corporation used all or substantially all of the proceeds of the issue of the obligation within 90 days after the receipt thereof to acquire

(i) small business securities,

(ii) interests of a limited partner in small business investment limited partnerships,

(iii) interests in small business investment trusts, or

(iv) any combination of the properties described in subparagraphs (i) to (iii)

and, except as provided in subsection 5104(1), the corporation was the first person (other than a broker or dealer in securities) to have acquired the properties and the corporation has owned the properties continuously since they were so acquired,

(c) the corporation does not hold, and no group of persons who do not deal with each other at arm's length and of which it is a member holds, more than 30 per cent of the outstanding shares of any class of voting stock of another corporation, except where all or any part of those shares were acquired in specified circumstances, within the meaning of subsection 5104(2),

(d) the recourse of the holder of the obligation against the corporation with respect to the obligation is limited to the properties acquired with the proceeds of the issue of the obligation and any properties substituted therefor, and

(e) the properties acquired with the proceeds of the issue of the obligation have not been disposed of, unless the disposition occurred within the 90 day period immediately preceding that time;

History: The opening words of the definition "qualifying obligation" in subsec. 5100(1) amended by P.C. 1994-1817, para. 62(f), November 1, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 30, 1994.

"specified holding corporation", at any time, means a taxable Canadian corporation where

(a) all or substantially all of the collective property of the corporation and of all other corporations controlled by it (each of which other corporations is referred to in this definition as a "controlled corporation"), other than shares in the capital stock of the corporation or of a corporation related to it and debt obligations issued by it or by a corporation related to it, is at that time used in a qualifying active business carried on by the corporation, and

(b) all or substantially all of the property of the corporation is at that time

(i) property used in a qualifying active business carried on by the corporation or a controlled corporation,

(ii) shares of the capital stock of one or more controlled corporations or eligible corporations related to the corporation,

(iii) debt obligations issued by one or more controlled corporations or eligible corporations related to the corporation, or

(iv) any combination of the properties described in subparagraphs (i), (ii) and (iii), and in a determination of whether property is used in a qualifying active business for the purposes of paragraph (a),

(c) where a business is carried on by a controlled corporation,

(i) the business shall be deemed to be a business carried on only by the corporation, and

(ii) the controlled corporation shall be deemed to be the corporation in the application of paragraphs (c) and (d) of the definition "qualifying active business", and

(d) if a business of the corporation is substantially similar to one or more other businesses of the corporation, all those businesses shall be deemed collectively to be one business of the corporation.

Related Provisions: ITA 256(6), (6.1) — Meaning of "controlled".

History: "Specified holding corporation" added by P.C. 1990-1837, subsec. 4(4), August 28, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, September 12, 1990, applicable after October 31, 1985.

"specified property" means property described in any of (a), (b), (c), (f) and (g) of the definition "qualified investment" in section 204 of the Act.

History: "Specified property" in subsec. 5100(1) amended by P.C. 2005-1508, subsec. 10(1), August 31, 2005, Canada Gazette, Part II, September 21, 2005, deemed to have come into force June 29, 2005.

(2) [Small business security] — For the purposes of this Part and clause (b)(iii)(A) of the definition "eligible investment" in subsection 204.8(1) of the Act, a small business security of a person, at any time, is property of that person that is, at that time,

(a) a share of the capital stock of an eligible corporation,

(b) a debt obligation of an eligible corporation (other than a venture capital corporation described in section 6700) that does not by its terms or any agreement related to the obligation restrict the corporation from incurring other debts and that is

(i) secured solely by a floating charge on the assets of the corporation and that by its terms or any agreement related thereto is subordinate to all other debt obligations of the corporation (other than a small business security issued by the corporation, or a debt obligation that is owing by the corporation to a shareholder of the corporation or a person related to a shareholder of the corporation and that is not secured in any manner whatever), or

(ii) not secured in any manner whatever,

other than a debt obligation that

(iii) where the debt obligation specifies an invariant rate of interest, has an effective annual rate of return that exceeds the designated rate for the day on which the obligation was issued, and

(iv) in any other case, may have an effective annual rate of return at a particular time that exceeds the designated rate at the particular time,

(c) an option or right granted by an eligible corporation in conjunction with the issue of a share or debt obligation that qualifies as a small business security to acquire a share of the capital stock of the corporation, or

(d) an option or right granted for no consideration by an eligible corporation to a holder of a share that qualifies as a small business securities to acquire a share of the capital stock of the corporation

if, immediately after the time of acquisition thereof,

(e) the aggregate of the cost amounts to the person of all shares, options, rights and debt obligations of the eligible corporation and all corporations associated therewith held by the person does not exceed $10,000,000, and

(f) the total assets (determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, on a consolidated or combined basis, where applicable) of the eligible corporation and all corporations associated with it do not exceed $50,000,000 and includes

(g) property of the person that is, at that time,

(i) a qualifying obligation, or

(ii) [Repealed]

(iii) a security (in this subparagraph referred to as the "new security") described in any of paragraphs (a) to (d), where the new security was issued at a particular time

(A) in exchange for, on the conversion of, or in respect of rights pertaining to a security (in this paragraph referred to as the "former security") that would, if this subsection were read without reference to this subparagraph and paragraph (h), be a small business security of the person immediately before the particular time, and

(B) pursuant to an agreement entered into before the particular time and at or before the time that the former security was last acquired by the person, or

(h) where the person is a small business investment corporation, small business investment limited partnership or small business investment trust, property of the person that is, at that time, a security (in this paragraph referred to as the "new security") described in any of paragraphs (a) to (d), where the new security was issued at a particular time not more than 5 years before that time in exchange for, on the conversion of, or in respect of rights pertaining to a security that would, if this subsection were read without reference to this paragraph, be a small business security of the person immediately before the particular time.

(2) Every small business investment corporation shall at all times hold properties referred to in subparagraphs (1)(b)(i) to (iii), the aggregate of the cost amounts of which is not less than 75 per cent of the amount, if any, by which

(a) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the amount of consideration for the issue of shares of its capital stock or debt to its shareholders or the amount of a contribution of capital by its shareholders received by it more than 90 days before that time

exceeds

(b) the aggregate of

(i) all amounts paid by it before that time to its shareholders as a return of capital or a repayment of debt, and

(ii) the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of its losses from the disposition of properties disposed of before that time exceeds the aggregate of its gains from the disposition of properties disposed of before that time.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2), where a small business investment corporation disposes of a property referred to in subparagraphs (1)(b)(i) to (iii), it shall be deemed to continue to hold the investment for a period of 90 days following the date of the disposition.

(4) For the purposes of paragraph 149(1)(o.3) of the Act, where a small business investment corporation holds an interest in a partnership or trust that qualified as a small business investment limited partnership or small business investment trust, as the case may be, when the interest was acquired and that, but for this subsection, would cease at a subsequent time to so qualify, the interest in the partnership or trust shall be deemed to be an interest in a small business investment limited partnership or small business investment trust, as the case may be, for the 24 months immediately following the subsequent time.

5102. [Small business investment limited partnership] — (1) For the purpose of this Part, a partnership is a small business investment limited partnership at any particular time if at all times after it was formed and before the particular time

(a) it had only one general partner,

(b) the share of the general partner, as general partner, in any income of the partnership from any source in any place, for any period, was the same as his share, as general partner, in

(i) the income of the partnership from that source in any other place,

(ii) the income of the partnership from any other source,

(iii) the loss of the partnership from any source,

(iv) any capital gain of the partnership, and

(v) any capital loss of the partnership

for that period, except that the share of the general partner, as general partner, in the income or loss of the partnership from specified properties may differ from his share, as general partner, in the income or loss of the partnership from other sources,

(c) the share of the general partner, as general partner, in any income or loss of the partnership for any period was not less than his share, as general partner, in the income or loss of the partnership for any preceding period;

(d) the interests of the limited partners were described by reference to units of the partnership that were identical in all respects,

(e) no limited partner or group of limited partners who did not deal with each other at arm's length held more than 30 per cent of the units of the partnership and, for the purposes of this paragraph,

(i) a small business investment corporation that has not borrowed money and in which no shareholder or group of shareholders who did not deal with each other at arm's length held more than 30 per cent of the outstanding shares of any class of voting stock shall be deemed not to be a limited partner, and

(ii) the general partner shall be deemed not to hold any unit of the partnership as a limited partner, and

(f) its only undertaking was the investing of its funds and its investments consisted solely of

(i) small business securities where, except as provided in subsection 5104(1), the partnership was the first person (other than a broker or dealer in securities) to have acquired the securities and it has owned the securities continuously since they were so acquired,

(ii) property (other than a small business security) that is

(A) a share of the capital stock of a corporation (other than a share that is issued to the partnership and that is either a share described in section 66.3 of the Act or a share in respect of which an amount has been designated under subsection 192(4) of the Act), or

(B) a put, call, warrant or other right to acquire or sell a share described by clause (A),

(iii) specified properties, or

(iv) any combination of properties described in any of subparagraphs (i) to (iii),

(g) it has complied with subsection (2),

(h) it has not borrowed money except for the purpose of earning income from its investments and the amount of any such borrowings at any time did not exceed 20 per cent of the partnership capital at that time, and

(i) it has not accepted deposits.

(2) The aggregate of the cost amounts to a small business investment limited partnership of small business securities held by it at any time shall not be less than the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of

(a) 25 per cent of the amount, if any, by which

(i) the aggregate of all amounts received by it more than 12 months before that time and not more than 24 months before that time as consideration for the issue of its units or in respect of its units

exceeds

(ii) the aggregate of all amounts paid by it before that time to its members and designated by the partnership as a return of the consideration referred to in subparagraph (i),

(b) 50 per cent of the amount, if any, by which

(i) the aggregate of all amounts received by it more than 24 months before that time and not more than 36 months before that time as consideration for the issue of its units or in respect of its units

exceeds

(ii) the aggregate of all amounts paid by it before that time to its members and designated by the partnership as a return of the consideration referred to in subparagraph (i), and

(c) 75 per cent of the amount, if any, by which

(i) the aggregate of all amounts received by it more than 36 months before that time as consideration for the issue of its units or in respect of its units

exceeds

(ii) the aggregate of all amounts paid by it before that time to its members and designated by the partnership as a return of the consideration referred to in subparagraph (i),

exceeds 75 per cent of the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of its losses from the disposition of properties disposed of before that time exceeds the aggregate of its gains from the disposition of properties disposed of before that time.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2), where a small business investment limited partnership disposes of a small business security it shall be deemed to continue to hold the investment for a period of 90 days following the date of the disposition.

5103. [Small business investment trust] — (1) For the purposes of this Part and subsection 259(5) of the Act, a trust is a small business investment trust at any particular time if at all times after it was created and before the particular time

(a) it was resident in Canada;

(b) the interests of the beneficiaries under the trust were described by reference to units of the trust that were identical in all respects; and

(c) no beneficiary or group of beneficiaries who did not deal with each other at arm's length held more than 30% of the units of the trust and, for the purposes of this paragraph, a small business investment corporation that has not borrowed money and in which no shareholder or group of shareholders who did not deal with each other at arm's length held more than 30 per cent of the outstanding shares of any class of voting stock shall be deemed not to be a beneficiary;

(d) its only undertaking was the investing of its funds and its investments consisted solely of

(i) small business securities where, except as provided in subsection 5104(1), the trust was the first person (other than a broker or dealer in securities) to have acquired the securities and it has owned the securities continuously since they were so acquired,

(ii) property (other than a small business security) that is

(A) a share of the capital stock of a corporation (other than a share that is issued to the trust and that is either a share described in section 66.3 of the Act or a share in respect of which an amount has been designated under subsection 192(4) of the Act), or

(B) a put, call, warrant or other right to acquire or sell a share described by clause (A),

(iii) specified properties, or

(iv) any combination of properties described in subparagraphs (i) to (iii);

(e) it has complied with subsection (2);

(f) it has not borrowed money except for the purpose of earning income from its investments and the amount of any such borrowings at any time did not exceed 20 per cent of the trust capital at that time; and

(g) it has not accepted deposits.

5104. (1) Notwithstanding paragraph (b) of the definition "qualifying obligation" in subsection 5100(1) and paragraphs 5101(1)(b), 5102(1)(f) and 5103(1)(d), the corporation, partnership or trust, as the case may be, may acquire a small business security that another person (other than a broker or dealer in securities) had previously acquired if

(a) the small business security is a share of the capital stock of an eligible corporation having full voting rights under all circumstances; and

(b) except where the share was acquired in specified circumstances within the meaning of subsection (2), the share was acquired from an officer or employee of the eligible corporation or a person related to the officer or employee.

(2) For the purposes of this Part,

(a) where a person acquires a share of a corporation

(i) as part of a proposal to, or an arrangement with, the corporation's creditors that has been approved by a court under the Bankruptcy [and Insolvency] Act or the Companies' Creditors Arrangement Act,

(ii) at a time when all or substantially all of the corporation's assets were under the control of a receiver, receiver-manager, sequestrator or trustee in bankruptcy, or

(iii) at a time when, by reason of financial difficulty, the corporation was in default, or could reasonably be expected to default, on a debt obligation held by a person with whom the corporation was dealing at arm's length, the person shall be deemed, at any time within 36 months after he acquired the share, to have acquired it in specified circumstances;

(b) where a person acquires a share of a corporation for the purposes of facilitating the disposition of the entire investment of the person in the corporation, the person shall be deemed, at any time within 12 months after he acquired the share, to have acquired it in specified circumstances; and

(c) a qualified trust (within the meaning assigned by subsection 259(3) of the Act) is deemed not to hold any property for any period in respect of which subsection 259(1) of the Act is applicable.

(3) Where the purchaser of a property that, but for this subsection, would at the time of its acquisition be a small business security (or, where the purchaser is a partnership, a member thereof) knew at the time of acquisition that the issuer of the security would, within the immediately following 12 months, cease to qualify as an eligible corporation, the property shall be deemed never to have been a small business security of the purchaser.

(4) Where a person who holds a share of or an interest in a corporation, partnership or trust that, but for this subsection, would be a small business investment corporation, small business investment limited partnership or small business investment trust knew at the time of issue of the share or interest, as the case may be, or at the time of making any contribution in respect of the share or interest, that

(a) a substantial portion of

(i) the consideration for the issue of the share or interest, or

(ii) the contribution in respect of the share or interest would not be invested by the corporation, partnership or trust, as the case may be, directly or indirectly in small business securities, and

(b) all or substantially all of

(i) the consideration for the issue of the share or interest, or

(ii) the contribution in respect of the share or interest

would be returned to the purchaser within the immediately following 24 months, the corporation, partnership or trust shall be deemed to have ceased at that time to be a small business investment corporation, small business investment limited partnership or small business investment trust.

(5) Where, but for this subsection, a property that qualified as a small business security when it was acquired would cease at a subsequent time to so qualify, the property shall be deemed to be a small business security for the 24 months immediately following the subsequent time.

(6) For the purposes of this Part, a partnership shall be deemed to be a person.

PART LII — CANADIAN MANUFACTURING AND PROCESSING PROFITS

History: Part LII was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

5200. Basic formula — Subject to section 5201, for the purposes of paragraph 125.1(3)(a) [125.1(3)"Canadian manufacturing and processing profits"] of the Act, "Canadian manufacturing and processing profits" of a corporation for a taxation year are hereby prescribed to be that proportion of the corporation's adjusted business income for the year that

(a) the aggregate of its cost of manufacturing and processing capital for the year and its cost of manufacturing and processing labour for the year,

is of

(b) the aggregate of its cost of capital for the year and its cost of labour for the year.

Definitions [Reg. 5200]: "adjusted business income" — Reg. 5202, 5203(1); "corporation" — ITA 248(1), Interpretation Act 35(1); "cost of capital", "cost of labour" — Reg. 5202, 5203(1), 5204; "cost of manufacturing and processing capital", "cost of manufacturing and processing labour" — Reg. 5202, 5204; "prescribed" — ITA 248(1); "taxation year" — ITA 249.

Interpretation Bulletins: IT-145R: Canadian manufacturing and processing profits — reduced rate of corporate tax.

5201. Small manufacturers' rule — For the purposes of paragraph 125.1(3)(a) [125.1(3)"Canadian manufacturing and processing profits"] of the Act, "Canadian manufacturing and processing profits" of a corporation for a taxation year are hereby prescribed to be equal to the corporation's adjusted business income for the year where

(a) the activities of the corporation during the year were primarily manufacturing or processing in Canada of goods for sale or lease;

(b) the aggregate of

(i) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the income of the corporation for the year from an active business minus the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the loss of the corporation for the year from an active business, and

(ii) if the corporation is associated in the year with a Canadian corporation, the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the income of the latter corporation from an active business for its taxation year coinciding with or ending in the year,

did not exceed $200,000;

(c) the corporation was not engaged in any of the activities listed in subparagraphs 125.1(3)(b)(i) to (ix) [125.1(3)"manufacturing or processing"(a) to (k)] of the Act at any time during the year;

(c.1) the corporation was not engaged in the processing of ore (other than iron ore or tar sands) from a mineral resource located outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the prime metal stage or its equivalent;

(c.2) the corporation was not engaged in the processing of iron ore from a mineral resource located outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the pellet stage or its equivalent;

(c.3) the corporation was not engaged in the processing of tar sands located outside Canada to any stage that is not beyond the crude oil stage or its equivalent; and

(d) the corporation did not carry on any active business outside Canada at any time during the year.

5202. Interpretation — In this Part, except as otherwise provided in section 5203 or 5204,

"adjusted business income" of a corporation for a taxation year means the amount, if any, by which

(a) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the income of the corporation for the year from an active business carried on in Canada

exceeds

(b) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the loss of the corporation for the year from an active business carried on in Canada;

"Canadian resource profits" has the meaning that would be assigned to the expression "resource profits" by section 1204 if

(a) section 1204 were read without reference to subparagraph 1204(1)(b)(iv), and

(b) the definition "resource activity" in subsection 1206(1) were read without reference to paragraph (d) of that definition;

History: The definition "Canadian resource profits" in s. 5202 amended by P.C. 1996-1488, s. 6, September 24, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, October 16, 1996, applicable to taxation years that begin after December 20, 1991.

"Canadian resource profits" added by P.C. 1994-230, s. 6, February 10, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, February 23, 1994, applicable to 1990 et seq.

"cost of capital" of a corporation for a taxation year means an amount equal to the aggregate of

(a) 10 per cent of the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the gross cost to the corporation of a property referred to in paragraph 1100(1)(e), (f), (g) or (h), paragraph 1102(1)(d) or (g) or Schedule II that

(i) was owned by the corporation at the end of the year, and

(ii) was used by the corporation at any time during the year, and

(b) the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the rental cost incurred by the corporation during the year for the use of any property a portion of the gross cost of which would be included by virtue of paragraph (a) if the property were owned by the corporation at the end of the year, but for the purposes of this definition, the gross cost of a property or rental cost for the use of any property does not include that portion of those costs that reflects the extent to which the property was used by the corporation during the year

(c) in an active business carried on outside Canada, or

(d) to earn Canadian investment income or foreign investment income as defined in subsection 129(4) of the Act;

"cost of labour" of a corporation for a taxation year means an amount equal to the aggregate of

(a) the salaries and wages paid or payable during the year to all employees of the corporation for services performed during the year, and

(b) all other amounts each of which is an amount paid or payable during the year for the performance during the year, by any person other than an employee of the corporation, of functions relating to

(i) the management or administration of the corporation,

(ii) scientific research and experimental development, or

(iii) a service or function that would normally be performed by an employee of the corporation, but for the purposes of this definition, the salaries and wages referred to in paragraph (a) or other amounts referred to in paragraph (b) do not include that portion of those amounts that

(c) was included in the gross cost to the corporation of a property (other than a property that was manufactured by the corporation and leased during the year by the corporation to another person) that was included in computing the cost of capital of the corporation for the year, or

(d) was related to an active business carried on outside Canada by the corporation;

History: Subpara. (b)(ii) of the definition 5202"cost of labour" amended by P.C. 2000-1095, s. 2, July 27, 2000, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 16, 2000, applicable to costs incurred after Feburary 27, 1995.

"cost of manufacturing and processing capital" of a corporation for a taxation year means 100/85 of that portion of the cost of capital of the corporation for that year that reflects the extent to which each property included in the calculation thereof was used directly in qualified activities of the corporation during the year, but the amount so calculated shall not exceed the cost of capital of the corporation for the year;

"cost of manufacturing and processing labour" of a corporation for a taxation year means 100/75 of that portion of the cost of labour of the corporation for that year that reflects the extent to which

(a) the salaries and wages included in the calculation thereof were paid or payable to persons for the portion of their time that they were directly engaged in qualified activities of the corporation during the year, and

(b) the other amounts included in the calculation thereof were paid or payable to persons for the performance of functions that would be directly related to qualified activities of the corporation during the year if those persons were employees of the corporation, but the amount so calculated shall not exceed the cost of labour of the corporation for the year;

"gross cost" to a particular person of a property at any time means, in respect of property that has become available for use by the particular person for the purposes of subsection 13(26) of the Act, the capital cost to the particular person of the property computed without reference to subsections 13(7.1), (7.4) and (10), sections 21 and 80 and paragraph 111(4)(e) of the Act and, in respect of any other property, nil, and where the particular person acquired the property

(a) in the course of a reorganization in respect of which, if a dividend were received by the particular person in the course of the reorganization, subsection 55(2) of the Act would not apply to the dividend by reason of the application of paragraph 55(3)(b) of the Act, or

(b) from another person with whom the particular person was not dealing at arm's length (otherwise than by reason of a right referred to in paragraph 251(5)(b) of the Act) immediately after the property was acquired, the capital cost to the particular person of the property for the purposes of this definition shall be computed as if the property had been acquired at a capital cost equal to the gross cost of the property to the person from whom the property was acquired by the particular person;

History: "Gross cost" amended by P.C. 1994-139, subsec. 12(1), January 27, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, February 9, 1994, applicable to 1985 et seq., except that

(a) where the taxpayer so elects by notifying the Minister of National Revenue in writing on or before the day on or before which the taxpayer is, or would be if a tax under Part I of the Income Tax Act were payable by the taxpayer, required by s.

150 to file a return of income for the taxpayer's first taxation year ending after February 9, 1994,

PART LIII — INSTALMENT BASE

History: Part LIII (ss. 5300, 5301) substituted by P.C. 1981-2931, s. 1, October 22, 1981, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 11, 1981, applicable by s. 2 as follows:

(1) Para. 5300(1)(d) applicable to 1980 et seq.

(2) Subsecs. 5301(1)–(5) effective in respect of instalments of tax required to be paid for taxation years commencing after October 28, 1980.

(3) Subsecs. 5301(6)–(9) effective in respect of taxation years commencing after February 26, 1981 in respect of instalments of tax required to be paid after the particular time referred to in those subsections where such particular time was after November 11, 1981.

Part LIII was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

5300. [Individuals] — For the purposes of subsections 155(2), 156(3) and 161(9) of the Act, the instalment base of an individual for a taxation year is the amount by which

(a) the individual's tax payable under Part I of the Act for the year, determined before taking into consideration the specified future tax consequences for the year

exceeds

(b) the amount deemed by subsection 120(2) of the Act to have been paid on account of the individual's tax under Part I of the Act for the year, determined before taking into consideration the specified future tax consequences for the year.

Related Provisions: ITA 248(1) — Definition of "specified future tax consequence".

History: S. 5300 substituted for subsecs. 5300(1), (2) by P.C. 1999-196, s. 1, February 11, 1999, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 3, 1999, applicable for the purpose of computing instalments of tax payable for 1997 et seq.

Subsec. 5300(2) substituted by P.C. 1986-2590, s. 15, November 20, 1986, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1986.

Para. 5300(1)(a) substituted by P.C. 1985-2277, s. 15, July 24, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 7, 1985, applicable with respect to amounts deducted under ss. 127.2 and 127.3 of the Act in respect of shares, debt obligations and rights acquired after February 15, 1984, other than shares, debt obligations or rights acquired before March 1, 1984 where arrangements, evidenced in writing, for the issue of the shares or debt obligations or granting of the rights were substantially advanced before February 16, 1984; and with respect to amounts referred to in subparas. 161(7)(a)(i) to (vii) of the Act for subsequent taxation years ending after August 7, 1985.

Definitions [Reg. 5300]: "amount", "individual", "prescribed", "specified future tax consequence" — ITA 248(1); "taxation year" — ITA 249.

5301. Corporations under Part I of the Act — (1) Subject to subsections 5301 (6) and (8), for the purposes of subsections 157(4) and 161(9) of the Act, the first instalment base of a corporation for a particular taxation year means the product obtained when the aggregate of

(a) the tax payable under Part I of the Act by the corporation for its taxation year preceding the particular year, and

(b) the total of the taxes payable by the corporation under Parts I.3, VI and VI.1 of the Act for its taxation year preceding the particular year

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5301(1)(b)

(b) the total of the taxes payable by the corporation under Parts I.3, VI, VI.1 and XIII.1 of the Act for its taxation year preceding the particular year

Application: The February 13, 2003 draft regulations (foreign bank branches), subsec. 9(1) (pre-published in the Canada Gazette, Part I, February 15, 2003), will amend para. 5301(1)(b) to read as above, applicable to 2001 et seq.

Regulatory Impact Analysis Statement: Instalment Base

Section 157 of the Act requires taxpayers to make regular instalment payment of taxes. The amount of the instalment is determined by reference to an "instalment base", which in broad terms reflects the amount of the taxpayer's expected tax liability. Section 5301 computes the instalment base of a corporation, and paragraph 5301(1)(b), clause 5301(4)(a)(i)(B) and subsection 5301(10) describe the taxes payable to be included in such computation.

An authorized foreign bank is subject to the new Branch Interest Tax imposed under Part XIII.1 of the Act. Paragraph 5301(1)(b), clause 5301(4)(a)(i)(B) and subsection 5301(10) are amended to include the Part XIII.1 tax in the computation of an instalment base.

is multiplied by the ratio that 365 is of the number of days in that preceding year.

Paras. 5301(1)(a) and (b) substituted by P.C. 1994-556, subsec. 1(1), April 14, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 4, 1994, applicable in computing the "first instalment base" and "second instalment base", within the meanings assigned by Part LIII, for taxation years ending after June 1989, except that in its application to any of those taxation years ending before 1992, the reference to "Parts I.3, VI and VI.1" in para. 5301(1)(b) shall be read as a reference to "Part VI.1".

Subsec. 5301(1) substituted by P.C. 1989-1565, subsec. 3(1), August 14, 1989, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 30, 1989, applicable in respect of 1988 et seq.

Subsec. 5301(1) substituted by P.C. 1988-390, subsec. 27(1), March 3, 1988, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 16, 1988, applicable to 1985 et seq.

Subsec. 5301(1) substituted by P.C. 1985-2277, subsec. 16(1), July 24, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 7, 1985, applicable with respect to amounts deducted under ss. 127.2 and 127.3 of the Act in respect of shares, debt obligations and rights acquired after February 15, 1984, other than shares, debt obligations or rights acquired before March 1, 1984 where arrangements, evidenced in writing, for the issue of the shares or debt obligations or granting of the rights were substantially advanced before February 16, 1984; and with respect to amounts referred to in subparas. 161(7)(a)(i) to (vii) of the Act for subsequent taxation years ending after August 7, 1985.

Subsec. 5301(1) substituted by P.C. 1984-3789, subsec. 14(1), November 29, 1984, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 12, 1984, applicable to 1982 et seq.

(2) Subject to subsections (6) and (8), for the purposes of subsections 157(4) and 161(9) of the Act, the "second instalment base" of a corporation for a particular taxation year means the amount of the first instalment base of the corporation for the taxation year immediately preceding the particular year.

Related Provisions: ITA 261(11)(a)(iii) — Effect of functional currency election.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (1), where the number of days in the taxation year of a corporation immediately preceding the particular taxation year referred to therein is less than 183, the amount determined for the corporation under that subsection shall be the greater of

(a) the amount otherwise determined for it under subsection (1); and

(b) the amount that would be determined for it under subsection (1) if the reference in that subsection to "its taxation year preceding the particular year" were read as a reference to "its last taxation year, preceding the particular year, in which the number of days exceeds 182".

History: Para. 5301(3)(b) amended by P.C. 1999-196, subsec. 2(2), February 11, 1999, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 3, 1999, applicable to taxation years ending after June 30, 1989.

(4) Notwithstanding subsections (1) and (2), for the purposes of subsections 157(4) and 161(9) of the Act,

(a) where a particular taxation year of a new corporation that was formed as a result of an amalgamation (within the meaning assigned by section 87 of the Act) is its first taxation year,

(i) its "first instalment base" for the particular year means the total of all amounts each of which is equal to the product obtained when the total of

(A) the tax payable under Part I of the Act, and

(B) the total of the taxes payable under Parts I.3, VI and VI.1 of the Act

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5301(4)(a)(i)(B)

(B) the total of the taxes payable under Parts I.3, VI, VI.1 and XIII.1 of the Act

Application: The February 13, 2003 draft regulations (foreign bank branches), subsec. 9(2) (pre-published in the Canada Gazette, Part I, February 15, 2003), will amend cl. 5301(4)(a)(i)(B) to read as above, applicable to 2001 et seq.

by a predecessor corporation (as defined in section 87 of the Act) for its last taxation year is multiplied by the ratio that 365 is of the number of days in that year, and

(ii) its "second instalment base" for the particular year means the aggregate of all amounts each of which is an amount equal to the amount of the first instalment base of a predecessor corporation for its last taxation year; and

(b) where a particular taxation year of a new corporation referred to in paragraph (a) is its second taxation year,

(i) its "first instalment base" for the particular year means

(A) where the number of days in its first taxation year is greater than 182, the amount that would, but for this subsection, be determined under subsection (1) for the year, and

(B) in any other case, the greater of the amount that would, but for this subsection, be determined under subsection (1) for the year and its first instalment base for its first taxation year, and

(ii) its "second instalment base" for the particular year means the amount of the first instalment base of the new corporation for its first taxation year.

Related Provisions: ITA 261(11)(a)(ii), (iii) — Effect of functional currency election.

Subpara. 5301(4)(a)(i) substituted by P.C. 1984-3789, subsec. 14(2), November 29, 1984, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 12, 1984, applicable to 1982 et seq.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (4), where the number of days in the last taxation year of a predecessor corporation is less than 183, the amount determined under subparagraph (4)(a)(i) in respect of the predecessor corporation shall be the greater of

(a) the amount otherwise determined under subparagraph (4)(a)(i) in respect of the predecessor corporation; and

(b) the amount of the first instalment base of the predecessor corporation for its last taxation year.

(6) Subject to subsection (7), where a subsidiary within the meaning of subsection 88(1) of the Act is winding up, and, at a particular time in the course of the winding up, all or substantially all of the property of the subsidiary has been distributed to a parent within the meaning of subsection 88(1) of the Act, the following rules apply:

(a) there shall be added to the amount of the parent's first instalment base for its taxation year that includes the particular time the amount of the subsidiary's first instalment base for its taxation year that includes the particular time;

(b) there shall be added to the amount of the parent's second instalment base for its taxation year that includes the particular time the amount of the subsidiary's second instalment base for its taxation year that includes the particular time;

(c) there shall be added to the amount of the parent's first instalment base for its taxation year immediately following its taxation year referred to in paragraph (a) the amount that is the proportion of the subsidiary's first instalment base for its taxation year referred to in paragraph (a) that

(i) the number of complete months that ended at or before the particular time in the taxation year of the parent that includes the particular time

is of

(ii) 12; and

(d) there shall be added to the amount of the parent's second instalment base for its taxation year immediately following its taxation year referred to in paragraph (a) the amount of the subsidiary's first instalment base for its taxation year that includes the particular time.

(7) The amount of an instalment of tax for the taxation year referred to in paragraphs (6)(a) and (b) that a parent is deemed under subsection 161(4.1) of the Act to have been liable to pay before the particular time referred to in subsection (6) shall be determined as if subsection (6) were not applicable in respect of a distribution of property described in that subsection occurring after the day on or before which the instalment was required to be paid.

(8) Subject to subsection (9), where at a particular time a corporation (in this subsection referred to as the "transferor") has disposed of all or substantially all of its property to another corporation with which it was not dealing at arm's length (in this subsection and subsection (9) referred to as the "transferee") and subsection 85(1) or (2) of the Act applied in respect of the disposition of any of the property, the following rules apply:

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5301(8) opening words

(8) Subject to subsection (9), if at a particular time a corporation (in this subsection referred as the "transferor") has disposed of all or substantially all of its property to another corporation with which it was not dealing at arm's length (in this subsection and subsection (9) referred to as the "transferee") and subsection 85(1) or (2) or 142.7(3) of the Act applied in respect of the disposition of any of the property, the following rules apply:

Application: The February 13, 2003 draft regulations (foreign bank branches), subsec. 9(3) (pre-published in the Canada Gazette, Part I, February 15, 2003), will amend the opening words of subsec. 5301(8) to read as above, applicable after June 27, 1999.

Regulatory Impact Analysis Statement: Subsection 5301(8) describes the additional rules applicable in the computation of an instalment base when a property is disposed of in a transaction governed by subsection 85(1) or (2) of the Act. Subsection 142.7(3) of the Act allows a Canadian affiliate of an authorized foreign bank to dispose of its property in the manner similar to an election under subsection 85(1) of the Act. Subsection 5301(8) is amended to include the property disposed of by virtue of an election under subsection 142.7(3) of the Act.

(a) there shall be added to the amount of the transferee's first instalment base for its taxation year that includes the particular time the amount of the transferor's first instalment base for its taxation year that includes the particular time;

(b) there shall be added to the amount of the transferee's second instalment base for its taxation year that includes the particular time the amount of the transferor's second instalment base for its taxation year that includes the particular time;

(c) there shall be added to the amount of the transferee's first instalment base for its taxation year immediately following its taxation year referred to in paragraph (a) the amount that is the proportion of the transferor's first instalment base for its taxation year referred to in paragraph (a) that

is of

(ii) 12; and

(d) there shall be added to the amount of the transferee's second instalment base for its taxation year immediately following its taxation year referred to in paragraph (a) the amount of the transferor's first instalment base for its taxation year that includes the particular time.

(9) The amount of an instalment of tax for the taxation year referred to in paragraphs (8)(a) and (b) that a transferee is deemed under subsection 161(4.1) of the Act to have been liable to pay before the particular time referred to in subsection (8) shall be determined as if subsection (8) were not applicable in respect of a disposition of property described in that subsection occurring after the day on or before which the instalment was required to be paid.

(10) For the purpose of this section, tax payable under Part I, I.3 or VI of the Act by a corporation for a taxation year means the corporation's tax payable for the year under the relevant Part, determined before taking into consideration the specified future tax consequences for the year.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5301(10)

(10) For the purpose of this section, tax payable under Part I, I.3, VI or XIII.1 of the Act by a corporation for a taxation year means the corporation's tax payable for the year under the relevant Part, determined before taking into consideration the specified future tax consequences for the year.

Application: The February 13, 2003 draft regulations (foreign bank branches), subsec. 9(4) (pre-published in the Canada Gazette, Part I, February 15, 2003), will amend subsec. 5301(10) to read as above, applicable to 2001 et seq.

Regulatory Impact Analysis Statement: See under Reg. 5301(1)(b) above.

Related Provisions: ITA 248(1) — Definition of "specified future tax consequence".

History: Subsec. 5301(10) amended by P.C. 1999-196, subsec. 2(4), February 11, 1999, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 3, 1999, applicable to 1996 et seq.

Subsec. 5301(10) added by P.C. 1994-556, subsec. 1(3), April 14, 1994, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 4, 1994, applicable in computing the "first instalment base" and "second instalment base", within the meanings assigned by Part LIII, for taxation years ending after June 1989 except that, in making such computations in respect of such taxation years commencing before March 1992, subsec. 5301(10) shall be read as follows:

(10) For the purposes of this section, "tax payable under Part I of the Act" by a corporation for a taxation year means the amount, if any, by which the tax payable under Part I of the Act by the corporation for the year, computed without reference to sections 123.1, 127.2 and 127.3 of the Act (and, where the year commenced before July 1, 1989, without reference to section 125.3 of the Act) and before taking into consideration any amount referred to in any of subparagraphs 161(7)(a)(ii) to (vii) of the Act that is excluded or deducted, as the case may be, for the year, exceeds

(a) where the year commenced before July 1, 1989, the lesser of

(i) where the year ended

(A) before July 1, 1989, the amount that would be the corporation's tax payable under Part I.3 of the Act for the year if that Part (as it read in its application to the corporation's first taxation year commencing after June 30, 1989) applied in respect of the year and its capital deduction under that Part for the year were its capital deduction under that Part for its first taxation year ending after June 30, 1989, or

(B) after June 30, 1989, the product obtained when the corporation's tax payable under Part I.3 of the Act for the year is multiplied by the ratio that the number of days in the year is of the number of days in the year after June 30, 1989, and

(ii) the amount that would be the corporation's Canadian surtax payable for the year, as defined in subsection 125.3(4) of the Act if that subsection and any regulations made under that subsection (as they read in their application to the corporation's first taxation year commencing after June 30, 1989) were applicable to the year;

(b) where the year commenced before February 21, 1990 and the corporation is a corporation described in paragraph (d) or (e) of the definition "financial institution" in subsection 190(1) of the Act (or that would be so described if those paragraphs applied with respect to the year),

(i) where the year ended before February 21, 1990, the amount that would be the corporation's tax payable under Part VI of the Act for the year if that Part (as it read in its application to the corporation's first taxation year commencing after February 20, 1990) applied in respect of the year and its capital deduction under that Part for the year were its capital deduction under that Part for its first taxation year ending after February 20, 1990, and

(ii) where the year ended after February 20, 1990, the amount, if any, by which

(A) the product obtained when the corporation's tax payable under Part VI of the Act for the year is multiplied by the ratio that the number of days in the year is to the number of days in the year after February 20, 1990

exceeds

(B) the amount deducted under subsection 125.2(1) of the Act in computing the corporation's tax payable under Part I of the Act for the year in respect of its tax payable under Part VI of the Act for the year; and

(c) in any other case, nil.

In making those computations in respect of any of those taxation years ending before 1991, the reference in subsec. 5301(10) to "subparagraphs 161(7)(a)(ii) to (x)" shall be read as a reference to "subparagraphs 161(7)(a)(ii) to (vii)"; and in making those computations in respect of any of those taxation years ending in 1991, the reference in subsec. 5301(10) to "subparagraphs 161(7)(a)(ii) to (x)" shall be read as a reference to "subparagraphs 161(7)(a)(ii) to (vii) and (x)".

PART LIV — DEBTOR'S GAINS ON SETTLEMENT OF DEBTS

Proposed Repeal — Part LIV

Technical Notes to ITA 80–80.04, 1994 tax amendment bill (Bill C-70), Feb. 16, 1995: The new rules for debt forgiveness are entirely contained in the Act [in subsecs. 80(5) and (6) — ed.]. As a consequence, Part LIV of the Regulations is no longer relevant, except in the cases where grandfathering [former s. 80 — ed.] applies.

History: Part LIV was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

5400. (1) Subject to section 5401, the excess referred to in paragraph 80(1)(b) of the Act, after deducting the portion thereof required to be applied as provided in paragraph 80(1)(a) of the Act, shall be applied at the time the debt or obligation is settled or extinguished, in the following order to reduce to the maximum extent possible

(a) the capital cost of depreciable property of a prescribed class or prescribed classes, as the case may be;

(b) the capital cost of depreciable property other than depreciable property of a prescribed class;

(c) the adjusted cost base at that time of capital property, other than depreciable property and personal-use property;

(d) the adjusted cost base at that time of capital property that is listed personal property; and

(e) the adjusted cost base at that time of capital property that is personal-use property, other than listed personal property.

History: All that portion of subsec. 5400(1) preceding para. (a) substituted by P.C. 1984-3789, s. 15, November 29, 1984, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 12, 1984, effective commencing November 13, 1981.

(2) Where an amount is to be applied pursuant to subsection (1), the taxpayer may choose any particular property to make the reduction in the order specified therein.

Definitions [Reg. 5400]: "adjusted cost base" — ITA 54, 248(1); "amount" — ITA 248(1); "capital property" — ITA 54, 248(1); "depreciable property" — ITA 13(21), 248(1); "listed personal property", "personal-use property" — ITA 54, 248(1); "prescribed", "property", "taxpayer" — ITA 248(1).

5401. (1) For the purposes of paragraph 5400(1)(a), the amount to be applied to reduce the capital cost of a property shall not exceed the lesser of

(a) the amount by which

(i) the capital cost of the property

exceeds

(ii) all amounts that would have been allowed to the taxpayer in respect of the property, if it had been the only property that was included in a prescribed class, at the rate that was allowed to him in respect of property of the class in which it was included under regulations made under paragraph 20(1)(a) of the Act for the taxation years prior to the year in which the debt or obligation was settled or extinguished; and

PART LVI — PRESCRIBED DISTRIBUTIONS

History: Part LVI was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

5600. For the purpose of section 86.1 of the Act, the following distributions of shares are prescribed:

(a) the distribution by Active Biotech AB, on May 10, 1999, of shares of Wilhelm Sonesson AB; and

(b) the distribution by Orckit Communications Ltd., on June 30, 2000, of shares of Tioga Technologies Ltd.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5600 — Electrolux/Husqvarna spinoff

Letter from Dept. of Finance, Sept. 11, 2007:

[xxx], Electrolux Canada Corp., Mississauga, ON

Dear [xxx]:

I am writing to you concerning your submission of December 18, 2006 to the Canada Revenue Agency (the CRA) with regard to the Canadian income tax treatment of a spin-off distribution effected on June 12, 2006 and in which AB Electrolux (Electrolux) distributed to its shareholders shares of Husqvarna AB (Husqvarna). You have requested that the spin-off distribution be prescribed for the purpose of the Canadian foreign spin-off tax deferral rules.

Shareholders of a non-U.S. foreign spin-off distribution qualify for a tax deferral in respect of the distribution if the spin-off distribution satisfies various technical requirements in section 86.1 of the Income Tax Act and the distribution is prescribed on the recommendation of the Minister of Finance. The CRA has confirmed to Departmental officials that the Electrolux distribution satisfies the technical requirements of the Canadian foreign spin-off tax deferral rules.

Based on our review of the general scheme of the income tax law of Sweden applicable to tax deferred spin-off distributions, we are prepared to recommend to the Minister an amendment to the Income Tax Regulations to prescribe the June 12, 2006 Electrolux spin-off of Husqvarna shares for the purpose of the foreign spin-off distribution tax deferral under section 86.1 of the Income Tax Act. If passed, the necessary regulation identifying the Electrolux distribution of Husqvarna shares as a prescribed distribution would be published in the Canada Gazette. While I cannot offer any assurance that either the Minister or Treasury Board will agree with our recommendations, I hope that this statement of our intention is helpful.

Yours sincerely,

Brian Ernewein, General Director — Legislation, Tax Policy Branch

(g) mechanical device or equipment designed to be used to assist an individual to enter or leave a bathtub or shower or to get on or off a toilet;

(h) hospital bed including such attachments thereto as may have been included in a prescription therefor;

(i) device that is exclusively designed to assist an individual in walking where the individual has a mobility impairment;

Selected Cases [Reg. 5700(i)]: Brown v. MNR, [1995] 1 C.T.C. 208 (FCTD) ("Designed" can be read as meaning "intended". Air conditioner deductible as medical expense).

(j) external breast prosthesis that is required because of a mastectomy;

(k) teletypewriter or similar device, including a telephone ringing indicator, that enables a deaf or mute individual to make and receive telephone calls;

(l) optical scanner or similar device designed to be used by a blind individual to enable him to read print;

(l.1) device or software designed to be used by a blind individual, or an individual with a severe learning disability, to enable the individual to read print;

(m) power-operated lift or transportation equipment designed exclusively for use by, or for, a disabled individual to allow the individual access to different areas of a building or to assist the individual to gain access to a vehicle or to place the individual's wheelchair in or on a vehicle;

(n) device designed exclusively to enable an individual with a mobility impairment to operate a vehicle;

(o) device or equipment, including a synthetic speech system, braille printer and large print-on-screen device, designed exclusively to be used by a blind individual in the operation of a computer;

(p) electronic speech synthesizer that enables a mute individual to communicate by use of a portable keyboard;

(q) device to decode special television signals to permit the script of a program to be visually displayed;

(q.1) a visual or vibratory signalling device, including a visual fire alarm indicator, for an individual with a hearing impairment;

(r) device designed to be attached to infants diagnosed as being prone to sudden infant death syndrome in order to sound an alarm if the infant ceases to breathe;

(s) infusion pump, including disposable peripherals, used in the treatment of diabetes or a device designed to enable a diabetic to measure the diabetic's blood sugar level;

(t) electronic or computerized environmental control system designed exclusively for the use of an individual with a severe and prolonged mobility restriction;

(u) extremity pump or elastic support hose designed exclusively to relieve swelling caused by chronic lymphedema;

(v) inductive coupling osteogenesis stimulator for treating nonunion of fractures or aiding in bone fusion;

(w) talking textbook for use by an individual with a perceptual disability in connection with the individual's enrolment at an educational institution in Canada, or a designated educational institution;

(x) Bliss symbol board, or similar device, designed to be used to help an individual who has a speech impairment communicate by selecting the symbols or spelling out words;

(y) Braille note-taker designed to be used by a blind individual to allow them to take notes (that can be read back to them or printed or displayed in Braille) with the help of a keyboard; and

(z) page turner, designed to be used by an individual who has a severe and prolonged impairment that markedly restricts their ability to use their arms or hands to turn the pages of a book or other bound document.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5700(z.1)–(z.4)

(z.1) altered auditory feedback device designed to be used by an individual who has a speech impairment;

(z.2) electrotherapy device designed to be used by an individual with a medical condition or by an individual who has a severe mobility impairment;

(z.3) standing device designed to be used by an individual who has a severe mobility impairment to undertake standing therapy; and

(z.4) pressure pulse therapy device designed to be used by an individual who has a balance disorder.

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), s. 109, will add paras. 5700(z.1) to (z.4), applicable to 2008 et seq.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): Section 5700 provides a list of the medical devices and equipment that the costs of which are eligible for inclusion in the calculation of the medical expense tax credit (METC) under paragraph 118.2(2)(m) of the Act. Section 5700 is amended to add to that list four new kinds of devices or equipment:

- altered auditory feedback devices for the treatment of a speech disorder;
- electrotherapy devices for the treatment of a medical condition or a severe mobility impairment;
- standing devices for standing therapy in the treatment of a severe mobility impairment; and
- pressure pulse therapy devices for the treatment of a balance disorder.

Federal Budget, Supplementary Information, Feb. 26, 2008: Medical Expense Tax Credit . . .

The Medical Expense Tax Credit (METC) recognizes the effect of above-average specific medical and disability-related expenses on an individual's ability to pay income tax.

Currently, the METC provides tax relief equal to 15% of eligible medical and disability-related expenses in excess of a threshold. In particular, eligible medical and disability-related expenses incurred by a taxpayer, including those incurred on behalf of a spouse or common-law partner and minor children, may be claimed by the taxpayer to the extent that they exceed the taxpayer's minimum expense threshold — that is, the lesser of 3% of the taxpayer's net income and $1,962. Caregivers may also claim expenses they incur on behalf of a dependent relative.

The list of expenses eligible for the METC is regularly reviewed and updated in light of new technologies and other disability-specific or medically related developments. Budget 2008 proposes to add to the list the cost to purchase, operate, and maintain the following devices prescribed by a medical practitioner:

- altered auditory feedback devices for the treatment of a speech disorder;
- electrotherapy devices for the treatment of a medical condition or a severe mobility impairment;
- standing devices for standing therapy in the treatment of a severe mobility impairment; and
- pressure pulse therapy devices for the treatment of a balance disorder.

Budget 2008 also proposes to clarify the METC provisions regarding the eligibility of drugs and medications [enacted by S.C. 2008, c. 28. See Reg. 5701 — ed.]

Related Provisions: ITA 64 — Disability supports deduction for various expenses.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5701

5701. For the purpose of subparagraph 118.2(2)(n)(ii) of the Act, a drug, medicament or other preparation or substance is prescribed if it

(a) is manufactured, sold or represented for use in the diagnosis, treatment or prevention of a disease, disorder or abnormal physical state, or its symptoms, or in restoring, correcting or modifying an organic function;

(b) is prescribed for a patient by a medical practitioner; and

(c) may, in the province in which it is acquired, be lawfully acquired for use by the patient only with the intervention of a medical practitioner.

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), s. 110, will add s. 5701, deemed to have come into force on February 27, 2008.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): New section 5701 describes the type of drugs, medicaments, preparations or substances that are prescribed for the purpose of subparagraph 118.2(2)(n)(ii) of the Act. The Budget Implementation Act, 2008 (S.C. 2008, c. 28) amended paragraph 118.2(2)(n) of the Act to clarify the types of drugs and medications the cost of which is eligible for the medical expense tax credit (METC). Under subparagraph 118.2(2)(n)(ii), eligible drugs and medications include such substances that are prescribed by regulation.

New section 5701 stipulates that a substance is prescribed for this purpose if it

(a) is manufactured, sold or represented for use in the diagnosis, treatment or prevention of a disease, disorder or abnormal physical state, or its symptoms, or in restoring, correcting or modifying an organic function;

(b) is prescribed for a patient by a medical practitioner; and

(c) may, in the jurisdiction in which it is acquired, be lawfully acquired for use by the patient only with the intervention of a medical practitioner.

In the result, a medication that is available without a prescription, but only with the intervention of a medical practitioner (e.g. a pharmacist) may qualify for the METC, but only if it is prescribed for the patient by a medical practitioner.

PART LVIII — RETENTION OF BOOKS AND RECORDS

History: Part LVIII (s. 5800) added by P.C. 1982-2895, s. 2, September 22, 1982, Canada Gazette, Part II, October 13, 1982, effective commencing September 20, 1982.

5800. (1) For the purposes of paragraph 230(4)(a) of the Act, the required retention periods for records and books of account of a person are prescribed as follows:

(a) in respect of

(i) any record of the minutes of meetings of the directors of a corporation,

(ii) any record of the minutes of meetings of the shareholders of a corporation,

(iii) any record of a corporation containing details with respect to the ownership of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation and any transfers thereof,

(iv) the general ledger or other book of final entry containing the summaries of the year-to-year transactions of a corporation, and

(v) any special contracts or agreements necessary to an understanding of the entries in the general ledger or other book of final entry referred to in subparagraph (iv), the period ending on the day that is two years after the day that the corporation is dissolved;

(b) in respect of all records and books of account that are not described in paragraph (a) of a corporation that is dissolved and in respect of the vouchers and accounts necessary to verify the information in such records and books of account, the period ending on the day that is two years after the day that the corporation is dissolved;

(c) in respect of

(i) the general ledger or other book of final entry containing the summaries of the year-to-year transactions of a business of a person (other than a corporation), and

(ii) any special contracts or agreements necessary to an understanding of the entries in the general ledger or other book of final entry referred to in subparagraph (i),

the period ending on the day that is six years after the last day of the taxation year of the person in which the business ceased;

(d) in respect of

(i) any record of the minutes of meetings of the executive of a registered charity or registered Canadian amateur athletic association,

(ii) any record of the minutes of meetings of the members of a registered charity or registered Canadian amateur athletic association,

(iii) all documents and by-laws governing a registered charity or registered Canadian amateur athletic association, and

(iv) all records of any donations received by a registered charity that were subject to a direction by the donor that the property given be held by the charity for a period of not less than 10 years, the period ending on the day that is two years after the date on which the registration of the registered charity or the registered Canadian amateur athletic association under the Act is revoked;

(e) in respect of all records and books of account that are not described in paragraph (d) and that relate to a registered charity or registered Canadian amateur athletic association whose registration under the Act is revoked, and in respect of the vouchers and accounts necessary to verify the information in such records and books of account, the period ending on the day that is two years after the date on which the registration of the registered charity or the registered Canadian amateur athletic association under the Act is revoked;

(f) in respect of duplicates of receipts for donations (other than donations referred to in subparagraph (d)(iv)) that are received by a registered charity or registered Canadian amateur athletic association and are required to be kept by that charity or association pursuant to subsection 230(2) of the Act, the period ending on the day that is two years from the end of the last calendar year to which the receipts relate; and

(g) notwithstanding paragraphs (c) to (f), in respect of all records, books of account, vouchers and accounts of a deceased taxpayer or a trust in respect of which a clearance certificate is issued pursuant to subsection 159(2) of the Act with respect to the distribution of all the property of such deceased taxpayer or trust, the period ending on the day that the clearance certificate is issued.

(2) For the purposes of subsection 230.1(3) of the Act, with respect to the application of paragraph 230(4)(a) of the Act, the required retention period for records and books of account that are required to be kept pursuant to section 230.1 of the Act is prescribed to be the period ending on the day that is two years after the end of the last calendar year to which the records or books of account relate.

PART LIX — FOREIGN AFFILIATES

History: Part LIX was consolidated by the Consolidated Regulations of Canada, chapter 945, proclaimed in force August 15, 1979, by P.C. 1979-1934, July 19, 1979, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 8, 1979.

5900. Dividends out of exempt, taxable and pre-acquisition surplus — (1) Where at any time a corporation resident in Canada or a foreign affiliate of the corporation receives a dividend on a share of any class of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of the corporation,

(a) for the purposes of this Part and paragraph 113(1)(a) of the Act, the portion of the dividend paid out of the exempt surplus of the affiliate is prescribed to be that proportion of the dividend received that

(i) such portion of the whole dividend paid by the affiliate on the shares of that class at that time as was deemed by section 5901 to have been paid out of the affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation

is of

(ii) the whole dividend paid by the affiliate on the shares of that class at that time;

(b) for the purposes of this Part and subsection 91(5) and paragraphs 113(1)(b) and (c) of the Act, the portion of the dividend paid out of the taxable surplus of the affiliate is prescribed to be that portion of the dividend received that

(i) such portion of the whole dividend paid by the affiliate on the shares of that class at that time as was deemed by section 5901 to have been paid out of the affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation

is of

(ii) the whole dividend paid by the affiliate on the shares of that class at that time;

(c) for the purposes of this Part and paragraph 113(1)(d) of the Act, the portion of the dividend paid out of the pre-acquisition surplus of the affiliate is prescribed to be that proportion of the dividend received that

(i) such portion of the whole dividend paid by the affiliate on the shares of that class at that time as was deemed by section 5901 to have been paid out of the affiliate's pre-acquisition surplus in respect of the corporation

(ii) the whole dividend paid by the affiliate on the shares of that class at that time; and

(d) for the purposes of this Part and paragraph 113(1)(b) of the Act, the foreign tax applicable to the portion of the dividend prescribed to have been paid out of the taxable surplus of the affiliate is prescribed to be that proportion of the underlying foreign tax applicable, in respect of the corporation, to the whole dividend paid by the affiliate on the shares of that class at that time that

(i) the amount of the dividend received by the corporation or the affiliate, as the case may be, on that share at that time

is of

(ii) the whole dividend paid by the affiliate on the shares of that class at that time.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraphs (1)(a) and (b), where at any time a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada pays a dividend on a share of a class of its capital stock (other than a share in respect of which an election is made under subsection 93(1) of the Act) to the corporation, the corporation may, in its return of income under Part I of the Act for its taxation year in which the dividend was received by it, designate an amount not exceeding the portion of the dividend received that would, but for this subsection, be prescribed to have been paid out of the affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation and that amount

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5900(2) opening words

(2) Notwithstanding paragraphs (1)(a) and (b), where at any time a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada pays a dividend on a share of a class of its capital stock (other than a dividend referred to in subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act) to the corporation, the corporation may, in its return of income under Part I of the Act for its taxation year in which the dividend was received by it, designate an amount not exceeding the portion of the dividend received that would, but for this subsection, be prescribed to have been paid out of the affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation and that amount

Application: The March 16, 2001 draft regulations (foreign affiliates — partnerships), subsec. 1(1), will amend the opening words of subsec. 5900(2) to read as above, applicable to dividends received after November 1999.

Technical Notes: Subsection 5900(2) allows a corporation resident in Canada to elect to have a dividend paid by a foreign affiliate of the corporation to be treated as having been paid out of the taxable surplus rather than out of the exempt surplus of the affiliate. This election is not available where the corporation has elected under subsection 93(1) of the Act to treat proceeds of disposition of a share of a foreign affiliate as a dividend. The amendment ensures that the election in subsection 5900(2) will not apply where the corporation has elected under new subsection 93(1.2) of the Act to treat all or a portion of its gain from a partnership arising on the disposition of a share of a foreign affiliate by the partnership as a dividend.

(a) is prescribed to have been paid out of the affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation and not to have been paid out of that exempt surplus; and

(b) for the purposes of paragraph (1)(d) and the definitions "underlying foreign tax" and "underlying foreign tax applicable" in subsection 5907(1) is deemed to have been paid by the affiliate to the corporation as a separate whole dividend on the shares of that class of the capital stock immediately after that time, and that whole dividend is deemed to have been paid out of the affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation.

History: Paras. 5900(2)(a), (b) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, s. 2, November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the amendments apply to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

(3) For the purposes of subsection 91(5) of the Act, where at any time an individual resident in Canada receives a dividend on a share of any class of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of that individual, the affiliate shall be deemed to have an amount of taxable surplus in respect of the individual and the portion of the dividend paid out of the taxable surplus of the affiliate in respect of the individual is prescribed to be an amount equal to the dividend received.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5900(3)

(3) For the purpose of subsection 91(5) of the Act, where at any time a person (other than a corporation) resident in Canada receives a dividend on a share of any class of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of that person, the affiliate is deemed to have an amount of taxable surplus in respect of the person and the portion of the dividend paid out of the taxable surplus of the affiliate in respect of the person is prescribed to be an amount equal to the dividend received.

Application: The March 16, 2001 draft regulations (foreign affiliates — partnerships), subsec. 1(2), will amend subsec. 5900(3) to read as above, applicable to dividends received after November 1999.

Technical Notes: Subsection 5900(3) applies where an individual resident in Canada receives a dividend from a foreign affiliate. For the purpose of subsection 91(5) of the Act, subsection 5900(3) deems the individual to have received all dividends out of the taxable surplus of the affiliate. Subsection 91(5) of the Act permits deductions in respect of dividends paid out of the taxable surplus of an affiliate to the extent that that surplus is represented by foreign accrual property income of the affiliate that has been taxed in the hands of the dividend recipient.

The amendment to subsection 5900(3) replaces the word "individual" with the phrase "person (other than a corporation)". This amendment clarifies that, for the purpose of subsection 91(5), where a partnership is deemed to be a person under section 96 of the Act the partnership is deemed to have received all dividends out of taxable surplus.

5901. Order of surplus distributions — (1) Where at any time in its taxation year a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada has paid a whole dividend on the shares of any class of its capital stock, for the purposes of this Part

(a) the portion of the whole dividend deemed to have been paid out of the affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation at that time is an amount equal to the lesser of

(i) the amount of the whole dividend, and

(ii) the amount by which that exempt surplus exceeds the affiliate's taxable deficit in respect of the corporation at that time;

(b) the portion of the whole dividend deemed to have been paid out of the affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation at that time is an amount equal to the lesser of

(i) the amount, if any, by which the amount of the whole dividend exceeds the portion determined under paragraph (a), and

(ii) the amount by which that taxable surplus exceeds the affiliate's exempt deficit in respect of the corporation at that time; and

(c) the portion of the whole dividend deemed to have been paid out of the affiliate's pre-acquisition surplus in respect of the corporation at that time is the amount by which the whole dividend exceeds the aggregate of the portions determined under paragraphs (a) and (b).

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada pays a whole dividend (other than a whole dividend referred to in subsection 5902(1)) at any particular time in its taxation year that is more than 90 days after the commencement of that year or at any particular time in its 1972 taxation year that is before January 1, 1972, the portion of the whole dividend that would, but for this subsection, be deemed to have been paid out of the affiliate's pre-acquisition surplus in respect of the corporation is deemed to have been paid out of the exempt surplus and taxable surplus of the affiliate in respect of the corporation to the extent that it would have been deemed to have been so paid if, immediately after the end of that year, that portion were paid as a separate whole dividend before any whole dividend paid after the particular time and after any whole dividend paid before the particular time by the affiliate, and for the purposes of determining the exempt deficit, exempt surplus, taxable deficit, taxable surplus and underlying foreign tax of the affiliate in respect of the corporation at any time, that portion is deemed to have been paid as a separate whole dividend immediately following the end of the year and not to have been paid at the particular time.

History: Subsec. 5901(2) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, s. 3, November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the subsec. as amended applies to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

(3) Notwithstanding subsections (1) and (2), for the purposes of the definitions "exempt deficit", "exempt surplus", "taxable deficit" and "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), any amount designated pursuant to subsection 5900(2) in respect of a dividend paid by a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada increases the portion of the whole dividend deemed to have been paid out of the affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation and decrease the portion of the whole dividend deemed to have been paid out of the affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation.

History: Subsec. 5901(3) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, s. 3, November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the subsec. as amended applies to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

5902. Election in respect of capital gains — (1) Where at any time a dividend is, by virtue of an election made under subsection 93(1) of the Act in respect of a disposition, deemed to have been received on one or more shares of a class of the capital stock of a particular foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada, the following rules apply:

(a) determine the amounts that would be the particular affiliate's exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, underlying foreign tax and net surplus in respect of the corporation at that time if

(i) each other foreign affiliate of the corporation in which the affiliate had an equity percentage had immediately before that time paid a dividend equal to its net surplus in respect of the corporation immediately before the dividend was paid, and

(ii) any dividend referred to in subparagraph (i) that any other foreign affiliate would have received had been received by it immediately before any such dividend that it would have paid;

(b) determine the amount that would have been received on the shares (of that class) in respect of which an election is made, if the particular affiliate had at that time paid dividends the aggregate of which on all shares of its capital stock was equal to the amount of its net surplus referred to in paragraph (a); and

(c) for the purposes only of subsection 5900(1), in applying the provisions of subsection 5901(1)

(i) the particular affiliate's exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation shall be deemed to be the respective amounts thereof referred to in paragraph (a), and

(ii) the particular affiliate shall be deemed to have paid a whole dividend at that time on the shares of that class of its capital stock in an amount equal to the product obtained when the aggregate of amounts so deemed by subsection 93(1) of the Act to have been received as dividends on shares of that class is multiplied by the greater of

(A) one, and

(B) the proportion that the amount of the particular affiliate's net surplus determined under paragraph (a) is of the amount determined under paragraph (b), except that where the amount determined under paragraph (b) is less than one, the amount determined under paragraph (b) is deemed for the purpose of this clause to be one.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5902(1)

(1) If, at a particular time, one or more shares (each of which is referred to in this subsection as a "disposed share") of a class (referred to in this subsection as the "specified class") of the capital stock of a particular foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada are disposed of by a particular shareholder of the particular foreign affiliate and, because of an election made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2), as the case may be, of the Act in respect of that disposition, a dividend is deemed under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act to have been received on a disposed share at the time (referred to in this subsection and section 5905 as the "dividend time") that is immediately before the particular time, the following rules apply:

(a) the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, (in this subsection referred to as the "consolidated exempt surplus" in respect of the corporation resident in Canada) at the time (in this section and in section 5905 referred to as the "calculation time") that is immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be the amount that would be its exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the calculation time if

(i) the particular foreign affiliate and each other foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which the particular foreign affiliate had, at the calculation time, an equity percentage (each of which other foreign affiliates is referred to in this section as a "subsidiary affiliate") had (except for the purpose of determining consolidated net surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada in subparagraph (iii)), at the calculation time, no amount of exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

(ii) the amount of the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular foreign affiliate were, immediately before the calculation time, increased by the total of all amounts each of which is an amount equal to the particular foreign affiliate's proportionate share of the amount that would be the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a subsidiary affiliate in which it has, immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage if that exempt surplus were, immediately before the calculation time, determined in the following manner:

(A) the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the subsidiary affiliate, were increased by the subsidiary affiliate's proportionate share of the exempt surplus of a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which the subsidiary affiliate has, immediately before the time that is immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage, and

(B) the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a subsidiary affiliate in which another subsidiary affiliate has a direct equity percentage, were increased because of this subparagraph before the increase in that other subsidiary affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

(iii) for the purpose of subparagraph (ii), the proportionate share, at any time, of a foreign affiliate (referred to in this subparagraph as the "calculating foreign affiliate") of the corporation resident in Canada, of the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of another foreign affiliate (referred to in this subparagraph as the "providing foreign affiliate") of the corporation resident in Canada in which the calculating foreign affiliate has a direct equity percentage were equal to the proportion determined by the following formula:

A is the amount of dividends that would be received, at that time, by the calculating foreign affiliate from the providing foreign affiliate if, at that time, the providing foreign affiliate had paid dividends on all of its shares and the total of those dividends were equal to its consolidated net surplus (determined using the provisions of this subsection on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, or, where it does not have such a consolidated net surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, its consolidated exempt surplus (determined in accordance with this paragraph on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and

B is the amount of the providing foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus (determined using the provisions of this subsection on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, or, where it does not have such consolidated net surplus, its consolidated exempt surplus (determined in accordance with this paragraph on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and

(iv) in determining, under this paragraph, the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

(A) no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular shareholder, of the particular foreign affiliate, that disposed of the disposed share, and

(B) no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular foreign affiliate or any subsidiary affiliate more than once;

(b) the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, (in this subsection referred to as the "consolidated exempt deficit" in respect of the corporation resident in Canada) at the calculation time, is deemed to be the amount that would be its exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time if

(i) the particular foreign affiliate and each subsidiary affiliate had (except for the purpose of determining consolidated net surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in subparagraph (iii)), at the calculation time, no amount of exempt surplus, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

(ii) the amount of the exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular foreign affiliate, were, immediately before the calculation time, increased by the total of all amounts each of which is an amount equal to the particular foreign affiliate's proportionate share of the exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a subsidiary affiliate in which the particular foreign affiliate has, immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage if that exempt deficit were, immediately before the calculation time, determined in the following manner:

(A) the exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the subsidiary affiliate, were increased by the subsidiary affiliate's proportionate share of the exempt deficit of a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which the subsidiary affiliate has, immediately before the time that is immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage, and

(B) the exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a subsidiary affiliate in which another subsidiary affiliate has a direct equity percentage, were increased because of this subparagraph before the increase in that other subsidiary affiliate's exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

(iii) for the purpose of subparagraph (ii), the proportionate share, at any time, of a foreign affiliate (referred to in this subparagraph as the "calculating foreign affiliate") of the corporation resident in Canada, of the exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of another foreign affiliate (referred to in this subparagraph as the "providing foreign affiliate") of the corporation resident in Canada in which the calculating foreign affiliate has a direct equity percentage were equal to the proportion determined by the following formula:

A/B

A is the amount of dividends that would be received by the calculating foreign affiliate from the providing foreign affiliate if, at that time, the providing foreign affiliate had paid dividends on all of its shares and the total of those dividends were equal to its consolidated net surplus (determined using the provisions of this subsection on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, or, where it does not have such consolidated net surplus, its exempt deficit (determined in accordance with this paragraph on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and

B is the amount of the providing foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus (determined using the provisions of this subsection on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, or, where it does not have such consolidated net surplus, its consolidated exempt deficit (determined in accordance with this paragraph on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and

(iv) in determining, under this paragraph, the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

(A) no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of the exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular shareholder, of the particular foreign affiliate, that disposed of the disposed share, and

(B) no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of the exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular foreign affiliate or any subsidiary affiliate more than once;

(c) the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's taxable surplus and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, (referred to, respectively, in this subsection as the "consolidated taxable surplus", and "consolidated underlying foreign tax", in respect of the corporation resident in Canada) at the calculation time, is deemed to be the amount that would be its taxable surplus, and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, if

(i) the particular foreign affiliate and each subsidiary affiliate had (except for the purpose of determining consolidated net surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in subparagraph (iii)), at the calculation time, no amount of exempt surplus, exempt deficit or taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

(ii) the amount of the taxable surplus, and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular foreign affiliate, were, immediately before the calculation time, increased by an amount equal to the total of all amounts each of which is the particular foreign affiliate's proportionate share of the taxable surplus, or underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a subsidiary affiliate in which the particular foreign affiliate has, immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage if that taxable surplus and underlying foreign tax were, immediately before the calculation time, determined in the following manner:

(A) the taxable surplus, and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the subsidiary affiliate, were increased by the subsidiary affiliate's proportionate share of the taxable surplus, or underlying foreign tax, respectively, of a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which the subsidiary affiliate had, immediately before the time that is immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage, and

(B) the taxable surplus, and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a subsidiary affiliate in which another subsidiary affiliate has a direct equity percentage, were increased because of this subparagraph before the increase in that other subsidiary affiliate's taxable surplus, and underlying foreign tax, respectively, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

(iii) for the purpose of subparagraph (ii), the proportionate share, at any time, of a foreign affiliate (referred to in this subparagraph as the "calculating foreign affiliate") of the corporation resident in Canada, of the taxable surplus, or underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of another foreign affiliate (referred to in this subparagraph as the "providing foreign affiliate") of the corporation resident in Canada in which the particular foreign affiliate has a direct equity percentage were equal to the proportion determined by the following formula:

A/B

A is the amount of dividends that would be received, at that time, by the calculating foreign affiliate from the providing foreign affiliate if, at that time, the providing foreign affiliate had paid dividends on all of its shares and the total of those dividends were equal to its consolidated net surplus (determined using the provisions of this subsection on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, or, where it does not have such consolidated net surplus, its consolidated taxable surplus (determined in accordance with this paragraph on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and

B is the amount of the providing foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus (determined using the provisions of this subsection on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, or, where it does not have such consolidated net surplus, its consolidated taxable surplus (determined in accordance with this paragraph on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and

(iv) in determining, under this paragraph, the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus, and consolidated underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

(A) no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of the taxable surplus, and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular shareholder, of the particular foreign affiliate, that disposed of the disposed share, and

(B) no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of the taxable surplus, and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular foreign affiliate or any subsidiary affiliate more than once;

(d) the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, (in this subsection referred to as the "consolidated taxable deficit" in respect of the corporation resident in Canada) at the calculation time is deemed to be the amount that would be its taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time if

(i) the particular foreign affiliate and each subsidiary affiliate had (except for the purpose of determining consolidated net surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in subparagraph (iii)), at the calculation time, no amount of exempt surplus, exempt deficit or taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

(ii) the amount of the taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular foreign affiliate, were, immediately before the calculation time, increased by the total of all amounts each of which is an amount equal to the particular foreign affiliate's proportionate share of the taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a subsidiary affiliate in which the particular foreign affiliate has, immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage if that taxable deficit were, immediately before the calculation time, determined in the following manner:

(A) the taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the subsidiary affiliate, were increased by the subsidiary affiliate's proportionate share of the taxable deficit of a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which the subsidiary affiliate had, immediately before the time that is immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage, and

(B) the taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a subsidiary affiliate in which another subsidiary affiliate has a direct equity percentage, were increased because of this subparagraph before the increase in that other subsidiary affiliate's taxable deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

(iii) for the purpose of subparagraph (ii), the proportionate share, at any time, of a foreign affiliate (referred to in this subparagraph as the "calculating foreign affiliate") of the corporation resident in Canada, of the taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of another foreign affiliate (referred to in this subparagraph as the "providing foreign affiliate") of the corporation resident in Canada in which the calculating foreign affiliate has a direct equity percentage were equal to the proportion determined by the following formula:

A/B

A is the amount of dividends that would be received, at that time, by the calculating foreign affiliate from the providing foreign affiliate if, at that time, the providing foreign affiliate had paid dividends on all of its shares and the total of those dividends were equal to its consolidated net surplus (determined using the provisions of this subsection on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, or, where it does not have such consolidated net surplus, its consolidated taxable deficit (determined in accordance with this paragraph on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and

B is the amount of the providing foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus (determined using the provisions of this subsection on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, or, where it does not have such consolidated net surplus, its consolidated taxable deficit (determined in accordance with this paragraph on the assumption that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and

(iv) in determining, under this paragraph, the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

(A) no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular shareholder, of the particular foreign affiliate, that disposed of the disposed share, and

(B) no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of the taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular foreign affiliate or any subsidiary affiliate more than once;

(e) for the purpose of applying subsection 5901(1) to subsection 5900(1), and for the purpose of paragraph (f),

(i) the particular foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be equal to the amount, if any, by which the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, exceeds the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time (or, if there is no such excess, nil),

(ii) the particular foreign affiliate's exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be equal to the amount, if any, by which the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, exceeds the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time (or, if there is no such excess, nil),

(iii) the particular foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be equal to the amount, if any, by which the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, exceeds the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time (or, if there is no such excess, nil),

(iv) the particular foreign affiliate's taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be equal to the amount, if any, by which the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, exceeds the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time (or, if there is no such excess, nil),

(v) the particular foreign affiliate's underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be equal to the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and

(vi) the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be equal to the amount, if any, by which

(A) the total of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time,

exceeds

(B) the total of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time;

(f) the attributed net surplus in respect of a disposed share of the specified class in respect of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be equal to the amount that would be received by the holder of the disposed share, in respect of the disposed share, at the dividend time, if the particular foreign affiliate paid a dividend, at that time, on all of its shares, the total of which was equal to the amount of its consolidated net surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time;

(g) for the purpose of applying subsection 5901(1) to subsection 5900(1), the amount of the whole dividend paid by the particular foreign affiliate, at the dividend time, on the shares of the specified class is deemed to be equal to the amount obtained when the total of all amounts each of which is an amount deemed by subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act to have been received as a dividend on a disposed share of the specified class is multiplied by the greater of

(i) one, and

(ii) the amount determined by the formula

A/B

where

A is the amount determined, under subparagraph (e)(vi), to be the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus in respect of the corporation, immediately before the dividend time, and

B is the greater of

(A) one, and

(B) the total of all amounts each of which is the amount determined, under paragraph (f), to be the amount of the attributed net surplus, in respect of a disposed share of the specified class, in respect of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time;

(h) the amount prescribed, for the purpose of subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act, as the case may be, in respect of a disposition of a disposed share of the specified class is not to exceed the amount determined, under paragraph (f), to be the amount of the attributed net surplus in respect of the disposed share in respect of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time; and

(i) for the purposes of paragraphs (a) to (d), the consolidated net surplus, at any time, in respect of a corporation resident in Canada, of a particular foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, is the amount that would be determined in subparagraph (e) in respect of the particular foreign affiliate if the reference in that paragraph to the expression "immediately before the dividend time" were read as a reference to the expression "at any time".

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 1(1), will amend subsec. 5902(1) to read as above, applicable in respect of elections made under ITA 93(1) or (1.2) in respect of dispositions that occur after December 20, 2002 other than elections made pursuant to dispositions required to be made under an agreement in writing made by a vendor before December 21, 2002, except that

(a) if an election has been made by a taxpayer under ITA 93(1) or (1.2) in respect of a disposition that occurs after December 20, 2002 and before February 28, 2004 (other than a disposition required to be made under an agreement in writing made by a vendor before December 21, 2002) and the taxpayer has made a valid election under subsec. 133(40) of the amending legislation (see the Application to the Proposed Amendment to ITA 95(2)(d)–(e.1)),

(i) this amendment does not apply in respect of the taxpayer in respect of the disposition, and

(ii) the Regulations are, in respect of the taxpayer in respect of that election, to be read as though s. 5902 contained a subsec. (6.1) that read as follows:

"(6.1) If an election under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act is made at any time by a particular corporation resident in Canada in respect of a share of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate (in this subsection referred to as the "particular affiliate") of the particular corporation that is disposed of to the particular corporation, to another corporation resident in Canada with which the particular corporation does not deal at arm's length or to another foreign affiliate of the particular corporation, the amount of the particular affiliate's exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, underlying foreign tax and net surplus in respect of the particular corporation at that time is to be determined under paragraph (1)(a) as if the amount of any dividend referred to in subparagraph (1)(a)(i) or (ii) were nil.";

(b) this amendment does not apply in respect of a taxpayer in respect of an election made by the taxpayer under ITA 93(1) or (1.2) in respect of a disposition (other than a disposition required to be made under an agreement in writing made by a vendor before December 21, 2002) that occurs after December 20, 2002 and before February 28, 2004, if

(i) the taxpayer has not made a valid election under subsection 133(40) of the amending legislation (see the Application to the Proposed Amendment to ITA 95(2)(d)–(e.1)), and

(ii) none of ITA 88(3)(a), 95(2)(c.2) and 95(2)(d) to (e.5), as amended applies to the disposition; and

(c) this amendment does not apply in respect of a taxpayer in respect of an election made by the taxpayer under ITA 93(1) or (1.2) in respect of a disposition that occurs after February 27, 2004, if

(i) the disposition is made under an agreement in writing made by a vendor before February 28, 2004, and

(ii) none of ITA 88(3)(a), 95(2)(c.2) and 95(2)(d) to (e.5), as amended, applies to the disposition.

Technical Notes: Section 5902 applies where a corporation elects to treat proceeds of disposition of a share of a foreign affiliate as a dividend under subsection 93(1) of the Act. Subsection 5902(1) computes a foreign affiliate's surplus accounts and the amount of a whole dividend used in applying subsection 5901(1) for the purposes of subsection 5900(1).

Subsection 5902(1) is replaced with a new subsection that changes how the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, underlying foreign tax and net surplus is determined for the foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada whose shares are disposed of and in respect of which disposition an election under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act is made by the corporation resident in Canada.

Under proposed subsection 5902(1), the surplus balances of the foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada (the "disposed foreign affiliate") are to be computed using a new consolidation approach, which will take into account the surpluses and deficits of foreign affiliates, for the disposed foreign affiliate and any other foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which the disposed foreign affiliate has an equity percentage.

As well, under proposed subsection 5902(1), the amount of an election in respect of a disposed share will be capped at the amount of the attributed net surplus in respect of the share determined under the rules in that new subsection.

New subsection 5902(1) provides that, in respect of a corporation resident in Canada, the following rules apply if, at a particular time, one or more shares (a "disposed share") of a class (the "specified class") of a particular foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada is disposed of by a particular shareholder of the particular foreign affiliate and, because of an election made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act in respect of that disposition, a dividend is deemed under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act to have been received on a disposed share at the time (the "dividend time") that is immediately before the particular time.

- New paragraph (a) deems the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's exempt surplus (the "consolidated exempt surplus"), at the time (in this subsection and also in section 5905, the "calculation time") that is immediately before the dividend time, to be the amount that would be its exempt surplus, at the calculation time, if:
  - the particular foreign affiliate and each other foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which the particular foreign affiliate had, at the calculation time, an equity percentage (a "subsidiary affiliate"), had (except in determining under subparagraph 5902(1)(a)(iii) the consolidated net surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada), at the calculation time, no amount of exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit,
  - the amount of the exempt surplus of the particular foreign affiliate were, immediately before the calculation time, increased by the particular foreign affiliate's proportionate share (determined below) of the exempt surplus of each subsidiary affiliate in which it has, immediately before the time that is immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage if that exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada were computed in the following manner:
    - the exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the subsidiary affiliate were increased by the subsidiary affiliate's proportionate share of the exempt surplus of a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which the subsidiary affiliate has, immediately before the time that is immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage; and
    - the exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of a subsidiary affiliate in which another subsidiary affiliate has a direct equity percentage, were increased before the increase in that other subsidiary affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada;
  - the proportionate share, at any time, of a foreign affiliate (the "calculating foreign affiliate") of the corporation resident in Canada, of the exempt surplus of another foreign affiliate (the "providing foreign affiliate") of the corporation resident in Canada in which the calculating foreign affiliate has a direct equity percentage were equal to the proportion determined by the formula:

    where

    A is the amount of dividends that would be received, at that time, by the calculating foreign affiliate from the providing foreign affiliate if, at that time, the providing foreign affiliate had paid dividends on all of its shares and the total of those dividends were equal to its consolidated net surplus (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), or, where it does not have such a consolidated net surplus, its consolidated exempt surplus (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), at that time; and

    B is the amount of the providing foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), or, where it does not have such a consolidated net surplus, its consolidated exempt surplus (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), at that time; and
  - in determining the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,
    - no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular shareholder of the particular foreign affiliate that disposed of the disposed share, and
    - no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular foreign affiliate or any subsidiary affiliate more than once.
- New paragraph (b) deems the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's exempt deficit (the "consolidated exempt deficit") in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the calculation time, to be the amount that would be its exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, if:
  - the particular foreign affiliate and each subsidiary affiliate had (except for the purpose of determining consolidated net surplus), at the calculation time, no amount of exempt surplus, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,
  - the amount of the exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular foreign affiliate, were, immediately before the calculation time, increased by the particular foreign affiliate's proportionate share (determined below) of the exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of each subsidiary affiliate in which it has, immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage, if that exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada were, immediately before the calculation time, determined in the following manner:
    - the exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the subsidiary affiliate, were increased by the subsidiary affiliate's proportionate share (determined below) of the exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which the subsidiary affiliate has, immediately before the time that is immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage; and
    - the exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a subsidiary affiliate in which another subsidiary affiliate has a direct equity percentage, were increased before the increase in that other subsidiary affiliate's deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada;
  - the proportionate share (referred to above), at any time, of a calculating foreign affiliate of the exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of a providing foreign affiliate is equal to the proportion determined by the following formula:

    where

    A is the amount of dividends that would be received by the calculating foreign affiliate from the providing foreign affiliate if, at that time, the providing foreign affiliate had paid dividends on all of its shares and the total amount of those dividends were equal to its consolidated net surplus (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate) in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, or, where it does not have such a consolidated net surplus, its exempt deficit (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate

were the particular foreign affiliate) in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time; and

B is the amount of the providing foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate) in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, or, where it does not have such a consolidated net surplus, its consolidated exempt deficit (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time; and — in determining the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

- no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of the exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular shareholder of the particular foreign affiliate that disposed of the disposed share, and
- no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of the exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular foreign affiliate or any subsidiary affiliate more than once.

- New paragraph (c) deems the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's taxable surplus and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada (the "consolidated taxable surplus", and "consolidated underlying foreign tax", respectively), at the calculation time, to be the amount that would be its taxable surplus, and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, if:

— the particular foreign affiliate and each subsidiary affiliate had, at the calculation time, no amount of exempt surplus, exempt deficit or taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

— the amount of the taxable surplus and underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular foreign affiliate, were, immediately before the calculation time, increased by the particular foreign affiliate's proportionate share (described below) of the taxable surplus or underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of each subsidiary affiliate in which the particular foreign affiliate has, immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage if that taxable surplus, and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada were, immediately before the calculation time, determined in the following manner:

- the taxable surplus and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the subsidiary affiliate were increased by the subsidiary affiliate's proportionate share of the taxable surplus or underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which the subsidiary affiliate had, immediately before the time that is immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage; and
- the taxable surplus, and underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a subsidiary affiliate in which another subsidiary affiliate has a direct equity percentage, were increased before the increase in that other subsidiary affiliate's taxable surplus and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada;

— the proportionate share, at any time, of a calculating foreign affiliate of the taxable surplus or underlying foreign tax of a providing foreign affiliate were equal to the proportion determined by the following formula:

A is the amount of dividends that would be received, at that time, by the calculating foreign affiliate from the providing foreign affiliate if, at that time, the providing foreign affiliate had paid dividends on all of its shares and the total of those dividends were equal to its consolidated net surplus (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, or, where it does not have such a consolidated net surplus, its consolidated taxable surplus (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and

B is the amount of the providing foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, or, where it does not have such a consolidated net surplus, its consolidated taxable surplus (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and — in determining the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus, and consolidated underlying foreign tax,

- no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of the taxable surplus and underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular shareholder of the particular foreign affiliate that disposed of the disposed share, and
- no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of the taxable surplus and underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular foreign affiliate or any subsidiary affiliate more than once.

- New paragraph (d) deems the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's taxable deficit (the "consolidated taxable deficit"), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the calculation time, to be the amount that would be its taxable deficit, at that time if — the particular foreign affiliate and each subsidiary affiliate had (except in determining consolidated net surplus), at the calculation time, no amount of exempt surplus, exempt deficit or taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

— the amount of the taxable deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular foreign affiliate were, immediately before the time that is immediately before the calculation time, increased by an amount equal to the particular foreign affiliate's proportionate share (described below) of the taxable deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of each subsidiary affiliate in which it has, immediately before the calculation time, a direct equity percentage, if that taxable deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada were, at the particular time, determined in the following manner

- the taxable deficit of the subsidiary affiliate were increased by the subsidiary affiliate's proportionate share of the taxable deficit of a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which the subsidiary affiliate had, immediately before the particular time, a direct equity percentage, and
- the taxable deficit of a subsidiary affiliate in which another subsidiary affiliate has a direct equity percentage were increased before the increase in that other subsidiary affiliate's taxable deficit,

— the proportionate share, at any time, of a calculating foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, of the taxable deficit of a providing foreign affiliate were equal to the proportion determined by the following formula:

A is the amount of dividends that would be received, at that time, by the calculating foreign affiliate from the providing foreign affiliate if, at that time, the providing foreign affiliate had paid dividends on all of its shares and the total amount of those dividends were equal to its consolidated net surplus (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate) in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, or, where it does not have such a consolidated net surplus, its consolidated taxable deficit (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate), at that time, and

B is the amount of the providing foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate) in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, or, where it does not have such a consolidated net surplus, its consolidated taxable deficit (determined assuming that the providing foreign affiliate were the particular foreign affiliate) in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and — in determining the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

- no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular shareholder of the particular foreign affiliate that disposed of the disposed share, and
- no amount were included, directly or indirectly, in respect of the taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular foreign affiliate or any subsidiary affiliate more than once.

- New paragraph (e) provides, in applying subsection 5901(1) to subsection 5900(1), and for the purpose of paragraph (f), that,

— the particular foreign affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be the amount, if any, by which the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus exceeds the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time (or, if there is no such excess, nil),

— the particular foreign affiliate's exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be the amount, if any, by which the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt deficit exceeds the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time (or, if there is no such excess, nil),

— the particular foreign affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be the amount, if any, by which the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus exceeds the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time (or, if there is no such excess, nil),

— the particular foreign affiliate's taxable deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be the amount, if any, by which the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit exceeds the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time (or, if there is no such excess, nil),

— the particular foreign affiliate's underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and — the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be the amount, if any, by which

- the total of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time,

exceeds

- the total of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time, and the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at that time.

- New paragraph (f) provides that the amount of the attributed net surplus in respect of a disposed share of the specified class in respect of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, is deemed to be the amount that would be received by the holder of the disposed share, in respect of the disposed share, at the dividend time, if the particular foreign affiliate paid a dividend, at that time, on all of its shares, the total of which was equal to the amount of its consolidated net surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time.

- New paragraph (g) provides, for the purposes of applying subsection 5901(1) to subsection 5900(1), that the amount of the whole dividend paid by the particular foreign affiliate, at the dividend time, on the shares of the specified class is deemed to be the amount obtained when the total of all amounts deemed by subsection 93(1) or 93(1.2) of the Act to have been received as a dividend on a disposed share of the specified class is multiplied by the greater of

— one, and

— the amount determined by the formula

A/B

where

A is the amount determined, under subparagraph (e)(vi), to be the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time, and

B is the greater of

- one, and

- the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the amount determined, under paragraph (f), to be the amount of the attributed net surplus, in respect of a disposed share of the specified class, in respect of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time.

- New paragraph (h) provides that the amount prescribed, for the purposes of subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act, in respect of a disposition of a disposed share of the specified class may not exceed the amount of the attributed net surplus in respect of the disposed share in respect of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated net surplus (determined under paragraph (f)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the dividend time.

- New paragraph (i) provides, for the purposes of paragraphs (a) to (d), that the consolidated net surplus in respect of a corporation resident in Canada, at any time, of a particular foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, is the amount that would be determined in paragraph (e) in respect of the particular foreign affiliate if the reference in that paragraph to "immediately before the dividend time" were read as a reference to "at any time".

Related Provisions: Reg. 5902(2) — Interpretation; Reg. 5902(7) — Elected amount restricted to net surplus of affiliate where shares are disposed of.

Forms: T2107: Election for a share disposition in a foreign affiliate.

(2) For the purposes of paragraphs (1)(a) and (b),

(a) in determining the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, the taxable surplus or taxable deficit, the underlying foreign tax and the net surplus of a particular foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada in which any other foreign affiliate of the taxpayer has an equity percentage, no amount shall be included in respect of any distribution that would be received by the particular affiliate from such other affiliate; and

(b) if any foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada has issued shares of more than one class of its capital stock, the amount that would be paid as a dividend on the shares of any class is such portion of its exempt surplus or exempt deficit and its taxable surplus (including underlying foreign tax applicable) or taxable deficit (and thus net surplus) as, in the circumstances, it might reasonably be expected to have paid on all the shares of that class.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 1(2), will repeal subsec. 5902(2), applicable on the same basis as 5902(1) above.

(3) Where an election under subsection 93(1) of the Act is made by a corporation resident in Canada in respect of the disposition of a share of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of the corporation, no adjustment shall be made to the affiliate's exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit or underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation as a consequence of the election except as provided in subsections 5905(2), (5) and (8).

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5902(3)

(3) If a corporation resident in Canada elects, under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act, in respect of the disposition of a share of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of the corporation, no adjustment, other than an adjustment referred to in subsection 5905(2), (4), (5) or (8), may be made to the foreign affiliate's

(a) exempt surplus in respect of the corporation;

(b) exempt deficit in respect of the corporation;

(c) taxable surplus in respect of the corporation;

(d) taxable deficit in respect of the corporation; or

(e) underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 1(3), will amend subsec. 5902(3) to read as above, applicable on the same basis as 5902(1) above.

Technical Notes: Subsection 5902(3) provides that, where an election is made under subsection 93(1) of the Act, no adjustment is to made to the foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit or underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation as a consequence of the election except as provided in subsections 5905(2), (5) and (8). The amendment to subsection 5902(3) extends the application of the provision to elections made under new subsection 93(1.2) of the Act, and also includes subsection 5905(4) in the list of provisions that may affect these amounts.

(4) [Revoked]

(5) Any election under subsection 93(1) of the Act by a corporation resident in Canada in respect of any share of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of the corporation disposed of by it or by another foreign affiliate of the corporation shall be made by filing the prescribed form with the Minister on or before the day that is the later of

(a) December 31, 1989; and

(b) where the election is made

(i) in respect of a share disposed of by the corporation, the day on or before which the corporation's return of income for its taxation year in which the disposition was made is required to be filed pursuant to subsection 150(1) of the Act, or

(ii) in respect of a share disposed of by another foreign affiliate of the corporation, the day on or before which the corporation's return of income for its taxation year, in which the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in which the disposition was made ends, is required to be filed pursuant to subsection 150(1) of the Act, as the case may be.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5902(5)

(5) Any election under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act by a corporation resident in Canada in respect of any share of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of the corporation disposed of by it, by a foreign affiliate of the corporation or by a partnership shall be made by filing the prescribed form with the Minister on or before the day that is,

(a) where the election is made in respect of a share disposed of by the corporation, the corporation's filing-due date for its taxation year in which the disposition was made;

(b) where the election is made in respect of a share disposed of by a foreign affiliate of the corporation, the corporation's filing-due date for its taxation year in which the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in which the disposition was made ends; and

(c) where the election is made in respect of a share disposed of by a partnership, and

(i) the disposing corporation referred to in subsection 93(1.2) of the Act is the corporation, the corporation's filing-due date for its taxation year in which the fiscal period of the partnership in which the disposition was made ends, or

(ii) the disposing corporation referred to in subsection 93(1.2) of the Act is a foreign affiliate of the corporation, the corporation's filing-due date for its taxation year in which the taxation year of the foreign affiliate which includes the last day of the fiscal period of the partnership in which the disposition was made ends.

Application: The March 16, 2001 draft regulations (foreign affiliates — partnerships), subsec. 2(4), will amend subsec. 5902(5) to read as above, applicable to dispositions that occur after November 1999.

Technical Notes: Subsection 5902(5) provides that any election under subsection 93(1) of the Act must be made by filing the prescribed form by the corporation's filing-due date for the relevant year. Where the disposition is made by the corporation, the relevant year is the taxation year of the corporation in which the disposition was made. Where the disposition is made by a foreign affiliate of the corporation, the relevant year is the taxation year of the corporation in which the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in which the disposition was made ends.

The amendments to subsection 5902(5) extend its application to include elections made under new subsection 93(1.2) of the Act. Where the disposition is made by a partnership, the relevant year depends on whether the "disposing corporation" in subsection 93(1.2) of the Act is the corporation or a foreign affiliate of the corporation. Where the disposing corporation is the corporation, the relevant year is the taxation year of the corporation in which the fiscal period of the partnership in which the disposition was made ends. Where the disposing corporation is a foreign affiliate of the corporation, the relevant year is the taxation year of the corporation in which the taxation year of the affiliate which includes the last day of the fiscal period of the partnership in which the disposition was made ends.

Forms: T2107: Election for a share disposition in a foreign affiliate.

(6) Where at any time a corporation resident in Canada is deemed by virtue of subsection 93(1.1) of the Act to have made an election under subsection 93(1) of the Act in respect of a share of the capital stock of a particular foreign affiliate of the corporation disposed of by another foreign affiliate of the corporation, the amount deemed to have been designated in the election is hereby prescribed to be the lesser of

(a) the capital gain, if any, otherwise determined in respect of the disposition of the share; and

(b) the amount that could reasonably be expected to have been received in respect of the share if the particular affiliate had at that time paid dividends the aggregate of which on all shares of its capital stock was equal to the amount determined under paragraph 5902 (1)(a) to be its net surplus in respect of the corporation for the purposes of the election.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5902(6)

(6) The amount designated in an election deemed by subsection 93(1.1) of the Act to have been made under subsection 93(1) of the Act is prescribed to be the amount that is the lesser of

(a) the capital gain, if any, otherwise determined in respect of the disposition of the share, and

(b) the amount of attributed net surplus (as determined under paragraph (1)(f)) in respect of the share.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 1(4), will amend subsec. 5902(6) to read as above, applicable on the same basis as 5902(1) above.

Technical Notes: Subsection 5902(6) applies where subsection 93(1.1) of the Act deems a corporation to have made an election under subsection 93(1) to treat proceeds of disposition of a share of a foreign affiliate as a dividend. Subsection 5902(6) deems the amount designated in the deemed election to be the lesser of the capital gain otherwise determined in respect of the disposition of the share and the amount that could reasonably be expected to have been received on the share if the affiliate had paid its net surplus in respect of the corporation as a dividend.

As announced in 2001, subsection 5902(6) is amended to ensure that the subsection will apply where subsection 93(1.3) of the Act deems a corporation resident in Canada to have made an election under proposed subsection 93(1.2) of the Act in respect of a taxable capital gain from a deemed disposition of a share of a foreign affiliate of the corporation disposed of by a partnership of which another foreign affiliate of the corporation is a member.

Subsection 5902(6) is further amended to refer, in paragraph (b), to the amount of the "attributed net surplus" (defined in new paragraph 5902(1)(f)) in respect of the share being disposed of.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5902(7)

(7) The amount designated in an election deemed by subsection 93(1.3) of the Act to have been made under subsection 93(1.2) of the Act is prescribed to be the amount that is the lesser of

(a) the taxable capital gain, if any, otherwise determined in respect of the disposition of the share, and

(b) the amount that is one-half of the amount referred to in paragraph (6)(b).

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 1(4), will add subsec. 5902(7), applicable on the same basis as 5902(1) above.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5902(7) provides that the amount designated in an election deemed by subsection 93(1.3) of the Act to have been made under subsection 93(1.2) of the Act is prescribed to be the lesser of

- the taxable capital gain, if any, otherwise determined in respect of the disposition of the share; and
- the amount that is ½ of the amount referred to in paragraph 5902(6)(b).

Example — Subsection 5902(1)

A. Facts

1. Canco is a corporation resident in Canada.

2. Canco owns 100% of FA1 and 50% of FA6, and both FA1 and FA6 are foreign affiliates of Canco.

3. FA1 owns 80 shares (80%) of FA2 and FA6 owns 20 shares (20%) of FA2.

4. FA2 owns 70% of FA3, FA3 owns 100% of FA4 and FA4 owns 100% of FA5.

5. FA1 transfers 30 of its shares in FA2 to FA6, and subsection 93(1) of the Act applies to the transfer, regarding which Canco designates $123 as the dividend received by FA1 in respect of the disposed shares.

6. At the time of the transfer, FA2 has an exempt surplus of $200, a taxable surplus of $0, an exempt deficit of $0 and an underlying foreign tax ("UFT") of $0.

7. At the time of the transfer, FA3 has an exempt surplus of $100, a taxable surplus of $75, an exempt deficit of $0 and an UFT of $10.

8. At the time of the transfer, FA4 has an exempt surplus of $0, a taxable surplus of $0, an exempt deficit of $200 and an UFT of $0.

9. At the time of the transfer, FA5 has an exempt surplus of $0, a taxable surplus of $325, an exempt deficit of $0 and an UFT of $200.

10. All the corporations have only issued 100 shares of one class.

B. Application of Subsection 5902(1)

1. Consolidated Exempt Surplus (Paragraph 5902(1)(a))

The consolidated exempt surplus of FA2 is $270.

Step 1. Exempt surplus of FA5 is determined as the exempt surplus of FA5 ($0), otherwise determined.

Step 2. Exempt surplus of FA4 is determined as the exempt surplus of FA4 ($0), otherwise determined, plus proportionate share of exempt surplus of FA5

$$$0 + A/B \times C = $0$$

where

A is the amount that would be received by FA4 if FA5 paid its entire consolidated net surplus as a dividend ($325)

B is the amount of consolidated net surplus of FA5 ($325)

C is the exempt surplus of FA5 ($0).

Step 3. Exempt surplus of FA3 is determined as the exempt surplus of FA3 ($100), otherwise determined, plus proportionate share of exempt surplus of FA4

$$$100 + A/B \times C = $100$$

where

A is the amount that would be received by FA3 if FA4 paid its entire consolidated net surplus as a dividend ($125)

B is the amount of consolidated net surplus of FA4 ($125)

C is the exempt surplus of FA4 ($0).

Step 4. Exempt surplus of FA2 is determined as the exempt surplus of FA2 ($200), otherwise determined, plus proportionate share of exempt surplus of FA3

$$$200 + A/B \times C = $270$$

where

A is the amount that would be received by FA2 if FA3 paid its entire consolidated net surplus as a dividend ($210)

B is the amount of consolidated net surplus of FA3 ($300)

C is the exempt surplus of FA3 ($100).

2. Consolidated Exempt Deficit (Paragraph 5902(1)(b))

The consolidated exempt deficit of FA2 is $140.

Step 1 Exempt deficit of FA5 is determined as the exempt deficit of FA5 ($0), otherwise determined.

Step 2. Exempt deficit of FA4 is determined as the exempt surplus of FA4 ($200), otherwise determined, plus proportionate share of exempt surplus of FA5

$$$200 + A/B \times C = $200$$

where

A is the amount that would be received by FA4 if FA5 paid its entire consolidated net surplus as a dividend ($325)

B is the amount of consolidated net surplus of FA5 ($325)

C is the exempt deficit of FA5 ($0).

Step 3. Exempt deficit of FA3 is determined as the exempt surplus of FA3 ($0), otherwise determined, plus proportionate share of exempt surplus of FA4

$$$0 + A/B \times C = $200$$

where

A is the amount that would be received by FA3 if FA4 paid its entire consolidated net surplus as a dividend ($125)

B is the amount of consolidated net surplus of FA4 ($125)

C is the exempt deficit of FA4 ($200).

Step 4. Exempt deficit of FA2 is determined as the exempt surplus of FA2 ($0), otherwise determined, plus proportionate share of exempt surplus of FA3

$$$0 + A/B \times C = $140$$

where

A is the amount that would be received by FA2 if FA3 paid its entire consolidated net surplus as a dividend ($210)

B is the amount of consolidated net surplus of FA3 ($300)

C is the exempt deficit of FA3 ($200).

3. Consolidated Taxable Surplus and Underlying Foreign Tax (Paragraph 5902(1)(c))

The consolidated taxable surplus of FA2 is $280 and the UFT of FA2 is $147.

Step 1. The taxable surplus and UFT of FA5 is determined as the taxable surplus ($320) and UFT ($200), otherwise determined.

Step 2. The taxable surplus and UFT of FA4 is determined as the taxable surplus ($0) and UFT ($0), of FA4, otherwise determined, plus the proportionate share of the taxable surplus and UFT of FA5

$$$0 + A/B \times C = \text{taxable surplus } ($320)$$

where and $$0 + A/B \times C = \text{UFT } ($200)$

A is the amount that would be received by FA4 if FA5 paid its entire consolidated net surplus as a dividend ($325)

B is the amount of consolidated net surplus of FA5 ($325)

C is the taxable surplus ($325) and UFT ($200) of FA5.

Step 3. The taxable surplus and UFT of FA3 is determined as the taxable surplus ($75) and UFT ($10), of FA3, otherwise determined, plus proportionate share the taxable surplus and UFT of FA4

$$$75 + A/B \times C = \text{taxable surplus } ($400)$$

where and $$10 + A/B \times C = \text{UFT } ($210)$

A is the amount that would be received by FA3 if FA4 paid its entire consolidated net surplus as a dividend ($125)

B is the amount of consolidated net surplus of FA4 ($125)

C is the taxable surplus ($325) and underlying foreign tax ($200) of FA4.

Step 4. The taxable surplus and UFT of FA2 is determined as the taxable surplus ($0) and UFT ($0), of FA2, otherwise determined, plus the proportionate share of the taxable surplus and UFT of FA3

$$$0 + A/B \times C = \text{taxable surplus } ($280)$$

where and $$0 + (A/B) \times C = \text{UFT } ($147)$

A is the amount that would be received by FA2 if FA3 paid its entire consolidated net surplus as a dividend ($210)

B is the amount of consolidated net surplus of FA3 ($300)

C is the taxable surplus ($400) and underlying foreign tax ($210) of FA3

4. Consolidated Net Surplus (Paragraph 5902(1)(e))

The consolidated net surplus of FA2 is $410 and is determined as follows:

$$(A + B) - (C + D) = $410$$

where

A is the consolidated exempt surplus of FA2 ($270)

B is the consolidated taxable surplus of FA2 ($280)

C is the consolidated exempt deficit of FA2 ($140)

D is the consolidated taxable deficit of FA2 ($0).

5. Attributed Surplus (Paragraph 5902(1)(f))

The attributed net surplus in respect of each of the disposed shares is determined as follows:

$$A/B = $\,4.10$$

where

A is the consolidated net surplus ($410)

B is the total number of shares issued by FA3 (100).

6. The Whole Dividend (Paragraph 5902(1)(g))

Assuming that the corporation resident in Canada elected, with respect to each share disposed of, under subsection 93(1) of the Act an amount equal to the attributed net surplus in respect of the share, the amount of the whole dividend paid by the foreign affiliate on the shares of the class would be determined as

$$(A \times B) \times C = $410$$

where

A is the amount elected with respect to a disposed share ($4.10)

B is the number of shares disposed of (30)

C is 410/123 = 3.33.

Effective Dates

The amendments to section 5902 apply in respect of elections made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act in respect of dispositions that occur after December 20, 2002 other than dispositions made under agreements in writing made by the vendor on or before December 20, 2002.

If the taxpayer makes an election under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act in respect of a disposition that occurs after December 20, 2002 and before February 27, 2004 and the taxpayer makes a valid election under subsection 133(40) of the legislative proposals relating to the the Act released contemporaneously with these draft Regulations, the amendments to section 5902 do not apply and section 5902 is to be read as if it contained a subsection (6.1) that read as set out in subparagraph 5(a)(ii) of the enacting legislation for these proposed amendments to section 5902.

The amendments to section 5902 of the Regulations do not apply to an election by the taxpayer under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act in respect of a disposition that occurs after December 20, 2002 (other than a disposition made under an agreement in writing made by the vendor on or before December 20, 2002) and before February 27, 2004 if the taxpayer does not elect under subsection 133(40) of the legislative proposals relating to the Act and none of paragraphs 88(3)(a), 95(2)(c.2), and (d) to (e.5) of the Act applies to the disposition.

The amendments to section 5902 of the Regulations do not apply to an election by the taxpayer under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act in respect of a disposition that occurs after February 27, 2004 if the disposition is made under an agreement in writing made by the vendor on or before February 27, 2004 and none of paragraphs 88(3)(a) and 95(2)(c.2), and (d) to (e.5) of the Act applies to the disposition.

5903. Deductible loss — (1) For the purpose of the description of F in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act, the amount prescribed to be the deductible loss of a particular foreign affiliate of a taxpayer for a taxation year and the five immediately preceding taxation years (each of which preceding taxation years is referred to in this subsection as a "preceding year") is the amount, if any, by which

(a) the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, if any, determined in respect of the particular affiliate in respect of a preceding year during which it was a controlled foreign affiliate of the taxpayer or of a person described in any of subparagraphs 95(2)(f)(iv) to (vii) of the Act, by which

(i) the total of the amounts determined for D and E in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act in respect of the particular affiliate for the preceding year

exceeds

(ii) the total of the amounts determined for A, B and C in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act in respect of the particular affiliate for the preceding year

exceeds the total of

(b) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount determined in respect of the particular affiliate in respect of a preceding year during which it was a controlled foreign affiliate of the taxpayer or of a person described in any of subparagraphs 95(2)(f)(iv) to (vii) of the Act and equal to the lesser of

(i) the amount that would be determined for F in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act in respect of the particular affiliate for the preceding year if that amount did not take into account any amount determined for any of A, B, C, D or E in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act in respect of the particular affiliate for any taxation year that is not a preceding taxation year, and

(ii) the amount that would be the foreign accrual property income of the particular affiliate for the preceding year if the formula in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act were read without reference to the variable F; and

(c) where a payment has been received by the particular foreign affiliate and the payment can reasonably be considered to relate to a payment described in subsection 5907(1.3) made by another foreign affiliate of the taxpayer in respect of a loss, or any portion of a loss, of the particular affiliate described in the description of D or E of the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act in respect of any preceding year of the particular affiliate, the amount of that loss or portion.

(3) Where

(a) there has been a foreign merger (within the meaning assigned by subsection 87(8.1) of the Act) of two or more foreign affiliates of a taxpayer resident in Canada in respect of each of which the taxpayer's surplus entitlement percentage was not less than 90 per cent immediately before the merger (in this subsection referred to as "predecessor affiliates") to form a new foreign affiliate in respect of which the taxpayer's surplus entitlement percentage immediately after the merger was not less than 90 per cent (in this subsection referred to as the "successor affiliate"), or

(b) there has been a dissolution of a foreign affiliate (in this subsection referred to as the "predecessor affiliate") of a taxpayer resident in Canada and on the dissolution property of the predecessor affiliate, the fair market value of which was not less than 90 per cent of the fair market value of all property of the predecessor affiliate immediately before the dissolution, was distributed to another foreign affiliate (in this subsection referred to as the "successor affiliate") of the taxpayer, the successor affiliate shall, in respect of such part of the amount determined under subsection 5903(1) to be the deductible loss of a predecessor affiliate at the time of the foreign merger or dissolution as may reasonably be considered to have arisen while the taxpayer, a person or persons referred to in any of subparagraphs 95(2)(f)(iv) to (vii) of the Act, or the taxpayer together with such a person or persons, had a surplus entitlement percentage in respect of such predecessor affiliate that was not less than 90 per cent, be considered to be the same corporation as, and a continuation of, such predecessor affiliate.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5903

5903. (1) For the purpose of the description of F in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act, the deductible loss of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer for a particular taxation year of the affiliate is the amount claimed by the taxpayer not exceeding the foreign accrual property loss of the affiliate for the seven taxation years of the affiliate preceding and the three taxation years of the affiliate following the particular year.

(2) In determining the deductible loss of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer for a particular taxation year of the affiliate

(a) the amount claimed under subsection (1) in respect of a foreign accrual property loss of the affiliate for a taxation year of the affiliate shall not exceed the amount by which that loss exceeds the total of all amounts each of which was an amount claimed by any taxpayer in respect of that loss in computing the deductible loss of the affiliate for taxation years of the affiliate before the particular year; and

(b) no amount may be claimed in respect of a foreign accrual property loss of a foreign affiliate for a taxation year of the affiliate until the foreign accrual property losses of the affiliate for preceding taxation years have been fully claimed.

(3) For the purpose of this section, and subject to subsection (4), "foreign accrual property loss" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer for a taxation year means

(a) where at the end of the year the foreign affiliate was a controlled foreign affiliate of the taxpayer, the amount, if any, by which

(i) the total of the amounts determined for D and E in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act in respect of the affiliate for the year

exceeds

(ii) the total of the amounts determined for A, B, and C in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act in respect of the affiliate for the year, or

(b) where, at the end of the year, the foreign affiliate was not a controlled foreign affiliate of the taxpayer but was a controlled foreign affiliate of a person described in any of subparagraphs 95(2)(f)(iv) to (vii) of the Act, the amount determined under paragraph (a) for the year.

(4) In computing the foreign accrual property loss of a particular foreign affiliate of a taxpayer for a taxation year of the affiliate, where the particular affiliate or another corporation has received a payment described in subsection 5907(1.3) from another foreign affiliate of the taxpayer which payment can reasonably be considered to relate to a loss or portion of a loss of the particular affiliate for the year described in the description of D or E of the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act, the amount of the loss or portion of the loss for the year is deemed to be nil.

(5) For the purpose of this section, where there has been a foreign merger (within the meaning assigned by subsection 87(8.1) of the Act) of two or more foreign affiliates of a taxpayer resident in Canada in respect of each of which the taxpayer's surplus entitlement percentage immediately before the merger was not less than 90 percent (each of which is in this subsection referred to as a "predecessor affiliate") to form a new foreign affiliate in respect of which the taxpayer's surplus entitlement percentage immediately after the merger was not less than 90 percent (in this section referred to as the "successor affiliate"), the successor is deemed to be the same corporation as, and a continuation of, each predecessor affiliate.

(6) For the purpose of this section, where there has been a winding-up of one or more foreign affiliates of a taxpayer resident in Canada in respect of which the taxpayer's surplus entitlement percentage immediately before the winding-up was not less than 90 percent (each of which is in this subsection referred to as a "predecessor affiliate") into another foreign affiliate of the taxpayer in respect of which the taxpayer's surplus entitlement percentage immediately before and after the winding-up was not less than 90 percent (in this subsection referred to as the "successor affiliate"), the successor affiliate is deemed to be the same corporation as, and a continuation of, each predecessor affiliate.

Application: The March 16, 2001 draft regulations (foreign affiliates — FAPI), subsec. 1(1), will amend s. 5903 to read as above, applicable to taxation years of foreign affiliates that begin after 1998, except that para. 5903(2)(b) applies to foreign affiliate taxation years that begin after 2000.

Technical Notes: The description of F in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act allows foreign accrual property income of an affiliate for a year to be reduced by the amount prescribed by section 5903 of the Income Tax Regulations to be the deductible loss of the affiliate for the year and the five immediately preceding taxation years. The amendments to section 5903 and the description of F in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act provide that deductible losses may include foreign accrual property losses for the three taxation years following and the seven taxation years preceding the year.

Amended subsection 5903(1) allows a taxpayer to include in the deductible loss of a foreign affiliate an amount not exceeding the foreign accrual property loss of the affiliate for the seven taxation years immediately preceding and the three taxation years immediately following the particular year. Losses for other taxation years will not be included in the deductible loss of the foreign affiliate.

Amended subsection 5903(2) of the Regulations provides that, in determining the deductible loss of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer for a particular taxation year, the amount claimed under subsection 5903(1) in respect of a foreign accrual property loss of the affiliate for a taxation year of the affiliate cannot exceed the total of amounts previously claimed by any taxpayer in respect of that loss. Also, no amount may be claimed in respect of a foreign accrual property loss until the foreign accrual property loss for preceding taxation years has been fully claimed.

Amended subsection 5903(3) of the Regulations defines foreign accrual property loss of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer for a taxation year. Where, at the end of a taxation year, a foreign affiliate is a controlled foreign affiliate of the taxpayer or a person related to the taxpayer, the foreign accrual property loss of the affiliate is the amount, if any, by which (D + E) exceeds (A + B + C) in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act.

New subsection 5903(4) of the Regulations provides that, where a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer received a payment described in subsection 5907(1.3) of the Regulations from another affiliate or another corporation, which payment was related to a loss or portion of a loss of the affiliate, the amount of the loss or portion of the loss for the year shall be deemed to be nil.

New subsections 5903(5) and (6) of the Regulations provides that a predecessor affiliate's deductible loss may flow through to a successor affiliate following a foreign merger or a winding-up of one or more affiliates of a taxpayer provided the taxpayer's surplus entitlement percentage exceeds 90 percent in each predecessor affiliate and in the successor affiliate.

History: Subsecs. 5903(1), (3) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, s. 5, November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the subsecs. as amended apply to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

That portion of subsec. 5903(3) following para. (b) amended by P.C. 1989-321, s. 2, March 2, 1989, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 15, 1989, applicable in respect of amalgamations and mergers occurring after November 12, 1981.

Subsecs. 5903(1) and (2) substituted, subsec. 5903(3) added, by P.C. 1985-467, s. 2, February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, subsecs. 5903(1) and (2) applicable in computing the foreign accrual property income of a foreign affiliate for taxation years of the affiliate ending after November 12, 1981, and subsec. 5903(3) applicable in respect of mergers and dissolutions occurring after November 12, 1981.

Para. 5903(1)(b) substituted by P.C. 1980-503, s. 2, February 8, 1980, Canada Gazette, Part II, February 27, 1980, effective in respect of 1976 et seq.

5904. Participating percentage — (1) For the purpose of subparagraph (b)(ii) of the definition "participating percentage" in subsection 95(1) of the Act, the participating percentage of a particular share owned by a taxpayer of the capital stock of a corporation in respect of any foreign affiliate of the taxpayer that was, at the end of its taxation year, a controlled foreign affiliate of the taxpayer is prescribed to be the percentage that would be the taxpayer's equity percentage in the affiliate at that time on the assumption that

(a) the taxpayer owned no shares other than the particular share;

(b) the direct equity percentage of a person in any foreign affiliate of the taxpayer, for which the total of the distribution entitlements of all the shares of all classes of the capital stock of the affiliate was greater than nil, was determined by the following rules and not by the rules contained in the definition "direct equity percentage" in subsection 95(4) of the Act:

(i) for each class of the capital stock of the affiliate, determine that amount that is the proportion of the distribution entitlement of all the shares of that class that the number of shares of that class owned by that person is of all the issued shares of that class, and

(ii) determine the proportion that

(A) the aggregate of the amounts determined under subparagraph 5904(1)(b) (i) for each class of the capital stock of the affiliate

is of

(B) the aggregate of the distribution entitlements of all the issued shares of all classes of the capital stock of the affiliate and the proportion determined under subparagraph 5904(1)(b)(ii) when expressed as a percentage is that person's direct equity percentage in the affiliate; and

(c) the direct equity percentage of a person in any foreign affiliate of the taxpayer, for which the total of the distribution entitlements of all the shares of all classes of the capital stock of the affiliate was not greater than nil, was determined by the rules contained in the definition "direct equity percentage" in subsection 95(4) of the Act.

Related Provisions: Reg. 5904(2) — Distribution entitlement.

History: That portion of subsec. 5904(1) before subpara (b)(i), and para. (c), amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsecs. 6(1), (2), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the amended portions apply to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

All that portion of para. 5904(1)(b) preceding subpara. (i), and para. 5904(1)(c) substituted by P.C. 1980-503, s. 3, February 8, 1980, Canada Gazette, Part II, February 27, 1980, effective in respect of 1976 et seq.

(2) For the purposes of this section, the distribution entitlement of all the shares of a class of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of the taxpayer at the end of its taxation year is the aggregate of

(a) the distributions made during the year by the affiliate to holders of shares of that class; and

(b) the amount that the affiliate might reasonably be expected to distribute to holders of shares of that class immediately after the end of the year if at that time it had distributed to its shareholders an amount equal to the aggregate of

(i) the amount, if any, by which the net surplus of the affiliate in respect of the taxpayer at the end of the year, computed as though any adjustments resulting from the provisions of sections 5902 and 5905 and subsections 5907(2.1) and (2.2) and any references thereto during the year were ignored, exceeds the net surplus of the affiliate in respect of the taxpayer at the end of its immediately preceding taxation year, and

(ii) the amount that the affiliate would receive if at that time each controlled foreign affiliate of the taxpayer in which the affiliate had an equity percentage had distributed to its shareholders an amount equal to the aggregate of

(A) the amount that would be determined under subparagraph 5904(2)(b)(i) for the controlled foreign affiliate if the controlled foreign affiliate were the foreign affiliate referred to in subparagraph 5904(2)(b)(i), for each of the taxation years of the controlled foreign affiliate ending in the taxation year of the affiliate, and

(B) each such amount that the controlled foreign affiliate would receive from any other controlled foreign affiliate of the taxpayer in which it had an equity percentage.

Related Provisions: Reg. 5904(3) — Interpretation.

History: Subpara. 5904(2)(b)(i) substituted by P.C. 1978-3599, s. 1, November 30, 1978, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 13, 1978, effective for 1978 et seq.

(3) For the purposes of subsection 5904(2),

(a) the net surplus of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer who is an individual, in respect of that individual, shall be computed as if that individual were a corporation resident in Canada;

(b) in computing the net surplus of a particular foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada in which any other foreign affiliate of the taxpayer has an equity percentage, no amount shall be included in respect of any distribution that would be received by the particular affiliate from such other affiliate;

(c) if any controlled foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada has issued shares of more than one class of its capital stock, the amount that would be distributed to the holders of shares of any class is such portion of the amount determined under subparagraph 5904(2)(b)(ii) as, in the circumstances, it might reasonably be expected to distribute to the holders of those shares; and

(d) in determining the distribution entitlement

(i) of a class of shares of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate that is entitled to cumulative dividends, the amount of any distribution referred to in paragraph (2)(a) shall be deemed not to include any distribution in respect of such class that is, or would, if it were made, be referable to profits of a preceding taxation year, and

(ii) of any other class of shares of the capital stock of the affiliate, the net surplus of the affiliate at the end of the year referred to in subparagraph (2)(b)(i) shall be deemed not to have been reduced by any distribution described in subparagraph (i) with respect to a class of shares that is entitled to cumulative dividends to the extent that the distribution was referable to profits of a preceding taxation year.

5905. Special rules — (1) [Corporation or FA acquiring shares of another FA] — Where at any time, other than in the course of a transaction to which subsection (2) or (5) applies, a corporation resident in Canada or a foreign affiliate of such a corporation acquires in any manner whatever shares of the capital stock of another corporation that was a foreign affiliate of the corporation immediately before that time (in this subsection referred to as the "acquired affiliate") and as a result thereof the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation in respect of the acquired affiliate increases, for the purposes of this Part, the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, the taxable surplus or taxable deficit and the underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation, of the acquired affiliate and of each other foreign affiliate of the corporation in which the acquired affiliate has an equity percentage (in this subsection referred to as the "other affiliate"), other than an acquired affiliate or other affiliate in respect of which subsection (8) applies, shall at that time be reduced to the proportion of the amount thereof otherwise determined that

(a) the surplus entitlement percentage immediately before that time of the corporation in respect of the acquired affiliate or the other affiliate, as the case may be, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the acquired affiliate or the other affiliate, as the case may be, that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time,

(b) the surplus entitlement percentage immediately after that time of the corporation in respect of the acquired affiliate or the other affiliate, as the case may be, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the acquired affiliate or the other affiliate, as the case may be, that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately after that time, and, for the purposes of the definitions "exempt deficit", "exempt surplus", "taxable deficit", "taxable surplus" and "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), those reduced amounts are referred to as the opening exempt deficit, opening exempt surplus, opening taxable deficit, opening taxable surplus and opening underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, of each of those affiliates in respect of the corporation.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5905(1)

(1) If, at any time, other than in the course of a transaction to which subsection (2) or (5) applies, a corporation resident in Canada or a foreign affiliate of such a corporation acquires in any manner whatever shares of the capital stock of another corporation that was, immediately after that time, a foreign affiliate of the corporation (in this subsection referred to as the "acquired affiliate") and as a result of that acquisition the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation in respect of the acquired affiliate and in respect of any other foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada (the acquired affiliate and each such other foreign affiliate each being referred to in this subsection as the "particular relevant foreign affiliate"), increases, the following rules apply:

(a) for the purposes of this Part, the amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, the taxable surplus or taxable deficit, and the underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate is (unless subsection (8) applies to the particular relevant foreign affiliate because of the acquisition of the shares) to be, at that time, adjusted to become the proportion of that amount, determined without making this adjustment, that

(i) the surplus entitlement percentage, immediately before that time, of the corporation in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the particular relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time,

(ii) the surplus entitlement percentage, immediately after that time, of the corporation in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the particular relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately after that time, and

(b) for the purposes of applying the definitions "exempt deficit", "exempt surplus", "taxable deficit", "taxable surplus" and "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), the adjusted amounts determined under paragraph (a) are deemed to be the opening exempt deficit, opening exempt surplus, opening taxable deficit, opening taxable surplus and opening underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the corporation.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 2(1), will amend subsec. 5905(1) to read as above, applicable in respect of acquisitions that occur after February 27, 2004.

Technical Notes: Subsection 5905(1) provides rules for computing the amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, the taxable surplus or taxable deficit and the underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada when the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of a foreign affiliate of that corporation increases because of the acquisition of shares of a non-resident corporation. Subsection 5905(1) is being repealed and replaced by proposed new subsection 5905(1) that clarifies the operation of the rule.

Proposed new subsection 5905(1) provides that if, at any time, other than in the course of a transaction to which subsection 5905(2) or (5) applies, a corporation resident in Canada or a foreign affiliate of such a corporation acquires shares of the capital stock of another corporation that was, immediately after that time, a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada (the "acquired affiliate") and as a result of the acquisition the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the acquired affiliate or any other affiliate (the acquired affiliate and each such other affiliate referred to as a "relevant foreign affiliate") increases, the following rules apply.

- The amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, the taxable surplus or taxable deficit and the underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, is to be adjusted to become the proportion of the amount determined without making this adjustment, that
  - the surplus entitlement percentage immediately before that time of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the particular relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time,

  is of
  - the surplus entitlement percentage immediately after that time of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the particular relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately after that time.
- For the purposes of applying the definitions "exempt deficit", "exempt surplus", "taxable deficit", "taxable surplus" and "underlying foreign tax", in subsection 5907(1), the adjusted amounts determined above are deemed to be, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, the opening exempt deficit, opening exempt surplus, opening taxable deficit, opening taxable surplus and opening underlying foreign tax, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation.

History: The closing words of subsec. 5905(1) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsec. 7(1), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the amendment applies to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

For earlier history, see at end of s. 5905.

(2) [FA redeeming shares] — Where at any time a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada redeems, acquires or cancels in any manner whatever (otherwise than by way of a winding-up) any of the shares of any class of its capital stock (other than shares redeemed or cancelled that the affiliate had previously purchased or acquired and that were held by it until that time and in respect of which an adjustment has previously been made under this subsection or subsection (1) as it read prior to November 13, 1981), the following rules apply:

(a) where, by virtue of an election made by the corporation under subsection 93(1) of the Act, a dividend is deemed to have been received on one or more of the shares of the foreign affiliate that were disposed of by the corporation or another foreign affiliate of the corporation (in this paragraph referred to as the "transferor") by virtue of the redemption, acquisition or cancellation of such share or shares by the foreign affiliate, for the purposes of the adjustment required by paragraph (b),

(i) immediately before that time there is included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1) in computing the affiliate's exempt surplus or exempt deficit, as the case may be, in respect of the corporation an amount equal to the product obtained when the specified adjustment factor in respect of the disposition is multiplied by the total of all amounts each of which is the portion of any such dividend that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(a) to have been paid out of the exempt surplus of the affiliate,

(ii) immediately before that time there is included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1) in computing the affiliate's taxable surplus or taxable deficit, as the case may be, in respect of the corporation an amount equal to the product obtained when the specified adjustment factor in respect of the disposition is multiplied by the total of all amounts each of which is the portion of any such dividend that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) to have been paid out of the taxable surplus of the affiliate, and

(iii) immediately before that time there shall be deducted from the amount, if any, otherwise determined to be the underlying foreign tax of the affiliate in respect of the corporation an amount equal to the product obtained when the specified adjustment factor in respect of the disposition is multiplied by the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the amount prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(d) to be the foreign tax applicable to such portion of any such dividend as is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) to have been paid out of the taxable surplus of the affiliate, and, for the purposes of subparagraphs (i) to (iii), the specified adjustment factor in respect of the disposition is the amount equal to the quotient obtained when,

(iv) where the transferor is the corporation, 100 per cent, and

(v) where the transferor is another foreign affiliate of the corporation, the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation in respect of the transferor immediately before the disposition,

is divided by

(vi) the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation in respect of the foreign affiliate immediately before the disposition;

(b) the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, the taxable surplus or taxable deficit and the underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation, of the affiliate and of each other foreign affiliate of the corporation in which the affiliate has an equity percentage (in this subsection referred to as the "other affiliate") shall at that time be adjusted to the proportion of the amount thereof otherwise determined that

(i) the surplus entitlement percentage immediately before that time of the corporation in respect of the affiliate or the other affiliate, as the case may be, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the affiliate or the other affiliate, as the case may be, that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time,

(ii) the surplus entitlement percentage immediately after that time of the corporation in respect of the affiliate or the other affiliate, as the case may be, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the affiliate or the other affiliate, as the case may be, that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately after that time; and

(c) for the purposes of the definitions "exempt deficit", "exempt surplus", "taxable deficit", "taxable surplus" and "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), the amounts determined under paragraph (b) are referred to as the opening exempt deficit, opening exempt surplus, opening taxable deficit, opening taxable surplus and opening underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, of the affiliate and each other affiliate in respect of the corporation resident in Canada.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5905(2)

(2) [FA redeeming shares] — If at any time (referred to in this subsection as the "disposition time") a particular foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada redeems, acquires or cancels (other than a redemption, an acquisition or a cancellation in respect of which an adjustment has previously been made under this subsection or subsection (1) as it read prior to November 13, 1981) in any manner whatever (otherwise than by way of a winding-up) one or more shares (referred to in this subsection and subsections (16) to (23) as "disposed shares") of any class of its capital stock, the following rules apply:

(a) if, because of an election made by the corporation under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, a dividend (referred to in this subsection and subsections (18) and (21) as the "disposition dividend") is deemed to have been received on the disposed shares, by the corporation or by another foreign affiliate of the corporation, for the purpose of the adjustment required by paragraph (b),

(i) in computing the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular foreign affiliate or of another foreign affiliate (the particular foreign affiliate and each such other foreign affiliate being referred to in this subsection and subsections (16) to (23) as the "particular relevant foreign affiliate") of the corporation resident in Canada in which the particular foreign affiliate has an equity percentage at the time (referred to in this subsection and subsections (16) to (22) as the "balance adjustment time") that is immediately before the disposition time, there is to be included, under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the total of

(A) the amount of the exempt surplus reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares,

(B) the amount of the exempt deficit reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares, and

(C) the amount of the taxable deficit allocation, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares,

(ii) in computing the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included, under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the total of

(A) an amount equal to the taxable surplus reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares,

(B) an amount equal to the taxable deficit reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares, and

(C) an amount equal to the exempt deficit allocation, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares,

(iii) in computing the particular relevant foreign affiliate's underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included, under subparagraph (iii) of the description of B in the definition "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), the total of

(A) the amount determined by the formula (which is deemed to be nil, if, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, the value determined for B in the formula is nil)

$$A/B \times C \times D$$

where

A is the portion of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, that may reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax (as determined under subparagraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition,

B is the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition,

C is the portion, of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition), that is prescribed, by paragraph 5900(1)(d), to be applicable to the portion of the whole dividend (as determined, under paragraph 5902(1)(g), in respect of the disposition dividend in respect of the disposed shares) paid on shares of the specified class that is prescribed, by paragraph 5900(1)(c), to have been paid out of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and

D is the specified adjustment factor in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, and

(B) the amount of the underlying foreign tax reduction in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

(iv) in computing the particular relevant foreign affiliate's exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included, under subparagraph (viii) of the description of A in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, immediately before that time, and

(v) in computing the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included, under subparagraph (vi) of the description of A in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, immediately before that time;

(b) the amount, at the balance adjustment time, of exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate is to be adjusted to become the proportion of that amount, determined without making this adjustment, that

(i) the surplus entitlement percentage, at the balance adjustment time, of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, determined on the assumption that the taxation year, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that otherwise would have included that time, had ended immediately before that time,

is of

(ii) the surplus entitlement percentage, immediately after the time of the disposition, of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, determined on the assumption that the taxation year, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that otherwise would have included the balance adjustment time, had ended at the time of the disposition; and

(c) for the purposes of applying the definitions "exempt deficit", "exempt surplus", "taxable deficit", "taxable surplus" and "underlying foreign tax", in subsection 5907(1), the amounts determined under paragraph (b), in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, are deemed to be the opening exempt deficit, opening exempt surplus, opening taxable deficit, opening taxable surplus and opening underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 2(1), will amend subsec. 5905(2) to read as above, applicable in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which the amendments to s. 5902 apply.

Technical Notes: Subsection 5905(2) applies where shares of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada are redeemed, acquired or cancelled (otherwise than by way of a winding-up). If the corporation has made an election under subsection 93(1) of the Act or if the corporation's surplus entitlement percentage in the affiliate changes, then the affiliate's surplus balances are adjusted to offset the change in the surplus entitlement percentage. Subsection 5905(2) is being repealed and replaced by proposed new subsection 5905(2) which adjusts surplus balances of the foreign affiliate in respect of an election under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act.

Proposed new subsection 5905(2) applies in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which proposed new subsection 5902(1) applies.

Proposed new subsection 5905(2) provides that, if, at any time (in this subsection, the "disposition time") a particular foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada redeems, acquires or cancels (other than a redemption, an acquisition or a cancellation in respect of which an adjustment has previously been made under this subsection or subsection (1) as it read prior to November 13, 1981) in any manner whatever (otherwise than by way of a winding-up) one or more shares (referred to in this subsection and subsections 5902(16) to (23) as "disposed shares") of any class of its capital stock, the following rules apply.

- If, because of an election made by the corporation resident in Canada under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, a dividend (in this subsection and subsections 5905(18) and (21), the "disposition dividend") is deemed to have been received on the disposed shares, by the corporation or by another foreign affiliate, for the purposes of the adjustment required by paragraph (b) of the subsection,

  — in computing the exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular foreign affiliate or of another foreign affiliate (the particular foreign affiliate and each other foreign affiliate being referred to in this subsection and subsections 5905(16) to (23) as the "particular relevant foreign affiliate") in which the particular foreign affiliate has an equity percentage at the time (in this subsection and subsections 5905(16) to (22), the "balance adjustment time") that is immediately before the disposition time, there is included, under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the total of

  - the amount of the exempt surplus reduction of the particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the disposed shares,

- the amount of the exempt deficit reduction of the particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the disposed shares, and
- the amount of the taxable deficit allocation of the particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the disposed shares,

— in computing the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the balance adjustment time there is to be included, under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the total of

- an amount equal to the taxable surplus reduction of the particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the disposed shares,
- an amount equal to the taxable deficit reduction of the particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the disposed shares, and
- an amount equal to the exempt deficit allocation of the particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the disposed shares,

— in computing the particular relevant foreign affiliate's underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, there is included, under subparagraph (iii) of the description of B in the definition "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), the total of

- the amount determined by the formula

$$A/B \times C \times D$$

where

A is the portion of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the disposition,

B is the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the disposition,

C is the portion of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the disposition), that is prescribed, by paragraph 5900(1)(d), to be applicable to the portion of the whole dividend (as determined, under paragraph 5902(1)(g), in respect of the disposition dividend in respect of the disposed shares) paid on shares of the specified class that is prescribed, by paragraph 5900(1)(c), to have been paid out of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus, and

D is the specified adjustment factor in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate,

— however, if, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, the value determined for B in the formula is nil, the amount determined by the formula, in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate, is deemed to be nil, and

- an amount equal to the underlying foreign tax reduction in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

Example — Subsection 5905(2)

Facts

1. Canco, a corporation resident in Canada, owns 100% of FA1, which owns 100 shares (100%) of FA2.
2. FA2 owns 100% of FA3.
4. Each of FA1, FA2 and FA3 are foreign affiliates of Canco.
5. FA2 redeems 10 (10%) of its shares owned by FA1.
6. Canco elects under subsection 93(1) of the Act at a designated amount of $30.
7. At the time of the redemption, FA2 has exempt surplus of $0, exempt deficit of $150, taxable surplus of $0, taxable deficit of $200 and underlying foreign tax ("UFT") of $0.
8. At the time of the redemption, FA3 has exempt surplus of $500, exempt deficit of $0, taxable surplus of $150, taxable deficit of $0 and UFT of $0.
9. All the corporations have only issued 100 shares of one class.

Application of subsection 5905(2) to FA3

Subsection 5905(2) applies to adjust the exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit and UFT of each of FA2 and FA3.

For the calculation of consolidated exempt surplus, consolidated exempt deficit, consolidated taxable surplus, consolidated taxable deficit and consolidated underlying foreign tax, see the example in the commentary to subsection 5902(1) of the Regulations.

FA3

Since FA3 has only exempt surplus and taxable surplus, it is only those amounts that must be adjusted.

A. Exempt surplus — FA3

The exempt surplus (otherwise determined) of FA3 is reduced by each of the exempt surplus reduction, exempt deficit reduction and taxable deficit allocation, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of FA3 in respect of the disposed shares (see subsections 5905(16) to (22)).

The adjusted amount of the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of FA3 that is determined under paragraph 5905(2)(a) is $500 - ($30 + $150 + $50) = $270. No adjustments are required to be made under paragraph 5905(2)(b) because there is no change in the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of FA3.

1. Exempt surplus reduction — FA3

The exempt surplus reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of FA3 in respect of the disposed shares is determined as follows

$$A/B \times C \times D = $500 / $500 \times $30 \times 1 = $30$$

where

A is the exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of FA3 that was included in consolidated exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of FA2 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($500)

B is the consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of FA2 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($500)

C is the portion of the dividend received on the disposed shares because of the election under subsection 93(1) that is, pursuant to paragraph 5900(1)(a), prescribed to be paid out of the consolidated exempt surplus of FA2 ($300 / $300 × $30 = $30)

D is the specified adjustment factor (see subsection 5905(23)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of FA3, of FA1 (1).

2. Exempt deficit reduction — FA3

The exempt deficit reduction in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of FA3 in respect of the disposed shares is determined as follows

$$A/B \times C/ D = $500 / $500 \times $150 / 1 = $150$$

where

A is the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of FA2 that was included in the consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of FA2 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($500)

B is the consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of FA2 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($500)

C is the consolidated exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of FA2 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($150).

D is the amount that would be the surplus entitlement percentage of FA2 in FA3 if FA2 were the corporation resident in Canada (1).

3. Taxable deficit allocation — FA3

The taxable deficit allocation is determined as follows

$$I/E \times (A - B) \times C/D$$

$$1 / 100\% \times ($200 - $150) \times ($500 / $500) = $50$$

where

A is the amount of the consolidated taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of FA2 (determined under subsection 5902(1)) in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares ($200)

B is the amount of the consolidated taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of FA2 (determined under subsection 5902(1)) in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares ($150)

C is the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of FA3 that was included in consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of FA2 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($500)

D is the consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of FA2 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($500)

E is the amount that would be the surplus entitlement percentage of FA2 in FA3 if FA2 were the corporation resident in Canada (100%).

B. Taxable surplus — FA3

In this example, taxable surplus is only reduced by the taxable deficit reduction.

The adjusted amount of taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of FA3 that is determined under paragraph 5905(2)(a) is $150 - $150 = $0. No adjustments are required to be made under paragraph 5905(2)(b) because there is no change in the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of FA3.

1. Taxable deficit reduction — FA3

The taxable deficit reduction is determined as $150 since the consolidated taxable deficit of FA2 exceeds the consolidated taxable surplus of FA2 in respect of the disposition of the FA2 shares (see paragraph (b) of the definition "taxable deficit reduction" in subsection 5905(20).

Note that with respect to FA2, the amounts that have to be adjusted are its taxable deficit and exempt deficit, which are both reduced to $0. As all accounts of FA2 are $0, no paragraph 5905(2)(b) adjustment is necessary.

History: Subparas. 5905(2)(a)(i), (ii) and para. (2)(c) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsecs. 7(2), (3), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the amendments apply to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

For earlier history, see at end of s. 5905.

(3) [FA formed by foreign merger] — Where at any time a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada has been formed as a result of a foreign merger (within the meaning assigned by subsection 87(8.1) of the Act) of two or more corporations (each of which in this subsection and subsection (4) is referred to as a "predecessor corporation"), for the purposes of this Part, the following rules apply:

(a) in respect of the foreign affiliate,

(i) its opening exempt surplus in respect of the corporation shall be the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the exempt surplus of a predecessor corporation that was a foreign affiliate of the corporation immediately before the merger exceeds the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the exempt deficit of a predecessor corporation that was a foreign affiliate of the corporation immediately before the merger,

(ii) its opening exempt deficit in respect of the corporation shall be the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the exempt deficit of a predecessor corporation that was a foreign affiliate of the corporation immediately before the merger exceeds the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the exempt surplus of a predecessor corporation that was a foreign affiliate of the corporation immediately before the merger,

(iii) its opening taxable surplus in respect of the corporation shall be the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the taxable surplus of a predecessor corporation that was a foreign affiliate of the corporation immediately before the merger exceeds the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the taxable deficit of a predecessor corporation that was a foreign affiliate of the corporation immediately before the merger,

(iv) its opening taxable deficit in respect of the corporation shall be the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the taxable deficit of a predecessor corporation that was a foreign affiliate of the corporation immediately before the merger exceeds the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the taxable surplus of a predecessor corporation that was a foreign affiliate of the corporation immediately before the merger, and

(v) its opening underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation shall be the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the underlying foreign tax of a predecessor corporation that was a foreign affiliate of the corporation immediately before the merger; and

(b) in respect of any other foreign affiliate of the corporation, other than a predecessor corporation, in which a predecessor corporation had an equity percentage immediately before the merger, the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, the taxable surplus or taxable deficit and the underlying foreign tax of the other affiliate in respect of the corporation shall at that time be adjusted to the proportion of the amount thereof otherwise determined that

(i) the surplus entitlement percentage immediately before that time of the corporation in respect of the other affiliate, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the other affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time,

is of

(ii) the surplus entitlement percentage immediately after that time of the corporation in respect of the other affiliate, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the other affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately after that time, and, for the purposes of the definitions "exempt deficit", "exempt surplus", "taxable deficit", "taxable surplus" and "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), the adjusted amounts are referred to as the opening exempt deficit, opening exempt surplus, opening taxable deficit, opening taxable surplus and opening underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, of the other affiliate in respect of the corporation resident in Canada.

Related Provisions: Reg. 5905(4) — Interpretation; Reg. 5905(6) — Interpretation; Reg. 5907(8) — Deemed new taxation year.

History: The closing words of para. 5905(3)(b) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsecs. 7(2), (3), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the amendments apply to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

For earlier history, see at end of s. 5905.

(4) [Application rules for Reg. 5905(3)] — For the purposes of paragraph (3)(a), the exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax of each predecessor corporation immediately before the foreign merger shall be deemed to be the proportion of the amount thereof otherwise determined that

(a) the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada immediately before the merger in respect of the predecessor corporation, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the predecessor corporation that otherwise would have included the time of the merger had ended immediately before that time,

is of

(b) the percentage that would be the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada immediately after the merger in respect of the foreign affiliate of the corporation formed as a result of the merger if the net surplus of such foreign affiliate were the aggregate of all amounts, each of which is the net surplus of a predecessor corporation immediately before the merger.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5905(4)

(4) For the purpose of subsection (3),

(a) if, at any time, a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada disposes of one or more shares (referred to in this subsection and subsections (16) to (23) as the "disposed shares") of a class of the capital stock of a predecessor corporation and the foreign affiliate is, because of an election made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act, deemed to have received a dividend (referred to in this subsection and subsections (18) and (21) as the "disposition dividend") on the disposed shares, for the purposes of the adjustments required by paragraphs (b) and (3)(b),

(i) in computing the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of each predecessor corporation and of each other foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which a predecessor foreign affiliate has an equity percentage (the particular predecessor corporation and each such other foreign affiliate being referred to in this subsection and subsections (16) to (23) as the "particular relevant foreign affiliate") at the time (referred to in this subsection and subsections (16) to (22) as the "balance adjustment time") that is immediately before the foreign merger, there is to be included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the total of

(A) an amount equal to the exempt surplus reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares,

(B) an amount equal to the exempt deficit reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares, and

(C) an amount equal to the taxable deficit allocation, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares,

(ii) in computing the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included, under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the total of

(A) an amount equal to the taxable surplus reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares,

(B) an amount equal to the taxable deficit reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares, and

(C) an amount equal to the exempt deficit allocation, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares,

(iii) in computing the particular relevant foreign affiliate's underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included, under subparagraph (iii) of the description of B in the definition "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), the total of

(A) the amount determined by the formula (which is deemed to be nil, if, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, the value determined for B in the formula is nil)

$$A/B \times C \times D$$

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, that may reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the consolidated underlying foreign tax (as determined under subparagraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular predecessor corporation that issued the disposed shares, in respect of the disposition,

B is the amount of the consolidated underlying foreign tax (as determined under subparagraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular predecessor corporation that issued the disposed shares, in respect of the disposition,

C is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, determined by paragraph 5900(1)(d), to be the amount of foreign tax applicable to the portion of the disposition dividend prescribed to have been paid out of the taxable surplus of the issuing foreign affiliate, that relates to a disposed share, in respect of the disposition, and

D is the specified adjustment factor, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, of the foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada that disposed of the disposed shares, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

(B) the amount of the underlying foreign tax reduction in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

(iv) in computing the exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included, under subparagraph (viii) of the description of A in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before that time, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, and

(v) in computing the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included, under subparagraph (vi) of the description of A in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before that time, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate; and

(b) the amount, at the balance adjustment time, of exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate is to be adjusted to become the proportion of that amount, determined without making that adjustment, that

(i) the surplus entitlement percentage, at the balance adjustment time, of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, determined on the assumption that the taxation year, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time, had ended immediately before that time,

is of

(ii) the surplus entitlement percentage, immediately after the time of the disposition, of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, determined on the assumption that the taxation year, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that otherwise would have included the balance adjustment time, had ended at the time of the disposition.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 2(2), will amend subsec. 5905(4) to read as above, applicable in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which the amendments to s. 5902 apply.

Technical Notes: Subsection 5905(4) provides rules for the operation of subsection 5905(3), concerning foreign mergers.

Subsection 5905(4) is replaced by new subsection 5905(4) and adjusts surplus accounts in respect of a corporation resident in Canada of a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of elections made by the corporation resident in Canada under subsections 93(1) and (1.2) of the Act in respect of shares of the foreign affiliate that are disposed of.

Proposed new subsection 5905(4) applies in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which proposed new subsection 5902(1) applies.

Proposed new subsection 5905(4) provides, for the purposes of subsection 5905(3), the following rules:

- if, at any time, a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada disposes of one or more shares (in this subsection and subsections 5905(16) to (23), the "disposed shares") of a class of the capital stock of a predecessor corporation and the foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada is, because of an election made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act, deemed to have received a dividend (in this subsection and subsections (18) and (21), the "disposition dividend") on the disposed shares, for the purposes of the adjustments required by paragraphs (b) and 5905(3)(b),
  - in computing the exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of each predecessor corporation and each other foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which a predecessor foreign affiliate has an equity percentage (the particular predecessor corporation and each such other foreign affiliate being referred to in this subsection and subsections 5905(16) to (23) as the "particular relevant foreign affiliate") at the time (referred to in this subsection and subsections 5905(16) to (22) as the "balance adjustment time") that is immediately before the foreign merger, there is to be included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the total of
    - an amount equal to the exempt surplus reduction in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the disposed shares,
    - an amount equal to the exempt deficit reduction in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the disposed shares, and
    - an amount equal to the taxable deficit allocation in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the disposed shares,
  - in computing the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, there is included, under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the total of
    - the taxable surplus reduction in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares,
    - the taxable deficit reduction in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares, and
    - the exempt deficit allocation in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares,
  - in computing the particular relevant foreign affiliate's underlying foreign tax at the balance adjustment time, there is included, under subparagraph (iii) of the description of B in the definition "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), the total of
    - the amount determined by the formula

$$A/B \times C \times D$$

where

A is that portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the consolidated underlying foreign tax (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), of the particular predecessor corporation that issued the disposed shares, in respect of the disposition,

B is the amount of the consolidated underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), of the particular predecessor corporation that issued the disposed shares, in respect of the disposition,

C is the total of all the amounts determined by paragraph 5900(1)(d), to be the amount of foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada applicable to the portion of the disposition dividend prescribed to have been paid out of the taxable surplus of the issuing foreign affiliate, that relates to a disposed share, in respect of the disposition, and

D is the specified adjustment factor, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, of the foreign affiliate that disposed of the disposed shares, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

— however, if the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, for B in the formula is nil, the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, by the formula is deemed to be nil,

    - an amount equal to the underlying foreign tax reduction in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,
  - in computing the exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, there is included, under subparagraph (viii) of the description of A in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the exempt deficit, immediately before that time, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, and
  - in computing the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, there is included, under subparagraph (vi) of the description of A in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the taxable deficit, immediately before that time, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate.
- The amount, at the balance adjustment time, of exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate is adjusted to become the proportion of that amount, determined without making this adjustment, that — the surplus entitlement percentage, at the balance adjustment time, of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that otherwise would have included that time, had ended immediately before that time,

is of

— the surplus entitlement percentage, immediately after the time of the disposition, of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate determined on the assumption that the taxation year, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that otherwise would have included the balance adjustment time, had ended at the time of the disposition.

Related Provisions: Reg. 5905(16) — Exempt deficit allocation; Reg. 5905(19) — Taxable deficit allocation.

(5) [Shares of FA of predecessor acquired by acquiring corporation] — Where at any time

(a) there is a disposition by a corporation resident in Canada (in this subsection referred to as the "predecessor corporation") of any of the shares owned by it of the capital stock of a particular foreign affiliate of it to a taxable Canadian corporation with which the predecessor corporation was not dealing at arm's length (in this subsection referred to as the "acquiring corporation"),

(b) there is an amalgamation, to which section 87 of the Act applies, of two or more corporations (each of which in this subsection is referred to as a "predecessor corporation") to form a new corporation (in this subsection referred to as the "acquiring corporation") as a result of which shares of the capital stock of a particular foreign affiliate of a predecessor corporation become the property of the acquiring corporation, or

(c) there is a winding-up, to which subsection 88(1) of the Act applies, of a corporation (in this subsection referred to as the "predecessor corporation") into another corporation (in this subsection referred to as the "acquiring corporation") as a result of which shares of the capital stock of a particular foreign affiliate of the predecessor corporation become the property of the acquiring corporation, the following rules apply for the purposes of this Part in respect of the particular affiliate and each other foreign affiliate of the predecessor corporation in which the particular affiliate has an equity percentage:

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5905(5) between (c) and (d)

the following rules apply for the purposes of this Part in respect of the particular affiliate and each other foreign affiliate of the predecessor corporation in which the particular affiliate has an equity percentage (the particular affiliate and each such other foreign affiliate each being referred to in subsections (16) to (23) as the "particular relevant foreign affiliate"):

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 2(3), will amend the portion of subsec. 5905(5) between paras. (c) and (d) to read as above, applicable in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which the amendments to s. 5902 apply.

Technical Notes: Subsections 5905(5) and (6) apply where, as a result of specified types of transactions, all or any of the shares, of the capital stock of a particular foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada, owned by a "predecessor corporation" are acquired by, or otherwise become the property of, an "acquiring corporation". These transactions are described in detail in paragraphs 5905(5)(a), (b) and (c) and can be generally described as follows:

- a transfer of shares of the capital stock of the particular affiliate by a corporation (the "predecessor corporation") resident in Canada to a taxable corporation resident in Canada (the "acquiring corporation") with which the predecessor corporation does not deal at arm's length;
- an amalgamation of two or more corporations (each corporation being referred to as a "predecessor corporation") to form a new corporation (the "acquiring corporation") if
  - section 87 of the Act applies to the amalgamation, and
  - as a result of the amalgamation, shares of the capital stock of the particular affiliate become the property of the acquiring corporation; or
- a winding-up of a corporation (the "predecessor corporation") into another corporation (the "acquiring corporation") if
  - subsection 88(1) of the Act applies to the winding-up, and
  - as a result of the winding-up, shares of the capital stock of the particular affiliate become the property of the acquiring corporation.

Subsections 5905(5) and (6) provide rules for computing the "opening exempt surplus", "opening exempt deficit", "opening taxable surplus", "opening taxable deficit" and "opening underlying foreign tax" of the particular affiliate (and of each other foreign affiliate of the predecessor corporation in which the particular affiliate has an equity percentage) in respect of the acquiring corporation. These rules ensure that the appropriate amounts of surplus, deficit and underlying foreign tax balances of the particular affiliate (and of the relevant subsidiaries of the particular affiliate) in respect of the predecessor corporation are assumed by the acquiring corporation as a result of the reorganization.

Subsection 5905(5) (i.e., the portion between paragraph (c) and (d)) is amended to define the term "particular relevant foreign affiliate" as a particular foreign affiliate and each other foreign affiliate of the predecessor corporation in which the particular affiliate has an equity percentage for the purposes of the subsection and subsections 5905(16) to (23). This amendment applies in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which proposed new subsection 5902(1) applies.

(d) its opening exempt surplus in respect of the acquiring corporation shall be the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of its exempt surplus in respect of each predecessor corporation and in respect of the acquiring corporation immediately before any of the transactions referred to in paragraph (a), (b) or (c) exceeds the aggregate of its exempt deficit in respect of each predecessor corporation and in respect of the acquiring corporation immediately before any of the transactions referred to in paragraph (a), (b) or (c);

(e) its opening exempt deficit in respect of the acquiring corporation shall be the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of its exempt deficit in respect of each predecessor corporation and in respect of the acquiring corporation immediately before any of the transactions referred to in paragraph (a), (b) or (c) exceeds the aggregate of its exempt surplus in respect of each predecessor corporation and in respect of the acquiring corporation immediately before any of the transactions referred to in paragraph (a), (b) or (c);

(f) its opening taxable surplus in respect of the acquiring corporation shall be the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of its taxable surplus in respect of each predecessor corporation and in respect of the acquiring corporation immediately before any of the transactions referred to in paragraph (a), (b) or (c) exceeds the aggregate of its taxable deficit in respect of each predecessor corporation and in respect of the acquiring corporation immediately before any of the transactions referred to in paragraph (a), (b) or (c);

(g) its opening taxable deficit in respect of the acquiring corporation shall be the amount, if any, by which the aggregate of its taxable deficit in respect of each predecessor corporation and in respect of the acquiring corporation immediately before any of the transactions referred to in paragraph (a), (b) or (c) exceeds the aggregate of its taxable surplus in respect of each predecessor corporation and in respect of the acquiring corporation immediately before any of the transactions referred to in paragraph (a), (b) or (c); and

(h) its opening underlying foreign tax in respect of the acquiring corporation shall be the aggregate of its underlying foreign tax in respect of each predecessor corporation and in respect of the acquiring corporation immediately before any of the transactions referred to in paragraph (a), (b) or (c).

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5905(5.1), (5.2)

(5.1) Amalgamations — Where there has been an amalgamation described in paragraph (5)(b) to which subsection 87(11) of the Act applies and in respect of that amalgamation an amount has been — under paragraph 88(1)(d) of the Act by the corporation (referred to in this subsection as the "parent corporation") described in subsection 87(11) of the Act as the parent — designated in respect of shares of a corporation (referred to in this subsection as the "particular foreign affiliate") that is, immediately before the amalgamation, a foreign affiliate of the corporation (referred to in this subsection as the "subsidiary corporation") resident in Canada that is described in subsection 87(11) of the Act as the subsidiary, or designated in respect of an interest in a partnership that holds such shares, the following rules apply for the purposes of paragraphs (5)(d) to (h):

(a) subject to paragraph (c), the amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, of the particular foreign affiliate, in respect of the subsidiary corporation and the parent corporation is deemed to be nil, immediately before the amalgamation;

(b) subject to paragraph (c), the amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, of each other foreign affiliate (referred to in this subsection as a "lower-tier foreign affiliate") of the subsidiary corporation (other than the particular foreign affiliate) in which the particular foreign affiliate has, immediately before the amalgamation, an equity percentage, is deemed to be nil, immediately before the amalgamation; and

(c) the amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, of the particular foreign affiliate and of each lower-tier foreign affiliate, in respect of the parent corporation, is deemed to be the amount that would be determined if

(i) in addition to the shares or partnership interests held by the parent corporation, if any, that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, or underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the parent corporation, in respect of the parent corporation, the shares or partnership interests that were held by the subsidiary corporation at any time in the period (in this subsection referred to as the "control period") that begins at the time the parent corporation last acquired control of the subsidiary corporation and ends immediately before the amalgamation, that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, or underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the subsidiary corporation, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, were held by the parent corporation at the same times in the control period that they were held by the subsidiary corporation,

(ii) the parent corporation had acquired, at the time the parent corporation last acquired control of the subsidiary corporation, all the shares and partnership interests held, at that time, by the subsidiary corporation that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, or underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the subsidiary corporation, in respect of the subsidiary corporation and

(iii) where the subsidiary corporation acquired or disposed of, as the case may be, any shares or partnership interests in the control period that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, or underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the subsidiary corporation, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, the parent corporation had acquired or disposed of, as the case may be, the shares or partnership interests at the same time they were acquired or disposed of, as the case may be, by the subsidiary corporation.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5905(5.1) concerns vertical amalgamations of corporations resident in Canada in respect of which an amount has been designated under paragraph 88(1)(d) of the Act in respect of a share of a foreign affiliate of the parent corporation resident in Canada. This new subsection applies in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which proposed new subsection 5902(1) applies.

Proposed new subsection 5905(5.1) provides that, where there has been an amalgamation described in paragraph 5905(5)(b) to which subsection 87(11) of the Act applies and, in respect of that amalgamation, an amount has been — under paragraph 88(1)(d) of the Act by the corporation (the "parent corporation") described in subsection 87(11) of the Act as the parent — designated in respect of shares of a corporation (the "particular foreign affiliate") that is, immediately before the amalgamation, a foreign affiliate of the corporation (the "subsidiary corporation") resident in Canada that is described in subsection 87(11) of the Act as the subsidiary, or designated in respect of an interest in a partnership that holds such shares, certain rules apply for the purposes of paragraphs 5905(5)(d) to (h).

- Subject to paragraph 5905(5.1)(c), the amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, of the particular foreign affiliate, in respect of the subsidiary corporation and the parent corporation is deemed to be nil, immediately before the amalgamation.

- Subject to paragraph 5905(5.1)(c), the amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, of each other foreign affiliate (a "lower-tier foreign affiliate") of the subsidiary corporation (other than the particular foreign affiliate) in which the particular foreign affiliate has, immediately before the amalgamation, an equity percentage, is deemed to be nil, immediately before the amalgamation.

- Proposed new paragraph 5905(5.1)(c) provides that the amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, of the particular foreign affiliate and each lower-tier foreign affiliate, in respect of the parent corporation, is deemed to be the amount that would have been determined, if

  — in addition to the shares or partnership interests held by the parent corporation, if any, that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, and underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the parent corporation, in respect of the parent corporation, the shares or partnership interests that were held by the subsidiary corporation at any time in the period (the "control period") that begins at the time the parent corporation last acquired control of the subsidiary corporation and ends immediately before the amalgamation, that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, and underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the subsidiary corporation, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, were held by the parent corporation at the same time in the control period that they were held by the subsidiary corporation,

  — the parent corporation acquired, at the time the parent corporation last acquired control of the subsidiary corporation, all the shares and partnership interests held, at that time, by the subsidiary corporation that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, and underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the subsidiary corporation, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, and

  — where the subsidiary corporation acquired or disposed of any shares or partnership interests in the control period that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, and underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the subsidiary corporation, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, the parent corporation is deemed to have acquired or disposed of, as the case may be, the shares or partnership interests at the same time they were acquired or disposed of, as the case may be, by the subsidiary corporation.

(5.2) Windings-up — Where there has been a winding-up described in paragraph (5)(c) and in respect of that winding-up an amount has been — under paragraph 88(1)(d) of the Act by the corporation (referred to in this subsection as the "parent corporation") described in subsection 88(1) of the Act as the parent — designated in respect of shares of a corporation (referred to in this subsection as the "particular foreign affiliate") that is, immediately before the winding-up, a foreign affiliate of the corporation (referred to in this subsection as the "subsidiary corporation") resident in Canada that is described in subsection 88(1) of the Act as the subsidiary, or designated in respect of an interest in a partnership that holds such shares, the following rules apply for the purposes of paragraphs (5)(d) to (h):

(a) subject to paragraph (c), the amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, of the particular foreign affiliate, in respect of the subsidiary corporation and the parent corporation is deemed to be nil, immediately before the winding-up;

(b) subject to paragraph (c), the amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, of each other foreign affiliate (referred to in this subsection as a "lower-tier foreign affiliate") of the subsidiary corporation (other than the particular foreign affiliate) in which the particular foreign affiliate has, immediately before the winding-up, an equity percentage, is deemed to be nil, immediately before the winding-up; and

(c) the amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, of the particular foreign affiliate and each lower-tier foreign affiliate, in respect of the parent corporation, is deemed to be the amount that would be determined if

(i) in addition to the shares or partnership interests held by the parent corporation, if any, that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, or underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the parent corporation, in respect of the parent corporation, the shares or partnership interests that were held by the subsidiary corporation at any time in the period (in this subsection referred to as the "control period") that begins at the time the parent corporation last acquired control of the subsidiary corporation and ends immediately before the winding-up, that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, or underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the subsidiary corporation, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, were held by the parent corporation at the same time in the control period that they were held by the subsidiary corporation,

(ii) the parent corporation acquired, at the time the parent corporation last acquired control of the subsidiary corporation, all the shares and partnership interests held, at that time, by the subsidiary corporation that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, or underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the subsidiary corporation, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, and

(iii) where the subsidiary corporation acquired or disposed of, as the case may be, any shares or partnership interests in the control period that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, or underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the subsidiary corporation, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, the parent corporation is deemed to have acquired or disposed of, as the case may be, the shares or partnership interests at the same time they were acquired or disposed of, as the case may be, by the subsidiary corporation.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5905(5.2) concerns vertical amalgamations of corporations resident in Canada in respect of which an amount has been designated under paragraph 88(1)(d) of the Act in respect of a share of a foreign affiliate of the parent corporation resident in Canada. This new subsection applies in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which proposed new subsection 5902(1) applies.

New subsection 5905(5.2) provides that, where there has been a winding-up described in paragraph 5905(5)(c) and, in respect of that winding-up, an amount has been — under paragraph 88(1)(d) of the Act by the corporation (the "parent corporation") described in subsection 88(1) of the Act as the parent — designated in respect of shares of a corporation (the "particular foreign affiliate") that is, immediately before the winding-up, a foreign affiliate of the corporation (the "subsidiary corporation") resident in Canada that is described in subsection 88(1) of the Act as the subsidiary or designated in respect of an interest in a partnership that holds such shares, the following rules apply for the purposes of paragraphs 5905(5)(d) to (h):

- Subject to paragraph 5905(5.2)(c), the amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax of the particular foreign affiliate, in respect of the subsidiary corporation and the parent corporation is deemed to be nil, immediately before the winding-up.

- Subject to paragraph 5905(5.2)(c), the amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, of each other foreign affiliate (a "lower-tier foreign affiliate") of the subsidiary corporation (other than the particular foreign affiliate) in which the particular foreign affiliate has, immediately before the winding-up, an equity percentage, is deemed to be nil, immediately before the winding-up.

- New paragraph 5905(5.2)(c) provides that the amount of the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax of the particular foreign affiliate and each lower-tier foreign affiliate, in respect of the parent corporation, is deemed to be the amount that would have been determined, if

  — in addition to the shares or partnership interests held by the parent corporation, if any, that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, and underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the parent corporation, in respect of the parent corporation, the shares or partnership interests that were held by the subsidiary corporation at any time in the period (the "control period") that begins at the time the parent corporation last acquired control of the subsidiary corporation and ends immediately before the winding-up, that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, and underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the subsidiary corporation, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, were held by the parent corporation at the same time in the control period that they were held by the subsidiary corporation,

  — the parent corporation acquired, at the time the parent corporation last acquired control of the subsidiary corporation, all the shares and partnership interests held, at that time, by the subsidiary corporation that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, and underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the subsidiary corporation, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, and

  — where the subsidiary corporation acquired or disposed of any shares or partnership interests in the control period that are relevant in computing the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit, and underlying foreign tax, of any foreign affiliate of the subsidiary corporation, in respect of the subsidiary corporation, the parent corporation shall be deemed to have acquired or disposed of the shares or partnership interests at the same time they were acquired or disposed of by the subsidiary corporation.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 2(4), will add subsecs. 5905(5.1) and (5.2), applicable in respect of amalgamations that occur, and windings-up that begin, after December 20, 2002.

(6) [Rules for Reg. 5905(5)] — For the purposes of subsection (5), the following rules apply:

(a) where paragraph (5)(a) is applicable and the predecessor corporation is, by virtue of an election made under subsection 93(1) of the Act, deemed to have received a dividend on one or more of the shares of the particular affiliate disposed of in the transaction, for the purposes of the adjustment required by paragraph (b),

(i) immediately before the time of the transaction there shall be included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1) in computing the particular affiliate's exempt surplus or exempt deficit, as the case may be, in respect of the predecessor corporation an amount equal to the quotient obtained when

(A) such portion of the dividend as is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(a) to have been paid out of the exempt surplus of the particular affiliate

is divided by

(B) the surplus entitlement percentage of the predecessor corporation in respect of the particular affiliate immediately before the disposition, determined on the assumption that the shares disposed of by the predecessor corporation were the only shares owned by it immediately before the time of the transaction,

(ii) immediately before the time of the transaction there shall be included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1) in computing the particular affiliate's taxable surplus or taxable deficit, as the case may be, in respect of the predecessor corporation an amount equal to the quotient obtained when

(A) such portion of the dividend as is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) to have been paid out of the taxable surplus of the particular affiliate

is divided by

(B) the surplus entitlement percentage referred to in clause (i)(B), and

(iii) immediately before the time of the transaction there shall be deducted from the amount, if any, otherwise determined to be the underlying foreign tax of the particular affiliate in respect of the predecessor corporation an amount equal to the quotient obtained when

(A) the amount prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(d) to be the foreign tax applicable to such portion of the dividend as is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) to have been paid out of the taxable surplus of the particular affiliate

is divided by

(B) the surplus entitlement percentage referred to in clause (i)(B); and

(b) the exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax of an affiliate in respect of a predecessor corporation (within the meaning assigned by subsection (5)) and the acquiring corporation (within the meaning assigned by subsection (5)) shall be deemed to be the proportion of the amount thereof otherwise determined that

(i) the surplus entitlement percentage immediately before the time of the latest of the transactions referred to in paragraph (5)(a), (b) or (c) of the predecessor corporation or the acquiring corporation, as the case may be, in respect of the affiliate, determined on the assumption

(A) that the taxation year of the affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time, and

(B) where the transaction is one referred to in paragraph (5)(a), that the shares referred to therein were the only shares owned by the predecessor corporation immediately before that time,

is of

(ii) the surplus entitlement percentage immediately after the time of the latest of the transactions referred to in paragraph (5)(a), (b) or (c) of the acquiring corporation in respect of the affiliate, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately after that time.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5905(6)

(6) For the purpose of subsection (5), the following rules apply:

(a) if paragraph (5)(a) applies and the predecessor corporation is, because of an election made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act, deemed to have received a dividend (referred to in this subsection and subsections (18) and (21) as the "disposition dividend") on one or more of the shares (each of which is referred to in this subsection and subsections (16) to (23) as a "disposed share") of the particular foreign affiliate (referred to in this subsection as the "issuing foreign affiliate") disposed of, at that time, for the purpose of the adjustment required by paragraph (b),

(i) in computing the exempt surplus, in respect of the predecessor corporation, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate at the time (referred to in this subsection and subsections (16) to (22) as the "balance adjustment time") that is immediately before the disposition time, the following rules apply:

(A) if the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and the issuing foreign affiliate has, at that time, an amount of consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed share that is equal to or greater than the amount of its consolidated exempt deficit (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(b)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, there is to be included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the predecessor corporation, at the balance adjustment time, that may reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under subparagraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the predecessor corporation, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

B is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under subparagraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the predecessor corporation, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the portion, of the disposition dividend that is, because of an election made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, deemed to be received on the disposed shares by the person that disposed of the disposed shares, that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(a) to have been paid out of the issuing foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the predecessor corporation, and

D is the surplus entitlement percentage of the predecessor corporation in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate at the balance adjustment time, determined on the assumption that the disposed shares were the only shares owned by the predecessor corporation at that time,

(B) if the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, for either B or D in the formula in clause (A) is nil, the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, by that formula is deemed to be nil,

(C) there is to be included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time if

(I) the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and

(II) the issuing foreign affiliate has, at that time, an amount of consolidated exempt deficit (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(b)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed share that is equal to or greater than the amount of its consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

(D) there is to be included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable deficit allocation in respect of the disposed shares,

(ii) in computing the taxable surplus, in respect of a predecessor corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, the following rules apply:

(A) if the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and the issuing foreign affiliate has, at that time, an amount of consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition that is equal to or greater than the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(d)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, there is to be included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the predecessor corporation, at the balance adjustment time, that may reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under subparagraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the predecessor corporation, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

B is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under subparagraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the predecessor corporation, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the portion, of the disposition dividend that is, because of an election made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, deemed to be received on the disposed shares by the person that disposed of the disposed shares, that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) to have been paid out of the issuing foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the predecessor corporation, and

D is the surplus entitlement percentage of the predecessor corporation in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate at the balance adjustment time, determined on the assumption that the disposed shares were the only shares owned by the predecessor corporation at that time,

(B) if the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate for either B or D in the formula in clause (A) is nil, the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, by that formula is deemed to be nil,

(C) there is to be included, under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the amount of particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, if

(i) the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and

(ii) the issuing foreign affiliate has, at that time, an amount of consolidated taxable deficit (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(d)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition that is equal to or greater than the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

(D) there is to be included in subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the particular relevant foreign affiliate's exempt deficit allocation in respect of the disposed shares,

(iii) in computing the underlying foreign tax, in respect of the predecessor corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included under subparagraph (iii) of the description of B in the definition "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), the total of

(A) an amount determined by the formula (which is deemed to be nil, if, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, the value determined for either B or D in the formula is nil)

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's underlying foreign tax, in respect of the predecessor corporation, at the balance adjustment time, that may reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the predecessor corporation, in respect of the disposition,

B is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the predecessor corporation, in respect of the disposition,

C is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, determined by paragraph 5900(1)(d), to be the amount of foreign tax applicable to the portion of the disposition dividend prescribed to have been paid out of the taxable surplus of the issuing foreign affiliate, that relates to a disposed share, in respect of the disposition, and

D is the surplus entitlement percentage of the predecessor corporation in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate at the balance adjustment time, determined on the assumption that the disposed shares were the only shares owned by the predecessor corporation at that time, and

(B) an amount determined by the formula

$$A \times (B+C)/D$$

where

A is the underlying foreign tax, in respect of the particular predecessor corporation, at the balance adjustment time, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares.

B is the amount determined under clause (ii)(C) in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the predecessor corporation, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the exempt deficit allocation, in respect of the predecessor corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

D is the taxable surplus in respect of the predecessor corporation, at the balance adjustment time, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate,

(iv) in computing the exempt deficit, in respect of the predecessor corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included under subparagraph (viii) of the description of A in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the exempt deficit, in respect of the predecessor corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, immediately before that time, and

(v) in computing the taxable deficit, in respect of the predecessor corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included under subparagraph (vi) of the description of A in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the taxable deficit, in respect of the predecessor corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, immediately before that time; and

(b) the exempt surplus or the exempt deficit, the taxable surplus or the taxable deficit and the underlying foreign tax in respect of a predecessor corporation (within the meaning assigned by subsection (5)) and in respect of the acquiring corporation (within the meaning assigned by subsection (5)) of a particular relevant foreign affiliate is, at the balance adjustment time, to be adjusted to become the proportion of the amount of the surplus, deficit or underlying foreign tax determined without reference to this paragraph that

(i) the surplus entitlement percentage, immediately before the time of the latest of the transactions referred to in paragraphs (5)(a), (b) and (c), of the predecessor corporation or the acquiring corporation, as the case may be, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, determined on the assumptions

(A) that the taxation year of the particular relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included the balance adjustment time had ended immediately before that time, and

(B) if the transaction is a disposition referred to in paragraph (5)(a), that the shares referred to in that paragraph were the only shares owned by the predecessor corporation at the balance adjustment time,

is of

(ii) the surplus entitlement percentage, immediately after the time of the latest of the transactions referred to in paragraphs (5)(a), (b) and (c), of the predecessor corporation or the acquiring corporation, as the case may be, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the particular relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately after that time.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 2(5), will amend subsec. 5905(6) to read as above, applicable in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which the amendments to s. 5902 apply.

Technical Notes: Subsection 5905(6) applies when there has been a non-arm's length disposition of shares of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada to another corporation resident in Canada. Subsection 5905(6) is being replaced with proposed subsection 5905(6) that requires adjustments of surplus accounts of the foreign affiliate in respect of elections, under subsection 93(1) of the Act, made by the corporation resident in Canada with respect to the disposition of shares of a foreign affiliate of the corporation.

Proposed new subsection 5905(6) provides that, for the purpose of subsection 5905(5), certain rules apply.

- Where paragraph 5905(5)(a) applies and the predecessor corporation referred to in that paragraph is, because of an election made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act, deemed to have received a dividend (in this subsection and subsections 5905(18) and (21), the "disposition dividend") on one or more of the shares (each of which is referred to in this subsection and in subsections 5905(16) to (23) as a "disposed share") of the particular foreign affiliate (the "issuing foreign affiliate") disposed of, at that time, in the transaction for the purposes of the adjustment required by paragraph 5905(6)(b), — in computing the exempt surplus, in respect of the predecessor corporation, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate at the time (in this subsection and subsections 5905(16) to (22), the "balance adjustment time") that is immediately before the disposition time, the following rules apply:

- if certain conditions set out in clause 5905(6)(a)(i)(A) are met, there is included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the portion of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the predecessor corporation, at the balance adjustment time, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the predecessor corporation, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

B is the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the predecessor corporation, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the portion of the disposition dividend that is, because of an election made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, received on the disposed shares by the person that disposed of those shares, that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(a) to have been paid out of the issuing foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the predecessor corporation, and

D is the surplus entitlement percentage of the predecessor corporation in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate at the balance adjustment time, determined on the assumption that the disposed shares were the only shares owned by the predecessor corporation at that time,

- if the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, for either B or D in the formula is nil, the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, by the formula is deemed to be nil,

- there is included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada if the particular foreign affiliate has an amount of exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada and the issuing foreign affiliate's (see subsection 5902(1)) consolidated exempt deficit equals or exceeds its consolidated exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the shares,

- there is included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the relevant foreign affiliate's taxable deficit allocation in respect of the disposed shares,

— in computing the taxable surplus, in respect of a predecessor corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, the following rules apply:

- there is included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the amount determined by the formula

$$A/B \times C/D$$

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the predecessor corporation, at the balance adjustment time, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the predecessor corporation, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

B is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the predecessor corporation, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the portion, of the disposition dividend that is, because of an election made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, received on the disposed shares by the person that disposed of those shares, that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) to have been paid out of the issuing foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the predecessor corporation, and

D is the surplus entitlement percentage of the predecessor corporation in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate at the balance adjustment time, determined on the assumption that the disposed shares were the only shares owned by the predecessor corporation at that time,

- if the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate for either B or D in the formula is nil, the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, by the formula is deemed to be nil,

- there is included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada if the particular foreign affiliate has an amount of taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident and the issuing corporation's (see subsection 5902(1)) consolidated taxable deficit equals or exceeds its consolidated taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the disposition of the shares,

- there is included in subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the particular relevant foreign affiliate's exempt deficit allocation in respect of the disposed shares,

— in computing the underlying foreign tax, in respect of the predecessor corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, the following rules apply:

- there is included under subparagraph (iii) of the description of B in the definition "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), an amount determined by the formula

$$A/B \times C/D$$

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's underlying foreign tax, in respect of the predecessor corporation, at the balance adjustment time, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the predecessor corporation, in respect of the disposition,

B is the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the predecessor corporation, in respect of the disposition,

C is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, determined by paragraph 5900(1)(d), to be the amount of foreign tax applicable to the portion of the disposition dividend prescribed to have been paid out of the taxable surplus of the issuing foreign affiliate, that relates to a disposed share, in respect of the disposition, and

D is the surplus entitlement percentage of the predecessor corporation in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate at the balance adjustment time, determined on the assumption that the disposed shares were the only shares owned by the predecessor corporation at that time,

- if the amount determined above, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, for either B or D in the formula is nil, the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate by the formula is deemed to be nil,

- there is to be included under subparagraph (iii) of the description of B in the definition "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), an amount determined by the formula

$$A \times (B + C)/D$$

where

A is the underlying foreign tax in respect of the predecessor corporation of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time,

B is the amount determined under clause 5905(6)(a)(ii)(C) in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of disposed shares,

C is the exempt deficit allocation, in respect of the predecessor corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

D is the taxable surplus in respect of the predecessor corporation of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, — in computing the exempt deficit, in respect of the predecessor corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, there is included under subparagraph (viii) of the description of A in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the exempt deficit, in respect of the predecessor corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, immediately before that time, and — in computing the taxable deficit, in respect of the predecessor corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, there shall be included under subparagraph (vi) of the description of A in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the taxable deficit, in respect of the predecessor corporation, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, immediately before that time.

- New paragraph 5905(6)(b) provides that the exempt surplus or the exempt deficit, the taxable surplus or the taxable deficit and the underlying foreign tax in respect of a predecessor corporation (within the meaning assigned by subsection 5905(5)) and in respect of the acquiring corporation (within the meaning assigned by subsection 5905(5)) of a particular relevant foreign affiliate is, at the balance adjustment time, to be adjusted to the proportion of the amount of the surplus, deficit or underlying foreign tax determined without reference to this paragraph that — the surplus entitlement percentage at the balance adjustment time of the corporation immediately before the time of the latest of the transactions referred to in paragraphs 5905(5)(a), (b) and (c) of the predecessor corporation or the acquiring corporation, as the case may be, in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate, determined on the assumptions

- that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included the balance adjustment time had ended immediately before that time, and

- where the transaction is a disposition referred to in paragraph 5905(5)(a), that the shares referred to therein were the only shares owned by the predecessor corporation at the balance adjustment time,

is of

— the surplus entitlement percentage immediately after the time of the latest of the transactions referred to in paragraphs 5905(5)(a), (b) and (c) of the acquiring corporation in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately after that time.

Example — Subsection 5905(6)

Facts

1. Canco, a corporation resident in Canada, owns 100% of Cansub, another corporation resident in Canada.

2. Canco owns 90% of FA1.

3. Cansub owns 10% of FA1.

4. FA1 owns 100% of FA2.

5. Both FA1 and FA2 are foreign affiliates of Canco and Subco.

6. Canco transfers 10% of the shares of FA1 to Cansub under section 85(1) of the Act, electing under section 93(1) of the Act at a designated amount of $10 in respect of the disposed shares.

7. At the time of the transfer, FA1 has exempt surplus of $0, exempt deficit of $400, taxable surplus of $0, taxable deficit of $0 and underlying foreign tax ("UFT") of $0.

8. At the time of the transfer, FA2 has exempt surplus of $0, exempt deficit of $0, taxable surplus of $500, taxable deficit of $0 and UFT of $300.

9. All the corporations have only issued 100 shares of one class.

Application of paragraph 5905(6)(a)

Paragraph 5905(6)(a) applies to adjust the exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit and UFT of each of FA2 and FA3.

For an illustration of the calculation of consolidated exempt surplus, consolidated exempt deficit, consolidated taxable surplus, consolidated taxable deficit and consolidated UFT, see the example in the commentary to subsection 5902(1) of the Regulations.

This example focuses on FA2.

Application of paragraph 5905(6)(a) to FA2

FA2 has amounts of taxable surplus and UFT and those amounts must be adjusted.

The taxable surplus, in respect of Canco, of FA2 is $500 - $100 - $400 = $0.

The UFT, in respect of Canco, of FA2 is $300-($60 + $240) = $0.

1. Taxable Surplus Reduction — 5905(6)(a)(ii)(A)

The taxable surplus reduction is the amount determined by the formula

$$A/B \times C/D = $500 / $500 \times $10 / 10\% = $100$$

where

A is the taxable surplus, in respect of Canco, of FA2 that was included in consolidated taxable surplus, in respect of Canco, of FA1 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($500)

B is the consolidated taxable surplus, in respect Canco, of FA1 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($500)

C is the portion of the subsection 93(1) dividend in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) of the regulations to have been paid out of taxable surplus in respect of Canco ($10)

D is the surplus entitlement percentage of Canco determined on the assumption that the disposed shares were the only shares owned by Canco (10%).

2. Exempt deficit allocation — 5905(6)(a)(ii)(D)

The amount of FA2's exempt deficit allocation is determined by the formula

$$1/E \times (A–B) \times C/D$$

$$1 / 100\% \times ($400 – 0) \times $500 / $300 = $400$$

where

A is the consolidated exempt deficit, in respect of Canco, of FA1 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($400)

B is the consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of Canco, of FA1 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($0)

C is the taxable surplus, in respect of Canco, of FA2 that was included in consolidated taxable surplus, in respect of Canco, of FA1 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($500)

D is the consolidated taxable surplus in respect of Canco of FA1 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($500)

E is the surplus entitlement percentage of FA1 in FA2 (100%).

UFT — FA2

1. UFT Reduction — 5905(6)(a)(iii)(A)

The UFT is to be reduced by the amount determined by the formula

$$A/B \times C/D = $300 / $300 \times $6 / 10\% = $60$$

where

A is the UFT, in respect of Canco, of FA2 that was included in consolidated UFT, in respect of Canco, of FA1 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($300)

B is the consolidated UFT, in respect of Canco, of FA1 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($300)

C is the amount prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(d) to be the UFT, in respect of Canco, applicable to the subsection 93(1) dividend on the disposed shares paid out of the taxable surplus of FA1 ($6)

D is the surplus entitlement percentage of Canco in FA2 on the assumption that only the disposed shares were owned by Canco (10%).

2. UFT Reduction — 5905(6)(a)(iii)(C) and (D)

The UFT is to be reduced by the amount determined by the formula

$$A \times B + C/D = $300 \times $\ 400/$500 = $240$$

where

A is the UFT, in respect of Canco, of FA2 that was included in consolidated UFT, in respect of Canco, of FA1 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($300)

B is the amount determined under clause 5905(6)(a)(ii)(C) in respect of FA2 in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares ($0)

C is the exempt deficit allocation of FA2 in respect of the disposed shares ($400)

D is the amount of taxable surplus of FA2 that was included in computing the consolidated UFT, in respect of Canco, of FA1 determined under subsection 5902(1) ($500).

History: The opening words of subparas. 5905(6)(a)(i), (ii) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsecs. 7(5), (6), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the subparas. as amended apply to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

For earlier history, see at end of s. 5905.

(7) [Liquidation or dissolution of FA] — Where at any time there has been a dissolution of a foreign affiliate (in this subsection referred to as the "dissolved affiliate") of a corporation resident in Canada and paragraph 95(2)(e.1) of the Act is applicable in respect of the dissolution, each other foreign affiliate of the corporation that had a direct equity percentage in the dissolved affiliate immediately before that time shall, for the purposes of computing its exempt surplus or exempt deficit, taxable surplus or taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation, be deemed to have received dividends immediately before that time the aggregate of which is equal to the amount it might reasonably have expected to receive if the dissolved affiliate had, immediately before that time, paid dividends the aggregate of which on all shares of its capital stock was equal to the amount of its net surplus in respect of the corporation immediately before that time, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the dissolved affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5905(7)–(7.4)

(7) [Liquidation or dissolution of FA] — If paragraph 95(2)(e) or (e.1) of the Act applies to a liquidation and a dissolution of a foreign affiliate (in this subsection and subsections (7.1) to (7.4) referred to as the "disposing foreign affiliate") of a corporation resident in Canada,

(a) where paragraph 95(2)(e.1) of the Act so applies, for the purpose of computing the exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation, of each other foreign affiliate of the corporation that has a direct equity percentage in the disposing foreign affiliate immediately before the specified time, it is deemed

(i) to have received, immediately before that time, dividends the total of which is equal to the amount that it could reasonably have expected to receive if the disposing foreign affiliate had, immediately before the specified time, paid dividends on all shares of its capital stock the total of which was equal to the sum of its exempt surplus, if any, and its taxable surplus, if any, in respect of the corporation immediately before that time,

(ii) to have received, immediately before that time, dividends prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(a) to have been paid out of the exempt surplus of the disposing foreign affiliate the total of which is equal to that proportion of the total of the dividends deemed, under subparagraph (i), to have been received by it that the amount, immediately before that time, of the exempt surplus in respect of the corporation of the disposing foreign affiliate, referred to in subparagraph (i), is of the total of the amount, immediately before that time, of exempt surplus and the taxable surplus in respect of the corporation of the disposing foreign affiliate, referred to in subparagraph (i), and

(iii) to have received dividends prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) to have been paid out of the taxable surplus of the disposing foreign affiliate the total of which is equal to the amount, if any, by which the total of the dividends deemed to be received by it under subparagraph (i) exceeds the total of the dividends deemed by subparagraph (ii) to be dividends that have been prescribed to have been paid out of the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation, of the disposing foreign affiliate;

(b) where paragraph 95(2)(e) or (e.1) of the Act so applies, the amount, in respect of the corporation, of the exempt deficit of each other foreign affiliate of the corporation that had a direct equity percentage in the disposing foreign affiliate immediately before the specified time is to be, immediately before that time, increased by the total of

(i) its proportionate share of the exempt deficit, if any, of the disposing foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation immediately before that time, and

(ii) the amount, if any, by which

(A) its proportionate share of the exempt deficit, if any, of the disposing foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation immediately before that time,

exceeds

(B) the amount of the decrease, determined under paragraph (d), to the amount of its exempt surplus in respect of the corporation immediately before that time;

(c) the amount, in respect of the corporation, of the taxable deficit of each other foreign affiliate of the corporation that had a direct equity percentage in the disposing foreign affiliate immediately before the specified time is to be, immediately before that time, increased by the total of

(i) its proportionate share of the taxable deficit, if any, of the disposing foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation immediately before that time, and

(ii) the amount, if any, by which

(A) its proportionate share of the taxable deficit, if any, of the disposing foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation immediately before that time,

exceeds

(B) the amount of the decrease, determined under paragraph (e), to the amount of its taxable surplus in respect of the corporation;

(d) the amount, in respect of the corporation, of the exempt surplus of each other foreign affiliate of the corporation that had a direct equity percentage in the disposing foreign affiliate immediately before the specified time is to be, immediately before that time, decreased by the lesser of

(i) its proportionate share of the exempt deficit, if any, of the disposing foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation immediately before that time, and

(ii) the amount of its exempt surplus in respect of the corporation as otherwise determined under the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1); and

(e) the amount, in respect of the corporation, of the taxable surplus of each other foreign affiliate of the corporation that had a direct equity percentage in the disposing foreign affiliate immediately before the specified time is to be, immediately before that time, decreased by the lesser of

(i) its proportionate share of the taxable deficit, if any, of the disposing foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation immediately before that time, and

(ii) the amount of its taxable surplus in respect of the corporation as otherwise determined under the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1).

Technical Notes: Subsection 5905(7) applies where a foreign affiliate (the "disposing foreign affiliate") of a corporation resident in Canada dissolves in circumstances where paragraph 95(2)(e.1) of the Act applies in respect of the dissolution.

Paragraph 95(2)(e.1) of the Act provides for the rollover of capital property, of a disposing foreign affiliate, to another foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada on a liquidation and a dissolution of the disposing foreign affiliate where certain conditions have been met. One of the conditions is that, immediately before the liquidation, the corporation resident in Canada's surplus entitlement percentage in respect of the disposing foreign affiliate was not less than 90%. Another is that the liquidation is not taxable in the country where the disposing foreign affiliate resides.

Subsection 5905(7) provides that each other foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada that has a direct equity percentage in the disposing foreign affiliate immediately before the time of the dissolution is, for the purposes of computing its exempt surplus, taxable surplus, exempt deficit, taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax balances in respect of the corporation, deemed to have received, immediately before that time, dividends from the disposing affiliate of the amount that that other affiliate could reasonably be expected to have received if the disposing foreign affiliate had paid dividends equal to the amount of its net surplus in respect of the corporation immediately before that time.

Subsection 5905(7) is to be amended in the following ways.

First, it is proposed that subsection 5905(7) be amended to include liquidations and dissolutions to which paragraph 95(2)(e) of the Act apply, in addition to liquidations and dissolutions subject to paragraph 95(2)(e.1). This amendment applies for all portions of the amended subsection, save for the deeming of the dividend, which is not necessary in the case of a foreign affiliate holding shares in a liquidating or dissolving affiliate to which paragraph 95(2)(e) does not apply.

Second, the conditions under which subsection 5905(7) applies are proposed to be amended to refer to a "liquidation and a dissolution" to better track the language in paragraph 95(2)(e.1) of the Act.

Third, the subsection is to be amended so that, where paragraph 95(2)(e) applies to a liquidation and dissolution, the dividend deemed by that subsection to have been received is considered to have been received immediately before the "specified time". The expression "specified time" is defined in new subsection 5905(7.1) to mean the time that is the earlier of

- the time at which the disposing foreign affiliate was dissolved, and
- the time of the earliest distribution of property as part of the liquidation and the dissolution of the disposing foreign affiliate.

Fourth, the subsection is to be amended to deal with the case where the disposing foreign affiliate has an exempt deficit or taxable deficit in respect of the corporation immediately before the specified time. These amendments ensure that, where paragraph 95(2)(e) or (e.1) applies to the liquidation and dissolution, of the disposing foreign affiliate

- the exempt deficit in respect of the corporation of each other foreign affiliate of the corporation that held a direct equity percentage in the disposing foreign affiliate is, immediately before the specified time, increased by the sum of that other affiliate's proportionate share of the disposing foreign affiliate's exempt deficit in respect of the corporation, immediately before that time, and the amount by which its proportionate share of the exempt deficit of the disposing foreign affiliate immediately before that time exceeds the amount of the decrease (determined under paragraph 5905(7)(d)) to the amount of its exempt surplus in respect of the corporation,
- the taxable deficit in respect of the corporation of each other foreign affiliate of the corporation that held a direct equity percentage in the disposing foreign affiliate is, immediately before the specified time, increased by the sum of that other affiliate's proportionate share of the disposing foreign affiliate's taxable deficit in respect of the corporation and the amount by which its proportionate share of the taxable deficit of the disposing foreign affiliate immediately before that time, exceeds the amount of the decrease (determined under paragraph 5905(7)(e)) to the amount of its taxable surplus in respect of the corporation,
- the exempt surplus in respect of the corporation of each other foreign affiliate of the corporation that held a direct equity percentage in the disposing foreign affiliate is, immediately before the specified time, decreased by the least of that other affiliate's proportionate share of the disposing foreign affiliate's exempt deficit in respect of the corporation and the amount of its exempt surplus in respect of the corporation, as determined under the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), and
- the taxable surplus in respect of the corporation of each other foreign affiliate of the corporation that held a direct equity percentage in the disposing foreign affiliate is, immediately before the specified time, decreased by the least of that other affiliate's proportionate share of the disposing foreign affiliate's taxable deficit in respect of the corporation and the amount of its taxable surplus in respect of the corporation, as determined under the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1).

Related Provisions: Reg. 5905(7.1) — Specified time; Reg. 5905(7.2)–(7.4) — Interpretation rules.

(7.1) ["Specified time"] — The specified time in relation to a liquidation and a dissolution of a foreign affiliate mentioned in subsection (7) is the time that is the earlier of

(a) the time of dissolution of the disposing foreign affiliate, and

(b) the time of the earliest distribution of property as part of the liquidation and the dissolution of the disposing foreign affiliate.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5905(7.1) provides, for the purpose of subsection 5905(5), a definition of the expression "specified time". For more detail, see the commentary to subsection 5905(7) above.

(7.2) [Interpretation for Reg. 5905(7)] — For the purpose of subsection (7), the exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax of the disposing foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation at any time is to be determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the disposing foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time.

(7.3) [Interpretation for Reg. 5905(7)(b), (d)] — For the purpose of paragraphs (7)(b) and (d), a foreign affiliate's proportionate share of the exempt deficit, if any, of the disposing affiliate in respect of the corporation at any time is equal to the amount it could reasonably have expected to receive if the disposing foreign affiliate had, immediately before that time, paid a dividend equal to the amount of its exempt deficit, if any, in respect of the corporation.

(7.4) [Interpretation for Reg. 5905(7)(c), (e)] — For the purposes of paragraphs (7)(c) and (e), a foreign affiliate's proportionate share of the taxable deficit, if any, of the disposing foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation at any time is equal to the amount it could reasonably have expected to receive if the disposing foreign affiliate had, immediately before that time, paid a dividend equal to the amount of its taxable deficit, if any, in respect of the corporation.

Technical Notes: New subsections 5905(7.2) to (7.4) provide for the following rules in relation to section 5905(7):

- For the purposes of subsection 5905(7), the exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax of the disposing foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation at any time is to be determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the disposing foreign affiliate that would otherwise have included that time had ended immediately before that time (subsection 5905(7.2));
- For the purposes of paragraphs 5905(7)(a) and (b), a foreign affiliate's proportionate share of the exempt deficit, if any, of the disposing foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation at any time is equal to the amount it could reasonably have expected to receive if the disposing foreign affiliate had, immediately before that time, paid a dividend equal to the amount of its exempt deficit, if any, in respect of the corporation (subsection 5905(7.3)); and
- For the purposes of paragraphs 5905(7)(c) and (d), a foreign affiliate's proportionate share of the taxable deficit, if any, of the disposing foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation at any time is equal to the amount it could reasonably have expected to receive if the disposing foreign affiliate had, immediately before that time, paid a dividend equal to the amount of its taxable deficit, if any, in respect of the corporation (subsection 5905(7.4)).

New subsections 5905(7) to (7.4) ensure that the exempt deficit and the taxable deficit of the disposing foreign affiliate of a group of affiliates in respect of a taxpayer are absorbed by the other foreign affiliates in the group.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 2(6), will amend subsec. 5905(7) to read as above and add subsecs. (7.1) to (7.4), applicable in respect of dissolutions that occur after December 20, 2002.

(8) [Where dividend due to election under ITA 93(1) or (1.2)] — Where at any time a dividend is, by virtue of an election made by a corporation under subsection 93(1) of the Act, deemed to have been received on one or more shares of a class of the capital stock of a particular foreign affiliate of the corporation disposed of to the corporation or another foreign affiliate of the corporation, the following rules apply:

(a) for the purposes of the adjustment required by paragraph (b),

(i) immediately before that time there shall be included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1 in computing the particular affiliate's exempt surplus or exempt deficit, as the case may be, in respect of the corporation an amount equal to the product obtained when the specified adjustment factor in respect of the disposition is multiplied by the total of all amounts each of which is the portion of any such dividend that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(a) to have been paid out of the exempt surplus of the particular affiliate,

(ii) immediately before that time there shall be included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1) in computing the particular affiliate's taxable surplus or taxable deficit, as the case may be, in respect of the corporation an amount equal to the product obtained when the specified adjustment factor in respect of the disposition is multiplied by the total of all amounts each of which is the portion of any such dividend that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) to have been paid out of the taxable surplus of the particular affiliate, and

(iii) immediately before that time there shall be deducted from the amount, if any, otherwise determined to be the underlying foreign tax of the particular affiliate in respect of the corporation an amount equal to the product obtained when the specified adjustment factor in respect of the disposition is multiplied by the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the amount prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(d) to be the foreign tax applicable to such portion of any such dividend as is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) to have been paid out of the taxable surplus of the particular affiliate, and, for the purposes of subparagraphs (i) to (iii), the specified adjustment factor in respect of the disposition is the amount equal to the quotient obtained when

(iv) where the person disposing of the shares is the corporation, 100 per cent, and

(v) where the person disposing of the shares is another foreign affiliate of the corporation, the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation in respect of that affiliate immediately before the disposition,

is divided by

(vi) the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation in respect of the particular foreign affiliate immediately before that disposition;

(b) the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, the taxable surplus or taxable deficit and the underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation of the particular affiliate and of each other foreign affiliate of the corporation in which the particular affiliate has an equity percentage (in this subsection referred to as the "other affiliate") shall at that time be adjusted to the proportion of the amount thereof otherwise determined that

(i) the surplus entitlement percentage immediately before that time of the corporation in respect of the particular affiliate or the other affiliate, as the case may be, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the particular affiliate or the other affiliate, as the case may be, that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time,

(ii) the surplus entitlement percentage immediately after that time of the corporation in respect of the particular affiliate or the other affiliate, as the case may be, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the particular affiliate or the other affiliate, as the case may be, that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately after that time; and

(c) for the purposes of the definitions "exempt deficit", "exempt surplus", "taxable deficit", "taxable surplus" and "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), the amounts determined under paragraph (b) are referred to as the opening exempt deficit, opening exempt surplus, opening taxable deficit, opening taxable surplus and opening underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, of the particular affiliate and each other affiliate in respect of the corporation resident in Canada.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5905(8)

(8) If, at any time, a dividend (referred to in this subsection and subsections (18) and (21) as the "disposition dividend") is, because of an election made by a corporation resident in Canada under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act, deemed to have been received on one or more shares (each of which is referred to in this subsection and subsections (16) to (23) as a "disposed share") of a class of the capital stock of a particular foreign affiliate (referred to in this subsection as the "issuing foreign affiliate") of the corporation resident in Canada that were disposed (which disposition is referred in this subsection and subsections (16) to (23) as the "disposition") to the corporation resident in Canada or to another corporation that was, immediately after the disposition, a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, the following rules apply:

(a) for the purpose of the adjustment required by paragraph (b),

(i) in computing the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the issuing foreign affiliate or another foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which the issuing foreign affiliate has an equity percentage (the issuing foreign affiliate and each such other foreign affiliate each being referred to in this subsection and subsections (16) to (23) as the "particular relevant foreign affiliate") at the time (referred to in this subsection and subsections (16) to (22) as the "balance adjustment time") that is immediately before the time of the disposition, there is to be included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the total of

(A) an amount equal to the exempt surplus reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares,

(B) an amount equal to the exempt deficit reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares, and

(C) an amount equal to the taxable deficit allocation, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares,

(ii) in computing the taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the total of

(A) an amount equal to the taxable surplus reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares,

(B) an amount equal to the taxable deficit reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares, and

(C) an amount equal to the exempt deficit allocation, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares,

(iii) in computing the underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included under subparagraph (iii) of the description of B in the definition "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), the total of

$$A/B \times C \times D$$

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, that may reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition,

B is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition,

C is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, determined by paragraph 5900(1)(d), to be the amount of foreign tax applicable to the portion of the disposition dividend prescribed to have been paid out of the taxable surplus of the issuing foreign affiliate, that relates to a disposed share, in respect of the disposition, and

D is the specified adjustment factor, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, of the foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada that disposed of the disposed shares, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

(B) the amount of the underlying foreign tax reduction in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

(iv) in computing the exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included under subparagraph (viii) of the description of A in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, immediately before that time, and

(v) in computing the taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included under subparagraph (vi) of the description of A in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), an amount equal to the taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, immediately before that time;

(b) the amount, at the balance adjustment time, of exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate is to be adjusted to become the proportion of that amount, determined without making this adjustment, that

(i) the surplus entitlement percentage, at the balance adjustment time, of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, determined on the assumption that the taxation year, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time, had ended immediately before that time,

is of

(ii) the surplus entitlement percentage, immediately after the time of the disposition, of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, determined on the assumption that the taxation year, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that otherwise would have included the balance adjustment time, had ended at the time of the disposition; and

(c) for the purposes of applying the definitions "exempt deficit", "exempt surplus", "taxable deficit", "taxable surplus" and "underlying foreign tax", in subsection 5907(1), the amounts determined under paragraph (b) are deemed to be the opening exempt deficit, opening exempt surplus, opening taxable deficit, opening taxable surplus, and opening underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 2(7), will amend subsec. 5905(8) to read as above, applicable in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which the amendments to s. 5902 apply.

Technical Notes: Subsection 5905(8) provides rules for determining surplus balances that apply when a corporation resident in Canada elects under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act in respect of a disposition of shares of a foreign affiliate (the issuing affiliate) of the corporation to the corporation or to another corporation that was, immediately after the disposition, a foreign affiliate of the corporation and a dividend is, because of the election, deemed to be received. This subsection is replaced with new subsection 5905(8), to provide for adjustments to surplus accounts in respect of the dividends arising because of the elections under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act.

Proposed new subsection 5905(8) applies if, at any time, a dividend (referred to in this subsection and subsections 5905(18) and (21) as the "disposition dividend") is, because of an election made by a corporation resident in Canada under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act, deemed to have been received on disposed shares of a particular foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada that were disposed of to the corporation resident in Canada or another corporation that was, immediately after the disposition, a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada. It provides the following rules.

- Paragraph 5905(8)(a) sets out a number of adjustments, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, to different surplus accounts, immediately before the disposition of the shares (the "balance adjustment time"), that must be taken into account in determining the adjustment in paragraph 5905(8)(b).

  — In computing the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the issuing foreign affiliate and each other foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in which the issuing affiliate has an equity percentage (the issuing foreign affiliate and each such other foreign affiliate referred to as the "particular relevant foreign affiliate"), immediately before the disposition (the "balance adjustment time"), there is to be included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the aggregate of the exempt surplus reduction, the exempt deficit reduction, and the taxable deficit allocation of that particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares. "Exempt deficit reduction", "exempt surplus reduction" and "taxable deficit allocation" are terms defined in subsections 5905(17), (18), and (19), respectively, and are further described in the commentary to those respective subsections.

  — In computing the taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of each particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time, there is to be included under subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1), the aggregate of the taxable surplus reduction, the taxable deficit reduction, and the exempt deficit allocation of that particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposed shares. "Exempt deficit allocation", "taxable deficit reduction" and "taxable surplus reduction" are terms defined in subsections 5905(16), (20) and (21), respectively.

  — In computing the underlying foreign tax of each particular relevant foreign affiliate there is to be included under subparagraph (iii) of the description of B in the definition "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), the total of

    - the amount determined by the formula

      $$A/B \times C \times D$$

      where

      A is the portion of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in determining the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax (determined in paragraph 5902(1)(c)) as a result of the disposition,

      B is the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated underlying foreign tax (determined in paragraph 5902(1)(c)) as a result of the disposition,

      C is the amount determined under paragraph 5900(1)(c) to be the amount of foreign tax applicable to the portion of the disposition dividend prescribed to have been paid out of the taxable surplus of the issuing foreign affiliate that relates to a disposed share, as a result of the disposition,

      D is the specified adjustment factor (defined in subsection 5905(23)), in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, of the foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada that disposed of the disposed shares, as a result of the disposition of the disposed shares,

      - however, where the amount determined by the B in the formula is nil, the amount determined by the formula is determined to be nil, and

    - an amount equal to the underlying foreign tax reduction in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares.

  — In computing the exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the balance adjustment time of each particular relevant foreign affiliate, there must be added under subparagraph (viii) of the description of A in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1) the amount of the exempt deficit (in respect of the corporation resident in Canada) of that particular relevant foreign affiliate, immediately before the balance adjustment time.

  — In computing the taxable deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the balance adjustment time of each particular relevant foreign affiliate there must be added under subparagraph (vi) of the description of A in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1) the taxable deficit of that particular relevant foreign affiliate, immediately before the balance adjustment time.

- The amount, at the balance adjustment time, of the exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit and underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of each particular relevant foreign affiliate is to be adjusted to the proportion of the amount determined, without making this adjustment, that

  — the surplus entitlement percentage, at the balance adjustment time, of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, if it were determined on the assumption that the taxation year, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time, had ended immediately before the balance adjustment time,

  is of

  — the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately after the disposition, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that otherwise would have included the balance adjustment time, had ended at the time of disposition.

- For the purposes of applying the definitions "exempt deficit", "exempt surplus", "taxable surplus", "taxable deficit" and "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), the amounts determined under paragraph 5905(8)(b) are deemed to be the opening exempt deficit, opening exempt surplus, opening taxable surplus, opening taxable deficit and opening underlying foreign tax, respectively of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada.

Example — Subsection 5905(8)

Facts

1. Canco is a corporation resident in Canada.

2. Canco owns 100% of FA1 and 50% of FA6, and both FA1 and FA6 are foreign affiliates of Canco.

3. FA1 owns 80 shares (80%) of FA2 and FA6 owns 20 shares (20%) of FA2.

4. FA2 owns 70 shares (70%) of FA3, FA3 owns 100% of FA4 and FA4 owns 100% of FA5.

5. FA1 transfers 30 of its shares in FA2 to FA6, and subsection 93(1) of the Act applies to the transfer, regarding which Canco designates $123 as the dividend received by FA1 in respect of the disposed shares.

6. At the time of the transfer, FA2 has an exempt surplus of $200, a taxable surplus of $0, an exempt deficit of $0 and an underlying foreign tax ("UFT") of $0.

7. At the time of the transfer, FA3 has an exempt surplus of $100, a taxable surplus of $75, an exempt deficit of $0 and an UFT of $10.

8. At the time of the transfer, FA4 has an exempt surplus of $0, a taxable surplus of $0, an exempt deficit of $200 and an UFT of $0.

9. At the time of the transfer, FA5 has an exempt surplus of $0, a taxable surplus of $325, an exempt deficit of $0 and an UFT of $200.

10. All the corporations have only issued 100 shares of one class.

Application of subsection 5905(8) — FA5

I. Paragraph 5905(8)(a) — FA5

Paragraph 5905(8)(a) acts to adjust the exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit and UFT in respect of Canco of each of FA2, FA3, FA4 and FA5. This example will focus on FA5.

A. Exempt Surplus — FA5

First, the adjustment to exempt surplus, in respect of Canco, must be determined by subparagraph 5905(8)(a)(i). However, in this example, FA5 has no exempt surplus, so no calculation is necessary.

B. Taxable Surplus — FA5

Second, the adjustment to taxable surplus, in respect of Canco, of FA5 must be determined by subparagraph 5905(8)(a)(ii). The taxable surplus of FA5 will be reduced by the total of the taxable surplus reduction, taxable deficit reduction and exempt deficit allocation.

The taxable surplus of FA5 is determined as $325 - $108.3 = $216.7.

For the calculation of consolidated exempt surplus, consolidated exempt deficit, consolidated taxable surplus, consolidated taxable deficit and consolidated UFT, see the example in the commentary to subsection 5902(1) of the Regulations.

1. Taxable surplus reduction — FA5

The taxable surplus reduction, in respect of Canco, of FA5 in respect of the disposed shares is the amount determined by the formula:

$$A/B \times C \times D$$

$$$227.5 / $280 \times $83.99 \times 1.587 = $108.3$$

where

A is the portion of FA5's taxable surplus, in respect of Canco, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in the consolidated taxable surplus of FA2 ($325 x .7 = $227.5)

B is the consolidated taxable surplus, in respect of Canco, of FA2 in respect of the disposition of the FA2 shares ($280)

C is the portion of the disposition dividend received by FA1 on the disposed shares, because of the election under section 93(1) of the Act, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) to have been paid out of the consolidated taxable surplus of FA2 ($280 / $410 x $123 = $83.99)

D is the specified adjustment factor, in respect of Canco, in respect of FA2, of FA1 (100% / 63% = 1.587).

2.Taxable deficit reduction — FA5

There is no consolidated taxable deficit, in respect of Canco, of FA2. Consequently, there is no taxable deficit reduction, in respect of Canco, in respect of FA5.

3. Exempt deficit allocation — FA5

There is no consolidated exempt deficit in excess of consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of Canco, of FA2. Consequently, there is no exempt deficit allocation, in respect of Canco, in respect of FA5.

C. Underlying foreign tax — FA5

The adjustment to the UFT, in respect of Canco, must be determined by subparagraph 5905(8)(a)(iii). The UFT of FA5 will be reduced by the total of the UFT of FA5 related to any of the taxable surplus reduction, taxable deficit reduction and exempt deficit allocation in respect of Canco of FA5.

The underlying foreign tax in respect of Canco of FA5 is determined to be $133.35 ($200 - $66.65 = 133.35).

1. Underlying foreign tax applicable to subsection 93(1) dividend

The reduction of the underlying foreign tax of FA5 related to the taxable surplus reduction is determined by the formula:

$$A/B \times C \times D = $140 / $147 \times $44.1 \times 1.587 = $66.65$$

where

A is the portion of the UFT in respect of Canco of FA5 that is included in computing the consolidated UFT in respect of Canco of FA2 ($200 x .7 = $140)

B is the consolidated UFT in respect of Canco of FA2 (($200 + $10) x .7 = $147)

C is the amount, determined pursuant to paragraph 5900(1)(d), of the consolidated underlying foreign tax applicable to the disposition dividend that relates to disposed shares that is prescribed to have been paid out of taxable surplus ($147 x $84 / $280 = $44.1)

D is the specified adjustment factor in respect of Canco in respect of FA5 of FA1 (100% / 63% = 1.587).

D. Exempt deficit reduction

The adjustment to the exempt deficit, in respect of Canco, of FA5 would be determined by subparagraph 5905(8)(a)(iv). However, as FA5 has no exempt deficit, no adjustment is necessary.

E. Taxable deficit reduction

The adjustment to the taxable deficit, in respect of Canco, of FA5 would be determined by subparagraph 5905(8)(a)(v). However, as FA5 has no taxable deficit, no adjustment is necessary.

II. Paragraph 5905(8)(b) adjustment — FA5

Paragraph 5905(8)(b) acts to adjust the exempt surplus, exempt deficit, taxable surplus, taxable deficit and UFT in respect of Canco of each of FA2, FA3, FA4 and FA5. This example will focus on FA5.

As FA5 has only taxable surplus and UFT, it is only those accounts that will be adjusted.

The taxable surplus and UFT of FA5 is adjusted to be the proportion of the amounts determined above that the surplus entitlement percentage of Canco in respect of FA5, at the balance adjustment time, (determined on the assumption that FA5 had a taxation year ending immediately before that time) is of the surplus entitlement percentage of Canco in respect of FA5, immediately after the disposition, (determined on the assumption that FA5 had a taxation year ending immediately at the time of disposition).

Thus, FA5's opening balances after the transaction are as follows:

- taxable surplus in respect of Canco is $260.04
- UFT in respect of Canco is $160.02

A.Taxable surplus

$$$216.7 \times 63 / 52.5 = $260.04$$

B. Underlying foreign tax

$$$133.35 \times 63 / 52.5 = $160.02$$

History: Subparas. 5905(8)(a)(i), (ii) and para. (8)(c), amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsecs. 7(7), (8), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the subparas. and para. as amended apply to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

For earlier history, see at end of s. 5905.

(9) [Where surplus entitlement percentage decreases] — Where at any time a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada (in this subsection referred to as the "issuing affiliate") issues shares of a class of its capital stock to a person other than the corporation or another foreign affiliate of the corporation and as a result thereof the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation in respect of the issuing affiliate decreases, for the purposes of this Part, the exempt surplus or exempt deficit, the taxable surplus or taxable deficit and the underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation, of the issuing affiliate and of each other foreign affiliate of the corporation in which the issuing affiliate has an equity percentage (in this subsection referred to as the "other affiliate") shall at that time be increased to the proportion of the amount thereof otherwise determined that as the case may be, that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time,

(a) the surplus entitlement percentage immediately before that time of the corporation in respect of the issuing affiliate or the other affiliate, as the case may be, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the issuing affiliate or the other affiliate,

is of

(b) the surplus entitlement percentage immediately after that time of the corporation in respect of the issuing affiliate or other affiliate, as the case may be, determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the issuing affiliate or the other affiliate, as the case may be, that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately after that time,

and, for the purposes of the definitions "exempt deficit", "exempt surplus", "taxable deficit", "taxable surplus" and "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1), those increased amounts are referred to as the opening exempt deficit, opening exempt surplus, opening taxable deficit, opening taxable surplus and opening underlying foreign tax, as the case may be, of each of those affiliates in respect of the corporation resident in Canada.

History: The closing words of 5905(9) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsec. 7(9), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the portion as amended applies to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

For earlier history, see at end of s. 5905.

(10) ["Surplus entitlement"] — For the purposes of this section, the surplus entitlement at any time of a share owned by a corporation resident in Canada of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of the corporation in respect of a particular foreign affiliate of the corporation is the portion of

(a) the amount that would have been received on the share if the foreign affiliate had at that time paid dividends the aggregate of which on all shares of its capital stock was equal to the amount that would be its net surplus in respect of the corporation at that time assuming that

(i) each other foreign affiliate of the corporation in which the foreign affiliate had an equity percentage had immediately before that time paid a dividend equal to its net surplus in respect of the corporation immediately before the dividend was paid, and

(ii) any dividend referred to in subparagraph (i) that would be received by another foreign affiliate was received by such other foreign affiliate immediately before any such dividend that it would have paid,

that may reasonably be considered to relate to

(b) the amount that would be the net surplus of the particular affiliate in respect of the corporation at that time assuming that

(i) each other foreign affiliate of the corporation in which the particular affiliate had an equity percentage had immediately before that time paid a dividend equal to its net surplus in respect of the corporation immediately before the dividend was paid, and

(ii) any dividend referred to in subparagraph (i) that would be received by another foreign affiliate was received by such other foreign affiliate immediately before any such dividend that it would have paid.

Related Provisions: Reg. 5905(11), (12) — Interpretation.

(11) [Interpretation for Reg. 5905(10)] — For the purposes of subsection (10),

(a) in determining the net surplus of, or the amount of a dividend received by, a particular foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada in which any other foreign affiliate of the taxpayer has an equity percentage, no amount shall be included in respect of any distribution that would be received by the particular affiliate from such other affiliate; and

(b) if any foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada has issued shares of more than one class of its capital stock, the amount that would be paid as a dividend on the shares of any class is such portion of its net surplus as, in the circumstances, it might reasonably be expected to have paid on all the shares of that class.

(12) [Interpretation for Reg. 5905(10)] — Notwithstanding any other provision of this Part, for the purposes of determining under subsection (10) the net surplus of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada in respect of the corporation at any time in a taxation year of the affiliate that would otherwise have included that time (in this subsection referred to as the "normal year"), the exempt earnings or loss and the taxable earnings or loss required to be included in computing the net surplus in respect of any taxation year of the affiliate that is assumed for the purposes of a provision of this section to have ended at that time shall be deemed to be that proportion of such amounts determined for the normal year that the number of days in the taxation year assumed to have ended at that time is of the number of days in the normal year.

(13) ["Surplus entitlement percentage"] — For the purposes of the definition "surplus entitlement percentage" in subsection 95(1) of the Act and of this Part, the surplus entitlement percentage at any time of a corporation resident in Canada in respect of a particular foreign affiliate of the corporation is,

(a) where the particular affiliate and each corporation that is relevant to the determination of the corporation's equity percentage in the particular affiliate have only one class of issued shares at that time, the percentage that is the corporation's equity percentage in the particular affiliate at that time, and

(b) in any other case, the proportion of 100 that

(i) the aggregate of all amounts, each of which is the surplus entitlement at that time of a share owned by the corporation of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of the corporation in respect of the particular foreign affiliate of the corporation

is of

(ii) the amount determined under paragraph (10)(b) to be the net surplus of the particular affiliate in respect of the corporation at that time, except that where the amount determined under subparagraph (ii) is nil, the percentage determined under this paragraph shall be the corporation's equity percentage in the particular affiliate at that time, and, for the purposes of this subsection, "equity percentage" has the meaning that would be assigned by subsection 95(4) of the Act if the reference in paragraph (b) of the definition "equity percentage" in that subsection to "any corporation" were read as a reference to "any corporation other than a corporation resident in Canada".

History: The opening and closing words of 5905(13) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsecs. 7(10), (11), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the portions as amended apply to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5905(14), (15)

(14) [Where ITA 93.1(1) applies] — For the purpose of this section, where the number of shares of a class of the capital of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada deemed by subsection 93.1(1) of the Act to be owned by a person at a particular time is different from the number so deemed immediately before the particular time

(a) if the number of shares of that class deemed to be owned by the person has decreased, the person is deemed to have disposed of, at the particular time, the number of shares of that class equal to the amount of the decrease;

(b) if the number of shares of that class deemed to be owned by the person has increased, the person is deemed to have acquired, at the particular time, the number of shares of that class equal to the amount of the increase;

(c) a person (in this paragraph referred to as the "seller") that is deemed by paragraph (a) to have disposed of, at a particular time, shares of a class is deemed to have disposed of those shares to the persons (in this paragraph referred to as the "acquirers") deemed in paragraph (b) to have acquired shares of that class at that time and the number of shares of that class deemed to have been acquired at that time by a particular acquirer from the seller shall be determined by the formula

where

A is the number of shares of that class acquired by the particular acquirer at that time,

B is the number of shares of that class disposed of by the seller at that time, and

C is the number of shares of that class acquired by all acquirers at that time; and

(d) persons (in this paragraph referred to as the "acquirers") that are deemed by paragraph (b) to have acquired, at a particular time, shares of a class are deemed to have acquired those shares from a person (in this paragraph referred to as the "seller") deemed in paragraph (a) to have disposed of shares of that class at that time and the number of shares of that class deemed to have been disposed of by the seller to a particular acquirer at that time shall be determined by the formula

A(B/C)

where

A is the number of shares of that class disposed of by the seller,

B is the number of shares of that class acquired by the particular acquirer at that time, and

C is the number of shares of that class time disposed of by all sellers at that time.

Technical Notes: New subsection 93.1(1) of the Act deems, for certain purposes, a member of a partnership to own its proportionate number of shares of a non-resident corporation held by a partnership. New subsection 5905(14) of the Regulations applies where the number of shares of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada deemed to be owned by a person under subsection 93.1(1) increases or decreases.

Where the number of shares deemed to be held by the person has decreased, the person is deemed to have disposed of shares to the extent of the decrease. Where the number of shares deemed to be held by the person has increased, the person is deemed to have acquired shares to the extent of the increase. Persons that are treated as having acquired shares of class are treated as having acquired those shares proportionately from persons that are treated as having disposed of shares of that class and vice versa.

(15) [Equity percentage, surplus entitlement and surplus entitlement percentage — shares owned by partnership] — In determining,

(a) for the purpose of this Part (other than section 5904), the equity percentage at any time of a person in a corporation,

(b) for the purpose of this section, the surplus entitlement at any time of a share owned by a corporation resident in Canada of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of the corporation in respect of a particular foreign affiliate of the corporation, and

(c) for the purposes of this Part and of the definition "surplus entitlement percentage" in subsection 95(1) of the Act, the surplus entitlement percentage at any time of a corporation resident in Canada in respect of a particular foreign affiliate of the corporation, where at any time shares of a class of the capital stock of a corporation are owned by a partnership or are deemed under this subsection to be owned by a partnership, those shares are deemed to be owned at that time by each member of the partnership in a proportion equal to the proportion of all such shares that

(d) the fair market value of the member's interests in the partnership at that time

is of

(e) the fair market value of all members' interest in the partnership at that time.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5905(15) applies to determine the equity percentage (other than for section 5904), surplus entitlement of a share and the surplus entitlement percentage at any time of a corporation resident in Canada in respect of a particular foreign affiliate of the corporation where the shares of the foreign affiliate are property of a partnership. Each member of the partnership is deemed to own that proportion of the number of the shares held by the partnership that the fair market value of the member's interest in the partnership is of the fair market value of all the members' interests in the partnership.

Application: The March 16, 2001 draft regulations (foreign affiliates — partnerships), subsec. 3(4), will add subsecs. 5905(14) and (15), applicable after November 1999.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5905(16)–(23)

(16) ["Exempt deficit allocation"] — The exempt deficit allocation, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of a corporation resident in Canada, in respect of disposed shares of the particular foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, that issued the disposed shares (in this subsection referred to as the "issuing foreign affiliate") is, if the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada and the issuing foreign affiliate has, at that time, an amount of consolidated exempt deficit (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(b)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, that exceeds the amount of its consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

(a) the amount determined by the formula

$$1/E \times [(A–B) \times C/D]$$

where

A is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt deficit (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(b)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

B is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the disposition of the disposed shares, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

D is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

E is

(i) subject to subparagraph (ii), the surplus entitlement percentage, of the issuing foreign affiliate, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that would be determined under subsections 5905(10) to (13) at the balance adjustment time if the issuing foreign affiliate were the "corporation resident in Canada" referred to in those subsections and the particular relevant foreign affiliate were the "particular foreign affiliate" referred to in those subsections, and

(ii) if the particular relevant foreign affiliate is the issuing foreign affiliate, 1; and

(b) if the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, for the description of D or E in the formula in paragraph (a) is nil, nil.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5906(16) defines the expression "exempt deficit allocation", which sets out adjustments to a foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of consolidated exempt deficit where consolidated exempt deficit exceeds consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares. The subsection adopts, from subsection 5905(8) of the Regulations, the terms "particular relevant foreign affiliate", "balance adjustment time", and "disposed shares".

The exempt deficit allocation in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of disposed shares of the foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada that issued the disposed shares (the "issuing foreign affiliate") is, if the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada and the issuing foreign affiliate has, at that time, an amount of consolidated exempt deficit (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(b)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, as a result of the disposition of the disposed shares, that exceeds the amount of its consolidated exempt surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, as a result of the disposition of the disposed shares,

- the amount determined by the formula:

$$I/E \times [(A-B) \times C/D]$$

where

A is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt deficit (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(b)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

B is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the disposition of the disposed shares, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, as a result of the disposition of the disposed shares,

D is the amount, if any, by which the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

E is, if the particular relevant foreign affiliate is the issuing foreign affiliate, 1, or, if the particular relevant foreign affiliate is not the issuing foreign affiliate, the surplus entitlement percentage of the issuing foreign affiliate, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that, under subsections 5905(10) to (13), would be determined, at the balance adjustment time, if the issuing foreign affiliate were the "corporation resident in Canada" referred to in those subsections and the particular relevant foreign affiliate were the "particular foreign affiliate" referred to in those subsections; and

- if the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, for the description of either D or E in the formula above is nil, the amount determined by the formula is deemed to be nil.

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

(17) ["Exempt deficit reduction"] — The exempt deficit reduction, in respect of a corporation resident in Canada, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of disposed shares, is

(a) if the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and the particular foreign affiliate, of the corporation resident in Canada, that issued the disposed shares (in this subsection referred to as the "issuing foreign affiliate") has, at the balance adjustment time, consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under subparagraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, that exceeds the amount of its consolidated exempt deficit (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(b)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

(i) the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

B is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt deficit (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(b)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

D is

(A) subject to clause (B), the surplus entitlement percentage, of the issuing foreign affiliate, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that, under subsections 5905(10) to (13), would be determined, at the balance adjustment time, where the issuing foreign affiliate were the "corporation resident in Canada" referred to in those subsections and the particular relevant foreign affiliate were the "particular foreign affiliate" referred to in those subsections, and

(B) where the particular relevant foreign affiliate is the issuing foreign affiliate, 1, and

(ii) if the value determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, for the description of any of A, B or D in the formula in subparagraph (i) is nil, nil; and

(b) the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, if

(i) the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and

(ii) the issuing foreign affiliate has, at that time, an amount of consolidated exempt deficit (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(b)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares that is equal to or greater than the amount of its consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5905(17) defines the expression "exempt deficit reduction", which determines the reduction of the exempt surplus of a particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the consolidated exempt deficit of the issuing foreign affiliate where the issuing foreign affiliate has consolidated exempt surplus in excess of consolidated exempt deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada. The subsection adopts, from subsection 5905(8) of the Regulations, the terms "particular relevant foreign affiliate", "balance adjustment time", and "disposed shares".

The exempt deficit reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of disposed shares is

- if the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and the foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada that issued the disposed shares (the "issuing foreign affiliate") has, at the balance adjustment time, consolidated exempt surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, that exceeds the amount of its consolidated exempt deficit (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(b)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,
  - the amount determined by the following formula

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, at the balance adjustment time, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as that amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

B is the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt deficit (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(b)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

D is, if the particular relevant foreign affiliate is the issuing foreign affiliate, 1, or, in the case where the particular relevant foreign affiliate is not the issuing foreign affiliate, the surplus entitlement percentage of the issuing foreign affiliate, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that, under subsections 5905(10) to (13), would be determined, at the balance adjustment time, if the issuing foreign affiliate were the "corporation resident in Canada" referred to in those subsections and the particular relevant foreign affiliate were the "particular foreign affiliate" referred to in those subsections;

- where the amount determined, in respect of a particular relevant foreign affiliate, for the description of any of A, B or D in the formula is nil, the amount determined by the formula is deemed to be nil; and
- if the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada and the issuing foreign affiliate has an amount of consolidated exempt deficit (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(b)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares that is equal to or greater than the amount of its consolidated exempt surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, the amount of that particular relevant foreign affiliate's exempt surplus.

(18) ["Exempt surplus reduction"] — The exempt surplus reduction in respect of a corporation resident in Canada, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of disposed shares is

(a) the amount determined by the formula

$$A/B \times C \times D$$

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)) of the particular foreign affiliate, of the corporation resident in Canada, that issued the disposed shares (referred to in this subsection as the "issuing foreign affiliate"), in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

B is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the portion of the disposition dividend that is, because of an election made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, received on the disposed shares by the person that disposed of those shares and that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(a) to have been paid out of the issuing foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and

D is the specified adjustment factor, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, of the person that disposed of the disposed shares;

(b) if the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, for either of A or B, in the formula in paragraph (a) is nil, nil; and

(c) if an amount is determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, under paragraph (17)(b), nil.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5905(18) defines the expression "exempt surplus reduction", which determines the reduction of the exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the disposition dividend of the issuing foreign affiliate where the issuing foreign affiliate has consolidated exempt surplus in excess of consolidated exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada. The subsection adopts, from subsection 5905(8) of the Regulations, the terms "particular relevant foreign affiliate", "balance adjustment time", "disposed shares" and "disposition dividend".

The exempt surplus reduction in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of a particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares is

- the amount determined by the formula

$$A/B \times C \times D$$

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the consolidated exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)) of the particular foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada that issued the disposed shares (the "issuing foreign affiliate"),

B is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, as a result of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the portion of the disposition dividend that, because of an election made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act as a result of the disposition of the disposed shares, was received on the disposed shares by the person disposing of them, that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(a) to have been paid out of the issuing foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and

D is the specified adjustment factor (a term also defined in subsection 5905(23)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, of the person that disposed of the disposed shares;

- if either A or B of the formula is determined to be nil in respect of the particular foreign affiliate, the amount determined by the formula is deemed to be nil; and
- if an amount is determined respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, under paragraph (b) of subsection 5905(17) (which subsection defines the expression "exempt deficit reduction"), the amount determined by the formula is deemed to be nil.

(19) ["Taxable deficit allocation"] — The taxable deficit allocation, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada, in respect of disposed shares of the particular foreign affiliate, of the corporation resident in Canada, that issued the disposed shares (in this subsection referred to as the "issuing foreign affiliate") is, if the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada and the issuing foreign affiliate has, at that time, an amount of consolidated taxable deficit (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(d)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, that exceeds the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

(a) the amount determined by the formula

$$1/E \times [(A - B) \times C/D]$$

where

A is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit (as determined under subparagraph 5902(1)(d)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

B is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under subparagraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the disposition of the disposed shares, that may reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

D is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

(i) subject to subparagraph (ii), the surplus entitlement percentage, of the issuing foreign affiliate, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that would be determined under subsections 5905(10) to (13) at the balance adjustment time, where the issuing foreign affiliate were the "corporation resident in Canada" referred to in those subsections and the particular relevant foreign affiliate were the "particular foreign affiliate" referred to in those subsections; and

(ii) where the particular relevant foreign affiliate is the issuing foreign affiliate, 1, and

(b) where the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, for the description of D or E in the formula in paragraph (a) is nil, nil.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5905(19) defines the expression "taxable deficit allocation", which determines adjustments to a foreign affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of consolidated taxable deficit, where consolidated taxable deficit exceeds consolidated taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares. The subsection adopts, from subsection 5905(8) of the Regulations, the terms "particular relevant foreign affiliate", "balance adjustment time", and "disposed shares".

The taxable deficit allocation of a particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of disposed shares of the foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada that issued the disposed shares (the "issuing foreign affiliate") is, if the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada and the issuing foreign affiliate has, at that time, an amount of consolidated taxable deficit (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(d)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, that is equal to or greater than the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

- the amount determined by the formula

$$1/E \times (A–B) \times C/D$$

where

A is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(d)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

B is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's exempt surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, immediately before the disposition of the disposed shares, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

D is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated exempt surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(a)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

E is, if the particular relevant foreign affiliate is the issuing foreign affiliate, equal to 1, and, if the particular relevant foreign affiliate is not the issuing foreign affiliate, equal to the surplus entitlement percentage of the issuing foreign affiliate, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that, under subsections 5905(10) to (13), would be determined, at the balance adjustment time, if the issuing foreign affiliate were the "corporation resident in Canada" referred to in those subsections and the particular relevant foreign affiliate were the "particular foreign affiliate" referred to in those subsections; and

- if the amount determined, in respect of a particular relevant foreign affiliate, for the description of any of D or E in the formula is nil, the amount determined by the formula is deemed to be nil.

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

(20) ["Taxable deficit reduction"] — The taxable deficit reduction, in respect of a corporation resident in Canada, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of disposed shares, is

(a) if the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and the particular foreign affiliate, of the corporation resident in Canada, that issued the disposed shares (in this subsection referred to as the "issuing foreign affiliate") has, at the balance adjustment time, consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, that exceeds the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(d)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

(i) the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation, at the balance adjustment time, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

B is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(d)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

D is

(A) subject to clause (B), the surplus entitlement percentage, of the issuing foreign affiliate, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that would be determined under subsections 5905(10) to (13) at the balance adjustment time where the issuing foreign affiliate were the "corporation resident in Canada" referred to in those subsections and the particular relevant foreign affiliate were the "particular foreign affiliate" referred to in those subsections, and

(B) where the particular relevant foreign affiliate is the issuing foreign affiliate, 1, and

(ii) where the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, for the description of A, B or D in the formula in subparagraph (i) is nil, nil; and

(b) the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, if

(i) the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and

(ii) the issuing foreign affiliate has, at that time, an amount of consolidated taxable deficit (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(d)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition that is equal to or greater than the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5905(20) defines the expression taxable deficit reduction, which determines adjustments to a foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, where consolidated taxable surplus exceeds consolidated taxable deficit, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares. The subsection adopts, from subsection 5905(8) of the Regulations, the terms "particular relevant foreign affiliate", "balance adjustment time", and "disposed shares".

The taxable deficit reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of disposed shares, is

- if the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and the particular foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada that issued the disposed shares (the "issuing foreign affiliate") has, at the balance adjustment time, consolidated taxable surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares that exceeds the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(d)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, as a result of the disposition of the disposed shares,

B is calculated as the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is calculated as the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable deficit (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(d)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

D is, where the particular relevant foreign affiliate is the issuing foreign affiliate, 1, and, where the particular relevant foreign affiliate is not the issuing foreign affiliate, the surplus entitlement percentage of the issuing foreign affiliate, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, that, under subsections 5905(10) to (13), would be determined, at the balance adjustment time, if the issuing foreign affiliate were the "corporation resident in Canada" referred to in those subsections and the particular relevant foreign affiliate were the "particular foreign affiliate" referred to in those subsections;

- if the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, for the description of any of A, B or D in the formula is nil, the amount determined by the formula is deemed to be nil; and

- if the particular relevant foreign affiliate has, at the balance adjustment time, an amount of taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada and the issuing foreign affiliate has, at that time, an amount of consolidated taxable deficit (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(d)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, as a result of the disposition that is equal to or greater than the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(d)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, the amount of that taxable surplus.

(21) ["Taxable surplus reduction"] — The taxable surplus reduction, in respect of a corporation resident in Canada, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate, in respect of disposed shares, is

(a) the amount determined by the formula

$$A/B \times C \times D$$

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, of the particular foreign affiliate, of the corporation resident in Canada, that issued the disposed shares (in this subsection referred to as the "issuing foreign affiliate"),

B is the amount of the issuing foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the portion, of the disposition dividend that is, because of an election made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, received on the disposed shares by the person that disposed of those shares and that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) to have been paid out of the issuing foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and

D is the specified adjustment factor, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, of the person that disposed of the disposed shares;

(b) if the amount determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, for the description of A or B in the formula in paragraph (a) is nil, nil; and

(c) if an amount is determined, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, under paragraph (20)(b), nil.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5905(21) defines the expression "taxable surplus reduction", which determines the reduction of the taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the disposition dividend of the issuing foreign affiliate where the issuing foreign affiliate has consolidated taxable surplus in excess of consolidated taxable deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada. The subsection adopts, from subsection 5905(8) of the Regulations, the terms "particular relevant foreign affiliate", "balance adjustment time", "disposed shares" and "disposition dividend".

The taxable surplus reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of disposed shares, is

- the amount determined by the formula

$$A/B \times C \times D$$

where

A is the portion of the amount of the particular relevant foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, that can reasonably be considered to have been included in computing the amount of the consolidated taxable surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, of the foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada that issued the disposed shares (the "issuing foreign affiliate"),

B the amount of the particular foreign affiliate's consolidated taxable surplus (as this amount is determined under paragraph 5902(1)(c)), in respect of the corporation resident in Canada resident, as a result of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the portion of the disposition dividend that is, because of an election made under subsection 93(1) or (1.2) of the Act, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, received on the disposed shares by the person disposing of those shares, that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) to have been paid out of the issuing foreign affiliate's taxable surplus, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, and

D is the specified adjustment factor, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, of the person disposing of the disposed shares;

- if the amount determined for either A or B of the formula is nil, the amount of determined by the formula is nil; and

- if an amount is determined in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate under paragraph (b) of subsection 5905(20) (which subsection defines the expression "taxable deficit reduction"), the amount determined by the formula is deemed to be nil.

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

(22) ["Underlying foreign tax reduction"] — The underlying foreign tax reduction in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, is the amount determined by the following formula

$$A \times (B + C)/D$$

where

A is the underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, at the balance adjustment time, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate,

B is the taxable deficit reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the exempt deficit allocation, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

D is the taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5905(22) defines the expression "underlying foreign tax reduction", which determines the reduction of underlying foreign tax, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate that is attributable to total deductions from the taxable surplus of the particular relevant foreign affiliate as a result of a taxable deficit reduction and an exempt deficit allocation. The subsection adopts, from subsection 5905(8) of the Regulations, the terms "particular relevant foreign affiliate", "balance adjustment time", "disposed shares" and "disposition dividend".

Underlying foreign tax reduction in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of a particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, is the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the underlying foreign tax in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time,

B is the taxable deficit reduction, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares,

C is the exempt deficit allocation, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, of the particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, and

D is the taxable surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, at the balance adjustment time.

(23) The specified adjustment factor, in respect of a corporation resident in Canada, in respect of a particular relevant foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, of the person that disposed of disposed shares, in respect of the disposition of the disposed shares, is the amount determined by the formula

$$A/B$$

where

A is

(a) where the corporation resident in Canada disposed of the disposed shares, 100 per cent, and

(b) where another foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada disposed of the disposed shares, the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of that other foreign affiliate, immediately before the disposition of the disposed shares, and

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, immediately before the disposition of the disposed shares.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5905(23) defines the expression "specified adjustment factor", which is used in subsection 5905(8) of the Regulations and the definitions "exempt surplus reduction" and "taxable surplus reduction" in subsections 5905(18) and (21), respectively. The subsection adopts, from subsection 5905(8) of the Regulations, the terms "particular relevant foreign affiliate" and "disposed shares".

Specified adjustment factor in respect of a corporation resident in Canada of a particular relevant foreign affiliate of that corporation resident in Canada in respect of disposed shares is the amount determined by the formula

$$A/B$$

where

A is, where the corporation resident in Canada disposed of the disposed shares, 100 per cent, and, where another foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada disposed of the disposed shares, the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of that other foreign affiliate, immediately before the disposition of the disposed shares, and

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the particular relevant foreign affiliate, immediately before the disposition of the disposed shares.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 2(8), will add subsecs. 5905(16)– (23), applicable in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which the amendments to s. 5902 apply.

5906. Carrying on business in a country — (1) For the purposes of this Part, where a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada carries on an active business, it shall be deemed to carry on that business

(a) in a country other than Canada only to the extent that such business is carried on through a permanent establishment situated therein; and

(b) in Canada only to the extent that its income therefrom is subject to tax under Part I of the Act.

Related Provisions: Reg. 5906(2) — Meaning of "permanent establishment".

(2) Where the Government of Canada has concluded an agreement or convention with the government of another country for the avoidance of double taxation that has the force of law in Canada and in which the expression "permanent establishment" is given a particular meaning, for the purposes of subsection (1), that expression has that meaning with respect to a business carried on in that country and, in any other case, has the meaning assigned by subsection 400(2).

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5906(2)

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), the expression "permanent establishment" has:

(a) if the expression is given a particular meaning in a tax treaty with a country, the meaning assigned by that tax treaty with respect to a business carried on in that country; and

(b) in any other case, the meaning that would be assigned by subsection 400(2) if that subsection were read without reference to paragraph 400(2)(e.1).

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), s. 111, will amend subsec. 5906(2) to read as above, applicable to 2009 et seq.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): Section 5906 provides, for the purposes of Part LIX, rules to determine, with respect to an active business carried on by a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada, the country in which that active business is considered to be carried on. The determination of the country in which a foreign affiliate carries on an active business is necessary for the calculation of the amounts of the foreign affiliate's surpluses and deficits under Part LIX.

Subsection 5906(1) provides, among other things, that a foreign affiliate is deemed to carry on an active business in a country other than Canada only to the extent that such business is carried on through a permanent establishment situated in that country.

Subsection 5906(2) defines the term "permanent establishment" for the purposes of subsection 5906(1). It essentially requires the use of the double taxation agreement definition of "permanent establishment" where such an agreement is in force between the Government of Canada and the country in which the business is carried on and such term is defined in that agreement or, in any other case, the use the rules in subsection 400(2).

Subsection 400(2) defines "permanent establishment" for the purposes of Part IV. That subsection is being amended to add a paragraph (e.1) that would provide that, if, but for that paragraph, a corporation would not have a permanent establishment, the corporation is deemed to have a permanent establishment at the place designated in its incorporating documents or bylaws as its head office or registered office. For more detail, readers may refer to the commentary for subsection 400(2).

Subsection 5906(2) is amended in two respects. First, the subsection is amended to exclude the application of new paragraph 400(2)(e.1). This is because that paragraph is appropriate in the context of Part IV of the Regulations, which deals with the computation of taxable income earned in a year in a province, but is not appropriate in the context of Part LIX of the Regulations. Second, the language in the subsection is updated to use the expression "tax treaty" as defined in subsection 248(1) of the Act.

Amended subsection 5906(2) applies to the 2009 and subsequent taxation years, which is the same timing as for new paragraph 400(2)(e.1).

Definitions [Reg. 5906]: "active business" — ITA 95(1), Reg. 5907(1); "business" — ITA 248(1); "Canada" — ITA 255, Interpretation Act 35(1); "corporation" — ITA 248(1), Interpretation Act 35(1); "foreign affiliate" — ITA 95(1), 248(1), Reg. 5907(3); "permanent establishment" — Reg. 5906(2); "resident in Canada" — ITA 250.

5907. Interpretation — (1) [Definitions] — For the purposes of this Part,

"active business" has the meaning assigned by subsection 95(1) of the Act;

"controlled foreign affiliate" has the meaning assigned by subsection 95(1) of the Act;

"earnings" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year of the affiliate from an active business means

(a) in the case of an active business carried on by it in a country,

(i) the income or profit from the active business for the year computed in accordance with the income tax law of the country in which the affiliate is resident, in any case where the affiliate is required by that law to compute that income or profit,

(ii) the income or profit from the active business for the year computed in accordance with the income tax law of the country in which the business is carried on, in any case not described in subparagraph (i) where the affiliate is required by that law to compute that income or profit, and

(iii) in any other case, the amount that would be the income from the active business for the year under Part I of the Act if the business were carried on in Canada, the affiliate were resident in Canada and the Act were read without reference to subsections 80(3) to (12), (15) and (17) and 80.01(5) to (11) and sections 80.02 to 80.04,

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"earnings"(a)(iii)

Letter from Dept. of Finance, May 16, 2005:

Dear [xxx]

I am writing in response to your correspondence dated January 13, 2005 to Mr. Wallace Conway in connection with the definition "earnings", of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada, in subsection 5907(1) of the Income Tax Regulations.

As you note in your correspondence, subparagraph (a)(iii) of the earnings definition provides that "earnings" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year from an active business means the amount that would be the income from the active business for the year under Part I of the Income Tax Act if the business were carried on in Canada, the foreign affiliate were resident in Canada and the Act were read without reference to certain specified provisions of the Act. That subparagraph applies only where the foreign affiliate is not required by the income tax law of the country in which the foreign affiliate is resident or carries on the business to compute the income or profit from the active business.

You also note that, in the draft technical amendments released by the Minister of Finance on February 27, 2004 relating to foreign affiliates, proposed new paragraph 95(2)(f.1) of the Act provides in part that, for the purposes of subdivision i of the Act, the income or loss of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer from property or from a business other than an active business is to be computed as if the business were carried on in Canada, the foreign affiliate were resident in Canada and the Act were read without reference to certain specified provisions of the Act (including subsection 18(4) of the Act).

You express your concern that subsection 18(4) is one of those specified provisions in proposed paragraph 95(2)(f.1) but not in subparagraph (a)(iii) of the earnings definition in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations.

It would seem appropriate to amend Part LIX of the Regulations so that, in applying subparagraph (a)(iii) of the definition "earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations to determine the amount that would be the foreign affiliate's income from an active business, the Act would be read without reference to subsection 18(4). We are prepared to recommend such a change and, consistent with the coming-into-force provision proposed in the February 2004 foreign affiliate proposals for new paragraph 95(2)(f.1), that it apply to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002.

Thank you for writing.

Yours sincerely,

Brian Ernewein, Director, Tax Legislation Division, Tax Policy Branch

Letter from Dept. of Finance, Aug. 17, 2005:

Dear [xxx],

I am writing in response to your letter dated May 26, 2005 in connection with the definition "earnings", in subsection 5907(1) of the Income Tax Regulations, which defines the earnings of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year of the foreign affiliate from an active business.

In a letter sent to you on May 16, 2005, we informed you of our intention to recommend that Part LIX of the Regulations be amended in a manner that would result in subsection 18(4) of the Income Tax Act being ignored in computing, pursuant to subparagraph (a)(iii) of the definition "earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations, the amount of the income from an active business of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada. As well, in that letter, we informed you of our intention to recommend that such an amendment apply to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after December 20, 2002.

In your letter, you have requested a change to the recommended effective date for the recommended amendment. Your preference would be to have the recommended amendment apply to the 1976 and subsequent taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada. In your view, the recommended amendment has relevance for all taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada in respect of which subparagraph (a)(iii) of the definition "earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations applied to determine the amount of the income from an active business of the foreign affiliate. In particular, you are concerned that, if the recommended amendment were made effective, as was originally indicated, for taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada that begin after December 20, 2002, the foreign affiliate would have foreign accrual property income and taxable surplus in prior years because of the technical deficiencies that the recommended amendment would correct. While you have presented no evidence that the relevant rules in the Act and the Regulations have been administered by the Canada Revenue Agency in this manner in the past, you do present understandable concerns.

After further consideration prompted by your letter, we are not prepared to recommend that the aforementioned amendment apply to the 1976 and subsequent taxation years. As you know, however, a series of amendments to the foreign affiliate rules has been proposed with effect, on election by the taxpayer, to taxation years of the foreign affiliates of the taxpayer that begin after 1994. Consequently, we will continue to recommend that the recommended amendment concerning the earnings definition apply to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after December 20, 2002 (the "applicable taxation years" of the foreign affiliate), but will also recommend that, where a taxpayer so elects in respect of all its foreign affiliates, it apply to taxation years of each foreign affiliate of the taxpayer that begin after 1994 (referred to as the "applicable taxation years" of the foreign affiliate, if that election is made). As well, it will be recommended that there be available to a corporation resident in Canada, whether or not it has made that election, an additional election such that, where the corporation resident in Canada so elects in respect of all its foreign affiliates, Part LIX of the Regulations would provide that, for the purposes of calculations made at any time in the applicable taxation years of the foreign affiliate, the amount of the exempt and taxable surplus, the exempt and taxable deficit and the underlying foreign tax of the foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation resident in Canada be determined as if the recommended amendment concerning the earnings definition applied for the 1976 and subsequent taxation years of the foreign affiliate.

Thank you for writing.

Yours sincerely,

Brian Ernewein, Director, Tax Legislation Division, Tax Policy Branch

adjusted in each case in accordance with subsections (2), (2.1), (2.2) and (2.9) and, for the purposes of this Part, to the extent that the earnings of an affiliate from an active business carried on by it cannot be attributed to a permanent establishment in any particular country, they shall be attributed to the permanent establishment in the country in which the affiliate is resident and, if the affiliate is resident in more than one country, to the permanent establishment in the country that may reasonably be regarded as the affiliate's principal place of residence, and

(b) in any other case, the total of the amounts by which the income for the year from an active business of an affiliate is increased because of paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act;

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"earnings"(b)

(b) in any other case, the total of all the amounts required by paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act to be included in computing the affiliate's income for the year from an active business;

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(2), will amend para. (b) of the definition "earnings" in subsec. 5907(1) to read as above, applicable to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002.

S. 9 of the draft regulations provides that if a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer referred to in the above amendment makes a valid "Global Section 95 Election" under subsec. 133(68) of the February 27, 2004 draft legislation (now subsec. 26(46) of S.C. 2007, c. 35; see History at the end of ITA 95), then the amendment is applicable to taxation years, of all foreign affiliates of the taxpayer, that begin after 1994.

Technical Notes: The definition "earnings" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations is relevant for the purposes of computing the surpluses and deficits of the affiliate. Paragraph (b) of the definition "earnings" in subsection 5907(1) ensures that "earnings" will reflect the total of all amounts by which the affiliate's income for the year from an active business is increased because of paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act.

Consequential to the amendments made to paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act to provide for amounts by which such income of the affiliate could be decreased, paragraph (b) of the definition "earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations is proposed to be amended to ensure that "earnings" will reflect the total of all amounts required by paragraph 95(2)(a) to be included (either as a plus or as a minus) in computing the affiliate's income for the year from an active business. For more detail, refer to the commentary to paragraph 95(2)(a).

The amendment to paragraph (b) of the definition "earnings" in subsection 5907(1) applies to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that this amendment is included in the Global Section 95 Election package described at the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act.

"exempt deficit" of a foreign affiliate of a corporation in respect of the corporation at any time means the amount, if any, by which

(a) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount determined at that time under any of subparagraphs (i) to (vi) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in this subsection

exceeds

(b) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount determined at that time under any of subparagraphs (i) to (vii) of the description of A in that definition;

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"exempt deficit"(b)

(b) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount determined at that time under any of subparagraphs (i) to (viii) of the description of A in that definition;

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(5), will amend para. (b) of the definition "exempt deficit" in subsec. 5907(1), applicable on the same basis as the amendment to Reg. 5907(1)"earnings"(b) (see History at the end of ITA 95).

Technical Notes: The definition "exempt deficit" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations is relevant for the purposes of computing the surpluses of the foreign affiliate.

The amendment to the definition "exempt deficit" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) inserts a reference to new subparagraph (viii) of the description of A in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations.

The proposed amendment to the definition "exempt deficit" in subsection 5907(1) applies to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that this amendment is included in the Global Section 95 Election package described at the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act.

"exempt earnings" of a particular foreign affiliate of a particular corporation for a taxation year of the particular affiliate is the total of all amounts each of which is

(a) the amount by which the capital gains of the particular affiliate for the year exceed the total of

(i) the amount of the taxable capital gains for the year referred to in the description of B in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act,

(ii) the amount of the taxable capital gains for the year referred to in subparagraphs (c)(i) and (d)(iii) of the definition "net earnings" in this subsection, and

(iii) the portion of any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country for the year by the particular affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax in respect of the amount by which the capital gains of the particular affiliate for the year exceed the total of the amounts referred to in subparagraphs (i) and (ii), and for the purpose of this paragraph, where the particular affiliate has disposed of capital property that was shares of the capital stock of another foreign affiliate of the particular corporation to any corporation that was, immediately after the disposition, a foreign affiliate of the particular corporation, the capital gains of the particular affiliate for the year shall not include the portion of those gains that is the total of all amounts each of which is an amount equal to the excess of the fair market value at the end of the particular affiliate's 1975 taxation year of one of those shares disposed of over the adjusted cost base of that share,

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5907(1)"exempt earnings"(a.1)

(a.1) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount determined by the formula

A – B

where

A is the amount that would be included by paragraph (c), (c.1) or (c.2) of the definition "capital dividend account" in subsection 89(1) of the Act in determining the capital dividend account of the affiliate at the end of the taxation year if

(i) the affiliate were the corporation referred to in that definition, and

(ii) the references in paragraphs (c.1) and (c.2) of that definition, and in paragraph (c) of that definition as that paragraph read in its application to taxation years that ended before February 28, 2000, to the expression "a business" were read as references to the expression "a business that is not an active business within the meaning assigned by subsection 95(1)", and

(iii) section 14 of the Act were modified, in its application to the affiliate, in accordance with paragraphs 95(2)(f.91) and (f.92) of the Act, and

B is the amount determined for A at the end of the affiliate's taxation year that immediately precedes the taxation year,

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(6), will add para. (a.1) to the definition "exempt earnings" in subsec. 5907(1), applicable on the same basis as the amendment to Reg. 5907(1)"earnings"(b) (see History at the end of ITA 95).

Technical Notes: First, new paragraph (a.1) is added to the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) to include the untaxed portion of the gain from the sale of excluded property that is eligible capital property.

For more detail, see the commentary to subsection 95(2) of the Act.

The amendments to paragraph (a.1), and subparagraph (d)(ii), of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) apply to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that these amendments are included in the Global Section 95 Election package described in the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act and that, in the event of a Global Section 95 Election, the Qualifying Member Amendments apply to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that end after 1999.

(b) where the year is the 1975 or any preceding taxation year of the particular affiliate, the total of all amounts each of which is the particular affiliate's net earnings for the year,

(c) where the year is the 1975 or any preceding taxation year of the particular affiliate, the earnings as determined in paragraph (b) of the definition "earnings" in this subsection to the extent that those earnings have not been included because of paragraph (b) or deducted in determining an amount included in subparagraph (b)(i) of the definition "exempt loss" in this subsection,

(d) where the year is the 1976 or any subsequent taxation year of the particular affiliate and the particular affiliate is resident in a designated treaty country, each amount that is

(i) the particular affiliate's net earnings for the year from an active business carried on by it in Canada or a designated treaty country, or

(ii) the earnings of the particular affiliate for the year from an active business to the extent that they derive from

(A) amounts by which the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year is increased because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(i) of the Act that are derived by the particular affiliate from activities that could reasonably be considered to be directly related to business activities carried on by a non-resident corporation, to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, in the course of an active business carried on by the non-resident corporation the income from which would, if the non-resident corporation were a foreign affiliate of a corporation, be included in computing the non-resident corporation's exempt earnings or exempt loss,

(B) where the particular corporation is a life insurance corporation resident in Canada throughout the year and the particular affiliate is a foreign affiliate in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year, amounts by which the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year is increased because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(i) of the Act that are derived by the particular affiliate from activities that could reasonably be considered to be directly related to business activities carried on by the particular corporation in the course of an active business carried on by the particular corporation in a country other than Canada, the income from which would, if the particular corporation were a foreign affiliate of another corporation and were resident in the country other than Canada in which that active business of the particular corporation is carried on, be included in computing the particular corporation's exempt earnings or exempt loss,

(C) amounts by which the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year is increased because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(A) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or a partnership of which it is a member by a non-resident corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, to the extent that, if the non-resident corporation were a foreign affiliate of a corporation, the amounts paid or payable by the non-resident corporation would be deductible in the year or a subsequent taxation year in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss,

(D) where a non-resident corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year is a member of a particular partnership (other than where the non-resident corporation is a specified member of the particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership ending in the year), amounts by which the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year is increased because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(A) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the non-resident corporation is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in the year or a subsequent taxation year in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss,

(E) amounts by which the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year is increased because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(B) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or a partnership of which it is a member by another foreign affiliate of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year, to the extent that the amounts paid or payable by the other foreign affiliate are deductible in the year or a subsequent taxation year in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss,

(F) where another foreign affiliate of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year is a member of a particular partnership (other than where the other foreign affiliate is a specified member of the particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership ending in the year), amounts by which the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year is increased because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(B) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership, to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the other foreign affiliate is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in the year or a subsequent taxation year in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss,

(G) where the particular affiliate is a member of a particular partnership (other than where the particular affiliate is a specified member of the particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership ending in the year), amounts by which the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year is increased because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(C) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership, to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the particular affiliate is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in the year or a subsequent taxation year in computing its exempt loss,

(H) amounts by which the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year is increased because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or a partnership of which it is a member by another foreign affiliate (in this clause referred to as the "second affiliate") of the particular corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, to the extent that the amounts paid or payable

(I) are on account of interest on borrowed money used for the purpose of earning income from property or interest on an amount payable for property, where

1. the property is shares of a foreign affiliate (in this clause referred to as the "third affiliate") of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year and that are excluded property, and

2. the second affiliate, the third affiliate and each other affiliate relevant for the purpose of determining whether the shares of the third affiliate are excluded property are resident and subject to income taxation in a designated treaty country, and

(II) are relevant in computing the liability for income taxes, in the designated treaty country in which the second and third affiliates are resident, of the members of a group of corporations composed of the second affiliate and one or more other foreign affiliates (the shares of which are excluded property) of the particular corporation that are resident in that country and in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year, and, for the purposes of this clause, "excluded property" has the meaning assigned by subsection 95(1) of the Act, except that for that purpose,

(III) the definition "excluded property" in subsection 95(1) of the Act shall be read without reference to amounts receivable referred to in paragraph (c) of that definition where the interest on the amounts is not, or would not if interest were payable on the amounts, be deductible in computing the debtor's exempt earnings or exempt loss, and

(IV) the shares of a foreign affiliate (in this subclause referred to as the "non-qualifying affiliate") that is not resident and subject to income taxation in a designated treaty country are not considered relevant for the purpose of determining whether shares of the third affiliate are excluded property unless the shares of the third affiliate would not have been excluded property if the shares of all such non-qualifying affiliates were not excluded property,

(I) where the particular corporation is a life insurance corporation resident in Canada and the particular affiliate is a foreign affiliate in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year, amounts by which the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year is increased because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(E) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or a partnership of which it is a member by the particular corporation in the course of the particular corporation carrying on its life insurance business outside Canada, to the extent that, if the particular corporation were a foreign affiliate of another corporation and were resident in the country in which the particular corporation carried on its life insurance business outside Canada, the amounts paid or payable by the particular corporation would be deductible in the year or in a subsequent taxation year in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss,

(J) amounts by which the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year is increased because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(iii) of the Act that are derived from the factoring of trade accounts receivable acquired by the particular affiliate, or by a partnership of which the particular affiliate was a member, from a non-resident corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, to the extent that the trade accounts receivable arose in the course of an active business carried on by the non-resident corporation any income from which would be included in the exempt earnings of the non-resident corporation if it were a foreign affiliate of a corporation, or

(K) amounts by which the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year is increased because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(iv) of the Act that are derived from loans or lending assets acquired by the particular affiliate, or a partnership of which the particular affiliate was a member from a non-resident corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, to the extent that the loans or lending assets arose in the course of an active business carried on by the non-resident corporation any income from which would be included in the exempt earnings of the non-resident corporation if it were a foreign affiliate of a corporation, or

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"exempt earnings"(d)(ii)

(ii) the earnings of the particular affiliate for the year from an active business to the extent that they derive from

(A) amounts required to be included in computing the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(i) of the Act that are derived by the particular affiliate from activities that can reasonably be considered to be directly related to business activities carried on by a non-resident corporation, to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, in the course of an active business carried on by the non-resident corporation the income or loss from which would, if the non-resident corporation were a foreign affiliate of a corporation, be included in computing the non-resident corporation's exempt earnings or exempt loss,

(B) if the particular corporation is a life insurance corporation resident in Canada throughout the year and the particular affiliate is a foreign affiliate in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year, amounts required to be included in computing the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(i) of the Act that are derived by the particular affiliate from activities that can reasonably be considered to be directly related to business activities carried on by the particular corporation in the course of an active business carried on by the particular corporation in a country other than Canada, the income or loss from which would, if the particular corporation were a foreign affiliate of another corporation and were resident in the country other than Canada in which that active business of the particular corporation is carried on, be included in computing the particular corporation's exempt earnings or exempt loss,

(C) amounts required to be included in computing the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(A) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to a partnership of which it is a member by a non-resident corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, to the extent that, if the non-resident corporation were a foreign affiliate of a corporation, the amounts paid or payable by the non-resident corporation would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,

(D) if a non-resident corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year is a qualifying member of a particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership that ends in the year, amounts required to be included in computing the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(A) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the non-resident corporation is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,

(E) amounts required to be included in computing the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(B) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to a partnership of which it is a member by another foreign affiliate of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year, to the extent that the amounts paid or payable by the other foreign affiliate are deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,

(F) if another foreign affiliate of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year is a qualifying member of a particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership that ends in the year, amounts required to be included in computing the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(B) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership, to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the other foreign affiliate is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,

(G) if the particular affiliate is a qualifying member of a particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership that ends in the year, amounts required to be included in computing the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(C) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership, to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the particular affiliate is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or a subsequent taxation year,

(H) amounts required to be included in computing the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to a partnership of which it is a member by another foreign affiliate (in this clause referred to as the "second affiliate") of the particular corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, to the extent that the amounts paid or payable are on account of interest on borrowed money used for the purpose of earning income from property or interest on an amount payable for property, in respect of a particular period in the year, if

(I) the property is, throughout the particular period, excluded property of the second affiliate that is shares of a corporation (in this clause referred to as the "third affiliate") which is, throughout the particular period, a foreign affiliate (other than the particular foreign affiliate) of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest or to which the particular corporation is related, and

(II) the second affiliate and the third affiliate are resident in the same designated treaty country for each of their taxation years (each of which is referred to in this subclause as a "relevant taxation year") that end in the year and, in respect of each of the second affiliate and the third affiliate for each relevant taxation year, either

1. the affiliate is subject to income taxation in that country in the relevant taxation year, or

2. the members or shareholders of the affiliate at the end of the relevant taxation year are subject to income taxation in that country on, in aggregate, all or substantially all of the income of the affiliate for the relevant taxation year in their taxation years in which the relevant taxation year ends or would be so subject to income taxation in that country if the affiliate had income for the relevant taxation year and the income of those members or shareholders for their taxation years in which the relevant taxation year ends consisted only of their share of the income of the affiliate for the relevant taxation year,

where, for the purpose of this clause,

(III) "excluded property" has the meaning that would be assigned by subsection 95(1) of the Act if paragraph (c) of the definition "excluded property" in that subsection were read as follows:

"(c) property all or substantially all of the income from which is, or would be, if there was income from the property,

(i) income from an active business by reason of paragraph (2)(a) if that paragraph were read without reference to its subparagraph (v), and

(ii) income derived from amounts payable by payers who are entitled to deduct the amounts in computing their exempt earnings or exempt loss (as those expressions are defined in Regulations made for the purpose of section 113)," and

(IV) the particular corporation has a qualifying interest in respect of another corporation if the particular corporation has, because of paragraph 95(2)(m) or (m.1) of the Act, a qualifying interest in respect of that other corporation for the purpose of subdivision i of Division B of Part I of the Act,

(I) if the particular corporation is a life insurance corporation resident in Canada (in this clause referred to as the "insurer"), a corporation controlled by the insurer or a corporation that controls the insurer and the particular affiliate is a foreign affiliate of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year, amounts required to be included in computing the particular affiliate's income from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(E) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to a partnership of which it is a member by the insurer in the course of carrying on its life insurance business outside Canada, to the extent that, if the insurer were a foreign affiliate of another corporation resident in Canada and were resident in the country in which the insurer carried on its life insurance business outside Canada, the amounts paid or payable by the insurer would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,

(J) amounts required to be included in computing the particular affiliate's income from an active business for the year because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(iii) of the Act that are derived from the factoring of trade accounts receivable acquired by the particular affiliate, or by a partnership of which the particular affiliate was a member, from a non-resident corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, to the extent that the trade accounts receivable arose in the course of an active business carried on by the non-resident corporation any income from which would be included in computing the exempt earnings of the non-resident corporation if it were a foreign affiliate of a corporation,

(K) amounts required to be included in computing the particular affiliate's income from an active business for the year because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(iv) of the Act that are derived from loans or lending assets acquired by the particular affiliate, or by a partnership of which the particular affiliate was a member, from a non-resident corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, to the extent that the loans or lending assets arose in the course of an active business carried on by the non-resident corporation any income from which would be included in the exempt earnings of the non-resident corporation if it were a foreign affiliate of a corporation,

(L) amounts that would be required, because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(v) of the Act, to be included in computing the particular affiliate's income for the year from an active business if that subparagraph were read as follows:

"(v) the income or loss is derived from the disposition of excluded property that is not capital property if

(A) that property is used or held by the particular foreign affiliate for the purpose of gaining or producing income from property that would, because of this paragraph, be included in computing the particular foreign affiliate's income from an active business if this paragraph were read without reference to this subparagraph, and

(B) that income or loss is derived, directly or indirectly, from amounts paid or payable to the particular foreign affiliate by another foreign affiliate of the taxpayer, or by a non-resident corporation related to the particular foreign affiliate and to the taxpayer, that are in respect of an active business carried on in a designated treaty country (as defined for the purpose of Part LIX of the Regulations), or",

(M) amounts that would be required, because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(vi) of the Act, to be included in computing the particular affiliate's income for the year from an active business if that subparagraph were read as follows:

"(vi) the income or loss is derived by the particular foreign affiliate under or as a result of an agreement that provides for the purchase, sale or exchange of currency and that can reasonably be considered to have been made by the particular foreign affiliate to reduce its risk, of fluctuations in the value of the denominated currency, with respect to

(A) income or loss, from property, that

(I) would, because of this paragraph, be included in computing the particular foreign affiliate's income or loss from an active business if this paragraph were read without reference to this subparagraph, and

(II) is derived, directly or indirectly, from amounts paid or payable to the particular foreign affiliate by another foreign affiliate of the taxpayer, or by a non-resident corporation related to the particular foreign affiliate and to the taxpayer, that is in respect of an active business carried on in a designated treaty country (as defined for the purpose of Part LIX of the Regulations), or

(B) excluded property the income or loss from which would, if there were income or a loss, be described in clause (A);", or

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(7), will amend subpara. (d)(ii) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsec. 5907(1), applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate that begin after December 20, 2002, except that cl. (d)(ii)(H) applies to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxapayer, to which ITA 95(2)(a)(ii)(D)(III) to (V), as proposed by the amending legislation, apply.

S. 9 of the draft regulations provides that if a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer referred to in the above amendment makes a valid "Global Section 95 Election" under subsec. 133(68) of the February 27, 2004 draft legislation (now subsec. 26(46) of S.C. 2007, c. 35; see History at the end of ITA 95), then the amendment is applicable to taxation years, of all foreign affiliates of the taxpayer, that begin after 1994, except that

(a) cl. (d)(ii)(D) is, for the taxation years, of all foreign affiliates of the taxpayer, that end before 2000, to be read as follows:

"(D) if a non-resident corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year is a member of a particular partnership (other than where the non-resident corporation would be a specified member of the particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership that ends in the year if the definition "specified member" of a partnership in subsection 248(1) of the Act were read without reference to paragraph (a) of that definition), amounts required to be included in computing the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(A) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the non-resident corporation is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,";

(b) cls. (d)(ii)(F) and (G) are, for the taxation years, of all foreign affiliates of the taxpayer, that end before 2000, to be read as follows:

"(F) if another foreign affiliate of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year is a member of a particular partnership (other than where the other foreign affiliate would be a specified member of the particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership that ends in the year if the definition "specified member" of a partnership in subsection 248(1) of the Act were read without reference to paragraph (a) of that definition), amounts required to be included in computing the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(B) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership, to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the other foreign affiliate is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,

(G) if the particular affiliate is a member of a particular partnership (other than where the particular affiliate would be a specified member of the particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership that ends in the year if the definition "specified member" in subsection 248(1) of the Act were read without reference to paragraph (a) of that definition), amounts required to be included in computing the income of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(C) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership, to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the particular affiliate is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,";

(c) where the taxpayer has not made a valid election under subsec. 133(37) of the February 27, 2004 draft amendments, subcl. (d)(ii)(H)(I) is to be read as follows:

"(I) the property is shares of a foreign affiliate (in this clause referred to as the "third affiliate") of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest and those shares are excluded property, and"

Technical Notes: The definition "exempt earnings", of a foreign affiliate of a particular corporation for a taxation year, in subsection 5907(1) is relevant for the purposes of computing the surpluses and deficits of the affiliate.

The definition contains a number of provisions. Subparagraphs (d)(i) and (ii) of the definition "exempt earnings" are relevant to the understanding of the commentary below. Those particular provisions provide as follows:

- Subparagraphs (d)(i) and (ii) of the definition "exempt earnings" provide that, where a foreign affiliate of a particular corporation is resident in a designated treaty country, the affiliate's earnings for the year from an active business carried on by it in a designated treaty country and the amounts included in its income from an active business for the year under paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act, respectively, are included in computing its "exempt earnings" for the year.

- Clause (d)(ii)(D) of the definition "exempt earnings" includes, in the exempt earnings of a foreign affiliate of a particular corporation, income derived from amounts paid or payable to the affiliate by a partnership of which a non-resident corporation to which the affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year was a member (other than a "specified member" at any time in a fiscal period of a partnership that ends in the year) if that income is deemed by clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(A) of the Act to be income from an active business of the affiliate. This will be the case to the extent that the amounts paid or payable would be deductible in computing the exempt earnings or the exempt loss of the partnership if it were a foreign affiliate of a corporation.

- Clause (d)(ii)(F) of the definition "exempt earnings" includes, in the exempt earnings of a foreign affiliate of a particular corporation, income derived from amounts paid or payable to the affiliate by a partnership of which another foreign affiliate of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year was a member (other than a "specified member" at any time in a fiscal period of a partnership that ends in the year) if that income is deemed by clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(B) of the Act to be income from an active business of the affiliate. This will be the case to the extent that the amounts paid or payable would be deductible in computing the exempt earnings or the exempt loss of the partnership if it were a foreign affiliate of a corporation.

- Clause (d)(ii)(G) of the definition "exempt earnings" includes, in the exempt earnings of a foreign affiliate of a corporation, income derived from amounts paid or payable to the affiliate by a partnership of which the affiliate was a member (other than a specified member at any time in a fiscal period of a partnership that ends in the year) if that income is deemed by clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(C) of the Act to be income from an active business of the affiliate. This will be the case to the extent that the amounts paid or payable would be deductible in computing the exempt earnings or the exempt loss of the partnership if it were a foreign affiliate of a corporation.

- Clause (d)(ii)(H) of the definition "exempt earnings" includes, in the exempt earnings of a foreign affiliate of a particular corporation, income derived from amounts paid or payable to it (or to a partnership of which it is a member) by another foreign affiliate (the "second affiliate") of the particular corporation related to it and to the particular corporation throughout the year if that income is deemed by clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act to be the income from an active business of the affiliate. The income must be derived from amounts paid or payable in respect of interest on borrowed money used to earn income from property or on an amount payable for property. That property must consist of shares of another foreign affiliate (the "third affiliate") of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year that are excluded property of the second affiliate. The second affiliate, the third affiliate and "each other affiliate relevant for the purpose of determining whether the shares of the third affiliate are excluded property" must all be resident in, and subject to income taxation in, the same designated treaty country. (The expression "designated treaty country" is defined in subsection 5907(11).) As well, the amounts paid or payable must be relevant in determining the liability for income taxes in the designated treaty country of a group of corporations composed of the second affiliate and one or more other foreign affiliates (the shares of which are excluded property), of the particular corporation, resident in that country and in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year. For the purposes of making these determinations, two assumptions are made. First, the definition "excluded property" in subsection 95(1) of the Act is to be read without reference to amounts receivable referred to in paragraph (c) of that definition where, if interest were payable on the amounts, the interest would not be deductible by the debtor in calculating its exempt earnings or loss. Second, shares of a foreign affiliate (a "non-qualifying affiliate") that is non-resident and subject to income taxation in a designated treaty country are to be ignored in determining whether the shares of the third affiliate are excluded property, unless the shares of the third affiliate would not be excluded property if all shares of all non-qualifying affiliates were not excluded property. For convenience of reference, this second assumption is referred to in the remainder of this commentary to the definition "exempt earnings" as the "Shares Assumption".

As noted in the commentary to new clauses 95(2)(a)(ii)(A), (B) and (C) of the Act, those clauses are amended so that the condition requiring the partnership to have a relevant person as a member of the partnership (otherwise than as a specified member of the partnership) is replaced by a requirement that the relevant person to be a "qualifying member" of the partnership throughout each period, in the fiscal period of the partnership, that ends in the year. The expression "qualifying member" is newly defined in subsection 248(1) of the Act as being a person that would at the relevant time be determined to be a qualifying member of the partnership under paragraph 95(2)(o) of the Act. For more detail, see the commentary to paragraph 95(2)(o) and subsection 248(1) of the Act.

The amendments to clauses 95(2)(a)(ii)(A), (B) and (C) of the Act, in conjunction with the new definition "qualifying member", ensure that, in applying those clauses, limited partners and limited partnerships are treated in the same manner as general partners and general partnerships. These amendments also ensure that, even if the activities of the relevant person do not meet the business activity requirements in new subparagraph 95(2)(o)(i), a partnership may qualify under clauses 95(2)(a)(ii)(A), (B) or (C) if the relevant person has an equity interest in the partnership that meets the criteria set out in new subparagraph 95(2)(o)(ii). For more detail, see the commentary to new paragraph 95(2)(o) of the Act.

The definition "exempt earnings" is to be amended in the following ways.

First, new paragraph (a.1) is added to the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) to include the untaxed portion of the gain from the sale of excluded property that is eligible capital property. [See 5907(1)"exempt earnings"(a.1) above.]

Second, subparagraph (d)(ii) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) is amended in the following ways:

- Consequential to the amendments made to paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act, subparagraph (d)(ii) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) is amended to provide that, in computing the affiliate's "exempt earnings" for the year, there will be included the earnings derived from "amounts required to be included in computing" income from an active business under amended paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act.

- Clauses (d)(ii)(D), (F) and (G) of the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1) are proposed to be amended consistent with similar amendments made to clauses 95(2)(a)(ii)(A), (B) and (C) of the Act. Accordingly, amendments (referred to in this commentary as the "Qualifying Member Amendments") are made to clauses (d)(ii)(D), (F) and (G) of the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations so that the condition requiring the partnership to have a relevant person as a member of the partnership (otherwise than as a specified member of the partnership) is replaced by a requirement that the relevant person be a "qualifying member" of the partnership throughout each period, in the fiscal period of the partnership, that ends in the year. The expression "qualifying member" is newly defined in subsection 248(1) of the Act as being a person that would at the relevant time be determined to be a qualifying member of the partnership under paragraph 95(2)(o) of the Act. For more detail, see the commentary to paragraphs 95(2)(o) and (q) and subsection 248(1) of the Act.

- Consistent with the amendments to clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act, clause (d)(ii)(H) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations is proposed to be amended to modify the requirement that the second affiliate, the third affiliate and "each other affiliate relevant for the purpose of determining whether the shares of the third affiliate are excluded property" must each be resident in, and subject to income taxation in, the same designated treaty country (sub-subclause (d)(ii)(H)(I)2. of the definition). That requirement is replaced with a requirement that
  - — the second affiliate and the third affiliate must be resident in the same designated treaty country for each of their taxation years (each of which taxation years is referred to as a "relevant taxation year" of the second affiliate or of the third affiliate, as the case may be) that end in the year, and
  - — in respect of each of the second affiliate and the third affiliate for each relevant taxation year of that affiliate, either that affiliate must be subject to income taxation in that country in that relevant taxation year, or, alternatively, the members or shareholders of that affiliate at the end of that relevant taxation year must be subject to income taxation in that country on, in aggregate, all or substantially all of the income of that affiliate for that relevant taxation year in their taxation years in which that relevant taxation year ends, or would be so subject to income taxation in that country if that affiliate had income for that relevant taxation year and the income of those members or shareholders for their taxation years in which that relevant taxation year ends consisted only of their share of income of that affiliate for that relevant taxation year.

- Further, clause (d)(ii)(H) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) is proposed to be amended to delete the Shares Assumption. The Shares Assumption is no longer relevant as that clause no longer contains a reference to "each other affiliate relevant for the purpose of determining whether the shares of the third affiliate are excluded property".

- Consequential to the introduction of new subparagraph 95(2)(a)(v) of the Act, new clause (d)(ii)(L) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) is proposed to be added. New clause (d)(ii)(L) ensures that income of a foreign affiliate, of a corporation, for a year that, because of new subparagraph 95(2)(a)(v) of the Act, is included in computing the affiliate's active business income for the year, is included in computing the "exempt earnings" of the affiliate. In making the determination of this income, new subparagraph 95(2)(a)(v) is to be read as if it applies to the income or loss derived from the disposition of excluded property that is not capital property if
  - — that property is used or held by the particular foreign affiliate for the purpose of gaining or producing income from property that would, because of this paragraph, be included in computing the particular foreign affiliate's income from an active business if this paragraph were read without reference to this subparagraph, and
  - — that income or loss is derived, directly or indirectly, from amounts paid or payable to the particular foreign affiliate by another foreign affiliate of the taxpayer, or by a non-resident corporation related to the particular foreign affiliate and the taxpayer, that is in respect of an active business carried on in a designated treaty country (as defined for the purpose of Part LIX of the Regulations).

- Consequential to the introduction of new subparagraph 95(2)(a)(vi) of the Act, new clause (d)(ii)(M) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) is proposed to be added. New clause (d)(ii)(M) ensures that income of a foreign affiliate, of a corporation, for a year that, because of new subparagraph 95(2)(a)(vi) of the Act, is included in computing the affiliate's active business income for the year, is included in computing the "exempt earnings" of the affiliate. This is determined by reading new subparagraph 95(2)(a)(vi) as the income or loss derived from the disposition of excluded property that is not capital property if derived by the particular foreign affiliate under or as a result of an agreement that provides for the purchase, sale or exchange of currency and that can reasonably be considered to have been made by the particular foreign affiliate to reduce its risk, of fluctuations in the value of the denominated currency, with respect to
  - — income or loss from property that is
    - because of this paragraph included in computing the particular foreign affiliate's income or loss from an active business if this paragraph were read without reference to this subparagraph, and
    - derived, directly or indirectly, from amounts paid or payable to the particular foreign affiliate by another foreign affiliate of the taxpayer, or by a non-resident corporation related to the particular foreign affiliate and the taxpayer, that is in respect of an active business carried on in a designated treaty country (as defined for the purpose of Part LIX of the Regulations), or
  - — excluded property the income or loss from which, if there were income or a loss, described in subparagraph 95(2)(a)(i).

For more detail, see the commentary to subsection 95(2) of the Act.

The amendments to paragraph (a.1), and subparagraph (d)(ii), of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) apply to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that these amendments are included in the Global Section 95 Election package described in the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act and that, in the event of a Global Section 95 Election, the Qualifying Member Amendments apply to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that end after 1999.

Letter from Dept. of Finance, April 19, 2006:

Dear [xxx]:

I am writing in response to your many recent letters, e-mails and phone calls relating to certain narrow issues arising from the foreign affiliate proposals announced on February 27, 2004 by the Minister of Finance. . . .

Subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations

Proposed subclause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act uses a test for determining whether a non-resident corporation is considered to be subject to income taxation in a particular country. That test addresses situations where that corporation is a flow-through entity for tax purposes in the country.

You have identified a need for a similar test in proposed clause (d)(ii)(D) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Income Tax Regulations (the "Regulations"). As well, similar issues exist in a number of other provisions in draft subparagraph (d)(ii) of the definition "exempt earnings", and a number of provisions in draft subparagraph (c)(ii) of the definition "exempt loss", in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations.

We are prepared to recommend revisions to section 5907 of the Regulations to provide that, in applying subparagraph (d)(ii) of the definition "exempt earnings", and subparagraph (c)(ii) of the definition "exempt loss", in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations, a test similar to the test used in clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) will be employed to determine whether or not a flow-through entity is subject to income taxation in a particular country.

Should our recommendations be acted upon, it is contemplated that the recommended new rule in section 5907 of the Regulations would have the same application date as that of draft subclauses 95(2)(a)(ii)(D)(III) to (V) of the Act.

References to "year"

Another issue raised relates to the reference in draft clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(A) of the Act to expenditures referred to in subclauses 95(2)(a)(ii)(A)(I) and (II) being deductible in the "year" or "a subsequent taxation year" by the non-resident corporation or the partnership referred to in those subclauses, if the non-resident corporation or the partnership, as the case may be, were a foreign affiliate, in computing the amounts prescribed to be its earnings or loss from an active business. The "year" is intended to be a taxation year of that non-resident corporation or that partnership, as the case may be. However, in terms of the text itself, the "year" could be read as referring to the taxation year of the "particular foreign affiliate" (i.e., the recipient of the payments) described in the preamble of draft paragraph 95(2)(a). The other uses of the expression "the year" in that draft clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(A) of the Act would remain as references to "the year" of the particular foreign affiliate. It would be appropriate to clarify those aspects of those provisions. As well, it would be appropriate to make comparable clarifying modifications to deal with similar issues in various other clauses in that draft subparagraph 95(2)(a)(ii) of the Act and in various provisions in draft subparagraph (d)(ii) of the definition "exempt earnings", and draft subparagraph (c)(ii) of the definition "exempt loss", in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations.

It is contemplated that these revisions would have the same application date as that of draft subclauses 95(2)(a)(ii)(D)(III) to (V) of the Act. . . .

Thank you for writing.

Yours sincerely,

Brian Ernewein, Director, Tax Legislation Division, Tax Policy Branch

Letter from Dept. of Finance, June 9, 2006:

Dear [xxx]:

I am writing in response to your letter dated March 17, 2006 concerning proposed clause (d)(ii)(H) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Income Tax Regulations (the "Regulations"), as contained in the foreign affiliate proposals announced on February 27, 2004.

Draft clause (d)(ii)(H) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations provides that, where income from property of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada is recharacterized by clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Income Tax Act (the "Act") as active business income, that recharacterized income is included in computing the foreign affiliate's exempt earnings if the requirements set out in draft clause (d)(ii)(H) are met.

One requirement is that the shares held by the "second affiliate" in the capital stock of the "third affiliate" would be excluded property of the second affiliate. In making this determination, paragraph (c) of the definition "excluded property" in subsection 95(1) of the Act is to be read in the manner modified by draft clause (d)(ii)(H). In that modified version of paragraph (c) of the definition "excluded property", income from property is tested as to whether it is derived from amounts payable by payers who are entitled to deduct the amounts in computing their exempt earnings or loss. You express concern about the interpretation of that modified version of that paragraph in cases where the payer is a partnership that does not compute exempt earnings or losses.

Other provisions of subparagraph (d)(ii) of the definition "exempt earnings" test whether payments made by a partnership would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or loss on the explicit assumption that the partnership is a foreign affiliate of a corporation and is resident in the country in which the relevant partner is resident and subject to income taxation.

We agree that draft clause (d)(ii)(H) of the exempt earnings definition should be revised to contemplate payer partnerships in appropriate cases. We will recommend appropriate changes to paragraph (c) of the excluded property definition, as read for the purposes of clause (d)(ii)(H), to test whether amounts payable by such a payer partnership would (on explicit assumptions) be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or loss. It is anticipated that the tests and assumptions used for this purpose would be consistent with those that are used in the other provisions of subparagraph (d)(ii).

If our recommendation is acted upon, we would expect that the revision to draft clause (d)(ii)(H) of the exempt earnings definition would have the same application date as the application date of that draft clause.

We also note that a similar issue arises in draft clause (c)(ii)(H) of the definition "exempt loss" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations, which is the counterpart to draft clause (d)(ii)(H) of the exempt earnings definition. We would thus recommend a comparable change to that draft clause (c)(ii)(H).

Thank you for writing.

Yours sincerely,

Brian Ernewein, Director, Tax Legislation Division, Tax Policy Branch

Letter from Dept. of Finance, July 17, 2006:

Dear [xxx]:

I am writing in response to your letters with respect to paragraph 95(2)(a.3) of the Income Tax Act (the "Act") and clause (d)(ii)(B) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Income Tax Regulations (the "Regulations").

Paragraph 95(2)(a.3) of the Act

[See under 95(2)(a.3) — ed.]

Clause (d)(ii)(B) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations

You have also expressed a concern with respect to draft amended clause (d)(ii)(B) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations, as contained in the proposals announced on February 27, 2004.

Existing subclause 95(2)(a)(i)(A)(II) of the Act provides, if certain conditions are met, for the recharacterization of property income of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada as active business income where the taxpayer is a life insurance corporation and the property income is derived from active business activities carried on in a country outside Canada by a foreign branch of the taxpayer. The version of subclause 95(2)(a)(i)(A)(II) of the Act contained in the February 2004 proposals expands the scope of that subclause to refer not only to a life insurance corporation resident in Canada that is the taxpayer (as at present in the Act) but also to refer, alternatively, to a life insurance corporation resident in Canada that controls, or is controlled by, the taxpayer.

In your correspondence, you note that the draft version of clause (d)(ii)(B) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations refers to a life insurance corporation resident in Canada that is the particular corporation resident in Canada. You suggest that, consistent with draft subclause 95(2)(a)(i)(A)(II) of the Act in the February 2004 proposals, draft clause (d)(ii)(B) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations should be revised to also refer, alternatively, to a life insurance corporation resident in Canada that controls, or is controlled by, the corporation resident in Canada.

As clause (d)(ii)(B) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations is a rule to determine what portion (if any) of the foreign affiliate's active business earnings because of subclause 95(2)(a)(i)(A)(II) of the Act are to be included in the foreign affiliate's exempt earnings, we agree that the wording of that clause (d)(ii)(B) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations in the February 2004 proposals should be made consistent with the wording of draft subclause 95(2)(a)(i)(A)(II) of the Act in those proposals. Accordingly, we are prepared to recommend that draft clause (d)(ii)(B) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations be revised so that

- that clause will apply where the particular corporation is a life insurance corporation resident in Canada (the "insurer"), a corporation controlled by the insurer or a corporation that controls the insurer and the particular foreign affiliate is a foreign affiliate in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the taxation year, and
- where that clause applies and the conditions described in the preamble of paragraph (d) of the exempt earnings definition are met, the amount calculated by that clause for inclusion in the particular affiliate's exempt earnings for the year will be equal to the amounts included in computing the particular affiliate's income from an active business for the year because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(i) of the Act that are derived by the particular affiliate from activities directly related to an active business carried on by the insurer in a country other than Canada, the income or loss from which would, if the insurer were a foreign affiliate of another corporation and were resident in the country other than Canada in which that active business of the insurer is carried on, be included in computing the insurer's exempt earnings or loss.

Draft clause (c)(ii)(B) of the definition "exempt loss" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations, as contained in the February 2004 proposals, is the exempt loss definition's equivalent of clause (d)(ii)(B) of the exempt earnings definition in subsection 5907(1). As we note that similar concerns arise in connection with that draft clause of the exempt loss definition, a recommendation will be made that that draft clause of the exempt loss definition be revised in an analogous fashion.

It will be recommended that those draft clauses of the exempt earnings and exempt loss definitions, including those aforementioned revisions, have the application dates that are provided in the February 2004 proposals for those draft clauses.

Thank you for writing.

Yours sincerely,

Brian Ernewein, Director, Tax Legislation Division, Tax Policy Branch

Letter from Dept. of Finance, July 17, 2006:

Dear [xxx]:

I am writing in response to your letter dated April 25, 2006 concerning proposed clause (d)(ii)(H) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Income Tax Regulations (the "Regulations"), as contained in the foreign affiliate proposals announced on February 27, 2004.

Draft clause (d)(ii)(H) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations provides that, where income from property of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada is recharacterized by clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Income Tax Act (the "Act") as active business income, that recharacterized income is included in computing the foreign affiliate's exempt earnings if the requirements set out in draft clause (d)(ii)(H) are met.

One requirement is that the shares held by the "second affiliate" in the capital stock of the "third affiliate" would be excluded property of the second affiliate. In making this determination, paragraph (c) of the definition "excluded property" in subsection 95(1) of the Act is to be read in the manner modified by draft clause (d)(ii)(H). In that modified version of paragraph (c) of the definition "excluded property", income from property is tested as to whether it is derived from amounts payable by payers who are entitled to deduct the amounts in computing their exempt earnings or loss. You express concern about the interpretation of that modified version of that paragraph in cases where the payer is a non-resident corporation that is not a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada and, as such, the payer does not compute exempt earnings or losses.

Other provisions of subparagraph (d)(ii) of the definition "exempt earnings" test whether payments made by a non-resident corporation — that is not a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada — would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or loss on the explicit assumption that it is a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada.

We agree that draft clause (d)(ii)(H) of the exempt earnings definition should be revised to contemplate payer non-resident corporations — that are not foreign affiliates of the corporation resident in Canada — in appropriate cases. We will recommend appropriate changes to paragraph (c) of the excluded property definition, as read for the purposes of clause (d)(ii)(H), to test whether amounts payable by such a payer would (on the explicit assumption that it is a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada) be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or loss. It is anticipated the tests and assumptions used for this purpose would be consistent with those that are used in the other provisions of subparagraph (d)(ii).

If our recommendation is acted upon, we would expect that the revision to draft clause (d)(ii)(H) of the exempt earnings definition would have the same application date as the application date of that draft clause.

We also note that a similar issue arises in draft clause (c)(ii)(H) of the definition "exempt loss" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations, which is the counterpart to draft clause (d)(ii)(H) of the exempt earnings definition. We would thus recommend a comparable change to that draft clause (c)(ii)(H).

Thank you for writing.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(8), will amend the opening words of the definition "exempt loss" in subsec. 5907(1) to read as above, applicable on the same basis as the amendment to Reg. 5907(1)"earnings"(b) (see History at the end of ITA 95),

Technical Notes: The definition "exempt loss" of a foreign affiliate of a corporation for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) is relevant for the purposes of computing the surpluses and deficits of the affiliate.

The definition "exempt loss" in subsection 5907(1) is proposed to be amended in the following ways.

First, consequential to the proposed amendments to paragraph (c) of that definition, the "preamble" of that definition is proposed to be amended to refer to the foreign affiliate as the "particular" foreign affiliate.

The amendments to the definition "exempt loss" in subsection 5907(1) apply to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that these amendments are included in the Global Section 95 Election package described at the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act, and that, in the event of a Global Section 95 Election, in its application to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that end before 2000, the Member Criteria Condition will, instead of containing the Qualifying Member Requirement, contain the requirement that the partnership have a relevant person as a member of the partnership (otherwise than as a specified member of the partnership).

The expression "specified member" is defined in existing subsection 248(1) of the Act. For more detail, see the commentary to the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1).

(c) where the year is the 1976 or any subsequent taxation year of the affiliate (referred to in this paragraph as the "particular affiliate") and the particular affiliate is resident in a designated treaty country, each amount that is

(i) the particular affiliate's net loss for the year from an active business carried on by it in Canada or in a designated treaty country, or

(ii) the losses of the particular affiliate for the year from an active business to the extent that they derive from

that can reasonably be considered to be directly related to business activities carried on by a non-resident corporation, to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, in the course of an active business carried on by the non-resident corporation the income or loss from which would, if the non-resident corporation were a foreign affiliate of a corporation, be included in computing the non-resident corporation's exempt earnings or exempt loss,

(B) if the particular corporation is a life insurance corporation resident in Canada throughout the year and the particular affiliate is a foreign affiliate in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year, amounts required to be included in computing the loss of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(i) of the Act that are derived by the particular affiliate from activities that can reasonably be considered to be directly related to business activities carried on by the particular corporation in the course of an active business carried on by the particular corporation in a country other than Canada, the income or loss from which would, if the particular corporation were a foreign affiliate of another corporation and were resident in the country other than Canada in which that active business of the particular corporation is carried on, be included in computing the particular corporation's exempt earnings or exempt loss,

(C) amounts required to be included in computing the loss of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(A) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to a partnership of which it is a member by a non-resident corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, to the extent that, if the non-resident corporation were a foreign affiliate of a corporation, the amounts paid or payable by the non-resident corporation would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,

(D) if a non-resident corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year is a qualifying member of a particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership that ends in the year, amounts required to be included in computing the loss of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(A) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the non-resident corporation is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,

(E) amounts required to be included in computing the loss of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(B) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to a partnership of which it is a member by another foreign affiliate of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year, to the extent that the amounts paid or payable by the other foreign affiliate are deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,

(F) if another foreign affiliate of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year is a qualifying member of a particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership that ends in the year, amounts required to be included in computing the loss of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(B) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership, to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the other foreign affiliate is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,

(G) if the particular affiliate is a qualifying member of a particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership that ends in the year, amounts required to be included in computing the loss of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(C) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership, to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the particular affiliate is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,

(H) amounts required to be included in computing the loss of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to a partnership of which it is a member by another foreign affiliate (in this clause referred to as the "second affiliate") of the particular corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, to the extent that the amounts paid or payable, in respect of a particular period in the year, are on account of interest on borrowed money used for the purpose of earning income from property or interest on an amount payable for property, if

(I) the property is, throughout the particular period, excluded property of the second affiliate that is shares of a corporation (in this clause referred to as the "third affiliate") and the third affiliate is, throughout the particular period, a foreign affiliate (other than the particular foreign affiliate) of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest or to which the taxpayer is related, and

(II) the second affiliate and the third affiliate are resident in the same designated treaty country for each of their taxation years (each of which is referred to in this subclause as a "relevant taxation year") that end in the year and, in respect of each of the second affiliate and the third affiliate for each relevant taxation year of that affiliate, either

1. the affiliate is subject to income taxation in that country in the relevant taxation year, or

2. the members or shareholders of the affiliate at the end of the relevant taxation year are subject to income taxation in that country on, in aggregate, all or substantially all of the income of the affiliate for the relevant taxation year in their taxation years in which that relevant taxation year ends or would be so subject to income taxation in that country if the affiliate had income for the relevant taxation year and the income of those members or shareholders for their taxation years in which the relevant taxation year ends consisted only of their share of income of the affiliate for the relevant taxation year

where, for the purpose of this clause,

(III) "excluded property" has the meaning assigned to that expression for the purpose of clause (d)(ii)(H) of the definition "exempt earnings", and

(IV) the particular corporation has a qualifying interest in respect of another corporation if the particular corporation has, because of paragraph 95(2)(m) or (m.1) of the Act, a qualifying interest in respect of that other corporation for the purpose of subdivision i of Division B of Part I of the Act,

(I) if the particular corporation is a life insurance corporation resident in Canada (in this clause referred to as the "insurer"), a corporation controlled by the insurer or a corporation that controls the insurer and the particular affiliate is a foreign affiliate in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year, amounts required to be included in computing the particular affiliate's loss from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(E) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to a partnership of which it is a member by the insurer in the course of carrying on its life insurance business outside Canada, to the extent that, if the insurer were a foreign affiliate of another corporation resident in Canada and were resident in the country in which the insurer carried on its life insurance business outside Canada, the amounts paid or payable by the insurer would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,

(J) amounts required to be included in computing the particular affiliate's loss from an active business for the year because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(iii) of the Act that are derived from the factoring of trade accounts receivable acquired by the particular affiliate, or by a partnership of which the particular affiliate was a member, from a non-resident corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, to the extent that the trade accounts receivable arose in the course of an active business carried on by the non-resident corporation any income from which would be included in computing the exempt earnings of the non-resident corporation if it were a foreign affiliate of a corporation,

(K) amounts required to be included in computing the particular affiliate's loss from an active business for the year because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(iv) of the Act that are derived from loans or lending assets acquired by the particular affiliate, or by a partnership of which the particular affiliate was a member, from a non-resident corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year, to the extent that the loans or lending assets arose in the course of an active business carried on by the non-resident corporation any income from which would be included in the exempt earnings of the non-resident corporation if it were a foreign affiliate of a corporation,

(L) amounts that would be required, because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(v) of the Act, to be included in computing the particular affiliate's loss for the year from an active business if that subparagraph were read as follows:

"(v) the income or loss is derived from the disposition of excluded property that is not capital property if

(A) that property is used or held by the particular foreign affiliate for the purpose of gaining or producing income from property that would, because of this paragraph, be included in computing the particular foreign affiliate's income from an active business if this paragraph were read without reference to this subparagraph, and

(B) that income or loss is derived, directly or indirectly, from amounts paid or payable to the particular foreign affiliate by another foreign affiliate of the taxpayer, or by a non-resident corporation related to the particular foreign affiliate and to the taxpayer, that is in respect of an active business carried on in a designated treaty country (as defined for the purpose of Part LIX of the Regulations), or",

(M) amounts that would be required, because of subparagraph 95(2)(a)(vi) of the Act, to be included in computing the particular affiliate's loss for the year from an active business if that subparagraph were read as follows:

"(vi) the income or loss is derived by the particular foreign affiliate under or as a result of an agreement that provides for the purchase, sale or exchange of currency and that can reasonably be considered to have been made by the particular foreign affiliate to reduce its risk, of fluctuations in the value of the denominated currency, with respect to

(A) income or loss from property that

(I) would, because of this paragraph, be included in computing the particular foreign affiliate's income or loss from an active business if this paragraph were read without reference to this subparagraph, and

(II) is derived, directly or indirectly, from amounts paid or payable to the particular foreign affiliate by another foreign affiliate of the taxpayer, or by a non-resident corporation related to the particular foreign affiliate and to the taxpayer, that is in respect of an active business carried on in a designated treaty country (as defined for the purpose of Part LIX of the Regulations), or

(B) excluded property the income or loss from which would, if there were income or a loss, be described in clause (A);", or

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(9), will amend para. (c) of the definition "exempt loss" in subsec. 5907(1) to read as above, applicable to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, to which ITA 95(2)(a)(ii)(D)(III) to (V), as proposed by subcl. 133(8) of the February 27, 2004 draft amendments, apply.

S. 9 of the draft regulations provides that if a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer referred to in the above amendment makes a valid "Global Section 95 Election" under subsec. 133(68) of the February 27, 2004 draft legislation (now subsec. 26(46) of S.C. 2007, c. 35; see History at the end of ITA 95), then the amendment is applicable to taxation years, of all foreign affiliates of the taxpayer, that begin after 1994, except that

(a) cl. (c)(ii)(D) is, for the taxation years, of all foreign affiliates of the taxpayer, that end before 2000, to be read as follows:

"(D) if a non-resident corporation to which the particular affiliate and the particular corporation are related throughout the year is a member of a particular partnership (other than where the non-resident corporation would be a specified member of the particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership that ends in the year if the definition "specified member" of a partnership in subsection 248(1) of the Act were read without reference to paragraph (a) of that definition), amounts required to be included in computing the loss of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(A) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the non-resident corporation is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,"

(b) where the taxpayer has not made a valid election under subsec. 133(37) of the February 27, 2004 draft amendments, subcl. (c)(ii)(H)(I) is to be read as follows:

"(I) the property is shares of a foreign affiliate (in this clause referred to as the "third affiliate") of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest and those shares are excluded property, and"

(c) cls. (c)(ii)(F) and (G) are for the taxation years, of all foreign affiliates of the taxpayer, that end before 2000, to be read as follows:

"(F) if another foreign affiliate of the particular corporation in respect of which the particular corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year is a member of a particular partnership (other than where the other foreign affiliate would be a specified member of the particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership that ends in the year if the definition "specified member" of a partnership in subsection 248(1) of the Act were read without reference to paragraph (a) of that definition), amounts required to be included in computing the loss of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(B) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership, to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the other foreign affiliate is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,

(G) if the particular affiliate is a member of a particular partnership (other than where the particular affiliate would be a specified member of the particular partnership at any time in a fiscal period of the particular partnership that ends in the year if the definition "specified member" of a partnership in subsection 248(1) of the Act were read without reference to paragraph (a) of that definition), amounts required to be included in computing the loss of the particular affiliate from an active business for the year because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(C) of the Act that are derived from amounts paid or payable, directly or indirectly, to it or to another partnership of which it is a member by the particular partnership, to the extent that, if the particular partnership were a foreign affiliate of a corporation and were resident in the country in which the particular affiliate is resident and subject to income taxation, the amounts paid or payable by the particular partnership would be deductible in computing its exempt earnings or exempt loss for the year or for a subsequent taxation year,".

Technical Notes: Second, amendments are proposed to be made to paragraph (c) of the definition "exempt loss" in subsection 5907(1). Under existing paragraph (c) of the definition, where a particular foreign affiliate of a particular corporation is resident in a designated treaty country, the affiliate's losses for a year from an active business carried on by it in Canada or in a designated treaty country are included in computing its "exempt loss" for the year. Consequential to the amendments made to paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act, paragraph (c) of the definition is proposed to be amended to ensure that losses from sources in a country, other than Canada, that would otherwise be property losses but are re-characterized by paragraph 95(2)(a) to be losses from an active business, are included in computing the "exempt loss" of the affiliate. The provisions to deal with these re-characterized losses are set out in new subparagraph (c)(ii) of the definition "exempt loss" and are modelled after the analogous provisions in proposed amended subparagraph (d)(ii) of the definition "exempt income" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations.

The amendments to the definition "exempt loss" in subsection 5907(1) apply to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that these amendments are included in the Global Section 95 Election package described at the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act, and that, in the event of a Global Section 95 Election, in its application to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that end before 2000, the Member Criteria Condition will, instead of containing the Qualifying Member Requirement, contain the requirement that the partnership have a relevant person as a member of the partnership (otherwise than as a specified member of the partnership).

The expression "specified member" is defined in existing subsection 248(1) of the Act. For more detail, see the commentary to the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1).

minus the portion of any income or profits tax refunded by the government of a country for the year to the affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax refunded in respect of amounts of losses referred to in subparagraph (c)(ii);

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(10), will add the above after para. (d) of the definition "exempt loss" in subsec. 5907(1), applicable on the same basis as the amendment to Reg. 5907(1)"earnings"(b) (see History at the end of ITA 95).

Technical Notes: Third, a "postamble" to the definition "exempt loss" in subsection 5907(1) is proposed to be added to ensure that the amount that would otherwise be the "exempt loss" of a foreign affiliate of a particular corporation is reduced by the portion of any income or profits tax refunded by the government of a country for the year to the affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax refunded in respect of losses referred to in new subparagraph (c)(ii) of the definition "exempt loss" in subsection 5907(1).

The amendments to the definition "exempt loss" in subsection 5907(1) apply to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that these amendments are included in the Global Section 95 Election package described at the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act, and that, in the event of a Global Section 95 Election, in its application to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that end before 2000, the Member Criteria Condition will, instead of containing the Qualifying Member Requirement, contain the requirement that the partnership have a relevant person as a member of the partnership (otherwise than as a specified member of the partnership).

The expression "specified member" is defined in existing subsection 248(1) of the Act. For more detail, see the commentary to the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection 5907(1).

"exempt surplus" of a foreign affiliate (in this definition referred to as the "subject affiliate") of a corporation in respect of the corporation is, at any particular time, the amount determined by the formula

A – B

in respect of the period beginning with the time that is the latest of

(a) the first day of the taxation year of the subject affiliate in which it last became a foreign affiliate of the corporation,

(b) where the corporation is an acquiring corporation referred to in subsection 5905(5) and the subject affiliate is a particular affiliate referred to in that subsection or another foreign affiliate in which such a particular affiliate had an equity percentage at the time referred to in that subsection, the last time at which that subsection was applicable in respect of the affiliate, and

(c) where the subject affiliate is a foreign affiliate referred to in subsection 5905(1), (2), (8) or (9) or paragraph 5905(3)(b), the last time at which any of those subsections or that paragraph was applicable in respect of the subject affiliate and ending with the particular time, where

A is the total of all amounts, in respect of the period, each of which is

(i) the opening exempt surplus of the subject affiliate as determined under subsection 5905(1), (2), (3), (5), (8) or (9), at the time established in paragraph (a), (b) or (c),

(ii) the exempt earnings of the subject affiliate for any of its taxation years ending in the period,

(iii) the portion of any dividend received in the period and before the particular time by the subject affiliate from another foreign affiliate of the corporation (including, for greater certainty, any dividend deemed by subsection 5905(7) to have been received by the subject affiliate) that was prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(a) to have been paid out of the payer affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation,

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"exempt surplus"A(iii)

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(1), will amend subpara. (iii) of the description of A in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsec. 5907(1) by replacing the reference to "subsection 5905(7)" with "subsections 5905(7) to (7.4)", applicable to dissolutions that occur after December 20, 2002.

Technical Notes: The definition "exempt surplus" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations is relevant for the purposes of computing the surpluses and deficits of the affiliate. The definition is amended in three ways.

Firstly, the Regulations are proposed to be amended by replacing, with any grammatical changes that the circumstances require, every reference to "subsection 5905(7)" with a reference to "subsections 5905(7) to (7.4)" in the following subparagraphs of the description of A in the following definitions in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations:

- subparagraph (iii) of the description of A in the definition "exempt surplus";
- subparagraph (iii) of the description of A in the definition "taxable surplus", and
- subparagraph (iv) of the description of A in the definition "underlying foreign tax".

This amendment to the Regulations is to be effected by way of a global provision in the amending Regulation rather than by having the amending Regulation amend, provision by provision, each specific provision in the Regulations where a reference to subsection 5905(7) appears. This amendment to the Regulations is consequential to the division of subsection 5905(7) of the Regulations into subsections 5905(7) to (7.4). For more detail, refer to the commentary to subsections 5905(7), (7.1) and (7.2) to (7.4).

Secondly, the definition "exempt surplus" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) is amended to include each amount determined under subparagraph 5905(2)(a)(iv), (4)(a)(iv), (6)(a)(iv) or (8)(a)(iv) in the period and before the particular time in the description of A of the definition.

Thirdly, the definition "exempt surplus" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations is amended to include each amount determined under subparagraph 5905(2)(a)(i), (4)(a)(i), (6)(a)(i) or (8)(a)(i) in the period and before the particular time, in the description of B of the definition.

(iv) the portion of any income or profits tax refunded by or the amount of a tax credit paid by the government of a country to the subject affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as having been refunded or paid in respect of any amount referred to in subparagraph (iii) and that was not deducted in determining any amount referred to in subparagraph (iii) of the description of B,

(v) the portion of any taxable dividend received in the period and before the particular time by the subject affiliate that would, if the dividend were received by the corporation, be deductible by it under section 112 of the Act,

(vi) an amount added to the exempt surplus of the subject affiliate or deducted from its exempt deficit in the period and before the particular time under any provision of subsection (1.1) or (1.2), or

(vii) an amount added, in the period and before the particular time, to the exempt surplus of the subject affiliate under paragraph (7.1)(d), and

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5907(1)"exempt surplus"A(viii)

(viii) an amount that is determined under subparagraph 5905(2)(a)(iv), (4)(a)(iv), (6)(a)(iv) or (8)(a)(iv) in the period and before the particular time, and

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(11), will add subpara. (viii) to the description of A in the definition "exempt loss" in subsec. 5907(1), applicable to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002.

Technical Notes: See under "exempt surplus"(A)(iii) above.

B is the total of those of the following amounts that apply in respect of the period:

(i) the opening exempt deficit of the subject affiliate as determined under subsection 5905(1), (2), (3), (5), (8) or (9), at the time established in paragraph (a), (b) or (c),

(ii) the exempt loss of the subject affiliate for any of its taxation years ending in the period,

(iii) the portion of any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country by the subject affiliate that may reasonably be regarded as having been paid in respect of any amount referred to in subparagraph (iii), (iv) or (v) of the description of A,

(iv) the portion of any whole dividend paid by the subject affiliate in the period and before the particular time deemed by paragraph 5901(1)(a) to have been paid out of the subject affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation,

(v) each amount that is determined under paragraph 5902(4)(a) or subparagraph 5905(2)(a)(i), (6)(a)(i) or (8)(a)(i) in the period and before the particular time, or

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"exempt surplus"B(v)

(v) each amount that is determined under subparagraph 5905(2)(a)(i), (4)(a)(i), (6)(a)(i) or (8)(a)(i) in the period and before the particular time, or

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(12), will amend subpara. (v) of the description of B in the definition "exempt surplus" in subsec. 5907(1), applicable to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002.

Technical Notes: See under "exempt surplus"(A)(iii) above.

(vi) an amount, in the period and before the particular time, deducted from the exempt surplus of the subject affiliate or added to its exempt deficit under any provision of subsection (1.1) or (1.2);

Proposed Amendment — Exempt surplus

Federal Budget, Notice of Ways and Means Motion, March 19, 2007 Exempt Surplus of a Foreign Affiliate

(31) That, for the purpose of determining the exempt surplus of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada, if a comprehensive tax information exchange agreement ("TIEA") between Canada and another country is in force and has effect at any time after March 19, 2007, that country be deemed to be at that time a designated treaty country.

Federal Budget, Supplementary Information, March 19, 2007 Updating the Scope of Exempt Surplus

The existing foreign affiliate rules make a link between exempt surplus and tax treaties. As described above, only active business income that is earned in a tax treaty country can qualify for the exemption. This requirement stems from the context in which the rules were first implemented. At that time — the mid-1970s — Canada had relatively few tax treaties, and it was expected that tax treaties would be concluded only with countries that had tax systems that were generally comparable to Canada's, including corporate income tax rates resembling those imposed in Canada.

The exemption could thus be seen as a simpler alternative to the foreign tax credits that Canada would otherwise have to give its residents in respect of business income earned in the treaty country. Granting the exemption in respect of tax treaty countries was also an incentive for countries to enter into treaties with Canada.

Canada now has tax treaties with virtually all industrialized countries and many in the developing world, leaving little need to provide incentives for more treaties. Moreover, because trade and other non-tax imperatives have caused Canada to sign tax treaties with some countries that do not impose tax at anything near Canadian rates, the relationship between tax treaties and exempt surplus has become less easily justified.

The resolution of the problems around the deductibility of interest used to fund untaxed income provides an opportunity to de-link the exemption from the presence of a tax treaty. The International Tax Fairness Initiative modifies the scope of exempt surplus. In addition to its existing application in respect of treaty countries, the exemption will be extended to active business income from non-treaty jurisdictions that agree to exchange tax information with Canada.

Federal Budget, Chapter 5, March 19, 2007: Foreign-Source Business Income: Exempt Surplus

Although its mismatch with interest deductibility has been a long-standing problem, the "exempt surplus" rule in itself is a key competitive advantage of the Canadian tax system. The rule allows a Canadian company to earn business income through a foreign affiliate in any tax-treaty country, and bring that income back to Canada, with no Canadian tax. Since the only tax on this business income will be that paid to the foreign country in which it is earned, the system ensures that Canadian firms are able to operate on a level playing field with their foreign competitors.

With the proposal above to resolve the interest deductibility problem, it is no longer necessary to link the exemption to the presence of a tax treaty. In the current environment, it is more appropriate to link the exemption to the presence of a comprehensive exchange of information agreement.

Budget 2007 therefore proposes to extend the exemption to active business income from non-treaty jurisdictions as well as treaty countries, provided those jurisdictions agree to exchange tax information with Canada. This will give Canadian firms more scope to expand internationally, especially into new and emerging markets, without our tax system imposing additional costs that could reduce their competitiveness, while also maintaining tax fairness. It will also encourage non-treaty jurisdictions to join in the efforts of Canada and our treaty partners to control international tax evasion.

"loss" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year of the affiliate from an active business carried on by it in a country is the amount of its loss for the year from that active business carried on in that country computed by applying the provisions of paragraph (a) of the definition "earnings" in this subsection respecting the computation of earnings from that active business carried on in that country, with any modifications that the cricumstances require;

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"loss"

"loss", of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year of the affiliate from an active business, means

(a) in the case of an active business carried on by it in a country, the amount of its loss for the year from the active business carried on in the country computed by applying the provisions of paragraph (a) of the definition "earnings" in this subsection respecting the computation of earnings from that active business carried on in that country, with any modifications that the circumstances require, and

(b) in any other case, the total of the amounts required by paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act to be included in computing the affiliate's loss from an active business for the year;

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(13), will amend the definition "loss" in subsec. 5907(1) to read as above, applicable on the same basis as the amendment to Reg. 5907(1)"earnings"(b) (see History at the end of ITA 95).

Technical Notes: The definition "loss" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations is relevant for the purposes of computing the surpluses and deficits of the foreign affiliate.

Consequential to the amendments to paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act, the definition "loss" in subsection 5907(1) is proposed to be amended to add new paragraph (b) to ensure that losses from sources in a country other than Canada, that would otherwise be property losses but are re-characterized by paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act to be losses from an active business, are included in computing the "loss" of the affiliate.

The amendment to the definition "loss" in subsection 5907(1) is proposed to apply to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that these amendments are included in the Global Section 95 Election package described at the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act.

"net earnings" of a foreign affiliate of a corporation for a taxation year of the affiliate

(a) from an active business carried on by it in a country is the amount of its earnings for the year from that active business carried on in that country minus the portion of any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country for the year by the affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax in respect of those earnings,

(b) in respect of foreign accrual property income is the amount that would be its foreign accrual property income for the year, if the formula in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act were read without reference to the variable F in that formula, minus the portion of any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country for the year by the affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax in respect of that income,

(c) from dispositions of property used or held by it principally for the purpose of gaining or producing income from an active business carried on by it in a country that is not a designated treaty country (other than Canada) is the amount, if any, by which

(i) the portion of the affiliate's taxable capital gains for the year from those dispositions that can reasonably be considered to have accrued after November 12, 1981

exceeds

(ii) the portion of any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country for the year by the affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax in respect of the amount determined under subparagraph (i), and

(d) from dispositions of

(i) shares of the capital stock of another foreign affiliate of the corporation that were excluded property of the affiliate (other than dispositions to which paragraph 95(2)(c), (d) or (e) of the Act was applicable), or

(ii) partnership interests that were excluded property of the affiliate

is the amount, if any, by which

(iii) the portion of the affiliate's taxable capital gains for the year from such dispositions that can reasonably be considered to have accrued after its 1975 taxation year

exceeds

(iv) the portion of any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country for the year by the affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax in respect of the amount determined under subparagraph (iii);

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"net earnings"(d)

(d) from dispositions of

(i) shares of the capital stock of another foreign affiliate of the corporation that were excluded property of the affiliate (other than dispositions to which any of subsection 8(3) or paragraphs 95(2)(c), (c.2), (d), (d.1), (e), (e.1), (e.3) to (e.5) and (f.4) of the Act applied), or

(ii) partnership interests that were excluded property of the affiliate

is the amount, if any, by which

(iii) the portion of the affiliate's taxable capital gains for the year from those dispositions that can reasonably be considered to have accrued after its 1975 taxation year

exceeds

(iv) the portion of any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country for the year by the affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax in respect of the amount determined under subparagraph (iii);

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(14), will amend para. (d) of the definition "net earnings" in subsec. 5907(1) to read as above, applicable on the same basis as the amendment to Reg. 5907(1)"earnings"(b) (see History at the end of ITA 95).

Technical Notes: The definition "net earnings" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations is relevant for the purposes of computing the surpluses and deficits of the foreign affiliate.

It is proposed to amend paragraph (d) of the definition "net earnings". The amendment is to subparagraph (d)(i) and is consequential to the amendments to the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act. Those amendments to the definition "foreign accrual property income" ensure that capital gains and losses from dispositions of "excluded property" to which subsection 88(3) of the Act applies are included in computing foreign accrual property income. This amendment to the definition "net earnings" ensures that, in computing net earnings, those capital gains are not double-counted.

The proposed amendment to the definition "net earnings" in subsection 5907(1) applies to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that this amendment is included in the Global Section 95 Election package described at the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act.

Related Provisions: Reg. 5910(1) — FA carrying on foreign oil & gas business deemed to have paid income or profits tax.

"net loss" of a foreign affiliate of a corporation for a taxation year of the affiliate

(a) from an active business carried on by it in a country is the amount of its loss for the year from that active business carried on in that country minus the portion of any income or profits tax refunded by the government of a country for the year to the affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax refunded in respect of that loss,

(b) in respect of foreign accrual property income is the amount, if any, by which

(i) the amount, if any, by which

(A) the total of the amounts determined under the descriptions of D, E and G in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act for the year

exceeds

(B) the total of the amounts determined under the descriptions of A, A.1, A.2, B and C in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act for the year

exceeds

(ii) the portion of any income or profits tax refunded by the government of a country for the year to the affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax refunded in respect of the amount determined under subparagraph (i),

(c) from dispositions of property used or held by it principally for the purpose of gaining or producing income from an active business carried on by it in a country that is not a designated treaty country (other than Canada) is the amount, if any, by which

(i) the portion of the affiliate's allowable capital losses for the year from those dispositions that can reasonably be considered to have accrued after November 12, 1981

exceeds

(ii) the portion of any income or profits tax refunded by the government of a country for the year to the affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax refunded in respect of the amount determined under subparagraph (i), and

(d) from dispositions of

(i) shares of the capital stock of another foreign affiliate of the corporation that were excluded property of the affiliate (other than dispositions to which paragraph 95(2)(c), (d) or (e) of the Act was applicable), or

(ii) partnership interests that were excluded property of the affiliate

is the amount, if any, by which

(iii) the portion of the affiliate's allowable capital losses for the year from those dispositions that can reasonably be considered to have accrued after its 1975 taxation year

exceeds

(iv) the portion of any income or profits tax refunded by the government of a country for the year to the affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax refunded in respect of the amount determined under subparagraph (iii);

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"net loss"(d)

(d) from dispositions of

(i) shares of the capital stock of another foreign affiliate of the corporation that were excluded property of the affiliate, or

(ii) partnership interests that were excluded property of the affiliate

is the amount, if any, by which

(iii) the portion of the affiliate's allowable capital losses for the year from those dispositions that can reasonably be considered to have accrued after its 1975 taxation year

exceeds

(iv) the portion of any income or profits tax refunded by the government of a country for the year to the affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax refunded in respect of the amount determined under subparagraph (iii);

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(15), will amend para. (d) of the definition "net loss" in subsec. 5907(1) to read as above, applicable on the same basis as the amendment to Reg. 5907(1)"earnings"(b) (see History at the end of ITA 95).

Technical Notes: The definition "net loss" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations is relevant for the purposes of computing the surpluses and deficits of the foreign affiliate.

It is proposed to amend paragraph (d) of the definition "net loss". The amendment is to subparagraph (d)(i) of the definition "net loss". The amendment removes the reference to the words in parentheses that were previously contained in that subparagraph. They were not necessary and caused confusion.

The proposed amendment to the definition "net loss" in subsection 5907(1) applies to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that this amendment is included in the Global Section 95 Election package described at the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act.

Related Provisions: Reg. 5910(1) — FA carrying on foreign oil & gas business deemed to have paid income or profits tax.

"net surplus" of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada in respect of the corporation is, at any particular time,

(a) if the affiliate has no exempt deficit and no taxable deficit, the amount that is the total of its exempt surplus and taxable surplus in respect of the corporation,

(b) if the affiliate has no taxable surplus, the amount, if any, by which its exempt surplus exceeds its taxable deficit in respect of the corporation, or

(c) if the affiliate has no exempt surplus, the amount, if any, by which its taxable surplus exceeds its exempt deficit in respect of the corporation, as the case may be, at that time;

"taxable deficit" of a foreign affiliate of a corporation in respect of the corporation at any time is the amount, if any, by which

(a) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount determined at that time under any of subparagraphs (i) to (vi) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in this subsection

exceeds

(b) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount determined at that time under any of subparagraphs (i) to (v) of the description of A in that definition;

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"taxable deficit"(b)

(b) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount determined at that time under any of subparagraphs (i) to (vi) of the description of A in that definition;

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(16), will amend para. (b) of the definition "taxable deficit" in subsec. 5907(1) to read as above, applicable on the same basis as the amendment to Reg. 5907(1)"earnings"(b) (see History at the end of ITA 95).

Technical Notes: The definition "taxable deficit" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations is relevant for the purposes of computing the surpluses of the foreign affiliate.

The amendment to the definition "taxable deficit" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) is to insert a reference to new subparagraph (vi) of the description of A in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations.

The proposed amendment to the definition "taxable deficit" in subsection 5907(1) applies to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that this amendment is included in the Global Section 95 Election package described at the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act.

Related Provisions: Reg. 5905(2)(a)(v), (2)(b) — Inclusion in exempt deficit on acquisition or cancellation of share; Reg. 5905(4)(a)(v), (4)(b) — Inclusion in taxable deficit on disposition of share; Reg. 5905(5.1) — Taxable deficit after amalgamation of corporation holding foreign affiliate; Reg. 5905(5.2) — Taxable deficit after windup of corporation holding foreign affiliate; Reg. 5905(6)(a)(v) — Computation of exempt deficit.

"taxable earnings" of a foreign affiliate of a corporation for a taxation year of the affiliate is

(a) where the year is the 1975 or any preceding taxation year of the affiliate, nil, and

(b) in any other case, the total of all amounts each of which is

(i) the affiliate's net earnings for the year from an active business carried on by it in a country,

(ii) the affiliate's net earnings for the year in respect of its foreign accrual property income,

(iii) to the extent that they have not been included under subparagraph (i) or deducted in determining an amount included under subparagraph (b)(i) of the definition "taxable loss" in this subsection, the earnings for the year as determined under paragraph (b) of the definition "earnings" in this subsection minus the portion of any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country for the year by the affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax in respect of those earnings,

(iv) the affiliate's net earnings for the year from dispositions of property used or held by it principally for the purpose of gaining or producing income from an active business carried on by it in a country that is not a designated treaty country (other than Canada), or

(v) the affiliate's net earnings for the year from dispositions of shares of the capital stock of another foreign affiliate of the corporation that were excluded property of the affiliate (other than dispositions to which paragraph 95(2)(c), (d) or (e) of the Act was applicable) or dispositions of partnership interests that were excluded property of the affiliate,

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"taxable earnings"(b)(v)

(v) the affiliate's net earnings for the year from dispositions of shares of the capital stock of another foreign affiliate of the corporation that were excluded property of the affiliate (other than dispositions to which any of subsection 88(3) or paragraphs 95(2)(c), (c.2), (d), (d.1), (e), (e.1), (e.3) to (e.5) and (f.4) of the Act applied) or dispositions of partnership interests that were excluded property of the affiliate,

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(17), will amend subpara. (b)(v) of the definition "taxable earnings" in subsec. 5907(1) to read as above, applicable to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002.

Technical Notes: The definition "taxable earnings" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations is relevant for the purposes of computing the surpluses of the foreign affiliate.

The proposed amendment of the definition "taxable earnings" in subsection 5907(1) is to subparagraph (b)(v) and is consequential to the amendments to the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act. The amendments to the definition "foreign accrual property income" ensure that capital gains and losses from dispositions of "excluded property" to which subsection 88(3) of the Act applies are included in computing foreign accrual property income. This amendment to the definition "taxable earnings" ensures that, in computing taxable earnings, those capital gains are not double-counted.

This amendment to the definition "taxable earnings" in subsection 5907(1) applies to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that this amendment is included in the Global Section 95 Election package described at the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act.

but does not include any amount included in the affiliate's exempt earnings for the year;

(i) the affiliate's net loss for the year from an active business carried on by it in a country,

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5907(1)"taxable loss"(b)(i.1)

(i.1) the affiliate's net loss for the year in respect of losses included in computing income from an active business because of subparagraphs 95(2)(a)(v) and (vi) of the Act,

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(18), will add subpara. (b)(i.1) to the definition "taxable loss" in subsec. 5907(1), applicable on the same basis as the amendment to Reg. 5907(1)"earnings"(b) (see History at the end of ITA 95).

Technical Notes: See under 5907(1)"taxable loss"(b)(iv), (v) below.

(ii) the affiliate's net loss for the year in respect of foreign accrual property income,

(iii) the affiliate's net loss for the year from dispositions of property used or held by it principally for the purpose of gaining or producing income from an active business carried on by it in a country that is not a designated treaty country (other than Canada), or

(iv) the affiliate's net loss for the year from dispositions of shares of the capital stock of another foreign affiliate of the corporation that were excluded property of the affiliate (other than dispositions to which paragraph 95(2)(c), (d) or (e) of the Act was applicable) or dispositions of partnership interests that were excluded property of the affiliate,

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"taxable loss"(b)(iv), (v)

(iv) the affiliate's net loss for the year from the disposition of shares of the capital stock of another foreign affiliate of the corporation that were excluded property of the affiliate or from the disposition of partnership interests that were excluded property of the affiliate, or

(v) to the extent that they have not otherwise been included under subparagraph (i) or deducted in computing an amount under subparagraph (b)(i) of the definition "taxable earnings", the loss for the year as determined under paragraph (b) of the definition "loss" minus the portion of any income or profits tax refunded by the government of a country for the year that can reasonably be regarded as tax refunded in respect of that loss,

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(19), will amend subpara. (b)(iv) of "taxable loss" in subsec. 5907(1) to read as above and add subpara (b)(v), applicable on the same basis as the amendment to Reg. 5907(1)"earnings"(b) (see History at the end of ITA 95).

Technical Notes: The definition "taxable loss" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations is relevant for the purposes of computing the surpluses and deficits of the foreign affiliate.

As noted in the commentary to the proposed amendments to the definition "loss" in subsection 5907(1), a property loss re-characterized by paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act as loss from an active business is described in new paragraph (b) of the definition "loss" and is included in computing "loss".

The amendment to the definition "taxable loss" in subsection 5907(1) proposes to add new subparagraph (b)(v). That subparagraph ensures that, to the extent that the loss for the year determined under paragraph (b) of the definition "loss" has not been included under existing subparagraph (b)(i) of the definition "taxable loss" or deducted in computing an amount under existing subparagraph (b)(i) of the definition "taxable earnings", that loss (minus the portion of any income or profits tax refunded by the government of a country for the year that can reasonably be regarded as tax refunded in respect of that loss) is to be included in computing "taxable loss" for the year. Note, also, that the existing "postamble" to the definition "taxable loss" ensures that "taxable loss" does not include any amount included in the affiliate's "exempt loss" for the year.

This proposed amendment to the definition "taxable loss" in subsection 5907(1) applies to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that this amendment is included in the Global Section 95 Election package described at the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act.

but does not include any amount included in the affiliate's exempt loss for the year;

"taxable surplus" of a foreign affiliate (in this definition referred to as the "subject affiliate") of a corporation in respect of the corporation is, at any particular time, the amount determined by the formula

A – B

in respect of the period beginning with the time that is the latest of

(a) the first day of the taxation year of the affiliate in which it last became a foreign affiliate of the corporation,

(b) where the corporation is an acquiring corporation referred to in subsection 5905(5) and the subject affiliate is a particular affiliate referred to in that subsection or another foreign affiliate in which such a particular affiliate had an equity percentage at the time referred to in that subsection, the last time at which that subsection was applicable in respect of the subject affiliate, and

(c) where the subject affiliate is a foreign affiliate referred to in subsection 5905(1), (2), (8) or (9) or paragraph 5905(3)(b), the last time at which any of those subsections or that paragraph was applicable in respect of the subject affiliate

and ending with the particular time, where

A is the total of all amounts, in respect of the period, each of which is

(i) the opening taxable surplus of the subject affiliate as determined under subsection 5905(1), (2), (3), (5), (8) or (9) at the time established in paragraph (a), (b) or (c),

(ii) the taxable earnings of the subject affiliate for any of its taxation years ending in the period,

(iii) the portion of any dividend received in the period and before the particular time by the subject affiliate from another foreign affiliate of the corporation (including, for greater certainty, any dividend deemed by subsection 5905(7) to have been received by the subject affiliate) that was prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) to have been paid out of the payer affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation,

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"taxable surplus"A(iii)

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(1), will amend subpara. (iii) of the description of A in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsec. 5907(1) by replacing the reference to "subsection 5905(7)" with "subsections 5905(7) to (7.4)", applicable to dissolutions that occur after December 20, 2002.

Technical Notes: See 5907(1)"exempt surplus"A(iii) above.

(iv) an amount added to the taxable surplus of the subject affiliate or deducted from its taxable deficit in the period and before the particular time under any provision of subsection (1.1) or (1.2),

(v) an amount added, in the period and before the particular time, to the subject affiliate's taxable surplus under paragraph (7.1)(e), and

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5907(1)"taxable surplus"A(vi)

(vi) each amount that is determined under subparagraph 5905(2)(a)(v), (4)(a)(v), (6)(a)(v) or (8)(a)(v) in the period and before that particular time, and

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(20), will add subpara. (vi) to the description of A in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsec. 5907(1), applicable in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which proposed subsec. 5902(1) applies.

Technical Notes: The definition "taxable surplus" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) is relevant for the purposes of computing the surpluses and deficits of the foreign affiliate.

The definition "taxable surplus" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1) is proposed to be amended in three ways.

Firstly, in the description of A in the definition of "taxable surplus" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1), there is to be included a new subparagraph (vi) which will include in the description of A of the definition each amount determined under subparagraph 5905(2)(a)(v), (4)(a)(v), (6)(a)(v) or (8)(a)(v) in the period and before that particular time.

Secondly, in subparagraph (v) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year in subsection 5907(1), the reference to "paragraph 5902(4)(b) or subparagraph 5905(2)(a)(ii), (6)(a)(ii) or (8)(a)(ii)" is replaced by a reference to "subparagraph 5905(2)(a)(ii), (4)(a)(ii), (6)(a)(ii) or (8)(a)(ii)".

For details on the third amendment, refer to the commentary to the definition "exempt surplus" in subsection 5907(1).

B is the total of those of the following amounts that apply in respect of the period:

(i) the opening taxable deficit of the subject affiliate as determined under subsection 5905(1), (2), (3), (5), (8) or (9), at the time established in paragraph (a), (b) or (c),

(ii) the taxable loss of the subject affiliate for any of its taxation years ending in the period,

(iii) the portion of any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country by the subject affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as having been paid in respect of that portion of a dividend referred to in subparagraph (iii) of the description of A,

(iv) the portion of any whole dividend paid by the subject affiliate in the period and before the particular time deemed by paragraph 5901(1)(b) to have been paid out of the subject affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation,

(v) each amount that is determined under paragraph 5902(4)(b) or subparagraph 5905(2)(a)(ii), (6)(a)(ii) or (8)(a)(ii) in the period and before the particular time, or

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"taxable surplus"B(v)

(v) each amount that is determined under subparagraph 5905(2)(a)(ii), (4)(a)(ii), (6)(a)(ii) or (8)(a)(ii) in the period and before the particular time, or

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(21), will add subpara. (v) to the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in subsec. 5907(1), applicable in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which proposed subsec. 5902(1) applies.

Technical Notes: See 5907(1)"taxable surplus"A(vi) above.

(vi) an amount, in the period and before the particular time, deducted from the taxable surplus of the subject affiliate or added to its taxable deficit under any provision of subsection (1.1) or (1.2);

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas; Reg. 5905(2)(a)(ii), (v), 5905(2)(b) — Inclusion in taxable surplus on acquisition or cancellation of share; Reg. 5905(4)(a)(ii), 5905(4)(b) — Inclusion in taxable surplus on disposition of share; Reg. 5905(5.1) — Taxable surplus after amalgamation of corporation holding foreign affiliate; Reg. 5905(5.2) — Taxable surplus after windup of corporation holding foreign affiliate\; Reg. 5905(6)(a)(ii) — Computation of taxable surplus; Reg. 5910(1) — FA carrying on foreign oil & gas business deemed to have paid income or profits tax.

"underlying foreign tax" of a foreign affiliate (in this definition referred to as the "subject affiliate") of a corporation in respect of the corporation is, at any particular time, the amount, determined by the formula

in respect of the period beginning with the time that is the latest of

(a) the first day of the taxation year of the subject affiliate in which it last became a foreign affiliate of the corporation,

(b) where the corporation is an acquiring corporation referred to in subsection 5905(5) and the subject affiliate is a particular affiliate referred to in that subsection or another foreign affiliate in which such a particular affiliate had an equity percentage at the time referred to in that subsection, the last time at which that subsection was applicable in respect of the subject affiliate, and

(c) where the subject affiliate is a foreign affiliate referred to in subsection 5905(1), (2), (8) or (9) or paragraph 5905(3)(b), the last time at which any of those subsections or that paragraph was applicable in respect of the subject affiliate

and ending with the particular time, where

A is the total of all amounts, in respect of the period, each of which is

(i) the opening underlying foreign tax of the subject affiliate as determined under subsection 5905(1), (2), (3), (5), (8) or (9), at the time established in paragraph (a), (b) or (c),

(ii) the portion of any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country by the subject affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as having been paid in respect of the taxable earnings of the affiliate for a taxation year ending in the period,

(iii) the portion of any income or profits tax referred to in subparagraph (iii) of the description of B in the definition "taxable surplus" in this subsection paid by the subject affiliate in respect of a dividend received from any other foreign affiliate of the corporation,

(iv) each amount that was prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(d) to have been the foreign tax applicable to the portion of any dividend received in the period and before the particular time by the subject affiliate from another foreign affiliate of the corporation (including, for greater certainty, any dividend deemed by subsection 5905(7) to have been received by the subject affiliate) that was prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(b) to have been paid out of the payer affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation, or

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"underlying foreign tax"A(iv)

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(1), will amend subpara. (iv) of the description of A in the definition "underlying foreign tax" in subsec. 5907(1) by replacing the reference to "subsection 5905(7)" with "subsections 5905(7) to (7.4)", applicable to dissolutions that occur after December 20, 2002.

Technical Notes: See "exempt surplus"A(iii) above.

(v) the amount by which the subject affiliate's underlying foreign tax is required to be increased by any provision of subsection (1.1) or (1.2),

B is the total of those of the following amounts that apply in respect of the period:

(i) the portion of any income or profits tax refunded by the government of a country to the affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as having been refunded in respect of the taxable loss of the subject affiliate for a taxation year ending in the period,

(ii) the underlying foreign tax applicable to any whole dividend paid by the subject affiliate in the period and before the particular time deemed by paragraph 5901(1)(b) to have been paid out of the subject affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation before that time,

(iii) each amount that is required by paragraph 5902(4)(c) or subparagraph 5905(2)(a)(iii), (6)(a)(iii) or (8)(a)(iii) to be deducted in the period and before the particular time in computing the subject affiliate's underlying foreign tax, or

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"underlying foreign tax"B(iii)

(iii) each amount that is required by subparagraph 5905(2)(a)(iii), (4)(a)(iii), (6)(a)(iii) or (8)(a)(iii) to be deducted in the period and before the particular time in computing the subject affiliate's underlying foreign tax, or

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(22), will amend subpara. (iii) of the description of B in the definition "underlying foreign tax" in subsec. 5907(1) to read as above, applicable in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which proposed subsec. 5902(1) applies.

Technical Notes: The definition "underlying foreign tax" of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada, in respect of a corporation, in subsection 5907(1) is relevant for the purposes of computing the surpluses and deficits of the foreign affiliate.

Subparagraph (iii) of the description of B of the definition "underlying foreign tax" has been amended to remove the reference to paragraph 5902(4)(c), and to add a reference to subparagraph 5905(4)(a)(iii).

(iv) the amount by which the subject affiliate's underlying foreign tax is required to be decreased in the period and before the particular time by any provision of subsection (1.1) or (1.2);

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas; Reg. 5905(2)(a)(iii), (2)(b) — Inclusion in underlying foreign tax on acquisition or cancellation of share; Reg. 5905(4)(a)(iii), (b) — Inclusion in UFT on disposition of share; Reg. 5905(5.1) — UFT after amalgamation of corporation holding foreign affiliate; Reg. 5905(5.2) — UFT after windup of corporation holding foreign affiliate; Reg. 5905(6)(a)(iii) — Computation of UFT; Reg. 5910(1) — FA carrying on foreign oil & gas business deemed to have paid income or profits tax.

"underlying foreign tax applicable" in respect of a corporation to a whole dividend paid at any time on the shares of any class of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of the corporation by the affiliate is the total of

(a) the proportion of the underlying foreign tax of the affiliate at that time in respect of the corporation that

(i) the portion of the whole dividend deemed to have been paid out of the affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation

is of

(ii) the affiliate's taxable surplus at that time in respect of the corporation, and

(b) except with respect to any whole dividend referred to in section 5902, in any case where throughout the taxation year of the affiliate in which the whole dividend was paid

(i) there is no more than one class of shares of the capital stock of the affiliate issued and outstanding,

(ii) the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation in respect of the affiliate is 100 per cent, or

(iii) there is not more than one shareholder who owns shares of the capital stock of the affiliate, any additional amount in respect of the whole dividend that the corporation claims in its return of income under Part I of the Act in respect of the whole dividend, not exceeding the amount that is the lesser of

(iv) the amount by which the portion of the whole dividend deemed to have been paid out of the affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation exceeds the amount determined under paragraph (a), and

(v) the amount by which the underlying foreign tax of the affiliate in respect of the corporation immediately before the whole dividend was paid exceeds the amount determined under paragraph (a);

"whole dividend" paid at any time on the shares of a class of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada is the total of all amounts each of which is the dividend paid at that time on a share of that class except that

(a) where a dividend is paid at the same time on shares of more than one class of the capital stock of an affiliate, for the purpose only of section 5900, the whole dividend referred to in section 5901 paid at that time on the shares of a class of the capital stock of the affiliate is deemed to be the total of all amounts each of which is the dividend paid at that time on a share of the capital stock of the affiliate,

(b) where a whole dividend is deemed by paragraph 5902(1)(c) to have been paid at the same time on shares of more than one class of the capital stock of an affiliate, for the purpose only of that paragraph, the whole dividend deemed to have been paid at that time on the shares of a class of the capital stock of the affiliate is deemed to be the total of all amounts each of which is a whole dividend deemed to have been paid at that time on the shares of a class of the capital stock of the affiliate, and

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1)"whole dividend"(b)

(b) where a whole dividend is deemed by paragraph 5902(1)(g) to have been paid at the same time on shares of more than one class of the capital stock of an affiliate, for the purpose only of that paragraph, the whole dividend deemed to have been paid at that time on the shares of a class of the capital stock of the affiliate is deemed to be the total of all amounts each of which is a whole dividend deemed to have been paid at that time on the shares of a class of the capital stock of the affiliate, and

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(23), will amend para. (b) of the definition "whole dividend" in subsec. 5907(1) to read as above, applicable in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which proposed subsec. 5902(1) applies.

Technical Notes: The definition "whole dividend" paid at any time on the shares of a class of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada in subsection 5907(1) is relevant for the purposes of computing the surpluses and deficits of the foreign affiliate.

The proposed amendment to paragraph (b) of the definition "whole dividend" in subsection 5907(1) replaces a reference to "5902(1)(c)" with a reference to "5902(1)(g)".

This proposed amendment to the definition "underlying foreign tax" in subsection 5907(1) applies in respect of dispositions in respect of which an election was made in respect of which proposed new subsection 5902(1) applies.

(c) where more than one whole dividend is deemed by paragraph 5900(2)(b) to have been paid at the same time on shares of a class of the capital stock of an affiliate, for the purposes only of paragraph 5900(1)(d) and the definitions "underlying foreign tax" and "underlying foreign tax applicable" in this subsection, the whole dividend deemed to have been paid at that time on the shares of a class of the capital stock of the affiliate is deemed to be the total of all amounts each of which is a whole dividend deemed to have been paid at that time on the shares of a class of the capital stock of the affiliate and all of that whole dividend shall be deemed to have been paid out of the affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation.

History: Subsec. 5907(1) definitions amended and rearranged by P.C. 1997-1670, subsec. 8(1), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the definitions apply to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate; and

(b) in applying the definitions for taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin before 1996 and in respect of which subsecs. 5907(11)–(11.2) (as amended) do not apply, the references to "designated treaty country" shall be read as "country listed in subsection (11)".

(1.01) [Interpretation for ITA 113] — For the purpose of section 113 of the Act, "exempt surplus" and "taxable surplus" have the meanings assigned by subsection (1).

History: Subsec. 5907(1.01) added by P.C. 1997-1670, subsec. 8(1), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the subsec. applies to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

(1.02) ["Qualifying interest", "related"] — In paragraph (d) of the definition "exempt earnings" in subsection (1), the determination of whether a corporation

(a) has a "qualifying interest" in respect of a foreign affiliate throughout a taxation year, or

(b) is related to another corporation throughout a taxation year shall be made as it would for the purpose of paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act.

History: Subsec. 5907(1.02) added by P.C. 1997-1670, subsec. 8(2), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the subsec. applies to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

(1.1) [Where FA is member of consolidated group] — For the purposes of this Part, where, pursuant to the income tax law of a country other than Canada, a group of two or more foreign affiliates (in this subsection referred to as the "consolidated group") of a corporation resident in Canada that are resident in that country determine their liabilities for income or profits tax payable to the government of that country for a taxation year on a consolidated or combined basis and one of the affiliates (in this subsection referred to as the "primary affiliate") is responsible for paying, or claiming a refund of, such tax on behalf of itself and the other members of the consolidated group (hereinafter referred to as the "secondary affiliates"), the following rules apply:

(a) in respect of the primary affiliate,

(i) any such income or profits tax paid by the primary affiliate for the year shall be deemed not to have been paid and any refund to the primary affiliate of income or profits tax otherwise payable by it for the year shall be deemed not to have been made,

(ii) any such income or profits tax that would have been payable by the primary affiliate for the year if the primary affiliate had no other taxation year and had not been a member of the consolidated group shall be deemed to have been paid for the year,

(iii) to the extent that

(A) the income or profits tax that would otherwise have been payable by the primary affiliate for the year on behalf of the consolidated group is reduced by virtue of any loss of the primary affiliate for the year or any previous taxation year, or

(B) the primary affiliate receives, in respect of a loss of the primary affiliate for the year or a subsequent taxation year, a refund of income or profits tax otherwise payable for the year by the primary affiliate on behalf of the consolidated group, the amount of such reduction or refund, as the case may be, shall be deemed to have been received by the primary affiliate as a refund for the year of the loss of income or profits tax in respect of the loss,

(iv) any such income or profits tax that would have been payable by a secondary affiliate for the year if the secondary affiliate had no other taxation year and had not been a member of the consolidated group shall at the end of the year,

(A) to the extent that such income or profits tax would otherwise have reduced the net earnings included in the exempt earnings of the secondary affiliate, be deducted from the exempt surplus or added to the exempt deficit, as the case may be, of the primary affiliate, and

(B) to the extent that such income or profits tax would otherwise have reduced the net earnings included in the taxable earnings of the secondary affiliate,

(I) be deducted from the taxable surplus or added to the taxable deficit, as the case may be, of the primary affiliate, and

(II) be added to the underlying foreign tax of the primary affiliate,

(v) to the extent that

(A) the income or profits tax that would otherwise have been payable by the primary affiliate for the year on behalf of the consolidated group is reduced by virtue of a loss of a secondary affiliate for the year or a previous taxation year, or

(B) the primary affiliate receives, in respect of a loss of a secondary affiliate for the year or a subsequent taxation year, a refund of income or profits tax otherwise payable for the year by the primary affiliate on behalf of the consolidated group, the amount of such reduction or refund, as the case may be, shall at the end of the year of the loss,

(C) where such loss reduces the exempt surplus or increases the exempt deficit, as the case may be, of the secondary affiliate, be added to the exempt surplus or deducted from the exempt deficit, as the case may be, of the primary affiliate, and

(D) where such loss reduces the taxable surplus or increases the taxable deficit, as the case may be, of the secondary affiliate,

(I) be added to the taxable surplus or deducted from the taxable deficit, as the case may be, of the primary affiliate, and

(II) be deducted from the underlying foreign tax of the primary affiliate; and

(b) where by virtue of the primary affiliate being responsible for paying, or claiming a refund of, income or profits tax for the year on behalf of the consolidated group,

(i) an amount is paid to the primary affiliate by a secondary affiliate in respect of the income or profits tax that would have been payable by the secondary affiliate for the year had it not been a member of the group,

(A) in respect of the secondary affiliate, the amount so paid shall be deemed to be a payment of such income or profits tax for the year, and

(B) in respect of the primary affiliate,

(I) such portion of the amount so paid as may reasonably be regarded as relating to an amount included in the exempt surplus or deducted from the exempt deficit, as the case may be, of the secondary affiliate shall at the end of the year be added to the exempt surplus or deducted from the exempt deficit, as the case may be, of the primary affiliate, and

(II) such portion of the amount so paid as may reasonably be regarded as relating to an amount included in the taxable surplus or deducted from the taxable deficit, as the case may be, of the secondary affiliate shall at the end of the year be added to the taxable surplus or deducted from the taxable deficit, as the case may be, of the primary affiliate and be deducted from the underlying foreign tax of the primary affiliate, or

(ii) an amount is paid by the primary affiliate to a secondary affiliate in respect of a reduction or refund by virtue of a loss of the secondary affiliate for a taxation year of the income or profits tax that would otherwise have been payable by the primary affiliate for the year on behalf of the consolidated group,

(A) in respect of the primary affiliate,

(I) such portion of the amount so paid as may reasonably be regarded as relating to an amount deducted from the exempt surplus or included in the exempt deficit, as the case may be, of the secondary affiliate shall at the end of the year of the loss be deducted from the exempt surplus or added to the exempt deficit, as the case may be, of the primary affiliate, and

(II) such portion of the amount so paid as may reasonably be regarded as relating to an amount deducted from the taxable surplus or included in the taxable deficit, as the case may be, of the secondary affiliate shall at the end of the year of the loss be deducted from the taxable surplus or added to the taxable deficit, as the case may be, of the primary affiliate and be added to the underlying foreign tax of the primary affiliate, and

(B) in respect of the secondary affiliate, the amount shall be deemed to be a refund to the secondary affiliate for the year of the loss of income or profits tax in respect of the loss,

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1.1)(b)(ii)

(ii) an amount is paid by the primary affiliate to a secondary affiliate in respect of a reduction or refund because of a loss or a tax credit of the secondary affiliate for a taxation year of the income or profits tax that would otherwise have been payable by the primary affiliate for the year on behalf of the consolidated group,

(A) in respect of the primary affiliate,

(I) the portion of the amount so paid that can reasonably be regarded as relating to an amount deducted from the exempt surplus or included in the exempt deficit, as the case may be, of the secondary affiliate shall at the end of the year to which the loss or the tax credit relates be deducted from the exempt surplus or added to the exempt deficit, as the case may be, of the primary affiliate, and

(II) the portion of the amount so paid that can reasonably be regarded as relating to an amount deducted from the taxable surplus or included in the taxable deficit, as the case may be, of the secondary

affiliate shall at the end of the year to which the loss or the tax credit relates be deducted from the taxable surplus or added to the taxable deficit, as the case may be, of the primary affiliate and be added to the underlying foreign tax of the primary affiliate, and

(B) in respect of the secondary affiliate, the amount is deemed to be a refund to the secondary affiliate for the year to which the loss or the tax credit relates of income or profits tax in respect of the loss or the tax credit,

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(24), will amend subpara. 5907(1.1)(b)(ii) to read as above, applicable to payments made after December 20, 2002.

Technical Notes: Subsection 5907(1.1) contains rules for the calculation of the surpluses and deficits of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada where the affiliate is a member of a group (the "consolidated group") of foreign affiliates of the corporation that files a consolidated or combined return in a foreign country such as the United States and one of the affiliates (the "primary affiliate") in the group is responsible, on behalf of the group, for paying, or claiming a refund of, the tax payable in that country by the primary affiliate and the other members of the group (those other members being referred to as the "secondary affiliates").

Subparagraph 5907(1.1)(b)(ii) applies where a secondary affiliate has a loss and the primary affiliate pays an amount to a secondary affiliate in respect of a reduction or refund, by virtue of the loss of the secondary affiliate, of the tax that would otherwise have been payable in the country by the primary affiliate for the year on behalf of the consolidated group. In general terms, that subparagraph results in a reduction of the primary affiliate's surplus balances, and an increase of the secondary affiliate's surplus balances, by the amount of the payment.

The proposed amendments to subparagraph 5907(1.1)(b)(ii) deal with the case where a secondary affiliate has a tax credit and the primary affiliate pays an amount to the secondary affiliate in respect of a reduction or refund, by virtue of the tax credit of the secondary affiliate, of the tax that would otherwise have been payable in the country by the primary affiliate for the year on behalf of the consolidated group. In general terms, the amendments ensure that the primary affiliate's surplus balances are reduced, and the secondary affiliate's surplus balances are increased, by the amount of the payment.

and, for the purposes of this paragraph, any amount paid by a particular secondary affiliate to another secondary affiliate in respect of any income or profits tax that would have been payable by the particular secondary affiliate for the year had it not been a member of the consolidated group shall be deemed to have been paid in respect of such tax by the particular secondary affiliate to the primary affiliate and to have been paid in respect of such tax by the primary affiliate to the other secondary affiliate.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1.1)

Letter from Dept. of Finance, June 9, 2006:

Dear [xxx]:

I am writing in response to your letter concerning subsection 5907(1.1) of the Income Tax Regulations (the "Regulations").

Subsection 5907(1.1) of the Regulations contains rules for the calculation of surpluses and deficits and underlying foreign tax ("UFT") of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada where the foreign affiliate is a member of a group (the "consolidated group") of foreign affiliates of the corporation resident in Canada that are resident in a foreign country and file a consolidated or combined return in that foreign country and one of the foreign affiliates (the "primary affiliate") is responsible, on behalf of the consolidated group, for paying, or claiming a refund of, the tax payable in that foreign country by the consolidated group. In general terms, the subsection operates to adjust the surplus and deficit accounts and UFT balances of the members of the consolidated group, arriving at a position where all taxes paid, or all tax refunds received, affect the surplus and deficit balances and UFT account of only the primary affiliate, unless tax sharing payments are made. If tax sharing payments are made between the primary and secondary affiliates, the subsection results in those payments being treated as income or profits tax payments that result in adjustments to the surpluses (or deficits) and UFT balances of the primary and secondary affiliates.

In your letter, you expressed two concerns with respect to subsection 5907(1.1).

Your first concern is with the requirement in the preamble of subsection 5907(1.1) that the primary affiliate and the secondary affiliates be resident in the foreign country described by the preamble. Under the example provided in your letter, you note that U.S. Holdco and U.S. Opco have their central management and control in Canada and thus are not resident in the United States for the purposes of the subsection. Therefore, you note that, although U.S. Holdco and U.S. Opco would be taxable in the United States on their worldwide income, the subsection would not apply to Canco 1 and Canco 2. As regards Canco 1 and Canco 2, this would result in U.S. Opco not having UFT for the U.S. tax even though U.S. Opco made the tax sharing payment to U.S. Holdco.

Your second concern is that subsection 5907(1.1) does not apply to a foreign affiliate, in respect of a corporation resident in Canada, unless the primary and secondary affiliates are foreign affiliates of the corporation. Under the example provided in your letter, Canco 1 and Canco 2 are related to each other; U.S. Holdco and U.S. Opco are both foreign affiliates of Canco 1; and U.S. Opco (but not U.S. Holdco) is a foreign affiliate of Canco 2. Therefore, you note that (even if the residency requirement in the preamble of the subsection were removed) the subsection still would not apply to Canco 2 because U.S. Holdco is not a foreign affiliate of Canco 2. As regards Canco 2, this would result in U.S. Opco not having UFT for the U.S. tax even though U.S. Opco made the tax sharing payment to U.S. Holdco.

From a tax policy viewpoint, we agree that the tax results described above are not appropriate. Therefore, we are prepared to recommend that

- the preamble of subsection 5907(1.1) of the Regulations be amended to remove the requirement that the primary and secondary affiliates described in the preamble be resident in the foreign country described in the preamble, and
- the Income Tax Act or the Regulations (as appropriate) be amended to provide that, in applying subsection 5907(1.1) of the Regulations, a non-resident corporation is deemed to be, at any time, a foreign affiliate of a particular corporation resident in Canada if, at that time, the non-resident corporation is a foreign affiliate of another corporation resident in Canada and that other corporation resident in Canada is related (otherwise than because of a right referred to in paragraph 251(5)(b) of the Income Tax Act) to the particular corporation.

Should our recommendations be acted upon, it is contemplated that the amendments be made effective for the 2004 and subsequent taxation years of foreign affiliates of taxpayers resident in Canada.

I trust that this letter addresses your concerns.

Yours sincerely,

Brian Ernewein, Director, Tax Legislation Division, Tax Policy Branch

History: Subsec. 5907(1.1) added by P.C. 1985-467, subsec. 4(23), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable to the 1982 and subsequent taxation years of foreign affiliates.

(1.2) [Where FA deducts loss of loss affiliate] — For the purposes of this Part, where, pursuant to the income tax law of a country other than Canada, a corporation resident in that country that is a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada (in this subsection referred to as the "taxpaying affiliate") deducts, in computing its income or profits tax payable for a taxation year to a government of that country, a loss of another corporation resident in that country that is a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada (in this subsection referred to as the "loss affiliate"), the following rules apply:

(a) any such income or profits tax paid by the taxpaying affiliate for the year shall be deemed not to have been paid;

(b) any such income or profits tax that would have been payable by the taxpaying affiliate for the year if the taxpaying affiliate had not been allowed to deduct such loss shall be deemed to have been paid for the year;

(c) to the extent that the income or profits tax that would otherwise have been payable by the taxpaying affiliate for the year is reduced by virtue of such loss, the amount of such reduction shall at the end of the year,

(i) where such loss reduces the exempt surplus or increases the exempt deficit, as the case may be, of the loss affiliate, be added to the exempt surplus or deducted from the exempt deficit, as the case may be, of the taxpaying affiliate, and

(ii) where such loss reduces the taxable surplus or increases the taxable deficit, as the case may be, of the loss affiliate,

(A) be added to the taxable surplus or deducted from the taxable deficit, as the case may be, of the taxpaying affiliate, and

(B) be deducted from the underlying foreign tax of the taxpaying affiliate; and

(d) where an amount is paid by the taxpaying affiliate to the loss affiliate in respect of the reduction, by virtue of such loss, of the income or profits tax that would otherwise have been payable by the taxpaying affiliate for the year,

(i) in respect of the taxpaying affiliate,

(A) such portion of the amount as may reasonably be regarded as relating to an amount deducted from the exempt surplus or included in the exempt deficit, as the case may be, of the loss affiliate shall at the end of the year be deducted from the exempt surplus or added to the exempt deficit, as the case may be, of the taxpaying affiliate, and

(B) such portion of the amount as may reasonably be regarded as relating to an amount deducted from the taxable surplus or included in the taxable deficit, as the case may be, of the loss affiliate shall at the end of the year be deducted from the taxable surplus or added to the taxable deficit, as the case may be, of the taxpaying affiliate and be added to the underlying foreign tax of the taxpaying affiliate, and

(ii) in respect of the loss affiliate, the amount shall be deemed to be a refund to the loss affiliate of income or profits tax in respect of the loss for the taxation year of the loss.

History: Subsec. 5907(1.2) added by P.C. 1985-467, subsec. 4(23), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable to the 1982 and subsequent taxation years of foreign affiliates.

(1.3) [Prescribed foreign accrual tax] — For the purposes of paragraph (b) of the definition "foreign accrual tax" in subsection 95(1) of the Act,

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(1.3) opening words

(1.3) For the purpose of paragraph (b) of the definition "foreign accrual tax" in subsection 95(1) of the Act and subject to subsection (1.4), Application: The March 16, 2001 draft regulations (foreign affiliates — FAPI), subsec. 2(1), will amend the opening words of subsec. 5907(1.3) to read as above, applicable to taxation years that begin after November 1999.

Technical Notes: Subsection 91(4) of the Act provides for a deduction in the computation of a taxpayer's income in respect of foreign accrual tax that is attributable to an amount of foreign accrual property income included in the computation of the taxpayer's income. Subsection 95(1) of the Act defines foreign accrual tax to include amounts prescribed to be foreign accrual tax.

In circumstances where the loss of another corporation in a particular group of foreign affiliates of a taxpayer is relevant in the computation of the tax liability of the group to a foreign government, paragraphs 5907(1.3)(a) and (b) of the Regulations provides that an amount paid by the particular corporation to the other corporation in the group in respect of the use of a loss of any other corporation in the computation of the group's tax liability to the foreign government is foreign accrual tax. These provisions apply where the loss of the other corporation is an active business loss or a capital loss resulting from the disposition of excluded property as well as where the loss is a foreign accrual loss as defined in subsection 5903(3) of the Regulations. Subsection 5907(1.3), which applies to taxation years that begin after November 1999, is amended as a consequence of the introduction of subsection 5907(1.4) of the Regulations.

(a) where, pursuant to the income tax law of the country in which a particular foreign affiliate is resident, the particular affiliate and one or more other corporations, each of which is resident in that country, determine their liabilities for income or profits tax payable to the government of that country for a taxation year on a consolidated or combined basis, any amount paid by the particular affiliate to any of the other corporations to the extent that it may reasonably be regarded as being in respect of income or profits tax that would otherwise have been payable by the particular affiliate in respect of a particular amount included in computing the taxpayer's income by virtue of subsection 91(1) of the Act for a taxation year in respect of the particular affiliate, had the tax liability of the particular affiliate and the other corporations not been determined on a consolidated or combined basis, is hereby prescribed to be foreign accrual tax applicable to the particular amount; and

(b) where, pursuant to the income tax law of the country in which a particular foreign affiliate of a taxpayer is resident, the particular affiliate, in computing its income or profits subject to tax in that country for a taxation year, deducts an amount in respect of a loss of another corporation resident in that country, any amount paid by the particular affiliate to the other corporation to the extent that it may reasonably be regarded as being in respect of income or profits tax that would otherwise have been payable by the particular affiliate in respect of a particular amount included in computing the taxpayer's income by virtue of subsection 91(1) of the Act for a taxation year in respect of the particular affiliate, had the tax liability of the particular affiliate been determined without deducting the loss of the other corporation, is hereby prescribed to be foreign accrual tax applicable to the particular amount.

History: Subsec. 5907(1.3) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsec. 8(3), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the subsec. as amended applies to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

Subsec. 5907(1.3) added by P.C. 1985-467, subsec. 4(23), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable to the 1982 and subsequent taxation years of foreign affiliates.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5907(1.4)

(1.4) [Prescribed foreign accrual tax] — Any amount paid by a particular affiliate described in paragraph (1.3)(a) or (b) does not include any amount paid by the particular affiliate to any other corporation where the amount paid can reasonably be considered to be in respect of a loss of any other corporation and such loss would not be a foreign accrual property loss of the other corporation (as defined in subsection 5903(3)) without taking into account the particular payment.

Application: The March 16, 2001 draft regulations (foreign affiliates — FAPI), subsec. 2(2), will add subsec. 5907(1.4), applicable to taxation years that begin after November 1999.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5907(1.4) ensures that in such circumstances the amount paid by the particular affiliate to the other corporation will only be foreign accrual tax to the extent that the amount paid is in respect of a foreign accrual property loss of any other corporation. This is consistent with the fact that, under section 5903 of the Regulations, active business losses and capital losses resulting from the disposition of excluded property of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer are not included in the computation of a deductible loss which may be used to reduce foreign accrual property income of that affiliate in a particular taxation year.

(2) [FA carrying on active business] — In computing the earnings of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada for a taxation year of the affiliate from an active business carried on by it in a country, there shall be added to the amount thereof determined under subparagraph (a)(i) or (ii) of the definition "earnings" in subsection (1) (in this subsection referred to as the "earnings amount") such portion of the following amounts as was deducted or was not included, as the case may be, in computing the earnings amount,

(a) any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country by the affiliate so deducted,

(b) if established by the taxpayer, the amount by which any amount so deducted in respect of an expenditure made by the affiliate exceeds the amount, if any, by which

(i) the amount of the expenditure

exceeds

(ii) the aggregate of all other deductions in respect of that expenditure made by the affiliate in computing the earnings amounts for preceding taxation years,

(c) any loss of the affiliate referred to in the description of D in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act so deducted,

(d) any capital loss of the affiliate in respect of the disposition of capital property so deducted (for greater certainty, capital property of the affiliate for the purposes of this paragraph includes all the property of the affiliate other than property referred to in subparagraph 39(1)(b)(i) or (ii) of the Act on the assumption for this purpose that the affiliate is a corporation resident in Canada),

(e) any loss of the affiliate for a preceding or a subsequent taxation year so deducted,

(f) any revenue, income or profit (other than an amount referred to in paragraph (f.1), (h) or (i)) of the affiliate derived in the year from such business carried on in that country to the extent that such revenue, income or profit

(i) is not otherwise required to be included in computing the earnings amount of the affiliate for any taxation year by the income tax law that is relevant in computing that amount, and

(ii) does not arise with respect to a disposition (other than a disposition to which subsection (9) applies) by the affiliate of property to another foreign affiliate of the taxpayer or to a person with whom the taxpayer does not deal at arm's length, to which a tax deferral, rollover or similar tax postponement provision of the income tax law that is relevant in computing the earnings amount of the affiliate applied, and

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(2)(f)

(f) any revenue, income or profit (other than an amount referred to in paragraph (f.1), (h), or (i)) of the affiliate derived in the year from such business carried on in that country to the extent that such revenue, income or profit is not otherwise required to be included in computing the earnings amount of the affiliate for any taxation year by the income tax law that is relevant in computing the earnings amount, and

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(25), will amend para. 5907(2)(f) to read as above, applicable in respect of a disposition made after December 20, 2002, other than dispositions made under a written agreement made by the foreign affiliate before December 20, 2002.

Technical Notes: Subsection 5907(2) provides special rules for computing earnings of a foreign affiliate from an active business carried on by it in a country. It is proposed to amend paragraph 5907(2)(f) to delete subparagraph (ii) consequential to the introduction of the rules in paragraphs 95(2)(c.2) to (c.6), and 95(2) (f.3) to (f.8) of the Act.

The amendment to paragraph 5907(2)(f) applies in respect of dispositions by a foreign affiliate after December 20, 2002, other than a disposition made after December 20, 2002 under a written agreement made by the foreign affiliate before December 20, 2002.

(f.1) any assistance from a government, municipality or other public authority (other than any such assistance that reduced the amount of an expenditure for purposes of computing the earnings amount for any taxation year) that the affiliate received or became entitled to receive in the year in connection with such business carried on in that country that is not otherwise required to be included in computing the earnings amount for the year or for any other taxation year, and there shall be deducted such portion of the following amounts as were included or were not deducted, as the case may be, in computing the earnings amount,

(g) any income or profits tax refunded by the government of a country to the affiliate so included;

(h) any capital gain of the affiliate in respect of the disposition of capital property so included (for greater certainty, capital property of the affiliate for the purposes of this paragraph includes all the property of the affiliate other than property referred to in any of subparagraphs 39(1)(a)(i) to (iv) of the Act on the assumption for this purpose that the affiliate is a corporation resident in Canada);

(i) any amount that is included in the foreign accrual property income of the affiliate so included;

(j) any loss, outlay or expense made or incurred in the year by the affiliate for the purpose of gaining or producing such earnings amount to the extent that

(i) such loss, outlay or expense is not otherwise permitted to be deducted in computing the earnings amount of the affiliate for any taxation year by the income tax law that is relevant in computing that amount, or

(ii) such outlay or expense can reasonably be regarded as applicable to any revenue added to the earnings amount of the affiliate under paragraph (f),

where such loss, outlay or expense

(iii) does not arise with respect to a disposition (other than a disposition to which subsection (9) applies) by the affiliate of property to another foreign affiliate of the taxpayer or to a person with whom the taxpayer does not deal at arm's length, to which a loss deferral or similar loss postponement provision of the income tax law that is relevant in computing the earnings amount of the affiliate applied, and

(iv) is not

(A) a loss referred to in paragraph (c) or (d),

(B) a capital expenditure other than interest, or

(C) income or profits tax paid to the government of a country;

(k) any outlay made in the year in repayment of an amount referred to in paragraph (f.1); and

(l) where any property of the affiliate acquired from another foreign affiliate of the taxpayer or from any foreign affiliate of a person resident in Canada with whom the taxpayer does not deal at arm's length has been disposed of, such amount in respect of that property as may reasonably be considered as having been included by virtue of paragraph (f) in computing the earnings amount of any foreign affiliate of the taxpayer or of a person resident in Canada with whom the taxpayer does not deal at arm's length.

History: Subsec. 5907(2) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsecs. 8(4), (5), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the subsec. applies to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

Para. 5907(2)(h) substituted by P.C. 1989-321, subsec. 3(9), March 2, 1989, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 15, 1989, applicable in respect of taxation years commencing after 1984.

Paras. 5907(2)(f) and (j) substituted, para. 5907(2)(l) added by P.C. 1985-467, subsecs. 4(24)–(26), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable to 1976 et seq.

Paras. 5907(2)(f.1), (k) added, 5907(2)(f), (j) substituted by P.C. 1980-503, subsecs. 5(4), (5), February 8, 1980, Canada Gazette, Part II, February 27, 1980, effective in respect of 1976 et seq.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5907(2.01)

(2.01) [Determining earnings of FA] — Notwithstanding any other provision of the Regulations, in determining the earnings of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada

(a) that are derived from a disposition to which any of subsection 88(3) and paragraphs 95(2)(c.2), (d), (d.1), (e), (e.1), (e.3) to (e.5) and (f.4) of the Act applies, those earnings are to be determined using the rules in those paragraphs; and

(b) from a disposition of property acquired in a transaction to which any of subsection 88(3) and paragraphs 95(2)(c.2), (d), (d.1), (e), (e.1), (e.3) to (e.5) and (f.4) of the Act applies, the cost to the foreign affiliate of the property is to be determined using the rules in those paragraphs.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(26), will add subsec. 5907(2.01), applicable on the same basis as 5907(2)(f) above.

Technical Notes: New subsection 5907(2.01) provides that, notwithstanding any other provision of the Regulations, in determining the earnings of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada, the cost of a property that was acquired by a particular person or partnership from another person or partnership (the "vendor") in respect of which any of paragraphs 5907(2)(c.2), (d), (e), (e.3) to (e.5) and (f.4) of the Regulations applied to the vendor in respect of the disposition of the property to the particular person or partnership, is to be determined using the rules in those paragraphs.

New subsection 5907(2.01) applies in respect of dispositions made by a foreign affiliate after December 20, 2002, other than a disposition made after December 20, 2002 under a written agreement made by the foreign affiliate before December 20, 2002.

(2.1) [FA carrying on active business in Canada or treaty country] — In computing the earnings of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada for a taxation year of the affiliate from an active business carried on by it in Canada or in a designated treaty country, where the affiliate is resident in a designated treaty country and the corporation, together with all other corporations resident in Canada with which the corporation does not deal at arm's length and in respect of which the affiliate is a foreign affiliate, have so elected in respect of the business for the taxation year or any preceding taxation year of the affiliate, the following rules apply:

(a) there shall be added to the amount determined under subparagraph (a)(i) of the definition "earnings" in subsection (1) after adjustment in accordance with the provisions of subsection (2) (in this subsection and in subsection (2.2) referred to as the "adjusted earnings amount") the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, if any, by which

(i) the amount that can reasonably be regarded as having been deducted in respect of the cost of a capital property or foreign resource property of the affiliate in computing the adjusted earnings amount

exceeds

(ii) the amount that may reasonably be regarded as having been deducted in respect of the cost of that capital property or foreign resource property in computing income or profit of the affiliate for the year from that business in its financial statements prepared in accordance with the laws of the country in which the affiliate is resident;

(b) there shall be deducted from the adjusted earnings amount the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the amount, if any, by which

(i) the amount determined under subparagraph (a)(ii) in respect of that capital property or foreign resource property

exceeds

(ii) the amount determined under subparagraph (a)(i) in respect of that capital property or foreign resource property;

(c) where any capital property or foreign resource property of the affiliate has been disposed of in the taxation year,

(i) there shall be added to the adjusted earnings amount the aggregate of the amounts deducted pursuant to paragraphs (b) and (2.2)(b) for preceding taxation years of the affiliate in respect of that capital property or foreign resource property, and

(ii) there shall be deducted from the adjusted earnings amount the aggregate of the amounts added pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (2.2)(a) for the preceding taxation years of the affiliate in respect of that capital property or foreign resource property; and

(d) for the purposes of paragraph (c), where the affiliate has merged with one or more corporations to form a new corporation, any capital property or foreign resource property of the affiliate that becomes a property of the new corporation shall be deemed to have been disposed of by the affiliate in its last taxation year before the merger.

Related Provisions: ITA 220(3.2), Reg. 600(d) — Late filing or revocation of election; Reg. 5907(2.2), (2.4) — Application rules; Reg. 5907(2.6) — Corporation deemed to have elected.

History: The opening words of subsec. 5907(2.1) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsec. 8(6), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a corporation that begin after 1995, except that, where the corporation notifies the Minister of National Revenue in its return of income for its first taxation year that begins after 1994 or for a taxation year in which a dividend was paid by the foreign affiliate of its election to have subsections 5907(11) (as amended), (11.1) and (11.2) apply to a taxation year of the foreign affiliate of the corporation that begins before 1996,

(a) subsection 8(6) of the amending Regulations applies to that taxation year and each subsequent taxation year of the foreign affiliate of the corporation; and

(b) any reference in s. 5907 to "country listed in subsection (11)" shall be read as "designated treaty country" and any reference to "country not listed in subsection (11)" shall be read as "country that is not a designated treaty country" for that taxation year and those subsequent taxation years of the foreign affiliate of the corporation.

The portion of para. 5907(2.1)(a) before subpara. (ii), paras. (c), (d), amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsecs. 8(7) to (9), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) those provisions apply to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

Paras. 5907(2.1)(a) to (d) substituted by P.C. 1985-467, subsec. 4(27), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable in respect of elections made after 1983.

Subsec. 5907(2.1) added by P.C. 1978-3599, s. 2, November 30, 1978, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 13, 1978, effective for 1978 et seq.

Information Circulars: 77-9R: Books, records and other requirements for taxpayers having foreign affiliates.

(2.2) [Where election made under Reg. 5907(2.1)] — Where the taxation year of a foreign affiliate of a particular corporation resident in Canada for which the particular corporation has made an election under subsection (2.1) in respect of an active business carried on by the affiliate is not the first taxation year of the affiliate in which it carried on the business and in which it was a foreign affiliate of the particular corporation or of another corporation resident in Canada with which the particular corporation was not dealing at arm's length at any time (hereinafter referred to as the "non-arm's length corporation"), in computing the earnings of the affiliate from the business for the taxation year for which the election is made, the following rules, in addition to those set out in subsection (2.1), apply:

(a) there shall be added to the adjusted earnings amount the aggregate of all amounts each of which is an amount that would have been determined under paragraph (2.1)(a) or subparagraph (2.1)(c)(i)

(i) for any preceding taxation year of the affiliate in which it was a foreign affiliate of the particular corporation if the particular corporation had made an election under subsection (2.1) for the first taxation year of the affiliate in which it was a foreign affiliate of the particular corporation and carried on the business, and

(ii) for any preceding taxation year of the affiliate (other than a taxation year referred to in subparagraph (i)) in which it was a foreign affiliate of the non-arm's length corporation if the non-arm's length corporation had made an election under subsection (2.1) for the first taxation year of the affiliate in which it was a foreign affiliate of the non-arm's length corporation and carried on the business; and

(b) there shall be deducted from the adjusted earnings amount the aggregate of all amounts each of which is an amount that would have been determined under paragraph (2.1)(b) or subparagraph (2.1)(c)(ii)

(i) for any preceding taxation year of the affiliate in which it was a foreign affiliate of the particular corporation if the particular corporation had made an election under subsection (2.1) for the first taxation year of the affiliate in which it was a foreign affiliate of the particular corporation and carried on the business, and

(ii) for any preceding taxation year of the affiliate (other than a taxation year referred to in subparagraph (i)) in which it was a foreign affiliate of the non-arm's length corporation if the non-arm's length corporation had made an election under subsection (2.1) for the first taxation year of the affiliate in which it was a foreign affiliate of the non-arm's length corporation and carried on the business.

History: Subsec. 5907(2.2) substituted by P.C. 1985-467, subsec. 4(28), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable in respect of elections made after November 4, 1982.

Subsec. 5907(2.2) added by P.C. 1978-3599, s. 2, November 30, 1978, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 13, 1978, effective for 1978 et seq.

(2.3) [Where election made under Reg. 5907(2.1)] — For the purposes of this subsection and subsections (2.1) and (2.2), where an election under subsection (2.1) has been made by a corporation resident in Canada (in this subsection and in subsection (2.4) referred to as the "electing corporation") in respect of an active business of a foreign affiliate of the electing corporation and the affiliate subsequently becomes a foreign affiliate of another corporation resident in Canada (in this subsection and in subsection (2.4) referred to as the "subsequent corporation") that does not deal at arm's length with the electing corporation, in computing the earnings of the affiliate from such business in respect of the subsequent corporation for any taxation year of the affiliate ending after the affiliate so became a foreign affiliate of the subsequent corporation, the subsequent corporation shall be deemed to have made an election under subsection (2.1) in respect of the business of the affiliate for the first such taxation year and for the purposes of paragraph (2.1)(d), the earnings of the affiliate for all of the preceding taxation years shall be deemed to have been adjusted in accordance with subsections (2.1) and (2.2) in the same manner as if the subsequent corporation had been the electing corporation.

History: Subsec. 5907(2.3) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsec. 8(10), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the amendment applies to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

Subsecs. 5907(2.3)–(2.6) added by P.C. 1978-3599, s. 2, November 30, 1978, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 13, 1978, effective for 1978 et seq.

(2.4) ["Subsequent corporation" for Reg. 5907(2.3)] — For the purposes of subsection (2.3)

(a) a corporation formed as a result of a merger, to which section 87 of the Act applies, of the electing corporation and one or more other corporations, or

(b) a corporation that has acquired shares of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate, in respect of which an election under subsection (2.1) has been made, from the electing corporation in a transaction in respect of which an election under section 85 of the Act was made shall be deemed to be a subsequent corporation that does not deal at arm's length with the electing corporation.

(2.5) [Repealed]

History: Subsec. 5907(2.5) repealed by P.C. 1997-1670, subsec. 8(11), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the repeal applies to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

(2.6) [Corporations deemed to have elected under Reg. 5907(2.1)] — A corporation resident in Canada, and all other corporations resident in Canada with which the corporation does not deal at arm's length, shall each be considered to have elected under subsection (2.1) in respect of an active business carried on by a non-resident corporation that is a foreign affiliate of each such corporation for a taxation year if there is filed with the Minister on or before the day that is the later of

(a) June 30, 1986, and

(b) the earliest of the days on or before which any one of the said corporations is required to file a return of income pursuant to section 150 of the Act for its taxation year following the taxation year in which the taxation year of the affiliate in respect of which the election is made ends, the following information:

(c) a description of the active business sufficient to identify the business, and

(d) a statement on behalf of each such corporation, signed by an authorized official of the corporation on behalf of which the statement is made, that the corporation is electing under subsection (2.1) in respect of the business.

History: Subsec. 5907(2.6) substituted by P.C. 1989-321, subsec. 3(10), applicable in respect of elections made under subsec. 5907(2.1) for 1982 et seq.

(2.7) [Where ITA 95(2)(a)(i) or (ii) applies] — Notwithstanding any other provision of this Part, where

(a) an amount is included in computing the income or loss from an active business of a particular foreign affiliate of a taxpayer for a particular taxation year under subparagraph 95(2)(a)(i) or (ii) of the Act, and

(b) the amount included is in respect of an amount paid or payable (other than an amount paid or payable that is described in clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act) by another non-resident corporation described in subparagraph 95(2)(a)(i) or (ii) of the Act or by a partnership of which such a corporation is a member, the amount (in respect of which an amount was included in the income or loss from an active business of the particular affiliate for the paticular year) paid or payable by the non-resident corporation or the partnership shall, except where it has been deducted under paragraph (2)(j) in computing the non-resident corporation's earnings or loss from an active business, be deducted in computing the earnings or loss of the non-resident corporation or the partnership, as the case may be, from the active business for its earliest taxation year in which the amount was paid or paybable and shall not be deducted in computing its earnings or loss from the active business for any other taxation year.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(2.7)

(2.7) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Part, if an amount is included in computing the income or loss from an active business of a particular foreign affiliate of a taxpayer for a particular taxation year under paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act and is in respect of a particular amount paid or payable (other than an amount paid or payable described in clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act) by another non-resident corporation described in paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act or by a partnership of which such a corporation is a member, the particular amount is to, except where it has been deducted under paragraph (2)(j) in computing the other non-resident corporation's earnings or loss from an active business, be deducted in computing the earnings or loss of the other non-resident corporation or the partnership, as the case may be, from the active business for its earliest taxation year in which the particular amount was paid or payable. The particular amount may not be deducted in computing its earnings or loss from the active business for any other taxation year.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(27), will amend subsec. 5907(2.7) to read as above, applicable to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 19, 2002.

S. 9 of the draft regulations provides that if a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer referred to in the above amendment makes a valid "Global Section 95 Election" under subsec. 133(68) of the February 27, 2004 draft legislation (now subsec. 26(46) of S.C. 2007, c. 35; see History at the end of ITA 95), then the amendment is applicable to taxation years, of all foreign affiliates of the taxpayer, that begin after 1994.

Technical Notes: In general terms, subsection 5907(2.7) provides that, where amounts are included by subparagraph 95(2)(a)(i) or (ii) of the Act in computing the income or loss from an active business of a particular foreign affiliate of a taxpayer and these amounts are in respect of amounts paid or payable to the particular affiliate by another non-resident corporation or partnership in the group, the amounts paid or payable to the particular affiliate by the other non-resident corporation or partnership are required to be deducted in computing the other non-resident corporation's or partnership's earnings or loss from an active business (unless they have already been deducted under paragraph 5907(2)(j) of the Regulations) for the earliest taxation year in which the amounts were paid or payable.

Subsection 5907(2.7) is proposed to be amended so that it applies to amounts included in computing the income or loss from an active business of the particular affiliate under paragraph 95(2)(a) of the Act, rather than just under subparagraph 95(2)(a)(i) or (ii).

The proposed amendments to subsection 5907(2.7) apply to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin on or after December 20, 2002. Note that these amendments are included in the Global Section 95 Election package described at the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act.

History: Subsec. 5907(2.7) added by P.C. 1997-1670, subsec. 8(12), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the subsec. applies to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

(2.8) [Where ITA 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) applies] — Notwithstanding any other provision of this Part, where

(a) an amount is included in computing the income from an active business of a particular foreign affiliate of a taxpayer or a person related to the taxpayer for a particular taxation year under clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act, and

(b) the amount included is in respect of an amount of interest paid or payable by another non-resident corporation (in this subsection referred to as the "second affiliate") to which the particular affiliate and the taxpayer are related

the following rules apply:

(c) that amount of interest shall be deducted in computing the second affiliate's income or loss, from an active business carried on by it in a country in which it is resident and subject to income taxation, for its earliest taxation year in which the amount was paid or payable,

(d) the second affiliate is deemed to have carried on an active business in a country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation for each taxation year referred to in paragraph (c) in which such an active business was not otherwise carried on by it, and

(e) in computing the second affiliate's income for a taxation year from any source, no amount shall be deducted in respect of an amount paid or payable by it that is referred to in paragraph (c) except as is required under that paragraph.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(2.8)–(2.83)

Technical Notes: Under clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act, the income of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada (the "first affiliate") that is derived from amounts paid or payable to it by another foreign affiliate of the corporation or a non-resident corporation to which the first affiliate and the corporation resident in Canada are related (referred to in subsections 5907(2.8) to (2.83) as the "second affiliate") is included in the active business income of the first affiliate.

The amounts paid or payable by the second affiliate must be in respect of interest on borrowed money used for the purpose of earning income from property or on an amount payable for property where the property consists of shares of another foreign affiliate of the corporation in respect of which the corporation has a qualifying interest throughout the year (in subsections 5907(2.8) to (2.83), the "third affiliate") that are excluded property of the second affiliate within the meaning assigned by section 95 of the Act in the country in which the second affiliate is resident and subject to income taxation.

It is proposed that existing subsection 5907(2.8) be replaced by proposed new subsections 5907(2.8) to (2.83) because of the proposed amendments to clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act. These are essentially rules for reducing exempt surplus of foreign affiliates of a taxpayer resident in Canada in respect of interest referred to in 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act. The proposed new subsections apply to taxation year, of foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, to which proposed new clauses 95(2)(a)(ii)(D)(III) to (V) of the Act apply.

(2.8) [Where ITA 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) applies] — Subsection (2.81) applies, in respect of a particular amount of interest, to the specified foreign affiliates of a corporation resident in Canada, if

(a) an amount in respect of the particular amount of interest is included, because of clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act, in computing the income or loss for a particular taxation year from an active business of a particular foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada or a particular foreign affiliate of a person related to that corporation; and

(b) the particular amount of interest is an amount of interest paid or payable to the particular foreign affiliate, by another foreign affiliate (in this subsection and in subsections (2.81) to (2.83) referred to as the "second affiliate") of the corporation resident in Canada to which the particular foreign affiliate and the corporation resident in Canada are related, under a legal obligation to pay interest on borrowed money used for the purpose of earning income from property, or on an amount payable for property acquired for the purpose of gaining or producing income from property, and

(i) the property is excluded property of the second affiliate that is shares of the third affiliate referred to in subclause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D)(III) of the Act (which third affiliate is referred to in this subsection and in subsections (2.81) to (2.83) as the "third affiliate"), and

(ii) the requirements set out in subclauses 95(2)(a)(ii)(D)(IV) and (V) of the Act are satisfied in respect of the second and third affiliates for their respective applicable taxation years.

Technical Notes: Proposed subsection 5907(2.8) sets out, in respect of a particular amount of interest referred to in 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act, the requirements for new subsection 5907(2.81) to apply.

Proposed subsection 5907(2.8) provides that subsection 5907(2.81) applies to the specified foreign affiliates of a corporation resident in Canada, if

- an amount in respect of the particular amount of interest is included, under clause 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) of the Act, in computing the income or loss for a particular taxation year from an active business of a particular foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada or a person related to the corporation resident in Canada, and
- the particular amount of interest is an amount of interest paid or payable to the particular foreign affiliate, by the second affiliate, under a legal obligation to pay interest on borrowed money used for the purpose of earning income from property, or on an amount payable for property acquired for the purpose of gaining or producing income from property, if
  - the property is excluded property of the second affiliate that is shares of the third affiliate, and
  - the requirements set out in clauses 95(2)(a)(ii)(D)(IV) and (V) of the Act are satisfied in respect of the second and third affiliates for their respective applicable taxation years.

(2.81) [Where ITA 95(2)(a)(ii)(D) applies] — If this subsection applies, in respect of the particular amount of interest, to the specified foreign affiliates of the corporation resident in Canada, the following rules apply:

(a) where the specified foreign affiliate is the second affiliate, the particular amount is to be deducted in computing the second affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate, to the extent of the second affiliate's available exempt surplus amount in respect of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate;

(b) where the specified foreign affiliate is the third affiliate, there is to be deducted in computing the third affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of the applicable taxation year of the third affiliate, the lesser of the third affiliate's available exempt surplus amount in respect of its applicable taxation year and the amount determined by the formula

$$(A - B) \times C$$

where

A is the particular amount of interest,

B is the amount deducted because of paragraph (a) in computing the second affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate, and

C is the specified adjustment factor, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the third affiliate, in respect of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate;

(c) where the specified foreign affiliate is a group foreign affiliate, there is to be deducted, in computing the group foreign affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of the applicable taxation year of the group foreign affiliate, the lesser of the group foreign affiliate's available exempt surplus in respect of its applicable taxation year and the amount determined by the formula

$$(A - B - C) \times D$$

where

A is the particular amount of interest,

B is the amount deducted because of paragraph (a) in computing the second affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate,

C is the amount determined when the amount deducted because of paragraph (b) in computing the third affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of the applicable taxation year of the third affiliate is divided by the amount determined for C in the formula in paragraph (b) in respect of the third affiliate, and

D is the specified adjustment factor, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the specified foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate;

(d) amounts in respect of the particular amount of interest must be deducted under paragraphs (a) to (c) in computing the exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the specified foreign affiliates of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of each of their applicable taxation years to the extent of the total of all amounts each of which is the available exempt surplus amount of a specified foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of that specified foreign affiliate's applicable taxation year;

(e) paragraph (a) is to be applied to the second affiliate before paragraph (b) is applied to the third affiliate and paragraph (b) is to be applied to the third affiliate before paragraph (c) is applied to a group foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada; and

(f) there is to be added in computing the exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the second affiliate the amount determined by the formula:

$$K - (L + M + N)$$

where

K is the particular amount of interest,

L is the amount determined under paragraph (a) in respect of the particular amount of interest in respect of the second affiliate,

M is the amount determined when the amount determined under paragraph (b) in respect of the particular amount of interest in respect of the third affiliate is divided by the amount determined for C in the formula in that paragraph, and

N is the amount determined when the amount determined under paragraph (c) in respect of the particular amount of interest in respect of the group foreign affiliate is divided by the amount determined for D in the formula in that paragraph.

Technical Notes: If subsection 5907(2.81) applies, in respect of the particular amount of interest referred to in subsection 5907(2.8), to the specified foreign affiliates of the corporation resident in Canada, the following rules apply:

- Where the specified foreign affiliate is the second affiliate referred to in subsection 5907(2.8), the particular amount of interest is to be deducted in computing the specified foreign affiliate's exempt surplus at the end of the applicable taxation year of the specified foreign affiliate, to the extent of the specified foreign affiliate's available exempt surplus amount in respect of the applicable taxation year of the specified foreign affiliate.

- Where the specified foreign affiliate is the third affiliate referred to in subsection 5907(2.8), there shall be deducted in computing the specified foreign affiliate's exempt surplus at the end of the applicable taxation year of the specified foreign affiliate, the lesser of the specified foreign affiliate's available exempt surplus amount in respect of the applicable taxation year of the specified foreign affiliate and the amount determined by the formula

$$(A - B) \times C$$

where

A is the particular amount of interest,

B is the amount deducted because of paragraph 5907(2.81)(a) in computing the second affiliate's exempt surplus at the end of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate, and

C is the specified adjustment factor, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the specified foreign affiliate, in respect of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate.

- Where the specified foreign affiliate is a group foreign affiliate (defined in subsection referred to in subsection 5907(2.84)), there shall be deducted in computing the specified foreign affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of the applicable taxation year of the specified foreign affiliate, the lesser of the specified foreign affiliate's available exempt surplus (defined in subsection referred to in subsection 5907(2.83)) in respect of its applicable taxation year and the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the particular amount of interest,

B is the amount deducted because of paragraph 5907(2.81)(a) in computing the second affiliate's exempt surplus at the end of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate,

C is the amount determined when the amount deducted because of paragraph 5907(2.81)(b) in computing the third affiliate's exempt surplus at the end of the applicable taxation year of the third affiliate is divided by the amount determined for C in the formula in paragraph 5907(2.81)(b) in respect of the third affiliate, and

D is the specified adjustment factor, in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the specified foreign affiliate, in respect of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate.

- Amounts in respect of the particular amount of interest must be deducted under paragraph 5907(2.81)(a) to (c) that subsection in computing the exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the specified foreign affiliates of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of each of their applicable taxation years to the extent of the total of all amounts each of which is the available exempt surplus amount of a specified foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the applicable taxation year of that specified foreign affiliate.

- An exempt surplus reduction is to be applied against the second affiliate before it is applied against the third affiliate and is to be applied against the third affiliate before it is applied against a group foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada.

- There is to be added in computing the exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the second affiliate the amount determined by the formula:

$$K - (L + M + N)$$

where

K is the particular amount of interest,

L is the amount determined under paragraph 5907(2.81)(a) in respect of the particular amount of interest in respect of the second affiliate,

M is the amount determined when the amount determined under paragraph 5907(2.81)(b) in respect of the particular amount of interest in respect of the third affiliate is divided by the amount determined for C in the formula in that paragraph, and

N is the amount determined when the amount determined under paragraph 5907(2.81)(c) in respect of the particular amount of interest in respect of the group foreign affiliate is divided by the amount determined for D in the formula in that paragraph.

(2.82) [Application rule for Reg. 5907(2.81)] — In computing the second affiliate's income or loss for a taxation year from any source, no amount may be deducted in respect of an amount paid or payable by it that is referred to in paragraph (2.81)(a).

Technical Notes: Proposed subsection 5907(2.82) provides that, in computing the second affiliate's income or loss for a taxation year from any source, no amount is to be deducted in respect of an amount paid or payable by it that is referred to in paragraph 5907(2.81)(a).

Related Provisions: Reg. 5907(2.83) — Definitions.

(2.83) [Definitions for Reg. 5907(2.8)–(2.92)] — The following definitions apply in this subsection and subsections (2.8) to (2.82).

"applicable taxation year", of a specified foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, means the last taxation year of the specified foreign affiliate that ends in the particular taxation year of the particular foreign affiliate referred to in paragraph (2.8)(a).

Technical Notes: Proposed subsection 5907(2.83) sets out certain definitions used in subsections 5907(2.8) to (2.83).

"Applicable taxation year" of a specified foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in subsection 5907(2.83) of the Regulations, is the last taxation year of the specified foreign affiliate that ends in the particular taxation year of the particular foreign affiliate referred to in paragraph 5907(2.8)(a).

"available exempt surplus amount", of a specified foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the applicable taxation year of the specified foreign affiliate, means the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the total of all amounts each of which is the portion of the specified foreign affiliate's income, for its applicable taxation year, from an active business that is included in computing the exempt earnings of the specified foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

B is the specified foreign affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of the specified foreign affiliate's taxation year that immediately precedes its applicable taxation year,

C is the total of all amounts each of which is the portion of any dividend received in the applicable taxation year, by the specified foreign affiliate from another foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(a) to have been paid out of that other affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

D is the total of all amounts each of which is the portion of the specified foreign affiliate's loss, for its applicable taxation year, from an active business that is included in computing the exempt loss of the specified foreign affiliate in respect of the corporation resident in Canada,

E is the specified foreign affiliate's exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of the specified foreign affiliate's taxation year that immediately precedes its applicable taxation year,

F is the specified foreign affiliate's taxable deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of the specified foreign affiliate's taxation year that immediately precedes its applicable taxation year, and

G is the total of all amounts each of which is the portion of any dividend paid in the applicable taxation year by the specified foreign affiliate that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(a) to have been paid out of its exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada.

Technical Notes: "Available exempt surplus amount" of a specified foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in subsection 5907(2.83) of the Regulations in respect of the applicable taxation year of the specified foreign affiliate is the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the total of all amounts of which is this portion the specified foreign affiliate's income, for its applicable taxation year, from an active business that is included in computing the exempt earnings in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the specified foreign affiliate,

B is the specified foreign affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of the specified foreign affiliate's taxation year that immediately precedes its applicable taxation year,

C is the total of all amounts each of which is the portion of any dividend received in the applicable taxation year, by the specified foreign affiliate from another foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(a) to have been paid out of that other affiliate's exempt surplus,

D is the total of all amounts each of which is the portion of the specified foreign affiliate's loss, for its applicable taxation year, from an active business that is included in computing the exempt loss in respect of the corporation resident in Canada of the specified foreign affiliate,

E is the specified foreign affiliate's exempt deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of the specified foreign affiliate's taxation year that immediately precedes its applicable taxation year,

F is the specified foreign affiliate's taxable deficit in respect of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of the specified foreign affiliate's taxation year that immediately precedes its applicable taxation year, and

G is the total of all amounts each of which is the portion of any dividend paid in the applicable taxation year by the specified foreign affiliate that is prescribed by paragraph 5900(1)(a) to have been paid out of its exempt surplus.

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas.

"group foreign affiliate", at any time of a corporation resident in Canada, means any of its foreign affiliates (other than the second affiliate and the third affiliate) in which the second affiliate has, at that time, an equity percentage.

Technical Notes: "Group foreign affiliate", at any time, of a corporation resident in Canada, in subsection 5907(2.83) of the Regulations, is any of its foreign affiliates (other than the second affiliate and the third affiliate) in which the second affiliate has, at that time, an equity percentage.

"specified adjustment factor", in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of a specified foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate, means the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the second affiliate, immediately before the end of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate, and

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the specified foreign affiliate, immediately before the end of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate.

Technical Notes: "Specified adjustment factor", in respect of the corporation resident in Canada, in subsection 5907(2.83) of the Regulations, in respect of a specified foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada, in respect of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate, is the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the second affiliate, immediately before the end of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate, and

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the specified foreign affiliate, immediately before the end of the applicable taxation year of the second affiliate.

"specified foreign affiliate", of a corporation resident in Canada, means any foreign affiliate of the corporation that, at the end of the particular taxation year referred to in paragraph (2.8)(a), is

(a) the second affiliate;

(b) the third affiliate; or

(c) another corporation that is

(i) if there is only one group foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of that particular taxation year, that group foreign affiliate, or

(ii) if there is more than one group foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of that particular taxation year, the group foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada with the greatest available exempt surplus amount for the applicable taxation year of that group foreign affiliate.

Technical Notes: "Specified foreign affiliate" of the corporation resident in Canada, in subsection 5907(2.83), is any foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada that, at the end of the particular taxation year referred to in paragraph 5907(2.8)(a) of the Regulations, is

- the second affiliate,
- the third affiliate, or
- another corporation that is
  - — if there is only one group foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of that particular taxation year, that group foreign affiliate, or
  - — if there is more than one group foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada at the end of that particular taxation year, the group foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada with the greatest available exempt surplus amount for the applicable taxation year of that group foreign affiliate.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(28), will replace subsec. 5907(2.8) with subsecs. (2.8) to (2.83), applicable to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, to which ITA 95(2)(a)(ii)(D)(III) to (V), as proposed by subcl. 133(8) of the February 27, 2004 draft amendments, apply.

(a) the subsec. applies to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

(2.9) [Where fresh start rules apply] — In computing the earnings from an active business of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada for the affiliate's taxation year immediately before the particular taxation year of the affiliate referred to in paragraph 95(2)(k) of the Act,

(a) there shall be added to the amount determined under subparagraph (a)(i) or (ii) of the definition "earnings" in subsection (1) after adjustment in accordance with subsections (2), (2.1) and (2.2) the total of

(i) the amount, if any, by which the total determined in respect of the affiliate in clause (b)(i)(B) for the year exceeds the total determined in respect of the affiliate in clause (b)(i)(A) for the year,

(ii) where, at the end of the year, the affiliate was deemed because of paragraphs 95(2)(k) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act to have disposed of property owned by it that was used or held by it in the course of a carrying on the active business in the year, the amount that is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, if any, by which

(A) the lesser of the fair market value and the cost to the affiliate at the end of the year of a capital property (referred to in this subparagraph and subparagraph (b)(ii) as a particular "depreciable asset") owned by it that

(I) was used or held by it in the course of carrying on the active business in the year,

(II) was deemed because of paragraphs 95(2)(k) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act to have been disposed of at the end of the year, and

(III) was property in respect of the cost of which amounts were, at any time, deductible in computing the earnings from the active business under subparagraph (a)(i) or (ii) of the definition "earnings" in subsection (1)

exceeds

(B) the amount, if any, by which the cost to the affiliate of the particular depreciable asset exceeds the total of all amounts each of which is an amount that can reasonably be regarded as having been deducted in respect of the cost of the particular depreciable asset in computing the earnings (as would be defined in subsection (1) if that definition were read as if the reference in that definition to this subsection did not exist) of the affiliate from the active business in the year or in any preceding taxation year of the affiliate in which it was a foreign affiliate of the corporation or of another corporation resident in Canada which the corporation was not dealing with at arm's length at any time, and

(iii) where, at the end of the year, the affiliate was deemed because of paragraphs 95(2)(k) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act to have disposed of property (other than capital property) owned by it that was used or held by it in the course of carrying on the active business in the year, the amount that is the total of all amounts each of which is an amount, if any, by which the fair market value of such a property exceeds the cost to the affiliate of the property at the time that is immediately before the end of the year; and

(b) there shall be deducted from the amount determined under subparagraph (a)(i) or (ii) of the definition "earnings" in subsection (1) after adjustment in accordance with subsections (2), (2.1) and (2.2) the total of

(i) the amount, if any, by which

(A) the total of all amounts each of which is a maximum amount deemed because of paragraphs 95(2)(k) and 138(11.91)(d) of the Act to have been claimed under subparagraphs 138(3)(a)(i), (ii) and (iv) and paragraphs 20(1)(l) and (l.1) and 20(7)(c) of the Act (each of which provisions is referred to in this subparagraph as a "reserve provision") in the year

exceeds

(B) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount actually claimed by the affiliate as a reserve in the year that can reasonably be considered to be in respect of amounts in respect of which a reserve could have been claimed under a reserve provision on the assumption that the affiliate could have claimed amounts in respect of the reserve provisions in the year,

(ii) the amount that is the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, if any, by which the amount determined under clause (a)(ii)(B) in respect of a particular depreciable asset described in clause (a)(ii)(A) exceeds the fair market value of the particular depreciable asset at the end of the year, and

(iii) where, at the end of the year, the affiliate was deemed because of paragraphs 95(2)(k) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act to have disposed of propety (other than capital property) owned by it that was used or held by it in the course of carrying on the active business in the year, the amount that is the total of all amounts each of which is an amount, if any, by which the cost to the affiliate of such a property at the time that is immediately before the end of the year exceeds the fair market value of the property at the end of the year.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(2.9), (2.91)

(2.9) [Where fresh start rules apply] — If paragraph 95(2)(k.1) of the Act applies in respect of a particular taxation year of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer or in respect of a particular fiscal period of a partnership at the end of which a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer is a member of the partnership (which foreign affiliate or partnership is referred to in this subsection as the "operator" and which particular taxation year or particular fiscal period is referred to in this subsection as the "specified taxation year"), in computing the affiliate's earnings or loss from the foreign business referred to in that paragraph or from the disposition of property used or held in the course of carrying on the foreign business referred to in that paragraph (which foreign business is referred to in this subsection as the "foreign business") for the affiliate's taxation year (which taxation year is referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b) as the "preceding taxation year") that is the affiliate's preceding taxation year referred to in paragraph 95(2)(k) of the Act or that is the affiliate's taxation year in which the preceding fiscal period referred to in paragraph 95(2)(k) of the Act ended, as the case may be,

(a) there shall be added to the amount determined under paragraph (a) of the definition "earnings" in subsection (1), after adjustment in accordance with subsections (2) to (2.2),

(i) where the operator is the affiliate, the total of

(A) the amount, if any, by which the total determined under subclause (b)(i)(A)(II) in respect of the operator for the preceding taxation year exceeds the total determined under subclause (b)(i)(A)(I) in respect of the operator for that year,

(B) if the operator was deemed because of paragraphs 95(2)(k.1) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act to have, at the end of the preceding taxation year, disposed of property owned by it that was used or held by it in the course of carrying on the foreign business in that year, the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, if any, by which

(I) the lesser of the fair market value and the cost to the operator immediately before the end of that year of a capital property (referred to in this subclause and in subclause (II) as a "particular depreciable asset") owned by it that

1. was used or held by it in the course of carrying on the foreign business in that year,

2. was deemed because of paragraphs 95(2)(k.1) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act to have been disposed of at the end of that year, and

3. was property in respect of the cost of which amounts were, at any time, deductible in computing the operator's income or loss for the purpose of computing the affiliate's earnings or loss from the foreign business under paragraph (a) of the definition "earnings", or under paragraph (a) of the definition "loss", in subsection (1)

exceed

(II) the amount, if any, by which the cost to the operator immediately before the end of that year of the particular depreciable asset exceeds the total of all amounts each of which is an amount that can reasonably be regarded as having been deducted in respect of the cost of the particular depreciable asset in computing the operator's income or loss for the purpose of computing the earnings or loss (determined without reference to this subsection) of the affiliate from the foreign business in any taxation year preceding the specified taxation year of the affiliate in which it was a foreign affiliate of the corporation or of another corporation resident in Canada with which the corporation was not dealing at arm's length at any time, and

(C) if the operator was deemed because of paragraphs 95(2)(k.1) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act to have, at the end of the preceding taxation year, disposed of property owned by it that was used or held by it in the course of carrying on the foreign business in that year, the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, if any, by which the fair market value, immediately before the end of that year, of each property (other than capital property, eligible capital property or resource property) deemed because of those paragraphs to have been disposed of exceeds the cost to the operator of the property at that time,

(D) if the operator was deemed because of paragraphs 95(2)(k.1) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act to have, at the end of the preceding taxation year, disposed of eligible capital property, the amount, if any, required by subsection 14(1) of the Act to be included in computing the operator's income for that year from the foreign business, and

(E) if the operator was deemed because of paragraphs 95(2)(k.1) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act to have, at the end of the preceding taxation year, disposed of resource property, the amount, if any, by which

(I) the total of all amounts included by subsection 59(1) or paragraph 59(3.2)(c) or (c.1) of the Act in computing the operator's income for that year from the foreign business

exceeds

(II) the total of all amounts that were deductible under section 66, 66.1, 66.2, 66.21 or 66.4 of the Act in computing the operator's income for that year from the foreign business, and

(ii) where the operator is the partnership, the proportion of the total determined under subparagraph (i) that the affiliate's share of the partnership's income or loss for the preceding taxation year is of the partnership's income or loss for that year but, for the purpose of this subparagraph, if both the income and loss of the partnership for the preceding taxation year are nil, that proportion is to be determined as if the partnership had income for that year in the amount of $1,000,000; and

(b) there shall be added to the amount determined under paragraph (a) of the definition "loss" in subsection (1)

(i) where the operator is the affiliate, the total of

(A) the amount, if any, by which

(I) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount deemed because of paragraphs 95(2)(k.1) and 138(11.91)(d) of the Act to have been claimed under paragraph 20(1)(l), 20(1)(l.1) or 20(7)(c), or subparagraph 138(3)(a)(i), (ii) or (iv), of the Act

(each of which provisions is referred to in this subparagraph as a "reserve provision") in computing the income from the foreign business for the preceding taxation year

exceeds

(II) the total of all amounts each of which is an amount actually claimed by the operator as a reserve in computing its income from the foreign business for that year that can reasonably be considered to be in respect of amounts in respect of which a reserve could have been claimed under a reserve provision on the assumption that the operator could have claimed amounts in respect of the reserve provisions for that year,

(B) the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, if any, by which the amount determined under subclause (a)(i)(B)(II) in respect of a particular depreciable asset described in subclause (a)(i)(B)(I) exceeds the fair market value, at the end of the preceding taxation year, of the particular depreciable asset,

(C) if the operator was deemed because of paragraphs 95(2)(k.1) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act to have, at the end of the preceding taxation year, disposed of property owned by it that was used or held by it in the course of carrying on the foreign business in that year, the total of all amounts each of which is the amount, if any, by which the cost to the operator, immediately before the end of that year, of each property (other than capital property, eligible capital property or resource property) deemed because of those paragraphs to have been disposed of exceeds the fair market value of the property at the end of that year,

(D) if the operator was, because of paragraphs 95(2)(k.1) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act, deemed to have, at the end of the preceding taxation year, disposed of eligible capital property, the amount, if any, that would be permitted by paragraph 24(1)(a) of the Act to be deducted in computing the operator's income for that year from the foreign business if the operator had, immediately before the end of that year, ceased to carry on the foreign business, and

(E) the amount, if any, by which the total determined in respect of the operator in subclause (a)(i)(E)(II) for the preceding taxation year exceeds the total determined in respect of the operator in subclause (a)(i)(E)(I) for that year, and

(ii) where the operator is the partnership, the proportion of the total determined under subparagraph (i) that the affiliate's share of the income or loss of the partnership for the preceding taxation year is of the income or loss of the partnership for that year but, for the purpose of this subparagraph, if both the income and loss of the partnership for the preceding taxation year are nil, that proportion is determined as if the partnership had income for that year in the amount of $1,000,000.

Technical Notes: Subsection 5907(2.9) applies where the fresh start rules in paragraph 95(2)(k) of the Act apply to a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada in respect of a "foreign business".

Subsection 5907(2.9) ensures that appropriate adjustments are made to the surplus accounts of the affiliate.

In general terms, subsection 5907(2.9) provides that there is to be added to the affiliate's "earnings" (as defined in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations), for the last taxation year of the affiliate before the fresh start year, the total of the following amounts:

- the amount by which the actual reserves claimed exceed the maximum reserve allowed under paragraph 95(2)(k) of the Act for that last taxation year;
- where, because of paragraphs 95(2)(k) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act, there is a deemed disposition of depreciable property that was used or held by the affiliate in the course of carrying on the foreign business, the amount by which the lesser of the fair market value and the cost to the affiliate of the property exceeds the undepreciated capital cost (or an analogous concept under the relevant foreign tax law) of the property at the end of that last taxation year; and
- where, because of paragraphs 95(2)(k) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act, there is a deemed disposition of property (other than capital property) that was used or held by the affiliate in the course of carrying on the foreign business, the amount by which the fair market value of the property exceeds the cost of the property to the affiliate at the end of that last taxation year.

These additions to "earnings" result in corresponding increases in the balance of the affiliate's relevant surplus account.

In general terms, subsection 5907(2.9) provides that there is to be deducted from "earnings" for the last taxation year of the affiliate before the fresh start year the total of the following amounts:

- the maximum reserve allowed under paragraph 95(2)(k) of the Act minus the actual reserve claimed at the end of that last taxation year;
- where, because of paragraphs 95(2)(k) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act, there is a deemed disposition of depreciable property that was used or held by the affiliate in the course of carrying on the foreign business, the amount by which the undepreciated capital cost of the property exceeds the lesser of fair market value and cost to the affiliate of the property at the end of that last taxation year; and
- where, because of paragraphs 95(2)(k) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act, there is a deemed disposition of property (other than capital property) that was used or held by the affiliate in the course of carrying on the foreign business, the amount by which the cost of the property to the affiliate exceeds the fair market value of the property at the end of that last taxation year.

These decreases to "earnings" result in corresponding decreases in the balance of the affiliate's relevant surplus account.

Subsection 5907(2.9) is proposed to be amended to reflect the amendments to the Act which are set out in amended paragraph 95(2)(k), new paragraph 95(2)(k.1) and amended subsection 138(11.91) of the Act. In particular, subsection 5907(2.9) is proposed to be amended in the following ways.

First, subsection 5907(2.9) is proposed to be amended to reflect the proposed splitting of paragraph 95(2)(k) of the Act into paragraphs 95(2)(k) and (k.1).

Second, consistent with paragraphs 95(2)(k) and (k.1) of the Act, the proposed amendments to subsection 5907(2.9) ensure that the fresh start rules will apply where the foreign business is carried on by a partnership of which a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer is a member. These amendments to subsection 5907(2.9) ensure, in the case of partnerships, that the fresh start rules will work on the basis of fiscal periods of the partnership and that these rules will therefore be relevant in the computation of the affiliate's foreign accrual property income for the affiliate's taxation year that includes the end of a fiscal period to which the fresh start rules apply. The expression "operator" refers to the affiliate (in the case where the affiliate directly carries on the foreign business) or to the partnership (in the case where the partnership carries on the foreign business). The amounts added by subsection 5907(2.9) to "earnings" or "loss" are used in computing the earnings or loss from the foreign business (when it was an active business) of the affiliate in the preceding taxation year or fiscal period referred to in paragraph 95(2)(k), as the case may be, (which preceding taxation year or preceding fiscal period is referred to as the "preceding taxation year") in which the affiliate is deemed to have disposed of property.

Third, the proposed amendments to subsection 5907(2.9) modify the manner in which any necessary decreases are made to the affiliate's relevant surplus account. As noted above, existing subsection 5907(2.9) provides for the decreases to surplus to be made by way of decreases to "earnings". Amended subsection 5907(2.9) provides, instead, for those amounts to be placed in the "loss" (as defined in subsection 5907(1)) of the affiliate, which result in corresponding decreases in the balance of the surplus account.

Fourth, amended subsection 5907(2.9) contains new rules in respect of eligible capital property and resource property to deal more appropriately with these types of property. As mentioned above, existing subsection 5907(2.9) ensures that where, because of paragraphs 95(2)(k) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act, there is a deemed disposition of property that was used or held by the affiliate in the course of carrying on the foreign business, the affiliate's "earnings" are increased by the total of all amounts each of which is the amount by which the fair market value of the property (other than capital property) to the affiliate exceeds the cost of the property. (There is a corresponding rule in existing subsection 5907(2.9) that provides for a decrease of "earnings" if the cost of the property to the affiliate exceeds the fair market value of the property.)

As proposed to be amended, subsection 5907(2.9) ensures that where, because of paragraphs 95(2)(k) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act, there is a deemed disposition of eligible capital property, the affiliate's "earnings" are increased by the amount, if any, required by subsection 14(1) of the Act to be included in computing the operator's income for that preceding taxation year from the foreign business. Conversely, amended subsection 5907(2.9) also ensures that, if the operator was, because of paragraphs 95(2)(k.1) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act, deemed to have, at the end of that preceding taxation year, disposed of eligible capital property, the affiliate's "loss" is increased by the amount, if any, that would be permitted by paragraph 24(1)(a) of the Act to be deducted in computing the operator's income for that year from the foreign business if the operator had, immediately before the end of that year, ceased to carry on the foreign business.

For more detail about the treatment of the untaxed portion of the gain or loss from the sale of excluded property that is eligible capital property, refer to the commentaries on new paragraph (a.1) of the definition "exempt earnings", and new paragraph (a.1) of the definition "exempt loss", respectively, in subsection 5907(1) of the Regulations.

Amended subsection 5907(2.9) ensures that where, because of paragraphs 95(2)(k) and 138(11.91)(e) of the Act, there is a deemed disposition of resource property, the affiliate's "earnings" are increased by the amount, if any, by which

- the total of all amounts included by subsection 59(1) or paragraph 59(3.2)(c) or (c.1) of the Act in computing the operator's income for that preceding taxation year from the active business

exceeds

- the total of all amounts that were deductible under section 66, 66.1, 66.2, 66.21 or 66.4 of the Act in computing the operator's income for that year from the active business.

Note that there is a corresponding rule in amended subsection 5907(2.9) for an inclusion in "loss" in the converse situation.

Fifth, proposed amendments to subsection 5907(2.9) provide a rule for the determination, where the operator is the partnership, of the amounts required by that subsection to be added to the affiliate's "earnings" or "loss", as the case may be, for the preceding taxation year. The amount of the increase to the affiliate's "earnings" or "loss" is essentially the amount of the increase to the "earnings" or "loss" for the partnership multiplied by the fraction the numerator of which is the affiliate's share of the income or loss of the partnership for that year and the denominator of which is the income or loss of the partnership for that year. For the purpose of this calculation, where both the income and the loss of the partnership for that preceding year are nil, the partnership is assumed to have an income of $1 million for that year.

The amendments to subsection 5907(2.9) are proposed to apply to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that these amendments are included in the Fresh Start Section 95 Election package described at the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act.

Related Provisions: Reg. 5907(2.91) — Property deemed to have been disposed of and reacquired.

(2.91) [Deemed disposition and reacquisition] — Any property of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada, or of a partnership of which a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada is a member, that is, for the purposes of subdivision i of Division B of Part I of the Act, deemed because of either paragraph 95(2)(k.1) or (k.3), and paragraph 138(11.91)(e), of the Act to have been disposed of and reacquired by the affiliate or the partnership, as the case may be, is, for the purpose of this section, deemed to have been disposed of and reacquired by the affiliate or the partnership, as the case may be, in the same manner and for the same amounts as if those provisions applied for the purpose of this section.

Technical Notes: Proposed new subsection 5907(2.91) is consequential to the introduction of new paragraphs 95(2)(k.1) and (k.3) of the Act. New subsection 5907(2.91) provides that, for the purposes of section 5907 of the Regulations, any property of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada, or of a partnership of which a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada is a member, that is, for the purposes of subdivision i of Division B of Part I of the Act, deemed because of either paragraph 95(2)(k.1) or (k.3), and paragraph 138(11.91)(e), of the Act to have been disposed of and reacquired by the affiliate or the partnership, as the case may be, is, for the purpose of section 5907 of the Regulations, deemed to have been disposed of and reacquired by the affiliate or the partnership, as the case may be, in the same manner and for the same amounts as if those provisions applied for the purpose of section 5907 of the Regulations.

Subsection 5907(2.91) ensures that the deemed disposition and reacquisition are taken into account when calculating a foreign affiliate's surplus accounts.

New subsection 5907(2.91) is proposed to apply to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. Note that this amendment is included in the Fresh Start Section 95 Election package described at the beginning of the commentary to section 95 of the Act.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(28), will replace subsec. (2.9) with subsecs. (2.9) and (2.91) applicable to taxation years, of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer, that begin after December 20, 2002. However, if a taxpayer referred to in subsection 5907(2.9) makes a valid election under subsec. 133(69) of the February 27, 2004 draft amendments (see now under ITA 95(1)"taxable Canadian business"), new subsecs. 5907(2.9) and (2.91) apply to taxation years, of all foreign affiliates of the taxpayer, that begin after 1994.

History: Subsec. 5907(2.9) added by P.C. 1997-1670, subsec. 8(12), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the subsec. applies to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

(3) [Pre-1972 foreign affiliate] — For the purposes of this Part, any corporation that was, on January 1, 1972, a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer shall be deemed to have become a foreign affiliate of the taxpayer on that day.

(4) ["Government of a country"] — For the purposes of this Part, "government of a country" includes the government of a state, province or other political subdivision of that country.

(5) [Capital gains and losses] — For the purposes of this section, each capital gain and each capital loss of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer from the disposition of property shall be computed in accordance with the rules set out in subsection 95(2) of the Act and, for the purposes of subsection (6), where any such gain or loss is required to be computed in Canadian currency, the amount of such gain or loss shall be converted from Canadian currency into the currency referred to in subsection (6) at the rate of exchange prevailing on the date of disposition of the property.

Related Provisions: Reg. 5907(5.1) — Exception.

History: Subsec. 5907(5) substituted by P.C. 1985-467, subsec. 4(29), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable in respect of dispositions made after November 12, 1981.

(5.1) [Where no gain or loss recognized by other country] — Notwithstanding subsection (5) and except as provided in subsection (9), where, under the income tax law of a country other than Canada that is relevant in computing the earnings of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada from an active business carried on by it in a country, no gain or loss is recognized in respect of a disposition by the affiliate of a capital property used or held principally for the purpose of gaining or producing income from an active business to a person (in this subsection referred to as the "transferee") that is another foreign affiliate of the taxpayer or that is a foreign affiliate of another person with whom the taxpayer does not deal at arm's length, for the purposes of this section,

(a) the affiliate's proceeds of disposition of the property shall be deemed to be an amount equal to the aggregate of the adjusted cost base to the affiliate of the property immediately before the disposition and any outlays and expenses to the extent they were made or incurred by the affiliate for the purpose of making the disposition;

(b) the cost to the transferee of the property acquired from the affiliate shall be deemed to be an amount equal to the affiliate's proceeds of disposition, as determined under paragraph (a); and

(c) the transferee shall be deemed to have acquired the property on the date that it was acquired by the affiliate.

Proposed Repeal — Reg. 5907(5.1)

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(29), will repeal subsec. 5907(5.1), applicable to dispositions to which ITA 95(2)(f.3) to (f.9), as amended by the February 27, 2004 draft amendments, apply.

Technical Notes: Subsection 5907(5.1) of the Regulations is repealed because of the introduction of the rules in paragraphs 95(2)(c.2) to (c.6) and paragraphs 95(2)(f.3) to (f.8) of the Act. See the commentary for those proposed new paragraphs.

History: Subsec. 5907(5.1) substituted by P.C. 1985-467, subsec. 4(30), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable to 1976 et seq.

Subsec. 5907(5.1) added by P.C. 1980-503, subsec. 5(6), February 8, 1980, Canada Gazette, Part II, February 27, 1980, effective in respect of 1976 et seq.

(6) [Selection of currency] — All amounts referred to in subsections (1) and (2) shall be maintained on a consistent basis from year to year in the currency of the country in which the foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada is itself resident or such currency, other than Canadian currency, as is reasonable in the circumstances.

Information Circulars: 77-9R: Books, records and other requirements for taxpayers having foreign affiliates.

(7) [Stock dividend] — For the purposes of this Part, the amount of any stock dividend paid by a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada on a share of a class of its capital stock shall be deemed to be nil.

(7.1) [Dividend giving rise to credit in other country] — Where, at any time in a taxation year of a corporation resident in Canada, a foreign affiliate of the corporation (in this subsection referred to as the "payor affiliate") pays a dividend on the shares of any class of its capital stock to the corporation (in this subsection referred to as the "particular dividend") and as a result of the payment the corporation is entitled to a tax credit from the government of the country in which the payor affiliate is resident,

(a) if the particular dividend was paid on or after the day on which this subsection comes into force, or

(b) if the particular dividend was paid before the day on which this subsection comes into force and in a taxation year commencing after 1978 and the corporation elects in respect of the tax credit in its return of income for the 1985, 1986, 1987, 1988 or 1989 taxation year required to be filed pursuant to subsection 150(1) of the Act, for the purpose of this Part, the following rules apply:

(c) the tax credit shall be deemed to be a dividend paid at that time by the payor affiliate on the shares of that class of its capital stock to the corporation,

(d) immediately before that time there shall be added to the exempt surplus of the payor affiliate an amount equal to the proportion of the tax credit that

(i) the portion of the particular dividend that would, were the corporation not entitled to the tax credit, be deemed by subsection 5900(1) to have been paid out of the payor affiliate's exempt surplus in respect of the corporation

(ii) the particular dividend,

(e) immediately before that time, there shall be added to the taxable surplus of the payor affiliate an amount equal to the proportion of the tax credit that

(i) the portion of the particular dividend that would, were the corporation not entitled to the tax credit, be deemed by subsection 5900(1) to have been paid out of the payor affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation

(ii) the particular dividend, and

(f) the foreign tax applicable to the aggregate of

(i) the portion of the particular dividend determined under subparagraph (e)(i), and

(ii) the portion of any amount deemed to be a dividend by virtue of paragraph (c) that is deemed by subsection 5900(1) to have been paid out of the payor affiliate's taxable surplus in respect of the corporation shall, notwithstanding paragraph 5900(1)(d), be equal to the amount determined under paragraph 5900(1)(d) in respect of the amount referred to in subparagraph (i), less the amount determined under paragraph (e).

History: Subsec. 5907(7.1) added by P.C. 1989-321, subsec. 3(11), March 2, 1989, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 15, 1989, applicable for purposes of making computations under Part LIX after March 15, 1989 and, where the taxpayer so elects in accordance with para. 5907(7.1)(b), with respect to computations under Part LIX at any time commencing after the time immediately prior to the receipt of the tax credit specified in the election.

(8) [Deemed new taxation year on merger] — For the purposes of computing the various amounts referred to in this section, the first taxation year of a foreign affiliate formed as a result of a merger in the manner described in subsection 5905(3) shall be deemed to have commenced at the time of the merger, and a taxation year of a predecessor corporation (within the meaning assigned by subsection 5905(3)) that would otherwise have ended after the merger shall be deemed to have ended immediately before the merger.

(9) [Where FA dissolved] — Where a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada has been dissolved and paragraph 95(2)(e.1) of the Act does not apply, for the purpose of computing the various amounts referred to in this section, the following rules apply:

(a) where, at a particular time in the course of the dissolution, all or substantially all of the property owned by the affiliate immediately before that time was distributed to the shareholders of the affiliate, the taxation year of the affiliate that otherwise would have included the particular time shall be deemed to have ended immediately before the particular time;

(b) except as provided in paragraph 88(3)(a) and subparagraph 95(2)(e)(i) of the Act,

(i) each property of the affiliate that was distributed to the shareholders in the course of the dissolution shall be deemed to have been disposed of immediately before the end of the affiliate's taxation year deemed to have ended by paragraph (a) for proceeds of disposition equal to the fair market value thereof immediately before the particular time, and

(ii) each property of the affiliate that was otherwise disposed of in the course of the dissolution shall be deemed to have been disposed of by the affiliate for proceeds of disposition equal to the fair market value thereof at the time of disposition; and

(c) except as provided in subparagraph 95(2)(e)(i) of the Act, each property of the dissolved affiliate that was disposed of or distributed in the course of the dissolution to another foreign affiliate of the taxpayer resident in Canada shall be deemed to have been acquired by that other foreign affiliate at a cost equal to the proceeds of disposition of that property to the dissolved affiliate, as determined in paragraph (b).

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(9), (9.1)

(9) [Where FA liquidated and dissolved] — If a foreign affiliate of the taxpayer resident in Canada has been liquidated and dissolved (otherwise than as a result of a foreign merger within the meaning assigned by subsection 87(8.1) of the Act), subject to subsection 88(3) and to paragraphs 95(2)(e) and (e.1) of the Act

(a) where at a particular time in the course of the liquidation and dissolution, the fair market value of the property that has been disposed of by the affiliate in the course of the liquidation and dissolution equals or is more than 90% of the fair market value of the property that was owned by the affiliate, immediately before the commencement of the liquidation and the dissolution, the taxation year of the affiliate that would have included the particular time is deemed to have ended immediately before that time; and

(b) each property of the affiliate that was distributed or disposed of by the affiliate in the course of the liquidation and the dissolution is deemed

(i) to have been disposed of by the affiliate for proceeds of disposition equal to the fair market value of the property, immediately before it was distributed or disposed of, and

(ii) to have been acquired by the person or partnership to whom the affiliate distributed or disposed of the property at a cost equal to the affiliate's proceeds of disposition of the property.

Technical Notes: Where a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada has been dissolved, subject to the rules in paragraph 95(2)(e.1) of the Act, subsection 5907(9) provides that certain rules apply for the purposes of computing the various amounts referred to in section 5907 of the Regulations.

It is proposed that subsection 5907(9) be amended so that the rules will be subject to the rules in proposed new paragraphs 95(2)(e) and (e.1) and subsection 88(3). See the commentary for the proposed new paragraphs and subsection.

It is also proposed that subsection 5907(9) be amended so that the rules do not apply to dissolutions of a foreign affiliate because of a foreign merger within the meaning assigned by subsection 87(8.1) of the Act.

(9.1) [Where FA liquidated and dissolved] — Subject to subsection (9) and to subsection 88(3) of the Act and paragraphs 95(2)(d) to (e.6) of the Act, if a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada has, as a payment of a dividend or as a distribution of a property, transferred a property to a shareholder of the affiliate (or to a person with whom the shareholder was not dealing at arm's length),

(a) the property of the affiliate that was so transferred is deemed

(i) to have been disposed of by the affiliate for proceeds of disposition equal to the fair market value of the property, immediately before it was so transferred, and

(ii) to have been acquired by the person or partnership to whom the affiliate transferred the property at a cost equal to the affiliate's proceeds of disposition of the property; and

(b) the amount, in respect of the property, of the dividend or distribution made by the affiliate to the person to whom the property was transferred is deemed to be equal to the affiliate's proceeds of disposition of the property.

Technical Notes: Proposed new subsection 5907(9.1) provides rules similar to those contained in proposed amended subsection 5907(9) of the Regulations that apply on transfers of property by a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer resident in Canada as a payment of a dividend or as a distribution of property to a shareholder of the foreign affiliate.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(30), will amend subsec. 5907(9) to read as above and add (9.1), applicable to dissolutions that begin after December 20, 2002 and payments of dividends and distributions of property made after December 20, 2002.

History: Subsec. 5907(9) substituted by P.C. 1985-467, subsec. 4(31), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable to 1976 et seq.

Subsec. 5907(9) substituted by P.C. 1980-503, subsec. 5(7), February 8, 1980, Canada Gazette, Part II, February 27, 1980, effective in respect of 1976 et seq.

(10) [Tax sparing] — Where

(a) the net earnings or net loss for a taxation year of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada from an active business carried on in a country other than Canada would otherwise be included in the affiliate's taxable earnings or taxable loss, as the case may be, for the year,

(b) the rate of the income or profits tax to which any earnings of that active business of the affiliate are subjected by the government of that country is, by virtue of a special exemption from or reduction of tax (other than an export incentive) that is provided under a law of such country to promote investments or projects in pursuance of a program of economic development, less than the rate of such tax that would, but for such exemption or reduction, be paid by the affiliate, and

(c) the affiliate qualified for such exemption from or reduction of tax in respect of an investment made by it in that country before January 1, 1976 or in respect of an investment made by it or a project undertaken by it in that country pursuant to an agreement in writing entered into before January 1, 1976, for the purposes of this Part, such net earnings or net loss shall be included in the affiliate's exempt earnings or exempt loss, as the case may be, for the year and not in the affiliate's taxable earnings or taxable loss, as the case may be, for the year.

(11) ["Designated treaty country"] — For the purposes of this Part, a country is a "designated treaty country" for a taxation year of a foreign affiliate of a corporation where Canada and that country have entered into a comprehensive agreement or convention for the elimination of double taxation on income that has entered into force and has effect for that taxation year of the affiliate but, any territory, possession, department, dependency or area of that country to which that agreement or convention does not apply is not included in that designated treaty country.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(11)

(11) For the purposes of this Part, a sovereign state or other jurisdiction is a "designated treaty country" for a taxation year of a foreign affiliate of a corporation if Canada has entered into a comprehensive agreement or convention for the elimination of double taxation on income, or a comprehensive tax information exchange agreement, in respect of that sovereign state or jurisdiction, that has entered into force and has effect for that taxation year, but any territory, possession, department, dependency or area of that sovereign state or jurisdiction to which that agreement or convention does not apply is not considered to be part of that sovereign state or jurisdiction for the purpose of determining whether it is a designated treaty country.

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 112(1), will amend subsec. 5907(11) to read as above, applicable after 2007.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): Subsection 5907(11) defines "designated treaty country" for the purposes of Part LIX. The subsection currently defines "designated treaty country" for a taxation year of a foreign affiliate of a corporation to mean a country with which Canada has entered into a comprehensive agreement or convention for the elimination of double taxation on income that has entered into force and has effect for that taxation year of the foreign affiliate. The subsection goes on to provide that any territory, possession, department, dependency or area of that country to which that agreement or convention does not apply is not included in that designated treaty country.

Subsection 5907(11) is amended to address comprehensive tax information exchange agreements as well as comprehensive agreements and conventions for the elimination of double taxation on income. As amended, the subsection defines "designated treaty country" for a taxation year of a foreign affiliate of a corporation to mean a sovereign state or other jurisdiction if Canada has entered into a comprehensive agreement or convention for the elimination of double taxation on income, or a comprehensive tax information exchange agreement, in respect of that sovereign state or jurisdiction, that has entered into force and has effect for that taxation year. The amended subsection also provides that any territory, possession, department, dependency or area of that sovereign state or jurisdiction to which that agreement or convention does not apply is not considered to be part of that sovereign state or jurisdiction for the purpose of determining whether it is a designated treaty country.

Federal Budget, Notice of Ways and Means Motion and Supplementary Information, March 19, 2007: See under Reg. 5907(1)"exempt surplus".

Related Provisions: Reg. 5907(11.1) — Effective date of treaty; Reg. 5907(11.11) — When tax information exchange agreement in force.

(11.1) [Effective date of treaty for Reg. 5907(11)] — For the purpose of subsection (11), where a comprehensive agreement or convention between Canada and another country for the elimination of double taxation on income has entered into force, that convention or agreement is deemed to have entered into force and have effect in respect of a taxation year of a foreign affiliate of a corporation any day of which is in the period that begins on the day on which the agreement or convention was signed and that ends on the last day of the last taxation year of the affiliate for which the agreement or convention is effective.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5907(11.11)

(11.11) For the purpose of applying subsection (11) in respect of a foreign affiliate of a corporation, where a comprehensive tax information exchange agreement enters into force on a particular day, the agreement is deemed to enter into force and to come into effect on the first day of the foreign affiliate's taxation year that includes the particular day.

Application: Bill C-10 (First Reading Feb. 6, 2009), subsec. 112(2), will add subsec. 5907(11.11), applicable after 2007.

Technical Notes (Dec. 2008): New subsection 5907(11.11) is added to section 5907. It provides that, for the purpose of applying subsection 5907(11) in respect of a foreign affiliate of a corporation, where a comprehensive tax information exchange agreement enters into force on a particular day, the agreement is deemed to enter into force and to come into effect on the first day of the foreign affiliate's taxation year that includes the particular day.

(11.2) [Whether FA resident in treaty country] — For the purposes of this Part, a foreign affiliate of a corporation is, at any time, deemed not to be resident in a country with which Canada has entered into a comprehensive agreement or convention for the elimination of double taxation on income unless

(a) the affiliate is, at that time, a resident of that country for the purpose of the agreement or convention;

(b) the affiliate would, at that time, be a resident of that country for the purpose of the agreement or convention if the affiliate were treated, for the purpose of income taxation in that country, as a body corporate;

(c) where the agreement or convention entered into force before 1995, the affiliate would, at that time, be a resident of that country for the purpose of the agreement or convention but for a provision in the agreement or convention that has not been amended after 1994 and that provides that the agreement or convention does not apply to the affiliate; or

(d) the affiliate would, at that time, be a resident of that country, as provided by paragraph (a), (b) or (c) if the agreement or convention had entered into force.

History: Subsec. 5907(11) amended, subsecs. (11.1) and (11.2) added, by P.C. 1997-1670, subsec. 8(13), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a corporation that begin after 1995, except that, where the corporation notifies the Minister of National Revenue in its return of income for its first taxation year that begins after 1994 or for a taxation year in which a dividend was paid by the foreign affiliate of its election to have subsections 5907(11) (as amended), (11.1) and (11.2) apply to a taxation year of the foreign affiliate of the corporation that begins before 1996,

(a) the amendment applies to that taxation year and each subsequent taxation year of the foreign affiliate of the corporation; and

(b) any reference in s. 5907 to "country listed in subsection (11)" shall be read as "designated treaty country" and any reference to "country not listed in subsection (11)" shall be read as "country that is not a designated treaty country" for that taxation year and those subsequent taxation years of the foreign affiliate of the corporation.

Subsec. 5907(11) substituted by P.C. 1989-321, subsec. 3(12), March 2, 1989, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 15, 1989, applicable to 1982 et seq., except as otherwise noted in the above list. Those exceptions comprise additions and deletions made by subsecs. 3(13) to (18) of the said P.C. 1989-321.

Subsec. 5907(11) amended by P.C. 1980-503, subsecs. 5(8)–(10), February 8, 1980, Canada Gazette, Part II, February 27, 1980, effective as to paras. (a.1) and (d.1), in respect of 1978 et seq., and as to paras. (v) and (w), in respect of 1980 et seq.

Subsec. 5907(11) amended by P.C. 1978-589, March 2, 1978, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 22, 1978, applicable, as to paras. (a), (b.1), (b.2), (c.1), (e.1), (f.1), (h), (s.1), (aa.1), (aa.2), (aa.3) and (ee.1), to 1976 et seq., and as to paras. (u) and (kk), to taxation years commencing on or after January 1, 1978.

(12) [ACB of partnership interest] — For the purposes of paragraph 95(2)(j) of the Act, the adjusted cost base to a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer of an interest in a partnership at any time is prescribed to be the cost thereof otherwise determined at that time except that

(a) there shall be added to that cost such of the following amounts as are applicable, namely,

(i) any amount included in the earnings of the affiliate for a taxation year ending after 1971 and before that time that may reasonably be considered to relate to profits of the partnership,

(ii) the affiliate's incomes as described by the description of "A" in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act for a taxation year ending after 1971 and before that time that can reasonably be considered to relate to profits of the partnership,

(iii) any amount included in computing the exempt earnings or taxable earnings, as the case may be, of the affiliate for a taxation year ending after 1971 and before that time that may reasonably be considered to relate to a capital gain of the partnership,

(iv) where the affiliate has, at any time before that time and in a taxation year ending after 1971, made a contribution of capital to the partnership otherwise than by way of a loan, such part of the amount of the contribution as cannot reasonably be regarded as a gift made to or for the benefit of any other member of the partnership who was related to the affiliate, and

(v) such portion of any income or profits tax refunded before that time by the government of a country to the partnership as may reasonably be regarded as tax refunded in respect of an amount described in any of subparagraphs (b)(i) to (iii), and

(b) there shall be deducted from that cost such of the following amounts as are applicable, namely,

(i) any amount included in the loss of the affiliate for a taxation year ending after 1971 that may reasonably be considered to relate to a loss of the partnership,

(ii) the affiliate's losses as described by the description of D in the definition "foreign accrual property income" in subsection 95(1) of the Act for a taxation year ending after 1971 and before that time that can reasonably be considered to relate to the losses of the partnership,

(iii) any amount included in computing the exempt loss or taxable loss, as the case may be, of the affiliate for a taxation year ending after 1971 and before that time that may reasonably be considered to relate to a capital loss of the partnership,

(iv) any amount received by the affiliate before that time and in a taxation year ending after 1971 as, on account or in lieu of payment of, or in satisfaction of, a distribution of his share of the partnership profits or partnership capital, and

(v) such portion of any income or profits tax paid before that time to the government of a country by the partnership as may reasonably be regarded as tax paid in respect of an amount described in any of subparagraphs (a)(i) to (iii), and, for greater certainty, where any interest of a foreign affiliate in a partnership was reacquired by the affiliate after having been previously disposed of, no adjustment that was required to be made under this subsection before such reacquisition shall be made under this subsection to the cost to the affiliate of the interest as reacquired property of the affiliate.

History: Subparas. 5907(12)(a)(ii), (b)(ii) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsecs. 8(14), (16), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that begin after 1994, except that

(a) the subsec. applies to taxation years of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer that end after 1994 where there has been a change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate in 1994 and after February 22, 1994, unless

(i) the foreign affiliate had requested that change in the taxation year in writing before February 22, 1994 from the income taxation authority of the country in which it was resident and subject to income taxation, or

(ii) the first taxation year of the foreign affiliate that began after 1994 began at a time in 1995 that is earlier than the time when that taxation year would have begun if there had not been that change in the taxation year of the foreign affiliate.

The opening words of subpara. (b) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsec. 8(15), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable after November 12, 1981.

Subsec. 5907(12) added by P.C. 1985-467, subsec. 4(32), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, effective commencing November 13, 1981.

(13) [Immigration of FA to Canada] — For the purpose of subparagraph 128.1(1)(d)(ii) of the Act, the amount prescribed to be included in the foreign accrual property income of a foreign affiliate of a taxpayer for a taxation year is the amount, if any, by which

(a) the taxable surplus of the affiliate in respect of the taxpayer at the end of the year other than the affiliate's net earnings for the year in respect of the affiliate's foreign accrual property income

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 5907(13)(a)

(a) the taxable surplus of the affiliate in respect of the taxpayer at the end of the year (other than the affiliate's net earnings for the year in respect of the affiliate's foreign accrual property income), minus the amount, if any, that would have been added to the underlying foreign tax of the affiliate in respect of the taxpayer, if each disposition deemed by paragraph 128.1(1)(b) of the Act had been an actual disposition, and that is not otherwise included in the underlying foreign tax of the affiliate,

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(31), will amend para. 5907(13)(a) to read as above, applicable after 1992, except that if the corporation elected in accordance with para. 111(4)(a) of S.C. 1994, c. 21 [see History to ITA 250(5.1)][see Notes to ITA 250(5.1)], the amendment applies to the corporation from the corporation's time of continuation (within the meaning assigned by the said para. 111(4)(a)).

Technical Notes: Subsection 5907(13) adds a prescribed amount to the foreign accrual property income (FAPI) of a foreign affiliate that immigrates to Canada. The starting-point for the determination of this amount is paragraph 5907(13)(a), which refers to the affiliate's taxable surplus for the taxation year that is deemed under section 128.1 of the Act to have ended before immigration (excluding net earnings in respect of FAPI).

Under section 128.1 of the Act, one of the tax consequences of immigration to Canada is a deemed disposition of most kinds of property. That deemed disposition will often cause an increase in the taxable surplus of an immigrating foreign affiliate. To ensure the appropriate measurement of such an increase, paragraph 5907(13)(a) is amended to exclude, from the taxable surplus amount it describes, any amount that would have been added to the affiliate's underlying foreign tax if the deemed disposition had been an actual disposition. This amendment generally applies after 1992. The sole exception is that if the affiliate continued into Canada before 1993 and elected, under paragraph 111(4)(a) of S.C. 1994, c. 21, to have subsection 250(5.1) of the Act apply in respect of the continuation, this amendment will apply to the affiliate from the time of that continuation.

exceeds the total of

(b) the amount determined by the formula

$$(A - B) \times (C - 1)$$

where

A is the total of the underlying foreign tax of the affiliate in respect of the taxpayer at the end of the year and the amount, to the extent that it is not otherwise included in that underlying foreign tax, that would have been added to that underlying foreign tax if each disposition deemed by paragraph 128.1(1)(b) of the Act had been an actual disposition,

B is the part of the value of A that can reasonably be considered to relate to the affiliate's net earnings for the year in respect of the affiliate's foreign accrual property income, and

C is the relevant tax factor, as defined in subsection 95(1) of the Act, and

(c) the amount, if any, by which

(i) the total of all amounts required by paragraph 92(1)(a) of the Act to be added at any time in a preceding taxation year in computing the adjusted cost base to the taxpayer of the shares of the affiliate owned by the taxpayer at the end of the year

exceeds

(ii) the total of all amounts required by paragraph 92(1)(b) of the Act to be deducted at any time in a preceding taxation year in computing the adjusted cost base to the taxpayer of the shares of the affiliate owned by the taxpayer at the end of the year.

Related Provisions: Reg. 5907(14) — Interpretation.

History: Subsec. 5907(13) amended by P.C. 1997-1670, subsec. 8(17), November 20, 1997, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 10, 1997, applicable after 1992, except that where a corporation elects in accordance with paragraph 111(4)(a) of Statutes of Canada, 1994, chapter 21, the amendment applies to the corporation from the corporation's time of continuation (within the meaning assigned by that paragraph).

Subsec. 5907(13) added by P.C. 1985-467, subsec. 4(32), February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, effective commencing November 13, 1981.

Interpretation Bulletins: IT-451R: Deemed disposition and acquisition on ceasing to be or become a registrant in Canada.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5907(14)

(14) [Immigration of FA to Canada] — For the purpose of subsection (13), the amount that would have been added to the underlying foreign tax of the affiliate in respect of the taxpayer at the end of the year if each disposition deemed by paragraph 128.1(1)(b) of the Act had been an actual disposition is deemed to be nil if, had the taxpayer realized a gain from such an actual disposition, that gain would not have been taxable in any country other than Canada.

Application: The February 27, 2004 draft regulations (foreign affiliates), subsec. 3(32), will add subsec. 5907(14), applicable after 1992, except that, in its application in respect of dispositions that occur before February 28, 2004, the reference in the subsec. to "subsection (13)" is to be read as "paragraph 13(a)".

Technical Notes: In some instances, the gains that an immigrating affiliate would realize if it had actually disposed of its property would not in fact be subject to any foreign tax. New subsection 5907(14) ensures that in such a case, subsection 5907(13) does not recognize any addition to the affiliate's underlying foreign tax. This new subsection applies after 1992, except that its application is confined to paragraph 5907(13)(a) in respect of dispositions that occur on or before .

Proposed Addition — Reg. 5910

5910. Foreign oil and gas business — (1) If a foreign affiliate of a corporation carries on a foreign oil and gas business in a taxing country in a taxation year of the affiliate, the affiliate is deemed for the purposes of this Part to have paid for the year as an income or profits tax to the government of the taxing country an amount equal to the lesser of

(a) the amount, if any, by which

(i) 40% of the amount that would, if the definition "earnings" in subsection 5907(1) were read without reference to its subparagraphs (a)(i) and (ii), be the affiliate's earnings from the business in the taxing country for the year

exceeds

(ii) the total of all amounts that would, but for this subsection, be income or profits taxes paid by the affiliate for the year in respect of the business to the government of the taxing country, and

(b) the affiliate's production tax amount for the business in the taxing country for the year.

(2) In subsection 1[2], "foreign oil and gas business," "production tax amount" and "taxing country" have the meanings assigned by subsection 126(7) of the Act.

Application: The December 20, 2002 draft regulations (Appendix E, foreign oil and gas business), s.1, will add s. 5910, applicable in respect of production tax amounts that become receivable by the government of a taxing country in taxation years, of a taxpayer's foreign affiliate, that begin after the earlier of December 31, 2002 and the designated date. The designated date is the later of

(a) December 31, 1994; and

(b) any date that the taxpayer designates in writing for the purpose of this section, if the designation is filed with the Minister of National Revenue on or before the taxpayer's filing-due date for the taxpayer's first taxation year that ends after 2002.

Technical Notes: Announced in the 2000 Budget and enacted in 2001, subsection 126(5) of the Income Tax Act deems certain foreign oil and gas levies to be income or profits taxes for purposes of the foreign tax credit rules. Proposed section 5910 of the Income Tax Regulations extends this treatment to the foreign affiliate rules. As a result, the levies can, in certain cases, be included in computing the foreign tax paid by a foreign affiliate.

More specifically, where a foreign affiliate of a corporation carries on a "foreign oil and gas business" in a "taxing country" in the year, subsection 5910(1) of the Regulations will deem the affiliate to have paid for the year as an income or profits tax, the lesser of two amounts. The first amount (paragraph 5910(1)(a)) is the amount by which 40% of the affiliate's "earnings" from the business, read without reference to subparagraphs (a)(i) and (ii) of that definition, exceeds the amounts that would otherwise have been income or profits taxes that were paid by the affiliate to the country in respect of the business for the year. The second amount (paragraph 5910(1)(b)) is the affiliate's "production tax amount" for the business for the year. Subsection 5910(2) provides that for the purpose of section 5910, "foreign oil and gas business," "production tax amount" and "taxing country" have the meanings assigned by subsection 126(7) of the Act.

Letter from Dept. of Finance, Oct. 23, 2001:

Dear [xxx]:

I am writing in response to your letter of August 15, 2001 to Lawrence Purdy of this Division and subsequent telephone conversations, regarding the recently enacted Income Tax Act provisions relating to foreign oil and gas production sharing contracts.

I understand that your client anticipates acquiring a non-resident corporation that will pay, under one or more such contracts, amounts that the new provisions would treat as foreign taxes if they were paid by a resident of Canada. You have asked whether it would be appropriate to recognize these amounts as foreign tax for purposes of the rules relating to foreign affiliates as well.

I can confirm that, as a policy matter, we consider that such recognition would be appropriate. We are therefore prepared in principle to recommend an amendment, the effect of which would be to import into the foreign affiliate context, with appropriate modifications, the rules that deem certain payments under production sharing contracts to be foreign income or profits taxes for foreign tax credit purposes.

Having said that, I should make clear that the timing of such a recommendation — both in terms of the release of any draft legislation and in terms of its effective date — remains to be determined. While I would not rule out the possibility of including such a measure in the next package of draft technical amendments to the Act, I am not currently in a position to confirm that that will be possible.

Despite these uncertainties, I trust that this expression of our policy views is helpful.

Yours sincerely,

Brian Ernewein, Director, Tax Legislation Division, Tax Policy Branch

5911. (1) The amount prescribed for the purpose of paragraph 92(1.3)(a) of the Act, in respect of a relevant share referred to in that paragraph, in respect of a specified section 93 election related to the relevant share, is the lesser of

(a) the amount, if any, by which the fair market value of the relevant share, at the election time, exceeds the adjusted cost base, at the time of the disposition, of the relevant share to the holder, and

(b) the amount determined by the following formula

$$A/C \times (C - B)$$

where

A is the amount that would, if the relevant share was the disposed share and the relevant affiliate was the disposed affiliate in respect of the specified section 93 election, be determined under paragraph 5902(1)(f) to be the attributed net surplus in respect of the relevant share in respect of the specified section 93 election,

B is the amount that would be determined under subparagraph 5907(1)(e)(vi) to be the consolidated net surplus in respect of the relevant affiliate, if

(i) the relevant foreign affiliate was the disposed affiliate referred to in subsection 5902(1),

(ii) the relevant share was the disposed share referred to in subsection 5902(1) that was disposed of, immediately following the disposition of the disposed shares to which the specified section 93 election applied, and

(iii) before that determination, in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate and each foreign affiliate of the particular corporation resident in Canada in which the relevant foreign affiliate had an equity percentage, the adjustments that are required by section 5905 to be made, in respect of the whole dividend referred to in paragraph 5902(1)(g) in respect of the specified section 93 election were made, and

C is the amount that would be determined under subparagraph 5902(1)(e)(vi) to be the consolidated net surplus in respect of the relevant affiliate in respect of the specified section 93 election, if the relevant foreign affiliate was the disposed foreign affiliate referred to in subsection 5902(1) and the relevant share was the disposed share referred to in subsection 5902(1).

(2) The amount prescribed for the purpose of paragraph 92(1.3)(b) of the Act, in respect of a relevant share referred to in that paragraph, in respect of a relevant specified section 93 election related to the relevant share, is the lesser of

(a) the amount, if any, by which the adjusted cost base, at the time of the disposition, of the relevant share to the holder exceeds the fair market value of the relevant share, at the election time, and

(b) the amount determined by the following formula

$$A/C \times (C - B)$$

where

[2] Sic. Should be (1) — ed.

A is the amount that would be determined to be the attributed net surplus in respect of the relevant share under paragraph 5902(1)(f) in respect of the specified section 93 election, if

(i) the relevant share was the disposed share, and the relevant foreign affiliate was the disposed foreign affiliate, in respect of the specified section 93 election, and

(ii) the consolidated net surplus in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate was the amount, if any, determined, in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate, under the description of C,

B is the amount, if any, by which the total that would be determined under clause 5902(1)(e)(vi)(B) exceeds the total that would be determined under clause 5902(1)(e)(vi)(A), in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate, if

(i) the relevant foreign affiliate was the disposed affiliate referred to in subsection 5902(1),

(ii) the relevant share was the disposed share referred to in subsection 5902(1) that was disposed of immediately following the disposition of the disposed shares to which the specified section 93 election applied, and

(iii) before that determination, in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate and each foreign affiliate of the particular corporation resident in Canada in which the relevant foreign affiliate had an equity percentage, the adjustments that are required by section 5905 to be made, in respect the whole dividend referred to in paragraph 5902(1)(g) in respect of the specified section 93 election, were made, and

C is the amount, if any, by which the total that would be determined under clause 5902(1)(e)(vi)(B) exceeds the total that would be determined under clause 5902(1)(e)(vi)(A), in respect of the relevant affiliate in respect of the specified section 93 election, if the relevant foreign affiliate was the disposed foreign affiliate referred to in subsection 5902(1) and the relevant share was the disposed share referred to in subsection 5902(1).

Technical Notes: Proposed new subsections 5911(1) and (2) set out the rules for determining the additions to and the deductions from the adjusted cost base of a share of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada required under paragraphs 92(1.3)(a) and (b) of the Act when there has been a specified section 93 election in respect of a relevant share. Refer to the commentary for proposed new subsections 92(1.1) to (1.4) of the Act for the definitions "election time", "relevant share", "relevant foreign affiliate" and "specified section 93 election", the adjusted cost base adjustment requirements and the purposes for which the adjustments to the cost base of shares are to be made.

Proposed new subsections 5911(1) and (2) apply after December 20, 2002.

New subsection 5911(1) determines the required addition to the adjusted cost base of a relevant share in respect of a specified section 93 election.

The amount prescribed, for the purpose of paragraph 92(1.3)(a) of the Act, in respect of the relevant share referred to in that paragraph, in respect of a specified section 93 election related to the relevant share, is the lesser of

- the amount, if any, by which the fair market value exceeds the adjusted cost base to the holder, at the election time, of the relevant share, and
- the amount determined by the formula

$$A/C \times (C - B)$$

where

A is the amount that would be determined to be the attributed net surplus in respect of the relevant share, in respect of the specified section 93 election, under proposed new paragraph 5902(1)(f) if the relevant share were the disposed share referred to in subsection 5902(1) and the relevant affiliate were the disposed affiliate referred to in subsection 5902(1),

B is the amount that would be determined to be the consolidated net surplus in respect of the relevant affiliate under proposed new subparagraph 5902(1)(e)(vi) if the relevant foreign affiliate was the disposed affiliate referred to in subsection 5902(1), the relevant share was the disposed share referred to in subsection 5902(1) that was disposed of immediately after the disposition of the disposed share to which the specified section 93 election applied and, before that determination, the surplus accounts of the relevant foreign affiliate and each foreign affiliate in which the relevant foreign affiliate had an equity percentage were adjusted in accordance with section 5905, and

C is the amount that would be determined to be the consolidated net surplus in respect of the relevant affiliate, in respect of the specified section 93 election, under proposed new subparagraph 5902(1)(e)(vi) if the relevant foreign affiliate was the disposed affiliate referred to in subsection 5902(1) and the relevant share was the disposed share referred to in subsection 5902(1).

Proposed subsection 5911(2) determines the required deduction to the adjusted cost base of a relevant share in respect of a specified section 93 election.

The amount prescribed, for the purpose of paragraph 92(1.3)(b) of the Act, in respect of the relevant share referred to in that paragraph, in respect of a specified section 93 election related to the relevant share, is the lesser of

- the amount, if any, by which the adjusted cost base to the holder exceeds the fair market value, at the election time, of the relevant share, and
- the amount determined by the formula

$$A/C \times (C - B)$$

where

A is the amount that would be determined to be the attributed net surplus in respect of the relevant share, in respect of the specified section 93 election, under proposed new paragraph 5902(1)(f) if the relevant share was the disposed share referred to in subsection 5902(1), the relevant affiliate was the disposed affiliate referred to in subsection 5902(1) and the consolidated net surplus was the amount determined for C,

B is the amount, if any, by which the amount that would be determined under clause 5902(1)(e)(vi)(B) in respect of the relevant affiliate exceeds the amount that would be determined under clause 5902(1)(e)(vi)(A) in respect of the relevant affiliate if the relevant foreign affiliate was the disposed affiliate referred to in subsection 5902(1), the relevant share was the disposed share referred to in subsection 5902(1) that was disposed of immediately after the disposition of the disposed share to which the specified section 93 election applied and, before the determination, the surplus accounts of the relevant foreign affiliate and each foreign affiliate in which the relevant foreign affiliate had an equity percentage were adjusted in accordance with section 5905, and

C is the amount, if any, by which the amount that would be determined under clause 5902(1)(e)(vi)(B) in respect of the relevant affiliate in respect of the specified section 93 election exceeds the total that would be determined under clause 5902(1)(e)(vi)(A) in respect of the relevant affiliate in respect of the specified section 93 election if the relevant share was the disposed share referred to in subsection 5902(1) and the relevant affiliate was the disposed affiliate referred to in subsection 5902(1).

Proposed new subsection 5911(3) determines the required addition to the adjusted cost base of a relevant share in respect of a specified section 93 election amount determined in the formulas in subsections 5911(1) and (2) in respect of the relevant share referred to in paragraph 92(1.3)(a) is nil.

If the amount determined in each of the formulas in paragraphs 5911(1)(b) and 5911(2)(b) in respect of the relevant share referred to in paragraph 92(1.3)(a) of the Act is nil, the amount determined for B in the formula in paragraph 5911(1)(b) in respect of the relevant affiliate is greater than nil and the amount determined for C in the formula in paragraph 5911(2)(b) in respect of the relevant affiliate is greater than nil, the amount prescribed for the purpose of paragraph 92(1.3)(a) of the Act, in respect of the relevant share referred to in that paragraph, in respect of a specified section 93 election related to the relevant share, is the lesser of

- the amount, if any, by which the fair market value of the relevant share, at the election time, exceeds the adjusted cost base, at the time of the disposition, of the relevant share to the holder, and
- the amount that would, if the relevant share was the disposed share and the relevant affiliate was the disposed affiliate in respect of the specified section 93 election, be determined under paragraph 5902(1)(f) to be the attributed net surplus in respect of the relevant share if the consolidated net surplus of the relevant foreign affiliate were the amount determined for B in the formula in paragraph 5911(1)(b).

Example

Facts

1. Canco, a corporation resident in Canada, owns 100% of the issued shares of FA1 (which owns 80% of the issued shares of FA2) and 50% of the issued shares of FA6 (which owns 20% of the issued shares of FA2).

2. FA2 owns 70% of the issued shares of FA3, which owns 100% of the issued shares of FA4 (which owns 100% of the issued shares of FA5).

3. FA1 sells 30 issued shares of FA2 to FA6 and Canco elects under subsection 93(1) of the Act ($123 of sale proceeds to be treated as dividends on the 30 disposed shares of FA2).

4. At the time of the sale, FA2 has an exempt surplus of $200, a taxable surplus of $0, an exempt deficit of $0 and an underlying foreign tax of $0.

5. At the time of the sale, FA3 has an exempt surplus of $100, a taxable surplus of $75, an exempt deficit of $0 and an underlying foreign tax of $10.

6. At the time of the sale, FA4 has an exempt surplus of $0, a taxable surplus of $0, an exempt deficit of $200 and an underlying foreign tax of $0.

7. At the time of the sale, FA5 has an exempt surplus of $0, a taxable surplus of $325, an exempt deficit of $0 and an underlying foreign tax of $200.

8. All the corporations have 100 issued shares of one class of shares.

Application of Sections 5902, 5905 and 5911

For the application of subsection 5902(1) — see the example in the commentary for that subsection.

For the application of subsection 5905(8) — see the example in the commentary for that subsection.

For the application of subsections 5911(1) and (3) — see the calculation below.

Application of Section 5911 of the Regulations

Subsection 5911 provides for adjustments to the cost base to the holder of the share of the relevant foreign affiliate in respect of the adjustments to the surplus balances under section 5905 of the Regulations in respect of a specified section 93 election related to the relevant share.

The calculation is being performed only for the shares of FA4 and FA5 in this example.

Subsection 5911(1) — Additions to the ACB of Shares

For the purposes of the calculations below, it is assumed that the fair market value exceeded the adjusted cost base to the holder of shares of the relevant foreign affiliates.

Calculation — FA5

Under subsection 5911(1), the required addition to the adjusted cost base of a share of FA5, for example, is $0.65 determined by the formula

$$A \times (C–B)/C) = (3.25 \times (325–260)/325) = $0.65$$

where

A is the amount that would be determined to be the attributed surplus in respect of a share of FA5 if the share of FA5 and FA5 were the "disposed share" and the "disposed foreign affiliate" referred to in subsection 5902(1) in respect of the specified section 93 election ($325/100 = $3.25),

B is the amount that would be determined to be the consolidated net surplus (after the application, in respect of the specified section 93 election, of subsection 5905(8) to FA5) under 5902(1) in respect of FA5 if the share of FA5 and FA5 were the disposed share and the disposed foreign affiliate referred to in subsection 5902(1) in respect of a disposition, immediately after the disposition to which the specified section 93 election applies, of the FA5 share in respect of which an election was made by Canco under subsection 93(1) ($260), and

C is the amount that would be determined to be consolidated net surplus of FA5, in respect of the specified section 93 election, under 5902(1) in respect of FA5 if the share of FA5 and FA5 were the disposed share and the disposed foreign affiliate referred to in subsection 5902(1) ($325).

Calculation — FA4

Under subsection 5911(3), the required addition to the adjusted cost base of a share of FA4, for example, is $2.60. This amount is determined as the amount that would, if the share of FA4 was the disposed share and FA4 was the disposed affiliate, be determined under paragraph 5902(1)(f) to be the attributed net surplus in respect of the FA4 share ($260/100 shares) if the consolidated net surplus of the FA4 were the amount determined in respect of FA4 for B in the formula in subsection 5911(1) ($260).

The amount determined for B in the formula in subsection 5911(1) is the amount that would be determined to be the consolidated net surplus (after the application, in respect of the specified section 93 election, of subsection 5905(8) to FA4) under subsection 5902(1) in respect of FA4 if the share of FA4 and FA4 were the disposed share and the disposed foreign affiliate referred to in subsection 5902(1) in respect of a disposition, immediately after the disposition to which the specified section 93 election applies, of the FA4 share in respect of which an election was made by Canco under subsection 93(1) ($260).

Related Provisions: ITA 257 — Negative amounts in formulas; Reg. 5911(3) — If amount in formula is nil.

(3) If the amount determined in each of the formulae in paragraphs (1)(b) and (2)(b) in respect of the relevant share referred to in paragraph 92(1.3)(a) of the Act is nil, the amount determined for B in the formula in paragraph (1)(b) in respect of the relevant affiliate is greater than nil and the amount determined for C in the formula in paragraph (2)(b) in respect of the relevant affiliate is greater than nil, the amount prescribed for the purpose of paragraph 92(1.3)(a) of the Act, in respect of the relevant share referred to in that paragraph, in respect of a specified section 93 election related to the relevant share, is the lesser of

(a) the amount, if any, by which the fair market value of the relevant share, at the election time, exceeds the adjusted cost base, at the time of the disposition, of the relevant share to the holder, and

(b) the amount that would, if the relevant share was the disposed share and the relevant affiliate was the disposed affiliate in respect of the specified section 93 election, be determined under paragraph 5902(1)(f) to be the attributed net surplus in respect of the relevant share if the consolidated net surplus of the relevant foreign affiliate were the amount determined for B in the formula in paragraph (1)(b).

5912. (1) The amount prescribed, for the purpose of paragraph 95(2)(c.3) of the Act, to be the adjusted suspended gain in respect of the specified share, of the relevant foreign affiliate referred to in that paragraph, at the earlier of the first times (referred to in this section as the "recognition time"), after the original disposition time, that is described by that paragraph, is the amount determined by the formula

$$A \times B/C$$

where

A is the amount of the unadjusted suspended gain in respect of a specified share of the relevant foreign affiliate at the original disposition time,

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the original disposition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that would otherwise have included that time had ended immediately before that time, and

C is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the recognition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that would otherwise have included that time had ended immediately before that time.

(2) The amount prescribed, for the purpose of paragraph 95(2)(c.3) of the Act, to be the adjusted allocable tax in respect of the adjusted suspended gain in subsection (1) in respect of the specified share, of the relevant foreign affiliate referred to in that paragraph, at the recognition time, is the amount determined by the formula

where

A is any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country by the relevant foreign affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax in respect of the unadjusted suspended gain in respect of the specified share,

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the original disposition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that would otherwise have included that time had ended immediately before that time, and

C is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the recognition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that would otherwise have included that time had ended immediately before that time.

Technical Notes: Proposed new subsection 5912 determines the amount to be included as the adjusted suspended gain and the adjusted allocable tax in respect of the specified share, of the relevant foreign affiliate (referred to in new paragraph 95(2)(c.3) of the Act), at the earlier of the first times (which earlier time is referred to as the "recognition time"), after the original disposition time, that is described by new paragraph 95(2)(c.3) of the Act.

Proposed new subsection 5912 applies after December 20, 2002.

New subsection 5912(1) provides the rules for the calculation of the adjusted suspended gain in respect of the specified share, of the relevant foreign affiliate (referred to in new paragraph 95(2)(c.3) of the Act), at the recognition time. This amount is determined by the formula

A × B/C

where

A is the amount of the unadjusted suspended gain in respect of a specified share of the relevant foreign affiliate at the original disposition time,

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the original disposition time determined assuming that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time, and

C is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the recognition time determined assuming that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time.

New subsection 5912(2) provides for the calculation of the adjusted allocable tax in respect of the adjusted suspended gain, in respect of the specified share, of the relevant foreign affiliate (referred to in new paragraph 95(2)(c.3)) at the recognition time. This amount is determined by the formula

where

A is any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country by the relevant foreign affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax in respect of the unadjusted suspended gain in respect of the specified share,

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the original disposition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time, and

C is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the recognition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time.

5913. (1) The amount prescribed, for the purpose of paragraph 95(2)(f.5) of the Act, to be the adjusted suspended income or gain in respect of the specified property, of the relevant foreign affiliate referred to in that paragraph, at the earlier of the first times (referred to in this section as the "recognition time"), after the original disposition time, that is described by that paragraph, is the amount determined by the formula

where

A is the amount of the unadjusted suspended income or gain in respect of a specified property of the relevant foreign affiliate at the original disposition time,

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the original disposition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that would otherwise have included that time had ended immediately before that time, and

C is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the recognition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that would otherwise have included that time had ended immediately before that time.

(2) The amount prescribed, for the purpose of paragraph 95(2)(f.5) of the Act, to be the adjusted allocable tax in respect of the adjusted suspended income or gain in subsection (1) in respect of the specified property, of the relevant foreign affiliate referred to in that paragraph, at the recognition time, is the amount determined by the formula

where

A is any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country by the relevant foreign affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax in respect of the unadjusted suspended income or gain in respect of the specified property,

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the original disposition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that would otherwise have included that time had ended immediately before that time, and

C is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the recognition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that would otherwise have included that time had ended immediately before that time.

Technical Notes: New section 5913 determines the amount to be included as the adjusted suspended income or gain in respect of the specified property, of the relevant foreign affiliate (referred to in new paragraph 95(2)(f.5) of the Act), at the earlier of the first times (which earlier time is referred to as the "recognition time"), after the original disposition time (referred to in new paragraph 95(2)(f.5) of the Act), that is described by new paragraph 95(2)(f.5) of the Act.

Proposed new subsection 5913 applies after December 20, 2002.

New subsection 5913(1) provides rules for the calculation of the adjusted suspended income or gain in respect of the specified property, of the relevant foreign affiliate (referred to in new paragraph 95(2)(f.5)), at the recognition time. This amount is determined by the formula

A × B/C

where

A is the amount of the unadjusted suspended income or gain in respect of a specified property of the relevant foreign affiliate at the original disposition time,

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the original disposition time determined assuming that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time, and

C is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the recognition time determined assuming that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time.

New subsection 5913(2) provides for the calculation of the adjusted allocable tax in respect of the adjusted suspended income or gain, in respect of the specified property, of the relevant foreign affiliate (referred to in new paragraph 95(2)(f.5)) at the recognition time. This amount is determined by the formula

where

A is any income or profits tax paid to the government of a country by the relevant foreign affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax in respect of the unadjusted suspended income or gain in respect of the specified property,

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the original disposition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time, and

C is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the recognition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time.

5914. (1) The amount prescribed, for the purpose of paragraph 95(2)(h.2) of the Act, to be the adjusted suspended loss or capital loss in respect of the specified property, of the relevant foreign affiliate referred to in that paragraph, at the earlier of the first times (referred to in this section as the "recognition time"), after the original disposition time, that is described by that paragraph, is the amount determined by the formula

$$A \times B/C$$

where

A is the amount of the unadjusted suspended loss or capital loss in respect of a specified property of the relevant foreign affiliate at the original disposition time,

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the original disposition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that would otherwise have included that time had ended immediately before that time, and

C is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the recognition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that would otherwise have included that time had ended immediately before that time.

(2) The amount prescribed, for the purpose of paragraph 95(2)(h.2) of the Act, to be the adjusted allocable tax refund in respect of the adjusted suspended loss or capital loss in subsection (1) in respect of the specified property, of the relevant foreign affiliate referred to in that paragraph, at the recognition time, is the amount determined by the formula

where

A is any income or profits tax refunded by the government of a country to the relevant foreign affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax refunded in respect of the unadjusted suspended loss or capital loss in respect of the specified property,

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the original disposition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that would otherwise have included that time had ended immediately before that time, and

C is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the recognition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that would otherwise have included that time had ended immediately before that time.

Technical Notes: New section 5914 determines the amount to be included as the adjusted suspended loss or capital loss in respect of the specified property, of the relevant foreign affiliate (referred to in new paragraph 95(2)(h.3) of the Act), at the earlier of the first times (which earlier time is referred to as the "recognition time"), after the original disposition time (referred to in new paragraph 95(2)(h.3) of the Act), that is described by new paragraph 95(2)(h.3) of the Act.

Proposed new subsection 5914 applies after December 20, 2002.

New subsection 5914(1) provides for the calculation of the adjusted suspended loss or capital loss in respect of the specified property, of the relevant foreign affiliate (referred to in new paragraph 95(2)(h.2)), at the recognition time. This amount is determined by the formula

$$A \times B/C$$

where

A is the amount of the unadjusted suspended loss or capital loss in respect of a specified property of the relevant foreign affiliate at the original disposition time,

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the original disposition time determined assuming that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time, and

C is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the recognition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time.

New subsection 5914(2) provides for the calculation of the adjusted allocable tax refund in respect of the adjusted suspended loss or capital loss, in respect of the specified property, of the relevant foreign affiliate (referred to in new paragraph 95(2)(h.2)) at the recognition time. This amount is determined by the formula

where

A is any income or profits tax refunded by the government of a country to the relevant foreign affiliate that can reasonably be regarded as tax refunded in respect of the unadjusted suspended loss or capital loss in respect of the specified property,

B is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the original disposition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time, and

C is the surplus entitlement percentage of the corporation resident in Canada in respect of the relevant foreign affiliate immediately before the recognition time determined on the assumption that the taxation year of the relevant foreign affiliate that otherwise would have included that time had ended immediately before that time.

5915. An election under paragraph 95(2)(c.2) of the Act in respect of the disposition of a specified share is to be made by filing the prescribed form with the Minister, on or before

(a) if a foreign affiliate of the particular corporation resident in Canada was the vendor that disposed of the specified share, the particular corporation's filing-due date for its taxation year that includes the last day of the foreign affiliate's taxation year in which the disposition was made; and

(b) if a foreign affiliate of the particular corporation resident in Canada is a member of a partnership that was the vendor that disposed of the specified share, the particular corporation's filing-due date for its taxation year that includes the last day of the taxation year of the foreign affiliate that includes the last day of the partnership's fiscal period in which the disposition was made.

Technical Notes: Proposed section 5915 sets out the requirements for an election by a corporation resident in Canada under proposed paragraph 95(2)(c.2) of the Act.

Proposed new subsection 5915 applies after December 20, 2002.

Generally, the new section requires the election to be made by filing the prescribed form with the Minister of National Revenue on or before

- if a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada was the vendor that disposed of the specified share, the filing-due date of the corporation resident in Canada for its taxation year that includes the last day of the foreign affiliate's taxation year in which the disposition was made; and

- if a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada is a member of a partnership that was the vendor that disposed of the specified share, the filing-due date of the corporation resident in Canada for its taxation year that includes the last day of the taxation year of the foreign affiliate that includes the last day of the partnership's fiscal period in which the disposition was made by the partnership.

5916. An election under clause 95(2)(d)(iii)(A), (e)(v)(B), (e.3)(iv)(B), (e.4)(v)(B) or (e.5)(v)(B) of the Act in respect of the disposition of one or more shares of the capital stock of a foreign affiliate of a corporation resident in Canada is to be made by filing the prescribed form with the Minister, on or before

(a) if a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada made the disposition, the filing-due date of the corporation resident in Canada for its taxation year that includes the last day of the foreign affiliate's taxation year in which the disposition was made; and

(b) if a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada is a member of a partnership that made the disposition, the filing-due date of the corporation resident in Canada for its taxation year that includes the last day of the taxation year of the foreign affiliate that includes the last day of the partnership's fiscal period in which the disposition was made.

Technical Notes: Proposed section 5916 sets out the requirements for an election by a corporation resident in Canada under subsection 88(3) or clause 95(2)(d)(iii)(A), (e)(v)(B), (e.3)(iv)(B), (e.4)(v)(B) or (e.5)(v)(B) of the Act.

Proposed new subsection 5916 applies after December 20, 2002.

Generally, the section requires the election to be made by filing the prescribed form with the Minister of National Revenue on or before

- if a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada made the disposition, the filing-due date of the corporation resident in Canada for its taxation year that includes the last day of the foreign affiliate's taxation year in which the disposition was made; and
- if a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada is a member of a partnership and that partnership made the disposition, the filing-due date of the corporation resident in Canada for its taxation year that includes the last day of the taxation year of the foreign affiliate that includes the last day of the partnership's fiscal period in which the disposition was made by the partnership.

5917. An election under paragraph 95(2)(f.4) of the Act is to be made by filing the prescribed form with the Minister, on or before

(a) if a foreign affiliate of the particular corporation resident in Canada was the vendor that disposed of the specified property, the particular corporation's filing-due date for its taxation year that includes the last day of the foreign affiliate's taxation year in which the disposition was made; and

(b) if a foreign affiliate of the particular corporation resident in Canada is a member of a partnership that was the vendor that disposed of the specified property, the particular corporation's filing-due date for its taxation year that includes the last day of the foreign affiliate's taxation year that includes the last day of the partnership's fiscal period in which the disposition was made.

Technical Notes: Proposed section 5917 sets out the requirements for an election by a corporation resident in Canada under paragraph 95(2)(f.4) of the Act.

Proposed subsection 5917 applies after December 20, 2002.

Generally, the section requires the election to be made by filing the prescribed form with the Minister of National Revenue on or before

- if a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada was the vendor that disposed of the specified property, the filing-due date of the corporation resident in Canada for its taxation year that includes the last day of the foreign affiliate's taxation year in which the disposition was made; and
- if a foreign affiliate of the corporation resident in Canada is a member of a partnership that was the vendor that disposed of the specified property, the filing-due date of the corporation resident in Canada for its taxation year that includes the last day of the taxation year of the foreign affiliate that includes the last day of the partnership's fiscal period in which the disposition was made by the partnership.

Definitions [Reg. 5917]: "corporation" — ITA 248(1), Interpretation Act 35(1); "disposition", "filing-due date" — ITA 248(1); "fiscal period" — ITA 249.1; "foreign affiliate" — ITA 95(1), 248(1), Reg. 5907(3); "Minister" — ITA 248(1); "prescribed", "property" — ITA 248(1); "resident in Canada" — ITA 250; "taxation year" — ITA 249.

5918. An election under subparagraph 95(2)(k.3)(iii) of the Act in respect of the dispositions of all properties deemed, by subparagraph 95(2)(k.3)(ii) of the Act and paragraph 138(11.91)(e) of the Act, to have been disposed of by the operator referred to in subparagraph 95(2)(k.3)(iii) of the Act in the operator's specified taxation year referred to in that subparagraph, is to be made by filing the prescribed form with the Minister on or before

(a) if a foreign affiliate of the taxpayer was the operator, the taxpayer's filing-due date for its taxation year that includes the last day of the foreign affiliate's taxation year that is the specified taxation year; and

(b) if a partnership — of which a foreign affiliate of the taxpayer was, or was deemed by paragraph 95(2)(k.7) [now 95(2)(u) — ed.] of the Act to be, a member — was the operator, the taxpayer's filing-due date for its taxation year that includes the last day of the foreign affiliate's taxation year that includes the last day of the partnership's fiscal period that is the specified taxation year.

Technical Notes: Proposed section 5918 sets out the requirements for an election by a corporation resident in Canada under new subparagraph 95(2)(k.3)(iii) of the Act. For further detail, see the commentary to paragraph 95(2)(k.3) of the Act.

Proposed new subsection 5918 applies after December 20, 2002.

Generally, the section requires the election to be made by filing the prescribed form with the Minister of National Revenue on or before

- if a foreign affiliate of the taxpayer was the operator, the taxpayer's filing-due date for its taxation year that includes the last day of the foreign affiliate's taxation year that is the specified taxation year; and
- if a partnership — of which a foreign affiliate of the taxpayer was, or was deemed by new paragraph 95(2)(k.7) [to be replaced by 95(2)(u) — ed.] of the Act to be, a member — was the operator, the taxpayer's filing-due date for its taxation year that includes the last day of the taxation year of the foreign affiliate that includes the last day of the partnership's fiscal period that is the specified taxation year.

Interpretation Bulletins: IT-479R: Transactions in securities.

6201. Prescribed shares — (1) [Term preferred share] — For the purposes of paragraph (f) of the definition "term preferred share" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, a share last acquired before June 29, 1982 and of a class of the capital stock of a corporation that is listed on a designated stock exchange in Canada is a prescribed share unless more than 10 per cent of the issued and outstanding shares of that class are owned by

(a) the owner of that share; or

(b) the owner of that share and persons related to him.

(2) [Term preferred share] — For the purposes of paragraph (f) of the definition "term preferred share" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, a share acquired after June 28, 1982 and of a class of the capital stock of a corporation that is listed on a designated stock exchange in Canada is a prescribed share at any particular time with respect to another corporation that receives a dividend at the particular time in respect of the share unless

(a) where the other corporation is a restricted financial institution,

(i) the share is not a taxable preferred share,

(ii) dividends (other than dividends received on shares prescribed under subsection (5)) are received at the particular time by the other corporation or by the other corporation and restricted financial institutions with which the other corporation does not deal at arm's length, in respect of more than 5 per cent of the issued and outstanding shares of that class, and

(iii) a dividend is received at the particular time by the other corporation or a restricted financial institution with which the other corporation does not deal at arm's length, in respect of a share (other than a share prescribed under subsection (5)) of that class acquired after December 15, 1987 and before the particular time;

(b) where the other corporation is a restricted financial institution, the share

(i) is not a taxable preferred share,

(ii) was acquired after December 15, 1987 and before the particular time, and

(iii) was, by reason of subparagraph (h)(i), (ii), (iii) or (v) of the definition "term preferred share" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, deemed to have been issued after December 15, 1987 and before the particular time; or

(c) in any case, dividends (other than dividends received on shares prescribed under subsection (5)) are received at the particular time by the other corporation or by the other corporation and persons with whom the other corporation does not deal at arm's length in respect of more than 10 per cent of the issued and outstanding shares of that class.

(3) [Term preferred share] — For the purposes of paragraph 112(2.2)(g) of the Act and paragraph (f) of the definition "term preferred share" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, a share of any of the following series of preferred shares of the capital stock of Massey-Ferguson Limited issued after July 15, 1981 and before March 23, 1982 is a prescribed share:

(a) $25 Cumulative Redeemable Retractable Convertible Preferred Shares, Series C;

(b) $25 Cumulative Redeemable Retractable Preferred Shares, Series D; or

(c) $25 Cumulative Redeemable Retractable Convertible Preferred Shares, Series E.

(4) [Taxable RFI share] — For the purposes of the definition "taxable RFI share" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, a share of a class of the capital stock of a corporation that is listed on a designated stock exchange in Canada is a prescribed share at any particular time with respect to another corporation that is a restricted financial institution that receives a dividend at the particular time in respect of the share unless dividends (other than dividends received on shares prescribed under subsection (5.1)) are received at that time by the other corporation, or by the other corporation and restricted financial institutions with which the other corporation does not deal at arm's length, in respect of more than

(a) 10 per cent of the shares of that class that were issued and outstanding at the last time, before the particular time, at which the other corporation or a restricted financial institution with which the other corporation does not deal at arm's length acquired a share of that class, where no dividend is received at the particular time by any such corporation in respect of a share (other than a share prescribed under subsection (5.1)) of that class acquired after December 15, 1987 and before the particular time; or

(b) 5 per cent of the shares of that class that were issued and outstanding at the last time, before the particular time, at which the other corporation or a restricted financial institution with which the other corporation does not deal at arm's length acquired a share of that class, where a dividend is received at the particular time by any such corporation in respect of a share (other than a share prescribed under subsection (5.1)) of that class acquired after December 15, 1987 and before the particular time.

(5) [Term preferred share] — For the purpose of paragraph (f) of the definition "term preferred share" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, a share of a class of the capital stock of a corporation that is listed on a designated stock exchange in Canada is a prescribed share at any particular time with respect to another corporation that is registered or licensed under the laws of a province to trade in securities and that holds the share for the purpose of sale in the course of the business ordinarily carried on by it unless

(a) it may reasonably be considered that the share was acquired as part of a series of transactions or events one of the main purposes of which was to avoid or limit the application of subsection 112(2.1) of the Act; or

(b) the share was not acquired by the other corporation in the course of an underwriting of shares of that class to be distributed to the public and

(i) dividends are received at the particular time by the other corporation or by the other corporation and corporations controlled by the other corporation in respect of more than 10 per cent of the issued and outstanding shares of that class,

(ii) the other corporation is a restricted financial institution and

(A) the share is not a taxable preferred share,

(B) dividends are received at the particular time by the other corporation or by the other corporation and corporations controlled by the other corporation in respect of more than 5 per cent of the issued and outstanding shares of that class, and

(C) a dividend is received at the particular time by the other corporation or a corporation controlled by the other corporation in respect of a share of that class acquired after December 15, 1987 and before the particular time, or

(iii) the other corporation is a restricted financial institution and the share

(A) is not a taxable preferred share,

(B) was acquired after December 15, 1987 and before the particular time, and

(C) was, by reason of subparagraph (h)(i), (ii), (iii) or (v) of the definition "term preferred share" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, deemed to have been issued after December 15, 1987 and before the particular time.

Related Provisions: ITA 248(10) — Series of transactions; ITA 256(6), (6.1) — Meaning of "controlled".

(5.1) [Taxable RFI share — prescribed share] — For the purpose of the definition "taxable RFI share" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, a share of a class of the capital stock of a corporation that is listed on a designated stock exchange in Canada is a prescribed share at any particular time with respect to another corporation that is registered or licensed under the laws of a province to trade in securities and that holds the share for the purpose of sale in the course of the business ordinarily carried on by it unless

(a) it may reasonably be considered that the share was acquired as part of a series of transactions or events one of the main purposes of which was to avoid or limit the application of section 187.3 of the Act; or

(b) the share was not acquired by the other corporation in the course of an underwriting of shares of that class to be distributed to the public and

(i) dividends are received at the particular time by the other corporation, or by the other corporation and corporations controlled by the other corporation, in respect of more than 10 per cent of the shares of that class issued and outstanding at the last time before the particular time at which any such corporation acquired a share of that class,

(ii) the other corporation is a restricted financial institution and

(A) dividends are received at the particular time by the other corporation, or by the other corporation and corporations controlled by the other corporation, in respect of more than 5 per cent of the shares of that class issued and outstanding at the last time before the particular time at which any such corporation acquired a share of that class, and

(B) a dividend is received at the particular time by the other corporation, or a corporation controlled by the other corporation, in respect of a share of that class acquired after December 15, 1987 and before the particular time, or

(iii) the other corporation is a restricted financial institution and the share

(A) was acquired after December 15, 1987 and before the particular time, and

(B) was, because of subparagraph (h)(i), (ii), (iii) or (v) of the definition "term preferred share" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, deemed to have been issued after December 15, 1987 and before the particular time.

Related Provisions: ITA 248(10) — Series of transactions; ITA 256(6), (6.1) — Meaning of "controlled".

(6) [Term preferred share — prescribed share] — For the purposes of paragraph (f) of the definition "term preferred share" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, a share of the capital stock of a corporation that is a member institution of a deposit insurance corporation, within the meaning assigned by section 137.1 of the Act, is a prescribed share with respect to the deposit insurance corporation and any subsidiary wholly-owned corporation of the deposit insurance corporation deemed by subsection 137.1(5.1) of the Act to be a deposit insurance corporation.

(7) [Taxable preferred share — prescribed share] — For the purposes of the definition "taxable preferred share" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, the following shares are prescribed shares at any particular time:

(a) the 8.5 per cent Cumulative Redeemable Convertible Class A Preferred Shares of St. Marys Paper Inc. issued on July 7, 1987, where such shares are not deemed, by reason of paragraph (e) of the definition "taxable preferred share" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, to have been issued after that date and before the particular time; and

(b) the Cumulative Redeemable Preferred Shares of CanUtilities Holdings Ltd. issued before July 1, 1991, unless the amount of the consideration for which all such shares were issued exceeds $300,000,000 or the particular time is after July 1, 2001.

(8) [Canada Cement Lafarge] — For the purposes of paragraph 112(2.2)(d) of the Act, paragraph (i) of the definition "short-term preferred share", the definition "taxable preferred share" and paragraph (f) of the definition "term preferred share" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, the Exchangeable Preference Shares of Canada Cement Lafarge Ltd. (in this subsection referred to as the "subject shares"), the Exchangeable Preference Shares of Lafarge Canada Inc. and the shares of any corporation formed as a result of an amalgamation or merger of Lafarge Canada Inc. with one or more other corporations are prescribed shares at any particular time where the terms and conditions of such shares at the particular time are the same as, or substantially the same as, the terms and conditions of the subject shares as of June 18, 1987 and, for the purposes of this subsection, the amalgamation or merger of one or more corporations with another corporation formed as a result of an amalgamation or merger of Lafarge Canada Inc. with one or more other corporations shall be deemed to be an amalgamation of Lafarge Canada Inc. with another corporation.

(9) [Time when share acquired] — For the purposes of determining under subsections (2), (4), (5) and (5.1) the time at which a share of a class of the capital stock of a corporation was acquired by a taxpayer, shares of that class acquired by the taxpayer at any particular time before a disposition by the taxpayer of shares of that class shall be deemed to have been disposed of before shares of that class acquired by the taxpayer before that particular time.

(10) [Trusts and partnerships] — For the purposes of subsections (2), (4), (5) and (5.1) and this subsection,

(a) where a taxpayer is a beneficiary of a trust and an amount in respect of the beneficiary has been designated by the trust in a taxation year pursuant to subsection 104(19) of the Act, the taxpayer shall be deemed to have received the amount so designated at the time it was received by the trust; and

(b) where a taxpayer is a member of a partnership and a dividend has been received by the partnership, the taxpayer's share of the dividend shall be deemed to have been received by the taxpayer at the time the dividend was received by the partnership.

(11) [Grandfathering] — For the purposes of subsections (2), (4), (5) and (5.1),

(a) a share of the capital stock of a corporation acquired by a person after December 15, 1987 pursuant to an agreement in writing entered into before December 16, 1987 shall be deemed to have been acquired by that person before December 16, 1987;

(b) a share of the capital stock of a corporation acquired by a person after December 15, 1987 and before July, 1988 as part of a distribution to the public made in accordance with the terms of a prospectus, preliminary prospectus, registration statement, offering memorandum or notice filed before December 16, 1987 with a public authority pursuant to and in accordance with the securities legislation of the jurisdiction in which the shares were distributed shall be deemed to have been acquired by that person before December 16, 1987;

(c) where a share that was owned by a particular restricted financial institution on December 15, 1987 has, by one or more transactions between related restricted financial institutions, been transferred to another restricted financial institution, the share shall be deemed to have been acquired by the other restricted financial institution before that date and after June 28, 1982 unless at any particular time after December 15, 1987 and before the share was transferred to the other restricted financial institution the share was owned by a shareholder who, at that particular time, was a person other than a restricted financial institution related to the other restricted financial institution; and

(d) where at any particular time there has been an amalgamation (within the meaning assigned by section 87 of the Act) and

(i) each of the predecessor corporations (within the meaning assigned by section 87 of the Act) was a restricted financial institution throughout the period beginning December 16, 1987 and ending at the particular time and the predecessor corporations were related to each other throughout that period, or

(ii) each of the predecessor corporations and the new corporation (within the meaning assigned by section 87 of the Act) is a corporation described in any of paragraphs (a) to (d) of the definition "restricted financial institution" in subsection 248(1) of the Act,

a share acquired by the new corporation from a predecessor corporation on the amalgamation shall be deemed to have been acquired by the new corporation at the time it was acquired by the predecessor corporation.

6202. [Resource expenditures — prescribed share] — (1) For the purposes of paragraph 66(15)(d.1) [66(15)"flow-through share"] and subparagraphs 66.1(6)(a)(v) [66.1(6)"Canadian exploration expense"(i)], 66.2(5)(a)(v) [66.2(5)"Canadian development expense"(g)] and 66.4(5)(a)(iii) [66.4(5)"Canadian oil and gas property expense"(c)] of the Act, a share of a class of the capital stock of a corporation (in this section referred to as the "issuing corporation") is a prescribed share if it was issued after December 31, 1982 and

(a) the issuing corporation, any person related to the issuing corporation or of whom the issuing corporation has effective management or control or any partnership or trust of which the issuing corporation or a person related thereto is a member or beneficiary (each of which is referred to in this section as a "member of the related issuing group") is or may be required to redeem, acquire or cancel, in whole or in part, the share or to reduce its paid-up capital at any time within five years from the date of its issue,

(b) a member of the related issuing group provides or may be required to provide any form of guarantee, security or similar indemnity with respect to the share (other than a guarantee, security or similar indemnity with respect to any amount of assistance or benefit from a government, municipality or other public authority in Canada or with respect to eligibility for such assistance or benefit) that could take effect within five years from the date of its issue,

(c) the share (referred to in this section as the "convertible share") is convertible under its terms or conditions at any time within five years from the date of its issue directly or indirectly into debt, or into a share (referred to in this section as the "acquired share") that is, or if issued would be, a prescribed share,

(d) immediately after the share was issued, the person to whom the share was issued or a person related to the person to whom the share was issued (either alone or together with a related person, a related group of persons of which he is a member or a partnership or trust of which he is a member or beneficiary) controls directly or indirectly, or has an absolute or contingent right to control directly or indirectly or to acquire direct or indirect control of, the issuing corporation and the issuing corporation has the right under the terms and conditions in respect of which the share was issued to redeem, purchase or otherwise acquire the share within five years from the date of its issue,

(e) at the time the share was issued, the existence of the issuing corporation was, or there was an arrangement (other than an amalgamation within the meaning assigned by subsection 87(1) of the Act) under which the existence of the issuing corporation could be, limited to a period that ends within five years from the date of its issue, or

(f) the terms or conditions of the share (referred to in this paragraph as the "first share") or of an agreement in existence at the time of its issue provide that a share (referred to in this section as the "substituted share") that is, or if issued would be, a prescribed share may be substituted or exchanged for the first share within five years from the date of issue of the first share, but does not include a share of the capital stock of a corporation

(g) that was issued after December 31, 1982 pursuant to an agreement or offering in writing made on or before December 31, 1982 or in accordance with a prospectus, registration statement or similar document that was filed with and, where required by law, accepted for filing by, a public authority in Canada pursuant to and in accordance with the laws of Canada or of any province on or before December 31, 1982,

(h) that would be a prescribed share solely by virtue of one or more of the terms or conditions of an agreement if such terms or conditions are not effective or exercisable until the death, disability or bankruptcy of the person to whom the share is issued,

(i) that is

(i) convertible under its terms into one or more shares of a class of the capital stock of the corporation for no consideration other than the share or shares,

(ii) described in paragraph (a) solely because

(A) it is to be cancelled on the conversion within five years from the date of its issue,

(B) its paid-up capital is to be reduced on the conversion within five years from the date of its issue, or

(C) both clauses (A) and (B) apply, and

(iii) not described in paragraph (c), or

(j) that

(i) may have a share substituted or exchanged for it pursuant to its terms or the terms or conditions of an agreement in existence at the time of its issue and no consideration is to be received or receivable for it in respect of the substitution or exchange other than the share substituted or exchanged for it,

(ii) is described in paragraph (a) solely because it is to be redeemed, acquired or cancelled on the substitution or exchange within five years from the date of its issue, and

(iii) is not a share to which paragraph (f) applies, and for the purposes of this section,

(k) where a person has an interest in a trust, whether directly or indirectly, through an interest in any other trust or in any other manner whatever, the person shall be deemed to be a beneficiary of the trust;

(l) in determining whether an acquired share would be a prescribed share if issued,

(i) the references in paragraphs (a), (b), (d) and (e) to "date of its issue" shall be read as "date of the issue of the convertible share",

(ii) the reference in paragraph (f) to "issue of the first share" shall be read as "issue of the convertible share", and

(iii) this section shall be read without reference to paragraph (g) and to the words "after December 31, 1982";

(m) in determining whether a substituted share would be a prescribed share if issued,

(i) the references in paragraphs (a) to (e) to "date of its issue" shall be read as "date of the issue of the first share", and

(ii) this section shall be read without reference to paragraph (g) and to the words "after December 31, 1982";

(m.1) an excluded obligation in relation to a share of a class of the capital stock of the issuing corporation and an obligation that would be an excluded obligation in relation to the share if the share had been issued after June 17, 1987, shall be deemed not to be a guarantee, security or similar indemnity with respect to the share for the purposes of paragraph (b);

(n) a guarantee, security or similar indemnity referred to in paragraph (b) shall, for greater certainty, not be considered to take effect within five years from the date of issue of a share if the effect of the guarantee, security or indemnity is to provide that a member of the related issuing group will be able to redeem, acquire or cancel the share at a time that is not within five years from the date of issue of the share; and

(o) where an expense is incurred partly in consideration for shares (referred to in this section as "first corporation shares") of the capital stock of one corporation and partly in consideration for an interest in, or right to, shares (referred to in this paragraph as "second corporation shares") of the capital stock of another corporation, in determining whether the second corporation shares are prescribed shares, the references in paragraphs (a), (d) and (e) to "date of its issue" shall be read as "date of the issue of the first corporation shares".

(2) For the purposes of paragraph 66(15)(d.1) [66(15)"flow-through share"] of the Act, subsection (1) does not apply in respect of a share of the capital stock of an issuing corporation that is a new share.

History: That portion of subsec. 6202(1) preceding para. (a) amended by P.C. 1990-51, subsec. 1(1), January 18, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, January 31, 1990, applicable in respect of shares issued after February 1986.

Para. 6202(1)(m.1) added by subsec. 1(2) of the said P.C. 1990-51, applicable in respect of shares issued after December 31, 1982.

Subsec. 6202(2) added by subsec. 1(3) of the said P.C. 1990-51, applicable in respect of shares issued after June 17, 1987.

S. 6202 added by P.C. 1985-465, s. 16, February 14, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 6, 1985, applicable with respect to shares issued after December 31, 1982.

6202.1 (1) [Flow-through shares — prescribed share] — For the purposes of the definition "flow-through share" in subsection 66(15) of the Act, a new share of the capital stock of a corporation is a prescribed share if, at the time it is issued,

(a) under the terms or conditions of the share or any agreement in respect of the share or its issue,

(i) the amount of the dividends that may be declared or paid on the share (in this section referred to as the "dividend entitlement") may reasonably be considered to be, by way of a formula or otherwise,

(A) fixed,

(B) limited to a maximum, or

(C) established to be not less than a minimum (including any amount determined on a cumulative basis), where with respect to the dividends that may be declared or paid on the share there is a preference over any other dividends that may be declared or paid on any other share of the capital stock of the corporation,

(ii) the amount that the holder of the share is entitled to receive in respect of the share on the dissolution, liquidation or winding-up of the corporation, on a reduction of the paid-up capital of the share or on the redemption, acquisition or cancellation of the share by the corporation or by specified persons in relation to the corporation (in this section referred to as the "liquidation entitlement") may reasonably be considered to be, by way of a formula or otherwise, fixed, limited to a maximum or established to be not less than a minimum,

(iii) the share is convertible or exchangeable into another security issued by the corporation unless

(A) it is convertible or exchangeable only into

(I) another share of the corporation that, if issued, would not be a prescribed share,

(II) a right, including a right conferred by a warrant that, if exercised, would allow the person exercising it to acquire only a share of the corporation that, if issued, would not be a prescribed share, or

(III) both a share described in subclause (I) and a right or warrant described in subclause (II), and

Application: The December 20, 2002 draft regulations (Appendix F, flow-through shares — prescribed right), subsec. 1(1), will amend the portion of subpara. 6202.1(1)(a)(iii) after subcl. (A)(I) to read as above, applicable to shares and rights issued under an agreement made after December 20, 2002.

Technical Notes: Section 6202.1 of the Income Tax Regulations defines certain shares ("prescribed shares") for the purpose of the definition "flow-through share" in subsection 66(15) of the Act. A prescribed share does not qualify as a flow-through share. The purpose of these rules is to ensure that flow-through shares represent genuine risk capital.

Generally speaking, a share will be a prescribed share if the share has fixed or limited rights to dividends or an obligation exists to reduce the paid-up capital of the share or to confer a benefit or guarantee in respect of the share. The restrictions imposed on shares do not apply to rights to acquire shares.

Section 6202.1 is amended, applicable to shares and rights issued under an agreement made after December 20, 2002, to include a definition of a prescribed right. A "prescribed right" is defined in new subsections 6202.1(1.1) and (2.1). This amendment ensures that restrictions on the type of shares that may qualify as flow-through shares currently found in subsections 6202.1(1) and (2) also apply to rights to acquire shares.

(iv) the corporation has, either absolutely or contingently, an obligation to reduce, or any person or partnership has, either absolutely or contingently, an obligation to cause the corporation to reduce, the paid-up capital in respect of the share (other than pursuant to a conversion or exchange of the share, where the right to so convert or exchange does not cause the share to be a prescribed share under subparagraph (iii));

(b) any person or partnership has, either absolutely or contingently, an obligation (other than an excluded obligation in relation to the share)

(i) to provide assistance,

(ii) to make a loan or payment,

(iii) to transfer property, or

(iv) otherwise to confer a benefit by any means whatever, including the payment of a dividend, either immediately or in the future, that may reasonably be considered to be, directly or indirectly, a repayment or return by the corporation or a specified person in relation to the corporation of all or part of the consideration for which the share was issued or for which a partnership interest was issued in a partnership that acquires the share;

(c) any person or partnership has, either absolutely or contingently, an obligation (other than an excluded obligation in relation to the share) to effect any undertaking, either immediately or in the future, with respect to the share or the agreement under which the share is issued (including any guarantee, security, indemnity, covenant or agreement and including the lending of funds to or the placing of amounts on deposit with, or on behalf of, the holder of the share or, where the holder is a partnership, the members thereof or specified persons in relation to the holder or the members of the partnership, as the case may be) that may reasonably be considered to have been given to ensure, directly or indirectly, that

(i) any loss that the holder of the share and, where the holder is a partnership, the members thereof or specified persons in relation to the holder or the members of the partnership, as the case may be, may sustain by reason of the holding, ownership or disposition of the share or any other property is limited in any respect, or

(ii) the holder of the share and, where the holder is a partnership, the members thereof or specified persons in relation to the holder or the members of the partnership, as the case may be, will derive earnings, by reason of the holding, ownership or disposition of the share or any other property;

(d) the corporation or a specified person in relation to the corporation may reasonably be expected

(i) to acquire or cancel the share in whole or in part otherwise than on a conversion or exchange of the share that meets the conditions set out in clauses (a)(iii)(A) and (B),

(ii) to reduce the paid-up capital of the corporation in respect of the share otherwise than on a conversion or exchange of the share that meets the conditions set out in clauses (a)(iii)(A) and (B), or

(iii) to make a payment, transfer or other provision (otherwise than pursuant to an excluded obligation in relation to the share), directly or indirectly, by way of a dividend, loan, purchase of shares, financial assistance to any purchaser of the share or, where the purchaser is a partnership, the members thereof or in any other manner whatever, that may reasonably be considered to be a repayment or return of all or part of the consideration for which the share was issued or for which a partnership interest was issued in a partnership that acquires the share, within 5 years after the date the share is issued, otherwise than as a consequence of an amalgamation of a subsidiary wholly-owned corporation, a winding-up of a subsidiary wholly-owned corporation to which subsection 88(1) of the Act applies or the payment of a dividend by a subsidiary wholly-owned corporation to its parent;

(e) any person or partnership can reasonably be expected to effect, within 5 years after the date the share is issued, any undertaking which, if it were in effect at the time the share was issued, would result in the share being a prescribed share by reason of paragraph (c); or

(f) it may reasonably be expected that, within 5 years after the date the share is issued,

(i) any of the terms or conditions of the share or any existing agreement relating to the share or its issue will thereafter be modified, or

(ii) any new agreement relating to the share or its issue will be entered into,

in such a manner that the share would be a prescribed share if it had been issued at the time of the modification or at the time when the new agreement is entered into.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 6202.1(1.1)

(1.1) [Flow-through shares — prescribed right] — For the purpose of the definition "flow-through share" in subsection 66(15) of the Act, a new right to acquire a share of the capital stock of a corporation is a prescribed right if, at the time the right is issued,

(a) the amount that the holder of the right is entitled to receive in respect of the right on the dissolution, liquidation or winding-up of the corporation or on the redemption, acquisition or cancellation of the right by the corporation or by specified persons in relation to the corporation (referred to in this section as the "liquidation entitlement" of the right) can reasonably be considered to be, by way of a formula or otherwise, fixed, limited to a maximum or established to be not less than a minimum;

(b) the right is convertible or exchangeable into another security issued by the corporation unless

(i) the right is convertible or exchangeable only into

(A) a share of the corporation that, if issued, would not be a prescribed share,

(B) another right (including a right conferred by a warrant) that

(I) if it were issued, would not be a prescribed right, and

(II) if it were exercised, would allow the person exercising it to acquire only a share of the corporation that, if the share were issued, would not be a prescribed share, or

(C) both a share described in clause (A) and a right described in clause (B), and

(ii) all the consideration receivable by the holder on the conversion or exchange of the right is the share described in clause (A) or the right described in clause (B), or both, as the case may be;

(c) any person or partnership has, either absolutely or contingently, an obligation (other than an excluded obligation in relation to the right)

(i) to provide assistance,

(ii) to make a loan or payment,

(iii) to transfer property, or

(iv) to otherwise confer a benefit by any means whatever, including the payment of a dividend, either immediately or in the future, that can reasonably be considered to be, directly or indirectly, a repayment or return by the corporation or a specified person in relation to the corporation of all or part of the consideration for which the right was issued or for which a partnership interest was issued in a partnership that acquires the right;

(d) any person or partnership has, either absolutely or contingently, an obligation (other than an excluded obligation in relation to the right) to effect any undertaking, either immediately or in the future, with respect to the right or the agreement under which the right is issued (including any guarantee, security, indemnity, covenant or agreement and) including the lending of funds to or the placing of amounts on deposit with, or on behalf of, the holder of the right or where the holder is a partnership, the members of the partnership or specified persons in relation to the holder or the members of the partnership, as the case may be) that can reasonably be considered to have been given to ensure, directly or indirectly, that

(i) any loss that the holder of the right and, where the holder is a partnership, the members of the partnership or specified persons in relation to the holder or the members of the partnership, as the case may be, may sustain because of the holding, ownership or disposition of the right or any other property is limited in any respect, or

(ii) the holder of the right and, where the holder is a partnership, the members of the partnership or specified persons in relation to the holder or the members of the partnership, as the case may be, will derive earnings, because of the holding, ownership or disposition of the right or any other property;

(e) the corporation or a specified person in relation to the corporation can reasonably be expected

(i) to acquire or cancel the right in whole or in part otherwise than on a conversion or exchange of the right that meets the conditions set out in subparagraphs (b)(i) and (ii), or

(ii) to make a payment, transfer or other provision (otherwise than pursuant to an excluded obligation in relation to the right), directly or indirectly, by way of a dividend, loan, purchase of shares, financial assistance to any purchaser of the right or, where the purchaser is a partnership, the members of the partnership or in any other manner whatever, that can reasonably be considered to be a repayment or return of all or part of the consideration for which the right was issued or for which a partnership interest was issued in a partnership that acquires the right, within 5 years after the day the right is issued, otherwise than as a consequence of an amalgamation of a subsidiary wholly-owned corporation, a winding-up of a subsidiary wholly-owned corporation to which subsection 88(1) of the Act applies or the payment of a dividend by a subsidiary wholly-owned corporation to its parent;

(f) any person or partnership can reasonably be expected to effect, within 5 years after the day the right is issued, any undertaking which, if it were in effect at the time the right was issued, would result in the right being a prescribed right because of paragraph (d);

(g) it can reasonably be expected that, within 5 years after the day the right is issued,

(i) any of the terms or conditions of the right or any existing agreement relating to the right or its issue will be modified, or

(ii) any new agreement relating to the right or its issue will be entered into,

in such a manner that the right would be a prescribed right if it had been issued at the time of the modification or at the time the new agreement is entered into; or

(h) it can reasonably be expected that the right, if exercised, would allow the person exercising the right to acquire a share in a corporation that, if that share were issued, would become a prescribed share within 5 years after the day the right was issued.

Application: The December 20, 2002 draft regulations (Appendix F, flow-through shares — prescribed right), subsec. 1(2), will add subsec. 6202.1(1.1), applicable to shares and rights issued under an agreement made after December 20, 2002.

Technical Notes: See under Reg. 6202.1(1)(a)(iii).

Related Provisions: Reg. 6202.1(3) — Dividend entitlement and liquidation entitlement; Reg. 6202.1(4) — Agreement deemed not to be undertaking.

(2) [Flow-through shares — prescribed share] — For the purposes of the definition "flow-through share" in subsection 66(15) of the Act, a new share of the capital stock of a corporation is a prescribed share if

(a) the consideration for which the share is to be issued is to be determined more than 60 days after entering into the agreement pursuant to which the share is to be issued;

(b) the corporation or a specified person in relation to the corporation, directly or indirectly,

(i) provided assistance,

(ii) made or arranged for a loan or payment,

(iii) transferred property, or

(iv) otherwise conferred a benefit by any means whatever, including the payment of a dividend,

for the purpose of assisting any person or partnership in acquiring the share or any person or partnership in acquiring an interest in a partnership acquiring the share (otherwise than by reason of an excluded obligation in relation to the share); or

(c) the holder of the share or, where the holder is a partnership, a member thereof, has a right under any agreement or arrangement entered into under circumstances where it is reasonable to consider that the agreement or arrangement was contemplated at or before the time when the agreement to issue the share was entered into,

(i) to dispose of the share, and

(ii) through a transaction or event or a series of transactions or events contemplated by the agreement or arrangement, to acquire a share (referred to in this paragraph as the "acquired share") of the capital stock of another corporation that would be a prescribed share under subsection (1) if the acquired share were issued at the time the share was issued, other than a share that would not be a prescribed share if subsection (1) were read without reference to subparagraphs (a)(iv) and (d)(i) and (ii) thereof where the acquired share is a share

(A) of a mutual fund corporation, or

(B) of a corporation that becomes a mutual fund corporation within 90 days after the acquisition of the acquired share.

Related Provisions: ITA 248(10) — Series of transactions.

Proposed Addition — Reg. 6202.1(2.1)

(2.1) [Prescribed right] — For the purpose of the definition "flow-through share" in subsection 66(15) of the Act, a new right is a prescribed right if

(a) the consideration for which the new right is to be issued is to be determined more than 60 days after entering into the agreement pursuant to which the new right is to be issued;

(b) the corporation or a specified person in relation to the corporation, directly or indirectly,

(i) provided assistance,

(ii) made or arranged for a loan or payment,

(iii) transferred property, or

(iv) otherwise conferred a benefit by any means whatever, including the payment of a dividend,

for the purpose of assisting any person or partnership to acquire the new right or any person or partnership to acquire an interest in a partnership acquiring the new right (otherwise than because of an excluded obligation in relation to the new right); or

(c) the holder of the new right or, where the holder is a partnership, a member of the partnership, has a right under any agreement or arrangement entered into under circumstances where it is reasonable to consider that the agreement or arrangement was contemplated at or before the time the agreement to issue the new right was entered into,

(i) to dispose of the new right, and

(ii) through a transaction or event or a series of transactions or events contemplated by the agreement or arrangement, to acquire

(A) a share (referred to in this paragraph as the "acquired share") of the capital stock of another corporation that would be a prescribed share under subsection (1) if the acquired share were issued at the time the new right was issued, other than a share that would not be a prescribed share if subsection (1) were read without reference to subparagraphs (1)(a)(iv) and (1)(d)(i) and (ii) where the acquired share is a share

(I) of a mutual fund corporation, or

(II) of a corporation that becomes a mutual fund corporation within 90 days after the acquisition of the acquired share, or

(B) a right (referred to in this paragraph as the "acquired right") to acquire a share of the capital stock of another corporation that would, if it were issued at the time the new right was issued, be a prescribed right, other than a right that would not be a prescribed right if subsection (1.1) were read without reference to subparagraphs (1.1)(e)(i) and (ii) where the acquired right is a right to acquire a share of the capital stock

(I) of a mutual fund corporation, or

(II) of a corporation that becomes a mutual fund corporation within 90 days after the acquisition of the acquired right.

Application: The December 20, 2002 draft regulations (Appendix F, flow-through shares — prescribed right), subsec. 1(3), will add subsec. 6202.1(2.1), applicable to shares and rights issued under an agreement made after December 20, 2002.

Technical Notes: See under Reg. 6202.1(1)(a)(iii).

Related Provisions: ITA 248(10) — Series of transactions.

(3) [Dividend entitlement and liquidation entitlement] — For the purposes of subsection (1),

(a) the dividend entitlement of a share of the capital stock of a corporation shall be deemed not to be fixed, limited to a maximum or established to be not less than a minimum where all dividends on the share are determined solely by reference to a multiple or fraction of the dividend entitlement of another share of the capital stock of the corporation, or of another corporation that controls the corporation, where the dividend entitlement of that other share is not described in subparagraph (1)(a)(i); and

(b) the liquidation entitlement of a share of the capital stock of a corporation shall be deemed not to be fixed, limited to a maximum or established to be not less than a minimum where all the liquidation entitlement is determinable solely by reference to the liquidation entitlement of another share of the capital stock of the corporation, or of another corporation that controls the corporation, where the liquidation entitlement of that other share is not described in subparagraph (1)(a)(ii).

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 6202.1(3)

(3) [Dividend entitlement and liquidation entitlement] — For the purposes of subsections (1) and (1.1),

(a) the dividend entitlement of a share of the capital stock of a corporation is deemed not to be fixed, limited to a maximum or established to be not less than a minimum where all dividends on the share are determined solely by reference to a multiple or fraction of the dividend entitlement of another share of the capital stock of the corporation, or of another corporation that controls the corporation, where the dividend entitlement of that other share is not described in subparagraph (1)(a)(i); and

(b) the liquidation entitlement of a share of the capital stock of a corporation, or of a right to acquire a share of the capital stock of the corporation, as the case may be, is deemed not to be fixed, limited to a maximum or established to be not less than a minimum where

(i) all the liquidation entitlement is determinable solely by reference to

(A) the liquidation entitlement of another share of the capital stock of the corporation (or a share of the capital stock of another corporation that controls the corporation), or

(B) the liquidation entitlement of a right to acquire the capital stock of the corporation (or another corporation that controls the corporation),

(ii) the liquidation entitlement described in clause (i)(A), if any, is not described in subparagraph (1)(a)(ii), and

(iii) the liquidation entitlement described in clause (i)(B), if any, is not described in subparagraph (1.1)(a)(i).

Application: The December 20, 2002 draft regulations (Appendix F, flow-through shares — prescribed right), subsec. 1(4), will amend subsec. 6202.1(3) to read as above, applicable to shares and rights issued under an agreement made after December 20, 2002.

Technical Notes: See under Reg. 6202.1(1)(a)(iii).

(4) [Agreement deemed not to be undertaking] — For the purposes of paragraphs (1)(c) and (e), an agreement entered into between the first holder of a share and another person or partnership for the sale of the share to that other person or partnership for its fair market value at the time the share is acquired by the other person or partnership (determined without regard to the agreement) shall be deemed not to be an undertaking with respect to the share.

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 6202.1(4)

(4) For the purposes of paragraphs (1)(c) and (e) and (1.1)(d) and (f), an agreement entered into between the first holder of a share or right and another person or partnership for the sale of the share or right to that other person or partnership for its fair market value at the time the share or right is acquired by the other person or partnership (determined without regard to the agreement) is deemed not to be an undertaking with respect to the share or right, as the case may be.

Application: The December 20, 2002 draft regulations (Appendix F, flow-through shares — prescribed right), subsec. 1(4), will amend subsec. 6202.1(4) to read as above, applicable to shares and rights issued under an agreement made after December 20, 2002.

Technical Notes: See under Reg. 6202.1(1)(a)(iii).

(5) [Definitions] — For the purposes of section 6202 and this section,

"excluded obligation", in relation to a share issued by a corporation, means

(a) an obligation of the corporation

(i) with respect to eligibility for, or the amount of, any assistance under the Canadian Exploration and Development Incentive Program Act, the Canadian Exploration Incentive Program Act, the Ontario Mineral Exploration Program Act, 1989, Statutes of Ontario 1989, c. 40, or the Mineral Exploration Incentive Program Act (Manitoba), Statutes of Manitoba 1990-91, c. 45, or

(ii) with respect to the making of an election respecting such assistance and the flowing out of such assistance to the holder of the share in accordance with any of those Acts,

(a.1) an obligation of the corporation, in respect of the share, to distribute an amount that represents a payment out of assistance to which the corporation is entitled

(i) under section 25.1 of the Income Tax Act, Revised Statutes of British Columbia, 1996, c. 215, and

(ii) as a consequence of the corporation making expenditures funded by consideration received for shares issued by the corporation in respect of which the corporation purports to renounce an amount under subsection 66(12.6) of the Act, and

(b) an obligation of any person or partnership to effect an undertaking to indemnify a holder of the share or, where the holder is a partnership, a member thereof, for an amount not exceeding the amount of any tax payable under the Act or the laws of a province by the holder or the member of the partnership, as the case may be, as a consequence of

(i) the failure of the corporation to renounce an amount to the holder in respect of the share, or

(ii) a reduction, under subsection 66(12.73) of the Act, of an amount purported to be renounced to the holder in respect of the share;

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 6202.1(5)"excluded obligation"

"excluded obligation" in relation to a share or new right issued by a corporation, means

(a) an obligation of the corporation

(i) with respect to eligibility for, or the amount of, any assistance under the Canadian Exploration and Development Incentive Program Act, the Canadian Exploration Incentive Program Act, the Ontario Mineral Exploration Program Act, 1989, Statutes of Ontario 1989, c. 40, or the Mineral Exploration Incentive Program Act (Manitoba), Statutes of Manitoba 1990-91, c. 45, or

(ii) with respect to the making of an election respecting such assistance and the flowing out of such assistance to the holder of the share or the new right in accordance with any of those Acts,

(b) an obligation of the corporation, in respect of the share or the new right, to distribute an amount that represents a payment out of assistance to which the corporation is entitled

6203. (1) [Share-purchase tax credit] — For the purposes of subsection 192(6) of the Act, a prescribed share of the capital stock of a taxable Canadian corporation is a share (other than a share acquired by a taxpayer under circumstances referred to in section 66.3 of the Act, a share acquired as consideration for a disposition of property in respect of which an election was made under subsection 85(1) or (2) of the Act and a share that can be considered to have been issued, directly or indirectly, for consideration that includes other shares of the capital stock of the corporation) where, at the time it is issued,

(a) under the terms or conditions of the share or any agreement in respect of the share or its issue,

(i) the amount of the dividends (in this section referred to as the "dividend entitlement") that the corporation may declare or pay on the share is not limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount at that time or any time thereafter by way of a formula or otherwise,

(ii) the amount (in this section referred to as the "liquidation entitlement") that the holder of the share is entitled to receive on the share on the dissolution, liquidation or winding-up of the corporation is not limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount by way of a formula or otherwise,

(iii) the share cannot be converted into any other security, other than into another security of the corporation that would, if it were issued for consideration that does not include other shares of the capital stock of the corporation, be a prescribed share,

(iv) the holder of the share cannot at that time or at any time thereafter cause the share to be redeemed, acquired or cancelled by the corporation or any specified person in relation to the corporation, except where the redemption, acquisition or cancellation is required pursuant to a conversion that is not prohibited by subparagraph (iii),

(v) no person or partnership has, either absolutely or contingently, an obligation to reduce, or to cause the corporation to reduce, at that time or at any time thereafter, the paid-up capital in respect of the share, except where the reduction is required pursuant to a conversion that is not prohibited by subparagraph (iii),

(vi) no person or partnership has, either absolutely or contingently, an obligation at that time or at any time thereafter to

(A) provide assistance to acquire the share,

(B) make a loan or payment,

(C) transfer property, or

(D) otherwise confer a benefit by any means whatever, including the payment of a dividend, that may reasonably be considered to be, directly or indirectly, a repayment or return by the corporation or a specified person in relation to the corporation of all or part of the consideration for which the share was issued,

(vii) neither the corporation nor any specified person in relation to the corporation has, either absolutely or contingently, the right or obligation to redeem, acquire or cancel, at that time or at any time thereafter, the share in whole or in part other than for an amount that approximates the fair market value of the share (determined without reference to any such right or obligation), and

(viii) no person or partnership has, either absolutely or contingently, an obligation to provide, at that time or at any time thereafter, any form of undertaking with respect to the share (including any guarantee, security, indemnity, covenant or agreement and including the lending of funds to or the placing of amounts on deposit with, or on behalf of, the holder of the share or any specified person in relation to holder) that may reasonably be considered to have been given to ensure that

(A) any loss that the holder of the share may sustain by virtue of the holding, ownership or disposition of the share is limited in any respect, or

(B) the holder of the share will derive earnings by virtue of the holding, ownership or disposition of the share;

(b) the corporation or a specified person in relation to the corporation cannot reasonably be expected to, within two years after the time the share is issued,

(i) acquire or cancel the share in whole or in part,

(ii) reduce the paid-up capital of the corporation in respect of the share, or

(iii) make a payment, transfer or other provision, directly or indirectly, by way of a dividend, loan, purchase of shares, financial assistance to any purchaser of the share or in any other manner whatever, that may reasonably be considered to be a repayment or return of all or part of the consideration for which the share was issued otherwise than as a consequence of the payment of a dividend paid by a subsidiary wholly-owned corporation to its parent, of an amalgamation of a subsidiary wholly-owned corporation or of a winding-up to which subsection 88(1) of the Act applies;

(c) no person or partnership can reasonably be expected to provide, within two years after the time the share is issued, any form of undertaking with respect to the share (including any guarantee, security, indemnity, covenant or agreement and including the lending of funds to, or the placing of amounts on deposit with, or on behalf of, the holder of the share or any specified person in relation to the holder); and

(d) it cannot reasonably be expected that any of the terms or conditions of the share or any existing agreement in respect of the share or its issue will thereafter be modified or amended, or that any new agreement in respect of the share or its issue will be entered into, within two years after the time the share is issued, in such a manner that the share would not be a prescribed share if it had been issued at the time of such modification or amendment or at the time the new agreement is entered into.

(2) [Interpretation] — For the purposes of subsection (1),

(a) the dividend entitlement of a share of the capital stock of a corporation shall be deemed not to be limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount where it may reasonably be considered that all or substantially all of the dividend entitlement is determinable by reference to the dividend entitlement of another share of the capital stock of the corporation that meets the requirements of subparagraph (1)(a)(i);

(b) the liquidation entitlement of a share of the capital stock of a corporation shall be deemed not to be limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount where it may reasonably be considered that all or substantially all of the liquidation entitlement is determinable by reference to the liquidation entitlement of another share of the capital stock of the corporation that meets the requirements of subparagraph (1)(a)(ii);

(c) where a corporation has merged or amalgamated with one or more other corporations, the corporation formed as a result of the merger or amalgamation shall be deemed to be the same corporation as, and a continuation of, each of its predecessor corporations and a share issued on the merger or amalgamation as consideration for another share shall be deemed to be the same share as the share for which it was issued but this paragraph does not apply if the share issued on the merger or amalgamation is not a prescribed share at the time of its issue; and

(d) an agreement entered into between the first purchaser of a share and another person or partnership, other than a specified person in relation to the corporation issuing the share, for the sale of the share to that other person or partnership shall be deemed not to be an undertaking with respect to the share.

(3) ["Specified person"] — For the purposes of subsections (1) and (2), "specified person", in relation to a corporation or a holder of a share, as the case may be (in this subsection referred to as the "taxpayer"), means any person or partnership with whom the taxpayer does not deal at arm's length or any partnership or trust of which the taxpayer (or a person or partnership with whom the taxpayer does not deal at arm's length) is a member or beneficiary, respectively.

6204. (1) [Employee stock option deduction — prescribed share] — For the purposes of paragraph 110(1)(d) of the Act, a share is a prescribed share of the capital stock of a corporation at the time of its sale or issue, as the case may be, where, at that time,

(a) under the terms or conditions of the share or any agreement in respect of the share or its issue,

(i) the amount of the dividends (in this section referred to as the "dividend entitlement") that the corporation may declare or pay on the share is not limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount at that time or at any time thereafter by way of a formula or otherwise,

(ii) the amount (in this section referred to as the "liquidation entitlement") that the holder of the share is entitled to receive on the share on the dissolution, liquidation or winding-up of the corporation is not limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount by way of a formula or otherwise,

(iii) the share cannot be converted into any other security, other than into another security of the corporation or of another corporation with which it does not deal at arm's length that is, or would be at the date of conversion, a prescribed share,

(iv) the holder of the share cannot at that time or at any time thereafter cause the share to be redeemed, acquired or cancelled by the corporation or any specified person in relation to the corporation, except where the redemption, acquisition or cancellation is required pursuant to a conversion that is not prohibited by subparagraph (iii),

(v) no person or partnership has, either absolutely or contingently, an obligation to reduce, or to cause the corporation to reduce, at that time or at any time thereafter, the paid-up capital in respect of the share, except where the reduction is required pursuant to a conversion that is not prohibited by subparagraph (iii), and

(vi) neither the corporation nor any specified person in relation to the corporation has, either absolutely or contingently, the right or obligation to redeem, acquire or cancel, at that time or any later time, the share in whole or in part other than for an amount that approximates the fair market value of the share (determined without reference to any such right or obligation) or a lesser amount;

(b) the corporation or a specified person in relation to the corporation cannot reasonably be expected to, within two years after the time the share is sold or issued, as the case may be, redeem, acquire or cancel the share in whole or in part, or reduce the paid-up capital of the corporation in respect of the share, otherwise than as a consequence of

(i) an amalgamation of a subsidiary wholly-owned corporation,

(ii) a winding-up to which subsection 88(1) of the Act applies, or

(iii) a distribution or appropriation to which subsection 84(2) of the Act applies; and

(c) it cannot reasonably be expected that any of the terms or conditions of the share or any existing agreement in respect of the share or its sale or issue will be modified or amended, or that any new agreement in respect of the share, its sale or issue will be entered into, within two years after the time the share is sold or issued, in such a manner that the share would not be a prescribed share if it had been sold or issued at the time of such modification or amendment or at the time the new agreement is entered into.

Related Provisions: Reg. 6204(2) — Rules.

(2) [Rules] — For the purposes of subsection (1),

(a) the dividend entitlement of a share of the capital stock of a corporation shall be deemed not to be limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount where it may reasonably be considered that all or substantially all of the dividend entitlement is determinable by reference to the dividend entitlement of another share of the capital stock of the corporation that meets the requirements of subparagraph (1)(a)(i);

(b) the liquidation entitlement of a share of the capital stock of a corporation shall be deemed not to be limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount where it may reasonably be considered that all or substantially all of the liquidation entitlement is determinable by reference to the liquidation entitlement of another share of the capital stock of the corporation that meets the requirements of subparagraph (1)(a)(ii); and

(c) the determination of whether a share of the capital stock of a particular corporation is a prescribed share shall be made without reference to a right or obligation to redeem, acquire or cancel the share, or to cause the share to be redeemed, acquired or cancelled, where

(i) the person (in this paragraph referred to as the "holder") to whom the share is sold or issued is, at the time the share is sold or issued, dealing at arm's length with the particular corporation and with each corporation with which the particular corporation is not dealing at arm's length,

(ii) the right or obligation is provided for in the terms or conditions of the share or in an agreement in respect of the share or its issue and, having regard to all the circumstances, it can reasonably be considered that

(A) the principal purpose of providing for the right or obligation is to protect the holder against any loss in respect of the share, and the amount payable on the redemption, acquisition or cancellation (in this subparagraph and in subparagraph (iii) referred to as the "acquisition") of the share will not exceed the adjusted cost base of the share to the holder immediately before the acquisition, or

(B) the principal purpose of providing for the right or obligation is to provide the holder with a market for the share, and the amount payable on the acquisition of the share will not exceed the fair market value of the share immediately before the acquisition, and

(iii) having regard to all the circumstances, it can reasonably be considered that no portion of the amount payable on the acquisition of the share is directly determinable by reference to the profits of the particular corporation, or of another corporation with which the particular corporation does not deal at arm's length, for all or any part of the period during which the holder owns the share or has a right to acquire the share, unless the reference to the profits of the particular corporation or the other corporation is only for the purpose of determining the fair market value of the share pursuant to a formula set out in the terms or conditions of the share or the agreement in respect of the share or its issue, as the case may be.

(3) ["Specified person"] — For the purposes of subsection (1), "specified person", in relation to a corporation, means

(a) any person or partnership with whom the corporation does not deal at arm's length otherwise than because of a right referred to in paragraph 251(5)(b) of the Act that arises as a result of an offer by the person or partnership to acquire all or substantially all of the shares of the capital stock of the corporation, or

(b) any partnership or trust of which the corporation (or a person or partnership with whom the corporation does not deal at arm's length) is a member or beneficiary, respectively.

6205. (1) [Capital gains deduction — prescribed share] — For the purposes of subsections 110.6(8) and (9) of the Act and subject to subsection (3), a prescribed share is a share of the capital stock of a corporation where

(a) under the terms or conditions of the share or any agreement in respect of the share or its issue,

(i) at the time the share is issued,

(A) the amount of the dividends (in this section referred to as the "dividend entitlement") that the corporation may declare or pay on the share is not limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount at that time or at any time thereafter by way of a formula or otherwise,

(B) the amount (in this section referred to as the "liquidation entitlement") that the holder of the share is entitled to receive on the share on the dissolution, liquidation or winding-up of the corporation is not limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount by way of a formula or otherwise,

(C) the share cannot be converted into any other security, other than into another security of the corporation that is, or would be at the date of conversion, a prescribed share,

(D) the holder of the share does not, at that time or at any time thereafter, have the right or obligation to cause the share to be redeemed, acquired or cancelled by the corporation or a specified person in relation to the corporation, except where the redemption, acquisition or cancellation is required pursuant to a conversion that is not prohibited by clause (C),

(E) no person or partnership has, either absolutely or contingently, an obligation to reduce, or to cause the corporation to reduce, at that time or at any time thereafter, the paid-up capital in respect of the share, otherwise than by way of a redemption, acquisition or cancellation of the share that is not prohibited by this section,

(F) no person or partnership has, either absolutely or contingently, an obligation (other than an excluded obligation in relation to the share, as defined in subsection 6202.1(5)) at that time or any time thereafter to

(I) provide assistance to acquire the share,

(II) make a loan or payment,

(III) transfer property, or

(IV) otherwise confer a benefit by any means whatever, including the payment of a dividend,

that may reasonably be considered to be, directly or indirectly, a repayment or return by the corporation or a specified person in relation to the corporation of all or part of the consideration for which the share was issued, and

(G) neither the corporation nor any specified person in relation to the corporation has, either absolutely or contingently, the right or obligation to redeem, acquire or cancel, at that time or at any time thereafter, the share in whole or in part, except where the redemption, acquisition or cancellation is required pursuant to a conversion that is not prohibited by clause (C),

(ii) no person or partnership has, either absolutely or contingently, an obligation (other than an excluded obligation in relation to the share, as defined in subsection 6202.1(5)) to provide, at any time, any form of undertaking with respect to the share (including any guarantee, security, indemnity, covenant or agreement and including the lending of funds to or the placing of amounts on deposit with, or on behalf of, the holder of the share or any specified person in relation to that holder) that may reasonably be considered to have been given to ensure that

(A) any loss that the holder of the share may sustain by virtue of the holding, ownership or disposition of the share is limited in any respect, or

(B) the holder of the share will derive earnings by virtue of the holding, ownership or disposition of the share; and

(b) at the time the share is issued, it cannot reasonably be expected, having regard to all the circumstances, that any of the terms or conditions of the share or any existing agreement in respect of the share or its issue will thereafter be modified or amended or that any new agreement in respect of the share or its issue will be entered into, in such a manner that the share would not be a prescribed share if it had been issued at the time of such modification or amendment or at the time the new agreement is entered into.

Related Provisions: Reg. 6205(4) — Interpretation.

(2) [Capital gains deduction — prescribed share] — For the purposes of subsections 110.6(8) and (9) of the Act and subject to subsection (3), a prescribed share is a share of the capital stock of a particular corporation where

(a) it is a particular share that is owned by a person and that was issued by the particular corporation as part of an arrangement to that person, to a spouse, common-law partner or parent of that person or, if the person is a trust described in paragraph 104(4)(a) of the Act, to the person who created the trust or by whose will the trust was created or, if the person is a corporation, to another person owning all of the issued and out-standing shares of the capital stock of the corporation or to a spouse, common-law partner or parent of that other person, and

(i) the main purpose of the arrangement was to permit any increase in the value of the property of the particular corporation to accrue to other shares that would, at the time of their issue, be prescribed shares if this section were read without reference to this subsection, and

(ii) at the time of the issue of the particular share or at the end of the arrangement,

(A) the other shares were owned by

(I) the person to whom the particular share was issued (in this paragraph referred to as the "original holder"),

(II) a person who did not deal at arm's length with the original holder,

(III) a trust none of the beneficiaries of which were persons other than the original holder or a person who did not deal at arm's length with the original holder, or

(IV) any combination of persons described in subclause (I), (II) or (III),

(B) the other shares were owned by employees of the particular corporation or of a corporation controlled by the particular corporation, or

(C) the other shares were owned by any combination of persons each of whom is described in clause (A) or (B); or

(b) it is a share that was issued by a mutual fund corporation.

Related Provisions: ITA 256(6), (6.1) — Meaning of "controlled"; Reg. 6205(4) — Interpretation.

(3) [Capital gains deduction — prescribed share] — For the purposes of subsections 110.6(8) and (9) of the Act, a prescribed share does not include a share of the capital stock issued by a mutual fund corporation (other than an investment corporation) the value of which can reasonably be considered to be, directly or indirectly, derived primarily from investments made by the mutual fund corporation in one or more corporations (in this subsection referred to as an "investee corporation") connected with it (within the meaning of subsection 186(4) of the Act on the assumption that the references in that subsection to "payer corporation" and "particular corporation" were read as references to "investee corporation" and "mutual fund corporation", respectively).

Related Provisions: ITA 186(7) — Interpretation of "connected".

(4) [Rules] — For the purposes of this section,

(a) the dividend entitlement of a share of the capital stock of a corporation shall be deemed not to be limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount where it may reasonably be considered that

(i) all or substantially all of the dividend entitlement is determinable by reference to the dividend entitlement of another share of the capital stock of the corporation that meets the requirements of clause (1)(a)(i)(A), or

(ii) the dividend entitlement cannot be such as to impair the ability of the corporation to redeem another share of the capital stock of the corporation that meets the requirements of paragraph (2)(a);

(b) the liquidation entitlement of a share of the capital stock of a corporation shall be deemed not to be limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount where it may reasonably be considered that all or substantially all of the liquidation entitlement is determinable by reference to the liquidation entitlement of another share of the capital stock of the corporation that meets the requirements of clause (1)(a)(i)(B);

(c) where two or more corporations (each of which is referred to in this paragraph as a "predecessor corporation") have merged or amalgamated, the corporation formed as a result of the merger or amalgamation (in this paragraph referred to as the "new corporation") shall be deemed to be the same corporation as, and a continuation of, each of the predecessor corporations and a share of the capital stock of the new corporation issued on the merger or amalgamation as consideration for a share of the capital stock of a predecessor corporation shall be deemed to be the same share as the share of the predecessor corporation for which it was issued, but this paragraph does not apply if the share issued on the merger or amalgamation is not a prescribed share at the time of its issue and either

(i) the terms and conditions of that share are not identical to those of the share of the predecessor corporation for which it was issued, or

(ii) at the time of its issue the fair market value of that share is not the same as that of the share of the predecessor corporation for which it was issued;

(d) a reference in clauses (1)(a)(i)(D) and (G) and subparagraph (1)(a)(ii) to a right or obligation of the corporation or a person or partnership does not include a right or obligation provided in a written agreement among shareholders of a private corporation owning more than 50% of its issued and outstanding share capital having full voting rights under all circumstances to which the corporation, person or partnership is a party unless it may reasonably be considered, having regard to all the circumstances, including the terms of the agreement and the number and relationship of the shareholders, that one of the main reasons for the existence of the agreement is to avoid or limit the application of subsection 110.6(8) or (9) of the Act;

(e) where at any particular time after November 21, 1985, the terms or conditions of a share are changed or any existing agreement in respect thereof is changed or a new agreement in respect of the share is entered into, the share shall, for the purpose of determining whether it is a prescribed share, be deemed to have been issued at that particular time; and

(f) the determination of whether a share of the capital stock of a corporation is a prescribed share for the purposes of subsection (1) shall be made without reference to a right or obligation to redeem, acquire or cancel the share or to cause the share to be redeemed, acquired or cancelled where

(i) the share was issued pursuant to an employee share purchase agreement (in this paragraph referred to as "the agreement") to an employee (in this paragraph referred to as "the holder") of the corporation or of a corporation with which it did not deal at arm's length,

(ii) the holder was dealing at arm's length with each corporation referred to in subparagraph (i) at the time the share was issued, and

(iii) having regard to all the circumstances including the terms of the agreement, it may reasonably be considered that

(A) the amount payable on the redemption, acquisition or cancellation (in this clause and in clause (B) referred to as the "acquisition") of the share will not exceed

(I) the adjusted cost base of the share to the holder immediately before the acquisition, where the acquisition was provided for in the agreement and the principal purpose for its provision was to protect the holder against any loss in respect of the share, or

(II) the fair market value of the share immediately before the acquisition, where the acquisition was provided for in the agreement and the principal purpose for its provision was to provide the holder with a market for the share, and

(B) no portion of the amount payable on the acquisition of the share is directly determinable by reference to the profits of the corporation, or of another corporation with which it does not deal at arm's length, for all or any part of the period during which the holder owned the share or had a right to acquire the share, unless the reference to the profits of the corporation or the other corporation is only for the purpose of determining the fair market value of the share pursuant to a formula set out in the agreement.

(5) ["Specified person"] — For the purposes of this section, "specified person", in relation to a corporation or a holder of a share, as the case may be (in this subsection referred to as the "taxpayer"), means any person or partnership with whom the taxpayer does not deal at arm's length or any partnership or trust of which the taxpayer (or a person or partnership with whom the taxpayer does not deal at arm's length) is a member or beneficiary, respectively.

6206. [Prescribed share for ITA 84(8)] — The Class I Special Shares of Reed Stenhouse Companies Limited, issued before January 1, 1986, are prescribed for the purposes of subsection 84(8) of the Act.

History: S. 6206 added by P.C. 1986-2770, s. 8, December 11, 1986, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 24, 1986, effective from May 23, 1985.

6207. (1) For the purposes of paragraph 183.1(4)(c) of the Act (as it read in its application to transactions entered into before September 13, 1988), a share is a prescribed share of the capital stock of an acquiring corporation where, at the time the share is issued

(a) under the terms or conditions of the share or any agreement in respect of the share or its issue,

(i) the amount of the dividends (in this section referred to as the "dividend entitlement") that the corporation may declare or pay on the share is not limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount at that time or at any time thereafter by way of a formula or otherwise,

(ii) the amount (in this section referred to as the "liquidation entitlement") that the holder of the share is entitled to receive on the share on the dissolution, liquidation or winding-up of the corporation is not limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount by way of a formula or otherwise,

(iii) the share cannot be converted into any other security, other than into another security of the corporation or of another corporation with which it does not deal at arm's length that is, or would be at the date of conversion, a prescribed share,

(iv) the holder of the share does not, at that time or at any time thereafter, have the right or obligation to cause the share to be redeemed, acquired or cancelled by the corporation or any specified person in relation to the corporation, except where the redemption, acquisition or cancellation is required pursuant to a conversion that is not prohibited by subparagraph (iii),

(v) no person or partnership has, either absolutely or contingently, an obligation to reduce, or to cause the corporation to reduce, at that time or at any time thereafter, the paid-up capital in respect of the share, otherwise than by way of a redemption, acquisition or cancellation of the share that is not prohibited by this section, and

(vi) neither the corporation nor any specified person in relation to the corporation has, either absolutely or contingently, the right or obligation to redeem, acquire or cancel, at that time or at any time thereafter, the share in whole or in part, except where the redemption, acquisition or cancellation is required pursuant to a conversion that is not prohibited by subparagraph (iii); and

(b) it cannot reasonably be expected, having regard to all the circumstances, that any of the terms or conditions of the share or any existing agreement in respect of the share or its issue will be modified or amended, or that any new agreement in respect of the share or its issue will be entered into, in such a manner that the share would not be a prescribed share if it had been issued at the time of such modification or amendment or at the time the new agreement is entered into.

(2) For the purposes of this section,

(a) the dividend entitlement of a share of the capital stock of a corporation shall be deemed not to be limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount where it may reasonably be considered that all or substantially all the dividend entitlement is determinable by reference to the dividend entitlement of another share of the capital stock of the corporation that meets the requirements of subparagraph (1)(a)(i);

(b) the liquidation entitlement of a share of the capital stock of a corporation shall be deemed not to be limited to a maximum amount or fixed at a minimum amount where it may reasonably be considered that all or substantially all of the liquidation entitlement is determinable by reference to the liquidation entitlement of another share of the capital stock of the corporation that meets the requirements of subparagraph (1)(a)(ii);

(c) where at any particular time after June 3, 1987, the terms or conditions of a share are changed or any existing agreement in respect of the share is changed or a new agreement in respect of the share is entered into, the share shall, for the purpose of determining whether it is a prescribed share, be deemed to have been issued at that particular time;

(d) the determination of whether a share of the capital stock of a corporation owned by an employee of the corporation or another corporation with which it does not deal at arms' length is a prescribed share shall be made without reference to a right or obligation with respect to an acquisition of the share, the consideration for which is described in subparagraph 183.1(4)(c)(i) or (ii) of the Act (as those subparagraphs read in their application to transactions entered into before September 13, 1988) where no portion of the amount payable on the acquisition of the share is directly determinable by reference to the profits of the corporation or the other corporation for all or any part of the period during which the employee owned the share or had a right to acquire the share, unless the reference to the profits of the corporation or the other corporation is only for the purpose of determining the fair market value of the share pursuant to a formula set out in the employee share purchase agreement under which the employee acquired the share; and

(e) a reference in subparagraphs (1)(a)(iv) and (vi) to a right or obligation of the corporation or a person or partnership does not include a right or obligation provided in a written agreement among shareholders of a private corporation owning more than 50% of its issued and outstanding share capital having full voting rights under all circumstances to which the corporation, person or partnership is a party unless it may reasonably be considered, having regard to all the circumstances including the terms of the agreement and the number and relationship of the shareholders, that one of the main reasons for the existence of the agreement is to avoid or limit the application of subsection 183.1(1) of the Act.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (1), "specified person" in relation to a corporation means any person or partnership with whom the corporation does not deal at arm's length or any partnership or trust of which the corporation (or a person or partnership with whom the corporation does not deal at arm's length) is a member or beneficiary, respectively.

History: That portion of s. 6207 preceding para. (a) amended by P.C. 1992-2335, Sch. II, s. 14, November 19, 1992, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 2, 1992, applicable after November 27, 1986.

6208. (1) [Non-resident withholding tax — prescribed security] — For the purposes of clause 212(1)(b)(vii)(E) of the Act, a prescribed security with respect to an obligation of a corporation is

(a) a share of the capital stock of the corporation unless

(i) under the terms and conditions of the share, any agreement relating to the share or any modification of such terms, conditions or agreement, the corporation or a specified person in relation to the corporation is or may, at any time within 5 years after the date of the issue of the obligation, be required to redeem, acquire or cancel, in whole or in part, the share (unless the share is or may be required to be redeemed, acquired or cancelled by reason only of a right to convert the share into, or exchange the share for, another share of the corporation that, if issued, would be a prescribed security) or to reduce its paid-up capital,

(ii) as a result of the modification or establishment of the terms or conditions of the share or the changing or entering into of any agreement in respect of the share, the corporation or a specified person in relation to the corporation may, within 5 years after the date of the issue of the obligation, reasonably be expected to redeem, acquire or cancel, in whole or in part, the share (unless the share is or may be required to be redeemed, acquired or cancelled by reason only of a right to convert the share into, or exchange the share for, another share of the corporation that, if issued, would be a prescribed security) or to reduce its paid-up capital, or

(iii) as a result of the terms or conditions of the share or any agreement entered into by the corporation or a specified person in relation to the corporation or any modification of such terms, conditions or agreement, any person is required, either absolutely or contingently, within 5 years after the date of the issue of the obligation, to effect any undertaking, including any guarantee, covenant or agreement to purchase or repurchase the share, and including a loan of funds to or the placing of amounts on deposit with, or on behalf of, the shareholder or a specified person in relation to the shareholder given

(A) to ensure that any loss that the shareholder or a specified person in relation to the shareholder may sustain, by reason of the ownership, holding or disposition of the share or any other property, is limited in any respect, and

(B) as part of a transaction or event or series of transactions or events that included the issuance or acquisition of the obligation, and for the purposes of this subparagraph, where such an undertaking in respect of a share is given at any particular time after the date of the issue of the obligation, the obligation shall be deemed to have been issued at the particular time and the undertaking shall be deemed to have been given as part of a series of transactions that included the issuance or acquisition of the obligation, and

(b) a right or warrant to acquire a share of the capital stock of the corporation that would, if issued, be a prescribed security with respect to the obligation, where all the consideration receivable upon a conversion or exchange of the obligation or the prescribed security, as the case may be, is a share of the capital stock of the corporation described in paragraph (a) or a right or warrant described in paragraph (b), or both, as the case may be.

Related Provisions: ITA 248(10) — Series of transactions; Reg. 6208(2) — Consideration for fractional share.

Interpretation Bulletins: IT-361R3: Exemption from Part XIII tax on interest payments to non-residents.

(2) [Consideration for fraction of a share] — For the purposes of this section, where a taxpayer may become entitled upon the conversion or exchange of an obligation or a prescribed security to receive consideration in lieu of a fraction of a share, that consideration shall be deemed not to be consideration unless it may reasonably be considered to be receivable as part of a series of transactions or events one of the main purposes of which is to avoid or limit the application of Part XIII of the Act.

Related Provisions: ITA 248(10) — Series of transactions.

(3) ["Specified person"] — In this section, "specified person", in relation to a corporation or a shareholder, means any person with whom the corporation or the shareholder, as the case may be, does not deal at arm's length or any partnership or trust of which the corporation or the shareholder, as the case may be, or the person is a member or beneficiary, respectively.

History: S. 6208 added by P.C. 1990-854, s. 1, May 10, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 23, 1990, applicable after December 19, 1986.

6209. [Lending assets — prescribed shares and property] — For the purposes of the definition "lending asset" in subsection 248(1) of the Act,

(a) a share owned by a bank is a prescribed share for a taxation year where it is a preferred share of the capital stock of a corporation that is dealing at arm's length with the bank that may reasonably be considered to be, and is reported as, a substitute or alternative for a loan to the corporation, or another corporation with whom the corporation does not deal at arm's length, in the bank's annual report for the year to the relevant authority or, where the bank was throughout the year subject to the supervision of the relevant authority but was not required to file an annual report for the year with the relevant authority, in its financial statements for the year; and

(b) a property is a prescribed property for a taxation year where

(i) in the case of a security held by a bank, the security is reported as part of the bank's trading account in its annual report for the year to the relevant authority or, where the bank was throughout the year subject to the supervision of the relevant authority but was not required to file an annual report for the year with the relevant authority, in its financial statements for the year,

(ii) in the case of a security held by a taxpayer other than a bank, the security is at any time in the year a property described in an inventory of the taxpayer, or

Proposed Amendment — Reg. 6209(b)(i), (ii)

(i) the security is a mark-to-market property (as defined in subsection 142.2(1) of the Act) for the year of a financial institution (as defined in that subsection), or

(ii) the security is at any time in the year a property described in an inventory of a taxpayer.

Application: The June 1, 1995 draft regulations (securities held by financial institutions), s. 7, will amend subparas. 6209(b)(i) and (ii) to read as above, applicable to taxation years that end after February 22, 1994.

Technical Notes: Section 6209 prescribes certain shares and other securities for the purpose of the definition of "lending asset" in subsection 248(1) of the Act. Securities prescribed by paragraph 6209(b) are excluded from being lending assets. Paragraph 6209(b) prescribes a security if it is included in the trading account of a bank or in the inventory of a taxpayer other than a bank.

Paragraph 6209(b) is amended to provide that a security is prescribed if it is a mark-to-market property or is included in a taxpayer's inventory. "Mark-to-market property", which is defined in new subsection 142.2(1) of the Act, includes most shares and some debt obligations.

As a consequence of this amendment, a specified debt obligation (as defined in subsection 142.2(1) of the Act) held by a bank in its trading account will be treated as a lending asset if it is not a mark-to-market property. This observation applies, in particular, to the debt obligations of a country that has been designated by the Office of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions and to the United Mexican States Collateralized Par or Discount Bonds Due 2019.

(iii) the property is a direct financing lease, or is any other financing arrangement, of a taxpayer that is reported as a loan in the taxpayer's financial statement for the year prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and an amount is deductible under paragraph 20(1)(a) of the Act in respect of the property that is the subject of the lease or arrangement in computing the taxpayer's income for the year.

History: The opening words of para. 6209(b) amended and subpara. (iii) added by P.C. 1999-195, s. 1, February 11, 1999, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 3, 1999, applicable

(a) to taxation years that end after September 1997; and

(b) to taxation years that end after 1995 and before October 1997 where the taxpayer elects in writing to have para. 20(1)(l) of the Act, as amended, apply to the year and files the election with the Minister of National Revenue before October 1998.

S. 6209 added by P.C. 1990-2779, s. 3, December 20, 1990, Canada Gazette, Part II, January 16, 1991, applicable to taxation years and fiscal periods commencing after June 17, 1987 that end after 1987.

6210. [Prescribed debt obligation — donation of listed shares] — For the purposes of paragraph 38(a.1) of the Act, a prescribed debt obligation is a bond, debenture, note, mortgage or similar obligation

(a) of or guaranteed by the Government of Canada; or

(b) of the government of a province or an agent of that government.

History: S. 6210 added by P.C. 2001-954, s. 6, May 31, 2001, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 20, 2001, applicable after February 18, 1997.

PART LXIII — CHILD TAX BENEFITS

History: Part LXIII (ss. 6300–6302) enacted by P.C. 1992-2714, December 29, 1992, Canada Gazette, Part II, January 13, 1993, applicable after 1992.

6300. Interpretation — In this Part, "qualified dependant" has the meaning assigned by section 122.6 of the Act.

6301. Non-application of presumption — (1) For the purposes of paragraph (g) of the definition "eligible individual" in section 122.6 of the Act, the presumption referred to in paragraph (f) of that definition does not apply in the circumstances where

(a) the female parent of the qualified dependant declares in writing to the Minister that the male parent, with whom she resides, is the parent of the qualified dependant who primarily fulfils the responsibility for the care and upbringing of each of the qualified dependants who reside with both parents;

(b) the female parent is a qualified dependant of an eligible individual and each of them files a notice with the Minister under subsection 122.62 (1) of the Act in respect of the same qualified dependant;

(c) there is more than one female parent of the qualified dependant who resides with the qualified dependant and each female parent files a notice with the Minister under subsection 122.62 (1) of the Act in respect of the qualified dependant; or

(d) more than one notice is filed with the Minister under subsection 122.62 (1) of the Act in respect of the same qualified dependant who resides with each of the persons filing the notices if such persons live at different locations.

History: Paras. 6301(1)(a) to (d) amended by 1998-2270, subsec. 9(1), December 16, 1998, Canada Gazette, Part II, January 6, 1999, applicable after August 27, 1995.

Subsec. 6301(1) amended by 1996, c. 11, s. 96, to substitute "Minister of Human Resources Development" for "Minister of National Health and Welfare", in force July 12, 1996.

(2) For greater certainty, a person who files a notice referred to in paragraph (1)(b), (c) or (d) includes a person who is not required under subsection 122.62(3) of the Act to file such a notice.

History: Subsec. 6301(2) amended by 1998-2270, subsec. 9(2), December 16, 1998, Canada Gazette, Part II, January 6, 1999, applicable after August 27, 1995.

Subsec. 6301(2) amended by 1996, c. 11, s. 96, to substitute "Minister of Human Resources Development" for "Minister of National Health and Welfare", in force July 12, 1996.

Definitions [Reg. 6301]: "individual", "Minister" — ITA 248(1); "parent" — ITA 252(2)(a); "person" — ITA 248(1); "qualified dependant" — Reg. 6300; "writing" — Interpretation Act 35(1).

6302. Factors — For the purposes of paragraph (h) of the definition "eligible individual" in section 122.6 of the Act, the following factors are to be considered in determining what constitutes care and upbringing of a qualified dependant:

(a) the supervision of the daily activities and needs of the qualified dependant;

(b) the maintenance of a secure environment in which the qualified dependant resides;

(c) the arrangement of, and transportation to, medical care at regular intervals and as required for the qualified dependant;

(d) the arrangement of, participation in, and transportation to, educational, recreational, athletic or similar activities in respect of the qualified dependant;

(e) the attendance to the needs of the qualified dependant when the qualified dependant is ill or otherwise in need of the attendance of another person;

(f) the attendance to the hygienic needs of the qualified dependant on a regular basis;

(g) the provision, generally, of guidance and companionship to the qualified dependant; and

(h) the existence of a court order in respect of the qualified dependant that is valid in the jurisdiction in which the qualified dependant resides.

Definitions [Reg. 6302]: "person" — ITA 248(1); "qualified dependant" — Reg. 6300.

6707. [Provincially registered LSVCCs] — For the purpose of subsection 204.82(5) of the Act, a "prescribed provision of a law of a province" means section 25.1 of the Community Small Business Investment Funds Act, chapter 18 of the Statutes of Ontario, 1992.

History: S. 6707 added by P.C. 1999-249, s. 7, February 18, 1999, Canada Gazette, Part II, March 3, 1999, applicable after May 7, 1997.

PART LXVIII — PRESCRIBED PLANS, ARRANGEMENTS AND CONTRIBUTIONS

History: The heading to Part LXVIII amended by P.C. 1996-911, s. 1, June 20, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, July 10, 1996, applicable after October 8, 1986. The heading formerly read: Prescribed Funds or Plans.

Part LXVIII (s. 6800) added by P.C. 1981-1789, July 2, 1981, Canada Gazette, Part II, July 22, 1981, effective from January 1, 1980.

6800. [Prescribed arrangement — employee benefit plan] — For the purpose of paragraph (e) of the definition "employee benefit plan" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, each of the following is a prescribed arrangement:

(a) the Major League Baseball Players Benefit Plan;

(b) an arrangement under which all contributions are made pursuant to a law of Canada or a province, where one of the main purposes of the law is to enforce minimum standards with respect to wages, vacation entitlement or severance pay; and

(c) an arrangement under which all contributions are made in connection with a dispute regarding the entitlement of one or more persons to benefits to be received or enjoyed by the person or persons.

History: S. 6800 amended by P.C. 1996-911, s. 2, June 20, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, July 10, 1996, applicable after 1979.

6801. [Prescribed plan or arrangement — salary deferral arrangement] — For the purposes of paragraph (l) of the definition "salary deferral arrangement" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, a prescribed plan or arrangement is an arrangement in writing

(a) between an employer and an employee that is established on or after July 28, 1986 where

(i) it is reasonable to conclude, having regard to all the circumstances, including the terms and conditions of the arrangement and any agreement relating thereto, that the arrangement is not established to provide benefits to the employee on or after retirement but is established for the main purpose of permitting the employee to fund, through salary or wage deferrals, a leave of absence from the employee's employment of not less than

(A) where the leave of absence is to be taken by the employee for the purpose of permitting the full-time attendance of the employee at a designated educational institution (within the meaning assigned by subsection 118.6(1) of the Act, three consecutive months, or

(B) in any other case, six consecutive months

that is to commence immediately after a period (in this section referred to as the "deferral period") not exceeding six years after the date on which the deferrals for the leave of absence commence,

(ii) the amount of salary or wages deferred by the employee under all such arrangements for the services rendered by the employee to the employer in a taxation year does not exceed 33⅓ per cent of the amount of the salary or wages that the employee would, but for the arrangements, reasonably be expected to have received in the year in respect of the services,

(iii) the arrangement provides that throughout the period of the leave of absence the employee does not receive any salary or wages from the employer, or from any other person or partnership with whom the employer does not deal at arm's length, other than

(A) the amount by which the employee's salary or wages under the arrangement was deferred or is to be reduced or, amounts that are based on a percentage of the salary or wage scale of employees of the employer, which percentage is fixed in respect of the employee for the deferral period and the leave of absence, and

(B) the reasonable fringe benefits that the employer usually pays to or on behalf of employees,

(iv) the arrangement provides that the amounts deferred in respect of the employee under the arrangement

(A) are held by or for the account of a trust governed by a plan or arrangement that is an employee benefit plan within the meaning of the definition thereof in subsection 248(1) of the Act, and provides that the amount that may reasonably be considered to be the income of the trust for a taxation year that has been earned by it for the benefit of the employee shall be paid in the year to the employee, or

(B) are held by or for the account of any person other than a trust referred to in clause (A), and provides that the amount in respect of interest or other additional amounts that may reasonably be considered to have accrued to or for the benefit of the employee to the end of a taxation year shall be paid in the year to the employee,

(v) the arrangement provides that the employee is to return to his regular employment with the employer or an employer that participates in the same or a similar arrangement after the leave of absence for a period that is not less than the period of the leave of absence, and

(vi) subject to subparagraph (iv), the arrangement provides that all amounts held for the employee's benefit under the arrangement shall be paid to the employee out of or under the arrangement no later than the end of the first taxation year that commences after the end of the deferral period;

Proposed Amendment — Recontribution of income from employees' leave of absence plan

Letter from Dept. of Finance, June 30, 2000: See under ITA 81(1).

(b) between an employer and an employee that is established before July 28, 1986 where it is reasonable to conclude, having regard to all the circumstances, including the terms and conditions of the arrangement and any agreement relating thereto, that the arrangement is not established to provide benefits on or after retirement but is established for the main purpose of permitting the employee to fund, through salary or wage deferrals, a leave of absence from the employment and under which the deferrals in respect of the leave of absence commenced before 1987;

(c) that is established for the purpose of deferring the salary or wages of a professional on-ice official for his services as such with the National Hockey League if, in the case of an official resident in Canada, the trust or other person who has custody and control of any funds, investments or other property under the arrangement is resident in Canada; or

(d) between a corporation and an employee of the corporation or a corporation related thereto under which the employee (or, after the employee's death, a dependant or relation of the employee or the legal representative of the employee) may or shall receive an amount that may reasonably be attributable to duties of an office or employment performed by the employee on behalf of the corporation or a corporation related thereto where

(i) all amounts that may be received under the arrangement shall be received after the time of the employee's death or retirement from, or loss of, the office or employment and no later than the end of the first calendar year commencing thereafter, and

(ii) the aggregate of all amounts each of which may be received under the arrangement depends on the fair market value of shares of the capital stock of the corporation or a corporation related thereto at a time within the period that commences one year before the time of the employee's death or retirement from, or loss of, the office or employment and ends at the time the amount is received, unless, by reason of the arrangement or a series of transactions that includes the arrangement, the employee or a person with whom the employee does not deal at arm's length is entitled, either immediately or in the future, either absolutely or contingently, to receive or obtain any amount or benefit granted or to be granted for the purpose of reducing the impact, in whole or in part, of any reduction in the fair market value of the shares of the corporation or a corporation related thereto.

Related Provisions: ITA 248(10) — Series of transactions; Reg. 8508 — Effect of salary deferral leave plan on registered pension plan.

6803. [Prescribed plan or arrangement — foreign retirement arrangement] — For the purposes of the definition "foreign retirement arrangement" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, a prescribed plan or arrangement is a plan or arrangement to which subsection 408(a), (b) or (h) of the United States' Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time, applies.

History: S. 6803 amended to substitute "United States'" for "United States" by P.C. 2007-849, s. 10, May 31, 2007, Canada Gazette, Part II, June 13, 2007, in force June 13, 2007.

S. 6803 added by P.C. 1992-2416, November 26, 1992, Canada Gazette, Part II, December 16, 1992, applicable to 1990 et seq.

Definitions [Reg. 6803]: "prescribed" — ITA 248(1); "United States" — Interpretation Act 35(1).

6804. Contributions to foreign plans — (1) Definitions — The definitions in this subsection apply in this section.

"foreign non-profit organization" means,

(a) at any time before 1995, an organization

(i) that at that time meets the conditions in subparagraphs (b)(i) to (iii), or

(ii) that at that time is not operated for the purpose of profit, and whose assets are situated primarily outside Canada throughout the calendar year that includes that time, and

(b) at any time after 1994, an organization that at that time

(i) is not operated for the purpose of profit,

(ii) has its main place of management outside Canada, and

(iii) carries on its activities primarily outside Canada.

"foreign plan" means a plan or arrangement (determined without regard to subsection 207.6(5) of the Act) that would, but for paragraph (l) of the definition "retirement compensation arrangement" in subsection 248(1) of the Act, be a retirement compensation arrangement.

"qualifying entity" means a non-resident entity that holds all or part of the assets of a foreign plan where the following conditions are satisfied:

(a) the entity is resident in a country under the laws of which an income tax is imposed, and

(b) where those laws provide an exemption from tax, a reduced rate of tax or other favourable tax treatment for entities that hold assets of pension or other retirement plans, the entity qualifies for the favourable treatment.

(2) Electing employer — For the purposes of this section, an employer is an electing employer for a calendar year with respect to a foreign plan where

(a) the employer has sent or delivered to the Minister a letter stating that the employer elects to have this section apply with respect to contributions to the foreign plan, and

(b) the letter was sent or delivered on or before

(i) the last day of February in the year following the first calendar year after 1991 in which a contribution that is or would be if subsection 207.6(5.1) of the Act were read without reference to paragraph (a) of that subsection, a resident's contribution (as defined in that subsection) was made under the foreign plan in respect of services rendered by an individual to the employer, or

(ii) any later date that is acceptable to the Minister, except that an employer is not an electing employer for a year with respect to a foreign plan if the Minister has granted written permission for the employer to revoke, for the year or a preceding calendar year, the election made under paragraph (a) in respect of the foreign plan.

(3) Election by union — Except as otherwise permitted in writing by the Minister, an election made by a trade union for the purpose of subsection (2) is valid only if it is made by the highest-level structural unit of the union.

(4) Contributions made before 1992 — For the purpose of paragraph 207.6(5.1)(a) of the Act, a contribution made under a foreign plan by a person or body of persons in a calendar year before 1992 is a prescribed contribution where

(a) the contribution is paid to a qualifying entity;

(b) each employer (in this subsection referred to as a "contributor") that makes a contribution under the foreign plan in the year is

(i) a non-resident corporation throughout the year,

(ii) a partnership that makes contributions under the foreign plan primarily in respect of services rendered outside Canada to the partnership by non-resident employees, or

(iii) a foreign non-profit organization throughout the year;

(c) if a corporation or partnership (other than a corporation or partnership that is a foreign non-profit organization throughout the year) is a contributor, no individual who is entitled (either absolutely or contingently) to benefits under the foreign plan is a member of a registered pension plan, or a beneficiary under a deferred profit sharing plan, to which a contributor, or a person or body of persons not dealing at arm's length with a contributor, makes, or is required to make, contributions in relation to the year;

(d) contributions made in the year under the foreign plan for the benefit of individuals resident in Canada are reasonable in relation to contributions made under the plan for the benefit of non-resident individuals; and

(e) the foreign plan is not a pension plan the registration of which under the Act has been revoked.

(5) Contributions made in 1992, 1993 or 1994 — For the purpose of paragraph 207.6(5.1)(a) of the Act, a contribution made under a foreign plan by a person or body of persons at any time in 1992, 1993 or 1994 in respect of services rendered by an individual to an employer is a prescribed contribution where

(a) the contribution is paid to a qualifying entity;

(b) the employer is an electing employer for the year with respect to the foreign plan;

(c) if the employer is not at that time a foreign non-profit organization, the individual is not a member of a registered pension plan (other than a specified multi-employer plan, as defined in subsection 147.1(1) of the Act), or a deferred profit sharing plan, in which the employer, or a person or body of persons that does not deal at arm's length with the employer, participates; and

(d) either

(i) the employer is

(A) a corporation that is not resident in Canada at that time,

(B) a partnership that makes contributions under the foreign plan primarily in respect of services rendered outside Canada to the partnership by non-resident employees, or

(C) a foreign non-profit organization at that time, or

(ii) the individual was non-resident at any time before the contribution is made and became a member of the foreign plan before the end of the month after the month in which the individual became resident in Canada.

(6) Contributions made after 1994 — For the purposes of paragraph 207.6(5.1)(a) of the Act, a contribution made under a foreign plan by a person or body of persons at any time in a calendar year after 1994 in respect of services rendered by an individual to an employer is a prescribed contribution where

(a) the contribution is paid to a qualifying entity;

(b) the employer is an electing employer for the year with respect to the foreign plan;

(c) if the employer is at that time a foreign non-profit organization,

(i) the amount that, if subsection 8301(1) were read without reference to paragraph (b) of that subsection, would be the individual's pension adjustment for the year in respect of the employer is nil, or

(ii) the amount that would be the individual's pension adjustment for the year in respect of the employer if

(A) all contributions made under the foreign plan in the year in respect of the individual were prescribed by this subsection,

(B) where the year is 1996, section 8308.1 were read without reference to subsection (4.1), and

(C) where the year is 1997, subparagraph 8308.1(2)(b)(v) were read as:

"(v) the amount, if any, by which 18% of the individual's resident compensation from the employer for the year exceeds $1,000, and"

does not exceed the lesser of

(D) the money purchase limit for the year, and

(E) 18% of the individual's compensation (as defined in subsection 147.1(1) of the Act) for the year from the employer;

(d) if

(i) the employer is at that time a foreign non-profit organization, and

(ii) a period in the year throughout which the individual rendered services to the employer would be, under paragraph 8507(3)(a), a qualifying period of the individual with respect to another employer if that paragraph were read without reference to subparagraph (iv) of that paragraph, subsection 8308(7) applies with respect to the determination of the individual's pension adjustment for the year with respect to each employer; and

(e) if the employer is not at that time a foreign non-profit organization,

(i) the individual was non-resident at any time before the contribution is made,

(ii) the individual became a member of the foreign plan before the end of the month after the month in which the individual became resident in Canada, and

(iii) the individual is not a member of a registered pension plan, or a deferred profit sharing plan, in which the employer, or a person or body of persons that does not deal at arm's length with the employer, participates.

(7) Replacement plan — For the purposes of subparagraphs (5)(d)(ii) and (6)(e)(ii), where benefits provided to an individual under a particular plan or arrangement are replaced by benefits under another plan or arrangement, the other plan or arrangement is deemed, in respect of the individual, to be the same plan or arrangement as the particular plan or arrangement.

PART LXX — ACCRUED INTEREST ON DEBT OBLIGATIONS

History: Part LXX (s. 7000) added by P.C. 1983-3529, November 17, 1983, Canada Gazette, Part II, November 24, 1983, effective for taxation years commencing after 1981.

7000. (1) Prescribed debt obligations — For the purpose of subsection 12(9) of the Act, each of the following debt obligations (other than a debt obligation that is an indexed debt obligation) in respect of which a taxpayer has at any time acquired an interest is a prescribed debt obligation:

(a) a particular debt obligation in respect of which no interest is stipulated to be payable in respect of its principal amount;

(b) a particular debt obligation in respect of which the proportion of the payments of principal to which the taxpayer is entitled is not equal to the proportion of the payments of interest to which he is entitled;

(c) a particular debt obligation, other than one described in paragraph (a) or (b), in respect of which it can be determined, at the time the taxpayer acquired the interest therein, that the maximum amount of interest payable thereon in a year ending after that time is less than the maximum amount of interest payable thereon in a subsequent year; and

(d) a particular debt obligation, other than one described in paragraph (a), (b) or (c), in respect of which the amount of interest to be paid in respect of any taxation year is, under the terms and conditions of the obligation, dependent on a contingency existing after the year, and, for the purposes of this subsection, a debt obligation includes, for greater certainty, all of the issuer's obligations to pay principal and interest under that obligation.

Related Provisions: ITA 18.1(14) — Right to receive production deemed to be debt obligation.

History: The opening words of subsec. 7000(1) amended by P.C. 1996-1419, subsec. 3(1), September 11, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, October 2, 1996, applicable to debt obligations issued after October 16, 1991.

Advance Tax Rulings: ATR-61: Interest accrual rules.

(2) [Deemed interest on prescribed debt obligation] — For the purposes of subsection 12(9) of the Act, the amount determined in prescribed manner that is deemed to accrue to a taxpayer as interest on a prescribed debt obligation in each taxation year during which he holds an interest in the obligation is,

(a) in the case of a prescribed debt obligation described in paragraph (1)(a), the amount of interest that would be determined in respect thereof if interest thereon for that year were computed on a compound interest basis using the maximum of all rates each of which is a rate computed

(i) in respect of each possible circumstance under which an interest of the taxpayer in the obligation could mature or be surrendered or retracted, and

(ii) using assumptions concerning the interest rate and compounding period that will result in a present value, at the date of purchase of the interest, of all the maximum payments thereunder, equal to the cost thereof to the taxpayer;

(b) in the case of a prescribed debt obligation described in paragraph (1)(b), the aggregate of all amounts each of which is the amount of interest that would be determined in respect of his interest in a payment under the obligation if interest thereon for that year were computed on a compound interest basis using the specified cost of his interest therein and the specified interest rate in respect of his total interest in the obligation, and for the purposes of this paragraph,

(i) the "specified cost" of his interest in a payment under the obligation is its present value at the date of purchase computed using the specified interest rate, and

(ii) the "specified interest rate" is the maximum of all rates each of which is a rate computed

(A) in respect of each possible circumstance under which an interest of the taxpayer in the obligation could mature or be surrendered or retracted, and

(B) using assumptions concerning the interest rate and compounding period that will result in a present value, at the date of purchase of the interest, of all the maximum payments to the taxpayer in respect of his total interest in the obligation, equal to the cost of that interest to the taxpayer;

(c) in the case of a prescribed debt obligation described in paragraph (1)(c), other than an obligation in respect of which paragraph (c.1) applies, the greater of

(i) the maximum amount of interest thereon in respect of the year, and

(ii) the maximum amount of interest that would be determined in respect thereof if interest thereon for that year were computed on a compound interest basis using the maximum of all rates each of which is a rate computed

(A) in respect of each possible circumstance under which an interest of the taxpayer in the obligation could mature or be surrendered or retracted, and

(B) using assumptions concerning the interest rate and compounding period that will result in a present value, at the date of issue of the obligation, of all the maximum payments thereunder, equal to its principal amount;

(c.1) in the case of a prescribed debt obligation described in paragraph (1)(c) for which

(i) the rate of interest stipulated to be payable in respect of each period throughout which the obligation is outstanding is fixed at the date of issue of the obligation, and

(ii) the stipulated rate of interest applicable at each time is not less than each stipulated rate of interest applicable before that time, the amount of interest that would be determined in respect of the year if interest on the obligation for that year were computed on a compound interest basis using the maximum of all rates each of which is the compound interest rate that, for a particular assumption with respect to when the taxpayer's interest in the obligation will mature or be surrendered or retracted, results in a present value (at the date the taxpayer acquires the interest in the obligation) of all payments under the obligation after the acquisition by the taxpayer of the taxpayer's interest in the obligation equal to the principal amount of the obligation at the date of acquisition; and

(d) in the case of a prescribed debt obligation described in paragraph (1)(d), the maximum amount of interest thereon that could be payable thereunder in respect of that year.

Related Provisions: ITA 18.1(14) — Right to receive production deemed to be debt obligation.

History: Para. 7000(2)(c) amended, para. (c.1) added, by P.C. 1996-570, subsecs. 1(1), (2), April 23, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 1, 1996, applicable to 1993 et seq.

Advance Tax Rulings: ATR-61: Interest accrual rules.

(3) [Bonus or premium] — For the purpose of this section, any bonus or premium payable under a debt obligation is considered to be an amount of interest payable under the obligation.

History: Subsec. 7000(3) amended by P.C. 1996-1419, subsec. 3(2), September 11, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, October 2, 1996, applicable to debt obligations issued after October 16, 1991.

Advance Tax Rulings: ATR-61: Interest accrual rules.

(4) [Conversion privilege or option to extend] — For the purposes of this section, where

(a) a taxpayer has an interest in a debt obligation (in this subsection referred to as the "first interest") under which there is a conversion privilege or an option to extend its term upon maturity, and

(b) at the time the obligation was issued (or, if later, at the time the conversion privilege or option was added or modified), circumstances could reasonably be foreseen under which the holder of the obligation would, by exercising the conversion privilege or option, acquire an interest in a debt obligation with a principal amount less than its fair market value at the time of acquisition, the subsequent interest in any debt obligation acquired by the taxpayer by exercising the conversion privilege or option shall be considered to be a continuation of the first interest.

History: Subsec. 7000(4) amended by P.C. 1996-570, subsec. 1(3), April 23, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 1, 1996, applicable with respect to debt obligations acquired by reason of the exercise after August 11, 1993 of a conversion privilege or an option to extend the term of another debt obligation.

(5) [Interest computations] — For the purposes of making the computations referred to in paragraphs (2)(a), (b), (c) and (c.1), the compounding period shall not exceed one year and any interest rate used shall be constant from the date of acquisition or issue, as the case may be, until the time of maturity, surrender or retraction.

History: Subsec. 7000(5) amended by P.C. 1996-570, subsec. 1(4), April 23, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 1, 1996, applicable to 1993 et seq.

(6) [Prescribed contract] — For the purpose of the definition "investment contract" in subsection 12(11) of the Act, a registered retirement savings plan or a registered retirement income fund, other than a plan or fund to which a trust is a party, is a prescribed contract throughout a calendar year where an annuitant (as defined in subsection 146(1) or 146.3(1) of the Act, as the case may be) under the plan or fund is alive at any time in the year or was alive at any time in the preceding calendar year.

Related Provisions: ITA 142.3(1)(c) — No income accrual from specified debt obligation.

History: Subsec. 7000(6) amended by P.C. 1996-568, s. 1, April 23, 1996, Canada Gazette, Part II, May 1, 1996, applicable to 1993 et seq.

Subsec. 7000(6) added by P.C. 1985-2277, s. 19, July 24, 1985, Canada Gazette, Part II, August 7, 1985, applicable to taxation years commencing after 1981.

7001. Indexed debt obligations — (1) For the purpose of subparagraph 16(6)(a)(i) of the Act, where at any time in a taxation year a taxpayer holds an interest in an indexed debt obligation, there is prescribed as interest receivable and received by the taxpayer in the year in respect of the obligation the total of

(a) the amount, if any, by which

(i) the total of all amounts each of which is the amount by which the amount payable in respect of the taxpayer's interest in an indexed payment under the obligation (other than a payment that is an excluded payment with respect to the taxpayer for the year) has, because of a change in the purchasing power of money, increased over an inflation adjustment period of the obligation that ends in the year

exceeds the total of

(ii) that portion of the total, if any, determined under subparagraph (i) that is required, otherwise than by subsection 16(6) of the Act, to be included in computing the taxpayer's income for the year or a preceding taxation year, and

(iii) the total of all amounts each of which is the amount by which the amount payable in respect of the taxpayer's interest in an indexed payment under the obligation (other than a payment that is an excluded payment with respect to the taxpayer for the year) has, by reason of a change in the purchasing power of money, decreased over an inflation adjustment period of the obligation that ends in the year, and

(b) where the non-indexed debt obligation associated with the indexed debt obligation is an obligation that is described in any of paragraphs 7000(1)(a) to (d), the amount of interest that would be determined under subsection 7000(2) to accrue to the taxpayer in respect of the non-indexed debt obligation in the particular period that

(i) begins at the beginning of the first inflation adjustment period of the indexed debt obligation in respect of the taxpayer that ends in the year, and if the particular period were a taxation year of the taxpayer and the taxpayer's interest in the indexed debt obligation were an interest in the non-indexed debt obligation.

(ii) ends at the end of the last inflation adjustment period of the indexed debt obligation in respect of the taxpayer that ends in the year

(2) For the purposes of subparagraph 16(6)(a)(ii) of the Act, where at any time in a taxation year a taxpayer holds an interest in an indexed debt obligation, there is prescribed as interest payable and paid by the taxpayer in the year in respect of the obligation the amount, if any, by which

(a) the total of the amounts, if any, determined under subparagraphs (1)(a)(ii) and (iii) for the year in respect of the taxpayer's interest in the obligation

exceeds

(b) the amount, if any, determined under subparagraph (1)(a)(i) for the year in respect of the taxpayer's interest in the obligation.

(3) For the purposes of subparagraph 16(6)(b)(i) of the Act, where at any time in a taxation year an indexed debt obligation is an obligation of a taxpayer, there is prescribed as interest payable in respect of the year by the taxpayer in respect of the obligation the amount, if any, that would be determined under paragraph (1)(a) in respect of the taxpayer for the year if, at each time at which the obligation is an obligation of the taxpayer, the taxpayer were the holder of the obligation and not the debtor under the obligation.

(4) For the purposes of subparagraph 16(6)(b)(ii) of the Act, where at any time in a taxation year an indexed debt obligation is an obligation of a taxpayer, there is prescribed as interest receivable and received by the taxpayer in the year in respect of the obligation the amount, if any, that would be determined under subsection (2) in respect of the taxpayer for the year if, at each time at which the obligation is an obligation of the taxpayer, the taxpayer were the holder of the obligation and not the debtor under the obligation.

(5) For the purpose of determining the amount by which an indexed payment under an indexed debt obligation has increased or decreased over a period because of a change in the purchasing power of money, the amount of the indexed payment at any time shall be determined using the method for computing the amount of the payment at the time it is to be made, adjusted in a reasonable manner to take into account the earlier date of computation.

(6) For the purposes of this section, the non-indexed debt obligation associated with an indexed debt obligation is the debt obligation that would result if the indexed debt obligation were amended to eliminate all adjustments determined by reference to changes in the purchasing power of money.

(7) In this section,

"excluded payment" with respect to a taxpayer for a taxation year means an indexed payment under an indexed debt obligation where

(a) the non-indexed debt obligation associated with the indexed debt obligation provides for the payment, at least annually, of interest at a single fixed rate, and

(b) the indexed payment corresponds to one of the interest payments referred to in paragraph (a),

but does not include payments under an indexed debt obligation where, at any time in the year, the taxpayer's proportionate interest in a payment to be made under the obligation after that time differs from the taxpayer's proportionate interest in any other payment to be made under the obligation after that time;

"indexed payment" means, in relation to an indexed debt obligation, an amount payable under the obligation that is determined by reference to the purchasing power of money;

"inflation adjustment period" of an indexed debt obligation means, in relation to a taxpayer,

(a) where the taxpayer acquires and disposes of the taxpayer's interest in the obligation in the same regular adjustment period of the obligation, the period that begins when the taxpayer acquires the interest in the obligation and ends when the taxpayer disposes of the interest, and

(b) in any other case, each of the following consecutive periods:

(i) the period that begins when the taxpayer acquires the taxpayer's interest in the obligation and ends at the end of the regular adjustment period of the obligation in which the taxpayer acquires the interest in the obligation,

(ii) each succeeding regular adjustment period of the obligation throughout which the taxpayer holds the interest in the obligation, and

(iii) where the taxpayer does not dispose of the interest in the obligation at the end of a regular adjustment period of the obligation, the period that begins immediately after the last period referred to in subparagraphs (i) and (ii) and that ends when the taxpayer disposes of the interest in the obligation;

"regular adjustment period" of an indexed debt obligation means

(a) where the terms or conditions of the obligation provide that, while the obligation is outstanding, indexed payments are to be made at regular intervals not exceeding 12 months in length, each of the following periods:

(i) the period that begins when the obligation is issued and ends when the first indexed payment is required to be made, and

(ii) each succeeding period beginning when an indexed payment is required to be made and ending when the next indexed payment is required to be made,

(b) where paragraph (a) does not apply and the obligation is outstanding for less than 12 months, the period that begins when the obligation is issued and ends when the obligation ceases to be outstanding, and

(c) in any other case, each of the following periods:

(i) the 12-month period that begins when the obligation is issued,

(ii) each succeeding 12-month period throughout which the obligation is outstanding, and

(iii) where the obligation ceases to be outstanding at a time other than the end of a 12-month period referred to in subparagraph (i) or (ii), the period that commences immediately after the last period referred to in those subparagraphs and that ends when the obligation ceases to be outstanding.

"member of the taxpayer's household" includes the taxpayer;

"designated city" means St. John's, Halifax, Moncton, Quebec City, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, North Bay, Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver.

(2) [Trip cost] — For the purposes of this section, the trip cost to a taxpayer in respect of a trip made by an individual who, at the time the trip was made, was a member of the taxpayer's household is the least of

(a) the aggregate of

(i) the value of travel assistance, if any, provided by the taxpayer's employer in respect of travelling expenses for the trip, and

(ii) the amount, if any, received by the taxpayer from his employer in respect of travelling expenses for the trip,

(b) the aggregate of

(i) the value of travel assistance, if any, provided by the taxpayer's employer in respect of travelling expenses for the trip, and

(ii) travelling expenses incurred by the taxpayer for the trip, and

(c) the lowest return airfare ordinarily available, at the time the trip was made, to the individual for flights between the place in which the individual resided immediately before the trip, or the airport nearest thereto, and the designated city that is nearest to that place.

(3) [Period travel cost] — For the purposes of subsection (4), the "period travel cost" to a taxpayer for a period in a taxation year, in respect of an individual who was a member of the taxpayer's household at any time during the period, is the total of the trip costs to the taxpayer in respect of all trips that were made by the individual at a time when the individual was a member of the taxpayer's household where the trips may reasonably be considered to relate to the period.

(4) [Travel assistance — prescribed amount] — For the purposes of clause 110.7(1)(a)(i)(A) of the Act, the prescribed amount in respect of a taxpayer for a period in a taxation year is the lesser of

(a) the total of

(i) the value of travel assistance, if any, provided in the period by the taxpayer's employer in respect of travelling expenses for trips, each of which was made by an individual who, at the time the trip was made, was a member of the taxpayer's household, where the trips may reasonably be considered to relate to the period, and

(ii) the amount, if any, received in the period by the taxpayer from the taxpayer's employer in respect of travelling expenses for trips, each of which was made by an individual who, at the time the trip was made, was a member of the taxpayer's household, where the trips may reasonably be considered to relate to the period; and

(b) the total of all the period travel costs to the taxpayer for the period in respect of all individuals who were members of the taxpayer's household at any time in the period.
